Turkey Man Assaulted Recently

A 65 year old Turkey man was assaulted Sunday, August 24 on FM 3031 (Buckle L Road) after his alleged assailant, Gilbert Salinas, 33, demanded money, took his wallet and left Salinas was flushed Monday night from beneath a Childress residence at 501 Ave. A. SW by Sheriff Kevin Overstreet. The sheriff actually crawled beneath the house and spent 15 minutes talking Salinas into surrendering.

Also at the scene were Chief Deputy Darin Smith, Deputy Tom Bostwick and DARE officer Stacev Karlin.

Salinas was in the Childress County jail this morning awaiting arraignment.

The elderly man, identified as Billy Joe Mullin, was undergoing tests on Monday in Childress Regional Medical Center after he regained consciousness enough to find someone who could bring him to the hospital.

Mullin's vehicle had "broken down" near Wright's Grocery when Gilbert Salinas, 33, happened by and helped start it.

After starting the vehicle Mullin told Chief Deputy Sheriff Darin Smith that Salinas said, I need you to go with me and help load a trailer.

Since Salinas had helped Mullin, the older man agreed to assist him. When the two arrived at the site, Salinas reportedly told Mullin, "I want your money!"

Mullin explained that he had no money, and Salinas began to strike him, leaving cuts and abrasions about the face, head and left shoulder.

Salinas then left the older man alone and injured. Mullin finally stumbled away and made it from about a 100 yards from where the pavement ends on the Buckle L Road to a farm house, owned by the Higley family.

The elderly man said he could go no further. He broke a glass and entered the farm house in order to have a place to lie down. He later recovered enough to go further down the road to the Rodney Robbins home. Robbins then brought Mullin to Childress Regional Medical Center, where he was admitted for tests.

Deputy Smith said in addition to broken glass at the farm house, there was blood.

Salinas is charged with aggravated robbery, a first degree felony. Smith said the fact that the crime involves an elderly person, 65 years or older, evated the offense to a first degree felony

If you could take a few minutes out of your busy schedule to write down all the serial numbers to your tractors, it could mean the difference between losing your tractor forever or having it returned.

A thief looks for the easiest thing to steal and he does not want to spend a lot of time at one place. Let's make his so called 'job" a lot harder.

Remove the keys from the ignition, park your tractor in a very dark place and if possible leave a plow hooked to it. Having to unhook a plow is pretty hard work, something a thief is afraid of and will usually avoid it if at all possbile.

I am aware that this is a very busy time for you, planting wheat and harvesting corn, etc. If you do not have time to take down the serial numbers, call the Sheriff's Department and we will come out and take the serial numbers and photograph your tractors and keep all information in a file at the office

Make-A-Wish Trail Treasure Ride Upcoming

September 26th and 27th, Make-A-Wish Foundation of the Texas Plains will be hav-ing their first annual treasure trail ride at Caprock State Park in Quitaque, Texas.

On Friday the 26th, MAW of the Texas Plains will be serving a chuck wagon BBQ, camp fire fiddlin', western singing and poetry for $10.00 per person for anyone that cares to attend.

The trail ride will be on Saturday for $75.00 per person which will include breakfast at 8 a.m., trail ride, clues for treasures, poker hands, awards and supper. Your $75.00 donation includes all park fees except the $2.00 you must pay to the park.

Anyone interested in participating in this event please call the Make-A-Wish office to make your reservation at 800-242-7167 by September 15th. Mastercard/Visa, check and cash will be accepted. In December of 1996, Make-

A-Wish granted a wish to a special little boy from this area. Dillion's wish was to go to Disney World in Orlando, Florida. Dillion and his family enjoyed 5 wonderful days of magic and memories.

The money raised by Make-A-Wish on the trail ride at Caprock Canyon, September 27th will help grant a wish to another special child from this area. Wishes have been granted in the top 55 counties of the Panhandle which does include the area from Childress, Paducah, Claude, Tulia and Memphis all the way to Abilene.

Collins To Appear At First Baptist Church

Ray Collins, the Gospel Magician, will be at the First Baptist Church in Quitaque at 7 p.m. Saturday, September 13th.

There will be something for all ages. It will be a program full of humor, feeling, grace and the love of Jesus Christ.

With his illusions and slight of hand, Ray has a way of bringing out the Gospel message that is thought provoking and entertaining for the young and old alike

Admission is free. Everyone is encourage to come and enjoy an evening with Ray.

This coming week Valley School will be celebrating their Home-coming Week. This is a very special week for those former students who no longer live in the area. They are quite excited about coming back to the home town and going to the local high school football game and seeing all the new faces that are at the school; finding out where all their old friends are now living and what they have done with their lives; and most imporant of all is the reminiscing about the games that they played on the old football field and all the many fond memories they recall and all the scrapes that they escaped from unharmed and now wonder how in the world that they did escape with so few "war wounds"

This past week I received an invitation to my high school homecoming at Tahoka. It is hard to realize that 45 years have gone by since we were the Seniors at the football games. In thinking back you wonder what in the world you did with all that time but when you look around and see the size and age of your family, you realize that the years have passed pleasantly with some beautiful reminders that growing older does has its own compensations.

It is exciting to recall old friends and wonder if they too will be attending the homecoming. An invitation such as this causes you to think of past successes, past failures, fun, friends, tears, joy, perhaps even a few enemies or feuds surface in your mind as you go back to the past in your memory. It is wonderful to catch up on the lives of classmates that you haven't seen in years.

I graduated with a class of 50 and we have never all been at a school homecoming. It would really be a special one if all of the members of the class could make it home for the reunion. Lots of laughs, hugs, tears and "do you remember" would flow among those friends which you never really forget because the high school years are so special and set apart in your life. You share things with these friends that you will never have the opportunity to share with anyone else. You will make other friends over the years but these four years of friends will always hold a unique spot in your heart. They were part of your years of reaching adulthood and all the struggles that you faced as you began to grow out of the nest and try your wings on

Many of these friends, you may never meet again except in your memories or in the reminiscing with fellow classmates who experienced the same happenings as you. But it is a true joy to be able to 'go home again" even if only for a short while at a homecoming where you will be treated as a welcome and honored guest.

Be sure and go out and support the Valley Team on their Homecoming Week. You will be helping this group of students make beautiful memories for their "golden" years!

Lottie Owens Residing In Lubbock, Now

Lottie Owens, formerly of Quitaque, is now at her new resi-dence in Lubbock after spending the entire month of August in St. Mary Hospital.

Mrs. Owens suffered a severely broken bone in her left leg, just above the knee cap, on August 2 at the Allsup's Store in Quitaque. After being taken to Swisher Memorial Hospital, she was transferred to St. Mary Hospital in Lubbock, where she underwent surgery the following day to repair the break.

She spent the next four weeks in St. Mary's Rehabilitation Center, learning to use a wheelchair and walker, which she will require for at least another month.

Because her doctors informed her that she should no longer try to live alone, Mrs. Owens has moved into Grand Court, an assisted-living facility in Lubbock.

Her new address is: 4601 71st St., #101, Lubbock, TX 79424. her telephone number is 806/793-7010 She would love to hear from friends and family across Briscoe County.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

The Commissioners Court of Briscoe County will hold a public hearing on the Proposed Budget for Fiscal Year 1997-98 at 9:00 a.m., September 15, 1997 in the County Courtroom, Briscoe County Courthouse, Silverton, Texas

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

SPECIAL ELECTION NOVEMBER 4, 1997

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 36 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow a person to hold the position of municipal judge in more than one municipality.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow a person who holds the office of municipal court judge to hold at the same time more than one civil office for which the person receives compensation."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 43 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to limit the maximum annual increase in homestead appraisals for each year since the most recent tax appraisal. The amendment would also permit the legislature to allow the governing body of a school district to elect to apply the law providing for the transfer of the age-65-and-older school property tax freeze to the person's new homestead, if the move to the new residence homestead occurred to the new residence homestead occurred before the law took effect.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to au-thorize the Legislature to limit in-creases in the appraised value of resi-dence homesteads for ad valorem taxation and to permit a school dis-trict to calculate the school property tax freeze applicable to the residence homestead of an elderly person or the surviving spouse of an elderly person in accordance with the law authoriz-ing the transfer of the school property tax freeze to a different homestead re-gardless of whether that law was in ef-fect at the time the person established the person's homestead."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 45 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to authorize counties, cities towns, and other local taxing entities to grant exemptions or other forms of ad valorem tax relief on property on which approved water conservation initiatives have been implemented.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to au-thorize the legislature to permit a tax-ing unit to grant an exemption or other relief from ad valorem taxes on property on which a water conserva-tion initiative has been implemented."

PROPOSITION NO. 4

amendment to update the Texas Constitu-tion by deleting duplicate numbering in its provisions and removing certain of its obsolete portions

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment eliminating duplicate numbering in and certain obsolete provisions of the Texas Constitution."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 19 proposes an amendment to allow the Supreme Court of Texas to hold sessions at any location in this state. Currently, the court is limited to holding sessions only at Austin, the seat of state government.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment authorizing the supreme court to sit to transact business at any location in this state."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 39 proposes a constitutional amendment to repeal the current provision which provides that the board of the Texas Growth Fund may not invest money in a business unless the business has disclosed to the board whether it has any direct financial investment in or with South Africa or Namibia.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

PROPOSITION NO. 7

ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution IT proposes a constitutional amendment to create the Texas Water Development Fund II as a fund separate and distinct from the Texas Water Development Fund. The amend-ment would authorize the Texas Water Development Board to administer the fund and issue general obligation bonds for purposes of the fund under guidelines set

The amendment would also allow the Board to use loan repayments coming into the fund after the end of the fiscal year to make bond debt service payments, and would provide certain conditions for the flow of funds for repayment of Texas agri-cultural water conservation bonds.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment relat-ing to the authorization to the Texas Water Development Board to transfer existing bond authorizations for water supply, water quality, flood control, or state participation from one category of use to another category to maximize the use of existing funds and relating to more efficient operation of the bond managemen.

PROPOSITION NO. 8 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 31 proposes a constitutional amendment which would authorize home equity lending, in which a loan could be secured by a lien against the borrower's homestead. The amendment would also establish several provisions providing for consumer protection in the home equity lending process.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The amendment to the Texas Consti-tution expanding the types of liens for home equity loans that a lender, with the homeouner's consent, may place against a homestead."

PROPOSITION NO. 9 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 96 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the legislature to authorize a property tax of five cents for each $100 valuation in rural fire prevention districts which are located in Harris County. The constitution of the consti tution currently authorizes a property tax of three cents for each $100 valuation in rural fire prevention districts regardless of what county they are in.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to au-thorize the legislature to authorize an ad valorem tax rate in rural fire pre-vention districts located in Harris County of five cents on each $100 of taxable value of property."

PROPOSITION NO. 10 ON THE BALLOT

constitutional amendment to permanently dedicate monies from the Texas Crime dedicate monies from the Texas Crime Victims' Compensation Fund (and its auxiliary fund) so that they are used only for assisting victims of crime and not for any other purpose. If an episode of mass violence occurred, however, money from the funds could be used to assist victims of the mass violence if all other sources of authorized emergency assistance were denleted first.

-ine constitutional amendment designating the purposes for which money in the compensation to victims of crime fund and the compensation to victims of crime auxiliary fund may be used."

PROPOSITION NO. 11 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 59 proposes a constitutional amendment to prohibit the Legislature from authorizing additional state debt payable from the general revenue fund if the resulting annual debt service (the amount needed each year to make payments) would exceed five percent of the annual general revenue available over the last three fiscal years, excluding revenues constitutionally dedicated for purposes other than payment of state debt.

The term "additional state debt" does not include bonds that, although backed by the full faith and credit of the state, are reasonably expected to be paid from rev-enue sources other than the general rev-

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment limit-ing the amount of state debt payable from the general revenue fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 12

ON THE BALLOT House Joint Resolution 55 proposes a constitutional amendment to provide that if the Texas Supreme Court does not act on a motion for a rehearing within 180 days of the motion's filing, the motion is denied.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to establish a deadline for supreme court action on a motion for rehearing."

PROPOSITION NO. 13 ON THE BALLOT

ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment to establish the Texas Tomorrow trust fund dedicated exclusively to the prepayment of tuition and fees for higher education. The amendment would guarantee that if there is not enough money during any fiscal year to pay the appropriate tuition and required fees, the needed money will be appropriated out of the first available money coming into the state treasury each fiscal year. The proposed amendment will appear in the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to encourage persons to plan and save for young Texans' college education, to extend the full faith and credit of the state to protect the Texas tomorrow fund of the prepaid higher education tuition program, and to establish the Texas tomorrow fund as a constitutionally protected trust fund."

PROPOSITION NO. 14 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 83 proposes a constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to set the official qualifications

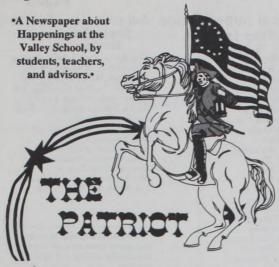

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows:

"The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to prescribe the qualifications of constables."

What is the most unique thing about Valley School? The most unique thing about Valley School is the care that each teacher has for his or her students.

How long have you worked at Valley? This is my 24th year to teach at Valley.

What one strength do you bring to Valley? I am disciplined in my teaching ability. My students will learn and do what I strive to teach

What is one of your personal goals? My personal goal for right now is to continue teaching to the best of my ability until I feel it is time for someone else who is younger to take my place.
Favorite Movie: I am not a real movie fan, but I loved Gone With The Wind and Smoky and The Bandit. Favorite Book: I have many favorite books. Among my favorites are Girl of The Limberlost, Gone With The Wind, and the White In-

Favorite food: My favorite food with pizza--pepperoni, mushrooms extra cheese--and chili rellenos.

One thing people least know about you: One thing people least know about me is that I have two sisters just like me and one baby brother who is 45.

One thing most people know about you: One thing most people know about me is that I tend to be very bossy and mouthy

Who had the greatest influence on your life: One of the greatest influences in my life was my first influences in my life was my first grade school teacher. Her name was Mrs. Long. She gave me the love of books and reading.

If you could convey one mess to the parents of your students, what would it be? Parents, start early with your children teaching them manners and morality. You should teach them that learning is important for their future

Bus Riding Safety Tips For Students

provided by Calley Payne, CEA-FCS
Parents of children riding schoolbuses should teach them to avoid the 'Danger Zone,' a 10 foot wide area surrounding a school bus, according to Ryder Student Transportation Services, a national provider

"Because young children see a bus, they assume the driver can also see them, "advises Amy Stewart, Ryder's National Safety Manager. "So they may try to stoop down to pick up objects that they ve dropped or run back to retrieve items left on the bus. Obviously, this creates a dangerous situation if the bus or other vechicles begin to move. Parents should teach their children that drivers may not always be able to see them, and that the sweaters and lunch boxes they're running back to find aren't as important as their safety."

Stewart suggests that parents instruct their children to remain at least 10 feet from the bus until it has stopped completely, the driver has opened the door and motioned to begin boarding. When exiting the children should immediately walk at least 10 feet away from the bus before continuing the walk home. "And because children can't always relate to distance measured in feet, parents may want to express the distance as five giant steps," adds Stewart.

As part of its services, Ryder Student Transportation Services also conducts an annual safety program for elementary school-aged children to teach safe boarding and ridership practices. Ryder also trains and tests all of its school bus drivers on boarding and unloading procedures as part of its comprehensive driver training program. Drivers are trained to utilize sophisticated mirror systems that extend

However, "Despite all of the training, safety precautions and specialized equipment, we still need parents' help," says Stewart. "The most important place to learn about safety is in the home. We want every child to be absolutely safe.

Ryder advises parents to teach their children the following school bus safety rules: Plan to be at the bus stop several minutes before the bus is scheduled to arrive. Wait for the bus in a safe place away from traffic. Avoid horseplay and respect the privacy and property of others

As the bus approaches, stand at least 10 feet (five giant steps) away from the bus and the road. Wait in single file until the bus comes to a complete stop and the driver signals you to board. Stay seated quietly, facing forward at all times on the bus. Listen to the driver's instructions and never stick your arm or head or any

When exiting the bus, walk at least 10 feet (five giant steps) away from the bus. If you must cross the road at your stop, wait for the driver's signal and cross in front of the bus, remaining at least 5 giant

Never run back to the bus even if you dropped or forgot something. Dropped or forgotten objects can be replaced.

Stay away from the street and walk on sidewalks and crosswalks if Dearest Folks: I have moved again as you can see by my new address. This time I am in a pretty good place to live. I did not go far this time, in fact I just moved into town. I sleep on the fourth floor of a large building which is a lot better than some of the places I have slept.

We have hot showers, canteen, recreation room and mess hall all in one building. At present I am work-ing in the office as clerk. I don't know whether I will like it or not.

They gave me a Purple Heart a few days back for being wounded in action. It is a pretty thing but don't mean much, I guess. I will try to send it home so you can see it. A lot of the boys like to keep them and show them. But personally, I can't see they are so much myself. I know one thing, they are not worth the trouble of getting shot.

I haven't heard from Delton since he left. I suppose he hasn't had time to write. I think I know where he is allright. He promised he would write the first chance to let me know how he was getting along. I hated to see him leave here because he is the first boy I have met from anywhere near by Matt Frazier of Star-Telegram "How can I get a job being a clown in a restaurant, or a host or whatever you do?," a customer once asked the 6-foot-4-inch co-owner of Babe's Chicken Dinner House in Roanoke.

Paul Vinyard, 53, his wife Mary Beth, 52, and their restaurant decorations could be considered comic. The former president of El Chico Mexican Restaurants and Casa Bonita restaurants presents a mix of fine southern cooking and food-laced comedy at Babe's that has customers waiting on the sidewalk even during the hottest summer weekends

They stand beneath the largest--if not the only--neon chicken sign in Roanoke. Cooled by an industrialsize fan, the customers who persevere finally make it to the mister— "we call it the spitter"—which gen-tly blows a fine mist of water under the awning draped at the entrance. Customers choose from the limited menu—fried chicken or chicken fried steak, served with buttermilk biscuits, creamed corn, mashed potatoes and cream gravy. Then they pass the wait looking at wall decoration, which range from life-size cardboard cutouts of Darth Vader and Albert Einstein to an official museum of chicken hooks, grabbers

Paul and Mary Beth met while attending sixth grade in Turkey— that's Turkey, Texas, not Asia. She remembers being taller than he was and not liking him very much. He retaliates by not remembering her

Paul Vinyard is the son of Jo Jean and Wren Vinyard, former residents of Turkey and Mary Beth Boswell a former pastor of the Tur-key Methodist Church.

They met again when she was a freshman at McMurry College in Abilene and he was starting Texas Tech University in Lubbock. A year later, they began dating and shortly thereafter were married. Mary Beth ended her college career and moved to Lubbock to be with Paul while he earned a degree in management. He graduated May 31, 1968, and got in his car and drove to Okla-homa to open Casa Bonita two days later. He eventually became president of the company, which had 55 restaurants and $45 million in sales by 1976.

After splitting with the owner, Vinyardmoved to Dallas and started his own restaurant, Bubba's Cooks

"Country," in a 1927 Texaco service station in University Park.

The next year the Vinyards opened another restaurant in a brick Roanoke building built in 1908 and named it after Mary Beth's nick-

In 1994, the couple opened a second Babe's in Garland, and this year they opened a second Bubba's and its Mexican-food counterpart, BubbaCito's at Texas Motor Speed. way. They are planning a third Babe's in the Metroplex.

The Vinyards say they enjoy their success but don't want their chain to grow too big.

"I love people," Paul said. "I love talking to people. I love designing new restaurants. Ilove doing all the things you have to do to start a

"But once you are successful, you get away from that and start dealing with cost analysts and market reports. I don't love that."
