Americans who consume some 100 pounds of sugar per year each despite hazards of overweight, coronary arteriosclerosis and dental cavities are getting a new warning. A British scientist is now directly linking sugar with heart disease.

While the American Heart Association has discouraged "excessive use of sugar including candy, soft drinks and other sweets," the Briton, Professor John Yudkin, M.D., Ph. D., M.R.C.P., goes further, "Coronary heart disease,"

"Coronary heart disease," he says, "seems to be more closely related with the level of sugar consumption than with the level of any other dietary component.

dietary component.

"The common belief that the level of animal fat in the diet shows the highest correlation with heart disease is simply not valid."

Researchers have commonly settled on a diet high in saturated fat and cholesterol as the principal cause, of atherosclerotic coronary artery disease.

The Committee on Nutriof atherosclerotic coronary artery disease.

The Committee on Nutrition of the American Heart Association has warned against these dietary elements as well as excessive weight. Its published policy on dietetic dangers also recommends use of vegetables, cereals and fruits as preferable to excessive use of sugar.

Dr. Yudkin, professor of nutrition and dietetics, Queen Elizabeth College, University of London, zeroes in on sugar as the number one culprit. Experiments with young men on a sugar-rich diet and patients who had suffered attacks of coronary thrombosis led to his conclusions.

The experiments with the young men convinced him that sugar is the biggest dietary contributor to coronary heart disease, the doctor said.

Buy Bonds where you work.

It's miserable work, crawling through a rice paddy. And being shot at. This American does the job for freedom's sake. So do thousands of his buddies. Many of these brave men also support freedom with their dollars. A majority of our servicemen overseas are investing in U.S.

Savings Bonds. Would you like to show this man you're with him? One good way is to buy Savings Bonds where you bank or join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. You'll make a good investment. And you'll walk a bit tailer.

WITNESSES TO ATTEND INTENSIVE BIBLE TRAINING

Local congregational members of Jehovah's Witnesses will con-cern themselves with being the "Right Kind of Ministers" during hree days of Intensive Bible raining in Plainview when they attend their semi-annual Circuit Assembly in the Plainview High School Auditorium November 7-9.

The theme for the assembly was announced this week at the Kingdom Hall by V. D. Tiffin, presiding minister. He indicated that some of the local members will have a share in the program.

More than 18 in all from this area are planning to attend with upwards of 500 expected to share in the program that will encourage modern application of Matthew 7:29. V. D. Tiffin said that this passage from the Holy Bible describes the teaching methods. describes the teaching methods employed by Jesus Christ where it indicated that "he was teaching them as a person having authority, and not as their scribes." Several from this area are plan-nig to be baptized, according to Tiffin. They will participate in an ordination ceremony for new min-isters that will include being immersed under water. The baptism will be a convention highlight as it is in all conventions of the Witnesses. Since July more than 27,000 have been baptized as a feature of the "Peace on Earth" International Assemblies of Jehovah's Witnesses that are currently being held all.
