Editor's Illness Calls Daughters Home

Editor Scott who was stricken last week with a serious illness, is resting better, but he will be confined to his bed for some time. He was cheered by the arrival Monday of his daughters and their families from Washington, D. C. Mrs. Bob Tannahill and small daughters will remain with her parents indefinitely, while her husband, Capt. Tannahill is now serving in the air corps, based on Okinawa.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Dodson and children will remain for a week or two, or until there is some change noted in her father's condition.

Mrs. Scott's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. M. Kaufman, of Dallas were here last week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Scott.

The Scotts are very grateful to George Pepper who came down Sunday from Plainview and helped at the shop. George worked at The Post several years ago, and his aid is a boost for Gaston and Glorianna who are carrying on under great difficulty, with the publishing of both The Post and The Enterprise.

If Mr. Scott continues to improve, Mrs. Scott will be back on the job in a week or so.

A KILLER

(The following article was submitted to The Post for publication and tho' we are running it without a signature we have the name of the person who so rightfully expresses his indignation. We agree with the writer—no one has the right to scatter poison anywhere—it is a dangerous practice—and a cruel way to dispose of an animal.)

A killer walks the streets of our city. I know of no other name to give a person who maliciously throws poisoned food into the yards of law abiding citizens, that their pets may feed upon it and die therefrom.

I do not say this only because my young child's little pet of three years is numbered among this person's victims, but also because these acts have cost the lives of the pets of other children and aged widows in our town.

Can any man, woman, or child justify an act of throwing deadly poison into the yard of a fellow citizen? God have mercy upon the soul of that person.

As a community, we need to "rise up in arms" against such a marauder. Shall we wait until one of our children, by accident, comes in contact with this poison? Tomorrow may be too late.

CLOTHING NEEDED FOR ORPHANS BY BAPTIST WMU

The Baptist WMU is asking their members who have any good used clothing to bring them to the church Sunday as it is time to send clothing to the orphan's homes. Their schools are opening and many orphans need clothing. If there is anyone that cannot bring the clothing in, please report to some member and they will come for it.

Gregg Family Gathered Here For Reunion

Sisters and brothers and other members of the Gregg family enjoyed a reunion here recently. Several came early for a few days visit, but the big day was Sunday, August 24 when the home-coming dinner was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ewing.

Early preparation was made for the meal and the family attended services together at the First Methodist church, the large group almost completely occupying all the pews on one side of the church. Several members of this family are charter members of the Quitaque Methodist church.

Here for the gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gregg, Billy and Evelyn Gregg, Zonelle Milton, of Amarillo; Bill Alyce and Kenneth Lindemann of Plainview; Miss Lizzie Gregg and Mrs. Bessie Frier of Lovington, N.M.; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gregg of Phoenix, Ariz.; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Gregg of Lovington; Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Gregg and children; Mr. and Mrs. A. A. WAYLAND DORMITORY TO BE DEDICATED SUNDAY SEPT. 14

Plainview, Sept. 11—Miss Betty Ruth Merrell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Merrell, Quitaque, Texas, is one of the lucky girls at Wayland College because she is one of 33 to occupy for the first time a room in Agnes Mays Dormitory, which will be dedicated at 3 o'clock, Sept. 14. Friends of Wayland College are cordially invited to attend the dedication services and open house that follows.

President J. W. Marshall will accept the gift of the building from Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Mays, Amarillo. In recognition of this gift from the Mays family and associates, the Wayland Board of Trustees has named the residence hall for young women in honor of Mrs. Mays.

Dr. Carl E. Bates, a member of the Wayland board and pastor of First Baptist Church, where Mr. Mays is also chairman of the board of deacons, will make the dedicatory speech, following which the bronze plaque which is being placed by the front door will be unveiled by the young grandsons, Terry Wayne and Randy Franklin Mays, Amarillo.

Miss Merrell and her roommate, Miss Matsue Nagata, Kekaha, Kauai, Hawaii, will receive in their room the hundreds of guests who will attend the dedicatory ceremonies and open house which follows.

The dormitory, a two-story brick veneer, is in modified colonial architecture to harmonize with the other new buildings on Wayland campus but the interior is one of the most modern to be found on a college campus. Striking color combination, Chinese modern light fixtures, many built-ins, and modern design blond furniture provide an unusual setting for the occupants. Two kitchenettes for party preparations, laundry and sewing rooms, special storage space for luggage and evening dresses, as well as bathrooms with tile floors impregnated with carborundum to keep them from ever getting slick show how no detail has been neglected to insure every convenience for the residents.

COLLEGE BOUND

A large group of Quitaque young people have left or will be leaving soon to attend college. Those leaving for Lubbock to attend Tech include Jerry King, Jimmy Davidson, Monte Wise, Ben Cross, Roy Monk, Roy Patrick, Junior Sperry, Kent Fahrenbruch and Don Lewis.

Betty Ruth Merrell will attend Wayland College at Plainview. Rancho Grundy and Henryetta Finney will return to Canyon to enroll in WTS.

Panthers-Exes Bumped Heads Tuesday Nite

Local fans got their first glimpse of the 1952 model Panthers here last Tuesday night when they got together with a group of exes in a game-type scrimmage.

Although the scoring was two TD's for the exes to none for the Panthers the schoolboys did score one time, only to have it called back.

Coach Duvall's charges, without a single letterman between the ends, tore into their heavier and more experienced opponents with a lot of enthusiasm and spirit and scrapped right back all the way.

The youngsters in the line are green in the ways of football but it seems that they are eager to play and willing to learn and chances are the young Panthers will come along fast now.

Coach Duvall has had to shift some of his boys to positions other than those played last year to try to get the very best he can from the material on hand. Elbert Sperry, a letterman has been shifted from tackle to left end, Randall Eddleman, letterman, from halfback to right end, Gus Gibson, letterman, from guard to backfield, plus other changes.

Those seeing considerable action in Tuesday's scrimmage were: Sperry and Randall Eddleman, ends; Gerald Boggs and Emmett Word tackles; Pat Bean and Elmer Edwards, guards; Jerry Hamilton and Carl Brown center; Gus Gibson, Joe Pavne, Richard Eddleman and Corky Garner, backs.

Elbert Sperry looked good at his new end position. Pat Bean and Emmett Word showed well in the line for the rookies and in the backfield freshman Joe Payne showed a lot of promise in the "mail-toting" department. That boy likes football and has a lot of determination and we predict that he will be a good one.

All in all, most observers were pleased with Coach Duvall's squad. The Panthers cannot be expected to win a district championship this year but we feel sure that they will improve on last season's record of only one win.

Situation Bad, But It Could Be Worse

Texas crop and livestock producers are taking a terrific beating from the elements. Economic losses are mounting steadily and should-the drought end suddenly, months and perhaps years will be required in some cases for the most severely hit areas to make a full recovery.

But, according to W. L. Ulich, agricultural engineer for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, unless care is exercised, the situation may become even worse. The high temperatures and the lack of moisture have created a situation that is tailor-made for fires. Carelessness on the part of motorists or any citizen could lead to damages even more serious than those caused by the drought.

A fire for example could destroy what forage is left in pastures or fields; stored crops; barns and other outbuildings; farming equipment; the home and might even take the life of a member of the family. Conditions are such that Ulich recommends neighborhood and countywide action to hold fire losses to a minimum.

A common awareness of fire hazards will do much to prevent the accidental starting of fires. Fire lanes and careful back-firing are practical aids for keeping fires out of woods and pasture lands. Weeds and tall grass around buildings or feed stacks should be removed and warns the specialist, don't burn trash unless you control the fire.

Remember, he says, rural fires are caused chiefly by smokers, incendiaries, and careless burning by rural residents themselves. He adds we can't keep Texas green this year but every effort should be made to keep what we have. The fire season is on. Be careful.

PATRICK FAMILY NEWS

There's a big turnover in the J. K. Patrick family now going on—some changing jobs, some off to school, and Mrs. P. says she and Kelly are facing an empty house. She wants to know if there are any spare younguns around here for adoption. After a full house for so many years, the rooms at the Patrick home will seem quite empty—till the kids come trailing back in for some of mom's good cooking.

Sgt. Arthur Patrick, nome some weeks ago from service in Korea, leaves today to report to Ft. Sill, with about two more months of army service before he is up for discharge.

Virgil Patrick has gone to College Station where he entered A & M college to study for a veterinarian career. He is the first young man from Quitaque that we know of, who has adopted this job for his future, and we can't think of anything that we need more here than a good vet. Since Doc Chandler's health prevents him from practicing, the animals around have had to wait on vets to come from a long distance. Hope that Virgil will choose to locate in Quitaque when he is qualified to practice.

Olin Patrick was here over the week end visiting from Del Rio. He has changed jobs and will be a bank inspector for a five-county area.

Sut (Roy) Patrick leaves Sunday for Tech to enroll on his college work.

The Walter Patricks who have been ranching near Pampa are moving to Farwell where he will be manager of a certified feed and seed concern. And the Patrick son-in-law, Ray Golden has taken a position with the Stanolind Oil

POLITENESS POLICY

Many American companies now have representatives abroad. For the most part these people are salesmen—selling American-made goods and services. But they also are selling America and its ideas.

Recognizing the need for an atmosphere of good will towards its spokesmen abroad, some forward-looking companies have begun to teach overseas employees to be diplomats. One of the most effective jobs in this direction is being done by RCA International Division of the Radio Corporation of America, which sells electronic goods and services in all parts of the world. It has published a booklet entitled "So You're Going to Work Abroad for RCA." It lists 17 commandments and the first and last of these are the same—"Be Polite." Others show the need for tolerance, for learning the language, for being friendly, patient and businesslike. It says, "If you could pack only two things, take with you Tolerance and Friendliness."

FARM INFORMATION

L. R. ARMSTRONG
Quitague FFA Adviser
Mr. Mitchell, our high school principal reports the crops in Oklahoma are in worse shape than our crops here at Quitague. The irrigated crops aren't up to par due to the hot winds.

It is going to be time to plant wheat soon if we get any moisture. If you are going to use home grown seed it would be a good idea to treat those seed for kernel smut. It is caused by a fungus carried on the seed in the form of tiny black spores. When the seeds are planted, the spores are planted too, and in the moist soil they germinate with the seed.

The seedling stage of the plant is the critical one because growth is fast and the tissues are young and tender. It's during this period that the fungi can kill the plant even before it comes through the ground.

Among the chemicals that can be used to treat the seed are copper carbonate, Arasan, Spergon, and new improved cereasul.

Two main purposes for proper seed treatment, first it kills the spores on the surface of the seeds and second it kills the fungi in the soil around the seed.

The sandy land cotton looks much better in comparison to the tight land. It will be where most of our cotton will come from this year. The pulling is in full swing on Bud Bailey's place. He is getting that first cotton before the grade deteriorates. Also south of town in the Fairmont Community the farmers have started to pulling. We are short a few families who are harvesting cotton.

Are you troubled by Red Ants? We had one hill by our back fence and Mrs. Scott Bolton gave it a dose of ant poison and we haven't been bothered since. Some poisons you have to use more than once to kill the young ones that hatch out I suppose. The poison she used contained sodium Flu-Ac-tate (1080).

Watch your okra plants for the plant lice (aphids). They infest the flowers and tender pods. Spray with black-leaf "40."

Specialists present to examine children will be: Dr. E. T. Driscoll, Midland, Dr. R. Q. Lewis, Lubbock, and Dr. R. E. Donnell, Plainview, orthopedists; Dr. R. K. O'Loughlin, Lubbock, neuropsychiatrist; Dr. J. M. Reynolds, Lubbock, dentist; Dr. E. E. Moss, Lubbock, eye specialist; and Dr. J. D. Donaldson, Lubbock, pediatrician.

Cerebral palsy, sometimes referred to as spastic paralysis or birth injury, is evidenced by the child's inability to sit or stand alone or walk or hold objects at the age these things are accomplished by the average child. Research has shown that treatment is most effective if started within the first few months of the child's life although children respond to treatment begun at a much later age.

Parents who plan to bring children to the clinic are requested to register the children at the Center before the date of the clinic. Information regarding the clinic may be obtained by writing Dr. Esther Snell, Director or calling Lubbock 5-6541.

Based on records of 1951, it is predicted that during 1952 at least 2,500 Texans will be killed in traffic accidents, and another 70,000 injured. Economic loss from traffic mishaps this year is expected to pass $100 million.

Married men should be masters in their homes or know the reason why, states a writer. At least most of them know the reason why.

Crime:

The big news in New York and this section of the country, outside of politics, has revolved around the companionship racket that was flourishing in the "cafe society" walks of New York life. Many of the columnists have grabbed onto this expose and have talked about it almost daily in their columns. This makes good material for news stories and columnist comments because of the prominence of many of the people involved. It also carries a tremendous reader interest, since it is a recognized fact that the downfall, demerits and shortcomings of human beings has always appealed to a large segment of human beings. The trouble is that the publicity value of these events seems to diminish shortly after the original story breaks and the whole matter is soon forgotten. The newspapers of this country could do a valuable service if they would carry these matters concerning crime clear through to the final conclusion and the punishment of the offenders. The final conclusion of the case and the punishment meted out to the offender, if found guilty, should be of great importance to people who are interested in suppressing crime. Publicity should also be given to the progress of the handling of the cases and the trials thereof. At the present time, there are several television shows dealing with true crime stories. Some of these are stories that were developed in the hearing of the Kefauver Crime Committee. Great detail is given to the facts of the crime and the story usually ends with the offender being caught. Very little is said about the punishment meted out to the offender and the price that crime exacts. The catching of the criminal is sometimes less than half of the task that faces the state or the government. The big job is the prosecution, the conviction and the punishment. I sincerely hope that the publicity given the uncovering of what appears to be a vicious racket in the "cafe society" of New York will not be dropped, but that the whole story will be told to its final conclusion. It will open the eyes of many glamour-minded young people who look upon New York and its so-called "society circles" as the land of milk and honey. A complete expose of this situation can prove to these youngsters that all that glitters is not gold.

Less Paternalism:
A Junior Chamber of Commerce in Virginia did an admirable thing the other day. They adopted a resolution condemning the practice of every community in the country calling upon the federal government for grants, gifts and other expenditures. The resolution recognized that the bills for these projects must come out of the taxpayers' pockets. It is indeed encouraging to know that the young people are vitally interested in stopping federal expenditures for these purposes. It has long been the rule in many communities that a request for a federal grant was fully justified on the grounds that if that community didn't get the money some other community might. The only way that federal spending can be stopped is for every community to adopt a rule that the only justification for such a request is that the funds are indispensable for the survival of the community, that an extreme emergency exists, and that every effort will be made to repay the funds so obtained.

Grass:
Did you know that in the State of Texas, according to the latest Census of Agriculture (1945), approximately 77% of all lands in Texas is used for pasture (in the Panhandle areas about 63% is used for grazing purposes); that approximately 50% of all feed requirements for domestic livestock in the United States is provided directly by pastures and ranges? John James Ingalls, in his book, "Blue Grass," said, "It (grass) yields no fruit in earth or air, and yet, should its harvest fail for a single year, famine would depopulate the world."

WHERE FUNDS FOR WILDLIFE RESTORATION COME FROM

Funds for wildlife restoration work in Texas for years have been attributed to the Pittman-Robertson Act. This Federal law levies a special tax on sporting arms and ammunition. Another measure, the Dingell-Johnson Act, which similarly taxes sports fishing equipment, helps improve fishing.

The different states get back the amount collected from their sportsmen through the taxes. It is allocated to the state on the basis of the number of licenses sold and also on the basis of the state's area. The money reimburses states for Federal-aid approved projects. Three dollars of the Federal-assigned money is allowed to every $1 of state game department funds advanced for the particular purpose.

Quitaque Elementary SCHOOL HERALD

"All of us can be leaders some of the time if we learn to be good followers most of the time."

First Grade:

We enrolled twenty-three students in our room last Monday, seven girls and sixteen boys. Tuesday morning two more girls joined our lively group.

Tuesday afternoon some of us were out of patience with our teacher because she hadn't even taught us how to write.

We are looking forward to a busy year. We know there is an awful lot to learn, but we are sure we have what it takes to learn it—if we can just remember to be a little quieter.

Second Grade:

Now that vacation days are over, we are happy to be back in school.

There are eleven boys and seven girls enrolled in the Second Grade.

Our room looks clean and colorful. The desks have been sanded and varnished, the cabinet, chairs, and the paper basket have been painted.

We are organizing a rhythm band and hope to play before an audience soon. "Pop Goes the Weasel" is one of our favorite records.

Third Grade:

Nearly all of us are glad to be back in school. We are happy to be with our friends again.

There are thirty-three of us this year. We are the largest class in our school. A new classmate, Kenneth Christy, is among our number. Kenneth came to us from Arkansas and we are all happy to have him with us.

We shall try to do our very best work this year.

Fourth Grade:

David Hamm was selected as news reporter for the fourth grade.

Our enrollment numbers twenty four pupils, ten girls and fourteen boys.

We are all very proud to see the American flag waving high on the flag pole as we come to school each morning.

Fifth Grade:

Greetings from the Fifth Grade! We all seem to have had a pleasant vacation and hope you did too. Now for some real work.

Betty Monk will be out of school some time because of illness. Hurry and get well, Betty!

Our art class is trying to "keep cool" by drawing pictures of refreshing drinks and foods.

We had lots of fun last week playing "three deep" during play period.

Last Thursday Yvonne Wise brought us some pretty flowers. Melvin Cobb added a cactus plant to the growing things in our room.

Sixth Grade:

Another year of school has started. We have twenty-four students who were here last year and two new ones. We also have two new teachers this year. Mrs. Cross is our homeroom teacher and Mrs. Fahrenbruch is our art and penmanship teacher.

The sixth grade is the winner in the "art dues" race. Our dues have all been paid in full, and on time.

We all hope you had a very pleasant vacation and have many more to come.

Seventh Grade:

The Seventh Grade got off to a good start this year. We have a new boy, Melvin Christy. All other pupils are back from last year.

Some of us are bringing "pets" to school. We now have a tarantula owned by Calvin Austin. We also have one plant, a geranium, but hope by the end of the first six weeks to have all our windows filled with plants and flowers.

Our program includes a daily health check for our hair, teeth, ears, hands, fingernails, shoes, and bath. This check is made each morning, after which we have our pledge to the American flag.

We have four teachers this year.

Let's Talk Livestock

By Ted Goulby
Fort Worth—A little known disease in swine, vesicular exanthema, is causing a great deal of dirgarbage is alleged to be one of the principal sources of spread of the disease.

It has been known in California ficulty in the hog industry and some drastic steps are being taken by both federal and state officials to stamp it out.

The disease has quite similar symptoms to the dread foot-and-mouth disease, but the mortality rate is relatively low. Feeding raw for many years and recently has spread into the middlewest. Quarantines have been put in effect in many sections and embargoes on shipment of live hogs except for immediate slaughter at points having federal ante-mortem and post-mortem inspection have been placed in effect by nearly a score of states.

Kansas City reported no hog receipts Monday because of one of these embargoes. It was reported market were under quarantine.

However, both state and federal officials are on the alert in all parts of the country.

St. Joseph and Omaha had previously been temporarily closed and the yards and pens cleaned and disinfected. St. Joseph reported Monday that in some of the territory near that market, a light quarantine was imminent. Community sales in Minnesota, Kansas and some other parts of the country have been temporarily closed.

No definite outbreaks in the South and Southwest have been reported and at present, the trouble seems to be centered mainly along the River Markets of the midwest.

as follows: Mrs. Wilson, homeroom teacher; Mrs. McNeese, English; Miss Strong, reading; and Mrs. Fahrenbruch, art and penmanship.

Eighth Grade:

We may not be the largest class in the elementary school building, but we guarantee that you will hear a lot about us during the present school year.

We are not in politics but we did have an election in our room last week. Our president is Barbara Jo Taylor, vice president, Julia McKay, and secretary-treasurer, Bobby Brunson.

Patricia Allred became ill last Friday. We were a bit concerned about her but she is quite well and back in school now.

Ours has been the privilege of raising and lowering the American flag each day.

JUNIOR NEWS

The Juniors are having a hard time getting started off in school this year. Mr. Cross has made quite a few changes. We have hour classes and our subjects are none too easy. We did have time to elect officers though. They are as follows:

Vice-Pres., Laura Taylor
Secretary, Mozelle Carter
Treasurer, Buster Taylor

WHAT'S BAD FOR SOME IS GOOD FOR OTHERS

The weather man has played an especially prominent part in shaping business this summer. The record hot spell has boosted sales of soda pop to all-time peaks. Pepsi-Cola sales have been running an estimated 20 to 25 per cent ahead of a year ago; a West coast drink—Squirt—is running 30 per cent ahead. Coca Cola, starting from a much higher base, has gained 10 per cent or more for recent months, and White Rock records a 21 per cent climb.

Makers of air conditioning equipment are having their best season, many leading makers being sold out on individual room coolers.

A sour note is introduced by the effects of the drought on farmers throughout the country. The Agriculture Department has declared that "disaster conditions" exist in 11 states. This makes farmers in those areas eligible for prompt three per cent long-term loans to help them bear the damages of the dry spell.

SAFER HIGHWAYS NEEDED FOR HIGH SPEED CARS

How much clear vision should you have to pass another automobile when it is going 50 miles an hour and you are going 60?

This is one of the problems facing Texas highway planners in their efforts to modernize Texas highways and make them safer. They must make it possible for you to see a half-mile ahead, or you are taking a chance at passing another vehicle traveling at a mile a minute.

With highways built for only two-lane or three-lane traffic, the Highway Department has to depend upon yellow paint to furnish the safety factor. Every year thousands of dollars are spent painting the center stripe and warning lines down the highways.

"We are all too prone to ignore these warning stripes when we think we have even a half-chance," says Jack Kultgen, president of the Texas Good Roads Association.

"Sometimes when you are driving along at 60 miles an hour, have your companion clock you. You'll be surprised at how many times you are facing death in the matter of just a few seconds," he said.

Such carelessness last year caused a big percentage of the 206,000 motor vehicle accidents that killed 2,546 persons in Texas.

I desire no added blessing for the coming year but this—that I may do some good and lasting work and make my outward and inward habits less imperfect.

Electric Power

PRODUCTION FOR FREEDOM

America must produce more and more to stay free! And the key to that vital production is an abundance of electric power. With only six per cent of the world's population and only a small fraction of the world's natural resources, American workers . . . utilizing enormous quantities of electrical energy . . . produce nearly half the world's goods.

That abundance of electrical power is provided by the heavily taxed, privately owned electric companies financed directly or indirectly by the savings of private citizens. Since 1945 those privately owned companies have spent $10 billion to increase the nation's electric productive capacity 50 per cent; and in 1954 another $8 billion will step up generating capacity 100 per cent.

Here in West Texas, your electric service company by 1953 will have increased its capacity for production 151 per cent since 1945. Yes, the privately owned electric companies have proved their ability to provide more . . . and more . . . and more Electric Power for Production for Freedom.
