Bobbie Joe Guthrie and Children Featured in National Advertising

A picture of Mrs. John P. Guthrie of Denver, Colo., daughter of W. R. Bradford and the late Mrs. Bradford, and her two children Jimmie, 6, and Margaret Ann, 3, has appeared in several leading magazines this month for the Sealy Mattress company.

Mr. and Mrs. Guthrie purchased a Posturepedic mattress and later a representative called her on the phone for a testimony. She had been selected from a large number of customers.

The Sealy firm then sent an artist and a photographer to the Guthrie home, where they made about 29 pictures.

The testimony of Mrs. Guthrie, the former Miss Bobbie Joe Bradford of Iowa Park, was: "What a wonderful difference in sleeping our posturepedic makes. I'd been getting 'cricks in my back' and I decided I wanted a good firm mattress. So we got the Sealy Posturepedic. And I certainly am glad we did, because my back is a lot better; and one night when we had to switch back to our old mattress, we were so uncomfortable we couldn't sleep. That was when my aunt was here and we gave her our bed. Now she wants to get a posturepedic, too!"

Mr. Bradford recently returned after visiting several weeks with the Guthrie family.

Bobbie Joe was an honor student of IPHS and was valedictorian of her class.

John Winslow, husband of the former Sue Croft, is receiving his basic army training at Ft. Hood, John, Sue and the children David and Mickey resided on the Kamay highway. Mrs. Winslow and the children will stay here until John completes basic training.

Fireman's Study Costs Here

Roy Crabtree, instructor of the Iowa Park Volunteer Fire department, attended the 31st annual Firemen's Training School at A & M college last week, Monday thru Friday.

Savings amounting to from 3 to 5 percent of key rate insurance credit were earned by Iowa Park and other cities who had firemen attending the school. We will save 3 percent key rate insurance credit because we just had one fireman attending.

Courses offered this year included basic firefighting, advanced firefighting, basic fire marshahl, advanced fire marshahl, firemen instructor training, fire department officer training, industrial fire protection, armed service fire protection, fire department pump maintenance, and fire department pump operations. Roy took the instructor training course.

Crabtree is assistant chief of the Sheppard AFB fire department. During off hours he devotes a great deal of time to the local fire department.

Comment from the Capital — THE BIG "BENEFIT" BINGE

Ever think how closely our high cost of living is tied to the high cost of employment? Once upon a time, the cost of employing a person was just the salary he was paid for the work he did. Not today. Hidden payroll costs now include such extras as pay for holidays and vacations, pensions, health insurance, life insurance, Social Security, taxes for unemployment benefits and workmen's compensation. About half of these "fringe benefits" don't show up in the employee's pay envelope, but they're paid for by the employer — in addition to regular wages.

Fringe benefits have shot up more than twice as fast as wages in the past ten years. They're still going up. This year, the cost of hidden benefits hit 3 billion dollars, bringing the total bill footed by employers to nearly 30 billion dollars. Present estimates indicate the bill will bounce up another 3 billion this year.

On the average, for every six dollars paid to a worker for time on the job, his employer has to pay an additional dollar for fringe benefits. . . . in some companies, even more. A recent study by Timken Roller Bearing Company disclosed that, based on a normal year of 2,000 hours worked, the total cost per employee ran to about 97 cents an hour above his hourly wages! Maybe the reason you don't read more about this subject is because it's pure dynamite. And, in time, it could blow our economy sky-high. The more the total cost of employment (not just wages) confronting a businessman, the less his incentive to start new enterprises. Mounting fringe benefits help speed us on the road to inflation. What's more, mounting employment costs can price American products right out of the market — opening the floodgates for foreign goods. As employment costs go up, our dollar buys less and less.

Union leaders know these facts of life. But does this knowledge stop many of them from pressuring employers for more benefits? Not Why? Because too often union bosses stay in power only as long as they put on a show for their following. And the show that makes the biggest political hit is agitating for higher and higher wages and more and more benefits, regardless of the effect on employment.

Let's look at some of these extras. Pensions. Life Insurance. Health Insurance. Severance Pay. Holiday Pay. Vacation Pay. Sick Pay. They don't show up in pay envelopes. They do show up on the employer's balance sheet . . . and, sooner or later, they come out of everybody's pocketbook. Take an extreme. In certain cases, union leaders have even succeeded in getting fringe benefits for employees after retirement! They've gotten pension increases, company-paid premiums on life insurance, and, occasionally, payments for medical care. Now the latest agitation is for continuation wages over long periods of time for workers who are permanently laid off.

The cycle never ends. The circle gets more vicious. Costs of employment — direct and indirect — in their uncontrolled upward spiral lash out at every single one of us. A worker gets a raise, extra days off with pay, more insurance. His employer pays. The employer then has to raise the price of his product. Then you and I and the worker himself have to pay more for what we buy.

Fringe benefits can get out-of-hand. The lure of "something for nothing" is an irresistible one to many, but, in today's world, nothing is really free. In one way or another, you pay! More fringe benefits pave the way for more price increases. Eventually, all of us pay for what can become a "benefit binge." And whoever heard of going on a "binge" without a miserable hangover soon after!

When that "hangover" is allowed to price us out of a sensible economic structure, American economy will need more than a Bromo!

Burglars

It seems several Iowa Park businesses have been closing too early to suit some people, so they have broken in after closing hours.

Monday night Tommy Templeman's Service Station was broken into by removing the air conditioner from an east window. Some $75 in cash was taken.

The same night, Parker Food Store was tried but entrance was not gained. The back door was damaged some.

Tuesday night, burglars were on the prowl again. They broke into Jiffy Food Store but only got 50 cents in change. They tried to break the change box of the Pay Telephone booth, without success.

The same night, burglars went to James Cates garage and took an undetermined amount of money from the soft drink machine, two tires and two batteries.

Iowa Park police have several good leads on these burglaries and hope to have them cleared up in the near future.

In talking with Policeman James

Pults, we found he is concerned for the safety of children riding bicycles and scooters. He asks the people here to drive carefully, observe all the courtesies of the road, and stop at stop signs. They are installed for our safety.

Wesleyan Guild

The Methodist Wesleyan Service Guild met July 23 in the home of Miss Ethyle Kidwell, opening with song and organ music.

President Thelma Gay presided as the membership roll was checked and a new prospect list canvassed for new members.

Minutes of the June meeting disclosed an enjoyable picnic-supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. China B. Smith.

The treasurer, Mrs. Riley Bomar, reported financial assistance had been sent to Bethlehem Center, USA, to Korea and to Japan, and several local children had been helped to attend camp. Also, plans were made to donate books to the new church library, of which Mrs.

Hazell Trammell and Miss Ethyle Kidwell are promoters.

Mrs. Bill Hall gave a meditation, "Taking Christ into Our Heart."

Miss Mary Butcher asked Mrs. Trammell to review "Promoting Good Relations with Latin America," in which she told of 14 religious workers going to Costa Rica and Panama to hold 140 religious services, with 598 new professional members gained.

Mrs. T. J. Pace reviewed an article "Pioneer Parish in Indiana" which told how five rural areas in DeKalb county are building up interest and attendance for their churches by having a Community Council, composed of delegates of all the churches.

Other members present were Mmes. E. E. Wallis, C. J. Thurber, Kathleen Hatten, Esther Thornberry.

and Mrs. Mac Best and Thomas in Dallas last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Davis of Howe were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Blalock, Friday night. The women are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Newt Newman and sons are vacationing in New Mexico this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bandover of Dallas spent the weekend here with her parents Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Grammer.

Mrs. Lloyd Lowe was dismissed from Bethania hospital Wednesday after having surgery last week.

Noon Lions met Tuesday with Pres. Henry Jones in charge. The invocation was offered by Claude McDonald. Sweethearts Harriett Coppock and Thelma Gay presented luncheon music.

Morris Jacks reported on the camporee held last week in Wichita, attended by some members of Explorers Post 213. He revealed the boys won four blue ribbons in the five-event competition.

McDonald made presentation of 100 per cent attendance pins to Lester Brooks, Alan Berry, Ernest Birk, Bob Brubaker, Skin Bingham, R. B. Faulkner, Ben Hildebrand, Sam Hill, George R. Huckaby, Henry Jones, Curtis Sewell, D. O. Smith, Keith Swim, Peanut Wilson, Doc Woodall. He also presented Huckaby, immediate past president, a past-president's pin and a beautiful bronze plaque of appreciation from the club.

Woodall, program chairman for the day, presented Birk, who spoke on "The Wichita Mountains Wildlife Refuge." This area covers 58,000 acres in Oklahoma and is maintained by the US government.

Birk told of the various animals and birds found on the refuge. He explained some of the animals had been brought to this reservation from all over the nation.

Birk also told of the beautiful trees and shrubs and vines, the various formations of rocks and the soils and grasses. He emphasized it has taken thousands of years to form all of this, and that by a moment of carelessness it all could be destroyed in a short time.

Ernest went on to tell of his trip there last Saturday when two Lawton men explored with him several caves in the mountains.

President Jones announced there will not be a meeting next Tuesday because the Christian church will be conducting Vacation Bible School in the fellowship hall.

Evening Lions club was specially honored at the meeting Tuesday by the presence of Dr. D. L. Ligon, district governor.

Paul Zink offered the invocation. Two guests were introduced: Sam Hunter and R. O. Dalton.

Paul Zink and Al Reed received 100 per cent attendance pins. Wayne House, president, announced a directors meeting to be held Tuesday evening, Aug. 2, at 8:00 in the Texas Electric Service company office. Governor Ligon spoke on Lion-ism and explained what a Lions club should mean to each member. He told of its organization in 1917 and traced its growth into almost 100 countries.

Ligon said, "Lionism means the art of losing ourselves in the service of others. Each Lion member means something to his community, as member, officer or committeeman."

Clubs make up zones, districts, regions, states, nations, and all are united to make Lions International.

Sweethearts Esther Thornberry and Sue Parish presented dinner music.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Williams and children Jimmy, Mike, Randy and Mark of Redlands, Calif., are visiting her mother Mrs. Myrtle McDonald and other relatives. She is the former Miss Marjorie McDonald of Iowa Park. Sunday dinner guests in Mrs. McDonald's home were the Williams family; her two sons: Roy and family of Wichita Falls, and Bud and family and Mrs. Emma Phillips, all of Iowa Park.

Nancy and Kathy and Mike Hays took their first bus trip by themselves this week going to Mena, Ark., for a visit with relatives. They are children of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hays.

William Crites of Oklahoma City visited Miss Hazel Crites and Mrs. Tirzah Portis last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cutler and family attended her grandparents' 60th wedding anniversary celebration in Calumet, Okla., last weekend.

Not a single cracked egg since Chevy took over the route

That '60 Fleetside pickup you see takes whatever kind of road comes along, and makes about 250 stops a day delivering eggs house to house for Mr. Harry Hansen of Missoula, Montana. "With my precious truck," Mr. Hansen writes, "I always had some cracked eggs. Cargo damage always cut into my profits. But the new Chevy eliminated that problem completely. I haven't had one cracked egg with my new truck and I've had up to a ton of eggs in it without any difficulty. . . . I didn't know a truck could ride so nice."

Chevy rides nice, all right: takes good care of fragile cargoes. But that's not even the half of it. Torsion-spring suspension also means longer life for the truck, extra thousands of working miles, because the sheet metal and body components take less of a beating. You can run off-the-road or over back trails at faster safe speeds, too; get in more trips a day, make more money. Those facts are as true of the big Chevrolet heavyweights as they are of the pickups. Any model you name. Get one on your job and you've got the world's most efficient, most economical way to haul any load over any road. Your dealer will be happy to prove that statement any day you say.

◀ "I'm getting close to 20 miles to the gallon," Mr. Hansen states, "and that's on stop-and-go delivery."

WYNNE CHESTER SAYS:

The FUN Was ALWAYS There!

Remember me telling you about my new neighbor, Ellen Jacobs, who put a bit of a dent in my ego by knowing more about the history of trapshooting than I did? After spending a little time at the library, Ellen can certainly keep the conversational ball rolling . . . or the pigeon flying . . . when it comes to trapshooting. As for me, I've been spending some time at the library myself, and learning things I never knew. For instance, it seems that trapshooting originated way back in the early 19th century, when the English aristocracy took control of hunting lands and closed them to the public. The rest of the people whose favorite sport was hunting just weren't about to give it up, though, so they devised a substitute and called it trapshooting. At first, real birds were released from real traps. Later, various kinds of flying targets were tried, leading at last to today's revolving traps and clay "pigeons." Many early trapshooting terms are still in use today. For instance, the shooter, originally called "Pull!" to order the operator to release a live bird from the trap by pulling a string. When the modern shooter cries "Pull!", the operator presses a button which starts the clay pigeon on its flight. No matter what people used as targets, though, the fun was always there . . . and it still is. Try it yourself and see!

New Princess Phone comes to town

I'd like to tell you about a brand-new telephone. It's called the Princess phone, and it is being introduced to the public for the very first time this month in towns we serve throughout the state. How do you like the new look? Notice the oval base and smart styling. You might say the Princess looks regal. I feel sure a number of you will want one or more of these lovely little phones. I'd like to tell you about the Princess' main features, because it's not very often I get a chance to write about something as exciting as this new phone. First, it's little. Only 8½ inches long and 3½ inches high and wide, the Princess phone takes so little space on a living room table, a kitchen counter or bedside table. Next, the Princess is lovely, in styling and in colors. It comes in the most lighthearted pastels I've seen in a long time—blue, beige, pink and turquoise—plus white. Finally, the Princess phone lights up. The dial glows softly at night, lights up brightly when you lift the receiver. Why not be among the first here to order a new Princess phone? Just call us at the telephone business office or see your telephone serviceman.
