

MRS. DAVID LYNDON FUSTON

Reid - Fuston Vows Exchanged

After September 4 David Lyndon Fuston and his bride, the former Miss Nancy Jean Reid, are at home in Bryan where he is a second year student in the Texas A&M School of Veterinary Medicine.

The couple exchanged wedding vows Saturday, August 26 at three o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reid, Jr., at Silverton. Rev. C. H. Murphy, Jr., pastor of First Baptist Church in Memphis, officiated. Mrs. Marvin Montague presented organ selections.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. T. R. Fuston of Turkey and the late Mr. Fuston.

For the recitation of vows the couple stood before the fireplace which was banked with greenery, blue pom-pom mums and white gladioli. The fireplace crane held a brass hanging pot filled with blue and white flowers and greenery. Wrought-iron cathedral candelabra with white tapers stood on either side of the fireplace. Mixed arrangements of flowers were placed in other rooms of the home.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight peau satin featuring a modified high waist with formal-length skirt that was gathered at the sides and in back. The short sleeves of her bodice were tucked into a puff and the scoop neckline was outlined with pearl-encrusted Alencon lace. A wide band of lace defined the hemline. Her matching headpiece was accented with lace motifs, edged in pearls and held her veil of candlelight illusion. Her large crescent bouquet of white gladioli, lemon leaf and English ivy was carried atop her satin and lace covered Rainbow Bible.

The bride added a blue garter belonging to her aunt, Mrs. John E. Simpson, Jr., of Tulsa. Inside her Bible she tucked a linen handkerchief which belonged to her great-grandmother, Mrs. Fowler.

Maid of honor was Miss Peggy Fuston, sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Debbie Lane was bridesmaid. Both are of Turkey. They wore gowns of royal blue silk organza. Their high waistlines were traced with white lace and royal blue velvet ribbon. The gowns had A-line skirts and short puffed sleeves. Attendants carried large white mums with royal blue tulle and ribbon background.

Bill and Rebecca Reid of Silverton, brother and sister of the bride, were candlelighters. Rebecca wore a dress of blue styled similarly to those worn by the other attendants of the bride.

Steve Guest was best man and Tim Salem served as groomsmen. Both are of Turkey. Ushers were Jimmy Reid and Jim Smith, both of Amarillo, brothers of the bride.

Assistants for the reception following the ceremony were Mrs. Jim Reid and Mrs. Jim Smith of Amarillo and Mrs. Ricky Fuston of Turkey, who registered the guests.

The serving table was covered with a white imported linen cloth. A silver coffee service and crystal punch bowl were used to serve refreshments. Flowers of the attendants were placed on the table.

Rice bags of candlelight illusion tied with royal blue were distributed by Miss Gina Gill of Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Fuston graduated from Silverton High School and attended Texas Tech University. She received a BS degree in medical technology from West Texas State University.

The bridegroom is a 1968 graduate of Turkey High School and attended WTSU before transferring to Texas A&M.

The couple traveled to Kansas on their honeymoon.

The bride was honored at a shower in Silverton recently, and another is being given for her in Turkey Thursday.

Attending the wedding from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. John E. Simpson, Celia, Samantha, Olivia and Jay, Mr. and Mrs. Warner Reid, Mr. and Mrs. Clois Osburn, Shonda and Linda, all of Tulsa; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Reid, Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reid, Warren and Lori, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Smith and Jay, Amarillo; Gene W. WOMEN INVITED TO JOIN HOME DEMONSTRATION CLUB WORK HERE

"If you like to learn new and better ways to do things, then try joining a home demonstration club," said Mrs. Dorothy Powell, Extension County Home Demonstration Agent in Silverton.

The agent said that home demonstration clubs offer an opportunity for the homemaker to learn the latest information about home and family life. Anyone may join a club. Any person interested in improving home and community life is eligible for membership, according to Mrs. Powell.

"A home demonstration Club is a group of homemakers who learn together," Mrs. Powell said. "Members help determine and develop ideas for programs."

Members take part in discussions, participate in club-sponsored community projects and even teach lessons at meetings. The club meets monthly. Elected officers conduct a short business session.

The agent pointed out that it's not necessary to join a club to learn about homemaking: "You can participate in short courses, workshops, special meetings and tours sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service," she said.

A less formal group is the Extension home economics study group which meets fewer times annually. It often has a series of programs about a single subject matter area. An Extension home economics study group may either have elected officers or only a chairman who directs business that arises.

"There are no required dues for membership," Mrs. Powell explained. "Your major investment is your time to learn and share new information. Clubs have fund-raising projects to support special activities. And no charge is made for instruction from the county home demonstration agent."

She said that if there's no club in your area, you may form one. A small group with similar interests may either be a regular home demonstration club or an Extension home economics study group.

You may want to join one of the existing Home Demonstration Clubs. The Southwestern H.D. Club members meet on the fourth Thursday of each month, in the homes of homemakers who reside in the Southwestern part of the county. The Town & Country H. D. Club members meet on the first Tuesday of each month in the homes of homemakers, most of whom live in Silverton. The High Plains Home Demonstration Club members meet the second and fourth Fridays in the homes of club members. This group of Silverton homemakers are concentrating on improving their sewing skills.

"If you'd like to form your own club or group, let me know and I'll help you organize one," Mrs. Powell said.

Contact her by writing or calling the Texas Agricultural Extension Service in Silverton, in the basement of the Courthouse. The phone number is 823-4271.
