We also enjoyed our tours each day with the tour group. The Island of 0ahu has much to offer tourists There was also Honolulu, with it famed Waikiki beach; and the breath-taking view of the ocean sugar plantations and mills pineapple fields and canneries, with coffee, cocoanut and banana trees earing fruit in profusion. We als visited orchid gardens and perfum actories. There are many beauti ful tropical flowers growing in the ertile soil that are shipped through out the world.

We visited the National Memoria Cemetery and took a Yacht Cruise to Pearl Harbor where we saw Battleship Row with the sunker battleships "Utah" and "Arizona" a very interesting trip and will be long remembered by all

We visited four of the eight major islands: Oahu, Kauai, Hawaii and Maui. Each Island has its par-ticular and different attractions. Its scenery varies from the lava deserts to lush tropical jungles, from sparkling white or black sand beaches to snow-capped mountains and from modern buildings to grass hacks.

We attended several luau's, the raditional Island feast celebration, which is a gay and happy occasion. The visitors attend these feasts dressed in Hawaiian style. The men the Aloha shirts, wear muu-muus or Island sun dresses. Garlands of flowers, which are called leis, are worn by all, and add to the colorful occasion. After Dale and Martha Setliff, and Pa the feast, visitors are entertained Lane, Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. C each night by graceful hula dancers and professional musicians.
