The official rain gauge at the City Hall has measured 2.04 inches of rain as of noon Thursday for the week's total here in Quitaque.

That seemed to be about the average for our immediate area, although the area south and southeast of Quitaque received much heavier falls, with reports of 4 inches or more coming in from the river area and near Flomo.

The rainfall started late Monday afternoon and the City Hall gauge caught .49, according to City Secretary James Brunson. The rains came again Tuesday night and .39 was measured. Early in the morning hours Thursday, the rains came again and up to noon, 1.16 inches had fallen. Skies continued to be heavy and overcast with the threat of more rain to come.

For the most part here in town the rain was of the slow, ground soaking variety, the kind that brings broad smiles to the farmer who has his cotton and feed up and ready for the rains. Not quite so happy to see the rain just yet is the wheat farmer who does not have all his grain harvested yet. There is still quite a bit of grain to be harvested yet, especially on the plains, where some of it was not quite ready to cut.

For some, it will mean that cotton and sorghum will have to be replanted—for the third time in some instances. Mostly, however, farmers were smiling around here.

FLOMOT HD CLUB HAS A DELAYED PROGRAM

Roll Call was answered Tuesday afternoon at the Home Demonstration Club with "A Scenic Spot in Canada." Fifteen club members and one guest, Mrs. W. D. Graves of Deming, N. M. were present.

This club program had been exchanged with the program of May 16 for convenience.

As this date marked the half-way time in our yearly work, the president called for a report from all committees to evaluate the work. Projects for the remainder of the year were discussed and are to be considered at the next meeting, June 20th.

Mrs. L. B. Turner, the program leader, brought the program. The International Peace Garden. A description of the Turner's trip to Ohio, Pennsylvania, Niagra Falls an into Canada was given and a brief account of the elaborate array of flowers that come into view almost immediately as one goes into Canada.

Only a glimpse of the Peace Garden could be viewed in the time spent on this trip. After parking our car, we went immediately to the attractive flower garden. In the distance and on a hill was the flower grown "Welcome" spelled out, flanked on one side by the United States flag and on the other side was the Union Jack, flag of the United Kingdom of Great Britain. In the foreground was a huge flower grown clock with the hands and numbers of different colored flowers and greenery and the hands pointing to 12 o'clock or high noon.

A few other personal events were related and a brief account of the visit to Niagra Falls on the American side and from the Canada side. The Cave of the Winds was a wonder to those of us who have lived in the dry country. The huge cranes carrying the cable cars out over the falls was enough of a thrill without the experience.

Refreshments were served to those mentioned above and to the following: Mmes: C. C. Jones, Sam Ross, J. H. George, George Pope, Raldo Martin, Joe Degan, M. C. Washington, Ray Cruse, Ike Reed, O. D. Calvert, Wilburn Martin, L. E. Shorter, Leon Cloyd, Earl Whitaker, and James Monk.

SCANDALOUS JOHN SELMON AN OLD TIME COWHAND

If all West Texas went into a huddle and came out with its best known cowhand, it would likely be Scandalous John Selmon, a Swenson Land and Cattle Co. man for more than 55 years and arena director of Stamford's Texas Cowboy Reunion for more than 30.

Scandalous started working for the old Espuela (Spur) Land and Cattle Co. near Dickens City in 1900, "An' when Swenson's bought it in 1906 they sorta inherited me" he smiles, talking with the low soft drawl men accustomed to outdoors, where a voice will carry a quarter mile. "I ain't missed a brandin' for over 60 years".

John is the nephew of the famous John Selmon (colleague of Bat Masterson) who left old Fort Griffin by "Skippin' outta the can." He was later U. S. Marshal at El Paso and had trouble with John Wesley Hardin back at the turn of the century.

Questioned as to his age, Scandalous John never batted an eye, but looking possibly 50 said, "Come July 2nd I'll be 77".

Completes Step in G. A. Work

Marian Gilbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Gilbert of Big Spring recently finished her "Queen Regent" step in G. A. work. She started her G. A. work while the Gilberts were still living here in Quitaque.

"Jewels For His Crown" was the theme of the Coronation for members of the Girls Auxiliary of Baptist Temple Church in Big Spring, Wednesday evening, May 17th. As the Prayer chairman read the Prayer Calendar, a jewel was placed on the altar to represent each Missionary having a birthday on that day.

Three awards for six years of work were presented to Jean Cox, Marian Gilbert, and Arlene Nixon. All were named Queen Regents. They were presented capes of Girls Auxiliary by Rev. A. R. Posey, pastor.

Eighteen girls received awards before an audience of some 400.

G. A's and their counselors from the 12 Southern Baptist Churches in town were invited.

Marian completed two steps while a member of First Baptist Church in Quitaque. She received her green Octagon and White Star from the church here.

The Queens, Queens with Scepter and Queen Regents wore white formals. All below Queen wore pastel colored formals and the Escorts wore dark trousers with white coats and black bow ties.

ECONOMIST REPORTS ON LAND PURCHASE CONTRACTS

College Station, June 15 — Due to the high initial investment and large amount of operating capital required, more and more young people are having greater difficulties entering the farming business. These potential farmers may have the necessary capital for one of these expenses, but not enough for both. C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist, says that land purchase contracts, or deferred payment contracts as they are sometimes called, are being used increasingly to overcome this obstacle.

There are many factors in land contracts that favor both buyer and seller, but there is one important point to remember before entering into one. Bates emphasizes the importance of having an attorney draw up the contract. These contracts cover a long period of time and involve a considerable amount of money; therefore, the advice and assistance of legal counsel is invaluable.

From the buyer's viewpoint, land contracts are favorable because only a low down payment is necessary—often a token amount of five percent or less. This leaves the buyer more freedom to devote greater capital resources to operating or production needs points out Bates. The purchaser also has the opportunity to gain maximum benefits from unusual managerial skills, and his interest payments are fully deductible for income tax purposes.

On the other side of the fence, the seller benefits from a spread of taxes from capital gains. Selling by land contract increases the number of prospective buyers and permits retention of deed by seller until substantial payments are made. In case of repossession?, less delay and expense is necessary.

Land contracts do have their drawbacks, however. They are unfavorable to the buyer because of relatively high interest payments due to the large unpaid balance. He also faces the risk of termination of contract and loss of contract rights when a temporary slump in earnings prevents regular payments. From the seller's viewpoint, less down payment is received, and there is a greater risk of damage to property before the purchaser acquires the deed.

There are several other points that might cause misunderstanding between the buyer and seller using land contracts. For this reason, Bates again emphasizes the importance of securing legal counsel before entering into any agreement.

Mrs. Buster Chadwick went to Childress last Friday for medical attention. She was accompanied from Turkey by her grandmother, Mrs. P. T. Clark and Mrs. Johnny Perry.

Guests in the Reg Cushenberry home Sunday were their son, Layne of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Eddleman and Mo of Silverton.

RAY DON KING WEDS CISCO GIRL

The marriage of Miss Shirley Anna Fowler of Cisco, Texas, and Ray Don King of Colorado Springs, Colo. was solemnized at 7:30 P. M. Friday, June 2, at the East Cisco Baptist Church. The Rev. Jim Hooten performed the ceremony. Nuptial music was played by Ann Bradley at the organ and Claudine Tucker at the piano. Mrs. Charles Spicer was soloist.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Merle Shirley Fowler, who gave her daughter in marriage. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill King of Colorado Springs, Colo.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie, styled with bell-shaped skirt, with box pleats at back that flowed into a chapel train. The white lace jacket had long fitted sleeves and round neck bound with peau de soie. Her veil fell from a tiara of pearls and iridescent sequins and she carried three orchids with satin streamers, on a white Bible.

Miss Janica Justice was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Marita Webb and Helen Barnes. All wore dresses of coral organza over taffeta, with double cape collars and full skirts. The bodices were trimmed with wide bands of matching material. They wore coral tiaras with short circular veils. The maid of honor carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink carnations, and the bridesmaids carried colonial nosegays of pale pink carnations.

Bill Bagshman of Colorado Springs and Bobby Graham lighted the candles and also ushered.

Larry Valentine of Colorado Springs acted as best man, and the groomsmen were Benny Meyers and Bob Williams, both of Colorado Springs.

The rehearsal supper, and the garden reception were both held at the home of the bride's mother. Assisting at the reception were Katherine Frick, Mrs. Bob Woolsey, Miss Lucette Harbison and Miss Ladene Herring.

The couple left for Colorado Springs where they are now at home. The bride chose for traveling a suit of pale grey lightweight wool, with white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The bride was graduated from Cisco High School and from Cisco Junior College. She is a senior at Hardin-Simmons University where she is a member of Sigma Tau Delta English Fraternity; the Press Club, and was entertainment editor of the college paper. She is a journalism major.

The bridegroom was graduated from Colorado Springs High School and is a Junior at Hardin-Simmons where he is majoring in physical education, and is a member of the Cowboy Band. He is currently employed by the Van Briggles Art Pottery Co. in Colorado Springs, Colo.

1961 COTTON INSECT CONTROL GUIDES READY

College Station — The 1961 revision of L-218, "Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects" has been released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, reports C. F. Garner and R. L. Ridgeway, extension entomologists. Copies of the revised leaflet are available at county agent's offices, they continue.

Several changes have been made in parts of the 1961 guide and these should be studied by persons using the publication. One of the most important changes has to do with the early season control program, says the entomologists. These changes may be found in the second paragraph of the section entitled "Other Insects."

Another change is the addition of a new section on Three-Way Insecticidal Mixtures. This section was included to clarify questions relating to mixtures of this type.

In the table section of the leaflet, the recommendations for flea-hopper control have been separated from the thrips column. Changes have also been made in information application dates for control of these weeds.

Garner and Ridgeway say there are some new restrictions concerning the use of insecticides on cotton that became available too late to be included in the revised guide. The restrictions which apply to insecticides presently recommended for use on Texas cotton are: livestock should not graze in treated cotton fields or be fed gin waste which has come from treated cotton; BHC should not be applied to cotton in rotation with root crops; one day should elapse before hand harvest of cotton treated with methyl parathion and five days before hand harvest of cotton treated with aldrin, demeton, dieldrin, endrin, Guthion and parathion. These new restrictions are in addition to those listed in the leaflet.

The 1961 edition of L-508, "Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects in the High Plains and Trans-Pecos Areas of Texas" is available to producers in these areas. This publication is for use in boll weevil-free areas only. A few changes have been made in this leaflet also, report the specialists.

Local county agents will be glad to discuss the changes and supply copies of the leaflets.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS —

TRESPASSING CHILDREN

What are your duties as a landowner toward children who come on your property without permission? In what circumstances do you have to pay when they get hurt?

A landowner has a special duty to trespassing children to see that they do not get hurt on highly dangerous things about his place. You can well expect them to wander on your place; it is up to you, within reason, to see that they don't get hurt.

Must you pay for their injuries? Not, for example, if the child should have recognized the dangers, or if he could look out for himself, but doesn't.

The law expects only what is reasonable to protect the child without excessive costs.

In one case a 12-year old child played hide and seek on a lot the owner was building on. Chasing a playmate, she failed to jump over a stack of windows and fell and hurt herself. The landowner was not liable, the court held. The trespasser was old enough to have seen and kept out of danger.

As a landowner you need not childproof your place; you have only to use care and guard against dangers the trespassing children aren't likely to know about. Where a child realizes the risk and incurs injuries "in a spirit of bravado", the courts have often held that the owner was not liable.

In another case though, neighborhood children played in a home owners swimming pool during the summers. In the winter he partly drained it, but decayed leaves and dirt made the pool slippery. Although he fenced the pool off, the owner did not repair a gate that opened on to it. Playing children could see the pool from the street. One day a two year old boy strayed through the opening, slipped into the water, and hurt himself.

This time the court held the owner liable: He should have drained the whole pool, put in the gate, or both. Otherwise the risk was too great: The slippery, partly filled pool was a "trap", easy to reach, and concealing unusual dangers—dangers that a child was not likely to realize—dangers which the owner could have repaired with ease at a small cost.

Pool owners owe a duty of care to neighbor boys and girls when the dangers are great, and could be avoided by proper care.

(This newsfeature, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law).

Mrs. S. L. McKenzie and Cheryl Mrs. Bob Eudy, and Mrs. Linda Robinson and Sherri are visiting their father and grandfather, H. W. Hamilton this week.

INSECT BITES AND SNAKE BITES

Texans are rightfully fearful of snakes, but the fact of the matter is more Texans have been dying over the years from the effects of insect bites than have died from snake bites.

1956 to 1960, snake bites claimed 13 Texas lives while during the same period, insect bites resulted in the deaths of 30 persons.

Last year, 1960, there were 18 total snake and insect-bite deaths in Texas the largest number since 1944 when there were 23 such deaths.

An interesting coincidence can be found by examining rainfall averages for various years, and then relating them to the number of insect and snake bite deaths.

For instance, 1956 had no deaths from such bites—this was the peak year of the recent drought. The following year, there was a jump to nine insect deaths and one snake-bite death.

Every Texan recalls the spring rains and floods that year.

Rainfall has remained fairly average over the past four years providing an increase in undergrowth, shrubs and other insect and snake harboring conditions.

Early warm springs also add to the numbers of snakes and insects active in the summer and fall.

In a recent national study involving a five-year period, it was found bees, wasps, hornets and yellow jackets killed 86 persons compared with 71 from snake bites and 39 from spiders.

Bees alone took 52 lives when victims were allergic to their poisons.

Best defense against insect and snake bites is to be watchful. Tramping through woods with thick undergrowth can be asking for trouble.

Around the home, look carefully in tall bushes and vines before trimming to make sure there are no insect nests.

When exposed to snake-ridden areas, carry a snake-bite kit. If bitten, be still to keep circulation at a minimum rate while applying snake-bite procedures or waiting for help. The victim should seek medical aid from a physician as soon as possible.

MOVES TO BURKBURNETT

Travis McMinn, son of Mrs. Bud McMinn of Silverton, and nephew of Mrs. Gaston Owens, and pastor of the Owens' at Wichita Falls, has recently resigned as pastor of Downtown Baptist Church in Wichita Falls, where he pastored for 4 1/2 years.

Rev. McMinn will go to Burk Burnett where he will be pastor at JanLee Heights, an Extension of First Baptist Church at Burk Burnett.

Rev. McMinn went to the Wichita Falls Church from New Mexico, where he was a District Missionary. He and his wife have two children, Deborah Ann 8, and Dudley Brian, 1 1/2.

During his time with Downtown Church, it grew from a membership of 137 to 521. He baptised 282, accepted 520 by letter, and married 226 couples. Sunday School enrollment was 141 in 1956 and grew to 356 in 1961. Training Union enrollment was 83 in 1956 and was 198 when he resigned. Highest attendance recorded were 315 in Sunday School and 195 in Training Union.

JanLee Heights, where Rev. McMinn will be pastor will be open for the first services about the first of August. The building is now being built and will cost approximately $90,000 including the property expenditure. The building is being furnished by members of the First Church. A new parsonage has also been made available to the McMinn's, having moved into it last week.

STAMFORD RODEO PRIZE LIST WILL TOP $6,000.00 THIS YEAR

Almost $6,000.00 in cash prizes and awards will go to the real cowboys and cowgirls who take part in the Texas Cowboy Reunion in Stamford, July 1st, 3rd and 4th. The largest amount will be paid in rodeo prizes of around $3,000 in cash plus $700 in saddles and spurs.

In addition to the rodeo events, cash and award prizes will be made to sponsors contest, quarter horse show and western parade, where more than a thousand horses are expected to crowd Stamford streets to bring back the sounds and memories of years past.

Reunion President Eugene Swenson says, "The Cowboy Reunion has the distinction of being the largest show of its kind in America—where only working cowboys and cowgirls take part and professionals are barred. In 1961, on July 1st, 3rd, and 4th, we are expecting the biggest western show in the 32-year history of the Cowboy Reunion, with the largest number of riding cowhands, and the biggest crowds. West Texas' working cowhands are just as capable today as they were years past, and we expect several records to be broken this year."

CALLAWAY-EDDLEMAN VOWS SPOKEN RECENTLY

Before a background of white gladioli and candlelight Miss Gay Lynn Calloway, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Calloway of Silverton became the bride of Mr. Richard Dale Eddleman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Eddleman, also of Silverton. The vows were exchanged at 7:30 P. M. on May 26, in the home of the bride's parents.

Earl I. Cantwell, minister of the Rock Creek Church of Christ, read the double ring service.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joe Lee Bomar, sister of the bride. Mrs. Bomar wore a dress of pale yellow embroidered dacron and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Randall Eddleman served his brother as best man.

The bride chose for her wedding a suit of pale green silk with matching accessories. She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible.

Miss Thelma Eddleman of Amarillo, and Miss Jealeta Eddleman, sister and cousin of the groom, assisted in serving the guests at the reception held immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Joe Lynn Brannon registered the guests.

Mrs. Eddleman is a graduate of Silverton High School. Mr. Eddleman is a graduate of Quitaque High School and both are spring graduates of West Texas State College.

They will be at home in Amarillo this summer.

Cap Rock SCD News

The control of moderate to heavy stands of brush, followed with good management, will increase the carrying capacity of rangeland as well as improve the ease of handling livestock. This has become an established fact throughout the brush infested areas of the Southwest. Mesquite can be controlled by aerial spraying or by dozing with ground equipment. The percent of root kill on sprayed mesquite will vary by years and will range up to 50 per cent. Dozed mesquite may be 95 per cent killed. The cost of spraying mesquite is approximately $3.10 per acre.

The cost of dozing is approximately $11.00 per acre.

Cost sharing programs are available to most operators which pays one-half of the average cost. The net cost to the rancher would then be approximately $1.55 per acre and $5.50 per acre for the two methods. Range improvement following brush control may be slow or may be relatively rapid, depending upon the range conditions at the start. Range grasses will increase in vigor and size as well as a change in grass species. Ranges that are deferred from grazing will improve the quickest as compared to those not deferred.

The Texas State Experiment at Spur has shown an increase of 4.5 pounds beef per acre per year for brush cleared pastures. This is an increase of more than $1.00 per acre per year, thus aerial spraying of mesquite will be repaid in two years and dozing will be repaid in five years.

Redberry juniper (local red cedar) can be controlled by dozing or chaining. Chaining should be done from two directions to be effective. The average cost of cedar chaining is $5.00 per acre with a cost share rate of 50 per cent payment where the producer complies. Chaining is effective if done when the ground is fairly wet so the trees will be pulled out of the ground. Range improvement is usually rapid following cedar chaining. The percent kill of cedar from chaining is usually about 30 to 35 per cent; however, those not killed are delayed in growth for several years.

The great Plains Conservation Program, administered by the Soil Conservation Service, include payments for brush control, among other practices.

Cooperators who are interested in controlling brush should contact the local work unit office that assists the Caprock Soil Conservation District.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Davidson of Lubbock spent the week-end with his sister, Mrs. E. J. Hamilton and Mr. Hamilton. On Sunday, June 4 the group attended the reunion at Clarendon of the old Methodist College. This college was founded in 1898 and abandoned in 1927. They renewed old acquaintances of their former schoolmates. The college is now Clarendon Junior College and only two of the old buildings of the Methodist College still are standing.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hamilton attended a business meeting at the District Parsonage, home of Dr. and Mrs. Shewbert in Plainview, Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Poss Hamilton and Kevin left Monday for their home at Weatherford. They had been here helping through the wheat harvest.

Mary Pittman attended the funeral of R. L. McClure in Plainview Saturday.

FRIZZELL-REAGAN WED RECENTLY AT SILVERTON

The Church of Christ in Silverton was the scene recently of the marriage of Miss Carolyn Frizzell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Frizzell of Silverton, to Mr. Bennie Reagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Reagan of Quitaque. Vows were exchanged at 7:30 P. M. on Friday, June 2, before a white wrought-iron gateway which stood beneath an archway of greenery decorated with gladioli. The setting was flanked by candelabra.

Earl I. Cantwell, minister of the Rock Creek Church of Christ, directed the double-ring ceremony.

Matron of honor, Mrs. J. E. Patton, Jr. of Silverton, cousin of the bride, wore a street length dress of orchid nylon chiffon over taffeta, with matching hat of orchid tulle and flowers. She wore a single strand pearl necklace, white gloves and shoes. Her bouquet was of white feathered carnations from which fell a cascade of white satin streamers tied in lovers knots.

Misses Brenda Cornett and Nell Rackley were bridesmaids. They wore street length dresses of orchid nylon chiffon over taffeta fashioned identically to that of the matron of honor with matching orchid tulle hats. The dresses were styled with sweetheart neckline and brief sleeves, set-in-midriff and bouffant skirts. They wore single strand pearl necklaces, white gloves and shoes. They carried bouquets of white feathered carnations with cascading white satin streamers.

Little Miss Jana Joe Payne of Quitaque, cousin of the bridegroom, wore a similarly-styled dress of orchid, fashioned with short puffed sleeves and bouffant skirt. She carried a basket of petals which was decorated with orchid ribbon.

Nicky Long, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer, and the candles were lighted by Miss Nancy Long, cousin of the bride, and Lynn Frizzell, brother of the bride. Miss Long wore a dress of orchid nylon chiffon over taffeta styled identically to those of the matron of honor and the bridesmaids. She wore a single strand of pearls and white gloves and shoes.

Groomsmen were Lloyd Hulsey of Quitaque, and Jerry Frizzell, brother of the bride, Silverton. Butch Hamilton served as best man, and Larry West, cousin of the bride, Ronnie Carpenter, brother-in-law of the groom, Melvin Carter and Verlon Hamilton were ushers.

Traditional wedding music was furnished by Jake Lacy of Turkey and Dale Francis of Silverton, who sang "I Love You Truly", "Because" and "Wedding Prayer."

The bride, escorted and given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace over bridal taffeta which extended into a chapel train. Her scalloped sabrina neckline was embroidered with sequins and pearls and her long sleeves extended to petal points over her hands. Her bouffant overskirt of lace was scalloped along the bottom and in the center front and back the hemline was drawn up several inches and gathered with a cluster of rosettes to form large scallops. Her veil of tulle was scalloped on the edges with matching lace, and fell to waist length from a crown of lace, sequins and pearls.

The bridal bouquet was an arrangement carried atop a white Bible which centered an orchid from which a shower of white satin ribbon fell.

Mrs. Frizzell, mother of the bride, wore a toast-colored lace dress with bone accessories and a white corsage. Mrs. Reagan chose for her son's wedding a beige dress with bone accessories and a white corsage.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Long, in Silverton. The bride's table was laid with a white lace cloth over orchid. Silver and crystal appointments were used to serve the wedding cake, which was decorated with orchid and topped with a miniature bride and groom, and punch.

Miss Barbara Jean Reagan, sister of the groom, registered the guests, and Misses Doris Estes and Darla Peugh presided at the serving table.

For their wedding trip to points in New Mexico, the bride chose a pink lace dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Silverton High School. The groom is a graduate of Quitaque High and attended Howard Payne College at Brownwood.

This summer the couple is making their home in Quitaque, where the groom is engaged in farming. Next fall they will make their home at Lubbock, where he will be a student at Texas Technological College.

GET JOHNSON GRASS

It is a proven fact that Johnson grass can be eliminated from Texas cotton fields in one season through the use of proper cultural methods supplemented by spot-spraying, says Glenn Black, extension cotton specialist.

Herbicides such as naphtha should be used early in the season while cool weather prevails. Diesel or kerosene give best results during warmer weather. Water solutions of sodium dalapon or other chemicals are also effective, Black says. Oils are commonly applied to the crown of Johnsongrass near the ground while water solutions are applied as foliar sprays.

The specialist states that a half and half mixture of naphtha and diesel oil or naphtha and kerosene are oil sprays commonly used in warmer weather. Oil mixtures may be used for economy with C-56 added for increased toxicity, or for a combination of contact and residual effectiveness. Oil sprays kill on contact when applied to the crown of Johnsongrass sprouts 6 inches or less in height.

Sodium dalapon is usually used at the concentration of 20 pounds in 100 gallons of water. It is applied to the foliage and is a translocated herbicide but also has a residual effect.

A man on foot using a hand sprayer does the best and safest job of spot-spraying Johnsongrass in crops, according to Black. He suggests a visit to the local county agent for complete details on this cost-cutting practice in cotton production. Ask the agent for a copy of B-902, "Spot Spraying Johnsongrass."

Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Bowman and son of Denver, Colo. are spending several days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Webb Taylor.

Rick and Rod Mullin of Plainview spent a few days here last week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barbee. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dean Mullins came for them Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hedrick of Hale Center spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter. They brought their dog to leave with the Carter's for a few days while they attended the Lions National Convention at Atlantic City, New Jersey.

All the fan-fare accompanying the recent kick-off of the Centennial observances of the Civil War has set hundreds of communities to planning pageants and special events to mark their part in the great conflict.

One Texas city which didn't even exist at the beginning of the Civil War is planning a dual celebration to mark the centennial of its founding and the 100th anniversary of the baptism of fire for Hood's Texas Brigade.

The city of Bryan, county seat of Brazos County, was laid out in 1855 with the expectation that a railroad, then on its way through Texas, would arrive within a few years and the town would grow with the railroad.

As it turned out, the Civil War interrupted the railroad construction and it terminated at Millican, a few miles south of Bryan. Bryan didn't actually become a town until 1862; thus the centennial celebration planned for late 1962.

This isn't Bryan's only connection with the Civil War, however, for after the war many of the reunion of survivors of Hood's Texas Brigade were held in the city.

Perhaps the most noteworthy reunion of the old soldiers was that held in 1924 when General Hood's widow, her son John Bell Hood, Jr. and grandson, John Bell Hood III, attended and Hood Jr. addressed the assembled veterans.

Reunions were held periodically in Bryan from about 1882 until 1934. That 1934 reunion was the last because so many of the veterans had died or were so ill they couldn't attend. The meetings were always held in the auditorium of the library and a stone on the front of the Carnegie Library is inscribed "Hood's Texas Brigade—Bryan our last headquarters and this building our last home."

Hood's Texas Brigade was made up of two regiments of soldiers raised all over east Texas and in the area around Bryan. After the War many of the veterans returned to their homes in this area which accounts for the fact that Bryan was chosen as the site for their reunions.

After arriving in Virginia, the two Texas regiments were thrown together with units from Arkansas, Georgia and South Carolina and had their baptism of fire at the battle of Gaine's Mill in 1862. Here they saved the day for the Confederates and won high praise from General Robert E. Lee, commander of the Army of Northern Virginia. A few days later at Malvern Hill they added to their quickly growing reputation.

The Brigade was also present at Gettysburg, where General Hood lost an arm, and at Chickamauga where the General lost a leg. Hood was later promoted to the command of a Confederate Corps and later still to command of an entire army, but the Brigade continued to carry his name on through the battle of Petersburg and to Appomattox.

General John Bell Hood was perhaps Texas' best-known soldier. Although a native of Kentucky, he had served as a lieutenant in the regular army in Texas before the Civil War. He once declared "Just prior to the war I was determined to resign and make my home in Texas for life. I entered the Confederate service from Texas." This statement and his association with the Texas Brigade account for Texas' claim to Hood as a Texan.

General Hood was well-liked by his men and had little of the soldierly appearance that West Point often gave its graduates. John Haskell, a Confederate who knew Hood well and who wrote "The Haskell Memoirs" recently published by G. P. Putnam's Sons, said of him, "he soon made his mark and later would have been named by three-fourths of the Confederate Army as the finest commander in the Army."

General Hood moved to Louisiana after the war where he married and became the father of 11 children.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Persons and Tommy Lee of Plainview spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Persons.

Mrs. W. R. Scott of Plainview and her daughter, Mrs. Bob Tannahill, Toni and Jan of Albuquerque, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Persons Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. John King and Mr. N. L. Bedwell spent the week-end at Sunray with Mrs. Opal Broxson and her family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Cavanaugh of White Deer and Mr. and Mrs. Bud McMinn of Silverton visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gaston Owens and Eddie Thursday evening.
