Turkey City Council Adopts $184,250 Budget for 1996-97

With their fiscal year beginning July 1, 1996, the City of Turkey has adopted their budget for 1996-97. The new budget projects an expected $184,250 in income and expenses. This amount represents $98,150 less than the 1995-96 budgeted income and expenses of $282,400. $80,000 of the 1995-96 income was a donation from the Martha Ann Cogdell hospital trust, a one-time gift, from the Cogdell family.

Largest expected income, of course, is from water fees, some $59,000; $33,000 is expected from property taxes, and $29,000 from trash dumpster fees. Sales tax income is expected to be $19,000, sewer fees, $14,500; ambulance $10,000, and lesser items making up the rest of the expected income for 1996-97.

Largest budgeted expense for 1996-97 will be the payroll, with $58,690 budgeted. This is only a slight increase over last year's budgeted payroll of $56,410.

Dumpster expense is the next largest, with $26,000 budgeted, as compared to '95-'96 budgeted $25,000. The third largest outlay will be for the water system, with some $14,000 budgeted. Last year's budget for the water system was $18,250.

A complete copy of the 1996-'97 budget, listing all line item income and expenses, is available for public inspection at the City Hall in Turkey.

Neel, Callahan File As Write-In Candidates

Two write-in Hall County candidates have filed for the November 5 General Election, according to County clerk Raye Bailey.

Glenn Callahan has filed as a write-in candidate for Hall County Sheriff. He entered the race for Hall County Sheriff against incumbent Garvin Speed in the spring of 1994.

Former Hall County Sheriff Elmer Neel has filed as a write-in candidate for the office of Constable, Precincts 1, 2, and 3.

The names of write-in candidates do not appear on the General Election ballots. Voters must write the candidate's name on the appropriate line in order to vote for a write-in candidate in the election.

One of the actions to take place that day is a Kids Bike Parade followed by a Kid's Bike Race. Information on this can be obtained from Wilburn Leeper.

A Hot Sauce Taste-Off is in the making as well as Cow Paddy Bingo which is sponsored by the Varsity Cheerleaders.

A Health Fair with flu shots, blood sugar checks and children's booster shots available will be held on October 19.

Tours of the beautiful foliage on the Caprock Canyons Trailway will be available for all who wish to participate.

A Soup and Salad Luncheon is being planned at the Community Center again this year.

The winners for "Band of the Month" for the September show were Tim and Kandi Zuber. Each month the audience votes for their choice for the $50.00 prize.

The prize money for the "Band of the Month" for 1996 has been donated by Mid-Plains Rural Telephone Cooperatives and Swisher Electric Cooperatives from Tulia; Burger King, Plainview; Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Floydada; First National Bank, Quitaque and First State Bank, Silvertown. Good Guy Award

The Allsups stores are well-known for staying open 365 days a year and 24 hours a day. Where else in Turkey or Quitaque can you buy something to eat, a cold drink or gas on a Sunday or late at night but at Allsups.

When a group from Valley School wishes to sponsor a car wash to raise money for their group, Allsups graciously provides the place and donates the water for their car wash.

Not only is Allsups a convenience for the people in Turkey and Quitaque it also provides jobs. The Turkey manager, Greg Fuston, has four more employees besides himself. The Quitaque manager, Cindy Lane, also has at least four more employees. Also Gene Fuston of Turkey is the District Manager.

For its convenience, their aid to Valley students and for contributing to the economy of our towns by providing jobs we would like to award our "Good Guys Award" to Allsups and its employees.

THEN & NOW!

Debt, now there is a word that none of us like to hear spoken. It seems to be a nasty word that causes us to cringe and wish that we were somewhere else. We even hate speaking of debts that we owe. Mr. Webster defines this word as meaning something owed to another. That definition in itself does not make you shudder but when you get to thinking of all the other words that can be used for debt, shudder we must—liability, obligation, debit, duty, arrears, deficit, note, bill, accounts outstanding or collectable, claim, indebtedness, responsibility or a burden. My what a hefty little four letter word.

Now, if you think like me, you do not like the feeling of being in debt to anyone, you do not want to be a burden on anyone, you do not like to think that you are a responsibility for someone else, we do not like to be in arrears on payments, we do not like to be told that we are deficit in any area of our lives, we do not like for anyone to lay a claim on our lives that we do not want there, and we certainly do not want to think that we are indebted to anyone!

But you know in thinking about this little old word, I have come to believe that we can never be truly free of it. We have some debts that we can never repay. Such as the debts to our parents for giving us life, rearing us, loving us, sending us out into the big wide world with the best outlook that they could possibly give to us, and trying to always make our way a bit smoother and nicer than the path that they have had to travel. Or take the debt that we owe to those who have been our teachers down through the years. By teachers, I do not mean only school teachers, as we learn from others every day. But, to just think of the school teachers, how great is the influence that they have upon the children that they teach their subjects to each day. Now can you truthfully say that those who have taught you in your life have been paid in full? I am willing to bet that you can't make that statement. This is one debt that it is never possible to fully pay.

What about the debt we owe to those who have given their lives that we can live here in our country free to come and go as we choose and to make whatever mistakes we do without fear of being punished unduly for those mistakes? Do you really think that we could ever repay such a debt as this? Many of the debts that we owe can only be repaid by helping out others as we have been helped.

Of course we mainly think of debt in the monetary sense. In the world in which we live today, it is so easy to get into debt over one's head very quickly with all the companies vying for your business and each trying to top the other with a better credit deal. The first thing you know you can be in over your head and it can take years of scrimping and saving just to be able to pay the minimum on your debt. We have to watch each day to see that we do not borrow to the excess or want the unnecessary item just because it is the "in thing" to own. We need to monitor our debts so that we do not hurt others with our bad choices. In the economy of today's world the small business can quickly be put out of commission by people not taking the time or caring enough to pay their debts. The old saying, "you don't miss the water until the well goes dry," is true of the many small business in our small towns. We may not miss them until they are closed and we have to drive many miles for a service that once was in our front door! Is this what we want in our future?

Caprock Canyons State Park, Quite The Busy Place Saturday

The Caprock Canyons State Park was very busy over the week-end. Saturday evening was the Moonlight Bike Ride. Twenty-two hardy individuals from places as far away as Dallas choose to make this ride. The evening was a beautiful bright moonlight night. Wilburn Leeper and Randy Stark were among those who took this beautiful ride.

In another area of the park, the Cowboy Campfire Evening was host to about ninety persons. These fortunate persons sat on haybales and soaked up the beautiful atmosphere of the canyons by moonlight as they got to listen to the soothing sounds of Jimmy Burson and his music and the rousing poetry by Perry Williams as they gathered around a campfire to soak up the atmosphere.

The Park personnel gave away four T-shirts and 2 caps as door prizes for the event. Two prizes were awarded to children and four to adults.

This event was attended by travelers from all around. One RV Club from Amarillo attended.

A Boy Scout troupe from Lockney were participants in a camp out at the park this past week end.

The park was reported as being full up. They also had a group of equestrians enjoying the challenge of the park trails. It seems that a well kept secret about the great trails in the park is no longer a secret.

Claude Hosts CRP Meeting

Holders of Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) lands must soon decide what to do with their property once contracts expire. A symposium focused on CRP issues is set for October 7 at the Armstrong County Activity Center in Claude, Texas. Registration starts at 9:30 a.m.

Representative Mac Thornberry will be the keynote speaker, who will brief participants on the CRP program's status. Armstrong County is one of only seven such sites in the nation to host the specialized conference on CRP land management and the future of the program. Coordinators are the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, the Texas A&M University, New Mexico State University, and the Cooperative Extension Services of the state universities in Colorado, Kansas and Oklahoma. Cooperators are the Society of Range Management and USDA's Farm Service Agency and Natural Resource Conservation Service. Registration is $20 and includes the noon meal. The CRP symposium's purpose is to offer contract holders answers on what course to follow once the program is over. The major areas of interest for landholders will include policies, regulations, conservation compliance and post contract options such as haying, grazing and cropping.

Specific topics featured during the morning session include, CRP Transition to Today, Fair 96 Policies and Regulations Impacting CRP, the Role of Conservation Compliance in CRP and Thornberry's Washington report. After lunch, the program will begin with research reports. The final session will be "Considering Your Future Uses for CRP: A Decision Making Process." Closing comments and discussion end the day's events at 3:00 p.m. Other CRP conferences are scheduled at Guymon, Oklahoma on October 8, and in Big Spring, Texas on October 10.

On the QT

Joyce Price drove to Lake Stamford Sunday to bring her mother, Ruby King, back to Quitaque that afternoon. Ruby had been in Odessa this week visiting with her son and family, Jerry and Wanda King. While at Odessa the group traveled to Terrell for a visit with their daughter and sister, Jane Hawkins.

Robert and Kim Patrick and sons moved to Knox City over the weekend. Robert was to begin his new position as City Administrator Tuesday. Kelly Joe and Michelle Patrick; and Robert's mother and her husband, Lua and Rob Pendleton helped the couple move to Knox City Saturday. Kelly Joe and Michelle returned home Saturday evening.

Sid and Eunice McFall spent Saturday visiting with their son and family, Bruce, Ann and Nesa McFall of Matarador.

Mrs. Jewell Hall has returned to Quitaque upon retirement. She has moved into the Myers house on Main Street. She was living in Oklahoma. Jewell and her daughter, Jolene and her husband Darrell visited this past weekend with Don and Louise Brummett.

The Turkey and Quitaque Methodist Churches had a fifth Sunday gathering at the Quitaque City Park Sunday evening. Around thirty five persons gathered for a picnic supper topped off with home made ice cream and cake. It was a beautiful fall evening to gather in the park for informal worship services. Daniel Jenkins of Turkey led the group in singing while he accompanied them on his guitar.

Weldon and B. J. Griffin drove to Lubbock Saturday. While there they visited with their daughter and family, Steve and Cindy Venable and children of Shallowater and Weldon's brother and wife, Don and Jean Griffin. They accompanied Cindy's children, Emily and Ben to the Omnimax. The Griffins returned home by way of Plainview for a visit with Weldon's father, Bill.

Ronald Clay, Jimmy Davidson and Weldon Griffin were in Plainview at the San Juan Methodist Church Monday evening for a meeting of the District Methodist Men.

Seriousness Of Dog Bites Sometimes Overlooked

The Texas Department of Health warns that dog bites often are more serious than many people—especially the dogs' owners—like to acknowledge. While the threat of rabies infection from an unvaccinated animal's bite is one of the most common concerns, even vaccinated pets can cause traumatic, even deadly injury. And other types of infection can result from bite wounds that go untreated.

During National Bite Prevention Week, June 9-15, the TDH Bureau of Zoonosis Control's Dr. Jane Mahlow described the need in Texas and the rest of the U.S. for greater public awareness about dog bite dangers and the recommended steps for bite prevention.

According to Mahlow, between one and two million people each year are bitten or severely mauled in the U.S. From nine to 12 of the victims are killed, while among the survivors, half are permanently scarred, a tenth need sutures for their wounds and a third lose work or school time while recovering.

Adding to the tragedy is that most victims of animal attacks are children and infants. Because they are less able to defend themselves against attack than are adults, and because they are active, curious and inexperienced with animal behavior, children between the ages of 5 and 10 are most likely to be bitten or attacked by dogs.

Infants and toddlers, also, if left alone with a pet, are at heightened risk of attack, sometimes motivated by the animal's jealousy for attention. Mahlow said, "Although most parents would be more likely to protect their children from the watchdog that lives down the street than they would from their own family pooch, statistics show that most bite injuries of children are caused by family pets in their own homes."

She explained that dogs are territorial animals, meaning that they are more defensive and assertive at home than anywhere else. At the same time, a child may lack the experience to know when the dog is not playing. "A child may misunderstand a dog's bared teeth to be a smile," Mahlow said. "Or similarly, a child might misinterpret a dog's slow tail-wagging as a friendly greeting, when that signal also can be a sign of a dog's wariness or hostility."

came home with a first prize from the Amarillo Fair for her entry of a burgundy and hunter green embroidered Double Wedding Ring

Sometimes Overlooked

She added that, because of their small height, children frequently suffer face, head and neck injuries from dog bites which can be life-threatening. Such injuries can include severed jugular veins, skull fractures, brain hemorrhage and deep puncture wounds. Most of the 18 Texas children who have died in dog attacks since 1980 suffered head and neck trauma.

Mahlow said that even when such injuries are not fatal, the victim may suffer long-term or permanent consequences, such as eye or brain damage, disfigurement, paralysis or other disabilities.

TDH offers the following tips that parents can use to help lessen the likelihood of their children becoming dog attack victims.

* Try to avoid dogs from breeds that are reputed to be unpredictable or aggressive.

* Never leave infants or toddlers along with any dog, even the family pet.

* Teach and socialize puppies to recognize people and respect human authority.

* Extra attention to the family dog when a new baby arrives can discourage the animal's jealousy.

* Spray or neuter any household pet, to reduce aggressiveness without lessening protectiveness. Dogs that are sterilized are three times less likely to bite than are unsterilized dogs.

Turkey News

THINGS SEEN AND HEARD

by Ann Coker
I read last Thursday morning in the Amarillo paper that the Raev. Orbin Crouch of Higgins was found by his wife face down and not breathing in their home. She called 911.

Their neighbor, Dale Jenkins, a member of the Higgins Volunteer Emergency Medical Service heard the call on his pager. Dale and Mrs. Crouch began to administer CPR until the ambulance arrived. Dale is a brother to Daniel Jenkins of Turkey.

When the ambulance arrived they used their new defibrillator to revive the heart attack victim.

Daniel Jenkins is a member of the Turkey Fire Department and the Turkey ambulance is also equipped with a defibrillator.

Lewis and Mozelle Eudy visited with Faye Huffine and daughter, Hilda, last Tuesday.

They live in Dripping Springs, Texas.

Visiting in the home of Bonnie Hill last week was her brother Larry Russell, Larry's daughters Tammy and Terry, and grandsons, David and Wes. They all live in Alvarado. Also visiting was Carol Weatherly of Memphis and Jan Payne of Plainview.

Cleo Green of Slaton spent last Wednesday afternoon visiting with the Lewis Eudys.

Ginger Morgan is in McCaney to visit and help care for Otho Stubbs.

Visiting in the home of Lorene Setliff was her son and family, Kenny and Rhelda and sons.

Last Saturday Don Howard was released from an Amarillo hospital and returned to his home. Mr. Howard received a pace maker while hospitalized.

Bud Richardson of Tulia was in Turkey last Sunday visiting with his sister, Lorene Setliff.

Taken by ambulance to the Plainview Hospital was Jess Mullin. He was soon released and his daughter, Margie Edwards brought him home.

I saw a humming bird in my flowers last Monday morning. The first one I've ever had. I really enjoyed watching him.

Lewis and Oleta Randall were in Amarillo Sunday and attended church services with Ronnie and Jo Ann Blythe. They also attended the 50th wedding anniversary of long-time friends, "Slim" and Odessa Bagwell.

For those wondering about Ying, here's the latest, on September 16, she boarded a plane in Lubbock enroute to San Francisco, California. She went to visit a long time friend, Mrs. Long.

While there they went sightseeing and rode a big ferry, saw the Golden Gate Bridge, the Oakland Bridge and a small community called Fishman. They also enjoyed going to the Golden Gate Park and Chinatown to shop and eat. Ying reports a wonderful time and that she enjoyed beautiful California. She came home on the 26th and her family came to visit this past week-end and will be returning in October for a class reunion.

Clarence and Ann Pierce of McLean visited with Lewis and Oleta Randall Monday.

A Nice Surprise

by Mozelle Eucy
What a pleasant surprise I had last Thursday night when I answered the phone and Norman Gibson of Lubbock called and told me how he enjoyed the Valley Tribune and that he liked me writing about things that he remembered while growing up in Turkey.

He graduated Turkey High School in 1933. He is still preaching the gospel anywhere he is needed. He visited Lewis and I a few years ago and had some work done for his parent's graves. He said he noticed Louis and Oleta Randall being active in Turkey and Oleta's dad, Oscar Cunningham taught him to read notes.

He asked about so may people, he hoped were still living. He still has his sense of humor, telling me he had to renew his drivers license, and was shocked to see next time it will be the year 2000, but promised he would see us about October 20, as he would be preaching around these parts.

Social Security News

by Patty Brandt
Resident Representative in Vernon

FARMERS, ARE YOUR WORKERS EARNING SOCIAL SECURITY COVERAGE?

Farmers who hire workers during the harvest season should be sure that the workers are earning Social Security credits for their work. This means making sure their wages are reported for Social Security purposes.

Although there are penalties for failure to report wages paid to people you hire, another incentive for making wage reports is the knowledge that the reports will mean retirement, survivors, and disability coverage to the worker and his or her family. This is important income protection for most Americans and as an employer you play a key role in making the system work.

The amount of the monthly Social Security benefit that a worker and his/her family can receive in case of retirement, death, or disability is based on the earnings that are reported to the worker's Social Security number. If their earnings are not reported correctly during the years when they are working, then the worker and family could lose money every month when it comes time to collect Social Security benefits.

What should you do if you own a farm and have employees? In general, you must: (1) keep records of the wages and make the required payroll deductions; (2) report those wages to the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) on IRS Form 943 and pay Social Security taxes; and (3) provide a pay statement for each of your employees as well as a W-2 form after the close of each year. If you don't report the wages and pay the taxes due, you may be subject to a penalty for IRS.

Remember, the farmworker is covered by Social Security only if (1) you pay the employee $150 or more in cash wages during the calendar year, or (2) if you pay the employee less than $150 in cash wages, but your total expenses for agricultural labor are $2,500 or more in a year. However, if you employ seasonal hand harvest laborers who commute to work daily from their homes and are paid on a piece-rate basis, and who did less than 13 weeks of farm work in the previous year, this work is covered only if you pay the employee at least $150 in cash for the job.

If you need more information about agricultural work and Social Security, call the toll-free number (1-800-772-1213) and ask for the pamphlet, A Guide To Social Security For Farmers, Growers, And Crew Leaders (Publication No 05-10025). This pamphlet is available in English and Spanish.

OCTOBER IS DISABILITY EMPLOYMENT AWARENESS MONTH

October is Disability Employment Awareness Month, a time for promoting opportunities for people with disabilities.

The Social Security Administration is using the occasion to promote its disability work incentives provisions, which permit disabled beneficiaries to test their ability to work without risking the loss of their Social Security or Supplemental Security Income (SSI) disability benefits or Medicare/Medicaid. As a result, employers who hire people receiving disability benefits can do so with less concern about the consequences of failure to make it in the workplace. Disability Employment Awareness Month is sponsored by the President's Committee on Employment of people with Disabilities in Washington, D.C.

Fight Flu Early and Often

Your body aches. You've got the chills. Your fever is soaring. And you're not sure you can drag yourself to the office.

Sounds like influenza. And if you've ever had it, you know you'd do anything to avoid it again.

The bad news: No flu prevention method is bulletproof. Even flu shots only have a 60 percent to 70 percent success rate in preventing infection.

So what can you do? Well, the best advice is pretty basic.

Get a flu shot. Many people have the mistaken impression that flu shots are for the elderly and infirm. In fact, the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention says that influenza vaccines can prevent illness in 70 percent to 90 percent of healthy adults younger than 65.

Flu shots generally become available in October. Check with your doctor or community clinic. Some companies offer free shots to employees.

Take care of yourself. Do the basics: Get enough sleep, eat a balanced diet, and enjoy moderate exercise. There's a lot to be said for simply making sure you're healthy. Does this guarantee you won't get the flu? No, but it may mean your immune system is stronger and better able to fight off the attack of influenza viruses.

Some people look for additional insurance whenever flu season rolls around. Just take a look at the products in shopping baskets this winter. "Typically, two-thirds of the vitamin products we sell in an entire year are sold during the winter flu months," says Robert Kay, PhD, nutritional research director at Leiner Health Products, the nation's largest manufacturer of vitamin products. "Clearly, more Americans look to vitamin products to promote good health. First, however, eat a healthy diet. Then, consider vitamins to supplement the foods you eat."

Leiner Health Products reports that the most popular "flu fighters" include:

■ Vitamin C. Ever since Linus Pauling first did research with Vitamin

C, consumers have been interested in this nutrient which occurs in many fruits and vegetables. Recent National Institutes of Health research suggests that the Recommended Daily Allowance for Vitamin C be increased to 200 milligrams a day—a 300 percent increase!

■ Antioxidant Supplements. Exposure of our bodies to certain conditions can cause the formation of free radicals that may increase cell damage. Recent studies identify new evidence on the benefits of eating diets rich in antioxidants.

■ Echinacea. One of the herbal products gaining ground today, echinacea contains phenolic compounds which stimulate the immune system. Health magazine reports that echinacea can be used at the "first sign of cold or flu to ward off full-blown illness."

Take influenza seriously. Remember that an average of 20,000 people die each year from the flu. Many of us equate flu with the common cold. It can be much more serious, leading to other conditions such as pneumonia.

If you get the flu, stay home and take the time to get well. Drink plenty of fluids, get plenty of rest, and eat nourishing foods. Some doctors recommend that you stay home until a full 24 hours after your fever subsides.

SPRITZ UP THE HOLIDAYS

Bake Delicious Homemade Spritz Cookies in Half the Time

(NAPS)—The holidays are fast approaching, which means it's time to get the whole family into the festive spirit, and baking cookies is a wonderful way to make the season come alive. Yet juggling work, family, shopping and entertaining makes finding time to bake batches of delicious holiday treats an exhausting challenge. Nestlé® Toll House® Cookie Dough can quickly make any holiday special with great-tasting goodies for the entire holiday season.

Remember those delicate mouth-watering Spritz cookies your grandmother used to make and you've spent hours trying to duplicate? Well, baking Sugar Spritz Cookies is a whole lot easier and much more fun using Nestlé Toll House Cookie Dough. Simply fill a cookie press with softened Sugar Cookie Dough, press the dough onto a baking sheet and decorate in brilliant style. The newly reformulated dough means your cookies will hold their shape, they won't spread or run.

These festive and delectable treats also offer a fun and easy way to get kids involved in the kitchen as you prepare for the festivities. Older children can actually handle the cookie press, while youngsters will love to decorate. This is a great way to spend quality time with the kids and make them feel that they are playing an integral role in making the holidays special for the entire family.

Keeping an eye on Texas

Mesquite sales climbing

Texas farmers and ranchers have tried burning, poisoning, chopping and bulldozing, but mesquite trees that grow naturally across the state have recently been harvested for profit. Sales of mesquite lumber and wood chips, used for barbecuing, have increased the potential of a scrubby tree previously considered a nuisance.

Mesquite
Grows naturally on 55 million acres in Texas.
Chips sold for barbecue. Wood used for flooring, cabinets, furniture, crafts. Beans used in syrups, jellies, bread flour and speciality food.
Texas annual sales: about $20 million.

Sharp Says Oil Prices Top Index of Leading Texas Economic Indicators

(Austin) "For the first time in 10 months, crude oil prices are the strongest sector of the Texas economy," State Comptroller John Sharp said, as he released the latest Index of Leading Texas Economic Indicators.

"Crude oil sold at $19.66 per barrel in July—up 28.2 percent compared to one year ago, and up 6.1 percent compared to the previous month," Sharp said. "Oil prices are expected to remain in the $18 to $19 range through the end of the year."

The Index of Leading Texas Economic Indicators is at 127, an increase of 2 percent compared to one year ago. Of the 10 economic indicators, three point to strong economic growth for Texas during the next four to six months, five forecast moderate growth, and only one indicator shows any sign of a slowdown.

Texas consumer confidence is up for the sixth consecutive month, and is currently 14.6 percent higher than one year ago. Across the nation, people are expressing more optimism about the economy and their family income than they have in the last six years. Texas consumers are among the most optimistic in the nation, and that translates into strong retail sales and a high demand for new homes.

The number of new home construction permits is up 17.9 percent compared to one year ago, and retail sales are up 3.3 percent.

The Texas Stock Index, which has been the strongest indicator of a healthy Texas economy for the last nine months was shaken by investor profit-taking and a stock market correction and dipped 10.5 percent in July. However, the stock value for Texas-based companies remains 5 percent higher than one year ago.
