Recording Artist Tish Hinojosa Makes Music Video In Turkey

Tish Hinojosa

by Ann Coker

Tish Hinojosa of Austin, her producer, Diane Weidenkopf, and entourage were in Turkey, October 6, to tape a music video. The company sponsoring the video is "Fade In Production."

The Austin group ate a late lunch at the Peanut Patch. Following their lunch they gathered at Harold Ham's Barber Shop to begin the taping of Tish's video. The barber shop was selected because it was where Bob Wills barbered at one time and sometimes entertained his customers with his great music.

Following the filming at the Barber Shop the entourage moved to Lacy's Dry Goods for more filming. The last stop in Turkey was Hotel Turkey where the video was completed.

The video was made for Tish's single called "Drifters' Wind."

Miss Hinojosa reported that on Tuesday they filmed in the majestic Palo Duro Canyon and in Happy. Wednesday morning they shot part of their video in Clarendon and in the canyons between Turkey and Clarendon. Following the Turkey filming the group returned to Austin.

While interviewing Tish she related she had been in the music profession for about 15 years. She now resides in Austin but San Antonio was her former home. She entertains at special occasions and in private clubs in Austin, but most of her time is traveling to fulfill her bookings.

Miss Hinojosa said she has a friend who lives in Perryton and who has attended every Bob Wills Celebration. After his description of the celebration she said she has always wanted to come to Turkey for Bob Wills Day. Since she was never able to make it the last week-end in April, she decided to come to Turkey to film her video.

The video can be viewed on CMT Cable in about a month. Tish gave me one of her tapes and I thoroughly enjoyed listening to it.

Quitaque Prepares For Foliage Tour

by Chamber Reporter

Quitaque merchants and residents across town are busy these days cleaning up and decorating their premises in preparation for the Fall Foliage Tour that will take place on October 23.

Robert Patrick has had a city work detail busy along Main Street, cutting weeds and getting things neat and attractive there.

Debbie Wellman has just completed an attractive fall display in front of her Farley's Flowers and Gifts Shop. Debbie has installed two large shocks of feed, complete with pumpkins and other fall decorations that make a colorful display in front of her business.

Karol Pigg also has some eye-catching decorations in a festive setting at Karol's Kountry Korner on the east end of Main. There are several bales of hay, with pumpkins and a life-size scarecrow along the front drive. A long line of orange Jack-o-Lantern decorations are nestled in the flowers along the front of the store.

Other businesses are also gearing up and adding special fall decoration touches that will make their homes and businesses more attractive.

We the Women have been busy this week, too, getting a fall display ready in the little mini-park on Main Street. They are also working on the ceramic planters in front of the businesses, where fall foliage is being placed in each planter.

Everything is beginning to shape up and Quitaque should be ready to greet its visitors on October 23.

Panhandle Judges And Commissioners Meet

by Ann Coker

The Panhandle County Judges and Commissioners Association met last week in Amarillo. Approximately seventy members from 32 counties registered for the meeting.

The welcome was extended to the group by Judge Arthur Ware of Amarillo. The highlight of the meeting was the slate of outstanding speakers who were present.

Hon. Peggy Garner, a member of the Texas Water Commission out of Austin, presented quite an interesting talk on the laws protecting our environment—land, water and air. Of particular interest to the Panhandle group was the future of our landfills.

Speaker of the House, Hon. Pete Laney gave a very informative talk on new laws that are important to the state of Texas. Hon. Laney was quite concerned with Proposition 14—the issuing of bonds for more jails, and is quite hopeful it will pass. He stressed the importance for the judges and commissioners staying involved with their representatives and senators.

Lions Sale Day Upcoming Soon

The Quitaque Lions Club will conduct an all-out drive on October 21, 1993 to sell quality Blind Made Merchandise to residents and local businesses. All of these items are manufactured by blind and visually-impaired workers in the Light-houses for the Blind. The Lions Club's earnings from this sale will be used for the purchase of eyeglasses for needy children.

The entire membership of the Lions Club has been organized to supply friends and neighbors with these quality items. The Broom and Mop Sale will be located on the parking lot of Merrell Food where citizens may purchase directly from the Caravan truck, or contact any Lions Club member.

Sales of Blind Made Merchandise in previous years have been very successful and Lion Randy Stark expressed his confidence in reaching a new all-time goal this year. "Every home and business can use some of these cleaning aids, and every item purchased helps to provide dignity and the security of regular employment for our blind citizens," stated Lion Stark.

Valley School Board will meet at 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday October 19 at Valley School.

THEN and NOW!

by Eunice McFall

Fall has arrived in a big hurry this past week. One day we have rain, the next day a heat wave and the following day a beautiful sunny fall day. The nights are cool and brisk so if we go out we must have a jacket on or at least a sweater. It is time to dig in the back of the closet for those coats, sweaters and woollens that we put away last spring with the thought that it was to be a long time before they would be needed. But the time has flown this summer and here it is fall going into winter once again.

Of course there are a few of us around that enjoy the cooler weather and look forward to the winter months but I think we get fewer and fewer as the years go by.

The cool nights afford very comfortable sleeping. In fact so much so that I, for one, hate to hear the alarm go off in the morning. Sid would say "What else is new!" You see I never am ready to get up when the alarm says it is time. But when the weather gets to be cooler it does make the sleeping so much more pleasant.

In the fall there are many things to look forward to when we have the warm days and cool nights. Football games, Halloween, Thanksgiving, harvest of good crops, hunters looking forward to the thrill of the chase whether it be birds, deer, elk, moose or bear, the brisk days of winter ahead, and the anticipation of the Christmas Season are some of the interesting happenings for the fall. It just would not be the same to do the same sport or celebrate our fall holidays if the weather was too hot or too cold.

I remember about 20 years ago when we lived in Amarillo and the first snowfall of the year came on Halloween. It did not even seem to be Halloween. So I guess we expect our holidays and sports to come at certain times of the year. More habits that we do not want to change!

The cotton is quite white in several of the fields that I travel by on my way to Paducah and Floydada. They look to be very good crops this year. Most of the gins have already begun the fall harvest. They are not running full time but that too will change shortly.

The cattle are fat and being shipped off to the feedlots. The pumpkins are harvested in Floyd County. If you go through Floydada in the next few days be sure to go by their courthouse and see their decorations on the lamp posts. Quite unique.

FACTS & FIGURES

(NAPS)—No matter how big or small—it may be, your foot still has the same number of bones as all other human feet: 26, to be exact. The largest of all the bones in the human foot is the heel bone. Doctors say you can avoid heel pain by wearing shoes that fit well and wearing the proper shoes for each activity. Also, prepare properly before exercising.

Arthritis is a disabling and occasionally crippling disease that afflicts more than 44 million Americans. Feet are most susceptible to it, as each has 33 joints which can be affected. It's important to see a podiatrist if you notice such symptoms as swelling in one or more joints, recurring pain or tenderness in any joint, early morning stiffness or limitation of motion.

Many people who'd like to stay on the path to good foot health don't because Medicare and other health care plans do not cover preventive foot care. They only cover the more costly conditions that often develop precisely because simpler preventive measures weren't taken earlier.

Things Seen or Heard.

Enjoyed reading the article in last weeks Tribune about the former Turkey resident who has become quite an artist, Jean (Perkins) Davenport of Post. Jean is a sister of Lavern Hamner's and the late Vernel Russell of Turkey. Congratulations, Jean!

Jack and Ray Logan were in town last week visiting in the home of Ray's mother, Ella Colvin and her brother, George Ray Colvin, Jr.

When the Logans left Turkey, Saturday, they drove to Parnell where they spent the night with Harold and Frances Wheeler. From Parnell, the Logans were traveling to Branson, Missouri, for a vacation.

Jack announced that he is retiring from Southwestern Public Service, January 1, 1994. Jack has recently had a pacemaker replacement but seems to be doing fine.

Cody Rich, son of Tony and Del Ray (Browning) Rich of Cisco, had surgery on his leg last Wednesday. The surgery was performed at Southwest Texas Hospital in San Antonio.

Cody will be hospitalized for about a week and will be in a cast for several weeks.

There for the surgery were Cody's grandparents, E. J. and Mary Ann Browning of Rising Star.

Telia Gilmore was hospitalized last week in the Memphis Hospital. She was returned to her home last Friday by her daughter, Judy Jordan.

Visitors in Mrs. Gilmore's home last Sunday were her nephew and wife, Earl Howard and Earlene Gilmore of Amarillo. The Earl Gilmore's also visited with Earlene's brother, Rev. and Mrs. Carlton Thomson.

Don Mullin reported visiting last week-end with some former Turkey residents, Esther Cheshire from Morton and Sylvia Payne West, from Childress. Mrs. West's father was Jim Payne, a rural mail carrier.

Horace Elmer and Lillian Mullin, Louis and Oleta Randall were in Lubbock and Plainview, Tuesday of last week. While in Plainview, they visited Bill Mullin, who is in a home there.

Karen McLaughlin of Amarillo, Lavern Mullin of Tulia, Dot Arnold and Janice Wheeler of Turkey drove to Kerrville recently. They attended all the festivities in Fredricksburg during Oktoberfest. They were unable to find hotel accommodations in Fredricksburg.

They thoroughly enjoyed all the activities in the beautiful Hill Country. They viewed the arts and crafts, the unique clothing and enjoyed the German Food. They listened to the German music and were spectators of the dancing that was held in the tents erected for the festival. This was the 13th anniversary of Fredricksburg's Oktoberfest.

Visiting in the homes of Stella Conners and the Keith Greens last week-end were Elgin and Cathryn Conner of Lampassas. Karyn Conner, a daughter, also visited in the home of her friends, Katrina Stewart, daughter of Danny and Laura Stewart.

Dot Arnold and daughter, Janice Wheeler, drove to Amarillo last Saturday. They attended the football game between Randall High and Caprock High, Saturday afternoon. Of course, their primary purpose in attending this game was to watch Dot's grandson and Janice's nephew, play football for Randall.

They reported Lance Denton played a very good game and needless to say, they were quite proud of him. Incidentally, Randall won 39 to 7.

Velma Lacy is taking physical therapy at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock following her surgery. Hopefully, she will be able to return to her home soon.

Telia Gilmore was recently in the Memphis Hospital. She is now at home, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gilmore of Amarillo were guests in her home.

Therma Farley visited in Amarillo from Oct. 9 through Oct. 12 with her sister Esther Butler and her houseguests - sister Odie Lane of Mesa, AZ, and sister Bernice Arnold of Big Springs. Therma reported a good visit. Odie and Bernice returned home Wednesday, Oct. 13.

Beth Mills was in town for a short visit last week. She seems to really be enjoying her work on the ranch in Wheeler.

Betty Thrasher was taken by ambulance to the Memphis Hospital last Wednesday evening. She was later moved to High Plains Hospital in Amarillo. At this time, Mrs. Thrasher is in critical condition.

The Senior Citizens met at Turkey Senior Citizen Room, October 5, with 14 present.

Buster Hanna welcomed everyone, also asked the blessing for our wonderful meal, which was enjoyed by every one. After the meal, we had a good time of games.

Next meeting will be October 19, 1993. Come and join us.

Surprise Birthday Party

Oleta Randall had a birthday last Sunday, October 10. She was expecting three people to be on hand to help her celebrate. These three expected guests were her daughter, Jo Anne, husband Ronnie Blythe and daughter, Courtney of Amarillo. The Blythes were also bringing the birthday dinner. Oleta was to prepare nothing.

Imagine the Randells' surprise when sixteen or more people arrived.

The nineteen guests brought all the food--fried chicken with all the trimmings. A beautiful birthday cake, baked by the Randall's granddaughter, Courtney Blythe, was presented to the honoree. The cake was topped with a candle for each year. Mrs. Randall expressed there was some concern when all the candles were lit, that perhaps the Fire Department should be called.

Others present from Amarillo, besides the Blythe family were Brooke, a friend of Courtney's, Nephew, Mack and wife, Janice Henderson and their daughters, Lacy; Nephew Kenny Henderson and two boys, Zach and Alex.

Coming from McClean, was Olet's niece, Ann Pierce and her daughter, Robbie Sanderson and her two daughters, Amanda and Jamie.

Guests from Lubbock were a niece, Nellie and husband, Tommy Longford and their grand-daughter, Devan.

All but the Henderson families were in time to attend church services with Oleta and Louis.

Visiting the group in the afternoon were Horace Elmer and Lillian Mullin and Dona Browning.

Children of the Randells that were unable to attend the party called during the day. Daughter, Ramona and husband Mike Smith called and their one month old daughter wished her grandmother a "Happy Birthday"---so Oleta said.

The Randells live in the former J. E. Barnhill home. I thought it was quite ironic that Oleta and Mr. Barnhill shared the same birthday.

Rita Guest, Turkey Post Office employee who helped make the stamp presentation a success.

Photographers to Document One Day

October 22, 1993 will prove to be one of a kind as photographers all over the state document high school life from before sun up until midnight.

Sponsored by Taylor Publishing in Dallas and the Association of Texas Photography Instructors, "One Day" is a chance for high school photographers to be published and recognized as some of the finest in the state. Photos from the assignment can be used in the yearbook or on a photo page in the school or community newspaper. The assignment could even be turned into a midterm project.

"It's not just another contest," said Alan Health, Vice President of Marketing for Taylor Publishing Company. "It doesn't require weeks of shooting, processing, mounting and filling out entry forms. It's a one day event. 'One Day' gives schools a day they can really dedicate to working on the photography which is at the heart of modern publications."

All photos must be submitted to Taylor by Nov. 10, two and one-half weeks after the event. They don't have to be mounted and there's no entry form. Photographers just print their name, their school's name/address, what camera/lens/film they used, and a complete photo caption on a piece of paper and securely tape it to the back of the photo.

The contest's sponsor, Taylor Publishing, with headquarters in Dallas, is a leading publisher of yearbooks nationwide. The Association of Texas Photography Instructors is an organization formed to assist people interested in the instruction of photography on the junior high, high school and college/university level.

It's that simple. It's One Day. For more information contact: Bradley Wilson at 800/677-2800x8309.

Lower Your Cholesterol

by Ronda Alexander
Your doctor has just told you to lower your blood cholesterol level. Some simple diet changes will help you achieve this goal and contribute to your overall good health. Start by cutting down on saturated fatty acids. Did you know that this is the most important diet change that you can make? Eating less cholesterol is important, too. You can decrease both fat and cholesterol by eating lean, well-trimmed cuts of meat, fish or chicken. Be sure to remove the skin from your chicken.

Diary foods made from whole milk are high in saturated fatty acids and cholesterol. Switch to skim or 1/2% milk. Decrease your intake of high-fat cheeses and choose low-fat cheeses instead. The label will state that cheese is made with skim milk. Look for those lower in fat. In cooking, use vegetable oils in place of butter or lard as often as you can. Animal fats contain cholesterol. Since cholesterol is only in animal sources, you can reduce cholesterol by using more vegetable oils. Read labels on oils. Look for more unsaturated fatty acids such as corn, safflower, cottonseed, soy, canola, peanut or olive oil.

Some types of fiber can help to lower your blood cholesterol when you include them in your heart-healthy diet. Increase your fiber intake by eating more fruit, barley, oats and dried beans. Eat more lean meat casseroles, low-fat bean soup with bread and a salad, pasta with a tomato base sauce, or stir-fried Chinese vegetables and rice. This is a good way to decrease the saturated fatty acids and increase fiber in your meals.

Breakfast - In a Flash

Work better, feel better and improve your overall nutrition. How? By taking the time to eat breakfast - every morning.

Take a tip from breakfast lovers and stock up on the basics. Cold and hot cereals; whole grain breads, bagels and muffins; frozen waffles and pancakes; fat-free yogurt; fruit; and no-sugar-added fruit spreads. Then mix and match them to create any number of fast and healthful breakfast menus.

For an instant nutrition boost, keep Cinnamon Breakfast Crunch on hand to sprinkle over cereal, fruit, toast, pancakes and waffles. It takes just minutes to make and can be stored tightly covered in the refrigerator up to three months. Because it's made with nutty, crunchy wheat germ, a two tablespoon serving is a good source of six essential vitamins and minerals, including folic acid and vitamin E.

For more healthy eating tips for busy days, send your name and complete address to Healthy Eating Made Easy, 332 S. Michigan Avenue, Suite 900, Dept. N, Chicago, IL 60604.

First Aid For Poisoning

March 21-27 is National Poison Prevention Week. Each year Methodist Hospital's Poison Control Referral Center receives about 800 phone calls concerning accidental poisoning.

To minimize the risk of poisoning, it's important to read the label when using any type of substance. Follow the directions carefully and be especially cautious if any of these words are listed on the label: Danger - means the substance is highly poisonous; Warning - the substance is moderately hazardous; or Caution - which means it is mildly hazardous.

When working with substances, always wear protective clothing specified by the label. Mix or dilute ingredients outdoors in a properly ventilated area.

Always store toxic materials in their original container with the lid securely fastened. Store them away from other materials with which they might be confused, and keep them away from high traffic areas where they might leak or spill.

Also, keep syrup of ipecac on hand, which induces vomiting, and Epsom salt which acts as a laxative. However, only use these substances as directed by the Poison Control Center.

If an accident occurs, remain calm. First, find out what happened to the victim. Some common signs of poisoning are burns or redness around the mouth, a chemical smell on the breath, burns, stains and odors on the victim or the clothing, vomiting or difficulty breathing.

When calling the Poison Control Center or 911 for help, be ready to give the operator the exact location of the accident, the name of the substance ingested, the condition of the victim and the phone number from which the call is being placed.

Because time is of critical importance, and professional help may not be immediately available, be prepared to administer the type of first aid indicated by the situation.

Swallowing--rinse the victim's mouth with plenty of water. Make them drink one quart of water or milk to dilute the poison. Induce vomiting if instructed to, but never induce vomiting if the victim is having convulsions or is unconscious.

Inhaling--carry or drag the victim to fresh air and loosen any tight-fitting clothing. Give artificial respiration if the victim's skin is blue or breathing has stopped.

Eyes--flood the eyes with lukewarm water poured from 3 to 4 inches from the eye, making sure to get it under the eye lids. Continue this procedure for about 15 minutes.

Skin--remove any affected clothing and drench the skin with water. Then, wash the skin and hair thoroughly. Do not apply ointments, greases, powder or drugs to the affected area.

The Methodist Hospital Poison Control Referral Center can be reached at 784-5019 or 1-800-392-8548.

As late as the 1700s, some people in Europe and America believed that lightning could be kept away by ringing church bells.

Avoid Severe Headache Pain

(NAPS)—Are you among the millions of Americans who get chronic, recurring headaches and keep it to yourself? If you suffer from severe headache pain, this may be due to a "muscle contraction," "tension" or migraine headache. Are you aware you don't need to suffer with that severe headache pain that won't go away?

The First Step

The first step in ridding yourself of the severe headache pain is to see a physician. The doctor can make an accurate diagnosis and develop a treatment plan that may consist of lifestyle changes plus medication.

Conventional preventive, abortive and pain relief treatment alternatives are effective. Are you aware that new drug therapies and other alternatives such as relaxation training, biofeedback and dietary changes provide physicians with unique therapies to treat patients who suffer from migraine and severe headache pain?

Among the new therapies is a rapid and effective nasal spray pain reliever. With the introduction of Stadol® NS (butorphanol tartrate nasal spray) by Mead Johnson Laboratories, migraine headache sufferers now can manage their headache pain at home and possibly avoid emergency room visits for pain relief.

Following the instructions of a physician and using the recommended dosage of Stadol NS (only one spray in only one nostril) usually results in onset of pain relief within 15 minutes. The most commonly seen side effect with Stadol NS is drowsiness. Other side effects experienced include dizziness and nausea.

If you experience severe headache pain, the National Headache Foundation advises that you seek medical assistance. The Foundation estimates that more than 45 million Americans suffer from the pain of headaches severe enough to seek the help of a physician, and approximately 16 to 18 million Americans suffer from migraines with an annual loss of 64 million workdays because of pain. And the incidence of migraine appears to be rising. According to the National Center of Health Statistics, 60 percent more Americans reported migraines during the 1980s than at any other period in history.

The National Headache Foundation promotes National Headache Awareness Week, to encourage people who suffer severe headache pain to see a physician. For more information about severe headache causes and treatments, you can call the National Headache Foundation at 1-800-843-2256.

Ask your physician for more information about Stadol NS. Take the First Step, Stop the Suffering

So if you are among the millions of Americans who suffer chronic, recurring headache pain, you don't need to suffer. Take the first step and see a physician.

This information is provided by Mead Johnson Laboratories. Physicians are advised to read the full prescribing information for Stadol NS.

Dogooders club

Wonders never cease with the information computers are able to deliver, as members found out at the Do Gooders' Club meeting Tuesday, October 5, at the Community Center in Flomot.

Featured guest, Mrs. Beverly Logston of Memphis, Regional Home Extension Agent, took the body measurements of women in Flomot at a previous meeting. She returned with a computer read-out that told what style of apparel would be most attractive for each individual. She told of high style in its simplest form.

Pants are a popular fashion trend today. However, as comfortable as pants are to wear, the wrong pair can emphasize a not-so-flat stomach or wide thighs. You should make the most of your shape while minimizing flaws.

If your stomach is not perfectly toned, you can still look terrific in classic pleated trousers with a belted waistband. Styles with a single or double flat pleat in front give you extra room around the middle, yet visually hide any extra pounds. To make hips look slimmer, put away those baggy blouses. Instead, flatter your hips by choosing pants with pleats or a vertical row of buttons, which draw attention downward. To double the slimming effect, stick with darker colors.

Slimmerize your thighs by choosing full-cut pants with an elastic waistband. The loose leg will fall gracefully over your thigh, which the stretchy elastic will cling to your middle no matter what your waist size. Get that leggy, tall, slim look in trousers by wearing high-waisted pants that are tapered at the ankle. Petite shapes should steer clear of extra-full styles and those that are cuffed at bottom.

In conclusion, pair your trousers with stylish jackets or today's most powerful fashion trend, a T-shirt!

Mrs. Mary Jo Calvert conducted a brief business meeting. A committee was appointed to water plants and trees at Community Center for the months of October and November. They sent get well cards to Mrs. Jimmie Hunter, Mrs. Mary Clay, Mrs. Twanna Starkey and Charles Tanner.

Mrs. Christeen Gilbert, hostess, presided at a Halloween designed service. The table was laid with an orange cloth, centered with ornamental gourds, pumpkins, and orange and black bows to complete the colorful decor. She served assorted crackers, chips, dips and candies and watermelon balls, with iced tea.

Others attending besides those mentioned above were Mesdames Judy Poulson, Lucille Monk, Alma Shorter, Bernice Bond, Nada Starkey and new member Mrs. Mildred Hulsey.

WTAMU to Host "Intro to College"

The West Texas A&M University Office of Admissions will host its annual "Intro to College" program for prospective students and parents at 2 p.m. Saturday, October 16 on the WTAMU campus.

"As students begin to make choices about colleges and universities, it is important for them to find out as much information as possible about what options are available," Lila Vars, WTAMU director of admissions, said. "We want to provide that general information for them while giving them the opportunity to find out about what we have to offer at West Texas A&M University."

According to Vars, the program will provide an overview of college life, admissions and financial aid. The most commonly asked questions about those areas as well as housing and deadlines will be addressed.

The program begins at 2 p.m. with a volleyball game pitting the Lady Buffs against the University of Central Oklahoma in the WTAMU Fieldhouse. Tours and registration begin at 3 p.m. in the Virgil Henson Activities Center (VHAC) with the program following at 4 p.m. in the VHAC Ballroom. Dinner with University faculty and administrators will be at 6 p.m.

A small fee will be charged for the program and dinner. For more information about "Intro to College" or to make reservations, call the Office of Admissions at 806/656-2020 or 1-800-99-WTAMU.

Reduce Pesticides and Herbicides in Drinking Water

Reducing the risk of herbicides and pesticides entering the drinking water supply is a job that can begin at home during National Drinking Water Week on May 2-8.

Improper use of these chemicals can lead to nonpoint source pollution of ground and surface water supplies.

Runoff from yards can carry contaminants to streams and storm sewers that may indirectly lead to water supplies. Runoff can occur after a heavy rain or overwatering a yard.

Excess water also can percolate, or move through the soil, carrying contaminants into groundwater.

Contaminants can be excess nutrients in fertilizers such as nitrogen and phosphorus. A concentration of nitrate-nitrogen in excess of 10 milligrams per liter, or the equivalent of 10 parts per million, can cause methemoglobinemia, or blue-baby syndrome. One part per million is equal to one drop of water in 4,058-ounce glasses.

Methemoglobinemia is caused by the nitrate being reduced to nitrite in an infant's stomach, which in turn seriously impairs the oxygen carrying capacity of the blood.

Herbicides, insecticides, or fungicides can accumulate by sticking to soil particles or they can percolate through to groundwater.

Pesticide concentrations of 2 to 20 parts per billion can result in the water resource not suitable for a drinking supply. One part per billion equals one inch in 16,000 miles or one second in 32 years.

Some pesticides can remain active for more than 25 years, compounding the problem.

Excess runoff from yards can cause soil erosion, which is not only unsightly but also requires time and materials to repair the damage. The sediment can decrease the capacity of lakes, reducing drinking water storage and lowering the appeal of the lake for recreational activities.

To avoid these problems, the application of nutrients and

Determine the area on which the application will be made and only apply the required amount of product for that time of the year.

Don't try to apply the year's fertilizer needs all at once. A heavy rainfall will carry off not only your fertilizer to water sources, but your money as well.

Herbicides or pesticides not incorporated into the soil can be carried off by runoff.

For insect pests, try to determine whether it would be cost-effective to apply pesticide, or whether that pest is beneficial or a nuisance. For instance, some spiders actually control other unwanted insects.

Some people may want to try a little integrated pest management—using a combination of biological, cultural and chemical control—to reduce the amount of pesticides they use.

If a pesticide is used, read the label to determine the quantity which needs to be applied.

Megargel Beats J.V. by Coach Saul

The Valley J. V. was defeated by the Megargel Mustangs Varsity team last Thursday night in Guthrie. Megargel led 13-0, at the end of the first period. In the second period, the Patriots scored on a Brian Moore run. The PAT was intercepted and returned for a conversion point by Megargel. This made the score 14-6 in favor of Megargel. The Mustangs would score one more time before the half and 22-6 at intermission.

The Patriots opened the second half with an 80 yard kickoff returned by Moore. The PAT failed and the score stood at 22-12. Megargel would score two more touchdowns in the second half, however, to push their lead to 36-12 in the fourth quarter. The Patriots final score came on a pass from Jarret Pigg to Moore. The PAT run was good. This made the final score 36-19.

The Jr. High team will play at Groom next Thursday night. Kick-off for the game is 5:00 p.m.

BOOSTER CLUB

The Booster Club met on Tuesday, October 12, at 7:30 p.m. in the Valley Cafetorium.

CARDS OF THANKS

A note to say "Thank You" Dear Home-Town" for all you did to help arrange such a "rushed" memorial service there. We felt that waiting until Friday to come to Quitaque, after Jimmy's sudden death on Monday was not practical for family members who came so far. Any-way Jimmy has often said "No display, no delay. Say a prayer over me and get on with life." We are trying!

To O.R and Mary Stark, to Ann Chadwick and to Lolla Belle Harmon we extend a special vote of thanks. They (with your help) arranged it all at the Baptist Church. Cool drinks and sandwiches were provided, with the presence and comfort of dear friends, before we returned to Lubbock.

The beautiful music provided by Patsy Herrington and Wadie Clay drew comments of praise from all the family. The special tribute to Jimmy's life by our pastor, Dr. Michael Passmore, was a portrayal of Jimmy Baird that comforted us.

All the cards, the calls, the flowers, memorial gifts, and your presence there remind us that your love and prayers are with us still.

Thank you "Dear Home Town." We love you.
Ina Mae Baird & Family

Pointers For Parents
Kids can enjoy handwashing.

One of the best things you can do for children is to teach them to wash their hands often. It's a habit that will benefit them for the rest of their lives. The correct handwashing procedure is: use soap and warm water, scrub vigorously, rinse well and dry hands with a clean paper or cloth towel. To conserve water, turn it off while scrubbing. Remember to wash between fingers and under the nails. When exiting a public restroom teach children to use their elbow or shoulder to open the door so their hands remain clean.

See if you and your youngsters can make a clean sweep in this quiz about cleanliness from Liquid Dial antibacterial soap.

1. The place on your hand likely to harbor the most germs is (a) the palm (b) between the fingers (c) under the fingernails (d) the knuckle?
2. Most people spend (a) 30-40 seconds (b) ten to 15 seconds (c) 60
