To The Voters Of Briscoe County:

Due to the resignation of Mr. Dee McWilliams, who had faithfully served this county as Clerk of the County for a number of years, an unusual situation has arisen to confront us in the General Election on November 3rd.

You, as voters, will be called upon to elect a Clerk to complete the unexpired term of this office. At a regular meeting of the Commissioners Court on June 22nd, 1964, the Court appointed me to fill the office until the next regular election, which will be the General Election on November 3rd. On August 1, (the date of the resignation of Mr. McWilliams) I qualified as Clerk of the County and District Court, and am now serving in that capacity, and will continue to serve until a duly elected Clerk qualifies.

The Democratic Committee of Briscoe County has seen fit to select me as their nominee for this office and my name will appear on the General Election Ballot as the Democratic candidate for this office.

The Commissioners Court felt that I was qualified to fill the office. The County Democratic Committee felt that I was qualified to fill the office. I sincerely appreciate their confidence in my ability. I feel that I am qualified to fill the office. To most of you, I am not a stranger. I have lived in Silverton and Briscoe County all of my life and have worked for, among and with you for a number of years. I appreciate and understand our mutual problems, and share in our mutual pleasures. The past fourteen years I have spent in the abstract business, working in the Court-house and in close contact with the county records. At various times I have assisted in the office of the County Clerk, which has been valuable experience in qualifying me for his office. I have resigned my position in the abstract office, and am now devoting my full time to the duties of the Clerk's office. I would like to keep the office for the balance of this unexpired term.

I am a widow, having lost my husband two years ago, and have no income other than from my employment as I own no income property. I am conscious of the responsibility of this office, and regardless of need, I would not ask for the office if I did not feel that I am qualified to give you the very best of service.

I hope to see each of you personally between now and November 3rd, but in case I do not, please remember that I

BERTHA PAVLICEK

And Now . . . The Late, Late News

Sometimes we feel that we at The Tribune office are the last ones to hear things, and we sincerely hope that you don't think that all the news we print is not longer news—but sometimes we just fail to find out happenings. For instance, we were casually informed by a person who thought we knew it already, that O. V. Johnson had spent a week in the hospital at Matador with a case of strep throat. It has been two weeks now, but we thought there might be others, the same as we, who did not know it.

ASC COMMITTEE ELECTIONS TO BE HELD SOON

Farmers today got a "last-minute" reminder about important elections which will be held in Silverton, Briscoe County, on September 8, 1964. The elections are to choose ASC farm-education programs.

According to Louie Kitchens, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Texas Briscoe County Committee, "These ASC committeemen have broad important program responsibilities, which makes it all the more urgent that representative farmers be elected to the job." He urged all qualified voters to be sure to cast their ballots.

Each year, the Chairman explained, such qualified voters—farmers who are taking part or are eligible to take part in one or more of the farm programs which the committees administer—elect a community committee from among their own number. The chairman, vice chairman, and the regular member of this committee also serve respectively as delegate, alternate delegate, and second alternate delegate to a county convention, where the ASC county committee is elected.

Programs administered by the committeemen include the Agricultural Conservation Program, acreage allotments, marketing quotas, commodity loans, the feed grain program, the vol-

MASONIC LODGE WORKSHOP TO BE HELD HERE TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15

Officers and members of four Masonic Lodges in this area have been invited to attend a workshop, to be held at 8:00 p. m., September 15th in Quitaque Lodge 1248. Tulia, Silverton, Happy and Quitaque Lodges are invited.

The workshop is being held to enable Masons to study common problems of Masonic Lodges and their operations. It will be conducted by R. Furman Vinson of Flomot, chairman of the Masonic Workshop Area covering ten nearby counties.

The workshop is part of a statewide semi-annual program held for the quarter - million members of nearly 1,000 Texas Masonic Lodges. It has been authorized by John R. Collard, Jr. of Spearman, Grand Master of Masons in Texas. He urged all officers and members of the invited Lodges to attend and said other Masons are also welcome.

SIGN-UP FOR BOLL WEEVIL SPRAY PROGRAM STILL FAR FROM COMPLETE

County Agent Leon Grosdidier said Wednesday that approximately 75 percent of the cotton farmers in this community have signed up to take part in the giant spray program designed to prevent overwintering of the boll weevil in this area.

This is the only sure way known to halt the spread of the dreaded pest.

Some farmers have stated that they will not take part in the program. Some of these who do not plan to take part in the program say that they are afraid of the spray and what it might do to livestock.

According to information received here at The Tribune, the chemical that will be used in this fall's program is Technical malathion, one of the safest pesticides known. Malathion is commonly used in flea powders for dogs, in livestock sprays, etc. Properly handled it is as safe as the fly spray used in homes.

The $1,000,000 Federal appropriation to match the High Plains money has been approved and contracts are being let to aerial applicators. One BIG job remains—ALL farmers in the control zone must sign spraying permits if the program is to have maximum effect.

If you have not signed a spray permit, get one from the County Agent, ASC office, Bank, or the Department of Agriculture. Permission to spray your farm is essential to the complete success of the program.

Build With Concrete Any Time Of The Year

Ready, set, go! You no longer have to wait for warmer or cooler weather to start that concrete building project.

New ingredients and techniques now make it possible for concrete contractors to begin new jobs at any time of the year.

Concrete has emerged as the glamour material of the building industry, and is no longer limited only to footings, foundations and structural members.

Thanks to steady advances in concrete technology, concrete is being used in fancy facades, colorful patios, and dramatic free-form "flying roof" designs.

Moreover, according to the Master Builders' Company, manufacturers of admixtures to improve the performance of concrete, year-around concreting is economical.

Today, a delay of even one day on big building projects adds to the cost. Builders insist on materials that can be used regardless of temperature. And with modern methods and admixtures, concrete meets this requirement.

A chemical admixture is included with the cement, sand, water, and gravel or stone of the concrete mix to control its rate of hardening at different temperatures.

In cold weather, for instance, the ready-mix concrete producer preheats the ingredients and adds an accelerating admixture. The area where the concrete is to be placed is enclosed and heated. The admixture shortens the setting time and speeds up the early strength of the concrete, which are slowed by low temperature.

There is another type of admixture that is used to delay the setting time of concrete in hot weather, giving workmen more time to properly place and finish it.

With this kind of concrete control, you can have your contractor proceed with the project whenever your impulse and money match.

MICRONAIRE ELIMINATED AS REQUIREMENT FOR 1964 COTTON PRICE SUPPORT LOANS

The U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today that cotton producers will not be required after August 29 to obtain "micronaire" readings on their 1964 - crop upland cotton to be eligible for price support loans.

This action was taken to comply with provision enacted by Congress last week in the Agriculture Appropriation Act which prohibits use of CCC funds to formulate and administer loan program for current crop which includes mandatory micronaire readings.

At present only a small part of the 1964 crop has been harvested and relatively few bales of cotton have been pledged to Commodity Credit Corporation as collateral for loans.

After asking for comment from trade and other interested parties, USDA announced on April 28, 1964 that micronaire readings would be a quality factor under the 1964 loan program. Micronaire reading, a measurement of fineness and maturity of cotton, would have been made at the same time a bale sample was examined by Agricultural Marketing Service cotton classing offices to determine grade and staple of fiber. The farmer would have paid six cents per bale for this service.

This micronaire provision provided for a loan premium of 65 cents per 500-pound bale, for cotton in the most desirable range, with discounts applying to cotton with high or low micronaire readings. Schedule of these premiums and discounts will continue to be applied on loans disbursed through Aug. 29. Thereafter, micronaire readings will not be considered as a quality factor for cotton offered as collateral for loan.

The value of cotton under the loan program will be established as in 1963 and prior years, on basis of grade and staple as determined by AMS cotton classing offices in accordance with regulations issued pursuant to the Cotton Standards Act, with discounts on wasty cotton, spindle twist cotton and cotton containing extraneous matter.

The voluntary micronaire reading service offered through AMS cotton classing offices will not be affected. Classing offices will continue to supply micronaire readings to ginners who have applied for the service as long as their applications remain in effect. Ginners now receiving the micronaire service may terminate the service by giving notice, preferably in writing, to the AMS cotton classing office.

The schedule of premiums and discounts based on micronaire readings now applicable in connection with CCC cotton sales programs will continue in effect, except that the schedule will not be used in calculating the loan rate for cotton sold under Announcement NO-C-16.

DRAMATIC CHANGE

What do you see in your mind's eye when you think about your neighborhood drug store?

Do you envision rows upon rows of cosmetics, toiletries, and perfumes? This is a large part of the modern drug store, reflecting the dramatic change which has come about in latter years to keep pace with new merchandising trends.

However, one thing has not changed — the prescription department. The same reliable pharmacist is available to fill your prescriptions.

He may now be a separate entity in the modern drug store — his department is only one of the many. But his knowledge and products today are better than they were when the pharmacist was the drug store.
