VOLUME 23 NUMBER 42

On The Issue Of Withholding

On Interest and Dividends

The following article was published in the Bulletin to all Texas banks on March 25, 1983 from the Texas Bankers Association:

Senator Robert Dole who successfully engineered the passage of income tax withholding on interest and dividends has been charging bankers with distorting the effect of the new withholding law to bank customers, thus touching off an avalanche of pro-repeal mail to members of Congress.

Ironically, the strongest criticism of withholding on interest and dividends appears in the 1980 Republican Convention Platform. This document, which was prepared under the direction of a platform committee of which Bob Dole was a member and upon which Ronald Reagan ran successfully for President, states:

"We also oppose Carter proposals to impose withholding on dividend and interest income. They would serve as a disincentive to save and invest and create needless paper work burdens for government, business, industry and the private citizen. They would literally rob the saver of the benefits of interest compounding and automatic dividend reinvestment programs."

(Completely reversing the stand they ran on for office.)

Turkey City Election

To Be Held Saturday

The Tribune editor received a correction on Sidney Bogan's address and a letter from S. T., jr. last week. Sid's address is Sidney Bogan, Heritage Park Nursing, 3208 Thunderbird Lane, Plano, Texas 75075.

S. T. reports Bro. Sid has been pretty sick recently with a flu-related illness, but is improved. He asks to give regards to all his friends. He says they all enjoy the news from "home" through the Valley Tribune.

S. T. sends the following message to the basketball team: "Our congratulations to the Valley basketball team for the successful season just completed. In case a lot of your readers have forgotten (or never knew), Carey, a little school just west of Childress, was the "Snook" of my day who always won State every year. They only had about seven men out for basketball each year and there was no different "classes" of schools—Amarillo, Dallas, Austin, Carey were all in one class. Needless to say, we never got past District because we had to play them.

"Best wishes to the Valley Patriots for continuing success."

The Turkey City Election will be held Saturday, April 2.

The places on City Council to be voted on are Place 2—Marjorie Bain, incumbent; Place 3—Arlowene Williams, incumbent; Place 5—Steve Farley, Lorene Setliff.

Turkey Baptists Entertain Senior Class

The First baptist Church in Turkey entertained the Seniors of '83 with a "Springtime Banquet" Tuesday night, March 22, in the fellowship hall of the church.

Upon arrival the seniors stepped into a spring garden with green grass, trellises and green trees and plants, also live blooming flowers, including a red rose bush in full bloom.

The seniors were met by Bo Garvin, Karen Clinton, Cindy Farley, Brandon Smith and Revis Farley, who served them punch, sausage balls, cheese squares and vegetable sticks, and later served the delicious meal of charcoaled filet mignon, potato boats, green beans, salad, iced tea and strawberry shortcake.

Following the banquet, Rev. Melvin Clinton introduced the speaker, Otis Cooks, a Baptist minister from Lubbock. His talk was thoroughly enjoyed by the young people.

Seniors present were Candy Jones, Melody Cruse, Angie Clay, Elaine Adams, Misty McElreath, Stachia Chadwick, Bobby Duncan, Trudy Taylor, Carolyn

Scoggins, Connie Pigg, Cindy Jenkins, Terese Taylor, Stacy Price, Randy Fuston, John Morgan, Travis Carnes, Brett Cheatman, Tim McWilliams, Todd Mills, Max Meyer, Wayne Robison, David Landry, Randy Lacy and Robbie Helms.

Doug Setliff, a senior, was unable to attend because he had donated blood that afternoon and had a reaction, and was too ill to attend. He was able to be in school the following day, we're glad to report.

The senior sponsors, Jerry Bob Smith and U. F. Coker, and their wives, Brenda Smith and Ann Coker, attended, as did Supt. and Mrs. Wilburn Leeper and Prin. and Mrs. Jerry Maupin.

Clema Johnson went to her doctor in Lubbock last Tuesday for a checkup, accompanying Mrs. Smitty Guest. The doctor put her in Methodist Hospital where she remains a patient. Her son, Gary Johnson of Paragould, Arkansas and his wife, Sue, came to be with her.

CONSERVATION-CONSCIOUS LAWN CARE METHODS

Conservation-conscious homeowners can take steps to reduce the water and energy demands of lawn care without lowering lawn standards, says a turfgrass specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Such steps include reducing fertilizer applications to two to three pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn per year, returning or composting grass clippings, mowing regularly to reduce thatch buildup caused by grass clippings, watering properly, reducing pesticide use to only essential applications, and using adapted, low-maintenance turfgrasses.

The United States contributes more to the United Nations budget than any other country—over 180 million dollars in 1982.

REPORT SENT TO TEXAS COUNCIL FOR GOVERNOR'S COMMUNITY IMPROVEMENT PROGRAM

The following is a copy of the report sent in to the Beautify Texas Council for the Governor's Community Improvement Program. There will be six winners across Texas—one in each population category, and one overall winner as the number one in Texas. Plaques suitable for display in the City Park are awarded to the winning communities at an awards banquet in Austin in June.

This report will be run weekly as we have space. Please keep this issue so you may re-read it in context. The Quitaque Community should win first place.

I. INTRODUCTION

Quitaque is a beautiful scenic community with 700 population. It is located just below the caprock with a seven hundred foot drop in elevation. It is surrounded by hills and deep canyons on three sides and to the north is one of the largest State Parks in Texas which opened formally in August of 1982. Quitaque hosted a Grand Opening for the Park on October 9, 1982. Amarillo and Lubbock are each located one hundred miles from Quitaque and Plainview is fifty-five miles. These are major trade centers.

II. THEME

About fifteen years ago a contest was sponsored in Quitaque for a slogan. A high school boy wrote the winning slogan, "Quitaque—Small in Size—Big in Pride." Bumper stickers were printed and all of these years this slogan has been used effectively in promoting beautification and community pride. There is still no better way to express Quitaque—for it is indeed a community of pride and progress.

This year, however, Caprock Canyons State Park located three miles north of Quitaque was officially opened to the public. Since Quitaque citizens played an extremely active role in securing this State Park and in the planning and development, it was felt that a new slogan was needed to identify Quitaque with the Park. Through the Chamber of Commerce, made up of representatives from each organization, the slogan, "Quitaque—Gateway to Caprock Canyons State Park," was adopted. New bumper stickers were printed and caps and T-shirts made with the slogan. On the day of the grand opening of Caprock Canyons State Park, bumper stickers were placed on every vehicle at the Park, caps were presented to the dignitaries and news media, and the Chamber of Commerce sold over 500 caps and T-shirts to help defray expenses of the Park Grand Opening.

III. COMMITTEE COORDINATION

Representatives from the following organizations formed a group to compile this report: Chamber of Commerce, Lions Club, We the Women, Firemen and EMTs, Firemen's Women's Auxilliary, Softball Association, Industrial Foundation, and the Boy Scouts. This committee worked together as a unit in compiling this report. One group gathered facts and another group wrote the report with another group typing the report.

IV. CITIZEN PARTICIPATION

This is the strongest quality in Quitaque, for the people are so willing to work together for the benefit of the community. This year was an especially important one for with the opening of "Caprock Canyons State Park"

Quitaque had an opportunity to attract many tourists and visitors for the first time—this meant that Quitaque must be clean, attractive and progressive. The response from the people has been overwhelming.

Cattle, shells, nails, hatchets, tobacco, furs, rice, tea, and dates have all been used for money at one time or another.

TFU Pleased With P-I-K Sign-Up

The President of Texas Farmers Union announced today that he was extremely encouraged by the response of Texas farmers to the Payment-in-Kind (PIK) Farm Program, and issued a call for all farm organizations to work together for a long-term program to provide continuous supply management of agricultural commodities.

TFU head Mike Moeller, who farms in Hays and Guadalupe counties, expressed optimism with regard to participation by Texas farmers as well as farmers throughout the United States in the 1983 crop land diversion program. Moeller emphasized that of the 82 million acres of crop land that will be taken out of production in 1983, nearly ten million acres, or approximately 12% of the total, is Texas crop land. He said he was both surprised and pleased that Texas wheat farmers had actually exceeded the national average under the Set Aside Program. While some 35% of the total wheat acreage in the United States will be held out of production under the PIK proposal, Texas wheat farmers plan to set aside 41% of their base wheat acreage in 1983. In addition, Moeller said Texas rice farmers would divert 46% of their base acreage compared to a 43% national average. He went on to say that Texas cotton farmers would divert some 3.5 million acres in 1983, which is more than half of the total cotton acreage diverted under the PIK program for the entire United States. Only Texas feed grain producers fell somewhat below the national average in terms of projected acreage diversion. Nationwide, feed grain farmers will divert some 39% of their base acreage, while in Texas some 2.4 million feed grain acres will be idled, which represents about 35% of the base for the state.

"This high rate of participation by Texas farmers and those from other states," Moeller said, "demonstrates quite clearly that farmers want, and will support, a system of supply management that provides reasonable incentives to take land out of production."

Moeller, however, tempered his optimism with a note of caution, "All the good accomplished by the 1983 PIK program will be for naught if Congress and the Administration don't act quickly to provide a continuing supply management program for 1984 and subsequent years." Moeller added that he was encouraged by remarks that U. S. Secretary of Agriculture John Block made at the recent National Farmers Union Convention, where Block pledged to support a program similar to PIK for 1984. Moeller said that he would be meeting soon with the heads of other agriculture-related organizations to help develop such an ongoing program of supply management, and he expressed hope that if a consensus program can be developed, Congress and the Administration would act quickly to ratify it.

"Farmers need to be assured that there will be a long-term program to keep supply and demand for agricultural commodities in balance. Without such a program we will fall right back into the over-production, low price trap that we've been in for the past several years. I think the high rate of sign up in the PIK program shows that American farmers don't want that to happen," Moeller concluded.

OPEN LETTER TO CURTIS TUNNELLS

My dear friends:

I was agreeably surprised a few days ago at receiving from you a picture. I had forgotten that such a picture was ever made and had not seen it for over 20 years.

It made me rather homesick for those happy days and particularly made me regret this extended stomach I now have, when I look at the physical proportions I had at that time.

I understand you have both done well and are getting along fine. It would be a pleasure to see you again and recall some of the incidents of our lost youth.

My family joins me in extending to you our warm regards.

Sincerely yours,

O. R. Tipps

(Ed. Note: This letter was dated September 29, 1944. He was first coach at Quitaque and later was superintendent.)

Mr. Tunnell brought this letter in and thought it would be of interest to Quitaque people especially. He found it as he was going through things Davie had put away.)

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Johnson and Celia and Mr. and Mrs. U. F. Coker, jr. recently traveled to Houston to visit their sons, Billy Ray and Deedra Johnson and Kim and Lisa Coker. While there they shopped at the Galleria, took in some new movies, ate out, toured the Astrodome and the Azalea Trail, visited the San Jacinto Monument and Battleship Texas. They were gone for five days and reported a great time.

WHAT ARE HOMESTEAD EXEMPTIONS?

This public service message from the State Property Tax Board, local taxing authorities and this newspaper explains exemptions.

A homestead exemption is a reduction in the taxable value of your residence homestead. Various types of homestead exemptions are available in Texas and, if you qualify, they can reduce your total property tax bill. Read on for details.

What Exemptions Are Available?

School districts offer a residence homestead exemption to all homeowners and additional exemptions to persons who are disabled or over 65.

Counties offer homestead exemptions on their farm-to-market or flood control tax rate, and may offer optional exemptions to the disabled and elderly.

Cities and other taxing districts may offer optional exemptions for the disabled and elderly.

All local taxing units offer an exemption for certain disabled veterans on one designated property.

Additionally, many taxing units offer a local option, percentage homestead exemption to resident homeowners.

How Do I Apply?

Applications for the disabled veterans' exemption must be filed annually with the county appraisal district office.

For other exemptions, if you received a residence homestead exemption on your present homestead in 1982, it will not be necessary for you to make a new application for 1983 in this appraisal district.

If you were 65 or disabled on January 1 and have not previously filed for the over-65 or disability homestead exemption, you will need to make application this year.

Or, if you have never received a homestead exemption on your present home, an original application should be filed in 1983.

Applications should be made to the county appraisal district at the address shown below. Forms are available from the appraisal office.

Is There a Deadline?

For 1983, applications should be filed on or before May 2. While late applications for exemptions may be accepted in certain instances, you can fully protect your rights by applying before the May 2 rendition deadline.

The State Property Tax Board has a pamphlet, Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities!, to help you understand your local property taxes. Get a free copy at the appraisal district office or contact the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

PATRIOTS ARE STATE SEMI-FINALISTS AND "SURPRISE TEAM OF THE YEAR"

The Valley Patriots were listed in the Amarillo Globe News Super Team sketches in the Sunday newspaper and they also were chosen as the "Surprise Team of the Year."

Before the season began, Valley Coach Steve Adams knew he'd be at the State Tournament in March, but he didn't realistically expect his team to be there. But, lo and behold! there was this year's surprise team, the Valley Patriots, going against legendary

"Valley didn't return a starter from last year," said Coach Adams, "but using an extremely balanced offensive attack—all starters averaged in double figures—the Patriots finished the season an excellent 31-5."

Granddaughter Of The J. T. Mullin's Receives Award

The United States Achievement Academy announced this week that Leslie Mullin has been named a 1983 U. S. National Award Winner in Art. This award is a prestigious honor very few students can ever hope to attain, it was learned today. In fact the Academy recognizes less than 10% of all American high school students.

Leslie, a student attending Nimitz Junior High School in Odessa, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James (Bunky) Mullin, jr. The grandparents are J. T. and Tootsie Mullin of Turkey and Marvin and Mildred Shurbet of Petersburg.

She was nominated for this award by her art teacher, Mrs. Chandler, and will appear in the United States Achievement Academy Official Yearbook, published nationally. The Academy selects USAA winners upon the exclusive recommendation of teachers, coaches, etc. and upon the Standards of Selection set forth by the Academy. The criteria for selection are a student's academic performance, interest and aptitude, leadership qualities, responsibility, enthusiasm, motivation to learn and improve, citizenship, attitude and cooperative spirit, dependability, and recommendation from a teacher or director.

WHAT IS TAX RENDITION?

This public service message from the State Property Tax Board, local taxing authorities and this newspaper explains the process.

Rendition is the method through which a taxpayer reports or lists the taxable property he owned or managed and controlled on January 1 of the current tax year. It is also the means by which a taxpayer is allowed to record his own opinion of what the value of that property should be.

Not every taxpayer is required to file a rendition, but there are important reasons why a taxpayer may wish to do so.

Renditions must be filed: (1) for all tangible personal property used for the production of income; or (2) on any other taxable property if required by the chief appraiser.

Renditions may be filed by any taxpayer who wishes to preserve certain valuable rights.

Even if you aren't required to prepare and file a rendition on your property, there are several good reasons why you should do so:

- As previously noted, by filing a rendition, you have placed into the record your own opinion as to the value of your property.
- You create a responsibility on the part of the chief appraiser and the appraisal review board to notify you if they intend to increase the value of your property by any amount over what you have rendered. Further, you have the right to protest to the appraisal review board either the increase in value or any other decision affecting the taxability of your property.
- For property that is not rendered by the owner, the chief appraiser makes his own decision on the property's value and places that value on the appraisal roll.

In addition to a rendition, you also may file a special report called a report of decreased value if the value of your property decreased during the preceding tax year for any reason other than normal depreciation. The appraisal office will view the property and verify any reported change in appraised value and its cause and nature.

Renditions and other property reports may ordinarily be filed with the county appraisal district office at any time from January 1 through April 30. This year, since April 30 falls on a Saturday, the deadline is extended by law to May 2, 1983.

Rendition forms for various types of property, as well as other property report forms, are available from the appraisal district office. Your appraisal district can also give you a free copy of the Taxpayers' Rights, Remedies, Responsibilities pamphlet which explains exemptions, appeal rights, and other details of the local property tax system in Texas. Or, contact the State Property Tax Board in Austin.

GRAZING SYSTEM SHOULD BOOST RANCH PRODUCTION

A grazing system which incorporates some basic principles will help provide for the needs and growth requirements of both plants and animals.

These principles include proper forage use, proper season of use, proper grazing distribution, and proper class and kind of livestock, says a range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

The two basic grazing systems, deferred rotation and short duration, have both positive and negative sides and should be planned according to individual considerations, such as the number of pastures, carrying capacity of pastures, livestock management practices, type and condition of range vegetation, and a rancher's objectives.

Carson and Barnes Circus Coming To Plainview

America's largest tent circus, the Carson & Barnes 5-Ring Circus headquartered in Hugo, Oklahoma, is coming to Plainview for performances at 4:30 and 8:00 p.m. on Tuesday, April 12.

The circus is being sponsored by the Noon Optimist Club to raise funds for its Summer Baseball Program which serves more than 500 youngsters.

Tickets are $5.00 for adults, and $3.00 for children 2-11 if purchased in advance but are $1.00 higher at the gate for adults. Tickets are available at McDonald's, Fast Freddy's, Plainview Athletics, First National Bank, Buddy's Food and the Plainview Daily Herald. Some tickets may be made available at area banks closer to circus date.

"We are inviting folks from the area towns to join Plainview citizens in what, for many, may be the last opportunity to see a tent circus, a throwback to the 'good ole days,'" said Optimist President Nick Long. "The circus tent, which is fireproof, measures 150 by 380 feet and it will be set up early on circus day with the help of some of the 25 elephants in the show. The public is invited to come out and view the tent going up.

"The main thing we want to urge is that everyone purchase tickets in advance because the performances will be held regardless of the weather and the Optimist Club realizes much more profit from advance sales," said Long, who noted that operation of the baseball program costs between $40,000 and $50,000 a year.

The circus features approximately 200 wild, exotic animals including giraffe, rhinoceros and hippopotamus, a free animal zoo, almost 100 horses and ponies, some 85 performers including three flying trapeze acts, aerial acrobats, animal trainers, jugglers, clowns, brass band and other performers.

The circus last year helped organizations raise some $750,000 through shows in 230 cities and towns.

"We've checked out this circus and other cities who have sponsored it say it is first class and they want the circus to come back again," said Long.

The average Englishman enjoys 2,000 cups of tea each year - that's almost six cups per day.

Land Productivity Valuation

MAY BRING YOU TAX RELIEF ON YOUR PROPERTY TAXES

Under the Texas Property Tax Code, farmers and ranchers who qualify may have their agricultural land taxed on the basis of productivity rather than market value. Productivity valuation may lower the 1983 taxes on your agricultural or open-space land.

If you have never received open-space (1-d-1) valuation on your land, or if your land has been receiving agricultural (1-d) valuation, you must make application to the appraisal district office by May 2, 1983, to be entitled to tax relief this year.

If your land received open-space (1-d-1) valuation in 1982, there will be no requirement for you to reapply for 1983 in this appraisal district. Remember, however, that annual applications are required for agricultural (1-d) valuation.

VOLUNTARY REGISTRY

AUSTIN — Adoption records in Texas are sealed under current law. The only way an adopted person can legally obtain identifying information about his or her biological parents is through a court order.

There are hundreds of requests made daily from persons wishing to obtain information about their biological parents or about their siblings. Even though there are search groups who try to match birth parents and children who want to obtain contact, there is no state registry which would open the records, even if there is consent by all parties involved. Brothers and sisters separated after being adopted by different families cannot, under current law, obtain identifying information about one another unless a petition is filed in district court and a judge, using his own discretion, decides to release the identifying information to the petitioner. Adoption records in Texas currently cannot be opened unless a judge grants a petitioner's request. The process is often lengthy and costly.

We are sponsoring legislation in the Texas Senate that would provide for a voluntary registry of biological parents and adoptive children and their pre-adoptive siblings. The purpose of the legislation is to establish a strictly voluntary registry through which adoptees, birth parents and adoptive siblings who wish to do so may locate each other. The bill does not include the parents who adopted the child. Each person looking for the others must register and must be a minimum of 21 years of age.

The registry would respect the rights of all members of the adoption circle, including those who wish to maintain their legal rights to privacy. It merely establishes a lawful process for those who want to make contact, meet and share identifying information.

Contact would be made through the registry only if all parties involved gave mutual consent. Counseling sessions would be required before a contact was allowed to provide the person registering an opportunity to explore the short and long term ramifications of the contact. It is also necessary to conclude what information is really being sought and whether the registry is the best process to provide such information.

The establishment of a voluntary, mutual consent registry law for the State of Texas represents a compromise position that addresses the needs of advocates of the open records, while at the same time preserves the privacy rights of the other members of the adoption circle. If mutual consenting adults want to exchange identifying information and meet, a registry law will give them a legal, professional process to use for meeting their needs.

If you have any questions concerning the voluntary registry or if you would like to express your views on the issues, please write to Senator Bill Sarpalius, P. O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Mandatory Child Safety Seats Being Urged In Texas

"In 1981, 68 children under age four died as a result of traffic accidents in Texas. Safety leaders across the state are urging mandatory child safety seats to cut down those numbers which represent personal tragedy for all involved," said George R. Gustafson, executive director of the Texas Safety Association.

Mandatory child safety seats was a key recommendation of the Texas Task Force on Traffic Safety, a 17-member group chaired by Colonel James B. Adams, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Legislation mandating child safety devices for children under four passed the Texas Senate and is being considered in the House.

"Although there is no doubt that people of all ages will have a better chance of surviving crashes if they are wearing occupant protection devices, restraints for young children are crucial because of anatomical and physiological reasons," Gustafson said.

Dr. Dale Coln, director of the Pediatric Trauma Center of Parkland Memorial Hospital in Dallas, has explained those factors in testimony during this legislative session.

According to Coln, "An unrestrained child in an auto accident is more likely to be seriously injured than an unrestrained adult. Because of his smaller body mass, the unrestrained child is catapulted through the car as an 'unguided missile' upon impact. The risk of serious injury is age related, with a disproportionate number of deaths occurring in infants under one year of age."

"The anatomic differences of young children in part explain their predisposition to serious injury. The relatively large head of a child and the high center of gravity result in a higher percentage of serious head and chest injuries than occur in adults. Muscle mass, which offers some protection in adults, is less well developed in children. The flexibility of the rib cage predisposes a child to greater risk of injury to the chest and upper abdominal organs. The relatively large size of the head, the thin skull, and the less well protected spinal column increase the risk of central nervous system injury," Coln said.

Gustafson pointed out that unrestrained children are not only at great risk during accidents, but also in sudden stops.

"It is easy for parents to assume that a child is safe riding in an adult's arms. Unfortunately, that is not true. The Insurance Institute for Highway Safety reports that an adult's body often becomes a battering ram, crashing the child into the instrument panel and windshield," Gustafson said.

He pointed out that most child safety seats accommodate children up to 40 pounds and 40 inches. "Legislation now under consideration assumes that many four-year-olds have reached those limitations, and indeed many have. The important thing, however, is for parents to be guided by their own children's needs. Because the seats are designed to distribute the force of an impact over a large area of the body, a child in a safety seat is better protected than one of the same weight category riding in a safety belt. Parents would be well advised to keep buckling their children into safety seats until they have exceeded the weight and height recommendations of the manufacturer, regardless of the age," Gustafson said.

"Twenty-three states and the District of Columbia have child passenger protection laws; two others have passed legislation which is awaiting their governors' signatures. That means Texas has the opportunity to become the 26th state to ensure safer traveling for its young children," Gustafson said.

An adult African elephant needs 300 to 400 pounds of fodder every day.

'82 AG RECEIPTS DOWN $1 BILLION IN TEXAS

Cash receipts from Texas farm and ranch products totaled almost $9.6 billion last year, down about $1 billion—or 9%—from 1981, according to information compiled by an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension, Texas A&M University System.

The figure does not include government payments.

The decline was due mainly to poor farm prices that resulted from huge stockpiles of agricultural commodities. Also, weather losses were heavy in some areas.

Cotton led the decline in cash receipts—from $1.4 billion in 1981 to $875 million last year. All crop receipts totaled almost $3.8

billion in 1982 while sales of livestock products contributed more than $5.1 billion. Receipts from farm-based timber, horses, fish farming, hunting leases, farm pond leases and recreation jumped sharply from $581 million in 1981 to $724 million last year.

One of the first pitch battles occurred on the floor of the House this week. The battle occurred over a bill that would wipe off local game laws affecting 116 counties. These bills had been passed over a several-decade-time span. Two of the counties in my 84th District were affected. They were Collingsworth and Dickens Counties. Dates for hunting of quail had been set back and shortened in these two counties. In Collingsworth County, hunting is most hazardous in October and November because of the rattlesnake population. The other reason for setting the dates back to December 1, was to avoid hunting during delivery time on cattle and causing weight loss on calves and steers just prior to weigh-up time. Representative Fred Agnich, Republican from Dallas, thought of as a conservative, was the author of the legislation. The issue boiled down to taking more authority away from local people and sending it to the Parks and Wildlife Commission on a state level. Several hired lobbyists were working for the urban sportsmen's group. It was urban legislators vs. rural legislators. We, in the rural area, lost by a wide margin. I put up an amendment to exempt Collingsworth County first. The track had been well greased. We lost by such a wide margin I pulled down other amendments. The bill finally passed by a margin of 117-25.

In the battle, the Parks and Wildlife Commission was severely criticized because of past arrogance and indifference to local problems. The feeling is that the present Commission would rule to leave the local law as is. There are several members on the Appropriations Committee who have a strong feeling in opposition to the bill. One was heard to remark that this might have some effect on the amount of money this agency comes up with for present and future years. Personally, I have found their Executive Director, Charles Travis and the Commission, very responsive when I have called on them in the past.

The money crunch is getting worse, as figures come in showing the cities' one cent tax is dropping all across the state.

Bob Bullock is to come out shortly with another estimate which will likely show another decline in expected revenue. The resolve in both houses to hold the line on tax is stronger than ever. All the tax trail balloons have been shot down. The question now is, "Where will we cut?" Yesterday on the Appropriations Committee, there was talk of a potential tax revolt and dozens of impending tax roll-back elections all across the Eastern part of the state. If they snowball as they were predicting, a new look at our entire taxing system, the entire structure of local county government, and educational system might result. Many programs might have to be deleted which has been thought of as necessary. These are chaotic times.

Governor Declares Texas Job Safety And Health Week

In a recent capitol ceremony, Texas Governor Mark White declared the week of April 24-30, 1983, as Texas Job Safety and Health Week. The special week of emphasis on job safety and health coincides with the annual meeting of the 1400-member Texas Safety Association.

The Texas Job Safety and Health Week gives special emphasis to the problems and opportunities of on-the-job safety. Each year hundreds of Texas workers are killed on the job and hundreds of thousands of workers apply for Workers' Compensation insurance benefits for the injuries they suffered on the job.

Members of the Texas Safety Association work to provide safer, healthier workplaces for all Texans through comprehensive safety training and education. These efforts result in fewer deaths and disabling injuries. (This number goes to my district office only—it is not an Austin number.) Those persons residing in Pampa, please use our regular number: 665-3552.

on the job, increased job productivity and lower operating and production costs.

The Texas Safety Association's annual meeting, the Texas/Southwestern Safety Conference and Exposition, will be held at the Houston Shamrock Hilton Hotel April 24-27. For more information about Texas Job Safety and Health Week or the Texas Safety Association annual meeting write The Texas Safety Association, P. O. Box 9345, Austin, Texas 78766.

Mrs. Estelle Davidson drove to Tulia Sunday morning and visited her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart McCracken. She drove from there to Lubbock and had lunch with her grandson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie McCracken. She visited Mrs. Floye McCracken at Highland Hospital, and reports Mrs. McCracken is recovering well from the knee surgery she underwent last week.
