All About

Superstitions Your dog's ancestors have been symbols of both good and evil, equally feared and worshipped since the first primitive man pos-sessed a dog. Characteristic canine loyalty to their masters first caused men to attribute supernatural power to dogs. Because the first dogs drove away stranmals from their masters' caves, they were used as talismans to repel both real and imagined enemies, says Tex Fawcett, of Purina Dog Care Center, St. Louis, Mo.

If you owned a white dog in ancient times you were considered lucky; if your dog was black you were pitied. In fact, in many societies black dogs were put to death as symbols of evil!

Welsh legend says that if a black dog comes near the house of a dying man his soul is des-tined for eternal torment; a white dog's visit meant that his soul would be saved. It is still a common belief in many areas that a dog's howl is the herald of

Despite the many evil omens, most early peoples considered the dog a symbol of good and a protector of men. Romans used mo-saic or painted dogs near the entrances of their houses to ward

One common belief today is that good luck will come with a friendly stray dog. As in ancient times, men can look to dogs to detect a friend or an enemy.

A few days ago at a YMCA breakfast kicking off the annual membership campaign, Dr. James H. Landes, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Wichita Falls, asked a soul searching question of the group of business men in attendance, "What are we going to do when we get there?"

A question like this makes most of us stop and reflect some on the activities in our community. Our Iowa Park JC's have one of the finest character building projects in the annual boxing tournament being sponsored February 25 through February 27 and I was flattered to be asked to participate in it again this year as a ring official. It is one of the many activities carried on in this community by the Junior Chamber of Commerce that helps Iowa Park be a wonderful place to live.

ANNOUNCE YOUR GIFT WITH A MINIATURE PHONE

I was walking down Cash Street the other day, looking at all the nice things Iowa Park businessmen have on display for Christmas in their store windows, and just about everything I saw would make a mighty fine gift for somebody.

But I guess that's where the Christmas shopping problem comes in-picking the right gift for the right person.

If you're stumped about what to give, I know a gift that's always right-right for Christmas, right the year 'round. It's an extension telephone in color, A color phone beautifies the home and is a faithful servant in the kitchen, the bedroom, the den-wherever it's needed most.

Now, here's real news. When you order one as a giftfor your wife, your teenagers, a relative or a friend-we'll send you a miniature color phone absolutely free. Packed in a colorful box and ready to be placed under the Christmas tree, it's a wonderful way to announce to that lucky person that a color telephone is on its way.

Call the telephone company today to order an extension telephone in color, and get that miniature phone while the supply lasts.
