Tennis Champions Repeat In District

The District tennis tournament was held at Turkey the past week end.

For the first time in several years in the girls division Estelina does not have a champion. The Rapp sisters have been district and state doubles tennis champions for the past several years, but with Cherri and Ann gone from the high school scene, that string has been broken. The Lakeview team of Smith and Soms won the district title Saturday in doubles competition.

Brenda Durrett, also of Lakeview, successfully defended her title. She is also state singles Class B champion.

Terry Wansley of Lakeview won the boys singles championship. He won over Jake Damron for the district title. Wansley is the defending champion.

Rod Adamson and Rod Seiff, who are the defending state Class B champions, were first place winners Saturday.

This district won all the Class B State titles last year and with three of the champions back this time, again figure to be strong contenders for state honors.

In the freshman division of the tournament, Kenny Setliff and Wayne Green of Turkey won first place.

PLANTERS COMPLETED

A good crowd turned out for the community-wide clean-up in Quitaque Saturday, and a lot of work was done by late afternoon.

The most noticeable improvement is along Main Street, where six new concrete planters have been completed. They are located on street corners and most of them are 11'x18'.

Saturday the Lions lined the planters with plastic sheeting, then covered this with large, washed gravel. LaRue Huges of Kress set out plants and evergreens in each planter to provide year-round color.

The plastic will keep out weeds and hold the available moisture, and there should be very little upkeep after the plants begin to grow.

Roses were also set out in the four big planters at the City Park, as well as on Lela Mae Barrett's corner, on each side of the City Hall, and back of Rice Dry Goods.

Over eighty plants were set out Saturday, and more will be planted on the next trip down by Mr. Hughes.

Strange Origins Of Some Common Words

"LOVE" — In tennis, "love" means no score, a puzzling term for it makes no sense — until you know the reason. In France, where the game originated, the term for no score was "l'oeuf" — meaning "egg" — just as Americans sometimes say "goose egg," meaning the very same thing — a big zero on the score board. To English tongues, "l'oeuf" soon became "love."

"OUCHLESS" — This word was also created — by an ad man to dramatize the fact that Curad bandages can be removed without pain because of a patented Telfa pad which will not adhere to a wound. Actually, this painless feature is not as important as another advantage of the same "ouchless" bandage: it does not interrupt healing, because the scab remains intact when the bandage is removed. Understandably, that's too long a story for even an ad man to compress into a single word! Try it yourself.

"QUIZ" — This word was deliberately created, in 1760, by a Dublin theater-owner on a bet that he could invent a meaningless word and get people to use it. He and his friends painted the word "quiz" on fences, barns, and pavements all night long — and soon people were asking what it meant. Quiz became ask — and spread all over the world.

"SUNDAE" — An ancient Egyptian law made it illegal to sell ice-cream sodas on Sunday. So, a resourceful druggist created a substitute — a large scoop of ice cream covered with a flavored syrup. He created the name "Sundae" to suggest its use when he was not allowed to serve the then-popular soda!

er towns to form the Palo Duro Scenic Road Association in an effort to get a paved road northeast of Quitaque that would tie into the back side of Palo Duro State Park.

Quitaque joined in with other communities across the state to collect coupons for a kidney machine for a Wayland College student who was dying of a rare disease. Several thousand coupons were collected the first week.

On every holiday 55 flags flew in front of the business houses. There was a joint Thanksgiving service in which all churches participated. A voluntary offering was taken, a fund was set up for needy people, and a committee was appointed to administer it.

A pre-school clinic was held last May; an immunization program was conducted for polio, diphtheria, whooping cough, and tetanus in which the entire community participated. Fund raising drives were held for cancer, Red Cross, Boy Scouts and others.

An award was made each six weeks to the student who was voted the safest driver in high school. Another award was made each six weeks to a student with the highest scholastic standing. Last year, for the seventh consecutive year, the Lions Club presented a $100 scholarship to the Valedictorian of the Senior Class.

Two buildings in Quitaque were designated as available for industry. A historical marker was erected at Roadside Park that tells the traveler he "is now in Comanchero Country."

A project still gaining momentum is the construction of large cinder block trash containers. Several have already been built in alleys behind the business houses, and others are under construction in the residential district.

A new portable barbecue pit is also under construction and will be available free for group cookouts. When completed it will handle 50 chickens at one time.

A list of blood donors is on file at the City Hall in Quitaque. The blood types are listed and volunteers are ready to give blood when needed. A self-help program was instituted last summer, and jobs were provided for three needy boys and one girl. A similar program is also slated to be used by the city and school again this year.

A number of educational programs were presented during the past year to students. These included plans for health careers, dangers of drugs, bus safety, and college awareness programs. To

QUITAQUE F.H.A. NOTES

The week April 5th through the 11th was National FHA Week. This is the 25th anniversary year of the Future Homemakers of America.

The Quitaque FHA chapter observed FHA Week by doing the following things:

Monday the FHA members invited the Eighth Grade girls on a Treasure Hunt. The girls were divided into two groups and off they went to find the treasure. The winning group received a box of candy. Cookies and punch were served to all the girls attending.

Tuesday a box supper was held in the gym for FHA members and their mothers and fathers. A prize was awarded to the girl with the most attractive box. Debbie Farley was presented a necklace for the most attractive box. Small trophies were awarded to the parents who were: Cutest—Murry and Johnnie Morrison; Skinniest—Grady and Delene Tyler; Fattest—Pete and Inetha Blankenship; Tallest—Wendall and Roberta Farley; and Shortest—A. B. and Marie Ramsey. Games of volleyball were enjoyed by the girls and their parents after the meal was completed and prizes were awarded.

Wednesday all FHA members were presented eight red ribbons. Each time a girl talked to a boy she had to give him a ribbon. At the end of the day the boy with the most ribbons was Mr. Irresistible and the girl with the most ribbons was Miss Resistible. Johnny Tiffin was Mr. Irresistible and Vanessa Robison was Miss Resistible.

Thursday all FHA members wore red and white, the FHA colors.

Friday all chapter members had dress-up day and every girl revealed who her secret sister had been during the week, and gave her a gift.

This concluded the FHA Week activities.

JEHOVAH'S WITNESSES ATTEND MEMPHIS ASSEMBLY

Lester M. Dugan, district supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses, told those assembled Sunday in the Memphis, Texas High School Auditorium that "people in general experience growing fear on streets and in their homes. Especially at night people are tense. Haunting fear is present with them."

In speaking on the subject, "Withstanding the Pressures of Our Day," Dugan told his audience, "Satan wants to occupy people so fully with pressures and worries that they will not take a stand for God. Christians are special targets." He offered this solution, "It is reasonable to turn to the one who made us, Jehovah God. Bible knowledge braces one for calamity. It causes one to be more settled and calm. When calamity does come, Christians have a certain peace of mind from the knowledge of better things to come."

The presiding minister of the Quitaque congregation, V. D. Tiffin, said, "The theme of the assembly 'Sacrifices that Please God' was exemplified by the conventioners themselves, as they arranged to spend time between sessions, calling door-to-door and store-to-store in an effort to help others build faith in God. In attendance from here were several family groups, including the Carl Tidwell family, Rex Tiffin family, and many other families.

Saturday morning delegates were ordained as new ministers through water baptism. To the Witness, the baptism in water is a public symbol of dedication and ordination.

The regular meeting schedule will be resumed this week at the local Kingdom Hall.

Bible Study - 8:30

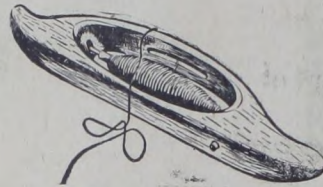

Magnificent tapestries, sometimes taking years to complete, decorated the walls of many homes and churches in the Middle Ages. Woven with richly colored strands of silk and wool, they often pictured scenes from the Bible. To create a beautiful tapestry required patience . . . skill . . . devotion.

Today each of us weaves a tapestry — the fabric of our lives. We sit at a loom, wondering whether the pattern of our lives will be of bright rose, green or golden threads, or whether the events will show as somber, dark colors.

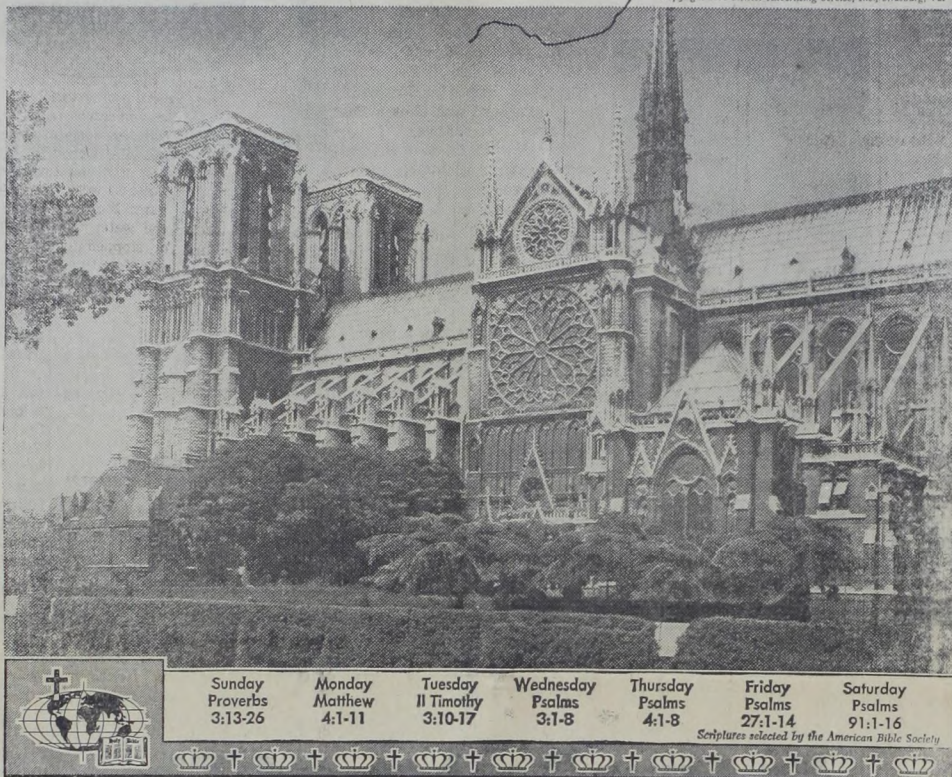

A weaver in the Middle Ages worked on the reverse side of his tapestry. By looking up at a mirror, he could see how the entire design looked on the right side.

When we look up to God in worship, we can see with clarity the pattern of our lives. Attend the church of your choice for perspective on your life's tapestry.

Shirttail Sermon

When young people refuse to go along with the crowd they sometimes are accused of being cowardly or are called "sissies." But the person who stands up for his convictions is not cowardly. Rather he shows great courage. The following true story illustrates this.

"A young Christian who had just completed his work and received his Doctor's Degree at Columbia University was invited to attend an important professional meeting of his metallurgist colleagues. At the meeting they began to serve beer. He calmly and confidently asked for a glass of milk. The waiter was somewhat surprised, but the young man showed no signs of embarrassment. At that moment a colleague spoke up so that those around could hear. Dr. _____ is afraid to drink, he's a sissy." Naturally attention was centered on the young man. Without batting an eye he turned to his erstwhile friend asking, "Who's a sissy? I don't drink and I'm not ashamed to say so. I see some others who have been taught not to drink, but they are afraid to say NO! I'll put it up to the rest of you, who's a sissy?"

"The young man's courage met with approbation even from those who didn't refuse to drink. After that incident they instructed the waiter to give him an ample supply of rich, healthful, milk."

Whether young or old, let us stand up for those things we know to be right. In so doing we'll not be "sissies."

Accent On Health

Extra bonus for prompt action on your part! Yours absolutely free—well, almost free—a premise with no mosquitoes.

You can have this mosquito-free home and yard if you'll spend just a little of your time in a do-it-yourself vector control program, says the Texas State Department of Health.

In addition to eliminating mosquitoes, you also can free your premises of flies and rodents with a little extra precaution. The cost can be just a little effort on your part.

Spring is the time of year when mosquitoes start breeding. So take an inventory of your property. Walk around outside of the house and take a good look. What do you see? Did you notice whether the gutters were level and not sagging? Mosquitoes like to breed in the water that collects in sagging or stopped-up gutters. Just a few minutes time on your part will eliminate this breeding site.

How many bottles, cans, tires, or other water-holding containers are partially hidden under the shrubs? These provide more breeding places for mosquitoes.

You may be surprised to know that most people grow the mosquitoes that bite them. Since most of the water-holding containers are valueless, again it is a simple matter to place them in the garbage pick-up.

Should you have a container you want to keep, place it in a shed so it won't collect water.

Mosquitoes won't breed on your premise if you don't leave any water standing around. If there's a knothole in one of your trees, it can be plugged with cement mortar, roofing tar, or anything that will keep the water out.

If you have pets, develop a routine of washing the watering bowl a couple of times a week. And while you are at it, you should clean the birdbath the same number of times. This will also keep the growth of algae down and Every Baby A Loved One!

All during the many hot debates over birth control recently, one fact has remained both cool and clear: Never before have so many medically-approved, reliable and effective methods of help been available to couples who decide to plan their families.

Over the centuries, women had used crude and sometimes dangerous methods to try and prevent pregnancy. For instance, they inserted glass, wood and walnut shells into their bodies. But it remained for modern pharmaceutical research to transform superstitious folklore into scientific fact. Even the rhythm method of conception control has been made more dependable by recent scientific findings.

From the world's largest laboratories devoted to birth control—Ortho Research Foundation—has come deeper understanding of the sacred mysteries of reproduction that enables almost every baby born to be a wanted, loved one.

At a time when wonder drugs have made health miracles commonplace, what is not generally realized is that pregnancy can still be a threat to health; that women bring forth children not only with pain, but at risk to their well-being, too. In fact, certain scientists, pointing out that every act in life entails some degree of risk, have estimated that bearing a baby can be many, many times more risky than using contraceptives to prevent the pregnancy!

Too often lost in birth control arguments is the all-important fact that with various methods to choose from, many more mothers' lives would be lost on delivery tables—and at the hands of abortionists—than would be endangered by contraception. For it's not just a simple matter of the woman taking the pill or getting pregnant; she can also plan her family with other methods. She can even obtain some of these methods, like Delfen contraceptive foam or cream, without prescription at the drug store.

No couple, having chosen to space their children, need be told of the various happy benefits this decision brings to all the members of the family. Parents and children live better, are happier, more relaxed and loving when energy, patience, time and money need not be spread so thinly among the family members.

This is certainly not to suggest that preventing pregnancy is a decision a woman should make lightly. But with the guidance of doctors, today she can choose that scientific method of birth control best suited to her needs and preferences. And she can use it to secure, for herself and her husband, greater peace of mind about childbearing than has ever before been possible in the history of the human family.

tend to do away with that ugly green, slimy look.

Since mosquitoes always develop in water, it would be well to stock your fish pond or lily pond with gambusia (top-water minnows) or goldfish. The fish will eat the wiggletails.

Anything you can do to eliminate mosquitoes will be to your advantage since the insects are a nuisance and can cause disease.
