Fall Foliage Fest Set In Quitaque October 18

It's Fall -- whether or not the weather is cooperating -- and with Fall comes the Foliage Fest -- "A Day in the Country."

A number of fun events will take place in downtown Quitaque during this special day, headed up by Motorized Tours through the Caprock Country, beginning at 9:00 a.m. and every two hours throughout the day. The foliage should be at its peak of color, so make plans to take the tour.

Other events include Main Street Market, Arts and Crafts, featuring a special crafter, Allen Johnson, who is blind, but his woodworking was featured in Ripley's "Believe it or Not."

Amarillo To Host Farm, Ranch Show In December

The 13th Annual Amarillo Farm and Ranch Show will open on December 2, giving agricultural producers an opportunity to view and sample the latest products that the national and regional agricultural manufacturers have to offer.

The 1997 Amarillo Farm & Ranch Show, considered "one of the top five farm shows in the country" is scheduled December 2 - 4 in the Amarillo Civic Center. Show hours are 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Admission to the show is free. For more information call Briscoe County Extension agent, at Silverton.

Public Meeting In Memphis To Inform Producers of CRP

Mary Alice Tucker, Memphis Farm Service Agency (FSA) acting CED, said there will be public meetings October 7, to inform local producers and landowners about the Conservation Reserve Program's (CRP) 16th sign-up. The sign-up will be from October 14 to November 16, 1997.

Meetings will be in the Community Center in Memphis October 7 at 9:00 a.m. and in Turkey at the Bob Wills Center, at 2:00 p.m. Producers will be advised of the benefits offered and producer requirements under the 16th sign-up.

The new environmentally-focused CRP provides immediate benefits to producers, ranchers and taxpayers through reduced soil erosion, improved water quality and expanded wildlife habitat. Under this voluntary program, landowners enter into contracts with USDA to place erodible and other environmentally sensitive cropland in conservation practices for 10 - 15 years. In exchange, landowners receive annual rental payments for the land and cost-share assistance for establishing those practices.

Pantex Changes Way Of Shifting Radioactive Gas

AMARILLO, Texas (AP) — Containers of radioactive gas that can become too hot to handle have prompted Pantex Plant administrators to change how workers treat them.

The gas is tritium, the radioactive hydrogen isotope that gives hydrogen bombs their thermonuclear punch.

Risk-management officials at the nuclear weapons plant have found that the containers can heat up enough to burn workers' hands, increasing the chance that a worker could drop one and accidentally release the gas.

The containers often feel warm because the tritium inside radioactively decays over time. But the reservoirs can become hot if they are stored too close together, said Kerry Campbell, a spokeswoman for Pantex contractor Mason & Hanger Corp.

The carriers used to move the gas containers have been changed and workers now are limited to moving one container at a time, plant officials said.

The issue arose earlier this year when a worker removed a tritium reservoir from a suitcase-like storage container and found the foam insulation inside compacted and melted, according to a government report.

The problem came as a surprise. A U.S. Department of Energy report noted that temperature tests of tritium reservoirs over the past three years found no evidence that any heated up.

The Pantex Plant is responsible for disassembling nuclear weapons. Technicians remove the gas reservoirs from weapons and ship them back to the Savannah River Site in South Carolina for recycling.

Guest column -

Just Ramblin' by Jimmie Taylor, Publisher

My Dad was a man before his time in education. I know this because he believed in teaching his children to read just as soon as we could talk. There have been lots of programs and things on TV lately about beginning to teach very young children to read, long before they start to school, while their little minds are fresh and open and quick to snap up new ideas.

Like a lot of children in the '40s, I started to school at 5 years old -- there was no pre-school or Pre-K then -- you started in the first grade. When I began school, at Valley View, I had already been reading -- from the newspaper -- for a year or more. As far as I know, all my sisters were taught to read early too.

After supper, when I was just a tot, daddy would set me in his lap, and get the ol' Wichita Falls paper, which we subscribed to faithfully, even when money was very tight. As he read from the paper, he would point out the words to me, and pronounce them carefully so I could hear the distinctions and inflections. He made sure I learned to recognize the letters in the words, as I learned the alphabet, and he taught me the sound of each letter -- an early day phonics class. It wasn't long before I knew all the small words -- "the, and, it, go, car," etc.; and by the time I started to first grade, I was reading at a third or fourth grade level.

I have always argued that the newspaper is an important learning tool -- not just for the items it carries -- but for its value in a home to inform and apprise, to keep for sentimental reasons, and of course, because of my own experience, to teach from.

The newspaper was of great interest and importance to my father, and because I idolized everything he did, it became very important to me too. I should have known I would wind up in the business. Words were fascinating, as all those little squiggles on the page became intelligible, and stories became real. What a discovery! I could learn about everything, go anywhere, be anybody, do anything through the words on the printed page.

I am concerned these days that in many homes, there are children with no books, no newspapers, no magazines in the house. There will be a television -- or two, you can bet on that! But how does one learn to read from a TV? Teaching your child early how to read gives him a big jumpstart into the wonderful world of books and libraries, and the discovery of all the fascinating information in them.

Have you ever watched the face of a child when the light suddenly comes on, and words take on meaning and form. What a tragedy that so many children grow up not learning how to read. We need to do everything in our power to make sure that our children, grandchildren, and our neighbor's children are readers. Without reading, what is there?!

TURKEY TALK

Things Seen or Heard
by Ann Coker

Vicky Lindsey is quite busy these days taking orders for the Turkey Community Calendars.

Driving to Junction last week were Sylvia and Allen Bosehart and Susie and Mike House. They enjoyed several days of great fishing and Susie said the weather was also great. The four returned home last Thursday.

The Turkey Ambulance was called to the home of Jack Barnhill last Friday. He was quite ill, and was taken to the Lockney Hospital. Hopeful he is back home by now.

I heard last week that Colby Waldrop is an assistant Coach at Nazareth. Colby was a former Valley student when his parents, Carol and Tommy Waldrop taught there. Head coach at Nazareth is Rick Price, a former coach at Valley.

Jim Majors had surgery at the Plainview Hospital last Thursday. Jim returned home Saturday and returned to Plainview Monday for a checkup.

Dolan Hanna of Dimmitt had surgery last week in Amarillo. He was feeling much better following his surgery, as he had been in a lot of pain for some time.

Visiting with Keith and Bettie Green were Criss and Kaylene Morrison and children of Lubbock. Also visiting was grandson Zack Green of Wichita Falls.

Our daughter Linda Hamilton of Ruidoso called Sunday. The Hamiltons attended the football game Friday night in Ruidoso, and met Mike Rice and family. The Rices invited them for dinner Saturday night.

Linda also reported that they looked at a house last week, with an eye to renting it. It belonged to a cousin of Ronnie Carpenter. Small world.

Faye Huffine called Monday morning. She and her daughter Hilda had driven in from Dripping Springs to spend a few days in Turkey to visit. On their way here, Hilda's car lost all power, naturally not in any town. After a long wait, a lady finally stopped to help.

She had a car phone and called several places for a tow-truck without success. Finally she called the Sheriff, who did come out. He finally got the car started and drove to the next garage. After checking it out, they could find no problem, so they continued on their way to Turkey with no more problems.

The lady who stopped was Cindy Taylor, editor of the Spur newspaper. She was certainly a Good Samaritan.

The son of Stuart and Vivian Smith, Ketch, was hospitalized last week in Plainview. The little boy had pneumonia.

Visiting in Lubbock last weekend was Byron Young. He visited in the home of Michelle and Steve Anderson, and sons Jarred and Colin.

Mozelle Eudy reported she had received a call from Don Guest. He reported he had been going to the home where his mother Vera Guest lives and they attend church together each Sunday. Don said Vera really enjoys the singing and the sermon.

Mrs. Eudy also said her grandson Ron Eudy visited his sister and son, Angie and Gunner, last weekend in Dallas. Angie had tickets to the Cowboy game on Sunday, and all three attended the game.

Jeff Blythe of A.C.U. spent Thursday night with his grandparents Louis and Oleta Randell.

Norman Gipson of Lubbock visited with the Randells Sunday and attended the Turkey Church of Christ Sunday morning.

ROCK CREEK COFFEE

For the Coffee Drinkers that have been meeting for many many years, last Thursday was a different setting for the group. Fourteen ladies traveled in two autos and a van to the home of Mrs. J.D. Nance - formerly Vernell Cotten, and long-time member - in Rock Creek, where they were greeted by Vernell and her next door neighbor friend. The group enjoyed inspecting every "nook and cranny" of her lovely home, laughing, talking, visiting, and eating delicious snacks. After a fun time, this group returned to Turkey: Mary Tripp, Iona Lane, Leota Johnson, Belle Davis, Mabel Morse, Del-Ray House, Ying Lyles, Marie Cruse, Margie Pinkerton, Sandy Fuston, Gladys Wilson, Susie Johnson, Betty Driskill and Joyce Guest.

NEW RESIDENTS IN TURKEY

Bill and Roberta Carson of Clint, Texas, are in the process of moving to Turkey to make their new home.

They have bought the homes of J.R. and Mary Beth Adamson, and John and Mamie Adamson. They will live in J.R.'s home, and rent the John Adamson home.

Bill Carson has recently retired from the Texas Highway Department. Robert Carson is a teacher in the Clint School District. She will retire sometime this year.

Bill Carson is already residing here. He has bought some pastureland and will be running cattle.

The Carsons have a strong motive for retiring in Turkey. All their children and grandchildren live here - Lisa and Brent Campbell, Chancy and Tyler; Jay and Doyle Dean Proctor, Jaycee and Carson; Pat and Tina Carson, and Walker.

We welcome them to Turkey.

Turkey Resident Moves

Turkey lost a very valued citizen last week. Mary Beth Adamson moved to Lubbock to be near her son and family, Rex and Charmaine Adamson and their children. Also her brother Doc Stewart and his family are moving to Lubbock. The Stewarts were former residents of Clovis, NM. They and Mary Beth are buying homes near each other in Lubbock.

Mary Beth came to Turkey years ago as the young bride of J.R. Adamson. They first lived on the Adamson farm, northwest of Turkey. They later built a beautiful home in Turkey. They raised two sons here, Rod and Rex. Rod and his family now reside in Ruidoso, New Mexico.

Mrs. Adamson was quite active in the Baptist Church here, where she served as organist, Sunday School teacher, church treasurer, and worked with the Baptist youth. She was also a member of the Turkey Proud committee, and the TAF-CE Club. Mary Beth and J.R. Adamson were at one time members of the local school faculty.

She will be sorely missed.

New Legislation Continues SSI Payments To Most Noncitizens

by Patty Brandt
Noncitizens who were receiving Supplemental Security Income (SSI) on August 22, 1996, will remain eligible for SSI under new legislation that contains provisions affecting noncitizens in the SSI program. The law adds more categories of noncitizens who can be eligible for SSI, and permits a longer eligibility period for certain categories of noncitizens. In late August, Social Security sent notices explaining the changes to approximately 560,000 SSI recipients.

The noncitizen provisions of the new law is effective as of August 22, 1996, the date of enactment of last year's SSI welfare reform legislation.

The new law:

•Extends the SSI eligibility period for refugees, asylees and individuals who deportation has been withheld from five years to seven years.

•Adds Cuban and Haitian entrants and certain Amerasian immigrants to the categories of noncitizens who are eligible for SSI for seven years.

•Provides SSI eligibility for certain legal immigrants who residing in the United States on August 22, 1996, and who are blind or disabled under Social Security's rules, regardless of age or the date their disability or blindness began.

•Adds non citizen members of federally recognized Indian tribes or certain noncitizen native Americans as an SSI eligible alien category.

For more information about the new SSI eligibility rules for noncitizens, call Social Security's toll free at 1-800-722-1213 or contact your local Social Security office.

Tips To Help You

(NAPS)—When was the last time you served vegetables for breakfast?

If you're like most people, you probably don't think about peas, corn, or carrots first thing in the morning. But vegetables, enticingly prepared specifically for breakfast, can be a great way to start your day.

Because vegetables are rich in vitamins and minerals, the Produce For Better Health Foundation recommends you have five servings of fruits or vegetables every day to maintain a healthy lifestyle.

For Breakfast:
VEGETABLE FRITTATA
Prep time: 10 minutes
Cook time: 15-20 minutes

- 8 eggs, slightly beaten
- 1 (15 oz.) can Veg•All Mixed Vegetables, drained
- 1 cup shredded cheddar cheese
- 1/2 cup milk
- 1 Tbsp. chopped parsley
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. black pepper
- 2 Tbsp. butter
- 1/2 cup picante sauce

1. Combine first seven ingredients.

2. Melt butter in 12-inch skillet; pour in egg mixture. Cook over medium heat until almost set, 9-12 minutes.

3. Top with picante sauce and broil until eggs are set, about 5 minutes. To oven-proof skillet handle, wrap with aluminum foil.

4. Cool 2 to 3 minutes before serving.

(6 servings)

For Lunch:
HEARTY CHICKEN VEGETABLE SOUP

Prep time: 5-10 minutes
Cook time: 15-20 minutes

- 2 Tbsp. vegetable oil
- 1/4 cup green pepper, chopped
- 2 (15 oz.) or 1 (29 oz.) can Veg•All Mixed Vegetables, undrained
- 1 1/2 cups chicken, cooked and diced
- 1/4 cup onion, chopped
- 3 cups chicken broth
- 1 (14 1/2 oz.) can seasoned, diced tomatoes
- 1/2 cup instant rice
- Salt and pepper to taste

1. Pour oil into large (3 quart) saucepan. Sauté onion and green pepper until lightly browned.

2. Add chicken broth and simmer 10 minutes.

3. Add remaining ingredients and simmer 5-7 minutes or until rice is cooked.

Survey Says...Kids Are On The Move And Need On-The-Go Snacks

(NAPS)—During the school year, moms can always use extra clues as to what is popular with their kids.

To help moms, Kraft Handi-Snacks® commissioned a survey of 6-12 year old boys and girls across the country and asked them a few of their favorite things.

The survey results reveal that during the school year, 65 percent of kids play on sports teams, with baseball/softball, soccer and basketball as the top three choices. In addition, 41 percent of kids take music lessons while 32 percent participate in activities such as drawing, painting and pottery. Also, 54 percent of kids participate in both sports and other activities such as singing, scouting and community programs.

Clearly, today's kids are constantly on the move from the time the first school bell rings. So when it comes to fueling their bodies, they need satisfying meals and on-the-go snacks to keep them going throughout the day. In fact, most kids surveyed say they snack up to two times each day, and 80 percent of parents, who also participated in the survey, say they choose cheese and crackers or fruit for such occasions. Many moms know Handi-Snacks offer a variety of wholesome, on-the-go snacks, including new zesty Nacho Stix'n Cheez, and for a sweet treat, new creamy pudding—something for all tastes that both moms and kids can agree on.

Here are a few more survey findings moms may find interesting:
• Eleven to 12-year-old boys are especially likely to be involved in more than one activity at a time.
• Eighty-five percent of kids surveyed use a computer, usually at school or at home.

Yesteryear

Taken from The Quitaque Post Sept. 5, 1940
N.V. Hamilton brought the first bale of cotton for the 1940 crop season. Receipt of the bale is dated as of Saturday, Aug. 31, the earliest first bale here in many years.
The bale lint was of high grade and staple and weighed 555 pounds. It was gined from 1750 pounds of seed cotton, which also returned Hamilton 700 pounds of seed. Farmers gin bought the cotton for 9 cents. A premium list totaling $31.65 in cash and mds. was awarded to Hamilton.
Prospects for a cotton crop are much better at this time than for many years and barring some unforeseen mishap this area will harvest a nice per-acre yield. The feed crop also is the best in years.

FACTS & FIGURES

Zinc And Your Cold
(NAPS)—Here are some facts about zinc that will surprise many Americans. Studies confirm that patented zinc formulas alleviate the symptoms and reduce the duration and severity of a cold.
Here are some more facts about zinc and its benefits:

• In a controlled study it was noted that symptoms of a cold were shorter in the group that took zinc (4.4 days) than in the placebo group (7.6 days).

• The zinc group also had fewer days with coughing, headache, nasal congestion, and sore throat.
• Zinc lozenges to treat the common cold are now sold nationwide. The patented brand, Fast Dry Zinc, from F&F Foods, Inc., available in a handy roll or convenient package, is reported to work faster and better because it has a zinc acetate formula rather than a zinc gluconate formula.
