

SPAG Okays City Water Tank Request

Michael Newton Presents Gold Leaf Painting to Brigadier General

Three years ago, Michael D. Newton of Shallowater, Texas, was a student in an art history class. One day he was thinking about the Egyptians and their art work. Out of his daydreams evolved a unique technique of gold leaf painting, never before developed.

According to Newton, few imitators have attempted to reproduce the process; none have happened across the exact methods.

Now a Department of the Army civilian, Newton recently presented Brigadier General Vincent deP. Gannon Jr., U.S. Army Europe Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel (DCPER), Headquarters, U.S. Army Europe and Seventh Army, Germany, with a gold leaf Bicentennial painting for the DCSPER conference room.

The pen and ink figure, drawn on a sheet of window glass, is placed on a 14 carat gold leaf background.

Newton, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Newton, Route 1, is a graphic artist in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel.

A 1968 graduate of Smyer High School, he attended Texas Technological University and served with the U.S. Army in Europe before his present assignment.

The city of Shallowater completed one more step in applying for federal money to build a 50,000 gallon overhead water storage tank Tuesday.

At a board of directors meeting, the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) granted favorable comment to the city's request for $148,500 in Community Development funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD).

Shallowater can now make formal application to HUD for part of the more than $300,000 provided in Community Development funds to Lubbock County.

According to Fire Insurance Water Storage Requirements, the city should maintain an overhead storage capacity of 85,000 gallons of water. Currently, the city has a 50,000 gallon elevated tank. For the past two weeks, the city has conducted public hearings for citizen input into the proposed project.

Bond issues have provided money for additional well construction, ground storage of water, and enlargements in the water distribution system. Benefits from the additional overhead storage tank would include increased water pressure.

According to the project review docket for the SPAG meeting, the city is concerned over "the threat posed by frequent transportation of tanks of toxic and highly volatile chemicals along a railroad track (within the city limits). If an explosion should occur, water pressure would not be sufficient and could not be maintained long enough to effectively fight the fire."

The city is still awaiting a Farmers Home Administration approval for a $300,000 bond issue passed by Shallowater voters in November, 1974, for the construction of a 350,000 gallon reservoir. The city also needs a grant of easement from the Texas Railroad Commission to construct a waterline along railroad property before construction of the reservoir can begin.

Community Blood Drive Scheduled March 22nd

A community blood drive will be held March 22, 1976, at the First Baptist Church in Shallowater from 5 to 8 p.m.

The next person to need blood could be you. If you believe your need for blood is remote, consider that each and every day more than 24,000 units of blood are transfused in the United States, over 8 million units per year.

The demand for blood increases and yet less than 3 per cent of our nation's population provide the needed blood.

Unless more people become blood donors the supply will fall short of the demand. Human life depends on blood donors.

Shallowater Lions Club to Meet

The Lions Club will have a regular meeting Thursday, March 11 at 7 p.m. at the Shallowater Restaurant. Darlene Herring of Blood Services of Lubbock will be speaking.

Defensive Driving Course Offered

The Shallowater Volunteer Fire Department is sponsoring a defensive driving course to be held March 22-29, Monday night 6 to 10, in the high school auditorium.

Instructor for the course is Burt Sinclair, Highway Patrol Training Division.

Anyone interested may attend. The course is open to the entire community, providing you have a drivers license. At completion of the course you are entitled to 10 percent off of your auto insurance. There is a $3.00 tuition fee, and coffee and donuts will be served.

You may register anytime at city hall.

There may be some apprehension about donating blood, but millions are alive because someone gave "The Gift of Life." Would you understand if no one donated blood for you to stay alive?

The entire process only takes about 30 minutes. Let's have a good showing of blood donors in Shallowater. You may stop by for a blood count or a blood pressure check.

Lions Club Broom Sale Set

The Shallowater Lions Club will hold their annual Broom Sale Friday, March 12 at City Hall. The proceeds from this sale will be used for Texas Lions' Crippled Children's Camp.

If you are needing a new broom or other household items, come by city hall. These products are made by blind workmen.

Shallowater Ag Boosters Meeting Is Monday Evening

The Shallowater Ag Booster Club will meet Monday, March 15 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. A meal will be served. All interested parties should make reservations by calling Mr. Kenneth Carr at the school before noon on Friday, March 12th.

The Shallowater Ag Boosters will sponsor a program on "Greenbug Resistant Varieties of Grain Sorghum." If you are a member, non-member, farmer or not, between the ages of 18 and 118 and interested in Shallowater agriculture, you are invited to attend.

The date is Monday, March 15 at 7:30 p.m.

Southwest Junior Livestock Show Scheduled for March 14 thru 17

Final plans and arrangements are being made for this year's Southwest Junior Livestock Show according to Johnny Bob Carruth the Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce's Southwest Junior Livestock Show committee.

Carruth said that the activity pace is picking up as time nears for this 43rd annual show. The show will be held March 14 through March 17 at the Panhandle South Plains Fair Grounds in Lubbock. The show will again be kicked off with the selection of the Show princesses which will be held in the Fair Park Coliseum at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday, March 14.

The 40 young ladies competing for the title of 4-H Princess and FFA Princess of the Show includes Cindy Mitchell, 17, representing the Frenship FFA Chapter, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Mitchell of Wolfforth; Patti Pior, 15, representing the Cooper FFA Chapter, daughter of Barbara Hester of Lubbock; and Lesa DuLaney, 15, representing the Shallowater 4-H Club, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack DuLaney of Shallowater.

New events scheduled for this year's show will be a Farm and Ranch Implement Display that will run for the duration of the show.

Maunder Named New DeKalb Vice President

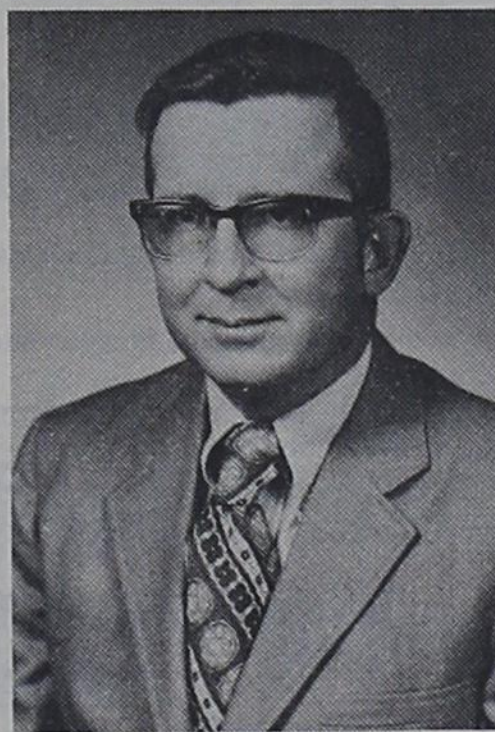

Dr. Bruce Maunder, Lubbock, has recently been promoted to vice president of sorghum research for DeKalb AgResearch, Inc., a northern Illinois based seed company, according to Tom Roberts, Jr., president.

Roberts says Maunder's new role will include responsibilities for sorghum research in the United States, Argentina, Brazil and Australia. Maunder began work for DeKalb in 1960 and his directed sorghum research efforts for the company since 1961.

"Because of his alert and early recognition of the threat posed by greenbugs," Roberts says, "Maunder has enabled our company to market hybrids with resistance to this pest in volume this year, well ahead of all competitors." Roberts expects this accomplishment to have substantial and long-lasting competitive gains for the company's hybrids.

Roberts credits Maunder with the release of more than 50 commercial grain sorghum type hybrids which are now in use by farmers on approximately 6 million acres in the U.S., Mexico, Argentina and Australia.

Maunder graduated from Purdue University in 1960 with a Ph.D. in genetics and plant breeding; undergraduate work at the University of Nebraska. He's listed in Who's Who of America and was winner of the Gerald Thomas Outstanding Agriculturist Award in 1974. The University of Nebraska recognized Maunder as a Master Alumni in 1973 and he now serves in the Chancellor's Committee for Excellence in Crop Physiology.

Professionally, Maunder is a member of the American Society of Agronomy, Council for Agricultural and Scientific Technology, High Plains Nutrition Council and the American Seed Trade Association.

Two other plant breeders named as DeKalb vice presidents include: Dr. Basil Tsotsis, vice president of corn research, DeKalb, Illinois and Dr. J.A. Wilson, vice president of wheat research, Wichita, Kansas.

United Methodist Women Meet

The United Methodist Women met Monday evening, March 8, in the church parlor. The meeting was called to order by president, Mrs. R.R. Warren. Prayer was led by Rev. Tommy Ewing. Roll call was answered by reading a Bible verse containing the word "diligent" or "diligence."

The devotion was given by Mrs. B.H. Thomas.

The Bicentennial study was presented by Rev. Tommy Ewing. "Dynasty of America" was the topic discussed. Informal discussion followed.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Warren. There were fourteen members present. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Paul Isbell.

The next regular meeting will be held Monday, March 22.

Production Costs, Grain Grading Highlight Annual GSPA Meeting

Cost of production, grain grading problems, and grain marketing potentials are topics which will highlight the annual membership meeting of Grain Sorghum Producers Association on March 12.

The day-long session will begin with registration at 9 a.m. at the Hilton Inn, 4th St. and Ave. Q, and will continue through the morning with talks by agricultural representatives. Presiding will be GSPA vice president Mabry Foreman of Felt, Okla.

The afternoon business session will be devoted to discussion and adoption of policies for the coming year. GSPA president A.W. (Dub) Anthony, Jr. of Friona, Texas, will preside. The business session will be followed by an executive committee meeting, which is open only to committee members.

Dr. Burton French of Washington, D.C., chairman of the USDA task force which conducted the nationwide cost of production study, will discuss findings of the survey.

Ross R. Stuard of Fort Worth, Texas, a federal grain inspector, will discuss recent grain grading problems and their possible solutions.

Hubert Dyke of Washington, D.C., vice president of U.S. Feed Grains Council, will discuss the financial responsibility of the producer in overseas market development.

GSPA directors will elect new officers and the executive committee for the coming year.

Paul Harvey to Appear at Texas Tech March 16th

News commentator Paul Harvey will visit Lubbock and Texas Tech University on March 16.

During his one-day visit, sponsored by the Business Administration Council (BAC) of the college of business administration at Texas Tech as a bi-centennial event, Harvey will speak on "A Time to Be Alive" at 8:15 p.m. in the Municipal Auditorium.

Tickets are $3 and $4, and are available at Hemphill-Wells, Furr's Family Center, University Center, Dunlap's, Montgomery Ward, and room 172 in the Business Administration Building.

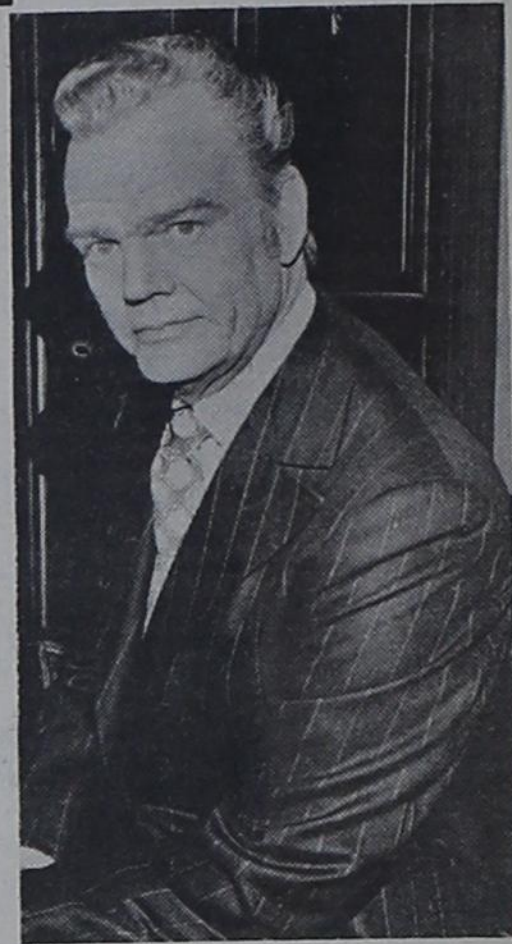

Harvey is scheduled to arrive at 4:30 p.m., Tuesday (March 16), by personal jet. He will meet with Dr. Carl Stem, dean, college of business administration, and student and faculty representatives. The Saddle Tramps have planned a red carpet welcome for Harvey when he arrives on campus.

Paul Harvey News, often referred to as the world's largest one-man news network, covers about 600 radio stations, 100 TV stations and 300 newspapers.

He has four record albums which include his personal philosophy and a collection of voices of great evangelists of the past. He has also authored four books: "Remember These Things," "Autumn of Liberty," "The Rest of the Story," and "You Said It."

Listed among the "Ten Best-Dressed Men," Harvey has been the recipient of nine honorary degrees from various colleges and universities around the country.

He has been chosen as First Annual Colonial American for 1976. The citation says: "Paul Harvey, modern Minute Man and American Patriot who communicates nationwide the true spirit of '76'"

"The BAC is sponsoring Harvey's visit to Lubbock to give West Texans the opportunity to hear this commentator who is so popular in this area," said Rick Liberty, student president of the BAC.

Revival at First Baptist

The First Baptist Church of Shallowater will hold a spring revival, April 4-11. The Rev. Al Cummins, First Baptist Church of Georgetown will be the guest speaker.

This year's "cornbread and beans" buyers lunch will start at noon in the Merchants Building and will cost only 50 cents per plate.

Immediately prior to the sale of the champion animals will be a presentation of the memorial plaque to the family of the late Roy Furr, to whom this year's show is being dedicated. All judging events are open to the public and everyone is invited to attend.

Plains Cotton Growers to Elect New Businessman Director

Lubbock County cotton producers and agribusinessmen will elect a Businessman Director to Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. at Underwood's Cafeteria, 711 34th Street, Lubbock, at 12 noon Thursday, March 18. PCG will host a luncheon for the meeting.

Announcement of election arrangements comes from W.B. Criswell of Idalou, Lubbock County Producer Director and current President of the 25-county commodity organization, and John Herzer of Lubbock, current Businessman Director. Each of the counties in PCG territory has two directors, one a businessman and the other a cotton producer. They are elected on alternate years to serve two-year terms. Each normally is eligible for re-election every second year, but Herzer has indicated he may not be living in Lubbock for the full two-year term and will not accept re-election.

Criswell and Herzer are urging all interested parties to attend and take part in the election, in which both farmers and businessmen are eligible to vote.

PCG Executive Vice President Donald Johnson will conduct the election, present a brief summary of PCG objectives and activities and answer any questions concerning the commodity organization and its work.

throughout 29 counties on the South Plains.

"Extension Update"

by Georgia Doherty

4-H'ers are busy this week in a wide variety of activities including a major livestock show in Lubbock, beginning projects in creative arts, management, and other home economics projects, safety with fire arms, and trying to earn money. What an array of exciting events.

The Southwest Junior Livestock Show will begin March 14 and continue through March 17 at the Panhandle South Plains Fair Grounds. Lubbock County 4-H'ers will be exhibiting steers, lambs, and barrows and will compete with 4-H'ers and FFA members

A money making project for the 4-H program will also be underway at 8:00 a.m. on Saturday, March 20, when all 4-H'ers will be participating in the "Barn Clean-Up" at the fair grounds. A pot luck lunch will also be served at noon for all participating 4-H families.

Attention 4-H leaders!! The Texas 4-H Leader Forum is scheduled for April 7-10 at the Texas 4-H Center, Brownwood, Texas. This is an educational experience that promises to be quite motivating and rewarding. Applications are due in the county office by March 19.

The rifle project is once more underway. If you are interested, the meetings are on Saturdays at 9:30 a.m. at the American Legion, off the Brownfield Highway on 66th Street. Contact Mrs. James Swan at 792-2578 for more details.

The Lubbock County Home Demonstration Council is sponsoring a county-wide Tasting Tea on Friday, March 19. In addition to tasting lots of "goodies" you will be treated to skits and lots of fun activities. Everyone is invited to attend.

If you have any questions concerning 4-H or any problem dealing with foods, clothing, home furnishings, or other aspects of home economics or agriculture, contact the County Extension Office at 763-5351, Ext. 235. We are here to help you.

Consumer Update

When buying shelled pecans for cooking, remember that most shelled pecan meats available in grocery stores come from native varieties. Generally two and one-half pounds of native pecans in the shell will yield one full pound of meats, about four cups, when shelled.

Texas weaves about 1.5 per cent of the nation's finished fabrics.

For even drying in the least amount of time, put similar items together in the dryer. Another energy-saving suggestion is to dry one load immediately after another to conserve the heat build-up.

To prevent food-borne illness, avoid using the same utensils, cutting boards and counters for both raw and cooked foods. Careful washing with soap and water between uses will help the family avoid sickness.

Keep old toothbrushes handy in the kitchen for cleaning hard to reach corners or small electrical appliances.

Consider garment styling, fashion fabric and personal preferences when selecting interfacing for home sewing. Whether achieving a soft or tailored look, individual preferences determine the extent to which the look is interpreted in the garment.

Good communication is essential in the marriage relationship.

Matters of heresy depend upon the point of view.

Sheridan's Ride

by Jack Sheridan

It was inevitable, of course, that this Bicentennial year would see a revival around the country of the recent New York theatrical success, "1776."

This is the bright, amusing and colorful play with music set in the chamber and anteroom of the Continental Congress in Philadelphia during that fateful, hot and steamy summer of 1776 as the varied lawmakers strive to reach the ultimate moment in the Revolutionary period, the drafting, adoption and signing of the Declaration of Independence.

Here are all the principals in the nation's drama, John Adams, Benjamin Franklin, John Hancock, Thomas Jefferson and all the others. They bicker, they cavort, they suffer and they triumph over all odds in the tolling of the famed Liberty Bell.

In the play there are only two women who appear intermittently, Abigail Adams and Martha Jefferson.

"1776," in its New York presentation, was played, and rightly so, without intermission. However, in its touring performances west of the Hudson River, the play is broken into two parts, which, in effect, lessens the momentum and impact, I think.

"1776" played the Auditorium under Civic Lubbock auspices a couple of years back on its first transcontinental tour. Last week "1776" came back, as anticipated, this time to the stage of the Monterey High School Auditorium, under the flag of the Lubbock Community Concerts Association, the final event of their 1975-76 season.

What New York's Gingerbread Productions sent on the road this time was a good, workable presentation that filled the bill. The setting was right and the players competent. I think the piece, which was performed to an almost-full house, suffered from a lack of sharp, incisive strength overall. The play must have strong personalities and forceful ones in the roles of Adams, Jefferson, and, certainly, that doughty, bawdy, shrewd Benjamin Franklin. It was in this latter role that the production was weak which reflected down through the others. It was not a poor show, not at all. It just seemed somewhat pedestrian, without those flashes of brilliance that can mark the play.

Now I want to direct your attention to the current membership drive that has been responsible for a whole parade of outstanding recitals and performances in Lubbock down through the years. This is the Lubbock Community Concerts Association and each year they have a drive for renewals and for new memberships for the oncoming season. The drive is only a week long and one should remember that admission to the entire season is contained in a membership; it is the policy that, once the drive is over, the ticket sales are done. One cannot purchase tickets at the box office for any of the LCCA slate.

When one considers that there are four or five attractions on the season at a price of $12 for adults and $6 for students, plus a family card for $36 covering two adults and two students, then one will concede that this is the annual show bargain. Internationally known players, dancers and musicians offered for what amounts to the price of a movie these days.

I have been a part of Community Concerts for many years and can testify to the general excellence of their offerings.

In the coming year Community Concerts will offer such diversified fare as the famous piano duo Whittemore and Lowe, the Bayanihan, the noted Philippine Dance Company; the celebrated Beaux Arts Trio; and the outstanding Gregg Smith Singers.

The renewal drive and the new membership drive will run Monday through Saturday. I wouldn't hesitate. Headquarters are in the Lubbock Inn and one can contact them by calling 799-2105. Do it soon and give yourself and your family a gloriously rewarding gift.

The movie this week was "The Sunshine Boys," current at the South Plains Mall Cinema I. By now you know that this story of two antagonistic vaudeville ex-partners (43 years) is by the writer Neil Simon and that it has been nominated for a Best Actor Award for Walter Matthau and a Best Supporting Actor for the veteran stand-up comedian George Burns (aged 80).

The film emerges better than the play, I feel. There is a loosening of the tight stage framework and the casting could not be better. Matthau, made up wonderfully as the old man, hams his way shamelessly through this role and is delightful. He's always Matthau underneath that disguise but he plays this rascally curmudgeon to perfection. His counterpart, George Burns, is low-keyed and delightful, too. There are genuinely funny scenes as nephew Richard Benjamin tries to bring together the feuding two for a last-time resurrection of their famous vaudeville skit to his trials and his frustrations. The camera work improves the stage restrictions in the television sequence, particularly.

But, "The Sunshine Boys" is a two-character play, really, with the newpew's part being handled very well by Benjamin.

"The Sunshine Boys" is a duel of antagonists and both players are fun. Whether it is a dispute over the work of a longtime colleague just found on the obituary page or the resentment of Matthau over the spitting "T's" from Burns in the sketch sequence or the difference between "Come in" or "Enter" during the sketch rehearsals, the show has its laughs and is charming and downright touching at times.

"The Sunshine Boys" is not a great film, not even a memorable one. But it does what it sets out to do, entertain. And, since it is about show business and its veterans, what other goal should be expected of it?

It has been known for some time that methods existed to insure the building of ENERGY EFFICIENT HOMES. But, inexpensive energy in the past made it logical to ignore the extra investment such a home would require. Now with energy costs rising, it becomes more and more important to use effectively every bit of energy we consume. The TOTAL ELECTRIC ENERGY EFFICIENT HOME does this . . . and, it means, conservatively, a 40% reduction in heating and cooling costs.

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

Mike Russell set himself. He eyed the basket. His arms came up. The ball was on its way. The arch was good. The distance was right. And the ball fell through to give Texas Tech a thrilling 74-72 victory over Texas A&M and an NCAA playoff berth.

It was fitting, in many ways, that Russell scored the winning goal. He came off the bench in the stretch to play inspired ball and help the Raiders to a second place finish.

But, and it takes nothing away from Russell and the other Tech players, Rick Bullock was the backbone of the team. Without Bullock, the Raiders would have had a good team, but not the brilliant team it was in the tournament.

Bullock had an unbelievable series, not only in scoring, but also rebounding, blocked shots and team play. He was an unselfish player and his overall play made the Raiders.

Congratulations go to Gerald Myers and his staff of George Davidson and Rob Evans and the Tech squad. It's been a long, hard battle to arrive at the playoffs. Now they are faced with Syracuse and then, hopefully, on to Louisville.

Syracuse generally has had good basketball teams and this year's squad must be pretty good. It probably will be a running team, with good outside shooters.

It's ironic, in a way, that if Tech gets past the Orangemen, the Raiders will join Washington and Notre Dame. They are the only two teams outside the conference to have beaten Tech. And both the Huskies and Irish won by convincing margins.

Still, Tech would have a psychological edge, if you want to look ahead. The Raiders played relatively well for a half against each and could do better the next trip out.

But, for now, there's no point in dwelling on the future, immediate or longrange. For now the thrill of victory is the thing for the Raiders.

Considering the pressure and the physical demand of three games in three days, all tough games, too, they played well. True, they had too many turnovers, but they kept their poise, they worked the ball around and, generally, they took good shots.

It was an unselfish team and, while you have to credit Bullock, you can't overlook the timely plays and points of Grady Newton, Steve Dunn, Keith Kitchens, Rudy Liggins, Geoff Huston, Grant Dukes and, of course, Russell.

Tech played as a team and it showed up. The Raiders fought on the boards, they broke the press, they attacked the zone. In short, they did everything that a good team has to do.

Tech didn't win the championship, but it won the right to play in the NCAA and the tournament trophy was well deserved. And they beat their chief tormentor in the process.

It was a good tournament, with fine games, and it should spark more interest in basketball. Now, if it only would spark better attendance at Tech home games it would be wonderful. There's certainly no need for a bigger arena.

Speaking of arenas, wouldn't it be a great thing if the power that be at Texas Tech recognized the contribution that Polk Robison has made over the years?

There would be no finer thing to honor him with a permanent, lasting tribute than to name the playing area of Municipal Coliseum "Robison Arena," or some other suitable name. The whole complex couldn't be renamed, but games could be played in "Robison Arena" and forget that stuffy city influence.

Certainly no man is more deserving than Polk. It was he who fashioned the teams that led, eventually, to the building of the present complex.

He led Tech to its first Southwest Conference title. He scheduled top teams to gain recognition for Tech basketball and for his conference. In the process, he also called attention to himself, although he would be the first to say that he didn't want any recognition.

I remember talking to a well-known basketball coach years ago and the man remarking, in all sincerity, that it was a shame that fans couldn't see Tech basketball games.

"If they could, they'd soon realize that they had one of the best basketball minds and coaches in the nation."

Time hasn't diminished that. A lot of coaches can attest to the fact that Polk was a superior coach.

He has been, of course, more than a coach. He helped in football and his sharp, clear analysis, as well as his knowledge of the sport, was invaluable to Tech.

He served as athletic director, until a heart attack, and he's still connected with Tech. In fact, he has been a guiding force for 39 of the 49 years Tech has had intercollegiate athletics.

Robison Arena? Why not? It's high time that Tech, and Lubbock, recognized the tremendous contributions that Polk Fancher Robison has made.

Green Up Your Lawn

About this time of the year home lawns need a boost to get them in shape for the spring season just around the corner.

A turfgrass specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service suggests three operations that can get a lawn off to a good start—scalping, fertilizing and applying a weed killer.

"Scalping a lawn in late winter serves to revitalize it and promote spring and summer plant growth," points out Dr. Richard Duble.

"Begin the operation by lowering the blade of your lawnmower one-half inch below the normal setting. Then mow the lawn in two directions that are at right angles to each other. Remove the clippings after each mowing."

Duble also recommends keeping the lawnmower blade lowered until mid-summer.

"After scalping the lawn, apply a complete fertilizer (one containing nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium) to promote leaf and root growth," advises the specialist. "Use one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This is equal to 12 pounds of an 8-8-8 fertilizer or 8 pounds of a 12-4-8 fertilizer. Repeat the application in the fall."

For a dark green lawn, Duble suggests applying nitrogen every 60 days at the rate of one pound to 1,000 square feet. Monthly applications of iron chelate or iron sulfate during the spring and summer promote a health color in St. Augustine grass lawns.

"To keep crabgrass or other unsightly weeds from appearing, apply a preemergence herbicide (weed killer) containing benefin, dacthal or bensulide early in the

by Sue Wall

The senior spotlight shines on Jeanye Hunter and Daryl Morris.

Jeanye resides at 1205 9th Street, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J.T. Hunter.

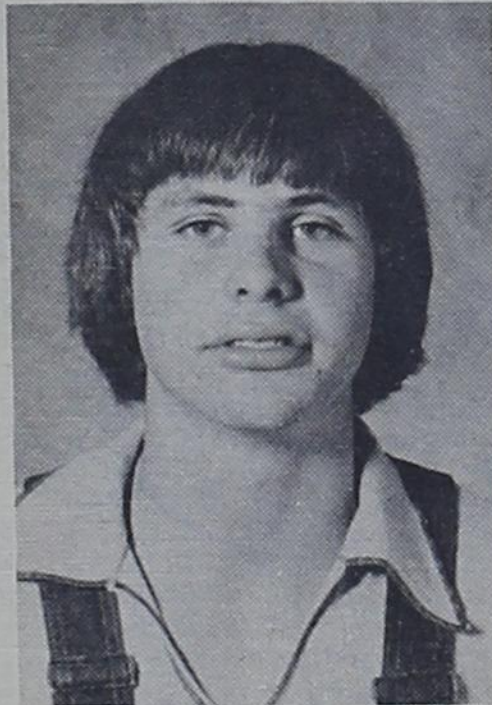

Jeanye's favorite things are cheerleading, basketball, kittens, friends, pretty clothes, and small children. Her favorite subject is Homemaking II, and she commented that it is "because Mrs. Harrison is the teacher." Along with practicing basketball and shopping for pretty clothes, her hobbies include sewing and cooking.

She is a member of FHA in which she is a chairman, varsity basketball team, where she is a captain, annual staff and pep squad. Jeanye is also a senior class representative for the student council.

Special honors she has received during her senior year are FFA Sweetheart, Homecoming Queen, and Captain of the girls varsity basketball team.

Jeanye commented, "I have enjoyed being looked up to and being respected and recognized as a senior. I have enjoyed the year so far and am looking forward to the rest of it. I know it will be a year to remember."

After graduation Jeanye plans to go to college but hasn't decided on the type of career she wants as yet.

Filling the second half of the spotlight is Daryl Morris, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.E. Morris. He is a Sagitarius born on December 14, 1957.

Daryl's favorite subject is math because he enjoys solving problems and he says he makes his best grades in that subject. His other favorite things are Mexican food with lots and lots of cheese, and yellow is his color. Daryl commented, "I love to water ski, watch Muhammed Ali box, play basketball and watch Texas Tech play basketball. Daryl was a football captain this year.

Daryl's comment about his senior year is, "I like my schedule this year because after lunch I have it made. I really have enjoyed my senior year and being around the coaches. They're a great bunch of guys."

His after graduation plans are to attend Texas Tech and major in Civil Engineering or Architecture.

Littlefield Track Results

by Kim McMenemy

Last Saturday the Shallowater boys and girls varsity track teams competed at the Littlefield dual track meet. There were 15 area schools at the meet, mostly AAA and AA schools, so the competition was extremely tough.

The results were as follows: girls sprint relay, third place, 53.1 (Jackson, Truelock, Evans, Blummer); 880 relay, fourth place, 1:55.2 (Jackson, Truelock, Horton, Blummer); and Donna Evans, sixth in the 100 yard dash.

In the boys division: Chet Webb was sixth in the 100 yard dash, time 10.7; Bill Dixon, sixth in pole vault, 10'6"; Kim McMenemy, sixth in the 880 with a time of 2.12.

Friday the girls go to Frenship and this Saturday the boys go to Spur.

Saturday UIL Pre-Competition

Practice competition for district UIL events will be held Saturday at Cooper High School. The following students will be competing with other area students in these scholastic events.

Shorthand, Geniese Grawunder. Journalism—Editorials, Geniese Grawunder and Laura Walker; newsriting, Laura Walker; feature story, Laura Walker. Mathematics—Slide rule, George Parsley, Guy Lesly, Lloyd Price, and Cheri Massey. Number Sense—Paul Thompson.

Assembly—Baker's Dozen Performs

by Laura Walker

From the campus of South Plains Junior College came the sounds of the Baker's Dozen. For those of you who are unfamiliar with the name, it is one of the best singing groups at South Plains.

The student body was provided with this musical entertainment last week. Everyone (including Mr. Harris!) joined in the excitement the group turned out. They successfully performed hard-rock, popular, and religious music.

The group encouraged graduating seniors to attend the college at Levelland.

The behavior of the students at this assembly proves that the students are capable of conducting themselves in a proper manner.

Nurse Grimes Receives Quilt

by Laura Walker

For days each girl worked diligently on her own personal quilt block, every piece cut exactly to the pattern, and assembled as directed. Later, after all of the initial stages were completed, the girl painstakingly embroidered her name on the block. The soft batting was sewn between the quilt top and the lining and placed among the other finished products. These blocks were correctly pieced together by the woman responsible for this unique project, Mrs. Harrison.

On March 2, FHA president Caran Conner announced the lucky recipient and no one is more deserving than the school nurse, Mrs. Joan Grimes. She commented on receiving the quilt, "This is the greatest honor I've ever had." Mrs. Grimes was selected by the girls, not only for her assistance as a nurse, but also for being a friend to all.

Mrs. Grimes is the second person in the community to receive the FHA quilt. This is the second year for the FHA Chapter to give a quilt away as an impact project.

Literary UIL

by Chris Hutchings

The UIL Literary Meet is in April. Students are trying out for a spot in the meet. There will be three people in each event that will be allowed to go. The events are spelling, ready writing, poetry, and prose reading.

If anyone wishes to enter the events for tryouts, please see Mrs. Kulm.

Open House

by Chris Hutchings

Thursday, March 3, the Shallowater Schools held open house for the public. The public was presented with different displays from each subject or class. English and History departments presented works from different students. Science department had many displays from a dissected frog to radiation detection. The athletics department showed a new video tape machine of the off-season program.

Refreshments were served by the FHA in the library while their displays were presented in the Home-Ec cottage.

All buildings of the Shallowater ISD were open for inspection.

Management Class Takes Field Trip

by Kim McMenemy

Last week Mrs. Barker's Business Management class went on a field trip to the Better Business Bureau in Lubbock.

Mr. Mal Cleland, the manager of the Bureau, showed the class around. He told the students of the Better Business Bureau's functions and how students could apply them to their business and daily life.

A poster with the Better Business Bureau's phone number on it was given to the group, and they were asked to call if they ever had a problem with a business.

Doing favors for people is habit-forming, in both directions.

Patience is the art of solving problems by letting them alone.

GIRL'S ALL DISTRICT—Four Fillie team members were awarded All-District Basketball honors. Kim Young, senior; and Terri Stanton, freshman, received All-District for forwards. Jeanye Hunter, senior; and Lindy Blumer, sophomore, were awarded All-District honors for guards. Jeanye Hunter is an All-District repeater from last year and Kim Young received All-District honorable mention last year. Congratulations to these Fillie basketball players.
