Business For Ladies. The opportunities for ladies to find employment that is both suitable and renunerative are limited; their pay is usually poor as compared with the salaries paid to men in same line of occupation. But there are some very noted exceptions; journalism, the drama, music and platform offer equal advantages to men and women, and one occupation in which women are sometimes more successful of agencies. In this line The Queen City Suspender Company, of Cincinnati, O., are offering inducements to ladies that we think ought to attract attention. They are now manufacturing and introfor Ladies and Children, and their unequalled Skirt Suspenders for Ladies. None should be without them, our leadng physicians recommend them, and are oud in their praise. These goods are manufactured by ladies who have made the wants of ladies and children a study, and they ask us to refer them to some re liable and energetic lady to introduce them in this county, and we certainly think that an earnest solicitation in every household would meet with a ready response, and that a determined woman could make a handsome salary, and have an exclusive agency. We advise some lady who is in need of employment to send to the Company her name and address, and mention this paper. Address Queen City Suspender Company, Nos. 177 and 179 Main Street, Cincinnati,

The Ute Indians have observed that their agent is powerless to restrain them; that the Government takes but little notice apparently of their movements; that in every fight with the whites they have so far come off victorious and they have therefore resolved to do on the frontier about as they have a mind. The result is apparent in the stagnation, not only of the cattle business of this section, but of every branch of agriculture and trade. Unless some very decided steps are taken to soon curb their insolence, you may look out for serious trouble.

Dispatches similar to the above have often been sent from Durango, but there has been no visible result. Newspapers have their influence in arousing indignation in the breasts of the public at large, and have their weight in helping a move ment, once it is started. But the only way in which the settlers on the border line of Colorado and Utah will find any satisfactory relief will be by direct, persistent, concentrated personal effort of these who lose by the depredations. The interview at the Windsor Hotel in Denver last week between Harold Carlisle and Secretary Teller did more good than any other one thing and resulted in the sending of a dispatch by Mr. Teller to Secretary of War Lincoln asking him to at once send troops to operate against the Utes, and to capture or kill any Indian found off the reservation and recapture all the stolen stock and return it to the owners. Mr. Teller doubtless reads the dailies of Denver, but paid no attention until he was personally appealed to by a man rep resenting a company whose loss from raids he estimated at $50,000. Secretary Teller his companion in the Cabinet to issue an the accident, and in his Sunday evening order authorizing any person or persons sermon, said: "Here we have a striking to shoot down any Indian who crosses or example of the retribution following the straddles the reservation lines, and guarducing their new Stocking Supporters anteeing such persons freedom from governmental molestation. This will hereafter be done anyway, as shown by the Lost Cañon affair of the 18th instant, in Gidfelt was ascending the steps of the which three Utes "turned their mud-hooks pulpit, he stepped on a piece of orange to the primroses." But the cowbors who did the good work would have no end of trouble if they were known. A few such The next issue of the Blue Wing contained round-ups as this would settle the trouble. So far as the Rico, or any other portion of the San Juan mining region is involved, the Indian troubles have no significance, but the stock interests to the west of us are threatened, and we are so thoroughly and heartily in sympathy with the people on our frontier, that we want to see them protected, secured and revenged.

On Sunday last, August 24th, Harold Carlisle, then at Leadville, received the S. Carlisle, who has charge of the cattle on the Blue mountain range: "The Utes have run off the remainder of our stock horses and two stallions, and on our return from the fight in which Wormington and Rowdy were killed."

Reducing Rates of Toll.

The county commissioners on Thursday met to consider complaints concerning the rates of toll charged by the Rico and Hermosa toll road. The rates are those fixed by the commissioners in November, 1882. The old rates were:

One span animals and wagon ..... $2.50 Each pack animal..... Loose cattle, horses and mules . . . . Sheep, goats and hogs..... One animal and wagon.......... 1.50

The commissioners cut the rates in half in most cases and established the following schedule:

One span of animals and wagon . . . . $1.25 Each additional span..... Trail wagon...... Each saddle animal. Sheep, goats or hogs......
One animal and vehicle.....

Mr. Julius Thompson, representing the toll road, gave notice that he would appeal from their decision. In such cases, the question of rates may be taken before the county judge, who shall appoint three to run all winter, but will keep it going disinterested persons to view the road, and report to him. Some ore has been blessing it would be. We know nothing sacked and will be shipped to the Pasa cencerning the cost of maintaining these mountain toll-roads, but it must be great, or the commissioners would not have A. F. Adams returned this week and is allowed so high a rate in the first instance at work on a group of claims on Expecta- and we do know that last winter the tolltion mountain, owned one-half by him- road people spent much money without receiving a cent in return. But we also properties are five in number and are know and keenly feel that the high rates named the F. A., Neptune, Jupiter, Mend- of toll have worked much hardship to the ear and Sampson. The F. ### A Political Possibility.

A gentleman who makes queer things moving along nicely and ore from various in politics something of a study, handed mines is accumulating for treatment. us the following this week, saying that it was "picked up on the street:"

"Should the electoral vote of Cleveland and Butler combined, exceed Blaine's it would throw the election of President and Vice President into the House of Representatives, which is democratic, and Cleveland and Butler both being democrats, the vote of the House may be cast for Butler and a new party be formed which would prevent the republican or democratic party from electing a President for years to come. Our friend is somewhat in error. Should no one of the presidential candidates have a majority in the Electoral College, the election of President would be thrown into the Lower House and the election of Vice-President into the Senate. Under the provisions of the Constitution, these bodies shall proceed to elect a President and Vice-President, each state be ing allowed one vote. The House, being democratic would in all probability under such circumstances, elect Cleveland as President, and the Senate, being republican, would give us a Cleveland-Logan administration. Twice in the history of the country have similar complications arisen-when Thos. Jefferson, Aaron Burr and George Clinton were candidates and again when John Quincy Adams, Andrew Jackson and Henry Clay were in the field. It is not, in our opinion, likely that the legislative bodies of the U.S. will be requested to take a hand in the election this year, although it is not an

The success of the Pasadena smelter at nison, will make great smelting centres of those places. The Mingo Smelting Company, of Salt Lake, we understand what uncertain as to correctness of de Gus Giamboni came into Rico this week Rico is already well under way. The lat- at). The telegraphic accounts of the with another shipment of mineral from ter place is fortunate in the possession of an enormous and practically inexhaustiand there is, therefore, no question regarding the success of the smelter. In fact, Rico has the possibility of several such smelters, and an abundance of good ore to supply them. It not only has this iron, and all other fluxing abound, and nothing is wanting but capital to build and start the furnaces.

Gunnison has no ore, but it has capital, and is centrally located for ore, iron and coal, and with a company like the Mingo company at work there in earnest, its future as a smelting town is assured. While other smelting enterprises have failed there, through very natural causes, too, the Mingo works will succeed. through just as natural causes; the company understands its business and knows how to conduct it successfully.

We are glad to see the bright prospects before these two towns. Gunnison is 61 miles east of us, and Rico is about the same distance south of us. Both are on this side of the range and will therefore draw their supplies from the Uncompahgre valley. One thousand men employed about the furnaces at Gunnison, means a city of 20,000 people to eat up the products of our ranches; one thousand laborers employed in smelting at Rico means a city of 20,000 people, who will draw everything in the line of supplies and provisions, except possibly beef, from Montrose county. Great smelters at those two towns mean thousands of stirdy laborers digging the shining metals out of the mountains, and every one of them will eat the products of Montrose county ranches. We are not a bit jealous of you, neighbors. If we cannot have the smelters ourselves, there are no other places we would prefer having them to Rico and Gunnison. God speed the day when each of these towns will be a city of 20,000, and still growing. Then will the prosperous ranchman of the Uncompangre valley ride in his fields of golden grain and ripening vegetables, and his herds of fat cattle. No community of farmers in the world has a better market for its produce than the farmers of the Uncompangre valley will have.

THE Messenger is right. Rico will draw immense quantities of ore from all over the San Juan, with the Pasadena and other smelters in successful opera-

The Animas City Tragedy.

At Animas City last Tuesday Dr. W. E. Sears, who is well known in La Plats county, shot and killed Bill Solomon, formerly a Rico teamster. Both parties were in liquor at the time of the tragedy and the trouble all grew out of a debt of $2 owed Sears by Solomon who is but little known in Rico by that name, as he was accustomed to say, when asked his name that it was B. S. Bill, and by that name he was generally known here. After the shooting Sears went to Durango and gave himself up to a deputy sheriff. The Coroner's jury found a verdict of murder and a warrant was issued by Coroner Folsom for Sear's arrest. The following testimony by J. W. Richards, and printed in the Durango Herald covers the ground as to details of the tragedy:

"I was standing in Will's store, about six o'clock in the evening, when Bill Sol omon rode up, tied his horse in front, and came in and took a drink of whisky; Sears put his head into the door while Solomon was drinking and said something, but do Mining Application No. 369. not know what; Sears then took Solomon's horse and tied him in front of his store; when Solomon came out and saw his horse tied in front of Sears' store, he called to Sears to bring him back; Sears said, "if your horse is not worth coming after, you can leave him where he is:" Solomon then started up to his horse, saying, "I want you to leave my horse alone." and he and Sears had some angry words which I could not understand; after they had apparently got through quarreling, Sears asked Solomon whose horse it was; Solomon asked why he wanted to know Sears said, if it was Solomon's horse, he would take him for a debt Solomon owed him: Solomon asked "what debt:" Sears said "for the things you got of me while cutting ties up on the mesa: Solomon denied owning Sears and an angry controversy ensued; Sears calling Solomon a liar; saw Sears have his hand raised, but being about sixty yards away, could not tell whether he was gesturing or striking; turned to go to the denot and, in about a second, heard a shot fired; turned around and saw Solomon have hold of Sears and saw him striking at the latter; did not notice any thing in Solomon's hand when he was striking; started toward the place and saw Mrs. Sears pull Solomon off of Sears; when I reached the place, Sears had gone into the house and Solomon was staggering; he seemed to recover and started for door, when Mr. Pyle caught him and took the pistol from his hand; Solomon said Sears has killed me and soon sank down by the side of the building: I took the horse in dispute and went for

> FISTS vs. Guns.-Last Friday, over at Ouray, a personal encounter between Dave Day, of the Muldoon, and W. H. Fay, a saloon-keeper, culminated in a sensational street scene. David had arranged to horsewhip Fay and was armed with a revolver and a black-snake. Fav knocked the warrior of the press down with his fists and friends interfered. The Times says the cause of the trouble was that Fay persisted in selling liquor to Stan. Day, although repeatedly requested by Mr. and Mrs. Day not to do so. We think Dave was thoroughly justifiable. In these hard times, in a catch-as-catchcan wrestle with the dram-shops of the country, a San Juan editor has his hands full to pay for his own whiskey, and any additional burden in this direction should

Gus. A. Ambold, of Durango, came in Tuesday and remained on business connected with the Victoria, in which he is an owner, until Thursday. Gus was the lucky man who settled a $40 meat bill against Fred Linke and brother, for a one-fourth interest in the North Star mine on Sultan mountain, near Silverton. This was some years ago when the Ambolds were running a meat market in Silverton and the North Star was an insignificant prospect, and Ambold felt as though he had thrown away $40 worth of good Colorado beef. Development made a magnificent mine and Ambold sold his share for $20,000, a neat profit of $19,960. The one fourth interest could not now be bought for $50,000. ### Across the Country.

This morning there came into town a large herd of horses which are on their way across the country from Snake River, Wyoming, to the vicinity of Chamberino, The outfit has been on the road about a month and left this afternoon, after hav ing a large number of horses shod at Joe Broughton's Rico Carriage Works. The horses are the property of Geo. Baggs, a noted Wyoming stock man, who has lately sold his ranch and cattle in the Snake River country for the handsome sum of $275,000. He reserved his range horses, in the transaction, and he is taking the brood mares and young colts, to New Mexico, where he will again embark in the cattle business. ### PECK'S BAD BOY.

"What's the trouble now between you and your pa?" asked the groceryman of the bad boy, as he came down the alley on a jump, after climbing over the back fence at his house in a hurry, attired only in pants and shirt and a coat of perspiration. "There's your pa looking over the fence now, and shaking a piece of barrel stave this way. What have you been up

"Oh, just been doing what pa told me to," said the boy, as he picked up the cover of a raisin box and began to fan himself. "You see, pa is one of these funny fellows. In a cold day in winter he will come to the table and ask ma where his linen coat is, and why she don't put up the mosquito-bars. He thinks it is smart. This morning it was hot enough to roast eggs on the sidewalk, and pa came down to breakfast and asked where his sealskin hat and gloves were, and then he forned to me and said, 'Hennery, why havn't you built a fire in of tourist tickets from Durango to Kanthe furnace? Want us all to freeze to gas City, Leavenworth, Atchison or Oma death? If you can't keep a fire in the ha and return, with choice of route in furnace I will know the reason why,' and going or coming. These tickets are then he laughed, and wiped the perspiration off his face. I thought it would be Fifteen day's time is allowed in go-

That is, well as one, so I went down in the basement and built a fire in the furnace, with after purchasing tickets and upon their kindling wood, and put on a lot of coal. After breakfast pa sat down in the parfor to read the paper and he began to get $77.65. The regular fare to Denver was a hot box. It was warm enough without raised $2.50, on Aug. 4th, and is now any fire, about ninety in the shade, and $31.45 and the fare from Denver to Kanpa began to heat up. He went up stairs, but far as the Missouri river or beyond and it was hotter there, and he came down returning before Oct. 31st, should fail to puffing. The ministers and two deacons called to talk with pa about the picnic they are going to have next week, and they said it was the hottest day ever was. rango. Ticket office open on arrival of Pa said if hell was any hotter than Mil- train from Rockwood. waukee it had no charms for him, and the minister said this weather was a refrigerator car in comparison with what pa would encounter hereafter, if he didn't change his course. Pa was mad at the minister for being so personal, but he went on talking about the picuic. The minister looked at the thermometer and it was a hundred and six, and he said he didn't go out of that house till after sundown, not if he knew it. Pa suggested that the minister and the deacons take off their coats and things, and so they stripped off their coats and lolled. The minister said as pa was the committee on lemonade for the picnic he better make some then, so they could see if he knew his business, and pa sent me to the kitchen to make some. There was only one lemon, so I asked the girl for some lemon extract, and she gave me a bottle of citrate of magnesia, which she said was o near like lemonade they couldn't tell the difference, and I poured a quart of that in the lemonade pitcher, and sweetened it, and took it in the parlor. Well, you'd a dide to see them drink it and perspire. They talked picnic and looked at the thermometer, and spoke disrespectfully of the weather, and I sat around and watched them from the top of the ice-box about an hour, when suddenly they didn't drink any more lemonade, cause it was all gone. Pa went in the kitchen and I saw him examining the bottle that I got the lemon extract out of and he picked up a piece of barrel stave and went back in the parlor, and just then the minister, who had sat his chair over the register to get the draft of cold air, told pa there was hot air coming up the register, and pa and the deacons examined all of the registers, and found that the air was hot, and then they looked at each other, and pa came to the door and spoke kindly and said, 'Hennery, come in here, your pa wants to speak to you about something,' but I knew he was holding that barrel stave behind him to hide it, and I didn't 'come here Hennery, not very much. I think a boy can most aiways tell when it is healthy not to 'come here Hennery.' Just as the minister looked at the thermometer and said it was a hundred and twenty, and ma came in the front door from her marketing, and shouted fire, I went out the back way and got over the fence a little ahead of the barrel stave, which struck the Ne Plus Ultra!!! fence right under me. I ain't no coward, but I am like the fellow that run away from the fight and said, as soon as the chairs and bungstarters began to fly DO NOT BUY ANY OTHER BEFORE through the air, he decided to get out honorably and the only way to get out honorably was to get out quick. Pa will get over being mad at twelve-thirty, and I will go home to dinner. I guess the picnic meeting has adjourned, as the minister and the deacons are coming up the sidewalk with their coats on their arms. Pa is one of these fellows that likes a joke if it's on somebody else. The other day a friend was at our house, and pa wanted to play a joke on him, so he said he would get him around back of the house, and get him into the hammock, and as soon as he was in, he wanted me to reach around the corner of the house and cut the hammock rope on the tree and let him down. When I thought it was about time for pa to get the man in Having made all Necessary Arrangethe hammock I cut the rope and come out to help pa laugh at the fellow. I laughed, but I was surprised to find that the fellow was sitting on a bench, and pa had gone down with the hammock, and he was making up the awfulest face ever was. His pants were split from Dan to Beersheba, and he made a deut in the ground as big as a six quart milk pan.

The fellow laughed, but pa was mad, and said I didn't have no sense. He wanted to know why I didn't look what I was do-mad again, and said I didn't have no veneration. If my ticket didn't draw any veneration, how was I to blame? I did just as pa told me to. How was I to know it was pa in the hammock instead of the other fellow. It is mighty hard to do everything right, ain't it? Don't you think our folks are in luck that I do so few things wrong?"

The groceryman said he thought they were in luck that they were alive, and as the bad boy went out the back door his pa came in the front door and asked the price of lettuce, and looked all around the store as though he had lost something about the size of the bad boy.
