IOWA PARK, TEXAS

VALENTINE KISS--Five-year-old Troy Thaman found out getting close to girls isn't nearly as bad as he thought when pretty Clarissa Thornburg, 6, gave him a Valentine and a peck on the cheek in early celebration of Monday's observance of cupid day. Both youngsters are students of Sherry Eckelcamp at Kidwell Elementary's kindergarten.

Chamber banquet on tap Saturday

The Iowa Park High School cafeteria will be the scene at 7 Saturday night of the multi-featured annual Chamber of Commerce banquet.

Tickets, at $5 per person, remain on sale at the Chamber office and most businesses of the community.

Highlights of the gala event will include a humorous speaker, presentation of awards, installation of officers and a steak dinner.

One of the best-known after dinner speakers in the southwest, Bob Murphy, is expected to produce tears of laughter and sore sides with his East Texas stories and comments.

Murphy, who hails from Nacogdoches County, has a varied and colorful background. A practicing attorney, he has looked at life and observed the American scene first as a Western Union messenger boy, ranch hand, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Texas House of Representatives, fire chief, a war-time Merchant Marine officer, county and district attorney.

His down-to-earth philosophy, clean humor and witty observations have been enjoyed by hundreds of audiences throughout the United States.

Two important recognitions are to be made during the evening. One will be to the Outstanding Citizen of the Year, and the other to the Outstanding Senior Citizen.

Nominations were made up to a month ago, and judging of those nominations were done by an anonymous committee. Results of the selection are kept a secret until their announcement at the banquet.

Keith Auld will officially assume the post as president of the Chamber of Commerce from retiring leader Charlie Lee.

A steak dinner will be the fare of the evening, prepared by the Iowa Park Mule Skinners.

Burglars continue to plague police

Burglars were keeping the Iowa Park Police Department busy this week with reports including thefts of Social Security checks and an outboard boat motor.

Two Iowa Park automobile repair shops also were burglarized, according to police reports.

Billy James reported Wednesday that his auto repair shop gutted by fire last week was burglarized Tuesday night.

Tires and mag wheels valued at $400 were taken in the burglary, police said.

The auto repair shop of Deryl James at 412 S. Yosemite earlier was the victim of burglars, who stripped a parked car of the intake manifold, carburetor and air cleaner. Value of items stolen totaled $175, police said.

Sidney R. Waldrop, 1204 Emma, Wednesday reported a case of criminal mischief. Whi'e Driving in the 800 block of West Highway, Waldrop said a bottle or can was thrown from a passing vehicle.

The bottle or can hit Waldrop's windshield. Damage was estimated at $200, according to police reports.

City council to see charter

A new city charter will be presented to the Iowa Park city council when it meets at 7 p.m. Monday in the council meeting room.

The charter is the result of several months of work by a charter study committee and charter commission. The city is expected to call an election on the proposed charter for April 2, the same date on which city and school officials will be elected.

The Iowa Park school board will not meet Tuesday, which is the regularly-scheduled date for the board to meet. Trustees last month voted to delay their meeting until the following Friday, Feb. 18.

Cryovac to give 800 seedlings

Eight hundred tree seedlings purchased by Cryovac will be distributed free to citizens of Iowa Park, under the direction of the parks and recreation department, Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon at the Chamber of Commerce building.

The seedlings available will be honey locust, Austrian pine, oriental arbor vitae and ponderosa pine. Citizens are reminded that now is the time to plant trees and encouraged to take advantage of the free seedlings to beautify their own premises and contribute to the beautification of the city.

People must pick up their own seedlings as delivery service will not be available.

Kidd's Texaco located on the expressway reported persons left the business without paying for gasoline.

Terry Brookshire, 309 E. Emerald, reported the theft of a .45 caliber gun.

A chain was cut and the motor was removed from a boat parked at the residence of F.M. "Peanuts" Wilson, 800 W. Alameda.

Police reports indicated the value of the outboard boat motor was $614.

Welby A. Likin, 504 E. Ruby, told police two checks totaling $324 had been stolen from the residence.

A Wichita Falls man, Mike White, reported to police that a CB radio and electric trailer brake unit had been removed from a truck parked on the west parking lot of Iowa Park High School.

Burglars continue to plague police

BIG BLAZE--Iowa Park Volunteer Fire Department responded three times this week to house fires on Huntington Lane in Pleasant Valley. Sunday's fire completely destroyed a home owned by C.L. and Jewell Huff while the house next door owned by J.E. Myers suffered substantial damage. No one was injured in the blaze.

Federal grand jury called Monday on Johnson case

Criminal charges stemming from investigations that surround the disappearance of Iowa Park grainman Robert Johnson and his business dealings may be considered when a federal grand jury convenes in special session Monday in Wichita Falls.

The federal grand jury session called by U.S. Judge John Hill will convene at 10:30 a.m. Monday in the Wichita Falls Federal Building.

The grand jury will be composed of persons from the Abilene Division, San Angelo Division and the Wichita Falls Division which includes Iowa Park.

Although several criminal charges could be considered by the federal grand jury when it convenes Monday, U.S. officials said criminal charges have not been filed against Johnson because indictments would have to be returned within 30 days or the charges would have to be dropped.

Known to have been subpoenaed to appear before the federal grand jury are Port Aransas Constable Ben Cash, who has been investigating Johnson's disappearance; Ray Browne, a Johnson employee who was on the boat from which Johnson allegedly fell off and drowned Jan. 3; and Browne's wife, Kay.

The FBI said the grand jury will investigate any criminal action Johnson may have committed, while other federal officials indicate charges involving fertilizer smuggling from Mexico to Texas would be considered.

Also there are reports of possible charges of obstruction of justice in connection with the reported beating of an unidentified man thought to have information about Johnson.

MAN BEATEN

The alleged beating incident came Monday night, in the wake of Sunday's Dallas Morning News which reported a friend of Johnson saw the grainman several days after his Jan. 3 disappearance.

The friend, who was unidentified because he feared for his life, said Johnson's drowning was faked and that Johnson had altered his physical appearance by plastic surgery, the Dallas newspaper reported in Sunday's editions.

The story was based on a sworn statement by the friend given to law enforcement authorities, who met last week to discuss the case.

Authorities said the friend's story checked out when he was given a polygraph test, the Dallas newspaper said.

The friend said Johnson was dressed in an insulated diver's suit when he jumped off the boat near a sand bar, waded ashore and hid in the trunk of a car waiting in Port Aransas, the newspaper said.

The friend said Johnson was driven to Corpus Christi where he boarded an airplane and was flown to Belize in South America, the newspaper reported.

Johnson has undergone plastic surgery and has been living on a Mexican ranch about 75 miles from Eagle Pass, the friend was quoted by the Dallas newspaper.

The friend said Johnson looked younger than his 41 years, was wearing a paste-on mustache and had lost "part of his big belly," when the friend saw him several days after the reported drowning, the newspaper said.

Less than a day after the Dallas Morning News published its story, a man apparently thought to have information about Johnson was "worked over" and hospitalized, according to Cash, who has been spearheading the month long search for Johnson.

Cash told a Corpus Christi newspaper the man, who was not identified, was taken to an area hospital for observation and possible treatment for internal injuries.

Cash, who said earlier he is satisfied Johnson is alive, could not be reached by telephone Tuesday or Wednesday. His Port Aransas office said they did not know where Cash was, when he would return or when he is expected to arrive in Wichita Falls for Monday morning's federal grand jury meeting.

Meanwhile, involuntary bankruptcy proceedings against Johnson and his business continue, and a creditors' meeting has been scheduled for Feb. 24 in the Wichita Falls U.S. District Court.

The final audit of Johnson's grain operations has been completed, said Asst. Atty. Gen. Anthony Sadberry, who is waiting for the creditors' meeting later this month.

Sadberry said he plans to meet with Dist. Atty. Tim Eysen, although information on suspected criminal actions by Johnson is fragmented and must be pieced together before it goes to either a federal or county grand jury.

BANKRUPTCY PETITION

The involuntary bankruptcy petition was filed last month by Construction Agricultural Special Equipment Inc. of Wichita Falls, former Johnson employe Willard Frye of Wichita Falls, and farmers Bing Miller of Iowa Park, Fred Eastman of Burkholder and Keith Falls.

Worsham Andrew Harding, a Byers wheat farmer, has since filed a petition to join the involuntary bankruptcy petition, claiming Johnson owes him for 33,535 bushels of wheat stored in Johnson's elevator.

The U.S. Bankruptcy Judge in Fort Worth had ordered defendants to file an answer by Tuesday.

Answers were filed by defendants Geronimo Elevator Co., Southwest Planes Inc., Robert Johnson Grain & Molasses Co. and Johnson's wife, Anita.

However, Johnson failed to file an answer by Tuesday's deadline.

The four separate answers that were filed ask the court to dismiss the involuntary bankruptcy petition alleging legal insufficiency of facts in the petition and that the petition does not state a cause of action upon which relief sought could be granted.

The answers also deny most of the petition's allegations, alleging Johnson is dead, and request a jury trial to decide the issues.

Government investigations have uncovered that 500,000 bushels of wheat is missing from Johnson's Geronimo Elevator in Wichita Falls.

About 400,000 bushels of grain, more than half which is heavily damaged from weevil and rat infestations, remains in the Geronimo Elevator, an attorney in the bankruptcy case said.

Sale of the grain was recommended last week during a meeting of lawyers involved in the suit and U.S. Bankruptcy Judge John C. Ford.

James Dugger, a Wichita Falls attorney appointed receiver in the bankruptcy proceedings, has been searching for a buyer.

Dugger had not found a buyer Wednesday afternoon, but his office said he was meeting with a possible buyer.

Money collected from the sale will be put in escrow for farmers, and an attempt will be made to collect a $225,000 bond on the grain. If collected, the bond money also would be placed in escrow and eventually distributed to the farmers, pro rata.

MOBILE HOME MOVED

In a related issue, a mobile home registered and owned by Geronimo Elevator Co. may have been illegally moved from Iowa Park to Eagle Pass, which is near the area where Cash alleges Johnson to be hiding.

Although all property and assets of Geronimo Elevator have been tied up since the involuntary bankruptcy suit

Toler-Martin wedding held Friday in Iowa Park church

Miss Cathy Gail Toler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Toler, became the bride of Michael Eugene Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Martin in a double-ring ceremony performed Friday evening at Faith Baptist Church. The Rev. Bill Campbell, pastor, was the officiant.

Upon arrival at the church, guests registered in the foyer at a round table draped with a floor length white satin cloth appointed with a blue floral piece. Mrs. Jerry Mathews directed signatures of the guests.

Traditional music for the nuptials was furnished by Dave Bridgers, organist. His prelude selections included Handel's "Largo", "Because", "I Love You Truly" and "O, Perfect Love". He played the time-honored wedding marches by Mendelssohn and Wagner.

The couple recited their vows in an altar setting which featured nine-branched white steel globe candelabra covered with commadore foliage accented with white orange blossoms on either side of the nuptial space. A planter of palms and jade foliage provided the background and family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white organza over net and peau de soie enhanced with Chantilly lace details. The bodice was fashioned with a high-rise waistline, a ruffled lace yoke and long sleeves. Lace appliques adorned the front waistline and were repeated above the wide hemline flounce. Her lace-bordered illusion veil fell from a white net and organza crown to form a chapel train. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, blue carnations and English ivy and completed her costume with bridal traditions.

The bride's chosen colors of pink and blue were noted in costumes worn by her attendants and flower girl. Mrs. Steve Toler, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Cecelia Martin, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. They were attired in long pink and blue flowered organza empire gowns over blue crepe styled with low necklines, bishop sleeves terminating in wide pleated cuffs and sashes that tied in soft bows in the back. They carried blue carnations in cascade arrangement.

Julie Toler, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a long blue crepe frock accented with sleeves, collar and sash of pink and blue flowered organza and carried a white basket filled with blue carnations.

Jimmy Lee Via, the ring bearer, wore a navy blue suit like the groom and his attendants wore.

Bill Toler and Steve Toler, brothers of the bride, served as best man and groomsmen, respectively. Ushers, who also served as candlelighters, were Jerry Mathews and David Coker, brothers-in-law of the couple.

Mothers of the bride and groom wore white carnations tipped with colors to harmonize with their long gowns for corsages. Mrs. Toler wore a rose Qiana gown with high collar, raised waistline and long sleeves closed with pearl buttons. Mrs. Martin chose a two-piece black crepe gown with which she wore an embossed silver shell.

The wedding reception was given by the bride's parents in the Fellowship Hall of the church and the rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents in their home Thursday evening.

At the reception, the center of interest was the refreshment table featuring a full length white satin cloth overlaid with brocaded sheer. The centerpiece was a handsome silver candelabrum holding white roses, carnations and candles complemented with blue carnations and English ivy.

The wedding cake and crystal punch service marked table extremities. The cake was a three-tiered confection decorated with clusters and cascades of blue frosting roses with pale green leaves on the sides and tops of the layers which were separated with filigree dividers. The crowning feature was a trio of white satin bells nestled in white net and lilies of the valley and filled with the dainty blossoms.

Reception assistants were Miss Lamesa Wadsworth of Holliday, Miss Donna Walls, Mrs. David Coker and Mrs. Jimmy Via.

The bride attended Iowa Park High School. The groom, an employee of A.L. Inman Construction Co., was graduated from Iowa Park High School. The couple will live in Iowa Park.

The betrothal of Miss Chriselda Ann Thompson and Gaylon Michael Hord is being released this week by the young lady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale E. Thompson. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Hord of Goree.

Miss Thompson was graduated from Iowa Park High School and Midwestern State University. She is a teacher in the Burk Burnett Independent School District. Her fiancé was graduated from Goree High School and Midwestern State University.

ty and is self-employed at Goree.

The date chosen by the couple for the exchange of nuptial vows is June 4 and the First Christian Church will be the setting.

'Minding the Future' is theme for program

"Mind the Future" was the theme of the program for the meeting of Night Baptist Women of the First Baptist Church Monday when fifteen members met at the home of Mrs. E.T. Patterson.

Mrs. C.L. McKinnon, leader, explained that the program would place emphasis on the young people's mission groups and their mission activities in Southern Baptist churches and particularly in the First Baptist Church of Iowa Park.

Mrs. J.C. Roby's topic was Missions Friends, the mis-

The challenging changes in education were brought into focus at the 23 Study Club meeting Thursday afternoon which started with a guided tour through the Iowa Park Library by Mrs. Billy Washburn, who was introduced by Mrs. James A. Sewell, president of the library board. From the library, members went to the home of Mrs. E.F. Soell where she and Mrs. L.E. Brooks were hostesses for the meeting.

The education theme was made particularly prominent through an address by Miss Ethyle Kidwell, a longtime teacher and principal of an elementary school which bears her name, who tutors students and keeps abreast of education trends.

Describing the life of a teacher during her early class room days and noting some of the drastic changes, she stated "I wonder how teachers in the past would react to problems that challenge the class room teachers today."

Paying tribute to the majority of students who aspire to high standards, she mentioned problems caused by others which included discipline, low achievement, use of drugs, alcohol, vandalism and permissiveness. She attributed the teacher's inability to cope with and the parents' indifference to control of their children as major reasons for the discipline problems that plague many class rooms.

"The teacher in the modern class room has a stupendous task in educating the child; basics should take priority but values are of utmost importance to make students worldwide citizens," she stressed. "The kind of teacher needed is one who accepts responsibility for progress achieved for hers or his students; one who refuses to label and classify children as winners or losers and runs the class room on a "non reject" basis," she continued. She further described the teacher needed for the hour as one who develops a continuous program reporting system which takes into account each child's differences and personal growth.

Mrs. C.E. Birk was program leader.

Mrs. Chauncey Weiler gave the federal counselor's report in which she described the Federation Boosters Club composed of husbands of General Federation of Women's Clubs members.

Mrs. T.M. Thaxton brought a devotion on "Prayer" concluding it with eight Senate prayers by Peter Marshall.

The arts number was a piano selection by Mrs. James A. Sewell. In observance of American Music Week, she played "The Banjo" by Zottschalk.

Mrs. Joe Singer led the group in the pledge to the flag and conducted the business. Mrs. D.O. James and Miss Kidwell reported that they had purchased a non-bearing mulberry tree to be planted at Bradford Elementary School.

Announcement was made of the next meeting which will be Guest Day luncheon and program and an arts and crafts exhibit Feb. 17 in the Fellowship Hall of First Christian Church.

Other club members present were Miss Titia Belle Blanks; Mmes. Rollins Woodall, Fred Widmoyer, Earl Watson, W.G. Steele, Travis Smith, Glen Miller, C.L. Metz, O.E. Lochridge, Sam Hill, C.A. Hicks, Earle Denny and Homer Blalock.

If you want to save on your heating costs this winter, start right here.

A lower thermostat setting will result in less energy use. A setting of 68° or lower is recommended. If you're going to be away, turn the thermostat to a lower setting or turn it off unless freezing weather could damage plumbing and appliances.

Insulation is very important and can pay for itself by lowering your heating costs. A home with six to eight inches of insulation in the attic uses about 45% less energy than one with no insulation.

Keep the filters clean. Check them at least once each month. Dirty filters cause equipment to work harder and use more electricity.

Windows and doors are big energy losers, so consider installing storm doors and windows — at least on the north side of your house. And weatherstrip around all doors and windows.

Make sure your fireplace damper is tightly closed when the fireplace is not in use. All forms of energy cost more these days. If you're serious about saving electricity, call or write for the booklet on our E-OK Energy Efficiency program.

Electricity. You count on it today. We're working to keep it that way.

Members present were Mmes. Charlie Thompson, Miles Thompson, L.L. Lindesmith, Elgin Denny, James Todd, Carroll Hester, Allen Bennett, Bertha McDonald and Kathleen Hatten.

The meeting of the H.T. MacIn Fellowship was held in the home of Mrs. James Owens with Mrs. Kenneth Jones directing the program on "Devotion for Women at Home". Others who attended were Mmes. Larry Parks, Wilbert Wynn, David Springer, John Fletcher, and Joy Shiflet.

Birk Circle in meeting

The Lucy Birk Circle of First Presbyterian Church met at the home of Miss Titia Belle Blanks Tuesday morning.

Mrs. John Clapp Jr. gave the denominational emphasis focusing attention upon the "Season of Christian Witness." She said that the churches in southern Africa were calling upon the Presbyterian church in the United States to join with them in missions to individuals and society in both nations.

"The Mystery of Christ" was the topic of the Bible study taught by Mrs. C.E. Birk. She explained that the mystery was that the Jews and Gentiles were to be together in Christ Jesus. She further stated that Paul's special assignment was to tell the whole world how such Christian fellowship was possible. Miss Blanks and Mrs. Cecil Holloway assisted with the study.

A covered-dish luncheon followed the program. The Rev. E.B. Compton Jr. was a special guest.

Two students give program

Lydia Bushfield and Robie Raine, students from the speech department of Iowa Park High School who have won outstanding honors in their field this year, presented a humorous dialogue at the meeting of Evening Lions Club Tuesday. They were introduced by Sam Hunter, program chairman.

Another feature of the program was a safety film "Lucky You" shown by Mel Moulton.

Mrs. E.L. Gallop, pianist, furnished the dinner music.

Former President Harry Truman so loved to read that by the age of 14 he had finished all the books in the Independence, Missouri library.

Cook of the Week

Breads were the cornerstone of the early American diet and in the 20th century nothing can add more zip to a meal than home baked rolls with their warm, zesty fragrance. Pies have also been an important part of the American cuisine since pioneer housewives contrived them out of the few simple foods at hand.

Even though the 20th century affords new methods in cooking, a wider variety of ingredients and recipes, breads and pies are still "tried and true" favorites. Mrs. Ray (Raye) Stubbs' recipes, especially the Ritz Cracker Pie and Quick Refrigerator Rolls attest to each of the above facts. At this time when the soaring prices of coffee call for tight economy (beverage wise), she was inspired to share her recipe for Russian Tea, which her family enjoys, with the Leader readers.

A graduate of Throckmorton High School, Mrs. Stubbs worked for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Wichita Falls nine years. She is a member of the Church of God. She and her husband, who works in civil service at Sheppard AFB, find satisfaction and pleasure in refinishing antiques. Needlework is another one of her hobbies.

Great News FOR THE World

DO YOU UNDERSTAND THE KINGDOM OF GOD?

Jesus went through every city and village of Galilee preaching...What was it that he preached? Surely his subject must have been the truth, which above all else, he wanted men to know! The Gospels supply the answer: he was "preaching and showing the glad tidings of the kingdom of God" (Luke 8:1), or "the gospel of the kingdom" (Matt. 4:23; 9:35). He was telling good news about God's Kingdom; and what this meant was so well understood by early readers that Matthew refers to it simply as "the kingdom" without defining what kingdom. When Jesus sent forth his disciples to teach, it was with the same message (Luke 9:2).

What is this Kingdom? Is it only a figure of speech which refers to the influence Jesus wields over men's minds? Does it mean the community of believers who acknowledge his leadership? Does it exist now, without disturbing the political structure of nations and empires? Or, on the other hand, ought we to understand this "kingdom" to be as literal as the Kingdom of Great Britain?

Is a correct understanding and belief of this "kingdom" necessary for salvation. Paul says that the good news about Christ—that is, about his Kingdom, and forgiveness of sins through him—is "the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth" (Rom. 1:16). Jesus himself says: "He that believeth and is baptized shall be saved; and he that believeth not shall be condemned" (Mark 16:16; see also 1 Cor. 15:2, etc.). According to Jesus and his apostles, the difference between believing and not believing is the difference between life and death.

We cannot believe what we do not know; and we can know what the Kingdom of God is only by learning from the Old and New Testaments—for the teaching of the New Testament is based on the Old. Let us look at the evidence.

- 1. We are told through Daniel, that in the latter days—
"The God of heaven shall set up a kingdom, which shall never be destroyed; and the kingdom shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces and consume all these kingdoms, and it shall stand for ever" (Dan. 2:44.)
- 2. The Kingdom will be upon earth, and will take possession of all the kingdoms of the World.
"The Lord shall be king over all the earth" (Zech. 14:9).
"The kingdoms of this world...become the kingdoms of our Lord and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever" (Rev. 11:15).

- 3. The Kingdom, so set up, will be the ancient kingdom of Israel restored.
"Wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?" (Acts 1:6).
"In that day will I raise up the tabernacle of David that is fallen" (Amos 9:11).
"The kingdom shall come to the daughter of Jerusalem" (Micah 4:8).
"I appoint unto you a kingdom, as my Father hath appointed unto me...ye shall sit on thrones judging the twelve tribes of Israel" (Luke 22:29, 30).
- 4. In the setting up of the Kingdom, the Jews will be gathered from their present dispersion in all the earth, and restored to their own land, which will be the seat or headquarters of the kingdom of God.
"He that scattered Israel will gather him" (Jer. 31:10).
"He shall assemble the outcasts of Israel, and gather together the dispersed of Judah from the four corners of the earth" (Isa. 11:12).
"I will take the children of Israel from among the heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on every side, and bring them into their own land" (Ezek. 37:21).
- 5. Ancient Jerusalem will become the capital city of the whole earth.
"At that time shall they call Jerusalem the throne of the Lord" (Jer. 3:17).
"The Lord of Hosts shall reign in Mount Zion, and in Jerusalem" (Isa. 24:23).
"Then shall Jerusalem be holy" (Joel 3:17).
- 6. Christ's accepted people will reign with him, and inherit the kingdom when these glorious things are fulfilled.
"If we suffer, we shall also reign with him" (2 Tim. 2:12).
"He that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations, and he shall rule them" (Rev. 2:26).
"The saints of the Most High shall take the kingdom, and possess the kingdom for ever" (Dan. 7:18, 27).
"Come, ye blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdom" (Matt. 25:34).

Saturday Night Bath
A feller worked hard all week and there was no sense cleaning up just to go to work but come Saturday night water was drawn and sprucin' up began. The No. 2 tub was brought from the washroom or back porch and set down by the kitchen stove. We call them ranges now but they were just plain stoves back then. Water was drawn from the well and the tub was filled to about a third full. More water was put in kettles and stews on the stove to heat. When the kettles started to sing and stews water started bubbling, the bather brought the P&G soap and a "warsh" rag. Some folks used lye soap but we never had to for baths. Wintertime baths are the most vivid in my memory.

All the boiling water was poured into the tub with the other and clothes were shed and in you got. Yeooooo! The bath was always hotter or colder than you expected, never just right. In fact, it could be scalding hot when you got in and, by the time you washed behind one ear and scrubbed a crusty elbow, the water was likely to have a crust of ice forming at the edges. A body could freeze to death before more could be heated on the stove, so most of the baths were not long, soaking, enjoyable ones.

You might as well forget modesty when you're taking a bath in a No. 2 on the kitchen floor. One kid, whose name will not be mentioned, was taking a regular Saturday night when the course of his life was probably altered. As he was scrubbing behind his left shoulder blade someone let Mr. Prince, the family hound, into the house. He took a half dozen good natured bounds and landed in the tub with the boy, splattering suds and water everywhere. The boy jumped out of the tub, trying to bring Mr. Prince under control and slipped on a wet cake of soap that had fallen there. He skidded through the doorway under the sheet that had been hung there for a blind, into the living room, picking up a splinter from the rough pine floor as he slid off the end of the linoleum. All this took place just as his mother was letting company in the front door. The company was the family of a girl he was very fond of and she just happened to be with them. Everyone was stunned by the scene before them and for one eternal moment all eyes stared. Mr. Prince appeared from out of the kitchen suddenly, greeting everyone by "drying off" right in front of them.

That all happened a long time ago but the boy, now a man, recalls it from time to time and he says that the LEAST painful thing that happened that Saturday night was getting that splinter.

WORTH QUOTING

The state of Texas should secede from the Union.

In so doing we would solve many more problems than we would create.

For instance: we could sell oil, gas and other natural resources to the U.S., which would suddenly become a foreign country, for whatever price we wanted.

We would no longer be harassed by Federal Agencies such as the Environmental Protection Agency, Federal Power Commission, OSHA, and the Internal Revenue Service. (what a nice thought.)

By getting out from under the IRS we would no longer be concerned with rising federal taxes and a growing federal deficit.

If we had not been a member of the union a year ago, we could have looked forward to repeated visits from Henry Kissinger, but now we would probably be wooed by President Carter's new Secretary of State, Cyrus R. Vance.

There are possibilities we might even be important enough to rate a 'diplomatic mission' from VP Walter Mondale.

Things are probably not as bad as they seem, but it doesn't make good sense to me that the state of Texas produces a large portion of the natural gas used in this country and yet, we pay more for natural gas than residents of Chicago.

This is because some bureaucratic agency in Washington can regulate the price of natural gas outside the state but they have no say over the price of in state sales.

This forces natural gas companies to force higher prices on us in order to compensate for the money lost on all gas sold outside the state.

I'm not really suggesting that Texas secede from the Union, because this is a great country. But just think, if we did, when things really got tough the dear old U.S. would give us enough foreign aid to keep us going. Fun to think about isn't it.

One candidate files to run

With city council and school board elections coming up April 2 in Iowa Park, one candidate has already filed for a place on a ballot.

Incumbent trustee Robert Wilcox filed this week for the school board race. The other incumbent whose term expires this spring, Glen Miller, has not committed whether he will seek re-election.

City administrator Gene Britton said yesterday no one has filed for the city election.

Candidates will have until the first week of March to file.

As I See It....

It's almost unreal, how many people are aware of Iowa Park.

They may not know for sure where the town is situated, often mislocating it as being near Houston or Dallas. But that's not the point. They know of Iowa Park.

And "they" aren't restricted to Texas and Oklahoma residents, either.

Three entirely unrelated subjects have given Iowa Park its publicity:

was filed, state and local officials said Wednesday a 12x70 feet mobile home owned by Geronimo Elevator was moved to Eagle Pass on Friday.

Ray Browne, an employee of Johnson's, and Browne's wife Kay were living in the mobile home that was moved to Eagle Pass over the weekend, according to authorities.

Mrs. Browne secured a permit Friday from the Texas Tourist Bureau to move the trailer.

A truck tractor with an Eagle Pass address painted on the side of the cab hooked onto the Browne trailer in Iowa Park. The tractor had a 72-hour license issued to a D.J. Fletcher Jr.

About 10 days ago Browne began work for a Doug Fletcher Jr., a commercial trucker from Eagle Pass who specializes in hauling grain and fertilizer.

None of the property of Geronimo Elevator was to be moved, sold or mortgaged without authorization from the receiver, Dugger.

It was not believed Dugger authorized that the mobile home be moved from Iowa Park to Eagle Pass, however, Dugger was unavailable for comment Wednesday afternoon.

Carriages for hire, known as hackney carriages, first appeared in London in 1605.

the now defunct Texas-Oklahoma Fair; high school football; and Bobby Johnson.

For years and years, the tireless efforts of local people kept the old fair in operation. And it paid off. Thousands of people from many, many miles around flooded into the town to attend the annual event.

Fairs were a way of life then, and the Iowa Park event was one which not only gave thousands a world of enjoyment, but is still recalled with fond memories by those who attended and those who worked on the project.

Soon after the fair was discontinued, football gave the people another point of pride, in relating to Iowa Park.

From 1964 through the fall of 1970, the Hawks were the power of the state in Class AA football, never missing the playoffs.

So impressed were some, of our outstanding program and teams, that the stadium stands were always filled to capacity, and even one game gave inspiration to a movie (which was never completed) and a book.

Iowa Park received national publicity last year, during the Bicentennial year, when a national television network aired for several minutes the prowess of Hawk football, their dedicated fans, and what it all meant to the community. The program was featuring high points of the entire state of Texas, so it meant a lot to be included.

Now, with the disappearance of Bobby Johnson and all the investigations which have followed, exposure of Iowa Park through all the national media is once again making people across the nation aware of our community.

Whether all the attention from publicity is desirable or not, the fact still remains, there are very, very few towns in this nation our size or smaller that are so well known...even if the don't know where it is on the map.

NEW FRIENDS—Iowa Park High School's general construction class delivered an early Valentine this week to Mrs. Helen Roberts' kindergarten class at Kidwell Elementary. The Valentines were toys made by the class from wood and metal scraps. Carlton Hicks, instructor, said his class enjoys making the toys, and Principal Bob Cole cited a substantial savings to the school.

school; Jerry Fairchild, 100-pound senior novice; and Kenny Fairchild, 135-pound novice. Iowa Park's boxers will be fighting this week in Holliday in preparation for the Iowa Park Optimist Club's tourney slated March 3, 4 and 5.

Local educators help on new bill

State Senator Ray Farabee of Wichita Falls has introduced a bill to relieve school districts forced to close schools from the unattractive alternatives of either making up the lost days or facing loss of state funds.

The bill was drafted last week after a meeting at the Capitol with State Representative Charles Finnell, Faris Nowell, Supt. of Iowa Park schools, Ray Coe, Supt. of Holliday schools, Roy Boutwell and C.E. Myers, Iowa Park school representatives, state officials, and other area school officials.

State law requires schools to offer 180 days of instruction to obtain state funds. This season's severely cold weather accompanied by gas curtailments has forced repeated closings of many North Texas schools.

"Quick action is essential on this problem since extensive rescheduling of classes affects previously planned church and civic activities, family vacations, industry scheduling of vacation time, and teachers' ability to continue their education during the summer," Farabee noted. He told school administrators gathered here that the energy problem may continue to plague school schedules.

"I have consulted with the governor's office, legislators and the Texas Education Agency, and with the assistance of these people and the many concerned school officials at the local level, I am confident we can find a ready solution to this problem."

Farabee's bill would allow approval of operation of schools for less than 180 days of instruction and 10 days of inservice training when disasters, floods, extreme weather conditions, fuel curtailments or other calamities force schools to close.

OEA Week observed

Vocational business and office education students at Iowa Park High School are joining Office Education Association members from throughout the nation in activities to make the community aware of the importance of vocational student organizations during OEA Week, Feb. 6-12.

OEA Week is being observed concurrently with Vocational Education Week. The purpose of the celebration is to inform the public of the meaning and objectives of OEA. By doing this, the community will be aware of the important part that OEA plays in the local school and community.

Many of the activities planned by the Iowa Park OEA Chapter evolve around this year's national theme, "OEA, Building the Skills of America."

The Office Education Association, with a membership of more than 65,000 students, is designed to develop leadership abilities in the American business world and competency in office occupations. Through its professional, financial, civic, service, and social activities and projects, OEA is developing leaders of tomorrow today.

Glass making is program

A film explaining the process of float glass production by PPG Industries was shown to members of the Noon Lions Club Tuesday.

Representing the company were Mel Earnest, plant engineer, and Stacy Keller, supervisor of engineering.

Earnest told the group the PPG plant between Wichita Falls and Burkburnett has a $12-million annual payroll. The plant currently employs 750 personnel, after 200 were laid off due to weather and a recession in construction.

The plant has been extremely successful in its production and profits, Earnest said, mainly due to technology and the caliber of people in the area who have been employed by the company.

During curtailment of natural gas, oil is used for heating in production of the gas, the representative said, at an additional cost of $5,000 per day. When gas is available, the plant consumes 9,000,000 cubic feet per day.

One injured in accident

Lee Dell Jordan of Iowa Park was treated and released from Wichita General Hospital following a two-car mishap last Thursday at Iowa Park Road and Covington.

Mrs. Jordan was a passenger in a vehicle being driven by her husband.

Rhonda Gail Hudson of Wichita Falls was admitted to the hospital for injuries sustained in the accident which occurred shortly before 6 p.m. last Thursday.

PITCHING IN—Holliday High School chapter of the FHA this week donated $100 to the Holliday Volunteer Fire Department to aid in the purchase of a new truck and fire fighting equipment. Most of the money came from an FHA bake sale, said advisor Ethel Cook. The new truck will replace the old truck used as a backdrop for Tuesday's check presentation from FHA members to firemen Melvin Bills and John Harrigal.

Firearms ordinance amended by council

Holliday City Council amended its firearms ordinance Tuesday night to include the prohibition of firing air guns and sling shots within the city limits and on other municipal property.

Aldermen also discussed animal control, city employees, fire protection and water service.

The amendment to the firearm ordinance came in the wake of an incident last month when an unauthorized city employee shot several stray dogs with a .22 rifle. Lomax Campbell, city policeman, reported to the council two weeks ago that he had received several complaints of youths shooting dogs and other children with BB and pellet guns. Campbell told the council he had no way of controlling the use of air guns since there is no city ordinance prohibiting such weapons and toys. In the future it will be a violation to discharge air rifles in the city limits or on other city property such as the city lake, dump ground or at Camp Stonewall Jackson.

License tag dates set

Holliday residents can renew their vehicle license tags when a county official sets up shop here for three days in early March, said City Sec. Evon Carter.

Charles McDaniel, Archer County tax assessor-collector, will be at Holliday City Hall from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. March 2, 3 and 7. Mrs. Carter said.

to prosecute misuse of such weapons. Youths who exercise safety will not be fined for firing air guns in the city limits, the council indicated. Toni DeStephano, representing the Wichita County Humane Society, provided the council with copies of a model animal control ordinance the council will use to tailor a new ordinance here.

Discussion included the pros and cons of licensing dogs, a place to impound dogs and the pros and cons of traps versus tranquilizer guns for capture of stray dogs.

The council will hold a public hearing on the proposed animal control ordinance at its next meeting.

Garland Ray appeared before the council to discuss requirements for supplying water to a subdivision development north of the city. Melvin Bills and John Harrigal, volunteer firemen, requested the council to purchase two additional fire phones.

Firemen need the additional phones so the firemen can be reached and alarms can be set off more easily on weekends and when the city hall is closed.

The council approved purchase of the additional phones which is expected to cost about $80 for installation.

Hershel McDaniel, water superintendent, discussed work schedules and the employe-council relationship.

It was reported that employe Danny Teafattler resigned his position. Junior Akers was hired for a 90-day probation period, Mayor Leo Chappell said.

Only Alderman Red Denney was absent at Tuesday night's three-hour meeting.

A member of the Wichita County Humane Society's board of directors also met with the board in addition to City Sec. Evon Carter.

24 attend UMW event

The fellowship hall was decorated in the Valentine motif when the Holliday United Methodist Women held a luncheon Monday at the church.

Twenty-four persons were present for the luncheon which was preceded by a sing along led by Rev. John Dillard, pastor, and Erma Barton on the piano.

Mrs. Floy Welch, president, presided over the business meeting.

Mrs. Ina Slover presented the program, "Our Relationship to God."

The scripture for the program was John 15:1-7 and Romans 13:8-10.

The main thought of the program was that the union of Jesus Christ with his followers is represented here by the parable of a vine and its branches.

Finnell co-authors farm road bill

State Rep. Charles Finnell of Holliday co-authored legislation this week to increase the amount annually placed by the state into the Farm-to-Market Road Fund and the amount spent on Farm-to-Market road construction.

The five term solon is also co-authoring a bill to give harsher punishments to criminals who commit violent crimes with firearms.

"The Farm-to-Market road network is vitally important to the people of District 53, and this measure will enable us to keep up with the costs of inflation and allow increased construction and maintenance of adequate roads," Finnell said. H.B. 160 would increase to $30 million the amount deposited by the state each year into the F-M Road Fund and allocate $38 million to be spent on the F-M road program.

The Holliday legislator is sponsoring a proposal to give stiffer punishments to criminals convicted of using a firearm in the commission of murder, deadly assault on a police officer, voluntary manslaughter, aggravated kidnapping, aggravated rape, and aggravated robbery and burglary.

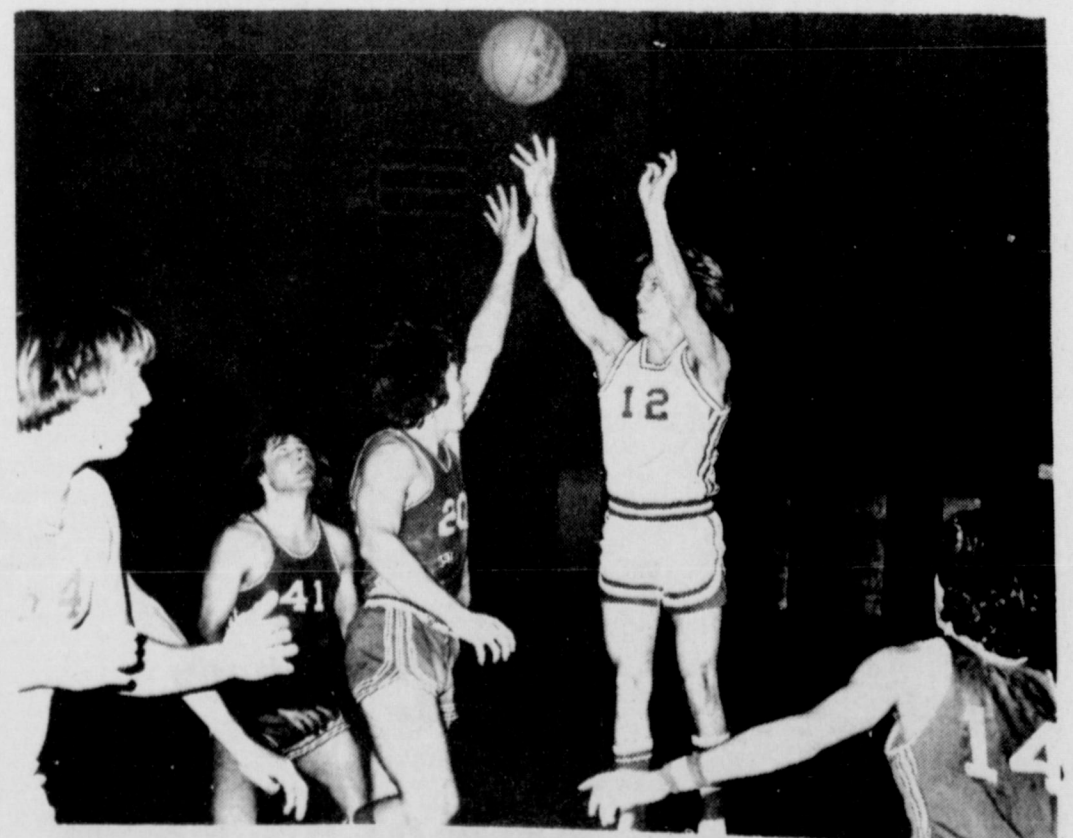

Finnell said, "Statistics indicate that most of these crimes are committed with guns, and we should take additional measures to punish those criminals who terrorize their victims with the most menacing weapon commonly available. This legislation takes those additional steps."

In addition to legislation with which he is involved, Finnell is working to improve the manner in which legislative business is conducted.

"We as State Representatives should always remember the trust placed in us by the voters," Finnell stated. "I have been disappointed this week by some legislators who leave early for weekends, missing crucial votes, and avoiding tough decisions. We must have better decorum and attendance in order to properly attend to the serious business of the people of Texas."

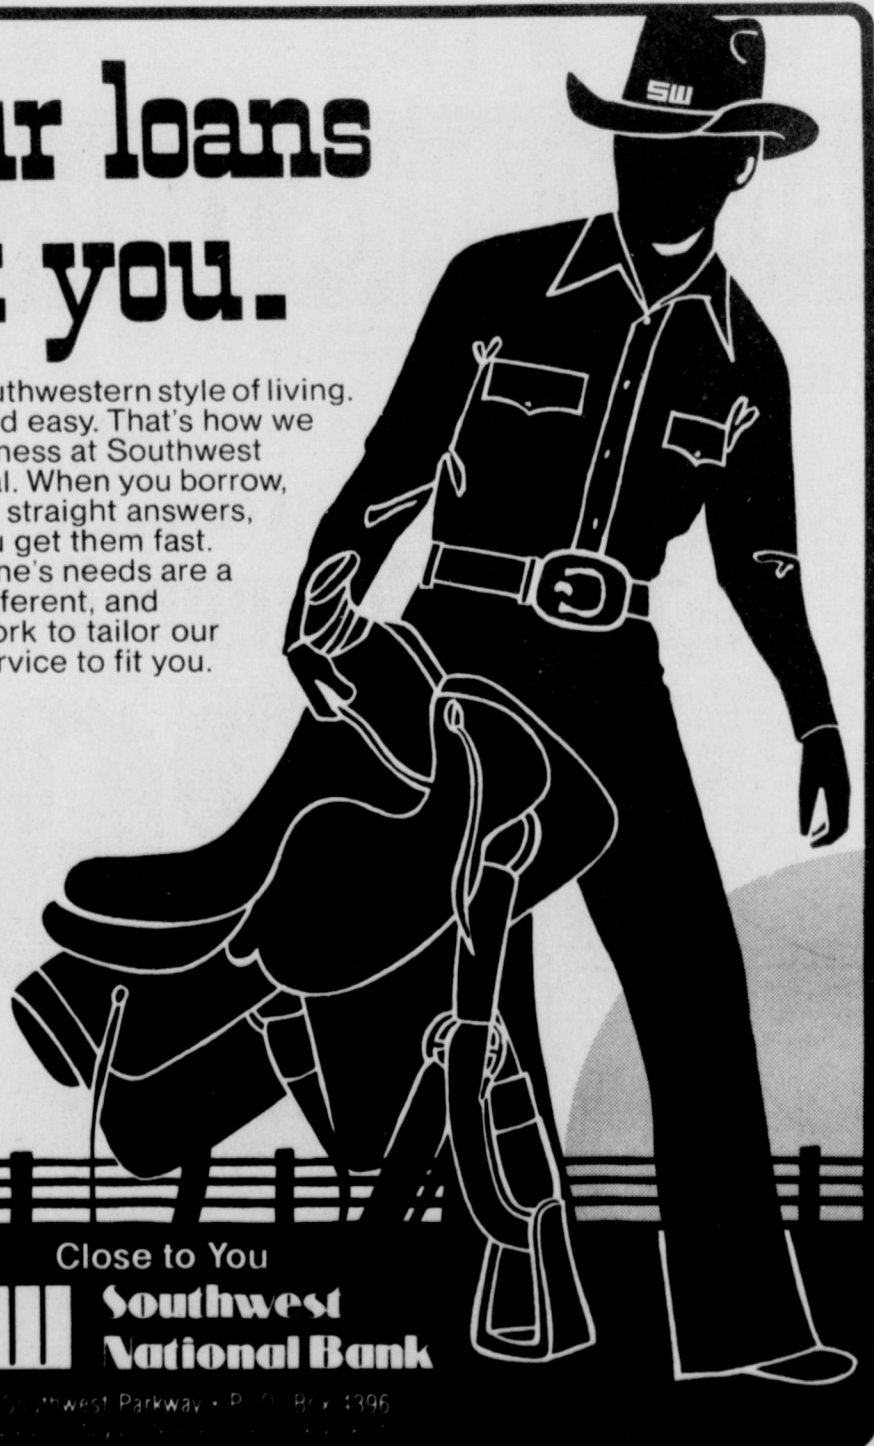

In addition to legislation with which he is involved, Finnell is working to improve the manner in

Iowa Park to have two baseball teams

The Hawk baseball team will make its 1977 debut in slightly less than three weeks, when the Mean Green opens against the Wichita Falls Coyotes Mar. 1.

Because of the interest in baseball this season, Coach Greg Clary is including a junior varsity team for the first time, which will play some eight games in March.

Nine varsity games are on tap before the first Hawk tournament is slated Mar. 25-26, which will be followed by the Dist. 4-AAA opener against Vernon.

Clary said he has 22 players working out for the team this week, and that is expected to grow by some 13 when the basketball teams play their final schedule next Tuesday.

Though the district is divided into north and south zones for round-robin play, two games are scheduled against Stephenville.

The north zone includes Iowa Park, Vernon and Burkburnett. Zone play is to wind up May 10, followed by playoff between the two zone champions for the right to advance into the state playoffs.

Basketball winds to a close

The Hawks won and lost in their last two outings of Dist. 4-AAA basketball.

Coach Mike Billingsley's charges humbled Graham Friday in the Steers' own pasture, 75-55, but fell to the powerful Mineral Wells Rams Tuesday 42-74.

Big second and fourth quarters made the major difference in the Graham game, as the Hawks sank more than 20 points in each.

Leading 16-10 after the first period, the Mean Green outscored the Steers 21-16 in the second, 12-10 in the third, and then laid it on with a 26-19 final stanza.

Five Hawks finished in double digits, the first time this season. Doug Rogers, Anthony York and Jimmy Rowell each had 16. Tom Papas had 13 and Rusty Price 10.

The Hawkettes won their third game of the season by a whopping 53-29 margin over Graham.

Mineral Wells completely dominated play Tuesday, outscoring the Hawks 19-6, 22-10 and 20-8 during the first three quarters. Then, against the Ram reserves, the Hawks had a good, 18-13, quarter.

Donny Taylor was high for the Hawks with seven points.

The Ram junior varsity edged out the Hawks by a scant 37-36 in the preliminary game.

Iowa Park closes out its season at home, hosting Brownwood tomorrow and Stephenville Tuesday. Both games will be junior varsity and varsity games, with first tip offs slated at 6 p.m.

Track workouts underway here

With Iowa Park High athletes already working out, track season is to get its official start the last weekend of this month, according to Neal Billingsley, boys' coach.

First meet of the season will be the annual Hawk Relays, which will be held at Hawk Stadium. Some 30 teams are expected to compete in three divisions, with small school preliminaries the first day and all division finals the second day.

Youth Center

A Valentine dance will be held at the Iowa Park Youth Center Saturday night for youth of the community.

To begin at 8 p.m. and end at midnight, admission will be $1 per person or $1.50 per couple.

Billingsley, who replaced Don Flippin as boys' coach, said he has 28 athletes working out now, and that figure is to swell to 40 when basketball season winds up Tuesday.

Six meets are on the schedule following the one here, and leading up to the district meet. They include the Vernon Invitational Mar. 5; Possum Kingdom Relays at Graham Mar. 12; Boontown Invitational Mar. 19; Cub Relays at Olney Mar. 26; Kangaroo Relays at Weatherford April 2; Stamford Reunion Relays April 2; then the District 4-AAA meet April 23; Regional meet April 30; and State meet May 13-14.

Schedule of meets in which the girls will compete is expected to be released soon by Coach David Williams.
