

Reese Breaks Ground for Instrument Flight Simulator Building Last Tuesday

New Band Hall Ready for Use

The newest addition to the Shallowater school campus is the Mustang band hall. The building has 3,000 square feet of space. It is fully carpeted with indoor-outdoor carpet and is finished with dark oak panelling. Other features include central heat and air conditioning, large upstairs area for storage, bathrooms and water fountain. For director's and student use are office library, uniform storage and instrument storage. Additions to be made to the new band hall will be pull-down security gates to be covering an instrument storage area. Also to be added will be astro-turf leading to the main door of the band hall.

Everyone is looking forward to a more enjoyable and comfortable year next semester in the new band hall. Mr. Sherman and his students would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone responsible for the new facility.

Shallowater Girls Dribblers Results

The Shallowater Dribblers girls division will receive trophies Friday, May 16 after the games. Again we want to thank all who have supported this program.

May 12—Shooting Stars 15, Cracker Jacks 11. Lady Bugs 14, Blue Jays 9. Rough Riders 30 and Bouncing Clowns 20.

Baccalaureate to Be Held Sunday

The Baptist Church of Shallowater will be the place where the Seniors of 1975 will have their baccalaureate services.

The time is 8:00 p.m. Sunday, May 18, and all are cordially invited.

Luncheon Honors Jean Shipp Here

Jean Shipp was honored with a graduation luncheon in the home of the hostess, Mrs. Lance Morris, in Crosbyton recently. Those attending were Cindy Cowart, Lynn Parsley, Nancy Thomas, Shirley Hayslip, Vickie Roberts, Donna Hardin, Gracie Lupton and the honoree.

Jean will enter school at Hardin Simmons University in Abilene for the first six weeks of summer school on June 2 and return for school in the fall.

Military and civilian officials from the Lubbock, San Antonio and Houston areas gathered at Reese AFB Tuesday afternoon, May 13, for groundbreaking ceremonies that initiated construction on Reese's new Undergraduate Pilot Training Instrument Flight Simulator building.

The Instrument Flight Simulators that will be installed in the new building are a revolutionary development in the Air Force's pilot training program. This is the first simulator facility to be constructed at an Air Force base.

The new building will be three stories tall and measure 329 feet at its greatest width, and 200 feet at its greatest depth. Its total of 75,887.14 square feet of floorspace will help make it the largest building at Reese. It is scheduled to be completed by June 1976 and when the simulators are installed, it will house four training areas and motion bases that will permit the simultaneous training of eight student pilots in each of T-37 and T-38 simulator cockpits. Simulator training is expected to begin with a T-37 cockpit in January 1977. By June 1977 all simulators are expected to be installed and operational.

The Instrument Flight Simulator building is designed to be utilized 24 hours a day, 7 days a week once the simulators are installed. Full capacity operation of the building will require 100 operating personnel, 60 logistic personnel and 45 training personnel. Total cost of the building is $3,750,000.

National Piano Audition Held

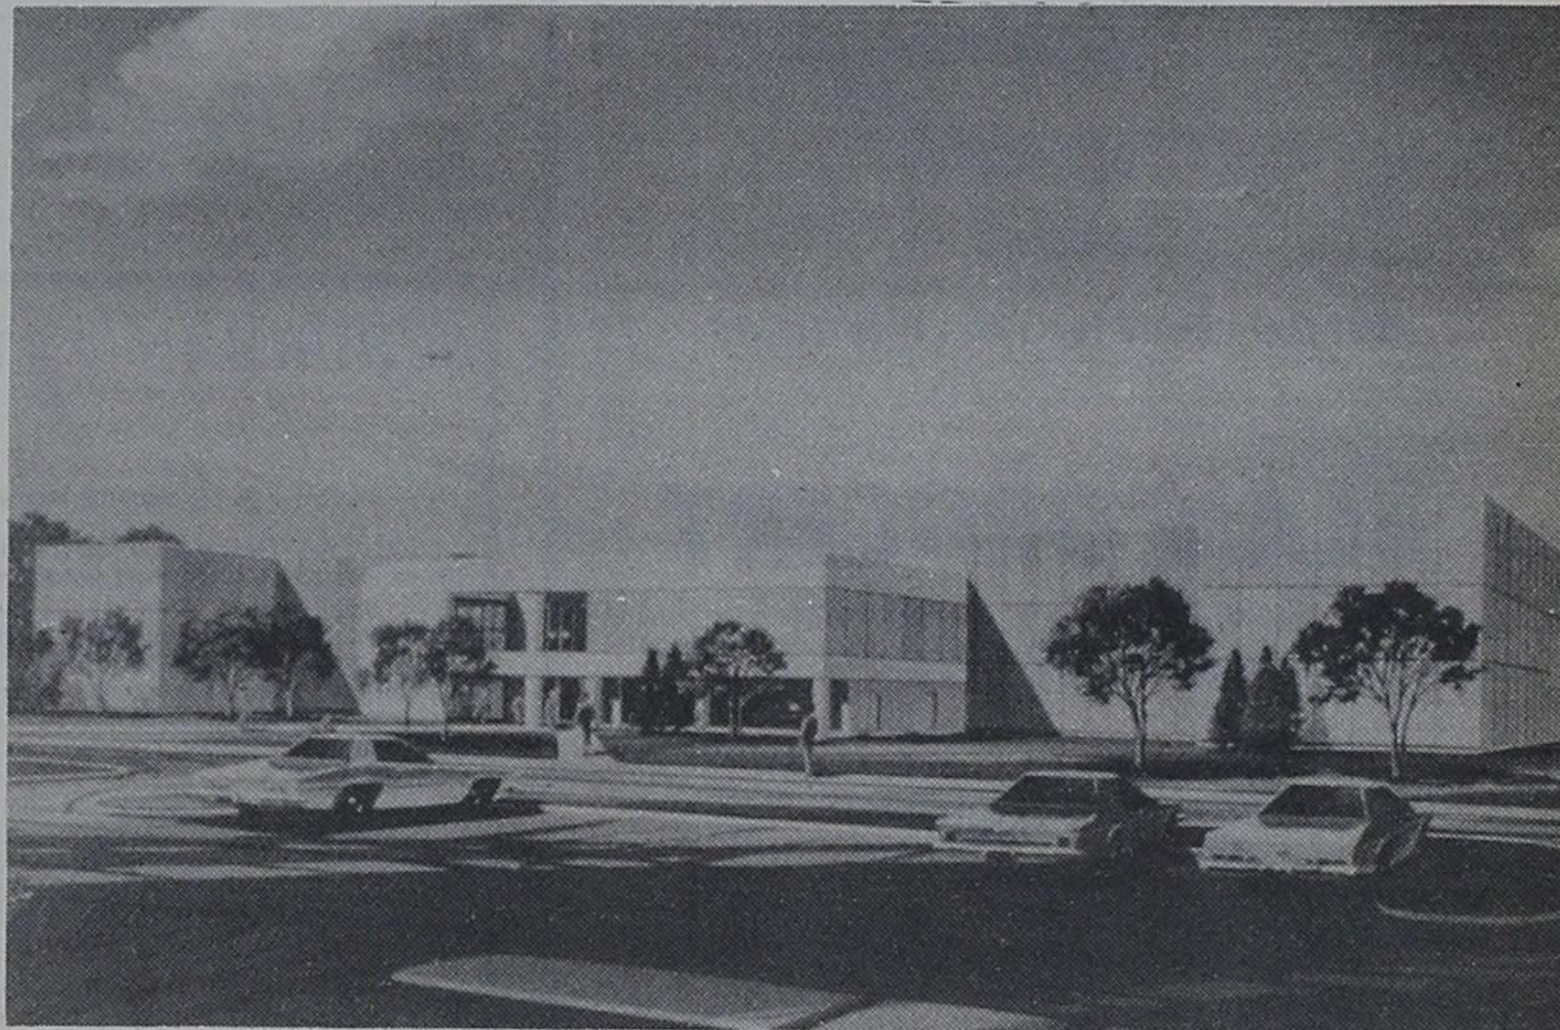

May 5th, ten students played for National Piano auditions judge Robert Nelson from California. Those playing and passing were Cheri Massey, Melanie Foerster, Vickie Pettiet, Mendi Pair, Robin McMenemy, Donna Boone, Melissa Epperson, Debra Crowther, Seena Conner, and Vickie Kerchner.

Shower Honors Debra Gates

A bridal shower honoring Debra Gates, bride-elect of Melvin Salley was held Saturday May 3 in the home of Mrs. Leroy Grawunder. Special guests were Mrs. S. Homer Salley of Coahoma, Mrs. George W. Gates, Jr. and Mrs. A.C. Woodruff, grandmother of the honoree.

The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth. A fan shaped arrangement of peach colored gladioli tied with peach colored streamers were placed at one end of the table. Guests were served punch, cookies and homemade mints from cut glass appointments.

Hostesses for the party were Mrs. Grawunder, Mrs. J.R. Saunders, Mrs. Gale Ballard, Mrs.

Major General Robert W. Maloy, Vice Commander of the Air Training Command presided over the groundbreaking ceremonies and a briefing was conducted in the Instrument Flight Simulator program was provided for the Lubbock area new media, the Armed Services Committee of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and some members of the staff at Reese. A Dutch treat lunch commenced in the Reese Officers Club at 12 noon. The briefing was conducted in the Officers Club beginning at 1 p.m. The actual ground breaking was done by Lloyd E. "Jack" Davis, a retired U.S. Army officer and prominent Lubbock civic and religious leader who moved to Lubbock in 1927.

Mr. Davis underwent training in the first military flying training simulator back in 1917-18 when he served with the Aviation Section of the U.S. Army Signal Corps and the Army Flying Service.

Doyle McKennon, Mrs. Edwin Merrell, Mrs. Ed Lawson, Mrs. Jack Kassahn, Mrs. Emery Waters, Mrs. Gerald Clifton, Mrs. Louis McMenemy, Mrs. Kenneth Shropshire and Mrs. W.M. Horton. Approximately 60 guests registered.

Graduation News!

On May 22, 1975, the Seniors of 1975 will be walking across that stage to receive their diplomas. Everyone has been awaiting this day.

Commencement will begin at 8:00 p.m. in the Shallowater High School Gymnasium. We encourage everyone who is able to attend this most important day for the Seniors.

L.O.A. Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Lubbock Ostomy Association will be held at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, May 20, in the Staff Meeting Room of St. Mary's Hospital.

Guest speaker will be a representative from the Social Security Administration.

Shallowater Band Members Enjoy Recent Six Flags Trip

Early Thursday morning, May 8th, the Mustang band departed Shallowater on chartered busses. The destination was Six Flags Over Texas Band Festival. The band arrived at the Inn of the Six Flags, sight of the festival, at 2:15 p.m. and participated at 4:00 p.m.

The band was told that this festival was a challenging one and could only be entered by sweepstakes bands in and out of the state. The band entered the Golden Palace, scene of the contest, and sat attentively awaiting the nod to begin. Mr. Sherman commented the band performed at their best and was very pleased in their playing abilities. Mr. Sherman also said that this particular concert was better than the contest performance in Seagraves on April 22nd when they won their Sweepstakes award. The judges all commented on the outstanding appearance and attentiveness of the Mustang band.

The Shallowater band was given a division III at the festival. Other ratings were as follows: Class A—Borden IV, Sabine III, Van Horn (honor band for the state of Texas 1972) IV, Stratford III, Gravett, Ark. IV, Morris, Okla. II, Banquete (Honor band for the state of Texas 1974) III, and Memphis IV. Area AA ratings, Floydada III, Lockney III. Morris, Oklahoma won outstanding band in class A with a division II.

The band and sponsors spent the night at the Rodeway Inn in Arlington. That evening the band enjoyed swimming and bowling and mainly resting up from the long day's activities. The next morning the band toured the General Motors assembly plant in Arlington, and spent the rest of the day at Six Flags Over Texas.

At 11 p.m. the sponsors and band members boarded the busses at the front gate of Six Flags and started for home. Arrival time was 5 a.m. Saturday, May 10.

"Our sponsors are to be commended", stated Mr. Sherman, "for the work they did on this trip." They supported us in every way and were at all times eager to help in any way possible. One sponsor even said they'd do it again as we pulled into Shallowater at 5 a.m. Saturday morning." The sponsors for the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boone, Mrs. B.H. Thomas, Mrs. Joan Grimes, Mr. Floyd Epperson, and Mrs. Al Monteith, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Sherman.

There were many people responsible for this band trip and we would like to tell them how much we appreciate all they've done to make this trip possible. The Mustang band itself also made their trip possible because without their Sweepstakes award, they couldn't have gone. Mr. Sherman concluded by saying that this is a group to be extremely proud of in every way.

WATER CISTERNS

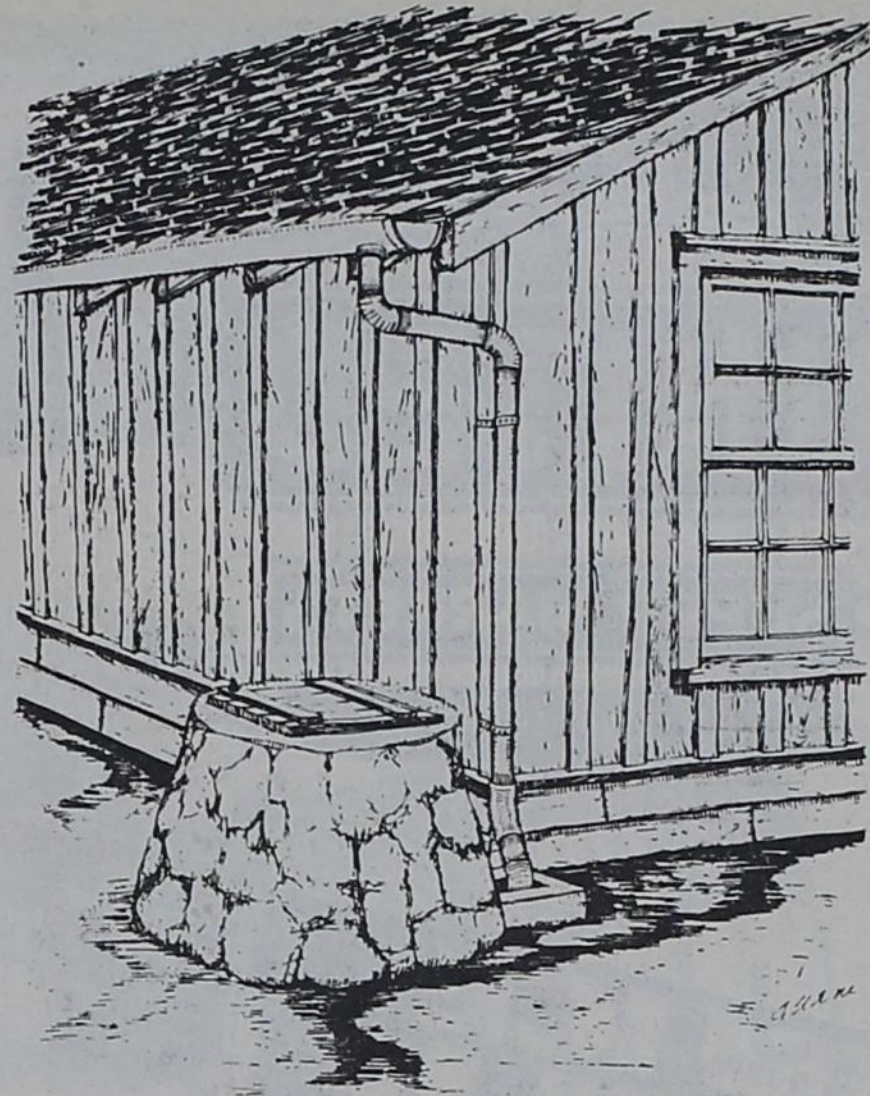

Where good well water or springs could not be found, one alternative water supply was the cistern. These water storage facilities were usually bell-shaped holes in the ground with a small neck at the top about three feet in diameter. The bottom part widened out to ten or twenty feet across. They were fifteen, sometimes twenty feet deep. The sides and bottom of the hole were sealed with cement plaster.

They were located near the house or some other building to catch the rain water that fell on the roof. Water was collected in roof gutters, went down a pipe into the cistern for storage. There was sometimes a frame of some sort above the opening which held a pulley and rope for drawing the water out. An open bucket tied to a rope was lowered into the cistern, pulled out, and the water poured into another bucket which was taken indoors and kept there for household use. There was a curb around the top of the cistern about three feet high and on it there was a cover or lid that could be put in place to protect the precious water supply from dirt and other foreign matter that might fall in. Some cisterns were above ground, nothing more than just water storage tanks but underground ones were better because they kept the water cool in the summer and prevented it from freezing in the winter. Some even had shelves or platforms built in them at various levels where things like milk and eggs could be stored and kept cool.

Cistern water had a distinctive taste, different altogether from well water. Some said, "It's t'only kinda water thats fitten to drink." To tell you the truth, I never really could develop a taste for it.

Cisterns were very important to the people who had to depend on them but when I was a child about the only thing that impressed me about them was that you could open the top and look in at your reflection in the water. You could (but you had better not get caught) drop pebbles in and watch as the circular ripples of water warped your face out of shape. You could yell down into one and it made all sorts of neat sounds.

International Women's Aglow to Meet At Lubbock's South Park Inn Tuesday

The main meeting for the South Plains chapter of Women's Aglow will be held at South Park Inn in Lubbock on Tuesday, May 20 at 11:30 a.m.

Mrs. Margaret Moody, from Seattle, Washington, the International president of Women's Aglow, will be the guest speaker for the Christian women's organization.

Mrs. Moody and her husband Eric were very active in Vancouver Canada where they were called as missionaries to Africa. After several years in Africa the Moodys returned to the states to pastor churches in California with the Baptist General Conference.

All women of the South Plains are urged to attend.

Services Held for Mayme Rasberry

Services for Mrs. Mayme Rasberry, 62, of Ropesville were held at 3 p.m. Thursday at Ropesville First Baptist Church with the Rev. Murle Rogers, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Wayne Perry, chaplain of Highland Hospital in Lubbock.

Burial was in Ropesville Cemetery.

Franklin-Bartley Funeral Home handled arrangements for Mrs. Rasberry, who died at 9:55 p.m. Tuesday at Lubbock's Methodist Hospital following an illness of several months.

A native of Weinert in Haskell County, Mrs. Rasberry had been a Ropesville resident 29 years. She formerly lived at Meadow. At one time, Mrs. Rasberry owned and operated restaurants in both Meadow and Ropesville. She was a member of the Ropes First Baptist Church.

Survivors include her husband, Dennis; a daughter, Mrs. Billie Worley of Clovis, N.M.; two sons, Dwane Galloway of Brownfield and Melton Rasberry of Pecos; a sister, Mrs. Leta Smith of Lovington, N.M.; two brothers, Doyle Floyd of Loop and Howard Floyd of Seagraves; 15 grandchildren and nine great grandchildren.

Pallbearers were C. C. "Preacher" Brooks, James Walker, Richard Arant, Dan Carter, C.T. McCormick and James Pierce.

The Sickly Swallow

by Rev. Robert Adams

Ropes Church of the Nazarene

The "Sickly Swallow" is prevented from attending church of sniffles, sinus, sunburn, stings, suspicious spots, slivers, sprains, stress, sties, showers, sunshine, squalls, snow and other such sufferings.

His symptoms always appear on Sunday, are most acute early in the morning, and invariably abate shortly after noon. The bird may hasten the healing process by a ride in the country, a trip to the beach or a little work in the garden. By evening he usually feels well enough to go bowling or take in a movie.

During the course of the week, this bird's health improves until by Saturday he's as fine-feathered as they come, fairly bursting with health. But comes Sunday morning, he suffers the usual relapse and wakes up with another one of those terrible sinus headaches.

Rays of Hope

by Pat Stanton

Be Careful What You Hear

Mark 4:24: "Take heed what you hear. . . and unto you that hear shall more be given."

We must be careful to train our ears to hear only good things. If we continually allow the bad to come into our ears and into our inner man, this will begin to affect the area of the body and soul (mind, will, and emotions).

We must discipline our ears to hear the voice of God. If we are filled with hearing the voices of the world, we are less likely to hear the voice of the Spirit. Jeremiah 6:10: "To whom shall I speak, and give warning, that they may hear? Behold, their ear is uncircumcised, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the Lord is unto them a reproach; they have no delight in it."

Proverbs 4:20-22: "My son, attend to my words; include thine ear unto my sayings. Let them not depart from thine eyes: keep them in the midst of thine heart. For they are life unto those that find them, and health unto all their flesh."

Proverbs 18:8: "The words of a talebearer are as wounds, and they go down into the inmost parts of the belly." We should not listen to gossip, negative words, criticism, or talk that is full of doubt or fear. Proverbs 15:30: "The light of the eyes rejoiceth the heart; and a good report maketh fat the bones." Proverbs 16:24: "Pleasant words are as honeycomb, sweet to the soul, and health to the bones."

Why is it, when men or women act like children, they always imitate the worst characteristics of childhood?

SPORTS

by Joe Kelly

It's just a little on the ridiculous side for basketball and hockey playoffs to be holding the spotlight, but both are, even though the temperatures say that the seasons are over.

Still, that Islanders-Flyers game Sunday was one of the better ones seen so far. The action was furious and the New York team, obviously meriting "Cinderella" raves, evened the series. Now it all comes down to one game—before the final playoffs.

Still, it probably is no more ridiculous for hockey and basketball at this time than the All America game coming up here in some five weeks. Football in June? You bet, and more than 40,000 fans probably will be in Jones Stadium.

And, all around the USA and Canada, millions more will be watching on TV. The obvious feeling is that a sport everyone loves is never out of season, no matter what sport it is.

As for the All America game, I hope you are making your plans to attend. The players announced so far are all top drawer and there are many more to be named.

The battle pits Steve Sloan against Grant Teaff and that's a natural right there. In addition, several top SWC stars have agreed to play. And before it's over, there probably will be at least one Texas Tech ex in the lineups.

Once again, I'll have to watch it on the tube, since there's a conference in Washington I must attend. Still, I'm looking forward to it, because it's a great summer spectacle.

The players not overworked and well entertained, soon find that the cause for which they are playing is a worthy one. As a result, they don't hold back. That means pleasure for the crowds, because they are treated to hard line play, fine running and good passing.

The other day I was calling on a man in Jayton when I noticed a copy of the L.L. Bean (Freeport, Me.) catalogue on his desk. I remarked about it and he said that he had bought quite a little from the Maine concern. "Yea, they're a little higher," he conceded, "but they have good quality things. I like Bean."

I thought I was probably about the only Bean devotee in these parts until I saw a copy on an oilman's desk in Snyder earlier.

Anyway, Bean's catalogue is usually good for a paragraph or two, since the spring and summer catalogue usually comes before the weather is real pretty. That wasn't true this year, in this area, and I forgot to mention the early arrival.

Now the abridged special summer addition has come with its alluring display of fishing gear, camping equipment and a lot of other things. Makes you want to scratch that itch!

Coming up soon will be the annual SWC track and field meet, along with the other conference events. This is only the second time that Tech has hosted the event and good crowds should be on hand for all the activity.

I'm guessing, but one of the top matters for discussion during the faculty representatives' sessions probably will be finances. It may seem silly to some, but nothing runs without money and money is a major problem in all sports today.

Universities and colleges could make severe cuts in revenue-producing sports and still have representative teams on the field. Any such move will be fought, of course, but if the situation gets serious enough, you may again see amateur athletics.

I mean by "amateur" athletics, few scholarships and no in-person scouting, much smaller coaching staffs and one platoon football teams. Sound bad? Actually, it could be maybe more exciting without much of a dropoff in quality.

As for the conference spring meeting, to get back on the track, not all the most interesting activity will take place on the tartan track, golf course or tennis courts.

Nope, maybe the most interesting things never will see print, or be aired. They're the activities that take place at the annual Friday night off-the-record fun night, as well as the activities in the pressroom.

It was at College Station that I finally "arrived" in basketball circles. I was enjoying the night and talking with a lot of good friends when the late Doc Hayes beckoned to me.

He took me into a shed adjoining the festivities and, after telling me what a great job I did, proceeded to chew me up one side and down the other! I later learned that I had joined an illustrious crew, which was first praised and then chewed up by Doc.

But one of the most memorable nights was at the last meet here. A young Aggie paper sports editor, full of self confidence and an assortment of bourbon, dominated things in a loud voice.

Finally, the wife of a Tech coach, decided to quiet him. She then fed him drinks which were a combination of gin, vodka, scotch, bourbon, gingerale, soda and anything else. He proceeded to toss them off without the hint of a tear.

We watched in, at first, remote amusement, then with outright admiration as the young man downed the boilermakers without the slightest show of distaste. In fact, he allowed as to how they were great drinks.

We all finally lost interest in the cub, who seemed indestructible. Finally, we happened to glance up as two men were toting the giant, obviously out cold, from the room.

Well, that takes care of him, someone said. Sequel: The next day he was first at the breakfast table, sat in the sun throughout the track meet and beat everyone else to the hospitality room. Wonder whatever happened to him? He was a gargantuan figure.

MIGHTY MUSTANG SHALLOWATER SCHOOLS

The Last Wills and Testaments

I, Donna Hardin, will to Kim Young a complete collection of Olivia Newton-John records, which I don't happen to have, but since I know how much it would mean to her I would be happy to buy them for her. Along with that I leave her a book on imitations, so she can perfect her imitation of Olivia.

I, Don L. Grimes, will to Daryl Morris a brand new non-stick Teflon bowl so he can take it to the barber shop when he goes. And also a can of "Pam" to prevent a greasy, sticky mess.

I, Alex Grice, hereby will to "snake" hips McMenamy all of Gus Paluson's tools so that he can race and work on that GTO without his parents knowing about it.

I, Garry Green, will to Kim McMenamy, otherwise known as "Duck", the ability to be one of the uh...best quarterbacks Shallowater has ever had. It's going to take a lot of hard work and a lot more luck. Lots of luck, Duck.

I, Bobby Heinen, will to Lupe Martinez the ability to get into his Ford and race it through the quarter without ever losing, even if you have to drive down the middle of the road.

I, Letty Anay, will to Caran Conner the courage it takes to ride in a plane during very windy weather and endure "The Landing."

I, Ann Boone, will Kim Young a gold back brace and a big tree to swing on.

I, Bobby Reeves, leave Jay Truelock my dry look, Jay, the wet-head is dead.

I, Richard Krebs, will Johnny Taylor my blazing speed—in finding girls, and in track.

I, Vicki Cline, leave to Diana Perser all the good and bad luck I had on Mr. "G's" tests. Enjoy and cherish your senior year while it lasts.

We, Letty Anay and Janie Serna, will to Caran Conner the ability to know what the difference is between a "Capri" and a "Caprice."

I, Richard Krebs, will Daryl Morris one free appointment at Hair Today, so he can try and straighten his mop out.

Know that he will surely cherish it, I, Terry Hunt, leave Terry Bristow, the ability to secure the coveted title of President of the Deca Club. I also leave you all of my enthusiasm toward that delightful organization.

I, Brad Simmons, will to Chet Webb ten free lessons on good driving, given personally by myself. I also leave him my loyalty to the honorable DUDE organization.

I, Nancy Thomas, leave Debbie Grimes a pair of giant tweezers so she won't have to stick her hand in the commode anymore to fish her watch out. I also leave her an automatic bruiser-eraser so she can go through one entire summer without spotted legs, arms, ribs, and other susceptible places. Lastly, I want to give her my last name so if she ever ends up marrying

Don, she will have gotten to change her name at least a little while.

To George Stanton, I lovingly leave a new alarm clock, so you can make it to school on time next year. I also leave you enough wallpaper to do your bedroom in your favorite poem "Georgia Porgie Puddin and Pie!" Sincerely, Terry Hunt.

I, William Taylor, will Mark Martin a pair of Muhammed Ali boxing gloves and a gift certificate to the Do-It-Yourself School of Boxing.

To keep up the old tradition, I Gracie Lupton will Debbie Grimes the saddle, bridle, and sack of oats that Brenda left me last year. There's plenty left for you—I used other means of survival!!!!

I, Margie Barron, leave the history desk and book to you, Joe Martinez, who will study how the Japanese harvest their rice.

I, Sylvia Cuevas, will to Kelly Blackmon my shorthand pad to practice shorthand in Mrs. Barker's class. I wish you luck in there so you won't fail. I know.

I, Cathie Parsley, will Kim Young an indispensable manual on parliamentary procedure for use in all the National Honor Society meetings next year.

To Kim McMenamy, I Malcom Terry, hereby will the ability to dodge all those dodge balls. Also, I will to Mac a new pair of glasses that will not break during a friendly conversation.

I, Brantley Adams, will Glen Jackson the ability to straighten his kinky hair and also a membership card to the Yellow Mustang Club.

I, Bobby Reeves, will Daryl Morris the ability to shoot a corner shot in BB. Let's get a little arch on that ball. I also leave him the ability to bring the ball up the court without getting it stolen.

We, Letty and Janie, will to Melissa Martin our ability to come to school everyday.

I, Cathie Parsley, will Kelly Blackmon first chair in the flute section, and the latest bestseller titled "Why Concert Bands Should Wear Black Bow Ties," written by Mr. Sherman.

I, Don L. Grimes, will to Jackie Randolph the ability to talk. For all these years he has always sat around and said nothing. Some people think he might be mute. But that will all change your senior year, Jackie, you will begin to talk and talk. You will even be able to talk to Caran Conner and not choke up.

I, Richard Krebs, will Jay Truelock, a drug store, so he will always have a bounteous supply for Charles Atlas Protein Pills.

I, Travis Doggett, will Jeff Love my parking place for when you get a car.

I, Kay Williams, will Mike Brazell the ability to take John Wayne's place after he retires from show business.

Midnight Awaited

Juniors who ordered their Senior rings are anxiously awaiting for May 22nd to arrive. Why? Well, as

MUSTANG STAFF

Editor: Janie Serna
Sr. Staff: Alex Grice,
Charles Krebs
Photographer: Caran Conner
Jr. Staff: Anita Alvarado

an early tradition, those who will be Seniors the following school year always pick up their senior rings at midnight on the day that the seniors graduate. The reason for this, is that not until that midnight, do they become officially seniors. So, that is when they will receive their senior rings of '76.

The juniors of 1975 will be the leaders of 1976 at Shallowater High. Congrats to them.

Out of Our Hands

Next week, the two sixth grade classes will be in charge of the Mighty Mustang.

Since they have been practicing different types of articles, the students will have the opportunity to have their articles published.

So Next week, it's out of our hands!

Cheerleading Tryouts Held

Cheerleading tryouts were held Wednesday afternoon in the high school gym.

Seniors that were trying out were Gwen Avery, Carol Shropshire, Jeanye Hunter and Kim Young. Juniors: Alison Terry, Judy Walker, and Wyvonne Ford. Sophomores: Brenda Stence, Tanya Pool, Cary McCandless Connie Boone, and Lindy Blumer. Freshman: Connie McCollum, Jana Hay-slip, Valerie Morgan, and Danette Dopson.

Results will be in next weeks paper.

The Junior and Senior Banquet

by Charles Krebs

The seniors of the class of 1975 graciously thank the juniors for the outstanding banquet Saturday night May 10th. The meal, as well as the entertainment afterward, were both very, very good.

Everyone enjoyed themselves very much, including the teachers and the school board members. We hope next year the juniors have as good a time as did this year.

Prophecies of the Junior Class of '75

The junior class of 1975 prophesy that ten years from now Letty Anaya will be a famous Spanish singer in Mexico with two husbands and no kids.

The junior class of 1975 prophesy that in ten years Malcom Terry will have gotten up the nerve to ask Jean Shipp the question. "Will you go parking?"

I, Geniese Grawunder prophesy that after Malcom pops the question, Jean Shipp will sing "I Love How You Love Me."

I, Diana Perser, prophesy that Vickie Cline will become a flower in the desert.

I, Gwen Avery, prophesy that Vickie Dunn, after working with all those books will become a 'bookie'.

We, the junior class of 1975, prophesy that Dwayne Reems will still be complaining about how hard chemistry was all those problems he had to work. He'll still be carrying his calculator around on his belt.

I, Debbie Grimes, prophesy that Donna Hardin will go on a crash diet and lose 20 pounds and have to carry an anchor around her waist so she won't blow away.

I, Johnny Taylor, prophesy that in ten years Brad Simmons and

Mighty Mustang Staff Bids Farewell

This issue will be the last for the Mighty Mustang Staff of 1974-75. We hope that we pleased everyone with our news. It has been a busy year and we have presented it to you with the facts—with a flair—maybe sometimes, a thud.

This entire year has proved to be quite an experience for all of us. The deadlines were every Tuesday morning; we got it done, slowly, but surely. We had a big responsibility on our hands, but we enjoyed it.

Alex, Charles, Caran, Anita, and Janie wish to thank everyone for putting up with our material—and for putting up with us. No matter if the members of this 74-75 staff depart for different directions, we will all carry in our minds those Tuesday mornings of typing, picture taking, proofreading, and running back and forth.

Yes, a lot of work but it was

Brian Stewart will come back to good ole Shallowater for their annual train derailment.

I, Geniese Grawunder prophesy that Kay Williams will own the Tall Texan clothes factory and will be seen on the streets in her latest fashions.

I, Caran Conner, prophesy that Ms. Janie Serna will still be writing her feature stories and visitine Hector and Alma and their kids.

I, Melissa Martin, prophesy that Amanda Hobgood will still be coming to the library to watch her soap opera, "Search for Tomorrow" during 4th period with her head phones on.

I, Geniese Grawunder, prophesy that Terry Hunt, after completing her Master's degree in physical education will return to Shallowater High to be assistant coach under her favorite, Coach McKennon.

I, Anita Alvarado, prophesy that Sylvia Cuaves will be a boxers manager.

We the junior class of 1975 prophesy that Cindy Elkins will pull some strings so that Tiffany's and the Brittany will become as one and their speciality will be Barbequed Sweetrolls.

I, Gwen Menton prophesy that in 5 years Debra Worsham will not have any hair to dye.

We juniors prophesy that Bryan Stewart will be a partner in a used car lot. His partner will be Junior Samples.

Seniors of 76 prophesy that William Taylor will die young, when while walking through the toy department of a store, a rubber snake fell from a shelf. Cause of death...heart attack.

We juniors prophesy that the senior Dudes will have their 50th anniversary alumini meeting where they will plan to go into a drugstore and siphon a bottle of Geritol and replace it with mud.

We the juniors prophesy that Luther Vaughn will hide behind trees off the highway and wait for a passing car, then he will chase it down and run it off the road, and he doesn't have to worry about the police. Because he is the police.

I, Terry Martin, prophesy that in work that brought us together.

Oh, and hopefully Caran and Anita will be filling up this page next year with other new members.

But for Alex, Charles, and Janie, this is farwell.

Note: As sponsor of this staff, I want you to realize the number of Tuesday mornings that are in a school year! This group of students has done it all with fantastic initiative and super cooperation. Janie has been a good Editor. In September I said "Here, Janie." And that was it. She assigned articles, organized the layouts, and generally took care of everything. She did tremendous. Publically. Thank you. The staff, Alex, Charles, Caran, and Anita, worked completely as one unit. Everyone did the work and even had a few laughs, too. Thank you. You made the Mighty Mustang a success.

20 years Malcom Terry makes history...he has passed Einstein... Malcom's talent...bombs, of any kind.

I, Debbie Grimes, prophesy that Nancy Thomas will have little need for the Smart Stout Shop, so she will open a shop especially for people having the same problem. Nancy has long toes. In addition to this, Nancy will wear the latest hairdo just like the stunning style she wore in the one act play.

We, the seniors of 1976, can see that in a few years, Margie Barron will still be running around in her horse suit kicking and falling on her nose at football games.

We, the seniors of 1976, prophesy in ten years Mike Beckam will still be playing only two nights a week at Freeman's and by that time will be able to grow a moustache and sideburns.

We, the seniors of 1976, prophesy that in ten years Gary Green will be recovering from his latest motorcycle wreck with his left big toe right small finger and left ear in a cast, after his latest filming of "Then Came Bronson."

We, the senior class of 76, prophesy that in five years Vicki Roberts will still be giving Mark Eden courses to Donna, Nancy, and Terry.

I, David Levens, prophesy that in ten years from now Bobby Reeves will still be pumping gas at his dad's station. He will still be waiting for the 25 cent raise his dad offered him when he graduated.

I, Geniese Grawunder, prophesy that Cathie Parsley, in ten years, will have taken over Dean Killions place leading the Texas Tech Band. She'll also be known across the world as Cathie Parsley, the perfect piccolist.

I, Caran Conner, prophesy that Felicita Mercado, will own a Day Care Center at the age of 52. She's got to take care of her little brother. Rosemary can't do it by herself.

Rusty Lusk will be an ace in his business. He will need all his cunning and wits. For if he loses, he loses all. He will be a card shark at Las Vegas.
