Los Angeles Crew In Turkey Tuesday For Documentary

The town of Turkey was excited last Tuesday when a crew from Greystone Productions of Los Angeles arrived in Turkey to make a documentary on Bob Wills.

On their way down to Turkey from Amarillo, the crew stopped in Canyon and picked up Dr. and Mrs. Townsend -- probably the most informed man on the life of Bob Wills, and author of the book"San Antonio Rose.

In Turkey the Los Angeles crew photographed several sites pertaining to Bob Wills, and interviewed Bob's daughter, Cindy Wills

The museum director Veta Colvin was also interviewed.

The documentary was made to be shown on the Nashville Harold Bob Bennett, State Network at a later date. Documentaries of Hank Williams and ASCS Director, and George Ellis, Patsy Cline have recently been done by this crew.

Dr. Townsend said the first vention updating the convention book he ever read about Bob on program initiatives of their Wills was called "Hubbin' It." He respective agencies. Gary wrote the second one Condra, Administrator, Texas Agricultural Mediation Pro-

Townsend also told about the Longhorn Dance Hall in Ft. Worth where Wills played, and NFU President Leland Swenson how he always filled the hall to capacity. Mrs. Colvin also shared a story about the Pearl Harbor bombing in WWII, how the Service Club was hit. The jukebox survived, but only one record was saved -- Bob Wills' San Antonio Rose

How persistent are you? Do you persist until you accomplish what you have set out to do or do you just give up at the first set back? How do you persist? Are there really different ways of being persistent? Many people think that you are being persistent when you just continue to do the same thing over and over again at any cost, no matter who you step on in the process of accomplishing your goal. I feel that persistence is not when you gain a goal at all costs, such as pushing someone down and stepping on them to obtain the objective! Persistence is taking the time to analyze all the actions that you can take about a matter and then to decide which will get you to your goal with the least amount of time used and with the fact that you will not be stepping on someone else's back to get there and in the process of gaining the goal you will feel great about yourself. Persistence is constancy, resolution, stamina, tenacious, steadfast or determined. If persistence is used for the wrong thing, you can become a loser even though you reach your goal. Is winning worth the price of a friendship? Is gaining your goal worth losing your health over? Is persistence in a discussion worth winning if you alienate your debating partners? So when do we persist? Why try

Dogs To Be Confined

For months he worked in a small attic room, filling tablet after tablet with handwritten text, and sending it off to a London secretarial bureau to be typed. Finally the first typed chapters were returned in the mail. He picked them up eagerly, anxious to get a fresh impression of what he had written. As Cronin read the manuscript, his disgust mounted. How could he have written such terrible material? He was a failure alreadywith his first book only half written. He stomped out into the drizzling rain for a lonely walk, throwing the manuscript onto an ash pile beside the house.

Crossing the heath, he met a neighbor, an old farmer, digging a drainage ditch in a boggy field. The farmer inquired how Cronin's writing was coming along. When Cronin reported what the had done with his manuscript, the old farmer was silent for several minutes. Then he spoke.

"No doubt you're the one that's right, and I'm the one that's wrong. My father ditched this bog all his days and never made a pasture. I've dug it all my days and I've never made a pasture. But pasture or no pasture. I cannot help but dig. For my father knew, and I know, that if you only dig enough, a pasture can be made here

Ashamed of himself. Cronin walked back to the house, picked the manuscript out of the ashes, and dried it out in the oven. Then he went back to work, writing and rewriting until it satisfied him. the book was Hatter's Castle, the first in a long string of successful novels.

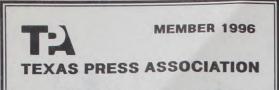

So you see persistence in the right matters really can make a difference whether you are involved with pastures or novels!

Sheep Referendum Happy Birthday Procedures January 18 Walt Henson, Adam Ortiz, Thomas Fuston, Johnny Peery

by; Rebel L. Royall

The U.S. Department of Agricul-Maria Reyna, Rhonda Cochran, Karen Rice, Windy Shannon ture announced procedures for a referendum on a proposed Sheep and Wool Promotion, Research, Education and Information Order. The referendum will be conducted Feb. 6, 1996

> USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, an agency in the marketing and regulatory programs mission area, has oversight responsibility for federal research and promotion programs. AMS administrator Lon Hatamiya said all producers, feed-ers and importers who certify they were engaged in the production, feeding or importation of sheep or sheep products (except importers of raw wool only) between Jan. 1 and Dec. 31,1994, are eligible to vote.

Voters may register and vote in person or request absentee ballots at Briscoe County office of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Absentee ballots must be requested from the county Extension office seving the county of voter residence, for individuals, or the county where the business headquarters is located, for corporations. Absentee ballot requests, filed in person or by mail, may be made between Jan. 16 and Jan. 26, 1996. Absentee ballots must be received in county Exten sion offices by close of business Feb

The Farm Service Agency, formerly the Agricultural Stabiliza-tion and Conservation Service, will count ballots, determine eligibility of voters and tabulate results.

For the order to go into effect, the proposal must be approved ei-ther by a simple majority of voters or by voters who account for twothirds of the sheep and wool produc tion represented in the referendum

If approved, the program would be funded by mandatory assess-ments. Domestic producers and feeders would be assessed 1 cent per pound on sales of live sheep and 2 cents per pound on sales of greasy wool. Importers would be assessed 1 cent per pound or the equivalent on imported degreased wool and wool products

Details of the voting procedures are published in the Dec. 15 Federal Register. Copies of the final referendum rules, the proposed order and additional information will be availabe at the Briscoe County blance to ourselves.

Portraits Are People Exhibit Opens

The Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum will open a exhibit of portrait photographs from the Re-search Center's holdings January 14 through November 1. Portraits Are People, Too is a selection of photographs ranging over a hundred year time-span and will be exhibited in the Alexander Gallery on the first floor of the Museum, with biographical information supplementing the portraits.

Displaying over 30 portraits, the exhibit will include not only a variety of individuals and couples who influnced the history of the Panhandle-Plains region, but also demonstrates a wide array of photographic styles and historic framing

Many of the early pioneers and settlers of the Panhandle-Plains, such as Charles Goodnight, an early cattleman; T.D. Holbart, a ranch managerr of many Panhandle renches including the JA; and Rawleigh P. Smyth, who surveyed the Plainview townsite are included in this show. The exhibit also includes two oil portraits of Reverend and Mrs. C.W. Alexander, who were early pioneers to the area. He served as the first Presbyterian minister for Mobettie in 1884, and she established the Alexander Ranch in Hemphill County in 1886.

The photograph, as a permanent image, was first created in 1839 by Frenchman, Louis Jacques Mande Daguerre. Named in his honor, the daguerrotype was the first form of photography used to catch the human image. Examples of early photographic mediums, including daguerreotypes, ambrotypes and tintypes, as well as later hand-tinted and charcoal enhanced images are included in Portraits Are People, Too.

Turkey Residents Visit Coronado's Camping Spot

by Ann Coker Robin Boedecker and her three children, Luke, Hannah and Will, enjoyed a field trip to the Montnery Ranch near Floydada last

They were participants in dig ging in the four pits in an area the size of a football field. This area has definitely been designated as a amping ground for Coronado and his 1000 men who were on an expedition seeking the supposed riches in the land north of Maxico. This was in about 1539-1540. The Floydada Museum initiated this project. Two archeologists from Wichita State in Kansas and some of their students are responsible for the digs.

A journal kept by Coronado or one of his men was used to pin point the camp ground to this area by the vegetation described in the journal. Much research was involved before the pits were laid out. All four of the Boedeckers were participants in the digging. Luke, who is on crutches, sat in a chair as he dug. Hannah, Will and their mother, Robin, all discovered an artifact that day, a cross bow, a knife blade and several other relics were found. Most of the artifacts are only about four inches deep

The Boedeckers stated they would definitely return next sum mer for another day of digging at the pita!

Juicing For Your Health

The Gerson Therapy - consum-ing huge quantities (nearly 20 pounds per day) of organically grown fruits and vegetables - seeks to regenerate the body to health, supporting each important metabolic requirement by flooding the body with nutrients from the fruits and vegetables. Most of the fruit and vegetables are made into fresh raw juice, enough for one glass every hour, 13 times a day. Does the ther apy work: A study of stage III mela oma patients showed a 71 percent five-year survival rate.

Farm and Ranch Estate Planning Seminars

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service is sponsoring four, two-day Farm and Ranch Estate Planning Seminars for farmers and ranchers at the following locations: Lubbock Feb-7-8-96 Holiday Inn Civic Center 801 Ave. Q El Paso Feb-14-15-96 Hilton Airport 2027 Airway Blvd. Waco 2-21-22-96

Hilton 113 S. University Parks San Antonio 2-28-29-96 Chapter Training Facility Alamo Towers W. 901 NE Loop 410, suite 420

The two days are designed to give a thorough analysis of relevant income and estate tax rules as they affect families and their agricul-tural businesses. It is designed for each of a married couple in that it discusses estate administration and tax reporting requirements for the suriving spouse. This same information is useful for potential execu-tors and trustees of estates and to all who want to make their estate settlement less of a burden to their loved ones. The goal is to give the participants knowledge sufficient to make an informed choice as to the best alternative for their family and financial situation. A registration fee is charged.

If you have any questions call Wayne Hayenga or Carol Sabo at (409) 845-2226.

Smith said although the predominate age of runaway callers is 14 to 16, the hotline has received calls from children as young as 8 who are thinking about running away.

"Calls go up during this part of the year because holidays can be a lonely and depressing time for homeless youth away from their families," Smith said. "We also re-ceive many calls from youth who seek refuge during the cold winter months.

Parents are urged to call the Texas Runaway Hotline, 1-800-392-3352, for information on what to do if their children have left home. ********

Runaway Hotline Calls Nearly Double In 1995

Telephone calls to the Texas Runaway Hotline have doubled this year, according to hotline director Jay Smith.

"The calls are coming from youth and worried parents," Smith said. "The numbers don't necessarily indicate an increase in runaways as much as they reflect the fact that youth and families are learning about our services.'

The number of calls in November was 1,950, compared to 900 for the same month a year ago. In July, the number of calls peaked at 2,407, and the monthly average for 1995 has been nearly 1,900 calls, compared to an average of 994 calls per month in 1994.

"More than 120,000 children from 7 years old to 17 run away in Texas every year, while thousands more contemplate running," Smith said. in the world are youth and "Most children run away due to debt. family difficulties that can range from disagreements to physical and sexual abuse.
