Superintendent's Secretary

Wana Beth Cook has a new job as the Superintendent's secretary. She has attended several colleges, such as Eastern New Mexico University at Portales, and Angelo State. Wana Beth has taught Head Start in New Mexico and also has worked as a receptionist.

Wanna Beth, her husband Clyde, and children reside at 1014 13th St. in Shallowater. She has four children, Neal 20, Dean 17, Dana 15, and Charles 14. Neal attends Texas Tech and the others attend Shallowater schools.

Art, painting, drawing, singing, music and riding horses are Wana Beth's hobbies. Raising Samoyed dogs is another interesting hobby of her family. She teaches art to various people of the community, in her home.

"I've been working here temporarily off and on, and I have to say that the entire staff is very polite, helpful and easy to work with," comments Wana Beth.

Wana Beth says that the reason that she feels that she got the job was that her application was on file for substitute teaching, and Mr. Hohertz, the superintendent, needed a secretary. She has had three years of college and has the qualifications that were needed, so she got the job. She has now learned how to use the phones and so forth, so she is really settled in.

Wana Beth and her family are very active in their church affairs. They all belong to the First Baptist Church in Shallowater.

We want to welcome Wana Beth and wish her the best of luck in her new job.

Friday the 13th Looms Ahead

"Don't Forget" tomorrow is Friday the 13th!!! If you are inclined to be superstitious, you will beware of black cats, won't walk under ladders, or break a mirror, and will be extra careful in order to prevent an accident from happening to you on this day especially.

There are those who laugh at all the old-fogey ideas (they are called), and then there are those who take heed and watch out for all those old superstitions.

It's a fact, superstitious people will turn around in the middle of the street to avoid driving over a black cat's path, will walk around a ladder instead of under it, and believe breaking a mirror will bring them bad luck.

Those that have a birthday on the 13th of the month call themselves lucky, especially if

New School Administrative Offices Moved Into This Week

The Shallowater school officials have built new administrative offices in the southside of the old building, facing the circle drive between junior high and elementary buildings.

This building consists of 2,880 square feet. The interior walls are walnut paneling with red and black (school colors) commercial carpet throughout all offices. The windows will be covered with red and black woven woods.

This building will house the offices of: Superintendent of schools, receptionist area, bookkeeper, tax office, board meeting room, kitchenette, work rooms and storage areas.

Donald Martin and Ronnie Elliott, school board members who were on the building committee, are to be commended for their many hours of hard work in selecting items and helping in many ways for these offices.

Open house for the community to come by and make a tour of the facilities is tentatively set for Texas Public School Week, March 1-5, 1976, or at a later date. We hope you, of our community, will feel free to come by any time.

Volunteers Needed Here for EMS

Residents in the Shallowater area are reminded of the urgent need for volunteers to participate in the Emergency Medical Technician program in order for Shallowater to get an ambulance stationed here for emergency stand-by.

The summer course will begin sometime in May and will last for 16 weeks, and the participants will receive 80 hours of classroom work and 40 hours of in-hospital training, and are required to not miss any classes to be certified in the EMT program.

Six or more persons are urgently needed for the summer course or Shallowater will be unable to get an ambulance here.

Anyone interested in participating may contact Richard Hopson at 832-4033 or J.D. Young at 832-4456 or may leave the information at city hall with city secretary, Jessie Lee Vance.

Shallowater has four persons who have completed the course and are certified. Mrs. David Turner is attending the classes this session and will finish some time in March. Hopson and Young, Harry Leonard, Jr. and Sid Leonard are already certified in the EMT program.

Filing Deadline Near for Political Candidates

Candidates have 30 days prior to the April 3 election date to file for a place on the city council and Shallowater Independent School District Board of Trustees election, to be held on that day.

In the city election, terms of W.A. "Dub Hardin, C.E. Pair and Philip Gerig's vacancy are to be filled. Hardin has announced he will seek office again.

Mrs. George Blackmon will be the city election judge, assisted by Mrs. Vera Meeks and Mrs. Irene Krey.

Terms of Donald Martin, Melvin Stewart and Walter Hutton will expire on the school board.

At press time Tuesday, only one candidate, Joe Randolph, had filed in the school board election.

Bob Grice will be the judge for the school election and the clerks will be appointed by him.

Members remaining on the city council for another term are Mayor Jack DeLaney and councilmen Joe Cox and Doyle Mosbey.

Remaining on the school board will be Jay Stanton, Newman Lusk, Butch Pair and Ronnie Elliott.

they become 13 years old and it falls on a Friday.

Well, whether you are superstitious or not, tomorrow is Friday the 13th and those of you who do believe all those old superstitions, we know will take extra precautions all day.

Want to bet, there's more who are superstitious than not, but they just wouldn't admit it if they were.

The United Methodist Women of Shallowater met Monday evening, February 9th in the church parlor. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. R.R. Warren. Opening prayer was led by Mrs. Louis McMenamy. Roll call was answered by reading a verse from the Bible containing the word "day."

The devotion was given by Mrs. C.M. Thomas.

The second session of the Bicentennial Study was taken from the book, "The Nation Yet to Be," written by Bishop James Armstrong. The study was brought by Rev. Tommy Ewing.

Mrs. Warren was hostess and used the valentine theme. Thirteen members attended.

The next regular meeting will be February 23.

Ag Students Butcher Goats

Friday was icy cold with the temperature around the 20 degree mark all day, and freezing rain was making the area look more like a winter wonderland out of a picture book, than the West Texas climate we are all accustomed to.

But the weather outside didn't hamper the students in Agriculture I, II and III in Shallowater from their planned project for the day of butchering four goats, a first for many of the students.

After the animals were butchered, they were hung overnight and the cold freezing weather was perfect for chilling the meat.

Saturday the group gathered mesquite wood and built a fire in preparation for barbecuing the goat meat, under the supervision of their ag teacher, Kenneth Carr, and others.

Twenty-seven ag boys and girls were present at 6 p.m. for a delicious meal of barbeque, beans, baked potatoes, Texas toast and ice tea. They were ready for the food as they had been involved in a vigorous game of football prior to eating.

Before going home, everyone enjoyed playing games of 42 and spades and were looking forward to the next FFA Bar-B-Que which will be the parent-son banquet to be held the first Saturday night in May.

Registration is Saturday for Local Dribblers

The Shallowater Dribblers basketball program will start again this year with the registration of boys in the old gym at 10 a.m. Saturday, February 14.

The boys are to bring their registration forms and $5.00 fee with them Saturday. Forms will also be available at the door.

Officers for the program this year are: President, Joe Cox; Vice President, Burnis Penny; Secy. and Treas., Kenneth Shropshire; Publicity, Don Enger.

"What are those brown spots on my hands?"

You may think they're just big freckles, or sun spots. Maybe somebody told you they were "liver spots." But they're most likely age spots.

Do you have to put up with age spots?

The answer is no. You can fade age spots with Esoterica Medicated Cream.

Esoterica works because it goes below the skin surface. Esoterica stops excess pigmentation, so the spot fades.

If you use Esoterica daily as directed, you should see a clearer, more youthful-looking skin tone in six weeks.

"Extension Update"

by Georgia Doherty

The 4-H program in Lubbock County will be moving at a very rapid pace during the next few weeks. Livestock projects are being completed as the members show their animals at livestock shows across the state.

Cindy Mitchell, Kevin Mitchell, Brent Drennan, and Diane Hitt, Frenship 4-H'ers, will be exhibiting at the Southwestern International Livestock Show in El Paso on February 7 thru 14.

New projects in Creative Arts, Home Management, Child Development, Personality Development, and Housing will begin soon. We are searching for help in working with small groups in these areas.

If any of you have skills, or are interested in one or more of the above mentioned projects, and would like to share what you know with 4-H youth, please contact our office (763-5351, Ext. 238), Mrs. Nona Hitt (863-2403). A training workshop will be given in these home economics projects for all leaders on February 27 at 9:30 a.m. at the Extension Office (301 County Office Building).

Economy conscious consumers can be "watt watchers" to save energy and money in food preparation.

Of all cooking equipment, the oven and range are the costliest energy consumers in the kitchen. Small appliances and microwave ovens use less energy, and pressure saucepans help by cooking foods rapidly.

Use utensils which fit the surface units to prevent unused heat from escaping into the home. Pans with flat bottoms will absorb more heat, and those with tight-fitting lids will keep heat from being lost. Remember when cooking on an electrical unit, foods will continue to cook three to five minutes after the unit is turned off.

When using the oven, plan to use it to capacity. For example, bake a roast, vegetable casserole and cake at the same time. And don't be a peeker—every time the door is opened, 20 per cent of the heat is lost.

Consumer Update:

Coffee grounds kept in an open container help eliminate musty odors of cellars, basements, closets and even refrigerators.

Skim excess fat off stock, soup or broth with an ice cube. Wrap the cube with a paper towel and watch the fat congeal around the cold cube for easy removal.

Tea or coffee stains in a cup stashed away by guests or family members can be removed by rubbing with a cloth dampened with vinegar and dipped in salt.

Chain store or specialty mail-order catalogs are excellent sources for unique or hard-to-find home sewing notions and fabrics.

Express your feelings to those you love on February 14 with a few words of kindness, a special favor, or a sunny disposition.

Happy Valentine's Day!

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

With its two-week campaign to raise funds nearing its end, the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra will be presented in its third concert of the Bicentennial season at 8:15 p.m. Monday in Municipal Auditorium.

A gala concert is on tap with guest soloist, young and brilliant pianist Robert De Gaetano performing two major works with the ensemble, the Rachmaninoff Concerto No. 2 in C minor and a new Concerto for Piano and Orchestra composed by Texas Tech music professor, Dr. Mary Jeanne van Appledorn.

The orchestra, of course, is under the leadership of its founder-director William A. Harrod.

De Gaetano is a returnee to the guest spot, having distinguished himself with honor in a previous Lubbock performance.

An added highlight will have Texas Tech assistant professor William Hartwell, known for his Tech Opera Theater performances, as narrator in Aaron Copland's "Lincoln Portrait," a selection that is receiving wide scheduling by orchestras across the country during this signal period.

There is a new film in town, you may have noticed. It is a wacky, zany far-out comedy entitled "Sherlock Holmes' Smarter Brother" and it is holding on in the twin Backstage Theaters at Town and Country Shopping Center.

As you may assume, this is the solving of a weird case of a missing scroll by Sigmund Holmes, after his more illustrious older brother has passed on the assignment to his brother. This madcap idea was written, produced and directed by that gifted actor Gene Wilder who plays the title role as well.

It is a reunion for three of the stars from "Young Frankenstein," Wilder, the very funny Madeleine Kahn and the bubbly-eyed Marty Feldman. Add the fine character actor Leo McKern to the lineup and you have the powerhouse four for this wild caper.

The film gets off to a very funny start in its opening moments as Queen Victoria gives the scroll to her bumbling Foreign Minister and explodes with a most Victorian epithet and from then on it is open field running with mainly visual sight gags and situations. Certainly the idea was a funny one to Wilder, apparently, and he scores time and again with laugh sequences. Like all far-out plots, however, it has its dull and arid moments peppering the overall production, but when the gag succeeds, as in the outrageous ballroom episode, it succeeds mightily.

Raucous, raw and rowdy, "Sherlock Holmes' Smarter Brother" will amuse most, baffle a few and provide some good laughs and chuckles if you take it just the way Wilder means you to take it.

Stanley Kubrick's lush and lavish three-hour special, "Barry Lyndon" has arrived at the Fox as has John Huston's version of the Rudyard Kipling "The Man Who Would Be King," set in India of the British days starring two stalwarts, Michael Caine and Sean Connery. We'll be talking about those two next week.

One of the most delightful evenings this past week was found in the Texas Opera Company's delightful operetta "El Capitan" at the auditorium. This happy lark, composed by the noted March King John Phillip Sousa, was badly attended (800) and brought here by the Lubbock Cultural Affairs Council as part of its Bicentennial program, headed by Mrs. Winifred Vigness.

The show was a melodic romp set in old Peru and the young members of the Texas Opera Company, an off-shoot of the Houston Grand Opera, performed exhilaratingly. Ray Hickman in the title role was marvelous and his cohorts were energetic and in fine voice. I had an awfully good time at "El Capitan."

I'm afraid I didn't have as good a time at the Hayloft Dinner Theater a few nights earlier. The comedy this month is that old chestnut farce-slapstick piece, "See How They Run," all about confusing goings-on in a vicarage with costumes duplicated and much running around pell-mell. The professional resident company were put through their paces by El Paso's Joan Quarm and Miss Quarm evidently thinks that galloping action and sophomoric attitudes constitute farce. The direction was very shoddy and the company, alas, performed their duties with pedestrian lackluster. It was a disappointing time, scantily attended, which is too bad.

Perhaps, the Hayloft was a happier place when the casts were headed by star personalities of screen and TV. At least, the performer gave a pivot to the playing; as it is, the company was pivotless and the play witless. Better luck next time, we hope.

Al Pacino still holds forth in that funny bank caper, "Dog Day Afternoon," at the Fox and if you have not yet seen this one, do bear it in mind. It is truly a funny, touching show and Pacino was never better. He'll be a contender for the Academy Award again, with only Jack Nicholson "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest," liable to upset the apple cart. Pacino's been nominated five times for that golden Oscar and it's time he got a break. It's enough to discourage a man. And don't be surprised if sentiment rules the Awards this time and 80-year-old George Burns cops the honors for his first-time acting role in Neil Simon's "The Sunshine Boys," due here shortly.

We shall see, we shall see.

Basketball Spotlight

by Chris Hutchings

This week's basketball spotlight is on six different basketballers. They are Fillies: Donna Evans, Cindy Jackson, Robin Truelock, and Terri Stanton; and Mustangs Steve Wilson and Clay Dixon.

Donna Evans is 5'6" and can play both guard and forward positions. She is a good ball handler and will benefit the Fillies in the years to come.

Cindy Jackson is a 5'4" guard. She dribbles good and gets the ball down court. She can play against opponents taller than her.

Robin Truelock is 5'5" in height. She can play both ends of the court, and is a tough competitor. She will not ease up on her opponent.

Terri Stanton is a 5'6" forward. She is a good ballhandler and with her ability to drive, along with her jumpshot, she will help the Fillies in the future.

Steve Wilson is 6'1" in height. He plays forward and can also play the post position. He is an all-round player, good on both defense and offense. With his agility and aggressiveness, the Mustangs are glad he has another year.

Clay Dixon has seen limited action on the Mustang squad because he joined the team late in the season. Clay is 6'1" and plays forward, post, and guard positions. With his good moves, he will surely have a spot on the team next year.

This is the last edition of the Spotlight in Basketball. Look for the stars of spring activities such as track, golf, and tennis.

Senior Spotlight

This week's Senior Spotlight shines on Susan Heinen and Patricia Ortiz.

Susan is the daughter of Mrs. Norma Heinen. She is looking forward to her 18th birthday on June 23rd which makes her a Cancer.

The ocean and mountains are Susan's favorite "things". Swimming, mountain climbing, sewing, and doing crewel work are her hobbies.

Susan is a member of FTA, in which she is president, FHA, where she is parliamentarian, and DECA.

Susan recalls that only having to go to school half a day, and working the other half, is the most enjoyable part of this year. After graduation, she plans to go to Eastern New Mexico in Portales. She is interested in making floristry her career.

"My senior year is a lot of fun especially the weekends and holidays," comments Susan.

Patricia Ortiz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sabas Ortiz, fills the other half of the spotlight this week.

Patricia is a 17 year old Pisces. Her favorite subjects are typing, because "It's an experience I hope never to forget," and Home and Family Living, because "It prepares you for the future." Pat's favorite "things" are the color blue, watching television, and her favorite food is tamales.

Drawing and sewing are her hobbies. After graduation she plans to rest a couple of years then go into the field of art.

"I've enjoyed all 11 years that I've gone to the Shallowater schools and I want my 12th year to be the best. I am proud of our school," comments Patricia.

FHA

On February 2, 31 FHA members attended the monthly meeting which was held at the Flame Room of Pioneer Natural Gas in Lubbock.

Miss Emily Cawhope presented a demonstration on party foods, stressing that when one entertains, the food should be pleasing to the guests, pretty, have a variety of textures and flavors, and be attractively served. If the food is well planned and prepared in advance, then the hostess can enjoy entertaining.

Fruit Pizza, Fresh Vegetable with Spicy Russian Sauce, Miniature Sausage Pizza, and Raspberry Punch were made and served. Recipes for the refreshments were later distributed to the members. Everyone enjoyed the program.

The annual FHA Sweetheart Banquet will be Saturday, February 14, at the Villa Inn, by the pool. A candle-light dinner will be served to those FHA members and their dates. The theme of the banquet is Bicentennial Hearts with red, white and blue hearts used as decorations. To attend the banquet, the FHA girls must have 25 points which they have worked for this year. FHA girls have until Friday the 13th to earn their banquet points.

Student Council

by Kim McMenemy

Wednesday, February 4, the Shallowater Student Council met. Several things were on the agenda. Among them was the Coke machine, trash in the halls, and the problem of no assemblies.

The Student Council voted to move the Coke machine into the hall where it could more easily be taken care of. They also set up a system of picking up trash in the halls.

Every one of the students on the Shallowater campus has been wanting more assemblies, so right now the Student Council is contacting various agencies and groups to locate more assemblies for our high school students and faculty.

Cupid Returns

by Laura Walker

Dimpled and smiling, Cupid will return to the world of paper valentines, big red hearts, and secret admirers. Valentine's Day is the festival of romance and affection. Armed with his bow and quiver of arrows, Cupid pierces the hearts of young and old, causing love, jealousy, and heartbreak.

This worldwide holiday began as a pagan festival in ancient Rome. The festival, called Lupercalia, honored Juno, the goddess of women and marriage, and Pan, the god of nature. Cupid was the mischievous son of Venus, the goddess of love in Roman mythology.

People celebrate Valentine's Day around the world. Some of the customs and beliefs are very different from that of our own society.

In Italy, young unmarried women get up before sunrise on February 14 and stand by their window. Each believes the first man she sees will become her husband in the next year. In Denmark, a boy writes a rhyme but doesn't sign his name; he then sends it to the girl of his choice. If she guesses who he is, he sends her an Easter egg on the following Easter.

Cupid returns each year bringing smiles and laughter; so perhaps, this will be your year!

Fillies Last Game

by Kim McMenemy

The Fillies played their last game of the season. They played good and it looked like they were going to win, but Stanton got hot. The second half, they went ahead and managed to hold and increase their lead. The final score was Fillies 46 and Stanton 62. Kim Young had 16 points for the Fillies to lead all scorers.

There are three Fillies who really did a great job for the team this season. They are senior members Jeannye Hunter, Kim Young, and Laura Thompson.

The Mustangs also played Stanton. Like the girls, the Mustangs played well through most of the game. They were beating Stanton until the fourth quarter and then the whole team started getting in foul trouble. Stanton barely squeezed past them. The final score was Stanton 52 and Shallowater 48. Kim McMenemy was high point with 17.

Teacher Spotlight

This week's teacher spotlight shines on Miss Janice Dillard. Miss Dillard has been with our school system for 6 years. She teaches Physical Science, biology, chemistry, and just about any other kind of high school science.

Knitting, music, the piano, her stereo equipment, and her aquariums are Miss Dillard's hobbies.

As you all know, Miss Dillard has had some pretty interesting experiences and knows a lot of funny stories so we asked her to tell one of the most interesting experiences she's had during her teaching career. So, here it is:

"One of the fondest memories of my 11 year teaching career concerned a little fellow named Harry Herbert. Harry was a nine-inch hognose snake that I kept as a pet for two years. To begin with, he struck terror in the hearts of students when school began, but by the end of first semester, students nearly had fights over who could hold Harry. He would spend the class period crawling in and among the rings of notebooks or nose around in the crevices formed by students books and belongings.

He actually liked the attention as much as any cat or dog. His favorite place of the day was my lab coat pocket from which he would poke his head and taste the air with his tongue. Should someone come near that didn't suit his taste, he would quickly pull in his head back into the warmth and safety of my pocket.

"His favorite diet was dime sized frogs, and it was nothing for him to eat six or seven in one day. One time he ate eleven, and then was so full he couldn't bend. I still meet former students that I had during Harry Herbert days and they inquire as to his demise. Harry Herbert was indeed the most interesting memory of my early years as a teacher."
