

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE PAST TO THE PRESENT

To the Kimball Community we go this week as Highlights from the Past to the Present visits in the D.A. Tomlinson. This is another of the pioneer families who have helped to develop and populate Hansford County.

Daniel Andrew Tomlinson was born near Hannibal, Missouri in 1864 and while in his teen moved to the Indian Territory, following the Ogle family who had migrated there a few years earlier. There he worked on ranches till in 1885 he married Dellah Belle Ogle. In order to be married the couple rode for fifteen miles horseback to the home of a minister who performed the ceremony from his bed, sick with a cold. Their first home was a one room log cabin built by themselves about three miles from where Ardmore, Oklahoma is now located. Mr. Tomlinson helped to build the first house in Ardmore. Two sons were born to the couple, the first dying soon after birth.

In 1889, with Roma a year old, they took two men in a covered wagon back to Missouri for a visit. Mr. Tomlinson's two sisters with their families came back with them and they all filed on land between Oklahoma City and El Reno just after Oklahoma was opened for homesteading. They lived there until they proved up their claim and Orville, Zola and Mamie were born. They then moved on to Custer County where the family farmed and ranched and Wayne and Ela were born.

When Ela was barely one month old, they with Mrs. Tomlinson's father and mother, three brothers and one sister and their families with about two hundred head of cattle moved to New Mexico. They left Arapaho, Oklahoma March 7, 1897, five families in seven covered wagons. Mrs. Tomlinson with her baby and three other children drove one wagon and Roma and Orville drove the other. The wives of the other families drove a wagon each, and Grandpa Ogle drove a utility wagon to haul feed and calves born along the road till they were old enough to travel with the herd. The men drove the cattle.

The families would break camp each morning about nine o'clock and drive twelve to fifteen miles, make camp and wait for the cattle to be grazed through. Mrs. Tomlinson's sister's first child was born on the trip. The caravan camped about a week on the Washata River near Sweetwater for her to rest and recuperate after the event. She was under eighteen at the time and continued to drive her wagon to the end of the trip. They reached Ende, New Mexico the Fourth of July, people and cattle healthy. They settled about twenty miles southwest of where Tucumcari now is located. The children attended school with their cousins, but soon the school attracted other settlers who settled so close around they could not all find grass on government free land to feed enough cattle to support families and rainfall was too light to make the farming profitable. Most of the settlers moved back to Texas and Oklahoma. The Tomlinsons stayed until 1904, making one or two trips yearly to Amarillo, Hereford, or Las Vegas to deliver cattle and get supplies. Mrs. Tomlinson never thought of a covered wagon trip as a hardship. She liked to travel in any conveyance and made most every trip usually taking all the children along. Three other children were born to the couple who were Loyd, Emily and Ila in New Mexico, all without the aid of a doctor. Mrs. Tomlinson's mother acted as midwife.

In 1904 they sold out to move to Missouri, hoping to buy a fruit farm near a school. They left in June in two covered wagons arriving in Douglas County Missouri in mid July. Not finding the country as attractive as they expected they started back to Hansford County which attracted them as they moved through. However Mrs. Tomlinson took sick and they stopped in Oklahoma with relatives, where Jack, another son was born. As she was unable to stand the hardship of further moving for a time, they leased Indian land near Tuttle, built a house and farmed there for two years.

In February of 1907 the Tomlinson family sold out and moved to Hansford County, again in two covered wagons. They bought land in the Kimball Community, convinced it was the best place they had found for a permanent home. They never regretted their choice. Their first home was a dugout, later added to with three rooms built of adobe. Roma was attending Chickasha Business College when the family moved. The remaining children attended the rest of the school term in a dugout school on the Farwell Draw, about a mile and half southeast of the C.C. Beck home. It had been started the year before for three families, the Becks, Randalls, and Crosbys. Miss Grace Wright, later Mrs. S.B. Hale, was the first teacher. Miss Lola Estes was the second and Amos Gores and Tomlinsons children were the new students. The next year a 24x24 frame school house was built and named Kimball after the father-in-law of Judge Crosby. The Tomlinson children walked or rode horseback attending this school throughout the grades.

The Tomlinson kids liked to dance and at first attended dances held at the Court House in Hansford on weekends. A Sunday School was organized at Kimball and another at Grand Plains School, eight miles to the west. Church Services and revivals were held when preachers were available. The young people received great pleasure attending Sunday School and then alternately would be invited in mass to the home of neighbors for games and singings till the late afternoon services. Play parties too were given by the neighbors, youngsters driving in wagons and buggies as many as fifteen or more miles to attend. Another social activity enjoyed was literary societies meeting once or twice monthly at the school houses where young and old put on plays and song-fests. Another activity enjoyed by young and old was singing schools and singing conventions.

In the spring of 1909 the large prairie fire came. Other prairie fires had plagued the Tomlinson family but this was the biggest. It started near the south west com of the county, entrapping Mr. Wilmeth with cattle and horses on pastures near where Morse now is. For two or three days with high winds from the south swept the fire up the west side of the county and into Oklahoma. Mr. Wilson of the Grand Plains Community lost a barn, his feed stacks and a treshing machine. Then the wind turned to the north and wouth to the Kimball Community--roared the disastrous fire. The Tomlinsons were barely able to save their buildings and feed stocks by setting back fires and heavy fighting. As it passed, the wind veered around to the east and people fighting along the east edge were able to whiplait out as it burned to the east edge of its northward path near the Thompson home now the Ralston farm.

There was not over six hundred acres in cultivation in the Kimball community when the Tomlinsons arrived. The family broke over one thousand acres of virgin sod with walking plows in the first five years after landing. In 1913 they bought one of the first big gasoline tractor plows. The McClellans, Dressens Edwards, and Kirks all bought one of the same make that year and farming began in a big way in the county.

On December 17th of 1912 snow started and the ground remained covered until the next March. People had to haul feed and supplies from Guyman and Texhoma on sleds. When all the families in the Kimball Community became low on supplies and know over a foot deep on the level, they would make up a caravan of six four horse teams to six wagons to help one another make the trip to Guyman. They would start about daylight and all but one, Mr. Stone, reached Guyman that night. One of Mr. Stone's horses became sick and he was forced to stop at a farm house some four miles out of Guyman. Making it to Guyman the next day, he was aided by Roma Tomlinson and Bill Hankla. The other wagons pulled out and made it to the Davidson home that night. The tail enders got only eight miles and stopped with a farmer who had a two room shack, a narrow shed, shop and a big dugout. The family had moved to the dugout for the winter. They let the travelers occupy the house and use the shop and shed for sheltering their horses. During the night another blizzard struck filling all the roads opened the day before. The next morning it cleared but the temperature was 13 below zero all day. Breaking camp at ten they reached the Coldwater about noon. Bill, in the lead broke the ice and got his teams across. Roma's sneaky lead mule team would not take the ice and Bill came back to help. Mr. Stone yelled that Bill's lead team was turning around and would break out his wagon tongue. Bill started for them across the ice, but the ice weakened and down he fell to his boot tops. At meal time Bill got out a tin of roast beef to eat. After unwinding the opening strip he couldn't get the top off even with a claw hammer, the can was frozen. Then he tried a biscuit from the lunchbox which was froze so hard he couldn't bite it. By sundown the group reached the Davidson home to

PROSPECTS FOR TWO DOCTORS

Gruver, without a doctor for many months, now has a chance to get two doctors--one M.D. and one D.O. But before the situation is settled a third doctor (a psychiatrist) may be needed to untangle the mess.

An osteopath, James A. Martin of Larned, Kansas said Tuesday night he would definitely come to Gruver where he would start his own practice and work with fellow osteopath Dr. D.E. Hackley of Spearman.

Also Wednesday, Dr. Damon Gregg of Spearman announced to the Gruver Lions Club that he would bring an associate here if they could use the Gruver clinic. The new M.D. would live in Spearman and practice in Gruver half a day a week.

The big question: "Who should be allowed to practice in the clinic--the D.O. or M.D.?"

Two petitions, one in favor of letting the D.O. use the clinic and one letting only the M.D. use the clinic will be available for Gruver area citizens all day Thursday Friday and Saturday. One of each will be placed at the Gruver State Bank and at the Gruver Motor Company.

Still many legal issues are to be solved. No one seems real certain as to who has control of the Gruver clinic. It is hoped that the result of the two petitions will help the Hansford County Hospital board make a ruling on the issue.

Dr. Gregg stood before members of the Lions Club and a few outside visitors for two hours Wednesday to answer a barrage of questions. He was definitely opposed to letting a D.O. use the clinic in Gruver.

He said that if a D.O. were granted the right to use the Gruver clinic that soon the osteopaths would be wanting in the county hospital. He said the county would lose all of its M.D.'s if D.O.'s were ever allowed in the hospital.

The petitions boil down to this choice: A D.O. who will live in Gruver and practice here or a M.D. who will live in Spearman and practice part-time here.

Dr. Martin is hopeful of getting to use the clinic but said as late as Tuesday night that he is coming here regardless of whether or not he was permitted to practice in the now vacant clinic.

Dr. Gregg at one time during his discussion said it was doubtful that he could get an M.D. to come here if an osteopath is practicing here.

The final answer will be long in coming but much of the problem will probably be clarified by the result of the petitions asking the County hospital board to rule one way or the other.

IN THE GRUVE

Late developing information Wednesday began to bring the Gruver doctor problem to a head. Dr. Gregg came over from Spearman to talk with some members of the Lions Club and gave a clear version of how he stands on the situation or M.D. or D.O. for Gruver.

We did not completely agree with Dr. Gregg on many issues but did admire his willingness to come before such a group. He made many good points but wasn't quite clear on a few others, which is as good as anyone usually does.

We still think the problem should be one for Gruver residents to decide through a vote. Petitions are now at the Gruver State Bank and Gruver Motor Company concerning the two issues. We think everyone should drop in one of those places and read over the two proposals.

Dr. Hackley of Spearman brought an article for the Independent Tuesday that outlines the D.O.'s point of view. It can be found on page 3 of this issue.

According to Dr. Hackley, it is hard to get a young doctor to come to a town where he is the only M.D. Gruver is actually large enough for one doctor but evidently isn't big enough to support two.

However, from what Dr. Gregg said, Gruver could be big enough for two doctors with a little more growth.

Growth would not only be the answer to our doctor problems but would help solve many more irritations here. For one thing there are a few business places who could certainly use a little more trade. Bringing in more people would solve this.

We had quite a time while doing a survey on the doctor problem Tuesday and Wednesday. Asking just about everybody we say to give us their opinion, we received strange answers.

One person said the town needed both doctors plus a psychiatrist. Another also wanted a chiropractor and possible as astrologer. All the request were meant as jokes, of course.

We think it would be fair to let both the doctors use the clinic if that's possible for a while.

Then---in the good old American tradition---Let the best man win. We only hope that the final decision is what the majority here wants.

HOUNDS TUMBLE, 20-16

Gruver's Greyhounds fell for the fourth straight time last Friday night leaving them with a 4-4 record for the year.

Panhandle's Panthers trailing 16-14 at the half, came back to win in the last half as Gruver failed to mount an offensive that would carry to a goal line.

Gruver had to come from behind twice in the first half to gain the 16-14 lead at half time.

Jim Cooksey rammed for 80 yards and put on a great display of power running to lead the Gruver attack. Bob Gillispie added 37 yards rushing.

It looked like the game might be a scoreless battle in the early minutes as the teams swapped punts four times. Then late in the initial quarter Panhandle punted to the Gruver one and the hounds punted out three plays later to the 36. From there the Panthers moved for the first score of the game on 10 plays. Panhandle ran for the points and led 8-0.

Gruver came right back with its best looking offense in many weeks to move 63 yards to tie the score. Cooksey took the kickoff at the 10 and raced out to the 37. Gillispie gained six to Gruver 43 where Danny Riley passed 19 yards to Wayne Ldatherman for a first down on the Panhandle 34.

Cooksey powered 14 hard yards to the 20 for another first down then carried to the 14 on the next play. A five yard penalty against the visitors moved the ball on down to the nine. From there Riley hit sophomore Mack Hoel in the end zone for Gruver's first score. Cookskirted end on the conversion and the score was tied 8-8.

A few plays later Panhandle punted to the Gruver five. On second down Cookskirted out to the 13 but fumbled the ball and Panhandle took over there. The Panthers scored in two plays to take a 14-8 lead. The try for extra points failed.

Panhandle tried a short kick but Joe Cluck grabbed the ball and ran it down to the Panhandle 47 with less than a minute left in the half. After a two yard gain a penalty moved the ball down to the 30.

Cooksey took a pitchout and then passed 18 yards to Gillispie for a first down on the Panhandle 12. On the next play Cookskirted 12 yards into the end zone then put Gruver ahead with the conversion rub.

Edwards ran 58 yards on the second play of the second half to give Panhandle a 20-16 lead that held up off the rest of the game.

Gruver threatened early in the third period but a pass was intercepted by Panhandle at the seven to stop the drive. That was the last time either team moved near the goal line.

The game was the last home battle for the hounds this season. Gruver travels to Stinnett Friday night and closes out the season at Stratford November 15.

EDITORIAL

Ministers aren't very popular when they preach about money and the same applies to newspaper men when they write about advertising.

But we still think many merchants in Gruver are missing numerous sales simply because they do not advertise and try to bring new customers into their stores.

The old standby answer of "Everybody knows I'm here" is growing a little weak because everybody knows where Borger, Spearman, Guymon and other towns are, too. Stores in those towns make an effort to attract customers. Many stores here do not.

You can go in any store within 100 miles of here and the merchant will say he has customers from Gruver. And, most of the items bought elsewhere were available here but the merchants didn't take the trouble to advertise to try to get the customers into their stores.

Yet the same merchants who think everybody knows they are here will turn around and spend plenty on speciality advertising. They will pour countless dollars into buying matches, ash trays, calendars and etc, from a firm in Dallas or somewhere yet won't spend a cent with their local newspaper where they could list new items as they arrive and tell the public what is available in their store.

We were told by people in Spearman and some in Gruver that the people here wouldn't get behind a local newspaper. Well, the people did, but the merchants didn't—at least not many of them did.

Perhaps much of the blame is our own fault. We have tried to run the paper as we thought it should be operated without yielding to any pressure groups. Maybe we should have been nicer to some of the people here and we wouldn't be complaining about local merchants not advertising. But, we know of a few newspapermen who tried that and aside from losing their own self respect, they lost those fair weather friends, too, the first time they made a little slip.

We won't yield to local pressure if every advertiser in town drops out.

As for subscriptions, they have been much better than we expected. The residents here have been very encouraging through the first fifteen months of operation. Our thanks to all of them and the few merchants who think Gruver needs a local newspaper.

We know that our stand on the wheat vote; our insistence on getting the town sprayed for flies and few other projects have hurt us some. There are merchants who wouldn't run free ads with us.

We feel that a majority of the people agree with the idea of a newspaper saying what it thinks. But every-time we make a stand of some sort we lose a little business from those who disagree yet fail to pick up any new business from those who do agree.

We still feel that Gruver needs a business men's club but seriously doubt that such an organization will work here. It's like the old football slogan, "The best defense is a good offense". We think that Gruver could benefit from such a practice. It seems too many are concerned with holding on to what they have rather than trying to grow into something better.

Convention Slated for Nov 22

Farm people from all parts of Texas will congregate at the Pioneer Hotel in Lubbock on November 22 for the opening of the Sixtieth Annual Convention of the Texas Farmers Union. This Texas division of the second oldest nationwide general farm organization is deep rooted in the history and traditions of Texas, having been founded in Raines County in 1902.

The delegates to the Lubbock meeting will approve a policy program for the organization which will be constructed by a program committee made up of representative farmer members from every area of Texas. This committee will meet in uninterrupted session for a week prior to the convention, and during this time will combine resolutions submitted from every county organization into a preliminary draft of the policy program which must be adopted on the floor of the convention by the delegates. The delegates will also elect officers and delegates to the National Farmers Union Convention.

Congressman George Mahon of the 19th Congressional District is expected to open the convention with a welcome to his congressional district; and other government officials appearing on the program during the two day meeting will be Congressman Walter Rogers of the 18th Congressional District, Senator Ralph Yarborough, and State Representative Max Carriker of Roby. Representatives of various commodity organizations and groups will discuss future programs for cotton, wheat, and feed grains as a part of a panel session, and an opportunity will be provided for questioning these experts. Guided bus tours of the various processing and marketing co-operatives, and feed lots in the Lubbock area have also been planned.

State President Jay Naman of Waco, in announcing convention plans said "This will be a convention that will be of interest to the entire farm family, and others interested in Texas agriculture. Our large membership on the South and North Plains and the recent dramatic trend toward Farmers Union in this area assures us a large and enthusiastic convention."

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a floor length gown of white satin. The fitted bodice with round neckline was accented with a band of circular lace. Her long tapered sleeves extended to points at her wrists and were outlined with lace. The flared skirt was enhanced with two rows of lace extending down the front of the dress and across the front hem. Her waist length veil of illusion fell from a softly pleated crown of satin. She carried a bridal bouquet of white roses, to complete her attire.

Attending the bride was her maid of honor Miss Charen Egeler of Garden City, New York. Betty Jean Webb of Gruver, sister of the groom, served as the bride's matron. The two attendants wore identical street length dresses of emerald green. The princess styled gowns were accented with a bow at the midriff.

Letter for Clarification

The following facts I believe should be set before you and upon investigation of any licensed Doctor of medicine, whether D.O. or M.D. will verify it as being the truth.

Both the D.O.'s and the M.D.'s in the State of Texas have identical licenses to practice medicine and surgery as granted by the State Board of Health and they are signed by the members of the Board of Examiners composed of D.O.'s and M.D.'s.

In the October 30th edition of the Gruver Independent, improper information was given to the writer.

I submit the following; not from hear-say-I understand or I think; this is direct as I have personally investigated and found it to be.

The statement was made that the Texas Medical Association is firmly against letting its members work in hospitals that allow D.O.'s to practice there.

The American Medical Association in a ruling in 1961 ruled that it is no longer unethical for associations of M.D.'s and D.O.'s in the National level and that it should be worked out on the local level.

The Texas Medical Association does not want to publicly acknowledge that the D.O. has an identical license as the M.D. However, the Texas Medical Association favors the merging of the Texas Medical Association with the Texas Osteopathic Association and the D.O.'s in the State be granted an M.D. License.

The Texas Osteopathic Association desires "peaceful-coexistence" with both schools of medicine being recognized, for a better Health-Care program.

There have been rumors around that the Texas Medical Association would take the M.D. license from them if they associated with D.O.'s. This is not true--the Texas Medical Association does not grant the license, therefore cannot take it away.

The one case as stated in October 30th issue where D.O.'s and M.D.'s practiced together, should have read---The one County Hospital where both have equal staff privilege was in the Wharton County Hospital at El Campo, Texas. The article states the combined staff was tried and the D.O.'s were legally stopped from hospital practice.

In 1958 the Nitengale Hospital, which is the Wharton County Hospital, was declared open to both D.O.'s and M.D.'s. However, the M.D.'s seeing the loss of complete control of a County financed institution and in the eyes of "their public" the D.O.'s were being granted equal rights to practice medical and surgery, as his license stated---they boycotted.

The M.D.'s then pressurized the hospital board whereby they again changed their policy to exclude the D.O.'s. Legal suit was then instigated by the two D.O.'s for admission and it was granted in the District Court of Wharton County. This decision being appealed to the Court of Civil Appeals with their decision being rendered on October 30, 1958 reversing the decision in the District Court and stated the D.O.'s could be excluded from the hospital staff because they had a degree from an Osteopathic School of Medicine rather than an Allopathic School of Medicine, but held that Board Rule Requiring County Hospital Staff Members to be graduates of schools of medicine approved by the American Medical Association, while reasonable, was invalid for delegating Boards power to itself determine qualifications of its staff members.

A short time following the legal ruling which also stated the Hospital Board had the power to say who was to be and who was not to be staff members, the Wharton County Hospital Board invited the two D.O.'s to apply for staff membership and immediately granted such.

In 1962, I personally went to the Nitengale hospital and visited with the hospital manager---- stating the nature of my visit and properly identified myself as a D.O. The manager told me direct that the Wharton County Hospital was operating with a dual staff of two D.O.'s and ten M.D.'s; without difficulty and that he could foresee no difficulty in the future as both D.O. and M.D. specialist from Houston were coming there when ever they were needed. He further stated he believed the hospital with the dual staff was giving full benefit to all the Residence of the County and not to a select few. The Hospital is still operating under those conditions.

Another statement in last week's issue stated that we (who is we?) also know that by admitting D.O.'s to the clinic here and the county hospital could keep many M.D.'s from coming to this county and that it could cause the Hansford County Hospital to operate at more deficit than it is now faced with and it possibly could be closed if the problem got out of hand.

"Why do 'we' assume the superiority of the M.D. degree rather than acknowledge the fact the Texas State Licensing Board finds the D.O. and M.D. to be equally schooled and grant them identical licenses, following the administration of identical examinations, at the same time, in the same room and seated side by side, with the D.O.'s on the examining board signing the license granting the M. D. his practice rights as well as the M.D.'s on the Board.

The fact the licenses of the D.O. and M.D. are identical can be proven and not denied by any holder of such certificate.

The statement, most officials feel more doctors are needed in the County but that admitting D.O.'s might hurt rather than help the situation and put an extra burden on the tax-payers.

Personal interview with many is to the contrary and that they are confused as to what is actually taking place.

To this I suggest it is primarily hear-say has them afraid of an Organization, the Texas Medical Association and not a proven fact.

As to the extra burden that might be placed upon the tax-payer, what about the present burden placed on these tax-payers who desire the services of a D.O. in an institution, their money has built and maintains, but are refused admittance at these institutions to use the licensed physician of their choice because the ruling board will "bow-down" to a pressure group rather than standing up and stating "I'm for progress and improvement in the Health-Care of the taxpayers in our County. I want both the D.O.'s and M.D.'s granted equal staff privileges."

Also stated in the October 30th issue was: "we have strong reports that an M.D. is seriously considering coming to Gruver soon."

Alas! Rise up from the dark corner and face reality! Such rumors have floated far and wide in the past.

Many citizens of Gruver had the opportunity to meet Dr. James Martin, a D.O., and his wife, who stated to them direct that he admired the town of Gruver, its appearance, the friendliness and sincerity of the people he met and that it was both his and Mrs. Martins desire to live and practice in a small town, where they could raise their children. He was given assurance by several who thought they had some say about the Clinic Building (but later found out they were just the ones who had to pay the bills on the empty structure) that he would be welcome to Gruver and be granted the Clinic for office use.

To bad he was licensed by the State Board of Medical Examiners as a Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine. Should he be physically and maybe even mentally handicapped, but had the M.D. degree---he would have qualified.

As I have been told many times by those directly involved that this ruling was nothing personal. I submit this in the same manner, with the intent only for the better understanding, and that the people of this area might know the true facts that in the eyes of the Texas Board of Medical Examiners and the State Board of Health acknowledge the Osteopathic Schools of Medicine provide equal instruction to the Allopathic Schools of Medicine and grant equal and identical licenses to both the D.O. and M.D. to practice in the State of Texas.

Submitted respectfully and without animosity toward anyone. D.E. HACKLEY, D.O.

Is Christ The Author of Religious Confusion?

As we look around us at the confused state that exists in the religious world and the utter lack of unity regarding any one thing, is this truly what Christ wants and recognizes as his own? Does Christ want the people to believe just what they want and worship as their own conscience might dictate? Paul said "Now I beseech you, brethren, by the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, that ye all speak the same thing, and that there be no divisions among you; but that ye be perfectly joined together in the same mind and in the same judgement" (1 Cor. 1:10).

How often do we hear preachers praying for division. Actually thanking God for the different religious groups when wholesale division existed even where the prayer was being led? What mockery of the words of the Spirit as he states, "That ye all speak the same thing".

To be of one mind is to speak as one person would speak. To think as one person would be to be joined together speaking and practicing as one person. If it is not possible for the people to be of the same mind, then why did the words of God say that it could be and commanded that it be so? I appeal to your sense of justice to think on these things.

Again, we read "Now this I say, that everyone of you saith, I am of Paul; and I of Apollos and I of Cephas; and I of Christ. Is Christ divided? was Paul crucified for you? or were you baptized in the name of Paul? I thank God that I baptized none of you but Crispus and Gaius; lest any should say that I had baptized in mine own name" (1 Cor. 1:12-15).

At Corinth the people were divided up into different groups. Some calling themselves by the name of Paul, some of the preacher Apollos, others by the name of Peter, and still others by the name of the Lord. Does this not sound like today? Every kind of name under heaven but the name that should be worn. Yet so often you hear people say, "It doesn't make any difference what name that you hear". Paul said that it was wrong to wear different names and try to divide up into groups. It was Christ who died and it is by the authority of Christ that the sinner is immersed into Christ. Just how much respect are you giving Christ when you wear a name that is completely foreign to the name of Christ?

The answer to confusion and division is found in the third chapter of the first Corinthian letter. "For ye are yet carnal; for whereas there is among you envying, and strife, and division are ye not carnal, and walk as men"? Yes, where there is division and different names and different doctrines preached by different sects, there is confusion and every evil work. To be carnally minded in the sentence of death for all that partake. The Roman writer states, "For to be carnally minded is death; but to be spiritually minded is life and peace" (Rom. 8:6).

I present to you a fool proof system by which all mankind can be of the same mind and judgement. Throw away every name that is not Christ. Throw away every Creed Book, Discipline, Catechism or Tradition not having a thus sayeth the Lord. Take the Bible as the only rule of faith and practice. Disfellowship every preacher, teacher, or learner that will not follow the Bible and it along. Cut off every blood sucker that will put his finger in the Lord's treasury except those who are authorized by God's Holy Word. Practice every act of worship found in the New Testament, leaving off all entertainment, unlawful means of raising money, and special services which are a mockery to God's son. Practice pure religion as given by James 1:27 and pray for the downfall of all division.

Jesus prayed, "That they all might be one" and until every "sect" and "ism" is laying prostrate and dead, that find the rest of the group there including George Hays the mail carrier, for it was too cold for them to venture out. Bill with wet feet had walked most of the way beside his wagon. His socks were steaming when he pulled his boots off that night. A cold south wind the next morning held everyone back except Roma and Bill who made it home. The others arrived home the following day. Thus it took three to four days to make the trip each with four horses and only 2000 lb. load. Usually the same trip was made with the same team but 6000 lbs in two days. But as the snow got deeper and drifted sleds were used with even lighter loads.

Mr. and Mrs. Tomlinson's delight was caring for their children, being good neighbors and helping others any way they could. Ten of their children grew up and married in this county. Roma still lives east of Gruver and Ila Cline in Gruver, Orville lives in Tuttle, Oklahoma; Zola Hankla in Dallam County; Wayne in Amarillo; Mamie Williams in Perryton; Ella French in Tyrone, Oklahoma; Loyd, Jack and Emily Cline have passed on. Mrs. Tomlinson died in 1924 and Mr. Tomlinson followed in 1945. All their lives they were pioneers, never accumulating much property, but always enjoying their family, work and many friends.

POPPY DAY IS FRIDAY

In the spring of 1919, amidst complete devastation, the poppies bloomed in abundance on the battlefields of France, where so many of our men had fallen in battle, and that a replica of this poppy has become the Memorial Flower of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary?

The memorial poppies are made of red crepe paper, by hand, by disabled veterans in hospitals and poppy workrooms in forty states, and that the workers receive pay for each

Farmer's Union Met in Denton

State Farmers Union resident Jay Naman told a Denton County audience at the annual meeting of Denton County Farmers Union at Denton last week that "the President's decision to sell our surplus wheat to Russia for cold cash was a wise decision and will prove beneficial to our farmers as well as the general economy."

"This trade will create new jobs, reduce public spending on the storage of the huge surpluses of wheat, and help remedy the deficit in our balance of payments. The drain of our precious gold supply can be somewhat relieved by the sale of the wheat for gold."

Naman went on to say poppy made, the material being furnished free by the Department of state in which the hospital is located.

Every penny received is devoted to rehabilitation work by both the Legion and Auxiliary, which includes aid to the needy veterans and their families.

The public is given an opportunity each year to help the great work of the American Legion and the American Legion Auxiliary, as well as opportunity to pay tribute to all who died in service, by wearing a poppy on Poppy Day.

Get your Poppy Friday November 8th at the Post Office and wear it proudly.

that "the sale of wheat might well open up new markets that are sorely needed as the European Economic Community levies increased trade restrictions.

"As long as we have the tremendous overproduction of wheat stored in warehouses at public expense, we might think in terms of expanded trade for American dollars and gold. The proposed sale of wheat to Russia might well save the taxpayers $225 million in storage cost and handling during this fiscal year.

"I hope that this opportunity for modest relief to our surplus situation won't signal wheat farmers to exceed their allotted acres in anticipation of higher prices to the farmer. Under the "no" vote which resulted in the wheat referendum and the 50% of parity price support, I can hardly see how farmers' prices can be materially changed by this one sale to the Russians.

This sale of wheat may will generate enough complacency in congress to forestall any possibility of a new wheat program this year or next, and, therefore of this could be a further expansion in wheat production far beyond what can be sold to Russians and anyone else.

SATAN'S TOOL

The Devil announced he was going out of business and would offer all his tools for sale to the highest bidder. On the night of the sale, these tools were attractively displayed, and a bad looking lot they were--hatred, envy, jealousy, malice, sensuality, deceit, pride and all the other instruments of evil.

Apart from the rest lay a harmless looking wedge shaped tool, much worn and priced higher than any of the others. Some one asked the devil what it was. "That is discouragement", was the reply. "Why is it priced so high?" "Because," replied the devil, "it is more useful to me than any other tool. I can pry open and get into a man's conscience with that, when I could never get near him with any of these other tools. Once inside I can use him with my discouragement in any way that suits me best.

It is much worn because I use it with nearly every body, as few people yet know that it belongs to me, and that I use it to achieve my ends.

But the price placed on discouragement was so high that the devil still owns it. Discouraged hands cannot do the Lord's task. Feeble knees cannot run His errands. Our Lord never discourages His servants; and neither does He speak to us so as to make our knees crumble in helplessness.

Are you at times discouraged? "Lo, I am with you always." Here, he said, is where I get my courage. Lo, I am with you always. As you read your Bible God speaks to you and gives you courage. And satan's tool of discouragement is kept locked up. Or do you let satan use his tool on you? Then don't!

THE HUNTER

by Virginia Pauwells

Deeply ingrained in the make-up of man is the primal urge to hunt—be it rabbits or deer or ducks. Whether it is to satisfy man's ancient need to be able to supply his family with meat or simply the thrill of the chase, he will rise at a miserable hour to grunt on his boots and join his friends for a few hours of jovial companionship. There is a special magic in those pre-dawn hours that fills him with suppressed excitement—like a young child on Christmas Eve.

Why then would a young sportsman say to me, "I wouldn't go hunting for a thousand dollars." To a man here in Texas who is used to handling a gun, such a statement sounds ridiculous. But is it? Over two thousand people die yearly from accidental gunshot wounds, and about ten thousand more are injured, according to "The Outdoor Encyclopedia", which was compiled by Ted Kesting, editor of "Sports Afield."

Most, but not all, of these accidents are caused by greenhorns who are too egotistical to learn the rudimentary rules of gun safety. In fact, some have not even bothered to learn how to tell a cow from a deer—making it necessary for one famer in Indiana to paint C-O-W on both sides of his prize Holsteins during hunting season. Furthermore not a year passes that some triggerhappy dolt doesn't shoot his companion in a bright red coat and claim he thought it was a duck!

Most of you will be so familiar with the simple rules of gun safety that you might forget to teach the young ones in your hunting party. So here are a few basic ones supplied by the "Outdoor Encyclopedia":

1. Never carry a loaded gun in any vehicle.
2. Never lay loaded gun in front of a tree, fence, or on the ground.
3. Check breech before shooting and keep on safe lock until ready to shoot.
4. Never pull a gun through a fence. Carry it with your muzzle pointed away from yourself, and others. (One source recommends loading, placing on safety lock and pushing under fence bore you go over it.)

5. Know who you are shooting at and make sure nothing is in line of fire.

6. Don't lean gun or shells near a fire.

But, despite all your care, suppose someone does get shot. Will you know what to do? A big percent deaths from gunshot can be prevented. Dr. Emestine Smith of Amarillo, says that it is best to pack the wound air tight with clean gauze, handkerchiefs, or any sanitary dressing; cover it, then apply pressure directly on or above the wound. If the bleeding does not stop, add a tourniquet but do not remove the pressure. The tourniquet should be released every twenty minutes unless the victim is in danger of bleeding death.

Otherwise, there is no danger of gangrene which could necessitate amputation. Dr. Smith says to apply a tourniquet as near the wound as possible to prevent bleeding since, in the event of a fracture, three-fourths of an inch is more useful than one.

A good tourniquet is a rubber band two inches wide and a foot long. A leather belt or strong strip of skirt twisted with a stick can serve.

Dr. Smith told of one terrible automobile accident in which a young girl's leg was severed. She said, "Fortunately a policeman was right behind the car. He packed the wound with his handkerchief and rode in the ambulance with her. It saved pressure to the wound. To avoid shock, frequent cause of death, keep the patient warm and comfortable.

Budget Estimate Approved

The Senate committee on appropriations approved restoration of the appropriation for the Great Plains Conservation Program to the original budget estimate of $14,640,000 for fiscal 1964 in which we are now operating.

The $2,000,000-plus increase over 1963's appropriation can mean an additional 500 farms and ranches insulated—as well as modern agricultural know-how can achieve it—against the dry years that are now not so far ahead.

It would mean that the contracting process and the work of applying sound soil and water conservation on farm and ranch lands in the Great Plains Conservation Program can proceed without the usual spring let up when funds run out.

At the present time the Spearman Soil Conservation Service Office is working with a group of Hansford and Sherman County farmers who have applied for assistance under this program. They have a severe erosion problem which involves some 30 sections of land valued at over 5,000,000.

There have been 55 farmers and ranchers in Hansford County and 10 in Sherman County develop Great Plains Conservation Plans. Construction of waterways and diversion and range seeding have been the major conservation practices installed under this program.

NEW CHEVELLE! BY CHEVROLET

The kind of handling ease you'd expect in a smaller car. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

Only a car that looks as good as this could come between Chevrolet and Chevy II. Come on down and stare at it.

New Chevelle Malibu Sport Coupe

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps. And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price! Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

Class Reports

by Bonnie Sullins
Our new Freshmen are proving to be quite adapted to High School life. They are finding out that it takes much studying to earn the grades they must have to succeed in school as well as life.

In the Junior Class a play is in the making. The cast has been chosen and all are hard at work. The play will be produced around the end of the month. More news about that as the curtain time draws nearer.

For the school as a whole this year is proving to be very prosperous so far. All the high school has been showing a lot of spirit in backing our boys which are full of spirit and drive themselves. We have a great Faculty as well as an outstanding student body. With these two factors this year at G.H.S. should prove to be most prosperous.
