Federal Land Bank Reduces Interest Cost To Borrowers

The Federal Land Bank of Houston has announced that effective on January 1, 1963 it will reduce temporarily to 5 percent the interest rate on all outstanding loans which presently bear in excess of 5 percent. The contract rate on new loans will continue to be 5½ percent but interest payments closed on and after December 31, 1962, will be billed temporarily at 5 percent until further notice by the bank.

In making the announcement, Hal Weatherford, President of the bank, said that of its $260 million of loans outstanding more than $100 million bear contract rates in excess of 5 percent and that savings to Texas farmers and ranchers by this action will be more than half a million dollars in the year 1963 alone. Weatherford said this is the fourth time the Bank has voluntarily reduced the interest on its outstanding loans.

The Houston bank makes long-term farm and ranch loans through 73 Federal Land Bank Associations located throughout Texas. The one serving this area is the Federal Land Bank Association of Floydada, with the branch office in Quitaque. J. T. Persons is the Assistant Manager and the other officers and directors are Raymond Rucker, President, Lockney; Menard Field, Vice President, Floydada; Tate W. Carrison, Treasurer, Carrison; and the other hand, J. Edgar Lee, Mator; and Jake B. Watson, Manager in the Floydada office.

U.S.D.A. ANNOUNCES INCREASE IN FEES FOR COTTON CLASSING SERVICE

The United States Department of Agriculture announced increases in fees for cotton classing services according to K. E. Voelkel of the Memphis Cotton Classing Office. Among the charges affected will be Review Classification under the Smith-Doxey Act. Effective December 1, a charge of 35 cents instead of 25 cents per sample will be made on Smith-Doxey Reviews.

As has been the case for the past several weeks, rains again delayed field operations. Sample receipts were stopped completely towards the latter part of the week. Slightly over 8,000 samples were classed for the week ending November 30. For the season 72,323 samples were classed compared with 143,667 as of the same date last season.

The quality of cotton classed during the week fell in the following categories: 20 percent white, 74 percent Light Spotted, and 6 percent Spotted. The predominant grade was Middling Light Spotted with 39 percent. Because of Preparation and Bark, some grades were reduced; however, the quantity amounted to only about 2 percent and about 3 percent, respectively.

The predominant staple length was 15/16 inch with 54 percent. Forty-five percent was classed 31/32 inch and longer. About 1 percent was called Wasty.

December 14 Is Last Day To Sign Up Under 1963 Wheat Program

December 14 is the last day for signing up under the 1963 wheat stabilization program for farms in the winter wheat area.

"This means that less than a two weeks remains in which growers may file applications to take part in the 1963 winter wheat stabilization program.

Farmers who participate in the 1963 program will be eligible to receive special payments for voluntarily diverting a part of their allotment or base acreage from the production of wheat and devoting that acreage to a conservation use, and they will also qualify for extra price support payments and for the regular price support loan or purchase agreements.

Under this voluntary wheat reduction program, farmers may divert from 20 to 50 percent of their wheat allotment or base acreage, with special diversion provisions for small farms. The diverted acreage must be devoted to an approved conservation use.

Growers are cautioned, however, to sign up for only the amount of acreage they intend to divert from 1963 production. Failure to divert the full amount of acreage signed up would result in the loss of diversion and price support payments, as well as loss of eligibility for the regular wheat price support loan or purchase agreement.

CITY HAS WATER TROUBLES

There's an old saying, "water, water all around but not a drop to drink". That old saw fits the Gaston Owens family as we go to press.

About noon on Wednesday a city water main in front of the Owens residence ruptured, causing a good-sized "spring" to start bubbling in the edge of the street.

When James Brunson and Co. dug a hole to investigate the leak a fair-sized artesian flow burst forth. The break was too big to handle before darkness and cold stopped the operation. As a result the water flowed most of the night.

The overflow filled the Owens' front yard, back yard and under the house, but no water was to be had inside the house. The lead-in to the house was on the break according to Mr. Brunson, and the Owens' water had to be cut off. At noon the crew was hard at work repairing the line. The entire city water was turned off for several hours Thursday afternoon.

So, if the editor and family, had unwashed faces, dear readers, they had a good reason.

Jack McFall came Monday for his wife and their "belongings" and moved them to Snyder, Texas where they will make their home. Jo Ann has been staying here with Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sid McFall, for the past six weeks until Jack could find a place for them to live. Bob Byrd of Snyder came with Jack to help them move.

Guests in the Johnny Brummett home over the week-end were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cates and Don of Spearman, Mr. and Mrs. Adell Williams of Borger, Lee and Lynn McDonald, Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Clark McDonald, Spearman.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson of Borger spent Saturday night with his mother, Mrs. C. E. Anderson and his sister, Mrs. Lela Overstreet.

Mr. and Mrs. Webb Taylor were in Floydada Monday on business.

One - Stop Service Robbed Last Friday Night

Thieves broke into the Quitaque One-Stop Service Station last Friday night, looting the cash register, Coke machines, cigaret machine, and file cabinet.

Nook Bedwell, owner of the station estimated that money, cigarettes, and watches, stolen, plus the damage to the property, would be in excess of $200.

The cigaret machine yielded the thieves $57 in cash and cigarettes, most of that total being cash; $25 in cash was taken from the Coke machine, with the machine being damaged considerably; $5 in change was taken from the cash register and 10 watches were taken from a file case.

Entrance to the station was made by prying open the east front door, according to owner Bedwell. He said the thieves then went into the wash room where they found screwdrivers and a tire tool with which they jammed open the machines in the main part of the station. The culprits apparently were amateurs, since they only took cash, a few cigarettes and the watches. They did not bother his tools and other valuable items, such as a brand new electric adding machine.

Mrs. Corky Morris and Cindy of Hereford spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Morris and Sunday with her mother in Silverton. Corky had accompanied Wanda's father, Mr. Rhea of Silverton on a deer hunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Carpenter and Renee of Tishomingo, Okla. visited here and at Lockney over the week-end. Mrs. H. K. Carpenter, Warren's mother, is staying in the Lockney Convalescent home, and the Warren Carpenters visited her and they visited their daughter, Patsy Martin and children and other friends in Quitaque.

Basketball Teams Split Games With Happy

Quitaque's basketball fortunes, which sagged considerably for a couple of weeks, picked up to some degree last week and the start of this week as the Pantherettes won one game and lost two at the Kress Tournament to cop fourth place, while the Panthers won two and lost one to win the third place trophy.

Tuesday night the local teams journeyed to Happy for a double-header and split the pair, the Pantherettes losing to the Cowgirls 22-39 and the Panthers won over the Cowboys, 61-33.

Last Thursday night at the Kress Tournament the Pantherettes won their opener against Hart, 37-25, led by Janice Dudley who scored 34 points. They went against the Muleshoe Mulettes on Friday evening, but couldn't find the scoring range and went down 19-41. Playing the Kress girls on Saturday afternoon for Third place in the three day tournament the Pantherettes went down once again, this time in an overtime thriller, 42-37. Janice Dudley hit for 29 points in this one with Jennifer Whittington and SeReatha Stephens each adding 4 points to the game total.

On the Panther side of the ledger, the results were a bit better, and with just a bit of luck the Panthers could have won the first place trophy instead of settling for third. The Quitaque lads took a 45-37 win over Hart Thursday afternoon to advance to the second round of play and were moving along in the late minutes of the third period against Hale Center with a 7 point lead when big Jack Johnson was lost via the foul route and finally went down 43-42.

Quitaque and Silverton met for the third place trophy with the Panthers once again having to hang on and outlast an Owl rally to win 44-41.

For the three games played at Kress, Jack Johnson was the top scorer for the Panthers with 35 points. Terry Woods dropped in 30 points for runner-up honors, Jim Saul was next with 28, Bobo Morrison hit for 24 and Cappy Wise for 23, for a very well-balanced scoring total. Johnson, Morrison and Woods each hit a high game total of 16 points.

The Silverton Owlettes defeated the Muleshoe Mulettes for the championship in the girls division of the tourney and Kress won over Hale Center for the boys championship.

Janice Dudley was selected on the all-tournament team from the Pantherette squad and Jack Johnson and Jim Saul from the Panthers.

At Happy Tuesday night the Pantherettes were once again unable to find the scoring range, either from the field or at the free throw line, making only 6 field goals and 11 free throws. More than enough free tosses were missed to have won the game in addition to the many field goals. The Quitaque lassies played pretty fair basketball otherwise, but are sorely in need of a scoring punch. Janice Dudley led the scoring for the Pantherettes with 17 points, and Jennifer Whittington and SeReatha Stephens each made 3 points.

The Panthers looked good in downing the Cowboys, playing what several fans thought was their top all-around game of the season. The Quitaque lads were moving the ball around real well and although many of them were missed, the Panthers probably had more lay-up shots than at any time this season. George Ray Colvin, serving as coach until new coach Gene King arrives to take over, had the Panthers working a full-court man-to-man defense that forced the Cowboys into many mistakes or fouls, which the Quitaque lads worked to their own advantage.

Jim Saul captured scoring honors for the evening with 16 points. Jack Johnson dropped in 13, Bobo Morrison 9, Cappy Wise and Terry Woods each aided the cause with 8 points. With a little less than two minutes left to play Coach Colvin sent in his reserves and they added 8 points to the total, Jamie Johnson hitting for 3 quick buckets and Eddie Monk a field goal.

The local teams go to Kress Friday night for a doubleheader with the boys and girls there. Next Tuesday night the local teams have an open date and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week both teams are entered in the Silverton Tournament. A bracket or list of the teams entered in the tournament has not been received here as yet, so no information is available. However, both teams will probably play Thursday afternoon or night.

Cotton growers have a quota vote coming up on December 11. Cotton growers will vote on whether they want to continue marketing quotas on the 1963 crop. Marketing quotas have been in effect continuously on upland cotton since 1954.

"If at least two-thirds of the cotton growers voting in the referendum approve of quotas, then quotas will be in effect for the 1963 upland cotton crop, marketing penalties will apply to any "excess" cotton produced on a farm, and price support at a level within the range of 65 to 90 percent of parity will be available to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments. The actual level will be announced later.

"On the other hand, if more than one-third of the growers who vote oppose the cotton quotas, then there will be no quotas and no penalties applicable to the 1963 upland cotton crop, and price support to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments will be available at 50 percent of parity as directed by law.

Farmers engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1962 will be eligible to vote in the cotton referendum. The term "engaged in production" includes planting cotton even though the crop is not harvested if such failure to harvest is not caused by the neglect of the farmer. Also, cotton producers whose allotment history for 1962 is protected under applicable provisions of law are considered "engaged in production" and eligible to vote.

The Chairman explained that individual farm allotment notices for the cotton will be mailed to farmers prior to the referendum.

Mrs. Millard McNabb and baby of Amarillo spent last Thursday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Barrett.

Mrs. Paul Bailey and Mrs. Doyle Ramsey were in Lockney to see the doctor Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Dudley of Lockney spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Dudley.

Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Nall spent the week-end in Lubbock with Mr. and Mrs. John Lindsey and children.

Ginning Report -

After almost two weeks of rain, fog, and drizzly weather that had completely stymied cotton and grain harvesting all over the area, skies have finally cleared and harvesting is getting under way again. Almost an additional half inch of moisture was measured at the City Hall here in Quitaque. With a full week of December passed, our immediate area still has not had a killing freeze, one of the latest dates in recent years for this to happen.

A couple of months ago farmers were hoping that winter and freezing weather would hold off until the late crops were mature; now they are in need of a freeze to kill off the still green leaves on much of the cotton.

The local gins report a total of 2,868 bales of cotton ginned to date, far below the total at the same time last year.

Prepared by American Foundation for Animal Health

One of the critical periods that determines whether livestock will make a profit or a loss for the year is the time when calves, pigs and lambs are born.

A basic job is to see that these newborn animals get off to a good start. And, a basic factor affecting that is a healthy, well-nourished and properly immunized dam. Such a dam will be reasonably well safeguarded against stresses and disease which result in the birth of weak offspring.

Health care of newborn animals is vital in every farmer's profit picture.

Although calves, pigs and lambs are born with little or no resistance to disease, much protection is provided through the colostrum, or first milk, of the dam. Therefore, barnyard babies should have an opportunity to nurse soon after birth. But care should be taken to prevent the offspring from overloading during the first 24 to 48 hours.

Other safeguards must be taken too, to protect the newborn animals. Scours, anemia, pneumonias and other problems are altogether too common. Because of this, many farmers today have standing arrangements with a veterinarian, as sound insurance. The doctor checks the dams, takes care of vaccinations, checks sanitary conditions, and takes any other steps needed to assure a healthy crop of young. This plan seems to be working effectively, because more and more farmers are turning to such an arrangement.

Other important points to keep in mind include thorough cleaning and disinfecting stalls or pens used for birth, and providing dry, well-ventilated quarters which are free from drafts.

The Gaston Owens visited her brother, Eural Vaughan, in Silverton Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. George Boyles of Amarillo spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Boyles, Keltz Mayfield and two men friends from Lubbock visited the Boyles Sunday. The men were down here hunting and stopped by for a visit.

YULE CUSTOMS AROUND THE WORLD
Pagan and Christian customs are combined in our giving of gifts. Santa Claus is a variation of the name Saint Nicholas. His festival day is December 6.

Living in the Fourth Century, according to legend, he secretly went about giving gifts to the needy. In one favorite tale he left bags of gold for three girls who had no dowries; needless to add all three were soon married.

Other names for the gift-giver are Papa Noel, La Befana, Jule-nissen—plus many more.

Kris Kringle, for instance, comes from the German words, "Christ Kind" or infant Christ, but is now depicted as a girl wearing a crown and carrying a Christmas tree. She shares honors with Nnecht Rupert, who gives presents to the good children and Pelsnichol (Nicholas with fur), who leaves only switches in the shoes of naughty boys and girls.

Stocking Custom
It is probably from the European custom of setting out the shoe or sabot for gifts that we derive our own ceremony of hanging up a stocking on Christmas Eve.

Some scholars believe caroling is a carry-over from the Roman songs of the Saturnalia. The first songs of the Nativity date from the Fourth Century and German lieder from the 11th. Some 200 years later, carols found their way into France and Britain. One quaint belief of northern England was that on Christmas Eve the bees gathered and hummed carols.

The Puritans strongly opposed singing and even in the celebration of Christmas itself. In England they passed laws in 1644 forbidding its observance, but these were repealed after the Restoration.

From 1659 to 1681 in parts of America it was a criminal offense to celebrate the holiday. Later in our history, George Washington credited his success against the Hessians at Trenton in 1776 to the enemy's evening of Christmas revelry that left them open to a surprise attack.

The worn "Yule" comes from the Scandinavian feast of Jul. Great fires were built to honor the God Thor and to defy the Frost King. The medieval English considered it bad luck if a squint-eyed person entered the great hall while the traditional log was burning—and even worse luck if a bare footed or flatfooted woman appeared.

Twice A Year
Christmas comes twice a year to lucky children in Germany, Switzerland, Belgium and Holland. On St. Nicholas' Day, Dec. 6, good children received candy, nuts, oranges and toys. The bad ones, supposedly are put into St. Nicholas' sack and spirited away.

If the family can afford it, toys and candy are distributed again on December 25, perhaps tucked in a shoe placed under a window or near the fireplace. However, this custom is fairly recent; it dates back to World War II and was introduced by American G.I's.

As more and more Americans continue to travel the wide, wide world, they are making friends everywhere.

For extending cheer to your international friends, here is a run-down of some "Merry Christmas" translations:

French — "Joyeux Noel."
German — "Froeliche Weihnachten."
Italian — "Buon Natale."
Spanish — "Felix Navidad."

Norwegian, Swedish Danish — "God Jul."
Jananese — Kurimasu omedeto gozaimasu."
Swahili — "Siku kuu ya kulzu liwa Masiaya."

Mincemeat Squares A Delightful Gift

No holiday gift is as meaningful as one from your own workshop. To a homemaker, that "workshop" is likely to be her kitchen. And why not? Confections, breads, preserves and cookies you've created are a thoughtful present for friends. Use your imagination in selecting inexpensive but ingenious containers in which to carry them.

Mincemeat Blondies, fruit-filled squares made with whole bran cereal, can be gaily packed in a container which will later hold an indoor plant.

COTTON VOTE CHOICES EXPLAINED

College Station. — The meaning of a "yes" or "no" vote in the December 11 referendum on cotton marketing quotas was explained today by the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The State Committee said if two-thirds of the growers voting in the referendum favor quotas, they will be in effect on the 1963 upland cotton crop and marketing penalties will apply to any "excess" cotton produced on a farm and price support at a level within the range of 90 percent of parity will be available to farmers who comply with their farm acreage allotments.

The Secretary of Agriculture is directed by law to proclaim quotas for the next crop when the cotton supply exceeds normal, but growers themselves decide whether or not quotas will be used, explained the committee. Previous votes on quotas have been favorable.

The committee pointed out that the Administration plans to recommend new cotton legislation early in 1963. It is anticipated, however, that such legislation would supplement rather than substantially change the basic program choices to be presented for growers' determination in the Dec. 11 referendum.

All farmers who engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1962 are eligible to vote in the referendum, and are urged to do so by the State committee.

Allotments for individual farms will be available to growers prior to the referendum, the committee said. All cotton producers who have questions on the upcoming vote are urged to visit their local ASCS office for answers.

How to help keep freedom ringing from every mountainside

High up on a mountainside in South Dakota, there's a famous tribute to four American patriots who did much to mold the shape of freedom.

But even if there were no Mt. Rushmore, we'd remember men like Washington, Jefferson, Roosevelt, and Lincoln. For the landscape of freedom is shaped by what they did, not by the mountainside that pays tribute.

Even today, freedom is shaped by the work of individuals—men and women, like you. Of course, only a few Americans will ever have their faces up on a mountain. But millions of Americans are playing a real part in the defense of freedom today simply by buying U.S. Savings Bonds.

When you invest in U.S. Savings Bonds, you put some money to work for your country right now. At the same time you're putting it to work for your own future. Aren't those good reasons to buy one soon?

Keep freedom in your future with

 John 1:40-42
 Vv. 40,41. One of the two which heard John speak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peter's brother. 41. He first findeth his brother Simon, and saith unto him, We have found the Messiah, which is being interpreted, the Christ.

The Bible does not give us details of that afternoon that was spent with Jesus. But Andrew came away filled with assurance of Christ's messianic glory. His own heart was charged with new vitality by His contact with the radiant Teacher. He was never the same after this interview. "I felt my heart strangely warmed," said John Wesley the founder of Methodism, in describing his first living contact with the Christ. No doubt, Andrew felt the same warmth during His spiritual feast with the Master.

POEM BY CAROL MYERS

The following poem, written by Carol Myers, Seventh Grade student in the Quitaque School, was published in the Amarillo Daily News last week. Carol plans to send it to Ingenua, a magazine for teenage girls, to ask them to publish the poem. Prin. Glen Sanders says, "I think everyone will agree that Carol wrote a very fine poem. A great many people say that not enough patriotism is shown in our country, but I think everyone should know that we still have young people who are patriotic."

Our flag is a great and honorable flag,
 Of stars and stripes and its golden tag.
 We should cherish the flag forever and true,
 For it stands upon a field of blue.

Our flag makes us think of the United States,
 And of the beautiful things and how they rate.

We love the flag so truly and dear,
 And we always so dearly have it to cheer.

It is made up of stars and beautiful stripes,
 And of the beautiful things and beautiful types.

There are other flags also besides ours,
 And they are more beautiful, more beautiful than flowers.

But our flag, yes, our flag is the best one of all,
 Because it always will stand so beautiful and tall.

They enjoyed their visit very much.

Frozen Green Peas With Smoky Cheddar Cheese — A Gourmet Treat

Do frozen green peas always get the "battered or creamed" treatment at your house? A popular way to increase interest in this flavorful vegetable is to combine these jade-green beauties with familiar, favorite foods to blend new, tantalizing flavors. One favorite combination, which is important enough to have star billing on the most important menu, is succulent, vine-fresh peas cooked with a whisper of herbs and combined with shreds of savory, smoky cheddar cheese and sliced stuffed olives.

CHEESE-HERB PEAS

1 package (10 ounce) frozen green peas
 2 tablespoons water
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1/2 teaspoon salt

1/2 teaspoon basil
 1/2 teaspoon marjoram
 1 roll (6 ounce roll) smoky Cheddar roll, shredded (about 1/2 cup)
 1/2 cup sliced stuffed olives

Combine peas, water, butter or margarine, salt, basil and marjoram in saucepan. Cover tightly and cook over low heat just until peas are tender, 5 to 8 minutes. Fold in cheese and olives. Serve immediately. Yield: 4 servings.

CAUSES OF COLOR IN COTTON

(This is another of a series of articles on cotton classing and problems encountered by cotton producers prepared by K. E. Voelkel of the U.S.D.A.'s Cotton Classing Office, Memphis, Texas.)

Weather is the chief factor affecting the color in cotton, says K. E. Voelkel, of the U.S.D.A.'s cotton classing office in Memphis. Only white is the normal color for cotton. There are many factors that cause lint cotton to be other than white in color.

In addition to white, cotton can be light spotted, spotted, tinged, yellow stained, light gray and gray. Adverse weather conditions can produce any of these color variations. Most of these colors are very common in the Memphis area, especially after a killing frost and towards the latter part of the harvesting season.

Freezing, such as a frost or below freezing temperatures, produces severe damage to immature cotton. Freezing of young, immature bolls causes the lint to be discolored. The stage of maturity the bolls are in at the time of the freeze usually determines the degree of discoloration to the lint. This cotton may be light spotted, spotted, tinged or yellow stained. When cotton from such bolls is harvested and ginned with cotton from other bolls that have opened normally before a freeze, spotted cotton may result. This practice of such combining such harvesting is not economical, and should be avoided at all times.

Open cotton that is left in the field exposed to the weather may become dark and dull in color, and therefore lower in grade. White cotton that is exposed to the weather loses its "bloom" or new crop color. A slight discoloration or dullness may result in a grade or more reduction in quality. As the color becomes more dull and darker, the cotton may then fall into the light gray and gray grade categories.

Wet leaves that hang touching open bolls may result in stained cotton. Stains or spots may also be caused by green leaves or other foreign matter being crushed in the ginning process.

In localities of red soil, spots may

Festive Feast Fit For A King

There is something new under the sun in holiday dining whose inspiration, believe it or not, stems from the "royal coffers" of your local butcher. The traditional roast at Thanksgiving and Christmas can be given "new dimension" by the skillful selection and cutting of two pork loins fashioned into a crown roast.

The creation of this regal repast is done in large measure by your own meat retailer. He first removes the backbone from the loins . . . then cuts the meat away from the ends of the rib bones. Exposing the end of a bone in this manner is known as "Frenching." When this skillful surgery has been done, your meat retailer shapes the two loins into a circle and secures the ends together with a large needle and string. This holds the meat securely during roasting and carving. After roasting, decorative paper frills can be placed over the ends.

The center of a crown roast of pork is then filled with bread stuffing made of canned French fried onions — the result is genuinely delicious holiday eating.

CROWN ROAST OF PORK

Crown Roast of Pork
Salt and Pepper
Onion-Bread Stuffing

Season inside and outside of roast with salt and pepper. Place on a rack in open roaster. Fill center with stuffing. Roast in a moderately slow oven (325 degrees) for 30 to 35 minutes per pound. Before serving, place paper frills on top of chop bones. Count on 1 to 2 chops per serving.

ONION-BREAD STUFFING

- 1 1/2 cups butter
- 2 (3 1/2 oz.) cans O & O
- 3 quarts stale bread crumbs (1 1/2 pounds)
- 3 teaspoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 1/2 teaspoons poultry seasoning
- water

Melt butter. Combine onions, bread crumbs and seasonings. Pour butter over bread mixture and blend well. Add only enough water to make a crumbly stuffing. Place stuffing lightly into center of crown roast. If you are using a meat thermometer, insert into the center of the thickest part of the roast and cook until the thermometer registers 185 degrees.

also be caused by fallen or low hanging bolls touching the ground. Other soils will produce similar effect reflecting the soil color.

Besides the weather, insects and disease contribute largely to discoloration in cotton. Each year enormous losses are experienced
