AN INJUNCTION BUT LITTLE WATER

Broadmoor-Brookside Controversy Now in the Courts

DROUGHT HAS THE BEST OF IT

Brookside Water Company Claims 19-200 of the Water Flow in Cheyenne Creek but Supply is So Low that the Share Amounts to Very Little—Situation at Brookside Only Slightly Relieved—Lywild is Still Without Water Entirely—The Suit as Filed.

As forecasted exclusively in the Gazette of yesterday morning the Brookside and Broadmoor people have at last entered into litigation concerning the ditch rights to water flowing down Cheyenne creek. The affair culminated in the district court yesterday morning when a suit was filed entitled the Brookside Water company versus the Broadmoor Land company. The injunction restraining the defendant company from in any manner interfering with the rights of plaintiff company in the use of 19-200 of the water supply. The plaintiff company also asks damages in the sum of $100,000. The attorneys for the plaintiff company are Lunt, Brooks and Wilcox. Shortly after the suit had been filed the matter was taken before Judge Stinson and a temporary injunction was issued. The Broadmoor people claim that notice of injunction has not been served upon them. After all of the litigation and trouble about the matter it seems that the Brookside people will profit very little by the injunction. The water commissioner has been brought about by the extreme drought. This small amount of water will benefit the Brookside people very little and will not help the situation in Lywild at all.

WALKING MATCH

ELKS WILL HAVE FOUR HOUR GO-AS-YOU-PLEASE.

Athletic Exhibition Will be Pulled Off at Temple Theatre in a Few Weeks—Tug of War Will Be One of the Main Features.

Prominent members of the local Elk lodge are arranging a grand four hour go-as-you-please walking match to be pulled off at the Temple Theater in about thirty days. In addition to the grand walking match a tug of war between an Elk's team and one to be made up of other citizens will take place. It is proposed to make the affair one of the biggest that has happened here in some time. The proceeds are to be devoted to the Elk's charity fund. Thomas Hazlett has charge of all the arrangements of the great athletic exhibition, and has already enlisted the support of a number of prominent business men. He proposes to have about sixteen entries in the four hour go-as-you-please and will have a representative from the prominent lines of business in the city. Chas. Fearson has entered from the city hall. Chas. A. Wilson from the druggists and Dr. Hutchings from the physicians. Mr. Hazlett says it will be an easy matter to have prominent young men enter from every line of business. A Jae Ward will give an exhibition of running backwards, which is said to be marvellous.

The Temple Theater will be converted into a temporary race track for the occasion. A nine foot track of sawdust, sand and cinders will be constructed in the auditorium measuring fourteen laps to the mile. There will be no money prizes given but three handsome and valuable prizes will be awarded to the successful contestants. It is proposed to have the race begin at 3 o'clock and continue until 6 and then from 8 o'clock until 10 in the evening. The tug of war will be the best three out of five and will be finally decided in the evening. The Elks have a special tug of war team consisting of Messrs. W. H. Morehead, Wm. Reynolds, Wm. Fitz, Chas. Quinlan, L. H. Skinner, Thomas Hazlett and several others. Tom Hazlett is the manager of the team. He is from the east (Kansas) and he is eminently qualified to make the affair a magnificent success.

KANSAS CITY Great Rock Island Route SHORTEST LINE. Best Dining Car Service. RAW AS BEEF FROM ECZEMA! No Torture Equal to the Itching and Burning of This Fearful Disease. Not much attention is often paid to the first symptoms of Eczema, but it is not long before the little redness begins to itch and burn. This is but the beginning, and will lead to suffering and torture almost unendurable. It is a common mistake to regard a roughness and redness of the skin as merely a local irritation; it is but an indication of a humor th the blood—of terrible Eczema, which is more than skin-deep, and can not be reached by local applications of ointments, salves, etc., applied to the surface. The disease itself, the real cause of the trouble, is in the blood, although all suffering is produced through the skin; the only way to reach the disease, therefore, is through the blood. Mr. Phil T. Jones, of Mixersville, Ind., writes: "I had Eczema thirty years, and after a great deal of treatment my leg was so raw and sore that it gave me constant pain. It finally broke into a running sore, and began to spread and grow worse. For the past five or six years I have suffered untold agony and had given up all hope of ever being free from the disease, as I have been treated by some of the best physicians and have taken many blood medicines, all in vain. With little faith left I began to take S. S. S., and it apparently made the Eczema worse, but I knew that this was the way the remedy got rid of the poison. Continuing S. S. S., the sore healed up entirely, the skin became clear and smooth, and I was cured perfectly." Eczema is an obstinate disease and can not be cured by a remedy which is only a tonic. Swift's Specific—S. S. S. FOR THE BLOOD—is superior to other blood remedies because it cures diseases which they can not reach. It goes to the bottom—to the cause of the disease—and will cure the worst case of Eczema, no matter what other treatment has failed. It is the only blood remedy guaranteed to be free from potash, mercury or any other mineral, and never fails to cure Eczema, Scrofula, Contagious Blood Poison, Cancer, Tetter, Rheumatism, Open Sores, Ulcers, Boils, etc. Insist upon S. S. S.; nothing can take its place. Books on these diseases will be mailed free to any address by Swift Specific Company, Atlanta, Georgia.

WHAT ELSE?

What else could the anti-Republicans have done if they had had the direction of affairs in the Philippines? They are very free with their criticisms of President McKinley and the American generals who have been upholding the interests of the nation under circumstances of unprecedented difficulty. But if they are so certain that mistakes have been made, if they dare to accuse representative Americans not only of errors of judgment but also of violations of fundamental principles of American government, why do they not occasionally point out in some definite instance the course which ought to have been pursued.

Would they, at the outbreak of the war, when Dewey's ships were ordered away from the neutral port of Hong Kong, have sent orders to him to come back to San Francisco, leaving American interests in the Orient unprotected and unrepresented and the ships of Montijo free to prey upon American commerce from the Golden Gate to the Cape of Good Hope or to make sudden raids upon defenseless coast towns in California or Alaska?

Would they when still pending between Spain and the United States, have abandoned Manila, leaving it as an open harbor for any further ships Spain might send, and leaving the Europeans of that city to make such terms as were possible with their savage foes?

Would they have abandoned Dewey as Gordon was abandoned at Khatona, leaving him without the reinforcements that he asked for, to fight or to starve or to come home when, where and how he could best?

Would they have permitted the growing insolence and aggressions of the insurgents to go on unrebuked? Would they have turned over the city of Manila to a horde of undisciplined savages thirsting for plunder and vengeance for the wrongs of centuries? Would they have permitted the adventurer, Aguinaldo, to establish himself as self-appointed dictator of the islands and have encouraged him to establish his authority by force of arms over millions of people who were not opposed to his rule than to that of the Spaniards? Would they by abandoning the islands have assumed before the world the responsibility of a massacre and a reign of terror which would have equaled in all probability the record of history's darkest page?

Would they, in the midst of a conflict, withdraw because the struggle had proved too hard for American valor and the American treasury to undertake?

Frankly we do not believe that the Democrats would have done these things. We have a better opinion of them than they seem to have of themselves. If the Democratic party had been in power when these matters arose, we believe that they would have tried to do exactly what the Republican party has done, and the spirit and resources and patriotism of this country is such that they would have done it, though with immensely greater blunders and difficulties. When the American commissioners went to Paris to arrange the peace treaty, few if any of them were in favor of the retention of the Philippines as a whole. Some were openly and strongly opposed to them at that time which led to the preparation of that treaty and its unanimous approval by all the members of that commission. Democratic as well as Republican. So at the present time, if the great majority of the Democrats who are capable of forming an intelligent opinion upon such matters, were to express their opinion they would say we are for our country and our country's interests, and we do not see where patriotic Americans could have adopted any other course than that which has been chosen. But unfortunately it is the necessity of party politics, the need of some other issue than that of the dead or dying one of silver, which is leading the party to take an attitude which is far less unpartisan than it appears. For if Democracy should be successful no one would be so bitterly disappointed as those who imagine that the inauguration of a Democratic president would be the signal for the withdrawal of the American flag from these islands. The party is brave enough to criticize what the Republicans are doing, but it is not foolhardy enough to adopt any different plan than that which the Republicans have been following.

It is not the first time that the Democracy has made the blunder of believing that its followers are much more stupid than they really are. One might think that they would have learned already the lesson that they have not, always popular. But the patriotism of the American character does not approve of slanders upon American soldiers and sympathy for those who are shooting bullets at the Stars and Stripes. The Democrats will lose far more than they can gain by criticisms and which are displayed, unfounded and dishonest, and which Democrats themselves if they are well-informed and sincere must admit to be so.

Mr. Robert P. Porter, who has spent much time in investigating affairs in Cuba under authority of the United States, has expressed himself strongly in favor of annexation of that island to the United States. Such an opinion is doubtless shared by most of those who have examined carefully into the matter. It would undoubtedly be best for Cuba, and in the end it would be best for the United States. However, fortunately or unfortunately, the United States is under pledge to the Cubans, and that pledge will be sacredly kept. If the Cubans desire independence, they will get it; and if they desire annexation they will receive it only when the demand becomes so strong and so evident that there will be no reasonable chance to say that they were coerced or unduly influenced in their decision.

Passing mention was made yesterday of Antoinette Sterling. As is usual in Colorado Springs, when employed at any place in all the world is mentioned somebody here knows all about it. A local reader informs us that she is a professional singer and a very fine one. She was a resident of Philadelphia, N. Y., a place "as little known as the singer-in-the-vest. She sang in Plymouth church, New York, then went to London to study and has remained there, living in London, I think. She is a noble woman and I know she could have meant all women in the remark attributed to her."

Colorado Springs will be very glad to extend a welcome to Colonel William J. Bryan. As a presidential possibility the colonel is essentially a back number, but independently of any politics Colorado Springs is glad to welcome a visitor. It is no small thing for a man to end his blundering in Manila, America in the way that Mr. Bryan has done, and however much we may differ with him in political ideas we cannot fail to appreciate the wonderful hold that he has gained upon his countrymen—a hold which in large measure he still retains.

It is reported that 10,000 volunteers will be enlisted under the special act passed at the last session of congress. It is not proposed to make an immediate levy of general Oils' force, but to have the army in such shape that military operations may be resumed promptly and effectively at the close of the rainy season. The announcement of the intention to enroll these volunteers will be especially welcome as setting beyond doubt the immediate revival of the various state regiments.

The political situation is this: The Gold Democrats cannot win without the Silver men, and the Silver Democrats cannot win without the Gold men. Each is firmly resolved not to be led, and each would rather have the party go to smash than to see the policy of the other adopted. And best of all it is very probable that if the Democracy were solidly united it would inferio in numbers to the Republican party of prosperity and national honor.

South Dakota Republicans have endorsed the McKinley administration. Of course they have. The record of the administration is the record of the party and forms its chief claim for continuance in power. The Republican party does not have to apologize for men whom it has elected to office and save itself by claiming that they are not Republicans.

The Gazette acknowledges receipt of the annual report of the University of Denver. This has always been one of the prominent educational institutions of the state and has had its share both of success and discouragement. The list of students contains names from nearly all parts of the state, but so far as we notice none from Colorado Springs.

Governor Jones of Arkansas has issued a proclamation forbidding the importation of "objectionable" working tools from other states. The fact that this proclamation is in contravention of the United States constitution will not be allowed to cut any ice with Governor Jones.

Belgium is a small country, but its legislature can get up a free-for-all fight that would do credit to a first-class empire.

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES

Noteworthy Opinions of Journals of the World.

An Imperial Democracy. San Francisco Chronicle.

The terms "imperialism" and "anti-imperialism" have been employed today in the discussion of a vital matter of national policy, are grossly deceptive and misleading. Neither of them can be honestly applied to the real question in controversy. One of them is used as a fallacious appeal to popular prejudice and the other as a disguise to motives intrinsically cowardly and unpartisan. Under the Federal Constitution there can be no such thing as imperialism in the United States other than that of an imperial democracy, whose warrant to supreme authority no one will undertake to question, and the term is therefore meaningless in the American people that they themselves, by extending the national domain into neighboring seas, are assuming imperial powers which the constitution and the aboriginal to the true spirit of democratic government.

In this involved a square deal, not only of the right of the people of the United States to provide for their territorial needs, but also of the probable early abandonment of the islands to native control. At the same time they are filling their journals with dark hints of military mismanagement in the Philippines and drawing gloomy auguries of something like the fate of the Philippines, but with what return, but can in no wise change results, and they know little of the American people who imagine for a moment that the Tagal revolt will not be suppressed, that the islands will not be transferred, or that American sovereignty over them will ever be relinquished.

IN NINETEEN HUNDRED FOUR.

The country'll stand by Teddy, as Teddy stood by it; The laurel wreath of glory upon his brow shall sit; He'll get the highest honor when the time comes—no before; So he'll not run for president till nineteen hundred four.

The country well appreciates McKinley's splendid worth; He's made this land the finest of the nations of earth; He's made the welcome smoke-clouds from the idle chimneys pour, And we've known no prosperity that was not known before.

For what he's done the country will be loyal, staunch and true; They'll re-elect him president in nineteen hundred four; There'll be no chance for others to get out upon the floor; Until McKinley has retired—in nineteen hundred four.

Then Teddy, noble Teddy, may come forward if he will; We'll all assist to push him up the presidential hill; But others best be patient till the next campaign is o'er; For McKinley's in the wheel-house until nineteen hundred four.

common burden to American citizenship everywhere throughout the domain of the republic. If to provide them with a government more humane and just than has ever before claimed their allegiance, if to surround them with civilized influences, if to protect them against their own lawlessness, if to establish them in equality before the law and guide them through the ways of peace—if work such as this defines the imperialism toward which, in the eyes of the American people, the United States is moving, then the acquisition of Porto Rico and the Philippines than the purchase and annexation of Louisiana, Florida, Alaska or the northern territories of Mexico, Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines were conveyed to the United States with a clearer title than could be shown by Spain to Florida, by France to Louisiana, or even by Russia to Alaska, as the boundaries of neither of these territories had been definitely determined at the time of their transfer. The title of the United States to Porto Rico and the Philippine group is absolutely flawless under any possible interpretation of international law, and as against any unrecognized popular or tribal claim to sovereignty, and if there be any manifestation of imperialism in suppressing the revolt of a single tribe of semi-civilized malcontents on the island of Luzon then there is a still more marked exhibition of it in crushing the rebellion of the Seminoles in Florida, in forcibly removing whole tribes of Indians from their homes and hunting grounds in the valleys tributary to the Mississippi, and in annexing California and New Mexico, as fruits of a successful war, without thought of consulting the wishes of their people in relation to the transfer.

The imperialism of civilization and human advancement, conscientiously aiming to redeem the waste places of earth and lift what remains of the barbarism of the world into the light of modern thought, is a resistless evolutionary development, consistent with the upward march of every other phase of moral growth, and there is no shadow of kinship with the national or individual imperialism with which are associated the selfish wrongs and deliberate tyrannies of government, and the dishonest or narrow-minded along which seek to confound them. With equal dishonesty are partisan demagogues and scowling obstructionists in the pathway of national growth sounding the slogan of "Anti-imperialism." It is paraded as a broad protest against what they are endeavoring to impress upon the popular mind as an imminent and alarming national peril in the form of unlimited territorial expansion, to extend, perhaps, to every part of the globe which lands may be acquired either by conquest or purchase, and which must necessarily involve the republic in endless political entanglements and final disintegration. It is not in these precise terms that they have thus far given expression to their canning fears, but they are more than willing to be understood as harboring apprehensions no less serious and threatening.

Now, there is little hazard in asserting that there is not a single sane man to be found in the United States who favors any such wild scheme of expansion, or who would consent to territorial acquisitions beyond the acreage of a cooling station either in Continental Europe, Asia or Africa. The Philippines are quite as near the Asiatic coast as any intelligent American would be content to see our national sovereignty extend. Together with Guam and Hawaii they constitute a line of convenient and valuable commercial stations across the ocean, and the busy, crowded and important, and additional island accessions are neither required nor coveted. Hence, the anti-imperialist alarmists have no real fear of the danger with which they are feeding the popular ear. What they are aiming at is to create a general distrust of expansion by exaggerating its possible limits and political effects, and to keep the people in a perpetual ferment of the Philippines, for which they are secretly and indistinctly plotting.

Their main hope rests in the ability of Aguinaldo to maintain a guerrilla warfare until the patience of the American people shall have been exhausted, and to this end are encouraging him with assurances of the sympathy of influential classes in the United States and of the probable early abandonment of the islands to native control. At the same time they are filling their journals with dark hints of military mismanagement in the Philippines and drawing gloomy auguries of something like the fate of the Philippines, but with what return, but can in no wise change results, and they know little of the American people who imagine for a moment that the Tagal revolt will not be suppressed, that the islands will not be transferred, or that American sovereignty over them will ever be relinquished.

Why Are We Fighting Aguinaldo? Collier's Weekly.

The report made to the war department by General Ethel S. Otis gives a conclusive answer to the question, Why are we fighting in the Philippines? He reports that the events which have occurred in the southern part of the island of Luzon since the destruction of the Spanish fleet by Admiral Dewey at Cavite at the beginning of May, 1898, and he demonstrates that the American government and its local representatives at Manila are in no wise carelessly with provoking the insurrection which has brought about a grievous loss of life. It is well known that, after a blockade of Manila had been instituted by the United States fleet, Aguinaldo and other leaders of the rebellion of the Spanish governor general to leave the country, returned to Luzon for the ostensible purpose of urging the Americans to expel the Spaniards, but really, as the future was to prove, to establish an independent government. They took advantage of the hostilities going on between the United States and Spain to capture a number of Spanish detachments stationed at outlying points and thus to gain possession of a quantity of munitions of war. Shortly after landing at Cavite, Aguinaldo proclaimed the creation of an independent Philippine republic, and declared himself its president. As early as June, 1898, he organized a militia of assumed capacity of chief executive the right to warn the United States authorities not to place a military force on the island without first obtaining his consent. When Manila was taken by United States soldiers and occupied them under the aegis of the United States flag, he assumed the command of the city, and Aguinaldo demanded possession of the public buildings. That demand could not be granted without a violation of the articles into which, by the protocol, we had just entered with Spain, and consequently, Aguinaldo was ordered to withdraw from Manila. He established his military lines, however, in close contact with the city limits, and occupied them under the evening of Feb. 4, 1899, when his troops opened fire upon the American garrison. A plot had been formed for a simultaneous attack upon the American garrison by a secret society which had been organized within Manila, but which had not more than 8,000 members. The projected rising in the city was suppressed, and the assault upon our lines was repelled. All the military movements, which have since taken place in the southern part of Luzon, have been directed toward the construction of a military force which had first assumed the aggressive, and which would be certain to assume it, if allowed time for concentration and for the replenishment of its supplies.

Under the circumstances, it will be difficult for the anti-imperialists to argue sympathy for Aguinaldo and the other leaders of the Filipino insurgents.

Evolution in Manila.

The orthodoxy of Fiske's "Destiny of Man" has caused quite a furor among the church people of Colorado Springs, while the public school people think its teachings perfectly proper. Letters are being sent to the publishers, and some have appeared fast and furious. The science people are confident that God was not a Presbyter, while on the other hand the church people are absolutely certain that "The Destiny of Man" is not inspired. No heretics have yet been bundled at the stake. No overt act has been committed to be compared with the coat of tar George Gordon gave to the Rev. during the Cripple Creek strike and war. We are informed however on the best of authority that all political agitators used for scientific research will be brought up on the Westminster catechism. The scientific attitude toward religion and popular sympathy on their side, and it is now beginning to look as though the new and better meaning in the dictionary of democracy, since it no longer implies individual injustice or collective trespass upon human rights.

And now let it be remarked that a taint of imperialism in its offensive sense attaches less to the acquisition of Hawaii, Porto Rico and the Philippines than to the purchase and annexation of Louisiana, Florida, Alaska or the northern territories of Mexico, Porto Rico, Guam and the Philippines were conveyed to the United States with a clearer title than could be shown by Spain to Florida, by France to Louisiana, or even by Russia to Alaska, as the boundaries of neither of these territories had been definitely determined at the time of their transfer. The title of the United States to Porto Rico and the Philippine group is absolutely flawless under any possible interpretation of international law, and as against any unrecognized popular or tribal claim to sovereignty, and if there be any manifestation of imperialism in suppressing the revolt of a single tribe of semi-civilized malcontents on the island of Luzon then there is a still more marked exhibition of it in crushing the rebellion of the Seminoles in Florida, in forcibly removing whole tribes of Indians from their homes and hunting grounds in the valleys tributary to the Mississippi, and in annexing California and New Mexico, as fruits of a successful war, without thought of consulting the wishes of their people in relation to the transfer.

A rather singular impediment to the holding of the usual Sunday evening service at a church in Hinton (W. Va.) presented itself on Sunday last. When the congregation arrived they were prevented from entering the sacred edifice. A large swarm of bees were in the room, and no one cared to test their right of trespassing on the property of the church. The bees were driven out by a hasty retreat, leaving the bees to hold a service of their own.—London Leader.

An old gentleman living on Walnut Hills with his grandchildren was recently left in their hands to attend to his affairs. The old man retired early, so did the servants, and when the gentleman and his wife returned from the beach the next day that the house had been entered and robbed. The matter was reported to the police, and the next morning a man appeared in the next morning's papers. The old gentleman had slept through it all, and was not wakened until the next morning. He reported to the police that he had been robbed, but that he had not seen the robbers. "I see," said the inquisitive Kaps, as he stopped his razor, "that thieves broke in your house last night?"

"When?" gasped the old gentleman.

"Last night," was the answer. "I read all about it in the morning paper."

The old fellow arose from the chair, hastily wiped the lather from his face, and left the shop as fast as his comical legs would carry him, to see about the robbery.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

GREAT STRIKE ON LAFAYETTE. Ore of Fabulous Richness Uncovered in the Eleventh Level.

ASSAYS RUN UP TO $105,881 A TON. One Ton of the Ore Would More Than Pay the Purchase Price of the Mine and Provide Dividends of One Cent Per Share For Six Months.

Special to the Gazette. Cripple Creek, June 29.—In the eleventh level of the Lafayette on Bull Hill 663 feet below the first crust there has been uncovered an ore shoot whose values are little short of the miraculous.

A ton of the ore when shipped will more than pay the purchase price of the mine and enable the directors of the Princess Alice company to pay dividends to the extent of one cent per share for the next six months.

Ten thousand assays have been made and the results of three assays on the seam representing the advancing stages of development until its present showing a picked specimen on six inches of ore would certainly put to shame the highest of the best of the tural figures of the third test were 52,331 ounces of gold and 1,671,311 ounces of silver to the ton. The other tests were not made for silver.

Six inches of it. This marvellously rich ore was found by Superintendent Fitting, who by the way, is a resident of Colorado Springs, north of the shaft. The superintendent's attention had been previously attracted by a stringer from the main vein which he determined to follow. A shot or two found the streak widening and careful assays made the pursuit for a rich find the more eager. Steadily the assays crept up until the superintendent began to wonder where the values would stop. From a knife blade to the rich streak this morning widened out to six inches in places, averaging four inches for the entire twenty feet the shoot has been proven. Outside of this rich quartz, which is almost solid mineral, fourteen inches has been opened out, assaying $74 to the ton.

So far no experimental shot has been tried in other of the veins. These may come later and can hardly fail to result. REPORTED STRIKE ON THE RUBIE IS DENIED. Local Parties Who Investigated the Matter Say There Has Been No Find on That Claim.

It was reported in Cripple Creek, and the report reached this city yesterday, that there had been a rich strike made by one of the leases on the property adjoining the Lafayette of the Princess Alice company. As there has been no work done on the Rubie recently, local parties who investigated the matter yesterday that there had been no strike of any kind on the Rubie and that the report that there must have been made out of whole cloth, for their investigations showed that the alleged strike was a myth.

-JUNE 19th, 1899- THE MARKET APPEARS TO BE TOP HEAVY. Stocks have declined, wildly recovered and will decline again regardless of the smelter trouble. A little later on they can be bought at from ten to twenty per cent less than at present, therefore I recommend selling again within the next few days, and certain of the stocks, I think, should be sold immediately.

What a brute! That is what is said of the man who abuses his horse, but the man who abuses his body finds help and encouragement on every side. His mother makes him some of that good old-fashioned pie, his daughter gives him a hot biscuit, and his wife follows with delicious ice cream. Presently the man has that unpleasant feeling in the stomach which is the beginning of a dyspeptic condition. His nerves become unstrung, and he makes mother, wife and daughter miserable with his moanings. His liver is torpid. His blood is being poisoned by the impurities which the broken-down organs are incapable of getting rid of. He is in just the condition to receive the germ of the germs of consumption. To that disease too, he becomes a victim one day or another, unless saved by the use of such a remedy as Dr. Pierce's Great Medical Discovery. This will put him on his feet again. It is a tonic and appetizer, a blood purifier, a liver invigorator, a nerve restorer, a strengthener for the weak, a cure for nervous bleedings, bronchitis, lingering cough and kindred ailments, which if neglected or improperly treated lead up to consumption.
