

Congressional Battle May Be Looming Over Farm Crop Export Controls

Representative George Mahon reports that a battle is looming in Congress and in the Administration over the issue of export controls on farm crops. He expressed firm opposition to the imposition of such controls. Mahon advises that a number of Members of Congress from non-farm areas are advocating export controls, pointing out that last week there was a vote in the House on an amendment to the Export Administration Act which would have tended to encourage the imposition of export controls on farm commodities. The amendment was defeated; but Mahon predicts that the proposal is just the beginning of what promises to be a continuing struggle over this issue.

Mahon stated that the imposition of export controls on farm crops would be a serious blow to farmers already severely pinched by the cost-price squeeze. He said, "The clamor for export controls is the result of the August 12 estimate by the USDA that the production of corn for 1974 will be 12 percent less than last year and that milo production will be 34 percent below last year's figure. I think that tampering with export controls is not the answer to the problem. The emphasis must be on more and more production to meet domestic and world needs. If a drastic situation develops at a later date, that would be the time to consider limited action to protect specific domestic needs."

Mahon emphasized that the imposition of export controls on farm crops would not only be a serious setback to farmers, sharply reducing income, but would tend to reduce the incentive to produce and make it more difficult for farmers to finance farming operations. He agreed that the feeders of poultry and livestock would have to take into account increased feed costs in pricing their production. "However, in the long run," he said, "the imposition of export controls would mean less production by farmers and higher costs to the consumer." Mahon believes that the encouragement of greater production is the proper policy for the government to follow.

The Congressman made reference to the vital role of agriculture in supporting stability of the dollar at home and abroad, pointing out that last year would have been a disastrous year for the United States in international trade had it not been for the export of $19 billion worth of farm commodities.

Shallowater Lions To Meet Tonight

The Shallowater Lions Club will hold its meeting Thursday, August 22, at 8 p.m. in Vardeman's Restaurant.

Jack Lassiter, District 2T2 Governor, from Slaton, will make his official visit at the meeting.

The Lions will also be hosting Ladies' Night at this time. All members are urged to attend.

Blood Mobile to Be In Wolfforth Friday Afternoon

The blood mobile will be in Wolfforth Friday afternoon at 3 p.m. until 9 p.m. in front of Frenship High School. It is sponsored by the Wolfforth Lions Club. They are asking for donations of blood from anyone between the ages of 17 and 65 years. Until the age of 18, donors must have written permission of parents to be able to give their blood.

It should be noted that the party that donates his or her blood will have a blood insurance policy for themselves and their immediate family for 6 months. This means that should they or a member of their immediate family require blood due to an accident, illness, or surgery, they will receive two units free. The only exception is Hemophilia.

Please come and help.

Candy Grawunder Receives Fellowship

Candy Grawunder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Grawunder of Shallowater, has received a fellowship to the Graduate School of Music at Sam Houston State University in Huntsville.

Candy earned her BA degree in piano at Texas Lutheran College, from which she graduated Magna Cum Laude in May. She is also a member of Alpha Chi and Kappa Zeta Rho, honor societies.

Candy will work towards her masters in Music Theory with some emphasis on piano.

"Hunting Alligators" isn't a sport everybody would enjoy, but to Norbert Smith, it's fun, for he is studying alligators and currently entering his second year at Texas Tech working toward a PhD degree in Zoology.

He has worked mostly at the Welder Wildlife Refuge at Sonora where the Welder Wildlife Foundation has presented him a full scholarship, which pays living, school and research expenses.

Two years have been spent using a radio telemetry system (designed by Smith) on studying how alligators in the wild, control their body temperature. With the radio transmitter, Smith was able to measure back, stomach and deep body temperatures and heart rate of the animals.

His current study at Texas Tech is a continuation of the field study and presently has 13 alligators at Tech and is studying how they regulate their body temperature under laboratory conditions.

In addition to the thermoregulation study, he has marked a five year growth and movement study of alligators at the refuge.

Three years of study has been completed when each summer Smith is accompanied by his family

Methodist Hospital Open House August 25th For New Building

The new East Building of Methodist Hospital is scheduled for a public Open House on Sunday, August 25, according to announcement by Joe R. Horkey, Chairman of the Board of Trustees. "We extend a cordial invitation" he said "to all our friends in Lubbock and the West Texas-Eastern New Mexico area to take a look at our magnificent new addition on this occasion."

Doors will be opened to visitors immediately following brief ceremonies starting at 1:30 p.m. outside the 19th Street entrance. Dr. Alsie H. Carleton, Bishop of the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church, will conduct the consecration ceremony. Ribbon cutting will follow with Don G. Furr, chairman of the building fund campaign, wielding bandage scissors on a surgical gauze ribbon stretched across the doorway.

At 2:30 p.m., the new C.A. Bickley Memorial Chapel will be dedicated by Bishop Carleton with other church officials in attendance. Named for a former longtime clergyman of this area, the Chapel was built at an additional cost of $46,000 by H.C. Lewis Contractors.

Construction on the eight-story, 190 private patient rooms addition was started on January 14, 1972 by Page & Wirtz Construction Company with a contract of $9,000,000. Furnishings and equipment costs total $2,000,000. Architects were Flatow, Moore, Bryan and Fairburn of Albuquerque; Atcheson, Atkinson, Cartwright and Rorex of Lubbock; and Stiles, Roberts, Messersmith & Johnson of Lubbock.

Special parking arrangements have been made for the anticipated crowds of opening day visitors. Three doctors' offices parking lots on the south side of 21st Street will be available directly across from Methodist Hospital's parking lots.

Church Dedication Set Sunday for Wolfforth First United Methodist

The First United Methodist Church of Wolfforth will dedicate its church building on Sunday, August 25, 1974. Bishop Alsie H. Carleton will be present to preach in the morning worship services and to preside at the dedication services. The congregation has been looking forward to this day for 13 years, because the dedication of the building could only happen when it was paid for.

In response to invitations, Travis and Bonnie Jordan will be present. Also several from the ranks of former preachers and district superintendents will be there.

There will be a dinner sponsored by the church at 12 noon in the Frenship High School Cafeteria. Everyone is invited to come and help celebrate.

Shallowater Resident Captures Live Alligators for Science Study

to the refuge where they are furnished a small air conditioned house on the premises and they all enjoy their stay very much.

Smith's family consists of wife, Joan, and daughter Weena Ruth, 8 years old, and Jayson Hans, age 3. They all accompanied him on two separate trips of hunting alligators while they were there this summer, from June 5 through July 20th. They had the pleasure of capturing eight of the animals, in one evening. The alligators were weighed, measured, sexed and marked, before they were released the following day.

A memorable event this summer for Weena Ruth, was when she accompanied her father to run trotlines that were set out on the refuge and as the trotlines were raised, 20 pounds of catfish were on them, besides an 8 foot 7 inch bull alligator was snared on the line. The brave little miss aided her father in noosing the animal, which was too large and heavy to wrestle over into the boat. So she held the animal in tow while Smith drove the boat back to the car, where Weena found rubber bands for her father to put over the alligator mouth. After its mouth was securely closed, the alligator was pulled into the boat and loaded onto the boat trailer. Weena sat on the alligators back and held it during the 4 mile drive back to headquarters, where the alligator was measured, marked and released. 100 years of wheat

Santa Fe all the way

Mennonite immigrants arriving at Peabody, Kansas in the Fall of 1874, on a special Santa Fe train. (Illustration courtesy of the Mennonite Weekly Review newspaper.)

Car with record-breaking BILLIONTH BUSHEL breaking banner as it moves from a Kansas wheat elevator on March 20, 1974.

The modern 100-ton jumbo covered hopper can be loaded with wheat in about twelve minutes and unloaded in less than three.

Trainload of jumbo covered hoppers, ideal cars for moving huge tonnages of grain and bulk fertilizer used throughout the wheat country.

Back in the 1870's when the Mennonites began their migration from Europe to America—Santa Fe was there!

A representative of the railroad traveled abroad in those early days to influence homeseekers to settle along the pioneer rail routes being built westward across Kansas. The Mennonites were seeking freedoms of a new country and liked what they learned about America.

Santa Fe helped with their transportation, even chartering a special ship for the Atlantic crossing.

Santa Fe built special housing facilities in the settlement areas of Kansas and sold land, much below actual values, to the new homeseekers.

Santa Fe moved supplies for the home builders at reduced prices, sometimes for free.

Developing this new land back in the 1870's was not without hardships for the early Mennonites or for Santa Fe's pioneer rail builders. At that time, hardly anyone realized that their efforts would be rewarded through a few sacks of wheat seed which thrived in Kansas and spread to help make mid-America the breadbasket of the World.

100 years of moving wheat

Wheat is usually moved in a short period of time to meet harvest deadlines, export schedules and marketing requirements. These conditions make great demands on the railroads and it takes Santa Fe's modern facilities, an up-to-date car fleet and skillful employees to get the wheat job done year after year.

During the past century many things have been done to move wheat efficiently. Two examples stand out in Santa Fe's history:

(1) The giant 100-ton covered hopper car first introduced for moving wheat in 1963. Today, Santa Fe has 12,000 of these cars in service, the largest fleet in the rail industry, and 1,000 additional are now on order. Altogether these 13,000 hoppers have a capacity equivalent to approximately 21,000 conventional box cars.

(2) One of Santa Fe's greatest achievements in handling grain was completed earlier this year when we moved a record-breaking billion bushels, a total of 350,000 carloads, in just twenty months.

Those few sacks of seed of Turkey Red hard winter wheat carried to America by early Mennonite homeseekers started one of the greatest agricultural developments in the nation. It's a history the Santa Fe has been proud to be a part of the past 100 years—all the way!

Relative of Shallowater Resident is Member of World Art Show

Bill Farris, a former Oklahoman, and the cousin of Mrs. Clifford W. Conner, started a unique art in 1969 after a back injury.

While confined to a hospital bed flat on his back at the age of 40, he started messing around with horseshoe nails, bending and twisting them into figures. After making the figures, it took him about nine months to figure out how to put the shiny finish on them. After bending them, he spreads hot pewter on for the shiny finish.

His figures, represent 40 to 45 basic occupations, sports, hobbies, and birds.

He has a government approved patent on these figures so that he can go into franchising on a royalty basis.

Bill, now 45, makes his living by making and selling these figures and travels all over the country appearing in art shows.

Featured Homemaker of the Week

This week we feature Mrs. Johnny Williams (Jo Ellen). She is the former Jo Ellen Roe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Roe of Anton.

Jo Ellen and Johnny were both raised in Anton where they graduated from Anton High School. They have one child, Jill who is five months old. They now live a quarter of a mile north of Shallowater.

Johnny served in the Navy before coming to Shallowater, and was stationed in Virginia. After getting out of the service they moved here and decided to settle down. He now works at Reese Air Force Base.

Most of Jo Ellen's time is spent taking care of Jill, but she enjoys cooking very much. Here are two of her favorite recipes that she would like to share with you.

Stuffed Green Peppers

- 6 Sweet Green Peppers
- 1 lb. Ground Beef
- 2 Tbsp. Margarine
- 1/2 cup Chopped Onion
- Salt & Pepper to Taste
- 1 Cup Bean Sprouts, drained
- 1 Tbsp. Soy Sauce
- 1/2 Cup Cooked Rice
- 1/2 Cup Chopped Celery

Slice off stem ends of green peppers, remove seed and cook in boiling water for 10 minutes. Brown meat, add onions, celery, salt and pepper and water to cover. Bring to boil, then simmer 10 minutes. Add bean sprouts, soy sauce, and cooked rice. Put into peppers and bake at 400 degrees for 25 minutes. Extra filling may be put in dish also.

Pound Cake

- 1 Cup Crisco
  - 2 Cups Sugar
  - 6 Large Eggs
  - 2 Cups Flour (cake, sifted twice)
  - 1 tsp. vanilla
- Cream shortening and sugar well. Add eggs and flour alternately. Beat well after each addition. Pour in 10 inch tube pan and bake at 325 degrees approximately 1 hour. Should be well crusted on top.

Bell Means End Of Summer

Monday morning when the bell rang at 8:20 a.m., everyone knew it wasn't a dream. Summer was really over. That bell meant a lot of things to different people.

For mother, it was peace once again; for teachers, more new heartaches; and for students it meant a new adventure and excitement to some, but boredom for others.

There are a lot of new faces. Not just students, but also quite a few in the administration.

But no matter how many new faces there are or what our individual feelings, it is here, so let's make the best of this school year.

Good luck old and new alike.

believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

The Bible also speaks about the love of Jesus in John 15:9. "As the Father hath loved me, so have I loved you: continue ye in my love."

Jesus Christ expressed that we are to daily continue in his kind of love. He went on to state in another verse, "This is my commandment that ye love one another."

I hear some people say that it is impossible for them to love certain people. This is so true for the person that relies on his own goodness and nature. The sinful nature just naturally loves to hate.

Jesus stated through John that "Whosoever hateth his brother is a murderer and ye know that no murderer hath eternal life abiding in him. (1 John 3:15)

Many Christians have hateful attitudes towards their family or friends that is just as murderous to the spirit of a person as that of a physical act.

1 John 2:5 states that God's kind of love can control and operate within our lives if we keep his word.

Romans 5:5 says that the love of God is fully flowing into our hearts

Shallowater Varsity Coach Optimistic About District Title Chances this Year

Coach Grimes states optimistically, "I feel like this is our year, but everyone on our schedule and everyone in the district is as tough as nails. Most years we'd be licking our chops, but in 5-A District anything can happen. It's a shame the boys who started in 1969 had to become seniors when everybody else is loaded."

The Mustangs, who were 3-7 a year ago and 2-3 in league play, have 14 lettermen back. Heading the list is quarterback Bobby Reeves and Don Grimes.

The Mustangs threw better than 50 per cent of the time overall last year and put the ball up 60 per cent of the time during league wars. Grimes pointed out, "We like to pass, but I hope it's a little more balanced this year." To help this, the coach moved Jon Gates to fullback.

Richard Krebbs and either Brantley Adams or Malcom Terry will be at the other halfback. Grimes and Harrison will be the split ends with Stanton and Vaughn at tackle.

The Mustangs have 48 out this year, four more than a year ago, but within the 44-48 range they've always had.

Record Enrollment Set at Frenship

Superintendent Bennett reported that the Frenship School enrollment will be in excess of 2,000.

The first registration showed about 1,950 enrolled. Exact figures will be released at a later date.

by Joe Kelly

Okay, call me crazy if you want to, but I swear, when I went out to work in the yard Saturday morning about 10 a.m., there was the smell of fall in the air.

I can't explain the particular aroma that made me feel that way. There was just something about the feel of it, a sense that, despite heat that will continue into October, the growing season was on the wane. The days are growing shorter and football is just around the corner.

The name on front of the store was "Maloney Pharmacy" and the card I carried said "Walter Maloney". That might not mean much to some, but I thought that it would be unusual to have two Walter Maloneys in the area.

Sure enough, once inside the pharmacy, there was a smiling figure that even age couldn't make you forget. It was the former Texas Tech halfback from Roscoe and very much alive.

Walter and I gradually warmed to talk of Dell Morgan, Raider football teams of the past and players who starred and then scattered. On the wall of his office was a picture taken about 1949. Players I hadn't thought of in ages beamed out.

There was Bud Conley, an outstanding fullback; Ike Stuver, the Ysleta flash; Zombie Johnson, a rambling end; Googie Jackson, a rugged fullback; Dan Pursel, a smashing guard; and more, many more.

That was the squad that carried Tech to the Sun and Raisin bowls. Tuffy Nabors, Bill Kelley, Cal Stevenson, Primo McCurry, J.W. Thompson, Don Williams, a host of players looking so young and so wholesome. They gained the Raiders a lot of fame and respect.

As we looked, Walt started to reminisce. There was John Andrews, a rugged tackle, who "kept a case of beer under his bed. He'd pop one first thing every morning," Walt laughed. "I didn't know how he could do it."

Walt recalled the time John had met some friends just before a game against Baylor in Waco. John got a little tight and the players tried to cover for him, but Dell came by, took one look and knew the score.

"Coach started him that day," Walt laughed. "I guess he was trying to make him suffer. But John played one of his greatest games. He was all over the field. He's married and has settled down, now. Lives in Brownfield and is doing well."

Then there was "Duck" Thompson. Duck loafed all week but on Saturday, when the whistle blew, there were few better fullbacks anywhere. "He stayed in the Air Force and is a general now," Walt said.

And "Ears" Earhart, a flashy halfback who had more moves than a snake. Ears never did quite go along with Dell and, more often than not, found himself on the bench. In one game he must have run 150 yards on one play to gain 10. He zigged back and forth, trying to find an opening. When he came out, Dell asked him where he thought he had been going.

"Coach", Ears is alleged to have said, "there were 22 players on the field and not one of them knew where I was going!"

Walter remembered the Raisin Bowl game in Fresno, California. Tech was getting beaten by San Jose State when Stuver, on a fourth down punt, suddenly broke up the middle and raced to a touchdown.

Gene Gregston, then of the Star-Telegram, chortled with glee and said: "I knew that Dell would come up with a trick play some time during the game."

No so, said Walt. Instead of being tickled by the run, Dell asked Ike what he thought he was doing? "Well, I saw this big hole and just started running," Walt related Ike saying. "But that wasn't Dell's type of football. When he told you to do something, he expected you to do it."

"I remember one time when I was supposed to go over tackle. Here was this big guy right in the hole, so I went outside. Dell wanted to know why I hadn't run at him."

"Well, he weighs about 240 pounds and I weigh about 157," Walter replied. "There's no way I'm going to run over him."

Walter recalled that part of the Raisin Bowl bid was free tickets to the Rose Bowl game between Ohio State and California. The Raisin Bowl was played on Dec. 31, a Saturday, and the Rose Bowl was on Monday, Jan. 2.

"They were getting 30, 35 dollars for tickets in Fresno," Walt recalled. "We started to sell our tickets, and then we thought, well, we could get more in Los Angeles. Man, when we got to LA, everybody had tickets for sale, so we just decided to go to the game."

In recalling Dell Morgan, Walt remarked what everyone who knew Dell realized. "He was rough as a cob," Walt said. "We even used to talk on the sidelines about how we could kill him. He was a perfectionist and he drove you hard. But, you know, that roughness covered a soft heart. He could make life miserable for you, but let anyone else say anything about one of his players and you'd better be ready to fight. And I just don't think I'd have wanted any part of him."

Life has been good to Walter Maloney. He's been on the school board and served as president. He has a successful business. He's well known and respected in Sweetwater.

On his walls are loads of pictures showing him with boats, bass and buddies. He loves to fish and says that he spends too much time doing it. He's one of the many former Raiders who have done well and we were delighted to have had a chance to talk with him after all these years.

The Roundup—Dove season opens Sept. 1, so better get your guns cleaned and ready—and stop by the Parks and Wildlife office to pick up regulations. . . . A week ago, Alan Carmichael and Steve Long teamed up to win the Sweetwater Partnership Tournament. They are Tech golfers and edged, by one stroke, another Tech duo, Tommie Wilson and John Conine. . . . Worried about Tommy Duniven, Tech's heir-apparent to Joe Barnes' quarterbacking job? Don't be. A doctor told me recently that the knee is in great shape. . . . The moss, it's said, is bad at Oak Creek, but fishermen in doughnut floaters are getting big bass by dropping plastic worms into openings in the goo. . . . And Hubbard Creek is producing a lot of good catfish hauls.
