Fall, what a glorious season. Beautiful colors, warm days, cool nights and just a hint of the winter to come and the summer just past. Many activities are looked forward to in the fall that are not a part of any other season. Football of course is the first that comes to mind. And if you are a football fan you can't wait for the coming of fall to be able to enjoy your favorite sport. Harvest is either happening or just around the corner Sure this year it may be a short harvest but it is harvest time none the less.

The smell of the air is even different when the fall winds began to blow. Of course there is always a down side to any happy eventthis one happens to be allergies. Now if you have never had an allergy to anything you had better count your blessings. Not having allergies is like never having had a headache, you just don't know what you are missing and hopefully, you never will. They are not pleasant illnesses to deal with. But, of course if you have them you learn to cope with them and continue to struggle through each day and hope that tomorrow that they will have disappeared!

This Saturday, will see Quitaque celebrating fall with their Fall Foliage Day. Many happening are going on for the pleasure of area residents. You will be able to enjoy everything from hot sauce to tours down the Caprock Canyons Park Trails. Even fall foods, soups and pumpkin and apple desserts are available. Flu shots will be given at the health fair. Scarecrows will be popping up all over town to add to the festivities.

The moisture we had last week made it seem more like fall as the mornings are very pleasant when you step out the door When we begin to see pumpkins, hay bales, mums blooming, scarecrows, and the leaves beginning to turn we realize that fall is not only here but will soon be gone and Christmas upon us!

Come on out this Saturday and enjoy the Fall Foliage Festival at Quitaque and then travel on to Turkey and enjoy some great music with Ray Price and his band. Now how about that to end a beautiful fall day?

Now there is hope. A recently approved bait affects the queen and her brood, according to Dr. Bart Drees, state fire ant project coordinator. He said the product's manufacturers have proposed a brand name, Extinguish and he expects it to be available early next year

The active ingredient of the new product is s-methoprene, an insect growth regulator; the product works imilarly to the ingredient found in the products containing femoxycarb, the ingredient in the products known as Logic and Award, Drees said.

Researchers are still determining the best application time and whether the product is economical.

Time For Your Annual Flu Shot

Is it time to prepare for the next influenza pandemic? Can the Span-Flu of 1918 or the "Chicken" Flu from Hong Kong replicate in the United States? The probability is high, so health care workers are cur rently learning the necessary tools for influenza morbidity prevention. To better ensure Texans do not contract the current year's flu virus, the merican Lung Association of Texas reminds us that this potentially life-threatening disease can be prevented with an annual vaccination.

In an article published by Dr. Diane R. Gold in the American Thoracic Society's July 1998 edition of the American Journal of Respiratory and Critical Care Medicine - it is proposed that asthma in children may be linked to the mother's genetic predisposition. "If an asthmatic mother develops the flu, pneumonia or another severe respiratory infection dur ing pregnancy, this may increase the tendency of the newborn to develop asthma," says Dr. Robert B. Klein, Division Chief of allergy and Immu nology at the University of Texas Health Center at Tyler. "This years Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) guidelines states that all women after the 14th week of pregnancy are encouraged to get a flu shot. When I know that the mother is in a high-risk category, such as in the case of an asthmatic, I encourage a flu shot at any time during the

Dr. Charles Bryan, Texas Thoracic Society President at the University of Texas Health Science Center, San Antonio says, "Soon there may be pills (GS 4104), disk-halers (Zanamivir), or other new ways of receiving annual flu immunizations. An influenza vaccination is about 70 percent effective in preventing influenza and reducing its severity, and it's safe." Together, influenza and pneumonia are the fifth leading causes of death among Americans over age 65 and the sixth leading cause of death among all Americans. Anyone can be a flu victim. However, high-risk groups are the most vulnerable. High-risk groups include anyone over the age of 65 or anyone suffering from a chronic health condition or lung disease. 65, or anyone suffering from a chronic health condition or lung disease, such as asthma, emphysema or chronic bronchitis. In addition, members of the health care profession are included in the high-risk category because of the volume of flu patients trafficking through their offices. However, the profession of the volume of the patients of the pa ever, anyone who wishes to avoid taking sick time off from work, school or

The prime time to get a flu shot is between October 1 and November 15, before the flu season begins. In Texas, some physicians begin providing shots in early September and may continue offering the service through mid-December. Flu shots are available at doctors' offices, Health Mainte-nance Organizations (HMO), and most other healthcare facilities. In addition, flu shots are covered by Medicare and Medicaid. Most people experience little or no reaction to the vaccine. However, one in four people might have a swollen, red, tender area where the shot was delivered.

TURKEY HAPPENINGS

Saturday evening, Lillian and Hoss Mullin and I were sitting out-side enjoying the beautiful weather when a white car rolled into the driveway. Imagine our surprise when Charlotte and Bob Toman of Fresno, California stepped out of the car. Charlotte is the daughter of Guy and Junaita Mullin (formerly of Turkey and Amarillo) who are both deceased.

The had some business to take care of in Quitaque as well as getting back to Charlotte's roots and then on to Branson and other places. She visited sites where her Grandmother Jago and others lived, the gravesites of relatives in Quitaque and Turkey. Her dad, Guy, operated a cafe in Turkey years ago. So they enjoyed strolling down the streets taking pictures of the cowboys, street signs, buildings, Gem Theatre, etc. Of course, Grannie and Grandpa Mullins old homesite on the hill was a "must"

1958 Turkey High School Class Has 40 Year Reunion

On October 2 and 3 the Turkey High School class of 1958 held its 40th class reunion at the Turkey Hotel. Most of the time was spent reminiscing, eating, touring the old high school and the Bob Wills Center where the class photos are on display, walking the main street of Turkey, and viewing the Gem Theater renovations. Some brought photos of school days, class annuals (with quiz being given on who in 1958 was Miss THS, Mr. THS, most athletic, etc.), and naturally photos of family.

Many of the discussions centered around the mischief the various classmates had participated in during their school days. All in attendance told of what they currently were doing and it was a blessing to witness the success of all. This must be a reflection of the good teachers, parenting, and desires to succeed. This was a reminder to all of us that small town USA is a great place to live and grow up in.

Plans were made to have another reunion the first weekend in October in 2000. Sounds like a long time but actually it is only 24 months away. We would hope that more of the class will be able to attend since more will be retired by then.

Classmates and spouses in at-tendance were: Billy Joe Turner you two on your way to Branson? and Jinna Sue (Bain), Lockney; Gail punt. The association promotes what it calls Back to Basics. Back to Basics means eating a variety of foods from each of the food groups while also balancing what you eat with physical activity.

This approach embraces beel

スプルンはのはないのとというないのはないない WELCOME TO QUITAQUE'S ANNUAL FALL FOLIAGE FESTIVAL Gene Mayfield Helps in Colorado Rescue

day, October 4, Amarillo News-Globe, Gene Mayfield and friend Don Flint of Amarillo were on the spot to help rescue two Texas men fishing in Colorado.

Tony Stewart of Cisco and his brother-in-law, Bob Mayo, of Mid-land always spent a week each fall somewhere in the Western mountains. This September they decided to try fishing in Lake Platora, near Durango in southwestern Colorado

They are experienced outdoorsmen, spending lots of time in the mountains each year.

Lake Platoro is a beautiful spot. They had been fishing for a couple of days and had caught lots of trout. The lake is about seven miles long and one-half to three-quarters of a mile wide. It lies 20 miles from civilization. To arrive at the beautiful lake you must go down many dirt

Bob and Tony use a small flatbottom jonboat. This Friday af-ternoon their batterics were getting shore. During the afternoon they passed another boat with Gene Mayfield and Don Flint of Amarillo in it who were also trout fishing.

As the jonboat headed toward the dam and turned back toward shore the wind suddenly rose and turned the boat sideways. Water began coming over the side and the next second the boat was under

The temperature of the water was 38 degrees. In only seconds their clothing was soaked with the icy water. Hypothermia which is the life-threatening loss of body heat through cold water, can hit even in mild weather and moderate water temperatutres. A person in 38-degree water can succumb to hypothermia in minutes.

Bob and Tony were only about 30 yards from shore and they began to try to reach it. Bob, being a good swimmer made it to shore and began calling for help before Tony was even half way to the shore.

Tony, a heart patient knew he as in trouble as he was not a great cold. He grabbed the boat which had an air pocket trapped junder it and hung on to stay afloat.

As Gene and Don stopped at the bank they thought they heard someone calling. First they thought it was a bird but then Don wondered what had happened to the two men they had seen in the jonboat.

They decided to take a look. By the time they found them and got Tony out of the water he probably had been in the water for about 20 minutes.

Gene and Don took the two men into their boat and took them to their vehicle and wrapped them in blankets, took them to camp for dry clothes and then took them on to the Skyline Lodge where they were warmed by blankets and a fire.

Tony is quite sure that if the two Amarillo men had not been close by that this would have been the finish of Don and him.

Gene stated that they were just lucky to be in the area that day when Tony and Don needed their

Burn Debris Disaster Free

Smokey is counting on you to follow the rules for safely burning debris.

- 1. Check local laws on burning.
- Don't burn on dry windy days.
- 3. Clear a 30-foot circle around debris before lighting fire.
- 4. Keep shovel, rake and water nearby.
- 5. Don't leave fire unattended by an adult, even for a minute.
- 6. Consider alternatives to burning: composting, recycling, or hauling to a landfill.

REMEMBER, ONLY YOU CAN PREVENT FOREST FIRES.

OF HEALTH

Surgery Benefits Emphysema Patients

(NAPS)—About two million Americans have been diagnosed with emphysema. The disease, linked to cigarette smoking, leaves patients with thin oversized lungs that lack the elas-ticity to expel air after each breath. As lung function decreases patients become exhausted at the slightest activity.

Lung transplantation may be an option for some patients under age 60, but donor lungs are rare and the procedure is expensive.

Fortunately, a surgical technique has achieved great success and has given many people with emphysema a new chance at life.

Lung volume reduction surgery involves surgically removing unhealthy tissue from both lungs, unhealthy tissue from both lungs, using a stapling technique.

"Patients who underwent the procedure showed a significant improvement in their breathing ability and many resumed a more active lifestyle," said Richard Fischel, M.D., associate director of the Chapman Medical Lung Center which has performed more than a 1,000 of these procedures. For more information about the procedure, or to obtain a free packet and video tape, call 1-800-788-0891 or visit www.cmclungctr.com.
