SAN JUAN'S LIMITS.

A short time ago there appeared an article in the DOLORES NEWS, relative to Southern and Southwestern Colorado, de- Juan for its strength. But in the case fining the limits of the San Juan country. In relation to this matter the Lake City Mining Register has the following to say: "Are the limits of the San Suan country mere conjecture, or were there at some time geographical lines drawn to determine a county or counties in Colorado known distinctively as the San Juan? The DOLORES NEWS, in a late article, which we reprint this week, undertakes to define the San Juan country. It em braces Dolores county, and concludes that because Hinsdale county is "so near that it may also be considered as belong-ing to San Juan." This is the first time we have ever heard Hinsdale's membership to the San Juan family questioned and the first time, also we have ever heard yet been understood by more than onetenth of the people who use it at home and abroad. The term is thus widely misconstrued. No farther from San Juan than at Pueblo and Denver, there are but few who have any idea of the extent or limits of the San Juan country. The too broad term should be reduced to some limits or bounds, so that at least the residents of this great mining region could

The Successful Prospector.

To the making of a successful prospector a certain amount of ignorance is required-ignorance of the chances against him; ignorance that hopes against hope, and rushes in where angels, otherwise the knowing ones, fear to tread; ignorance that is his only excuse-until he "strikes it." It was an edifying spectacle, in the early days of Leadville, to witness the fine scorn with which the "old timers," as they delighted to call themselves, resection to the San Juan, which does not garded the "tenderfeet" who were putting their money into the ground where viz: That the section has no mines and there were apparently no veins to follow. must depend upon the popularity of San no croppings, no foot or hanging walls, or in fact any of the surface indications of Hinsdale, this is not the reason, for in to which they had been accustomed. that county are situated valuable and Hundreds of old fissure vein miners came paying mines. The DOLORES NEWS to the new camp, and stood by as lookerson, while the despised "tenderfeet," enered from San Juan, as our young county dowed with a blissful ignorance of their has the mines and resources to support it folly, snatched the prizes from under the and four other counties of larger dimenvery noses of those whom a half way and localized knowledge made too timid trict or "Dolores country" is as well and to venture into what was novel and unfavorably known as San Juan, and we tried in their experience. They were the men who predicted that Leadville would soon play out, and were loudest with their "I told you so!" when the Little Pittsburg gave the camp a black eye, but who now, having seen their chances slip one by one unprofited, spend their time regretting their lost opportunities. and speculating on "the might have been." The fact of so many old-timers having failed to take advantage of the opportunities afforded by the Leadville discoveries has been frequently remarked, and Denver's new city directory contains the explanation is to be found in the unwillingness of the majority of so-called practical men to leave the ruts in their special occupation or profession, and to oppose the introduction of the original ideas which usually come from without, a fact to which the records of the patent office bear ample testimony. What has been said of Leadville is equally true ot many of the outlying camps, where persevering ignorance is daily profiting at the expense of the "little knowledge" proverbially considered such a dangerous thing .- Leadville Mining Index.

It is questionable if the history of rapid railroad construction on the American continent contains an instance so striking as the progress now making by the Mexican National. AT last the great Stickney trial has lode, up Horse gulch, from Parsons and ended, and, for the first time since June 1st, 1881, Chas. W. Stickney is a free man. The case was given to the jury on Friday, the 24th ult., which disagreed for a long time and were starved for several hours. This method of bringing about an agreement was futile, but at about 11 o'clock a. m. the jury was treated to a breakfast and at 11:30, Ludham, the obstinate twelfth juror, placed himself on record as for acquittal, and a verdict "Not guilty as indicted by reason of insanity," was read by the clerk. Imincuse applause converted the court-room into a miniature bedlam for a time, and then hearty hand-shaking with the recent defendant was in order. It was decided by the court that the other charge against the prisoner, the accidental killing of Mrs. Deveraux, was bailable, and after some discussion the amount was fixed at $7,000. ble benefit and convenience to the residents of this portion of the country. At present all business requiring the attention of a register is transacted at Lake City, which is too distant from a large number of mineral claims in its present district. No fault can be found with the manner in which this business has been transacted by H. C. Olney, the present register at Lake, but the obstacle of distance is almost insurmountable. Several candidates for the prospective offices at Durango have been developed. Prominent among them are Willard S. Hickox and D. L. Sheets for Register and Charles D. Wright for Receiver. Their cause is championed by a large following. We are not acquainted with any of these gentlemen, but they are spoken of as abundantly capable of filling their respective offices.
