Flomot Pays Tribute To Mrs. George Pope

Former administrators, teachers, students, family and friends gathered at 8:30 p.m. Saturday, May 12, in the Flomot School Cafeteria to honor Mrs. George Pope. She is a teacher in the Flomot School, and will retire at the end of this school year.

It was an informal evening of reminiscing together. Guests came from Amarillo, Lubbock, Albuquerque, Newlin, and other surrounding areas.

The program began with the invocation by the Rev. Stanley Simmons, pastor of the Quitaque-Flomot Methodist churches.

The master of ceremonies, Jimmy Ross, presented Mrs. Pope to the guests with the theme, "This Is Your Life In Flomot." Then he introduced her son, Melvin Pope, of Lubbock, who recalled her college days and early married life. She and her husband came to Flomot in January 1928 to make their first home.

Friends and neighbors briefly told of early experiences at home and at school.

H. M. Allison of Lubbock, a former Flomot School Superintendent, Mrs. Dan Kingston, Mrs. Wayne Hunter, Mrs. Grady Timmons and Wilburn Martin told of school days. A poem, written by Mrs. Leon Cloyd, dedicated to Mrs. Pope, was read by Mrs. Arnold Johnson. Her little girl, Kayla Johnson, Mrs. Poye's student, presented a poem, "Trees," and presented a gift to her teacher.

The honored guest then received a bouquet of beautiful American Beauty roses from her grandchildren.

A choral number, "Lean On Me," was given by Misses Mariee Martin, Debbie Clay, Nancy Higginbotham, Darla and Heidra Cruse and Susan Hunter, accompanied by Mrs. Vernon G. Higginbotham of Matador at the piano.

The last part of the program came when Mrs. Pope gave her farewell speech. She expressed deep sincere thanks to school administrators, all teachers, and beloved students who spent 25 years with her during her teaching career. She told of plans after retirement which includes more leisure time to enjoy life and "to do as she pleases."

The highlight of the evening came when Mrs. June Ware presented a very lovely tea service to Mrs. Pope from her many friends, accompanied by Mrs. Pope's lunch sack filled with lettuce (paper currency) from additional friends. Other gifts included a beautiful oil painting of Flomot's first school building by Christeen Gilbert, made especially for a dedicated teacher of her children, an autograph plaque made by Annie B. Cloyd, a hanging bouquet, cameo pin, cologne, and an original poem from a former student, Karen Wells.

The program closed with singing the Alma Mater led by Wilburn Martin, and a sweet prayer of thanksgiving led by L. D. Bilberry.

A large maroon, scented candle, with numeral 25 and flowers of school colors, maroon and white, was the centerpiece for the refreshment table which was loaded with delicious food. Eating, visiting and viewing a friendship quilt

BOB PRICE 18TH DISTRICT, TEXAS

UN ENVIRONMENT PROGRAM PARTICIPATION ACT

Reported from Washington
 by Congressman Bob Price

One of the pieces of legislation considered and passed by the House of Representatives this week provides for United States participation in the United Nations environmental program. Due to the sentiment of the citizens of the 13th Congressional District of Texas towards the United Nations in general and our joint desire to see government overspending curtailed, I could not in all good conscience support this bill which authorizes the appropriation of $40,000,000 for contributions to the United Nations Environment Fund. The United Nations has been lavishly funded by the United States for many years while we have been constantly reminded of our wealth and our obligations to those less fortunate. During this time of inflation and price control programs, I do believe that these funds could be put to greater use in our own country rather than being spent for the benefit of those countries unfriendly in many cases to the United States.

ENERGY

With energy shortages becoming greater and future predictions concerning this situation worsening, I can only hope that the Congress will act quickly to begin to resolve this situation. For years private industry and scientists have been predicting an energy crisis, yet we failed to heed their warning. During this session of the Congress and during past sessions, I have introduced legislation designed to prevent an energy crisis by establishing a Council on Energy Policy and legislation to provide for tax credits for expenditures made in the exploration and development of new reserves of oil and gas as well as for the secondary recovery of already existing wells. I have also introduced legislation to de-regulate the price of natural gas at the well-head. To date, the Congress has

Valley Seniors Take Bus Tour "Around The World"

The Valley High Seniors of 1973 began their fabulous bus tour "Around the World by stopping off in "China" in the home of Betty Driskill where she, Belle Davis and Loetta Ferguson had prepared appetizers. They were served spiced tea and fortune cookies by a lovely Chinese waitress, Juanna Cotton, dressed in a beautiful blue satin Chinese costume.

The room was decorated with flowers, Chinese lanterns, musical chimes, parasols, figurines and many other colorful decorations with a background of beautiful Chinese music furnished by Ying Lyles.

After a delightful thirty-minute visit they boarded their bus for a trip to Hawaii.

The second stop for the Senior Class was made at the O. R. Stark, Jr. home where the back yard was decorated to represent Hawaii. The honored guests were greeted by Quitaque Senior mothers wearing colorful mu-mus and placing leis on each person.

An assortment of salads was served from a buffet table and the guests were seated at a low table on pillows, "beau style." The table was centered with a large arrangement of colorful Oriental Poppies surrounded by decorative fish net covered with sea shells and lanterns hanging above.

The focal point of decorations was a wall covered with fish net with sea shells and a palm tree and "hula" girl in front.

After the meal the group joined in games before once again boarding the bus for the third stop in Mexico and the main course of the evening.

The class then journeyed to "Mexico" at Lanes Restaurant, with Daphyene Lane, Ruth Adams, Jimmy Mullin and Lorene Setliff as hosts.

Seniors were greeted at the door by Johnny and Teresa Mullin.

Dodie Lane, Scotty Setliff, Laura Lane and Elaine Adams, dressed in Spanish costumes, served enchiladas, tacos, Spanish rice and beans.

Dinner was served by candlelight. Spanish decorations adorned the table laid with checkered table cloths and napkins. Spanish hats, paintings and plaques decorated the walls. Favors were Spanish hats and menus.

The Senior Class stopped at a sidewalk cafe in France for dessert at the home of Rita Mullin with co-hostess Bettye Green.

They were greeted by five beautiful French girls, dressed in long red and white dresses. They were Jena Mullin, Sherice Price, Jill Eudy, Joanie Turner and Rondalyn Crump. The girls served parfaits topped with miniature French flags.

The porch was accented with a red, white and blue canopy. Round tables were decorated with red and white cloths and candles. Numerous baskets of flowers completed the decor.

THESE MEN SHE GAVE

Valley Junior High students were honored at Childress Sunday, May 20, by the Childress Chapter of The United Daughters of the Confederacy and Children of the Confederacy. The theme for their program was "These Men She Gave," as they paid tribute to veterans of Childress, Hall, Collingsworth and Cottle counties.

Flavial Yeakley, minister of the Church of Christ, Paducah, and Bob Neal of Wichita Falls paid tribute to our Confederate heritage. Sharon Steelman gave the origin of Memorial Day. Military Crosses of Service were bestowed on Johnnie C. Pillow and James Taylor. Tribute in the form of poems and music were presented. Girl Scouts presented the colors, and taps was sounded after the roll call was read by E. A. Beavers.

Prizes were awarded to the winners of the essay contest, which had been sponsored by the organization, by Miss Tops Gilreath. Marlene Cawley, whose topic was "Jefferson Davis and His Achievements," won first place in the seventh grade. The winners in the sixth grade were: Brenda Coker, first place; Laura Fuston, second We're proud our seeds have earned the trust of farmers like these...

W. W. Cheatham recorded a yield of 5500 pounds on 25 acres of Pioneer brand 820. A top-yielding sorghum in many areas, Pioneer 820 did well for W. W. Cheatham, Rt. 1, Quitaque, Texas

Because we were the first company to commercially produce hybrid corn and with 17 years of work on sorghum, we know a lot more about hybrids and how to make crosses that really yield. We've had longer to test and re-test our varieties. We've stuck with some of our early crosses, and we keep developing new ones to fit every growing condition imaginable.

For the North Plains we recommend these sorghum, corn and forage varieties...

Pioneer brand 8417—new yellow endosperm sorghum—champion yielder in medium maturity class—large open heads—does well on all types of land.

Pioneer brand 820—good yielder under stress—outstanding with plenty of water and fertility—MDM resistant—full season.

Pioneer brand 845—excellent drought resistance—MDM resistant—medium maturity—our most popular sorghum variety.

Pioneer brand 3369A—champion-class corn favorite—tolerant to northern and southern blight—good ear retention—heavy grain yielder.

Pioneer brand 3305—most popular corn hybrid on the High Plains—tall with outstanding stalks and ear retention—good yielder on dry or wet land.

Pioneer brand 988—sorghum sudangrass hybrid for pasture, greenchop, hay or haylage—ready to cut or graze in a little more than a month—regrows again and again all summer with adequate moisture and fertilizer.

When you choose a hybrid for your land, choose one from the company that started it all...

Warm Weather Is Here - - It's Time For Water Skiing

Texas lakes are warming up, and this brings out the water skiers. Skiers mean an extra responsibility for boat owners. The first skier sighted on the water should be a signal for boat owners to be extra cautious.

A skier down in the water is hard to see, and your propeller could make a mess of him. Of course, a skier is responsible to a large degree for his own safety. The first step in this direction is making sure that his boat driver is competent and reliable.

The driver should know how to keep the rope taut and avoid jerks which will injure the skier's shoulders. He should know that horseplay in a boat can have serious consequences. And he should be alert for a fallen skier so that he can circle immediately for the pick-up.

Many experienced drivers insist on having a second person in the boat as a spotter. This is not a legal requirement, but the law does require a four - inch - square mirror mounted in the boat if the skier is being towed.

For his part, the skier must make himself as visible as possible when he falls in heavy boat traffic. He can do this by holding one ski in the air as a signal to other boaters.

The skier should also wear some sort of life-saving device. Although many skiers prefer the ski-belts, they should keep in mind that the belts are not designed to keep them upright if unconscious. And to fill the legal requirements, if the skier is being towed by a boat 26 feet long or less, there must be a Coast Guard-approved life saving device on board the boat for him, if he is not wearing one.

Children 12 years old and under must wear a Coast Guard-approved life jacket when a passenger inside the boat, as well as when they are skiing.

A skier should have communication with his driver, and this can only be done with hand signals. These signals should be worked out before the skier takes to the water since misunderstandings could lead to an accident.

Boat operators are the "eyes" of the skier, and it is up to them to avoid obstacles such as submerged stumps and rocks. And they should avoid the temptation to speed along parallel to dams. Several skiers have lost quite a bit of hide when they fell along concrete structures.

As a matter of courtesy, fishermen should be avoided. There is a quiet sport. A smart aleck skier is going to cause some hard feelings, and remember, you are legally responsible for any damage caused by your wake.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Richardson of Memphis, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Geisler of Denver City transacted business here over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cheatham have been at the bedside of his brother, Travis Cheatham, who is critically ill in the hospital in Brownfield.

ACCIDENT TRAPS AND SENIOR CITIZENS

Accidents cripple and kill senior citizens.

"Educators can alert persons of all ages to possible dangers and promote positive safety precautions," Patricia A. Bradshaw, housing and home furnishings specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, said.

"Too often it's a minor thing—a correctable thing—that causes a serious accident for the senior citizen.

"For the elderly living at home, providing extra protection—and decreasing hazards—helps compensate for deteriorating physical or mental abilities."

Miss Bradshaw suggested the following safety measures: Provide well - lighted stairways with handrails—encourage use of handrails.

Fasten carpets and rugs securely to avoid skids or tripping.

Besides grab bars in the bathtub, shower and other areas, nubby rubber mats and seats in the shower or tub are useful.

Wipe spilled items promptly, and eliminate highly polished floors or slick areas.

Install spring pole packs, well-fastened between floor and ceiling, to help people with weakened muscles pull up from bed or chair.

Provide night lights, near floor, to prevent stumbling or falling at night. Place light switches at room entrances. Bedside lamps and flashlight can help light the way.

Remove lamp cords, low furniture and toys from passageways.

Mark stove controls—low, medium, high—with bright paints.

Provide storage levels, easily accessible and located between eye and hip level, to eliminate step-ladder.

Provide tripod tips for canes for firm support.

Make pick-up sticks—one end with magnet, the other end with a pick—for getting items on floor when senior citizens can't stoop or bend.

Provide giant shoe horns and nylon elastic shoe laces to eliminate bending or stooping.

Oysters Are A Versatile Food
They say it took a brave man to eat the first raw oyster. But billions of persons since that first brave man have enjoyed the fruits of his courage, by eating not only raw oysters, but oysters prepared in many mouth - watering ways as well.
Oysters are a truly versatile food. They can be eaten raw on the half shell, breaded and fried, wrapped in bacon and broiled, in a casserole with macaroni and cheese or in the long standing, traditional oyster stew.
Cindy Gray, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's seafood home economist, has tested a new recipe for this well-loved tradition. It's called "Oyster - Mushroom Stew," and in addition to being delicious, it is a time-saver since it calls for canned mushroom soup.
Other great seafood recipes are available at no charge by writing to "Seafood," Texas Parks and Wildlife Department, John H. Reagan Building, Austin, Texas 78701.

HOMES ARE FULL OF POISONS

All households contain poisons. No home is likely to be without a large bottle of aspirin, a container of some cleaning fluid, a can of caustic soda or similar product for stopped-up drains, laundry detergent or bleach, or perhaps some poison seeds for mice. In our sleeping-pill-age, barbiturates and other sedative drugs are found in many households.

More than 500,000 children — like the little girl next door or the toddler in your own home — will swallow poison this year. Most cases reported will involve children under five years of age. Sadly, virtually all of these poisonings are preventable, says the Texas State Department of Health.

In Texas last year, there were nearly 200 fatal poisonings listed as accidental. Almost half of the child poisonings involve aspirin, the single most common offender. Huge numbers of commercial products of one kind or another are either toxic or poisonous. It is sometimes difficult to know whether a particular product is dangerous or not. Many of these products often are in easy reach of children and their inquisitive young minds and hands.

In some cities, Poison Control Centers have been set up to identify the ingredients of commercial products and to offer advice to the attending physician concerning treatment. The Poison Control Center is at the doctor's fingertips, and can help him diagnose symptoms, identify the substance and the proper antidote for it. The State Health Department has helped develop some 22 Poison Control Centers across Texas. Information on proper antidotes is usually given directly to a physician. Thus, you should call your doctor first, and take a sample of suspected poison or its container with you to the hospital emergency room.

Obviously, many of the commercial products that are accidentally swallowed may not be particularly dangerous. However, if one is not sure, and the nature of the product cannot be identified quickly, a good rule is always to treat it as a potential poison.

There are two broad types of treatment for poison victims: the "evacuate" treatment, and the "dilute-and-neutralize" treatment. The aim of the evacuate treatment is to have the victim vomit up the poison, and thus to get it out of his system. This is accomplished in various ways, including the use of substances called "emetics" to induce vomiting. The dilute-and-neutralize treatment keeps the poison in the system but renders it harmless by the double action of weakening or diluting it and by neutralizing its effects. It is most effective with strong acids, alkalis and the corrosive poisons in general.

Common emetics to induce vomiting are: salt water (add two tablespoons of salt to a pint of warm water); mustard water (add one to two tablespoons of commercial mustard to a glass of warm water); and soap water (shake up warm water with a few pieces of plain white soap until a lather forms).

There are, however, some points to remember. Do not try to induce vomiting in the unconscious patient. Do not induce vomiting if product swallowed contains hydrocarbons such as gasoline or solvents. Keep the head down to prevent the patient from choking on the vomited material. With a child, keep across the lap with head down.

It is important to use the dilute-and-neutralize treatment with corrosive poisons. A corrosive is a strong acid or alkali which has a direct searing or caustic action on body tissue. These substances include lye (caustic soda), calcium hydroxide, ammonia, hydrochloric acid, battery acid, carbolic acid and creosote. You can recognize a corrosive by the searing effect it has on the tissues of the lips and mouth. Read the directions and caution statements and antidote on the bottle or can to determine if these ingredients are present.

Health authorities know that a simple dilution of a swallowed poison will help cut down its rate of absorption and decrease its local irritative or corrosive action. Of considerable importance is "neutralization"—or making the poison inert or harmless. Thus citrus fruit juices or dilute vinegar solution will chemically neutralize a strong alkali such as lye. Bicarbonate or soda (baking soda) will neutralize an acid. In both cases, harmless salts are formed. Milk is capable of neutralizing both acids and alkalis, and is always safe to give for purposes of dilution as well.

The so-called universal antidote—consisting of two parts activated charcoal, one part tannic acid, and one part magnesium oxide mixed together and one to two tablespoons added to a glass of warm water—is a handy item to keep in your first aid chest. Vomiting must then be induced.

An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. State health officials urge all parents to poison-proof the home by removing dangerous common household substances, keeping them on high shelves, or in locked cabinets. Medicines should be kept under lock also.

TURKEY LIONS CLUB

The regular meeting of the Turkey Lions Club was called to order on May 22, 1973 by the Boss Lion Roy Patterson at 12 noon in Lanes Restaurant. Lion Byron Young led the Pledge of Allegiance and Lion Keith Green gave the invocation.

Lion David Guest won the "Pot of Gold." He did not get it because he was not there.

Lion Keith Green read the minutes of the directors meeting at 6:30 a.m. Tuesday morning. Some of the things that were decided upon at that meeting were that the Turkey Lions Club would be the sponsoring organization of a Scout Troop in Turkey. Next Monday, Memorial Day, Lion Elmer Lacy and Lion George Setliff will put the flags out. Lion James Lipscomb will be in charge of the program next meeting. During the June 26 meeting, the new officers will be installed. The Lions International meeting will be at Miami Beach, Florida June 26-30.

Mr. John Berson who is the District Executive for the Haynes District of Boy Scouts gave a good speech. He is working very hard at trying to get a Scouting program going in Turkey.

The meeting was then closed by the Boss Lion Roy Patterson.

INFORMATION ON ORGANIZED CRIME

Did you lock your door when you left home today? If you didn't you may be inviting a burglar to make off with your television set, jewelry, and small appliances. And when he does he goes straight to a buyer of stolen goods who in turn often has a link with organized crime. Think before you leave your home unguarded. You can do your part in helping combat organized crime — and protecting your own home and family. This message from the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council, DPS Director Wilson E. Speir and Attorney General John Hill co-chairmen — A division of the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

Man's Obligation As Steward Emphasized

Soil Stewardship Week, a nationwide observance which emphasizes man's obligation to God as steward of the soil, water, and other resources, will be observed May 27 - June 3. The Cap Rock Conservation District joins some 3000 companion districts throughout the nation in sponsoring the observance of this event.

Changing Challenges, the theme of this year's observance, invites you to increase your understanding, expand your perspective, and consider your responsibility to the challenges and changes of the world around you. Bulletin inserts bearing this theme will be distributed to local churches.

INFORMATION ON ORGANIZED CRIME

Crime is somebody else's problem . . . until it touches you. Will your new TV set be repossessed by the law because it's hot? Stolen merchandise? Don't be a willing victim of organized crime. Buy from reputable dealers . . . trade with well-known, honest merchants. Don't contribute money to organized crime's pocketbook. This message from the Texas Organized Crime Prevention Council, DPS Director Wilson E. Speir and Attorney General John Hill co-chairmen — A division of the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

The new superhighway is a masterpiece of engineering skill, yet you still can't see around the curve in the distance. Whatever lies beyond the bend is as much a mystery as it was when this was a single-lane road.

Today we are living in the space age and are exposed to fresh miracles with almost every passing hour. But we still can't "see around the bend" of life. We are as human as we ever were and have no way of knowing what is coming next.

Since the beginning of time, man has lived with this mystery. What keeps him going? For many, it is the knowledge that the answer to our fate lies in far more capable hands than ours. This is God's universe, after all, His creation, and we are His creatures.

True, you can't see around the bend. But you can equip yourself for life's journey by taking a single, all-important step. This step is toward the church of your choice.

THE VALLEY TRIBUNE

... to see the Truth

"Heather here in Scotland is so common it grows everywhere. Why do you wish to study it?" I asked a botanist.

He then suggested taking a single flower from the cluster and looking at it through his microscope.

I was amazed at the delicate shading and breath-taking design of an individual bloom. I almost wished he hadn't shown it to me. I trample on thousands of them every day.

The beauty and blessings of life are enhanced by observing God's creation through the lens of Truth.

Consider the Church as a spiritual microscope. It helps you see the worth of single souls. It encourages you to call no man common or trample his capacities under the foot of indifference. It helps you discover and appreciate all the wonders of God's marvelous creation.

Memorial Roping To Feature Best In Nation

The 10th annual Memorial Steer Roping will be staged by Swisher County Activities Association at 2:00 p.m. Sunday, May 27, at Cobb-Wheeler-Mote Arena, two miles east and one mile north of Tulla. Introduction of Cowboys will be at 12:30 and the roping will begin at 2:00.

This year's roping will feature top ropers in the nation, including several former world champion steer ropers and the present world champion, Allen Keller, of Olathe, Colorado.

Returning to vie for top honors again will be Sonny Davis of Kenna, New Mexico, the 1972 winner of the Memorial steer roping, and Walter Arnold of Silverton, second place winner in 1971 and 1972.

Tim Prather of Snyder, winner of the 1971 Memorial Roping, will return to challenge such well known ropers as Troy Fort, Lovington, New Mexico; Olin Young, Peralta, New Mexico; Bud Upton, San Angelo; Marvin Cantrell, Nara Visa, New Mexico; James Allen, Santa Anna; Clark McEntire, Kiowa, Oklahoma; John Miller, Mesa, Arizona.

In 1971 the rain soaked arena played havoc with good luck for several champions but 1972 weather was very good for the Memorial roping day. Hoping for a return of wonderful weather in 1973 are Randy Burchett, Pryor, Oklahoma; Ronnye Sewalt, Chico, a left handed roper, and Jim Prather of Post, the winner of the 1966 Memorial Roping and second place winner in 1970.

Swisher County's own Roy (Tuffy) Thompson will return to offer every contestant a "run for his money", having won the roping in 1968, 1969 and 1970 and in many other ropings as well.

Trying their hand for the first time in the Memorial Steer Roping will be Eldon Dudley, Perryton; Shi Hurst, Happy; Adrian Cunningham, Amarillo; H. L. Todd, Burlington, Colorado, and Pecos McEntire, another left handed roper from Kiowa, Oklahoma.

Saturday evening, May 26 at 9:00 o'clock a western dance will be held in the barn out at Cobb-Wheeler-Mote Arena. Furnishing music will be Tiny Lynn and his western band from Clovis, New Mexico. Boyd Young is chairman of the dance.

Billy Jack Holland is chairman of the 1973 steer roping with Corky Berry serving as co-chairman.

Members of the Swisher County Activities Association would like to extend an invitation to everyone to come and enjoy the weekend of activities. For additional information call 806-684-2368 or 995-2532.

RECYCLING CLOTHES

Recycle family clothes—and create new fashions while saving money, suggests Mrs. Dorothy Powell, County Extension Agent.

Sewing notions—popular recycling tools—transform old garments into style-conscious wearables. Examples include replacement pockets, zippers, new belt fasteners, trims and iron-on patches.

Some patches, especially designed for jeans, add new dimensions, promising teen approval.

With iron-on patches, follow directions carefully. Success requires the right pressure and heat—otherwise the patch will fall away after cleaning.

Other renovation techniques turn to sewing machines, and most now feature numerous stitch variations—valuable in creative mending.

Shrinks—those brief sweaters—are one current rage. Homesewers can create them simply by taking in side seams and hems of old sweaters.

Commercial sweater knits can be cut and sewn without raveling—hand knits can't.

Sew-on patches and appliques will cover stains or holes in recycled garments. For a unified look, carry these new additions throughout the garment by adding contrasting pockets of this same fabric or color.

Decorative stitching, rick-rack, braid or contrasting band of fabric cover that lengthening line on dresses, skirts or slacks.

NEW COURSES BEING ADDED TO COLLEGE CURRICULUM

Clarendon College will add 13 new vocational and technical courses to its curriculum beginning at the Fall Semester of 1973. This expansion will be one of the largest steps ever taken in the College's history.

Clarendon College has concentrated primarily on liberal arts courses during its 75-year history. With the addition of the vocational and technical programs in the West Texas area.

The 13 new programs have been approved by the Joint Committee of Program Review and Approval which consist of the Texas Education Agency and Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System. Approval has been received for the following courses:

Radio and Television Repair and Services, Automobile Mechanics and Maintenance, Refrigeration and Climate Control Mechanics,

In other recycling "face-lifts," appliques reinforce buttonholes, and decorative pulls replace plain zippers.

Extend pants wear-life by reinforcing inside hems. For best protection, cut half-moons—measuring about five inches by one inch deep—of heavy fabric and add to inside hems.

As for the care of recycled item, consider both garment and added trim or fabric. Both should be compatible—washable trims on washable garments.

For best results, pre-shrink trim before using—following the procedure normally used with the garment. This insures a recycled garment as attractive later as when first changed.

Once started, ideas and creativity just seem to flow, the agent concluded.
