Philia Study club observed the Americanism program and Guest Day at a meeting held in Fellowship hall of First Baptist church Monday evening. Among special guests were a group of 23 Study club members, the sponsoring organization.

Al Holder, head of the speakers bureau of Americanism of Wichita Falls, presented a film and lecture on communist encirclement. A question and answer period followed.

Mrs. Sam Wood jr., president, introduced Mrs. Kenneth Neely, program leader. Rev. John Klappenbach of Faith Baptist church offered the invocation. Pledge of allegiance to the flag preceded singing of "God Bless America."

During the social hour refreshments were served from a table covered with red net over red satin. Centerpiece was created to place emphasis on the patriotic colors. Especially attractive was the sheet cake shaped and decorated to resemble the US flag. A punchbowl was encircled with lighted red roses, and napkins emphasized the red, white and blue motif.

Club members with hospitality duties were Mmes. Carrol Crum, Jimmie Jeter, William Eyles, R. T. Robinson, John Ratcliff, Erwin Soell, Allen Slack, Gene Meazel, James Boucher, John Klappenbach, O. N. Newman, Richard Carver.

Guests were Mmes. Terry Austin of Electra, Kenneth Sullivan, Noel Troutman, Sam Hill, K. P. Abernathy, Dave O. Harbour, W. G. Steele, O. E. Lochridge, L. E. Brooks, Chauncey Weiler, T. M. Clark, Carroll Duke, Homer Black.

CARD OF THANKS

In the fullness of time God has called our loved one home. The kindness of friends, neighbors, and the members of our church during her long illness and at the time of her passing helped to alleviate our heartaches and sorrow more than words can express. We acknowledge with gratefulness the conscientious services of our three local doctors during her illness. Love and sympathy were beautifully expressed through the flowers, cards, food, visits and prayers offered for us when our loved one left this world to occupy her home "eternal in the heavens in a house not made with hands."

CHEVROLET... the Quality truck!

WALK AROUND IT. SEE THE DIFFERENCES.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

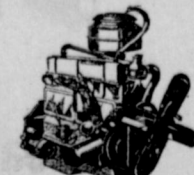

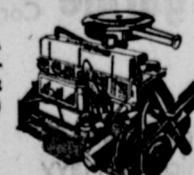

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver.

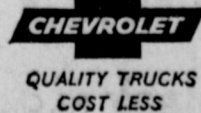

There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

2 NEW 6-CYLINDER ENGINES

New High Torque 230-cu.-in. Six is lighter but more powerful than its predecessor. It is standard in Series C10 through C50 models.

New High Torque 292-cu.-in. Six—most powerful truck 6 Chevrolet has ever built! Standard in Series C60, optional at extra cost in lighter models.

FINAL VERDICT, by Adela Rogers St. Johns.

Reviewed by Mrs. James Sewell
Those who have seen and heard Adela Rogers St. Johns on daytime television will be interested in her book "Final Verdict," now available at Wichita County Free Library, Iowa Park. (She seems to be a popular "guest," having appeared several times lately.)

Daughter of Earl Rogers, great criminal lawyer of his day, she was in close contact throughout her youth with people who inhabited her father's law office. Most of his cases were violent and bizarre, and Mrs. St. Johns has the ability to re-create dramas she witnessed as they were tried.

Rogers was a colorful figure. He invented the art of cross-examination as it is now practiced, and was responsible for many innovations in courtroom procedure. His daughter writes with great frankness and feeling.

TEXAS by Stanley Walker.

Reviewed by Mrs. James Sewell
Walker is a Texan who spent 1927-1946 in New York and Philadelphia as newspaper reporter and editor. Coming home to Lampasas to raise cattle and sheep and to do some gardening, he continued to write articles for newspapers and magazines. He wrote several books.

In this book he quotes Col. Robert L. Thompson: "As a hobby I could spend the rest of my life reading about the history of Texas. There's nothing like it. To me, no state has a history so engrossing. . . . And the best part of it is that Texans are interested in their own history—more than any other people I ever met."

Pap Simpson of Holliday, a longtime resident of this area, is in serious condition in Wichita General hospital.

Nelson Johnson broke a foot at his home last week.

Miss Nina Hutchinson of El Dorado, Okla., is visiting this week with her brother Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchinson.

How Ford spent $100 million to give you more quality for your money

The Ford Motor Company spent $100 million in the past two years alone to bring you a combination of quality features found in no other cars. And here's how Ford quality pays off for you...whether you drive the big Super Torque Ford, the middleweight Fairlane, or the fun-filled compact Falcon!

Superior ride and performance. For example, $10 million was poured into the development of the Super Torque Ford's incredibly smooth new ride. Additional millions went to design 6- and 8-cylinder engines that let you choose sensational performance or sparing gas economy. . . all with minimum maintenance.

More care-free driving. Millions more were spent to perfect Ford's twice-a-year or 6,000-mile maintenance features. . . now in all Fords and Falcons.

Greater safety. Brakes adjust themselves when necessary. Roofs are reinforced. Doors have safety locks.

Added luxury. Richer, longer lasting upholstery. Carpeting that wears up twice as long as in some cars.

Grandma's Rocking Chair

by Mrs. R. E. Van Horn

Brerrrrrr — what was that I said last week about spring following winter? I suppose it will if winter gets over and gives it a chance.

That silly forsythia had to be wrapped up, as did the gardenia and other shrubs. All over town yards have all sorts of peculiar objects in sight where flower lovers have protected flowers and shrubs.

It's been years since we had trouble with frozen pipes and the lack of bathroom facilities.

Went to work last Saturday morning and had to crawl out of bed at the usual time. Sure took courage to hit the floor and take off before dawn. Even so, it was not as cold as I remember it during my childhood when the kitchen was heated by a cook stove, and water froze in the bucket. Had to be broken before we could get the coffee pot on.

Tableware was so cold you could hold it, and teeth chattered till you couldn't eat. We wore long-handled mitts from the last of September until the last of May—and gladly—I might add.

Long black stockings and heavy bloomers added comfort and bulk. Even the skinniest of us looked plump during winter months. In fact we put on all the clothes we could find.

To peel off for the Saturday night bath—and take said bath in a washtub in front of the kitchen stove was sheer torture. We blistered our anatomy in front while icicles formed on the rear—or vice versa—depending on which side was near the stove. Casualties resulted when the bather stooped over to catch the soap while too near the fire.

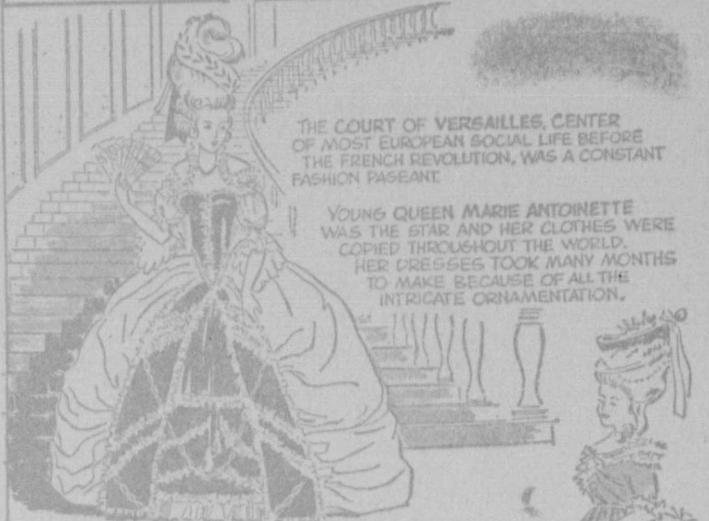

No one objected to wearing toboggans or stocking-caps.

It seems to me the weather just doesn't get as cold as it did then. When we have a blue norther nowadays everything and everybody freezes—cars, pipes, and people. In those far-away days a sharp cold spell brought on hog-killing, and that was the signal for the neighbors to come and help with the chore. Except it was not a chore but became a social gathering.

The men built huge fires under washpots to heat water to scald the hog. The animal was killed and brought to the barrel in which he was dipped. He was usually so large he had to be lowered with block and tackle. All hands fell to and scraped off the hair.

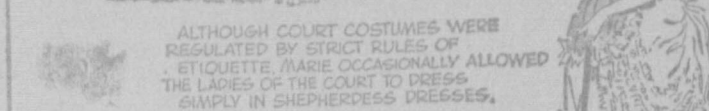

Then the cutting up began. Hams and shoulders were laid aside for curing, sausage meat was sent into the house where the women took over and started

What They Wore... by PHYLLIS JOYCE

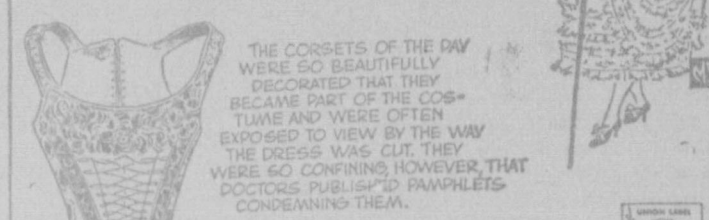

THE COURT OF VERSAILLES, CENTER OF MOST EUROPEAN SOCIAL LIFE BEFORE THE FRENCH REVOLUTION, WAS A CONSTANT FASHION PARADE.

YOUNG QUEEN MARIE ANTOINETTE WAS THE STAR AND HER CLOTHES WERE COPIED THROUGHOUT THE WORLD. HER DRESSERS TOOK MANY MONTHS TO MAKE BECAUSE OF ALL THE INTRICATE ORNAMENTATION.

ALTHOUGH COURT COSTUMES WERE REGULATED BY STRICT RULES OF ETIQUETTE, MARIE OCCASIONALLY ALLOWED THE LADIES OF THE COURT TO DRESS SIMPLY IN SHEPHERDESS DRESSES.

THE CORSETS OF THE DAY WERE SO BEAUTIFULLY DECORATED THAT THEY BECAME PART OF THE COSTUME AND WERE OFTEN EXPOSED TO VIEW BY THE WOMEN. THE DRESS WAS CUT THEY WERE SO CONFINING, HOWEVER, THAT DOCTORS PUBLISHED PAMPHLETS CONDEMNING THEM.

the grinders. Sausage was stuffed into long cloth sacks made previously by the mother of the household.

All families represented at the killing went home with fresh liver, hearts and parts of the head to make soups or head cheese.

Next day the excess fat was rendered in the washpot and lard was poured into containers. Those were the days: a lot more fun than buying a slice of ham or a small carton of lard at the market of today. We had fresh fried meat for several days, and then the hams and shoulders were cured and were available for use through the winter.

And that, my dear boys and girls, is how we used to get the ham we enjoyed with home grown eggs when Grandma was a girl!

One of the small fry received an electric blanket for her bed. She asked, "Daddy, which channel do I tune this thing in on?"

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS
from The Bible
This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased. —(Matt. 3:17).
From the true depths of our being we know ourselves to be the sons of God, and as sons we realize we should express all that is good. We should long for the approval of our family, our neighbors and especially that of God.
