Grief Support Group Sponsoring Box Supper

The Quitaque Grief Support Group is sponsoring an old fashioned box supper Sunday night, July 4, at 8:00 p.m. at The First United Methodist Church. Ladies are encouraged to prepare a box which will be auctioned to the highest bidder. Buyers then may eat the meal with the person preparing the box.

In these modern times some of the men may wish to prepare a box for auction and organizers say that is fine. A lot of good fun is planned. Proceeds will go to fund the work of the Quitaque Grief Support Group. Questions about the supper or the group may be directed to any of the group coordinators: Steve Ulrey, Ann Chadwick, Mildred Hulsey, Rhonda Cochran and Jacquelyn Ham.

THEN & NOW!

by Eunice McFall

This summer there will be a couple of school homecomings held in our area. One will be at Flomot on July 3rd and July 4th. Later in the year on August 7, 1993 Quitaque will be holding homecoming for their ex-students. These class reunions only occur every three years.

Have you ever been back to the school that you attended in high school? Do you realize the fun you have been denying yourself if you have not taken the time to go to a school homecoming? You know, of course, that friends come at all stages in life. You need different types of personalities for friends at different times in your life. It is a wonderful feeling to return to your hometown and get to catch up on the lives of those old friends whom you have lost contact with over the years. They, too, will enjoy finding out all about your life since last they saw you. Not only that, but the reminiscing of by-gone days will bring a special glow to your face as you visit with those who knew you when, they will fill your day with laughter about old incidents that were so very important to you then and really don't matter today, except to give you a good laugh with old and dear friends.

What is the reason you can not attend that special get together of school chums? Think about it a moment! Is the reason for not going as important as the reasons for going and enjoying the day with your former schoolmates? There will be a hole in the day, a part of the day flat and dull because you did not show up to take your place with the rest of the class.

The longer you wait to go back, the more you will miss by not going. Each year there are a few less of your class to be able to attend the meeting. Each year there are a few more too far away to come. Each year there are a few who will be sick and not able to attend. Each year, you run the risk of not being able to ever again see that special person in your life from your school days as each year more and more of the adult population are dying from accidents, illnesses, etc.

Don't let this be the time for your school homecoming that you regret not making! Put on your glad rags and go have a good visit with those old buddies of yours on July 3, July 4 and August 7!

Caprock Canyon State Park Trailway Now Open Daily

The Caprock Canyons State Park Trailway officially opened June 5 with a ceremony dedicating a 22-mile segment. The portion of the trail from Quitaque to South Plains is open for use on a daily basis. Development work is still going on. A priority is bridges to be decked and banisters to be installed.

A rock slide has to be cleared from the trail above the tunnel and all of the bridges above the tunnel still require modification. Caprock Canyons personnel are vigorously working on this, along with making comfort facilities available at strategic locations along the way. Parking, water, restrooms and telephone service will be available at several locations along the trail. At the present, trail users should plan on carrying their water with them.

The Trailway is divided into segments which can be safely hiked or bicycled in a day. Camp sites are being offered by Rex and Brenda Yeary and by Joe and Virginia Taylor. The trail is open to horsebacking but equestrian use should be confined to safe areas.

Baptist Youth Sponsor Car Wash

The older youth of the First Baptist of Turkey are sponsoring a car wash on Friday, June 25, 1993.

Rain Welcomed In Quitaque

"Honor boxes" were installed on the trail this week. Admission is the same as that for Caprock Canyons State Park. One fee admits a visitor to both the main park and the trailway. Conservation Passports and senior citizen passes still apply.

Concessions on the park and trailway are available for an additional fee. Motorized tours of the trail are conducted each Saturday and Sunday. Questions about tours should be directed to the Circle Dot Ranch at 806-983-3639. Question on use of the trail, etc. should be directed to Caprock Canyons State Park at 806-455-1492.

Approximately 100 people turned out Saturday, June 19 for the Caprock Canyons Trail "appreciation day" in Quitaque. Complimentary tours of the trail began at 10:00 a.m. and continued all day. Several guests from out of town joined local people in the rides. They enjoyed Caprock hospitality and the fun of realizing they were experiencing "something special."

Transportation was provided by the Circle Dot, Caprock Canyons State Park, Jon and Jimmy Davidson and Joe Edd Smith. Those who wanted the open air ride were able to enjoy it and those who preferred the comfort of a "Suburban" or "Ram Charger" had that option.

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor:

I saw in the Quitaque paper that they have made the old railroad into a park trail. This brings back a lot of memories. I am the youngest daughter of James (Doc.) and Ethel Merrell. We lived on Grandma Merrill's place from the time I was two years old until I was 12 when Grandma died and the house we lived in went to Uncle Alford and the home place went to Uncle Warren.

When the railroad came through I was small but I remember it well. People came from miles around to see the tunnel in the making. Once my Daddy took my sister Ann and me all the way to the back of the tunnel and I put my hand on the back where the work had stopped and when we got back to the other end I bragged about putting my hand on the back of the tunnel.

My Daddy used to tell us tails his Daddy told him and what he had heard the old timers say about Quitaque and where it got its name. He said when the Spanish, coming out of Old Mexico, got to the vicinity of Quitaque they changed their trade goods from their carts to pack mules to get up the caprock. That is why it is called the end of the trail, or Quitaque.

If anyone back there remembers me and happens to be coming through Montrose Colorado give me a call. I live out of town but I would like to meet you for a cup of coffee.

My phone no. is 249-9731.

ASCS Offers Producers Options

by Shawn Wade
 Producers who've experienced a natural disaster on their 1993 cotton and feed grain acres have several options for offsetting the effects of such an occurrence through the USDA Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) according to Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers (PCG).

Producers of cotton and feed grains can review the different alternatives at their county ASCS office. They can then determine what can be done to maintain crop acreage bases for USDA commodity programs and recover lost income due to a natural disaster.

In general producers have two options. The first is to request prevented planting credit from the county ASCS office, generally within 15 days after the established final planting date for the crop. The second is to file a "failed acreage" report with the county ASCS office within 15 days of the occurrence of the disaster and before physical evidence of the crop is destroyed.

The prevented planting and failed acreage options allow producers to protect their crop acreage bases and offers various ways for a producer to recover lost income from the primary crop.

On fields that have been approved for credit as either prevented planting or as failed acreage producers may devote this acreage to any other crop. Such acreage, commonly known as a "ghost" crop will not be recognized for any commodity program purpose.

Producers who received "failed acreage" credit will be eligible for deficiency payments on those acres.

Producers who received a prevented planting credit, however, will NOT be eligible for deficiency payments on that acreage.

Acreage approved for prevented planting credit will be allowed to be withdrawn from a producers 1993 Acreage Reduction Program (ARP) contract without penalty.

In some cases producers of feed grains and cotton also have the opportunity to chose alternate ways of designating and replanting disaster affected cropland through "0/92" and "50/92" provisions which allow underplanting of the program crop while earning deficiency payments. The 0/92 (wheat and feed grains only) and 50/92 (cotton and rice only) options also allow the planting of certain non-program crops on these acres.

Cotton producers enrolled in the 1993 ARP can report in 50/92 using the prevented planting provision.

For more information about prevented planting and "failed acreage" options producers need to contact the county ASCS office.

That bee stings kill four times as many people in the U.S. as do rattlesnakes.

Stings by bees, wasps and other flying insects are merely painful for most people, but they can kill four out of every 100. Physicians at The University of Texas Southwestern Medical School at Dallas warn that children and the elderly are especially allergic to such stings.

Flomot Homecoming July 3-4

A great big "Thanks" to O. R. Stark, who called me about the tours, June 19, 1993; to Steve Ulrey for placing me in an honored position; to Jimmy Davidson who was the guide and narrator on the van in which I rode; to all Chamber of Commerce members, and all members of the van in which I rode for their "input" of information; to all of Quitaque for their work; and special accolades to my former student, long-time neighbor and friend, Virginia, and a new acquaintance, her husband, Joe Taylor.

The tour was a memorable event for me.

Again, my thanks, Syble Hewitt

Lavender - Barclay Vows Said June 12 At Flomot

Wedding vows were exchanged by Sherryl Lavender and Lance Barclay, Saturday, June 12, at 2:00 p.m. on the backyard lawn of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Franks of Flomot. The Rev. Steve Ulrey of Quitaque officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Johnnye Lavender and the late Alton Lavender of Lubock. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Barclay of Flomot.

An archway entwined with honeysuckle, emerald greenery, silk roses and bows was the background for the exchange of vows.

Escorted by Jerry Barclay, the bride wore a tea-length silk floral dress with designed petal lace neckline and highrise empire waist of silk lace. She wore a Juliet lace cap adorned with flowers and pearls, and carried a bouquet of roses intermingled with pearls and cascading satin ribbon on a Bible.

Miss Jennifer VanLiew of Lubbock was Maid of Honor. She wore a tea length dress of pink cotton voile. Miss Cara Franks was bridesmaid, and wore a floor length dress of purple taffeta. They carried miniature bouquets of silk flowers.

Cary and Cory Franks served as groom's attendants. Ushers were Cody Barclay and Matt Washington, and Ty Barclay was ringbearer.

Recorded wedding music included the bridal chorus for processional and "I Cross My Heart" by George Strait.

"Quick Bites" Can Be Nutritious

Taking the children out for a "quick bite" does not have to mean forsaking good nutrition.

Although fast-food outlets are notorious for fat, salt and empty calories, parents can steer children to more nutritious offerings, said Dr. Corinne Montandon of the USDA's Children's Nutrition Research Center at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston.

Instead of a cheeseburger, try a grilled-chicken sandwich or broiled lean-meat hamburger. Add lettuce and tomato, but hold the bacon, mayonnaise and special sauce.

If the clan opts for pizza, Montandon recommends a thin-crust version topped with ground beef or mushrooms, green peppers or other vegetables rather than sausage or pepperoni.

Caprock Public Library News

The Summer Reading Program at Caprock Public Library will begin on July 1st with registration the last week of June. This year the children will read at home but will keep a record of pages read. GOD BLESSED US WITH THE REFRESHING SHADES OF SUMMER

In June the weather testifies
A warming sun is on the rise,
When brighter days and cloudless skies
Reveal the earth whereon there lies
The blue of lakes in every size,
With deepest green to cool our eyes;
While overhead each bird that flies
Will fill the air with joyful cries.
We say our seasonal goodbyes
To school and chores that otherwise
Would seldom let us utilize
The great outdoors in every guise.
Your House of Worship will advise
That each of us identifies
This love of God, which now supplies
The carefree time of Summer.

Things Seen and Heard

While visiting with Billie Pierce the other day, she shared with me about a recent visitor in her home. She said, Oleta Stubbs, an ex-neighbor of Billie's spent the day with her a week ago last Tuesday. Mrs. Stubbs now lives in Lubbock. Billie said the two really enjoyed the day.

Following Gladney Stubb's death, Rick Fuston bought their place. Ricky has farmed the land for several years. Living at the Stubbs house is Nathan Shannon, and employee of Travis Kendall.

Mrs. Pierce also reported that her two grandsons, Howard and Tommy Pierce, left for the Marines on May 30. They are both in California. They are the sons of the Robert Pierces of Vernon.

Beth Mills and her parents, Jess and Beatrice Mullin, drove to Grandbury recently to visit in the home of the Mullin's son, Conrad and his family.

On their return to Turkey, they stopped in Rising Star and visited with Mary Ann Browning. E. J. Browning was working in the field and they were unable to visit with him.

Jackie Jenkins attended the funeral of Patrolman Booth last week in Memphis. Booth was killed near Stratford last week when he stopped an automobile. He was a native of Memphis.

Stephanie Setliff, daughter of the Alton Setliffs of El Paso, has been visiting with her grandparents, the Arville Setliffs. Her other grandmother from Stratford came after Stephanie last Monday and they returned to Stratford for Stephanie's visit with them.

Mrs. Willie Walker had cataract surgery the early part of June in Plainview. She recently returned for a check-up. She received a good report and is doing quite well.

Rita and Tracy Guest traveled to Midland last week-end to visit with Olen and Margaret Lane.

Tracy stayed with the Olen Lanes to attend summer school in Midland. Tracy will be there for approximately five weeks.

Rusty and Allen Matthews left last Thursday for Altus, Oklahoma to visit Rusty's son, Rodney and Debbie Hammonds.

Leaving Rusty in Altus, Allen drove on to Lindale, Texas to visit Jim Greer, Faye Williams and attended a cousins family reunion on Saturday.

Allen returned to Altus on Monday and the Matthews returned home.

Allen and Silvia Boeshart are remodeling The Peanut Shop. It will have a completely different look. They hope to complete the job soon and will be open for business on a grander scale. They hope to add some tables so they can serve people.

Also they have used the vacant lot across the street to plant a beautiful garden. Allen said so many people have donated seeds and plants for their garden. They were most appreciative.

Brenda Coker and I stopped in there the other day to order some of Silvia's delicious cinnamon rolls and they were sharing with us what they hope to do in the future.

We returned Sunday evening from a most enjoyable trip to the Hill Country. We left last Wednesday when Brenda left and went home with her. She lives near Kerrville. After spending Wednesday night with her we drove on to San Antonio.

We arrived in San Antonio at the home of our daughter, Linda and Mark Hamilton and sons Zach and Josh. We arrived in time for Zach's fifth birthday party. Zach had a swimming party with eight other little friends. Brenda also came that afternoon to wish Zach a Happy Birthday.

Saturday our son and wife, Kim and Lisa Coker of Brenham drove to San Antonio and spent the day. It is always a fun trip when you get to spend it with your children and their families.

Louis and Oleta Randell were in Canton, Texas Wednesday through Saturday attending the sixth annual "Legends of Western Swing Reunion." There were 15 different bands there and the programs ran from 12 o'clock noon until midnight with an hour off for dinner (about 10 or 11 hours of music each day.) "Asleep At The Wheel" was there and they are really good but these other bands were equally as good!

Gladys Wilson Celebrates 82nd

Decedents of Johnny Reagan and Dicie Elizabeth Lusk enjoyed a family reunion in Port Aransas, Texas on June 3 through June 6.

Gladys Wilson of Turkey and daughters, June Conway of Muleshoe, and Sandy Fuston of Turkey met in Lubbock June 3 and flew to Corpus Christi. A cousin met them at the airport and carried them to Sinton. Gwen Poole and Phillip Parker had prepared a char-broiled hamburger cookout for the 23 that arrived in time for dinner. Birthday cake was the dessert after singing happy birthday.

Thursday night they arrived at the island retreat condo via a ferry. After getting settled in the motel rooms, they walked down to the beach for a midnight stroll.

Friday morning all assembled in Leonard and Vaudene Lusk, Jo Beth and Dub's apartment in the condo. Raymond Lusk and family arrived late Thursday night making a total of 28 present. All enjoyed a wonderful visit, reminiscing, taking pictures, and looking at old family pictures of the early 1900's.

Friday afternoon most of the family went to the beach. Several rented tubes and body boards to ride the waves.

Saturday morning they went to Sinton to "Gwen's Antiques". Gwen and Phillip Parker have one of the largest antique stores in the state of David Randell of Dallas is here visiting his parents, Louis and Oleta Randell.

Louis and Oleta Randell were in Fort Worth Tuesday night and attended another baseball game that their six year old grandson, Jacob was playing in. In the 9th inning the coach said "Team, we have got to have five RBIs in this inning to beat this team."

One boy made a homerun and then the bases were loaded when Jacob got up to bat. He knocked a grand slam homer and his team won the game! This was a play off game to see who would play the winners of the first half season.

Two night later Jacob's team played the other winners for the city title, but lost that game. Oleta said, "We may never see Jacob get another grand slam homer but Steve and Phyllis captured it on video so we can see it again that way."

Texas. From there they traveled to Corpus along the coast, past the "Lexington" air craft carrier for tourists, saw points of interest, beautiful beach homes, and ate at a favorite sea food restaurant. After shopping for souvenirs on Padre Island they returned to the condo. More visiting, singing and sharing the wonderful experience of being part of this Lusk family. Later they ate dinner on the pier at a restaurant where they could watch the chartered boats coming in.

Monday morning Gwen, Arlie Parker and daughter, Scarlett took them to Corpus Christi to fly back to Lubbock.

Those present to enjoy the reunion were Arlene (Lusk) Clark and son, Tony and Calli Poole and daughters, Krystal and Felicity of Amarillo; Gladys, (Lusk) Wilson and Sandy Fuston of Turkey; June Conway of Muleshoe; Leonard and Vaudene Lusk, Dub and Jo Beth Smith, Larry and Joni House and children, Jonathan and Laribeth of Lubbock. (Sue and Don Guest couldn't come because they were moving into their new home.)

Others who enjoyed the reunion were Gary Lusk and daughter, Jennifer from Houston; Raymond and Martha Sue Lusk and children Keri Dee, Kay Lynn and Thad of Wellman. (Jayson was in Jamaica on his senior trip.) Gwen and Philip Parker, their son, Damon and daughter and son-in-law, Scarlett and Kelby Gorman of Sinton also enjoyed this special party time for Gladys.

FAITH CAN SAVE A MARRIAGE WITH A LESSON IN MANNERS

Divorce is a terrible tragedy, and it often stems from such a simple thing as poor etiquette; a result of the couple expecting too much of each other and too little of themselves. The adjustments of marriage are difficult at best and some disillusionment is inevitable, but the one thing that should NOT change is the couple's basic manners toward each other. They should try to maintain the same level of courtesy that they would extend to a guest visiting in their home. When a difference of opinion occurs, as it eventually will, they should avoid the use of harsh words and seek areas of compromise instead. This is worth every effort; and the House of Worship, the choice of which may itself be a compromise, is the place to learn this. Indeed, the lessons of love and good manners can help to save a marriage that may have begun right there at the altar.

"For this cause shall a man. . . be joined unto his wife."
