The 1954 Texas-Oklahoma Fair and Southwest Oil Exposition has come and gone. It is now history. People who worked with the Fair and those who came to see it have expressed the opinion this year's Fair was the best. Community and area free programs in the air-conditioned auditorium played before full houses each night. This was a new attraction and everyone liked it. Another feature that always had audience was the state wildlife exhibit. Every night found a double line waiting to see some of the animals and birds of our Lone Star With young and old of Oklahoma and Texas taking part in the various departments, we feel this was truly a Fair dedicated to education, with outstanding programs and exhibits. The weather was fine. A few showers cooled the air, and each day found larger attendances than last year.

To Dr. Gordon G. Clark and his corps of officers, directors, chairmen and committees we fire a salute for a grand Fair.

H. C. Hicks Named 'Driver of Month' For Fire Rescue

H. C. Hicks, employee of the John B. Barbour Trucking company, received the title "Driver of the Month" recently as an honor given by the Texas Motor Transportation association of Austin.

Following is an article taken from the Steering Wheel, official publication of TMTA: "H C Hicks has been named Motor Transportation as-ochation's "Driver of the Month" for September. He earned the hongr with a daring rescue. "An early morning fire in dence near Hicks' home in lowa Park claimed the life of a six-yearold girl and resulted in severe burns for her father. "Robert M. Miller collapsed in the flaming home while attempting to save his daughter. Hicks braved the blaze to carry Miller to safety, saw his efforts rewarded when Miller was recently released from the hospital after treatment for third degree burns." Carlton Hicks, a veteran of seven years service with the air force, has been employed by Barbour for the past two years and is entitled to a one year safe driving award. and a two-year-old son Mike. Everyone acquainted with Hicks knows he is never too busy to extend a helping hand to his fellowman and doing nice things for his friends.
