City Manager In Plains, Texas Brunson Family To Leave Many Vacancies In City, County, School, Area Positions

The monthly meeting of the Quitaque City Council Tuesday, August 6 revealed what would be confirmed the next day. City Administrator, David Brunson, has resigned his position with the city and his position as a Justice of the Peace in Briscoe County. These resignations will become effective August 31. David has received appointment as City Manager in Plains, Texas. The family will move as soon as possible in order to facilitate the beginning of school for the boys. This move affords David an opportunity for substantial advancement.

During his tenure with the city David has led Quitaque through numerous improvement programs. City utilities and services have been upgraded. Literally thousands of dollars have been saved through prudent municipal management. Solid relationships have been built with area city governments and government associations. David is well respected around the state for his expertise and his cooperative nature. He has made these qualities synonymous with the name Quitaque.

David, Dianne, Derek, and Dustin will be missed in Quitaque in many ways. They are a family who are active in public service, church, school activities, community projects, and with their extended family. Their departure leaves openings on: City staff, school staff, ambulance service, church staff, county positions, civic clubs, Panhandle boards, Chamber of Commerce, and in the hearts of a great many people.

Many voices have raised to express grief at their moving but hearty well wishes for their future.

Gasoline Has Community Marker Dedicated August 4

Approximately 75 braved the heat and attended the dedication of the Gasoline Cotton Gin Historical Marker at the site of the old gin on Sunday, August 4, 1991.

Wayne Whittington gave the invocation to open the ceremony. Johnnie Morrison, chairman of the Briscoe County Historical Commission welcomed everyone and recognized the special guests, Leon McCracken and Maudine McCracken Richmond, son and daughter of the late L. A. McCracken, one of the three men instrumental in the building of the cotton gin. Also grandchildren, Stewart McCracken, Tulia; Mary Jo McCracken Polk, Austin; Lonnie Dee Richmond, Amarillo and Glenda McCracken Francis, Silverton.

Some may not be aware as you drive around the country and see the markers along the highways, on buildings and homes, the preparation that goes into acquiring one. The state doesn't issue these markers without proof of the subject's existence.

After weeks of research and interviews Glenda Francis submitted a history of the gin to the State Historical Marker Board. After weeks of waiting the Commission was notified the State board had passed on the history and soon after the marker was issued.

Glenda gave the history she had compiled. Barry Francis of Silverton and great grandson of L. A. McCracken unveiled the marker and read the inscription.

Bennie Young of Tucson, Arizona had written a tribute and set it to music about his great grandfather titled "Down Off The Cap." It was played and fittingly ended the program.

As you drive out toward Gasoline stop and read the inscription on the Gasoline Gin Marker.

LORI BRANNON

Lori Brannon Crowned Miss Briscoe County

On Saturday night, August 10, 1991, at the Briscoe County Rodeo, Miss Lori Michelle Brannon of Silverton was crowned Miss Briscoe County.

Lori is the brown-haired, blue-eyed daughter of Wade and Mary Jo Brannon. Cheerleading, track, basketball, tennis, 4-H and being an honor student are some of Lori's accomplishments. She states that her mom has been the most influential person in her life. She considers people who stab you in the back as her pet peeve.

Mr. Aaron Younger was emcee for the contest which was held on the courthouse square, under the shelter. Mr. Younger pointed out that Miss Briscoe County will represent Briscoe County all year at numerous functions.

To become Miss Briscoe County, the girls had to model dresses and western attire, and answer questions by the judges. This counted as 50% of the contest, and sales of rodeo and saddle tickets counted for the other 50%.

Judges for the affair were Ra Donna Willingham, Amarillo; Leslie Schaffer, Clarendon; and Danna Bell, Plainview.

Other contestants were Carrie Baird, Silverton; Krista Tucker, Silverton; Katy Browning, Quitaque; Mandy Adams, Quitaque; Venessa Martin, Silverton; and Krissie Pigg, Quitaque.

Prizes were donated by First State Bank; First National Bank; Clarendon Jr. College; R Photography; jeans and more things, inc, located in Pepper Tree Square in Amarillo; Tiffins Dept. Store, Farley's Flowers and Gifts; Roye's; Merrell Food; Hutsell Jewelry; Silverton Auto; Amy's; Jacks; Tulia Wheat Growers; Karol's Kountry Korner; Mary Johns'; BCAA and the Rodeo Committee.

School Days Are Here Again

It's that time of year again. It has come a bit earlier but schooltime is here. Families rush to get last minute vacations. Kids shop for school clothes. Moms help get the school supplies. Kids give a sorrowful sigh because summer vacation is over. Parents give a sigh of relief because its time for school. No matter what emotion is felt for the coming event, school is starting again.

Valley school will be beginning classes Monday morning, August 19, 1991. If you thought you missed preregistration for this year, you didn't. The kids will register on the first day of school. So kids, pull out all the school supplies, and get to bed early, for school starts Monday!

Voter Turnout Light In Area

Voter turnout in Turkey and Quitaque for the August 10 election was very slight, with only 41 voting in Turkey, and Quitaque even fewer with 25.

On the first amendment, Turkey voted 11 for, 29 against; Quitaque gave a slight margin to pass the amendment with 12 for, 11 against.

Number two amendment carried at Quitaque with 17 for, 6 against. Turkey also voted for the amendment with 21 for, 19 against.

In the school proposals, 54 were against number 1, while 12 voted for it. Proposal number two received 38 votes for, with only 21 against.

Proposal number three carried 46 to 21.

THEN & NOW!

Guest Editorial by Steve Ulrey
Pastor of Quitaque-Turkey UMC

I am writing to say publicly what many have said privately and in small groups. Alcohol consumption is a major problem among Valley youth and others in our community. Our highways, streets, and sometimes our lawns are strewn with cans and bottles. Every so often an accident happens that would not have occurred if those involved had not "had just a few beers." Every summer, and every weekend, people are hurt emotionally and physically by what happens in a "party" atmosphere when folks get together for the expressed purpose of abandoning inhibitions. Parties now include people of junior high age and younger. We simply must respond to the crisis as a whole community, united in the effort. This is not a Turkey problem, nor a Quitaque problem...it is something that everyone needs to work together on.

It is ironic that I am writing these thoughts on the same day that a film crew and the band of a major entertainer were in the area to shoot footage for a beer commercial. No one locally had anything to do with their selection of this site. This writer assumes that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department simply referred them to the state's showcase park. This activity just accents the point that it is time for the community to take a stand! Let it be known that we are not interested in doing anything to promote the use of a substance so damaging to life. Let it be known that we will do everything possible to provide a place for people to live and work that is free from evil influences.

I would propose the following steps be taken: 1. Offer alternative forms of entertainment for youth. 2. Hold a public forum as soon as possible so community leaders, school officials, law enforcement personnel, and interested persons can exchange information. 3. Begin an extensive public education campaign. 4. Encourage and support law enforcement personnel in a serious effort to stop adults from providing kids with alcohol. 5. Put on entirely new social events at the school this year so old patterns can be broken. 6. Teachers, coaches, parents, all adults unite in an effort to model their life free from alcohol addiction. 7. Use programs such as those available through Lions Clubs to help young people be better informed. 8. Assist and encourage the forming of groups to use the time tested 12-step programs to recovery from alcohol and its effects. (The United Methodist Churches of Turkey and Quitaque have meeting space available for groups and anonymity will be respected.)

I am sure other people have different ideas. There are those who are willing to work with persons who are interested in tackling this tough, touchy issue. It is imperative that we make a concentrated effort to build the proper community character into the place where we live.

Local Resident Participates In TV Commercial

By Patti Mullin
 Local news in Quitaque and Turkey travels at tremendous speeds. People lined the sidewalks of both towns hoping for a chance to see the infamous Clint Black Bus!!!
 A filming crew stopped in downtown Quitaque, to work on the production of a commercial. Part of this filming included Black's bus racing through downtown Quitaque. Local residents turned out, leaving their homes and work places in hopes to get a glance of the country music singer, Clint Black. It was apparent that many were fans, and others were just interested onlookers. Many got their cameras, hoping to get "the picture of a lifetime."
 One lucky resident was C. L. Hawkins, who was asked to don a cowboy hat and boots and wave and give a good cowboy yell at the bus as it passed. Hawkins was given a release to sign and earned a little money for his efforts.

C. L. HAWKINS

The crew then left and passed through Turkey after a stop at the Bob Wills Monument. The Turkey streets reflected the same enthusiastic interest as seen in Quitaque.
 Then it happened: Comptroller John Sharp and his army of auditors completed their fine-tooth-comb examination of the state government, and released two volumes of recommended cuts, streamlining measures, efficiency moves and revenue enhancements. Few Texans would be left untouched.
 Sharp suggested combining regulatory and licensing agencies to save administrative costs. He proposed breaking up the health-and-human-services agencies and reorganizing them based on the types of services provided to avoid duplication. He recommended raising college tuition. Sharp pointed out numerous services that could be provided by the private sector rather than the state.
 Then the mail and phone calls that were demanding "cut, cut, cut" turned to "don't cut me, don't cut me." One morning I got several letters saying, "Don't cut any social services programs, cut the highway department." That afternoon letters came heralding the merits and efficiencies of the highway department. Cosmetologists, pharmacists and accountants denounced Sharp's plan to merge the independent licensing boards of these and other professions into the Department of Licensing and Regulation, and licensed vocational nurses spoke out against being grouped with registered nurses for regulatory purposes. Meanwhile, constituents close to various social programs informed me why some of these services should not be cut but instead expanded; university officials echoed similar assertions for their schools.
 The message I got from all of this was, "You can cut all you want, just don't involve me or anything I'm involved with." Of course, that doesn't leave many places to cut, because every state program, no matter how seemingly useless to the majority, touches someone. And few of those complaining offered good suggestions on how to address the budget mess, other than to leave them out of any solution. They should know, however, that when the Legislature is under pressure to leave state agencies alone and even increase spending for such programs as prisons and public education, it forces lawmakers to consider tax and fee increases.

 These conflicting messages make budget writing a very difficult job. As this session winds up, we legislators are going to make a lot of people mad. We're going to cut some and tax some. But remember, we're just trying to do what we think our many constituents want.

Senator Teel Bivins Reports

SENATOR TEEL BIVINS

AUSTIN - This special session is coming down to the wire, and the Legislature is being forced to do what it dislikes: make tough decisions. Specifically, lawmakers are trying to decide where to cut and which taxes and fees to raise.
 I used to think that most everyone in my district wanted me to cut the state government to pieces, stopping only short of shutting down the entire operation. And I'm sure there are a few who would close everything and sell the Capitol.
 During the regular session, my office was flooded with letters and phone calls from constituents instructing me to cut, cut, cut. "There's too much waste," they'd say. "Cut it out." "There's too much mismanagement. Cut it out." "Why does the state need so many airplanes? Cut them." "Legislators make too much money. Cut their $600 a month salary." "There are too many DPS troopers on the road, especially on I-27. Cut them."
 That's a pretty clear message, one I thought my constituents and I were

Letter To Editor

Dear Valley Tribune:
 Another year has come and gone and my subscription is due. I don't want to miss a copy of my mom and dad's home town paper. My parents (Violet Smith Reed) and (Wilson Reed) have both passed away but I still want to read about the relatives I still have there in the area. I have fond memories of going to my grandparents houses when I was young. They were the William A. Smiths and James A. Reeds. A special hello to my cousin Pat Beck in Turkey. I'm not a good letter writer.
 Thank you!

Look Both Ways Before Crossing The Line.

Entering a new school year can bring new challenges and friendships as well as new opportunities to get involved with alcohol and drugs.
 And because you'll want to fit in, these activities may seem like a good idea at the time. But if you take a look down the road, you'll see that substance abuse can also lead to depression, scholastic failing, psychological or physical dependence, health and emotional problems and even arrest. And there's nothing cool about all that.
 If one of these "opportunities" should come your way, take the time to stop...look...and listen...to your own good judgement!

Flomot News

Overheard: The lady of the house invited her guests inside. Worn linoleum covered the floors. The furniture was dingy and threadbare. As the visitors sat down with glasses of iced tea made with cistern water, the hostess began to ask about their children, their family, their lives. As they talked, the drab surroundings melted away.

The children and families of the late Ford and Irene Johnson held a family reunion Sunday, July 3 at the Sam Houston Park in Amarillo.

Circle Dot Chuckwagon Tours Latest Caprock Adventure

The Taylor family's Circle Dot Caprock Adventure was launched in grand style Friday night, August 9. Joe and Virginia Taylor played host to over 180 people on the opening of their newest endeavor. Friends, neighbors and guests were treated to a sampling of the ranch tours now being offered on the Circle Dot.

Hay wagons hauling sixty persons each were accompanied by a caravan of private vehicles from the ranch headquarters to the arbor on the canyon rim. There a complementary chuckwagon supper was served by range cooks, Terry and Lisa Roberts, with the assistance of willing volunteers. Mark and Bill Brown provided campfire music during the meal.

The ranch itself provided the greatest entertainment. Even Virginia's fascinating story of the ranch's history was upstaged by mule deer foraging on a canyon slope. The Circle Dot is rich in heritage. Indian fire pits and artifacts are at hand. The infamous comanchero story is here. One of the earliest pioneer wagon roads up the Caprock cuts through the ranch. The scenic railroad drops off the plains on the circle Dot for its breathtaking descent to the valley. Not to mention the fact that this pioneer ranch is still working is accented by well-fed cattle grazing on lush grass. What an evening.

The Taylors offer visitors the circle Dot brand of excitement through a Comanchero Breakfast Tour and a Chuckwagon Supper Tour. They do request a minimum of twenty or more persons in a group. Reservations can be made through the Quitaque Chamber of Commerce at 455-1456 during business hours or by calling Joe or Virginia Taylor at 983-3639. Their mailing address is Circle Dot Ranch, HCR 3, Box 43, Lockney, Texas 79241. Bus tours and group packages are available through Caprock Tours.

Hints

For faster ironing, place a strip of heavy duty aluminum foil over the entire length of the ironing board and cover with a pad. As you iron, heat will reflect through to the underside of the garment.

To water houseplants while on vacation, place them in the bathtub on old thickly folded bath towels, in a few inches of water. They will absorb moisture as needed.

Tips on Fleas

Fleas thrive during the hot summer—two fleas can multiply to 1,200 in just over one month and can survive months without feeding, say the experts at Orkin Pest Control. Orkin's recommendations to combat fleas in and around the home include:

- Replace or clean all pet bedding.
 - Vacuum carpets often, especially pet resting areas, seal and throw away the vacuum cleaner bag when complete.
 - Make sure your home is properly inspected and treated to fight fleas. Pest control companies such as Orkin now utilize state-of-the-art insect growth regulator to combat fleas, preventing them from reproducing and giving season-long protection.
 - Groom your pets and, if necessary, have them treated with a professional flea control product at the same time your home is being treated.
 - Trim lawns and weeds to create a drier, more hostile environment for flea larvae.
- For more information or a no cost home inspection send a stamped self-addressed envelope to Amazing Flea Facts, Orkin Pest Control, PO Box 647, Atlanta, GA 30301.

When All Else Fails, Read The Instructions

The instruction manuals most of us have for the products we own are probably lying untouched in a lonely drawer, collecting dust...even though the savings in money and headaches the instructions offer are tremendous.

In addition, use and care guides offer such information as: installing and setting up the product; operating the product; safety tips; cleaning and maintenance; saving energy; warranty information; and a wealth of other information you may not expect, such as recipes and food storage tips.

So...after you've gnashed your teeth, kicked the appliance and solicited advice from your mechanically inclined cousin, try the obvious solution: first, check the use and care guide for direction.

Another helpful idea: Find a central location for all your use and care guides, warranties and installation instructions. That way, when the next product emergency comes along, you and every member of your family will be prepared for it.

Gasoline Reunion Visitors

Sunday, August 4, 1991 out of town and local former Gasoliners began gathering at the Quitaque Community Center for a day of visiting and reminiscing the good old times when there was a Gasoline. One hundred plus had registered by noon.

Barney Martin of Sherman offered thanks for the delicious meal catered by Roye Pigg.

Jason West of Snyder and grandson of the Clyde Monks led the group in a sing-a-long of favorite oldies such as "School Days," "Bicycle Built For Two," "Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet" and many more.

President Clyde Monk, Lubbock presided over the business meeting. Officers were elected for the 1994 homecoming. Morris Wilson was elected president, Florene Cobb, Treasurer and Johnnie Morrison, Secretary. Sixteen names were read and a moment of silence for those who had passed away since the last homecoming.

Plaques with a picture of the Gasoline Cotton Gin Historical Marker were given to Mrs. H. B. Finney of Plainview as the eldest woman present, Clyde Monk, the eldest man and Jueata Blivens, San Francisco, California for traveling the farthest.

Visitors began leaving about 3 p.m. with everyone saying what a good time they had.

Those registering from out of town were: Clark and Lura McDonald, Clyde and Alma Monk, Sam and Hazel Marshall, Mae Von McDonald, Lubbock; Marion and Reba Wilson, Lee McDonald, Pampa; Opal Broxson, Sunray; Gibbs and Ruby Rucker, Clovis, N.M.; Jaunita Rogers, Oklahoma City, OK; Mary Edith Willis, Washington, OK; Doug and Jean Baxter, Irma McDonald, San Diego, CA; Peggy Bullington, Albuquerque, NM; Ila Barker, Leonard and Alma

Light Choices

New Choices New Syndicate

The following tips on making light menu choices are from "New Choices" magazine, edited by Kate Greer.

For health's sake, most of us are trying to cut down on the amount of fat we eat. It's easier than you might think to pare the fat from your favorite foods and use less butter, cream, and meat when you cook. Many high carbohydrate foods, for instance, have acquired the reputation for being rich, greasy or calorie-laden because of the way they are prepared. Here are alternative ways to enjoy many of these favorite foods:

• Instead of topping pancakes with butter, use fresh or frozen fruit, low-fat yogurt and chopped nuts.

• Instead of spaghetti and meatballs, make a light spaghetti sauce

Watch Out For Kids in Streets

Vacations are ending and children are preparing to return to school. Major V.J. Cawthon, Regional Commander of the Texas Department of Public Safety says that this will create not only a change for our children, but the motoring public must also make some changes as well.

During the summer months, drivers often get out of the habit of being alert for both school zones and school buses. Major Cawthon says that now is the time to get familiar with posted school times in your area. It's important to remember that school zones can be posted by blinking yellow lights or in some areas just a sign posting the school zone times. Either way it's your duty to be alert for our young children, some of whom are attending school for the first time and others who have moved to the neighborhood during the summer months and who may be unfamiliar with the area.

State law requires drivers on the same roadway as a school bus that has stopped to load or unload school children, to stop and remain stopped until one of three things happen. The bus driver signals you to go on by, they turn off the flashing red lights, or the bus itself resumes motion. This law applies whether you are meeting the bus or whether you are going in the same direction; with the only exception being drivers on the other side of a divided

On The Q. T.

Johnnie and Murry Morrison received word Friday that their grandson, Hunter, son of Neva Dale and Mike Spier of Clarendon had been badly burned by gasoline. They spent the weekend in Lubbock with the family at Hunter's bedside. They returned home Sunday. Monday, they again traveled to Lubbock for Murry's sister, Dale Setliff's surgery at Methodist. Hunter returned to his home in Clarendon Tuesday. He will be taking therapy for the next few weeks at Amarillo and Lubbock.

Friends and neighbors gathered at the new home of Zeld and Wilburn Leeper on Anderson Street Saturday night, August 10, 1991 to welcome them to Quitaque and help them celebrate the purchase of their new home. A lovely time was reported by all.

highway (roadways separated by a physical median). These drivers are not required to stop when meeting the bus.

Motorist who must back their vehicles into the path of pedestrians or bicyclist should use extreme caution, noting that the driver's line of sight is very limited in a backing maneuver. It's a good idea to physically inspect what's behind your vehicle prior to backing and while backing. Do it slowly and sound your horn, if necessary to ensure safety.

Mabel Wilson is reported some improved after her fall and having hip surgery at Lubbock. Her husband, Morris, is at her bedside.

Elgin and Cathryn Conner and family and Amy Payne spent the week-end in Lampasas where Elgin held a revival meeting. They returned home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Hedrick, Canyon visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Carter Saturday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Mel Carter, Melania and Melissa, Lubbock spent Saturday night and Sunday in the Carter home. Melissa remained for a few days visit with her grandparents.

Rx FOR HEALTHY LIVING

Healthy Living Equation

(NU) - Americans are more conscious than ever that eating right and exercising regularly are two important parts of a healthy lifestyle. But unfortunately, experts say, many people are unaware of a third factor in the equation for good health, one that demands just as much attention as diet and exercise. This third factor is hydration.

Staying "hydrated" means meeting your body's never-ending need for water, which in turn helps you reach the goals of a healthy lifestyle: feeling good and maintaining peak performing on the job, during workouts and in daily activities.

TAX FACTS

by JOHN SHARP
TEXAS COMPTROLLER OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

Vacations can be taxing

If you've got the time, energy and cash for a final end-of-summer vacation, remember the outing could be taxing. For example, be prepared to pay sales tax if you take a guided excursion or tour.

Tax is also due on the admission price to theme parks, water slides and private for-profit zoos and museums.

You should also plan on paying tax for your meals, drinks and souvenirs on these outings.

Vacation fun that isn't taxable includes admission fees to state campgrounds and camping areas. And those of you who enjoy fishing will be glad to hear that there's no tax on any charge to use a private or a public fishing pier.

Stay afloat on sales tax matters

Texas has an abundance of lakes and rivers that are perfect for swimming, canoeing, fishing, skiing or just floating. When you pay to swim in a river, lake or other public waterway, no tax is due.

However, you do owe tax if you pay to swim in a private lake, swimming hole or pool.

Add tax when you rent

Rentals are subject to the sales tax. That means that you'll pay tax when you rent golf carts, canoes, roller blades and scuba gear.

Plan ahead for boating fun

Add tax to the charges to repair, remodel or perform routine maintenance on pleasure or sport-fishing boats, including parts, labor and any charges for moving your boat, or for mailing parts or supplies. Tax is also due on extended warranties and service policies.

Add tax to swimming pool services

Tax is due on the charges for cleaning and maintaining swimming pools and related equipment.

Some examples of taxable services include pool vacuuming, acid washing, filter cleaning, balancing the chemicals and shocking and winterizing.

For more information about state taxes, write to the Comptroller of Public Accounts, Austin, Texas 78774. Or call us toll-free at 1/800-252-5555.

The letters pH stand for potential of hydrogen. It's a number used by chemists to indicate the concentration of hydrogen ions in a solution.
