Veteran's Day

November 11 is still Veterans Day to many of us. The Armistice was signed November 11, 1918, and it was the Veterans of World War I who founded the American Legion in France. Ever since then, Veterans Day has been observed on November 11 until the last two or three years. A great number of American Legions across the nation are voting to present a Resolution to Congress to have Veterans Day changed back to November 11. We sincerely hope this takes place in the near future. It is another symbol of American Heritage that has been changed from the original meaning because someone or some group wanted to exert their official power.

Mrs. Olen Lane and Leigh Ann of Van Horn and Mrs. Olive Owens visited in the Quitaque and Turkey area Friday night and Saturday and Sunday night. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gattis of Abilene joined Mrs. Owens and Margaret Saturday night for a visit. Leigh Ann spent most of the time in Turkey. Mrs. Owens, Mrs. Lane and the Gattis were guests in the Gaston Owens home for a chili supper Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barbee attended the funeral services for Walter Patrick in Farwell Saturday. They returned by Umbarger and spent the night and Sunday with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Washington, returning home that evening.

Mrs. Loyd Fulkerson of Odessa visited the A. L. Morris' and the Buddy Morris' over the weekend. She spent Friday night with the A. L. Morris', her niece. Saturday they drove to Plainview to visit Ray Persons in the Heritage Home. Mrs. Fulkerson spent Saturday night with her sister, the Buddy Morris', and they visited the Pierce Whites Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mallow, Mr. and Mrs. Lenton Lanham and Mrs. Mary John Harris of Silverton visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lanham Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Lanham are moving to Sterling City to spend the winter. He took a load of furniture down Thursday and returned to Tulsa by bus. Mrs. Lanham and Mrs. Buddy Morris met him in Tulsa and returned him to Quitaque.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Denver Anderson over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams and Mr. Moody from Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Foster of Clarendon.

Patriots Lose To Owls; Play Memphis Tonight

And then there was one! What figured to be a pretty good ball game between the Patriots and the Silverton Owls, both teams winless until last Friday night, turned out to be strictly no contest at any time as the Owls settled all doubts in the first 13 seconds of the game. Dean Ziegler took the opening kickoff on his own 25 yard line and ran it all the way for a score and with just 13 seconds gone the Owls had a 7-0 lead. The Owls recovered a Patriot fumble just a few moments later which the Owls converted into another TD and then owned a 14-0 lead. When the final whistle blew the Owls owned a 46-0 win over the luckless Patriots.

Each team suffered turnovers in the opening minutes but the Patriots could not move the ball.

while the Owls were able to gobble up great chunks of yardage on almost every play. At the end of the first half of play the Owls led it 34-0. The third period was scoreless but in the last period the Owls' Culwell scored on runs of 46 and 65 yards.

The Patriots played without the services of starting center Smitty Lane and in the second period of play quarterback Ron Eudy went out with a neck injury.

The Patriots wind up the season against the Memphis Cyclone and that game has been moved up to Thursday night, due to the District XVI Teachers Convention to be held at the Civic Center in Amarillo, starting Friday.

The Junior High Patriots and Cyclone will play their game at Turkey Thursday afternoon starting at 5:30 and the other game starts at the regular 7:30 time. This game, of course, will also be at Turkey.

NOTICE

The Turkey Lions Club offers a $250.00 reward to anyone for information leading to the apprehension and conviction of anyone selling dope in the Turkey area.

Valley FHA Has Regular Meeting

The Valley High School FHA met Monday night, November 5, at 7:30 for regular meeting. The meeting was opened by President Cheryl Merrell. The roll was called by Shonda Smith. Debra Gragson then introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Sandy Perkins from Silverton. Mrs. Perkins gave an interesting and informative discussion of the Planned Parenthood Program. She told the Chapter how it worked and cited many good examples. Afterward, Mrs. Perkins presented a film and then discussed the Planned Parenthood Program with the FHA girls.

Cakes made by the Sophomore Homemaking Class, decorated by Cheryl Merrell, Tanya Loury and Shonda Smith, and hot chocolate were served by Tanya Loury and Debra Gragson.

Cheri Brown led the girls in group singing.

President Cheryl Merrell closed and dismissed the meeting.

Everyone reported an enjoyable time and the Valley High FHA would like to extend its thanks to Mrs. Perkins for presenting such an interesting and worthwhile program.

Peanut Program Slashed

On October 24, the Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz announced several alarming changes in the 1974 peanut price support program. These are changes that the Secretary has authority to make without any action on the part of Congress.

Each of the changes, according to knowledgeable industry sources, will be extremely adverse to peanut interests. The changes, if allowed to stand, could totally wreck a very fine peanut industry.

One of the changes provides that there can be no lease or sale of peanut allotments for the 1974 crop. This could work an extreme hardship on farmers in this area. Another change will provide an increase of $2.00 per ton in storage handling and inspection charges that will have to be assumed by the producers.

There will also be no tolerance allowed in program compliance relating to measured acreage. Therefore, if a farmer planted 1/100th an acre of peanuts over his allotment, he can be denied any benefits of the price support program.

The CCC's minimum sales policy will have to be at a level of 115% of the loan rate for peanuts, thus making it extremely hard to market the peanuts.

There are other changes that could be very detrimental to the peanut industry, and growers who wish to protest this action should do so by contacting their Senator or Representative as quickly as possible.

VALLEY FFA BOYS ENTER DISTRICT CONTESTS

The Valley FFA Chapter entered four leadership teams in the Greenbelt District Contests at Clarendon College Saturday, November 3. The Senior Chapter Conducting team consisting of Scott Eudy, Norman Mullin, Mickey Smith, Brent Guest, Randy Green, Robert Gragson and Johnny Hamner won first place in their division. The Radio Broadcast team made up by Jimmy Don Davidson, Ross Case and Pepper Jones also won their contest. These two teams will be representing the Greenbelt District in the Area Contest in Plainview Saturday, November 10.

The Greenhand Chapter Conducting team could not enter because of an injury to one of the members in the ballgame Friday night. The Senior Farm Skill team made up by Jimmy Don Davidson, Pepper Jones and Brian Wheeler placed fourth. They feel they would have placed much higher had they not lost a member of their team on Friday.

In the other contest the local boys placed sixth in the FFA Quiz. This team was composed of Doyle Dean Proctor, Gregory Wynne, Rex Fuston and Lee Cruise.

NEW ARRIVAL

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Castello announce the arrival of a baby boy, Kendall Scott, born November 1, in the Plainview Hospital. He weighed 8 lbs.

He has two brothers, Kevin, 6 years old, and Keith, 13 months. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lonny Dickly of Arlington and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Castello of San Angelo.

Little Wayne Henderson of Silverton spent Saturday night with his grandparents, the Gaston Owens, while his parents were sitting at the bedside in Lubbock at the bedside of Mrs. Carolyn (Schott) Self.

Wayne's father, Dwain Henderson, lifted a butane tank Saturday and misplaced some ribs. He came home from Lubbock in intense pain and finally got a doctor late Sunday evening and got them back in place. (It was Dr. Maxwell. He has come to our rescue with Eddie and his asthma when no one else could help. We appreciate him very much.)

Mrs. Charles Daniels found an interesting and profitable hobby making Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy dolls. All are made with clothing that is washable.

Raggedy Ann Dolls, A Hobby, Almost A Job For Mrs. Daniels

As Christmas draws near Mrs. Charles Daniels' sewing machine whizzes faster and faster making Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy dolls.

What started out as a hobby for the Graham, Texas woman, who is a native of Turkey and a former Quitaque resident, has almost grown into a small business. Mrs. Daniels said, "That is unless you want to get paid for your time." She realizes some profit but really just enjoys doing it.

It all began after her daughter Jill went off to college three years ago. She needed something to occupy her time so she started making dolls and designing their clothes. Several people saw them and asked to purchase them. Since then she has added the "Upside down dolls" and Barbie clothes. Many are special orders, for special room decors.

Mrs. Daniels puts great detail into her dolls and their clothes, with "nothing but washable fabrics."

She said the interesting aspect is that more and more teenagers are buying her dolls. She said, "The latest craze is the sorority girls ordering them in their organization's colors and name embroidered on their dresses." She added that many are hung on the walls above their beds.

She recalled showing some of her dolls to a Neiman-Marcus buyer once and he readily agreed that he'd like to handle them and wanted at least 300 per month. Mrs. Daniels said, "But that would mean hiring helpers and going into production." He said, "Sure and why not?" Well she said, "But this is just a hobby for fun and not to get rich off of."

The talented Mrs. Daniels has other hobbies such as making applique quilts, doing mache figurines, and sewing for herself and her daughter. She works part-time at a children's shop and "is an excellent housekeeper" her husband says.

He gets in on the fun by holding the long strands of yarn that goes into making the hair. He said she often hops out of bed, makes the coffee, and starts sewing long before breakfast.

She has outlets in Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Plainview, Crosbyton and Graham.

Harvest Time Good Time To Evaluate Weed Control Practices

Harvest season is a good time to evaluate the success of weed control practices used during the year, says County Extension Agent Jim Vanstory. Weeds that escaped control by herbicides and cultivation are obvious during harvesting operations.

A little time spent in making some notes on the location and identity of weeds present and the herbicides used in a particular field will be well worth the effort next Spring. Vanstory suggests making a map of each field showing where problem weeds appeared. This will be an asset next planting season when crop rotations are planned and herbicides are selected.

If a particular weed was not controlled by a given herbicide, it may be advisable to rotate to another crop so that other herbicides may be used. Certain weeds which are resistant to a given herbicide tend to build up when that herbicide is applied year after year. Johnsongrass control in grain sorghum is usually a losing battle, but by rotating to cotton, a pre-plant incorporated herbicide coupled with directed postemergence sprays can keep Johnsongrass under control.

If weeds are building up which are resistant to presently used pre-emergence herbicides and rotation to another crop is impractical, the answer may be to use post-emergence directed sprays which kill

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Plan before you plow.

That's the plea State Conservationist Edward E. Thomas made today to Texas farmers putting new land into cultivation in 1974.

the weeds after they emerge.

Vanstory points out that a record of herbicides used in various fields is also of value in determining possible causes of damage to later crops. If an accurate record of herbicides and rates applied is kept on each field, it is easy to trace possible carryover or residue problems that may occur in fall-planted crops or those planted the next Spring.

A weed map and a field record of herbicide usage are valuable aids in planning next year's weed control program, believes Vanstory.

"Most land in Texas should not be farmed in clean tilled crops without terraces, contour farming, minimum tillage, or other proven conservation measures," Thomas stressed. "Besides, these practices help increase production in the long run."

"But some land should not be farmed under any circumstances," Thomas said. "We are already getting reports of sandy, highly erodible soils in Texas being plowed up for crop production. Let a drought, coupled with high winds, hit this land and massive dust storms will be the result."

He said some steep soils will probably also be put into cultivation next year. Serious erosion and sedimentation damages can result unless sound conservation measures are installed.

Thomas, head of the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Texas, said his agency supports full agricultural production as a principal means of checking food price increases.

"But we also need full protection of the land along with full production," he emphasized.

He urged farmers to contact local SCS offices before putting land into cultivation.

"Our soil surveys show which soils can be farmed safely," Thomas pointed out. "They also can be used to determine which soils are most productive. Careful planning can hold erosion hazards to a minimum; but carelessness can quickly return us to the disastrous erosion conditions that existed in the 1930's and 1950's," he warned.

Such conditions in the Great Plains, where wind erosion is a constant problem, led Congress in 1957 to establish a conservation program to return high risk cropland to grass.

"Under this program in Texas, we have helped farmers convert more than a million acres of cropland to grassland," Thomas said. "This land should remain in grass. For it or other land like it to be put back into cultivation will be a disastrous step backwards."

"As chief guardians of our state's soil resources, farmers and ranchers have a responsibility to themselves and to future generations to use their land wisely," Thomas continued. "They have made great strides in conservation work in the last 35 years. With proper planning, we can meet the demand for food without increasing dust storms, sediment pollution, and other problems caused by accelerated soil erosion."

Farmers are expected to bring thousands of acres of former "set-aside" land back into full crop production in 1974 to meet the increased demand for farm commodities. Many farmers will also farm their land more intensively as they try to increase yields per acre.
