1985 Cisco High School Junior Varsity

Mister Cisco Pageant Set

Plans are being finalized for the Little Mr. Cisco Pageant scheduled for this weekend, Saturday, August 24, at 2 p.m., in the Corral Room. Winners will represent Cisco by riding on floats in area parades.

The annual program is part of the Retail Trade Committee's plans for the year. The Chamber of Commerce committee also has a similar program, the Little Miss Cisco, which will take place again next year.

will be selected as a winner and will be awarded a trophy. A runner-up in each division will receive a gift. All entrants will be presented with a ribbon.

The pageant will also feature entertainment and the retail merchants in the city will have special sales for shoppers. Three out-of-town judges have been selected to come to Cisco for the event.

The cost for entering the contest will be $5.00 and a child can be entered through a business sponsor or individual. Any proceeds remaining after the pageant will be donated to a worthy project of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce.

A number of boys have already been entered. In addition to the age requirements the child must also reside within the school district of Cisco.

If any further information is needed, please call the Cisco Chamber of Commerce at 442-2537.

The organizers of the contest are Lynn Wages, Merle Norman Cosmetics, and Linda Cozart and Sue Lacy, Interiors Unlimited. Registration can be made at either location in downtown Cisco.

There will be four age divisions for judging: Division I—Infants (under one year); Division II—One and two year olds; Division III—Three and four year olds; and Division IV—Five year olds.

A boy from each division

Notice To Citizens And Cisco Water Customers

At 11:00 p.m. on Wednesday night (August 21, 1985) the City Water Department will open a valve on the newly installed 8-inch water line along West 2nd Street. This line connects the City's main 12-inch feeder line located along Avenue J with the 6-inch water main that runs north and south the length of Front Street.

water flow being in just one direction) to be stirred up and flushed through the system.

Unfortunately, this will undoubtedly have a significant adverse effect on the water. And while the water department will flush the lines through fire hydrants Wednesday night to reduce the problem as much as possible, the City asks all residences to be prepared for less-than-normal quality water Thursday morning until the mains can clear themselves.

We regret this inconvenience, but the movement of water through this new valve is essential to the long-term quality and effective distribution of water throughout the system.

'Soap Scrimmage' Set Here Thursday

Cisco High School football squads will be playing in a "soap scrimmage" this

Thursday, August 22, in Cisco's Chesley Field, according to Head Coach Doyle

Walker. The Junior Varsity squad will begin play against Anson at 6 p.m., followed by the Varsity around 7:30 p.m.

Local fans are asked to bring a bar of soap in order to be admitted inside the stadium to watch the scrimmage. The soap collected will be used by Cisco High School athletes during the coming school year.

Coaches said the player who has surprised them the most has been Roy Boykin of Carbon who is a sophomore defensive outside linebacker. Coach Walker said, "He surprised us." He also said Boykin has done a good job at filling that position for the Lobos.

In Thursday night's scrimmage, the coaches said they will be getting a good overall look at the squad and seeing how they perform against another team. Coach Walker said he feels Cisco is in pretty good shape, since they are now two deep in every position on the field.

Homecoming will be the October 11 game against Albany.

The junior varsity schedule is as follows: September 5, DeLeon here; September 12, Ranger there; September 19, Abilene here; September 26, Coleman here; October 3, Ranger here; October 10, Albany here; October 17, Winters here; October 24, Eastland here; October 31, Jim Ned here; and November 7, Baird there.

The junior varsity schedule is as follows: September 13, (7th grade only) Ranger there; September 26, Coleman here; October 3, Ranger here; October 10, Albany here; October 17, Winters here; October 24, Eastland here; October 31, Jim Ned here; and November 7, Baird there.

HALL OF REMARKS

BY HERREL HALLMARK

OLD COPIES of The Cisco Press newspapers and the Fort Worth papers were found between the linoleum and flooring of Brenda Hammond's home in Cisco. They were dated December 1, 1950.

Ms. Hammond reported they are re-doing the floor in their home and were in the process of removing the old material when the newspapers were found.

A BIRTHDAY gift was sent to Major Notgrass of Cisco, who turned 84 Tuesday, by Red Man Chewing Tobacco. Phillip Reeves, next-door neighbor, wrote the company and told them of Notgrass' birthday since he has chewed Red Man tobacco so long.

Red Man sent Major Notgrass a package containing a Red Man cap, Red Man brass belt buckle, Red Man brass cuspidor, and six cartons of Red Man chewing tobacco.

IF YOU SEE Hattie Ingram pushing a grocery shopping cart around in her front yard, she is not going shopping, according to a relative.

Mrs. Ingram pushes the cart for exercise, since she has trouble walking.

A GOOD CROWD attended the benefit concert held Saturday night in Cisco City Park and enjoyed the music provided by Freedom Flight and New Beginning. The two gospel groups provided singing and praises during the evening.

Dr. Tim Boersma of Cisco and Doyle Combs of Hamilton, coordinator of the Honduras mission trip, presented a slide show and told about the work of previous mission trips to the Honduras.

Dr. Boersma, along with a number of other Ciscoans, will be leaving August 31, and returning September 7, for a week-long mission trip to the Honduras. Dr. Boersma has been on such a trip two times in the past.

The trip is being sponsored by Calvary Baptist Church in Cisco. All the proceeds from the Saturday night concert will be used to purchase medicine for the Honduras trip.

Several of the persons going on the trip testified as to how the Lord had opened doors and made it possible for them to go on the trip. All personal and travel expenses have already been taken care of for the group.

Those going on the trip from Cisco are: Dr. Boersma, Rev. Ronnie Shackelford, Celia Shackelford, Jeff Holloway, Nell Henke, Debbie Henke, Charles Copeland, Rick Roark, Joe Gosch, Helen Orr, and Ronnie Webb.

Cisco has eight lettermen this year. They are: Brian Nichols and Jeff Dennis, senior guards; Robert Rains, junior tackle; James Deadman, senior tackle; Steve Abbott, junior fullback; Shelby Nixon, junior quarterback; Dale Page, junior center; and James Berry, senior split end and defensive safety.

The Lobos started with 44 students reporting for two-days practice on Monday, August 12, and since then five players have quit, according to Coach Walker.

Season Tickets For Lobo Games To Sell Aug. 21

Cisco will be running the I-offense and the 37-defense during the approaching season.

Defensive starters for the varsity are: Lonnie Pevey and Brian Nichols, defensive tackles; Robert Rains and James Deadman, defensive ends; Jeff Dennis and Ronnie Scheuren, middle linebackers; Roy Boykin and Brian Wagon, outside linebackers; Steve Abbott and Shelby Nixon, cornerbacks; and James Berry, safety.

The Lobo varsity will begin its regular football season on September 6 in DeLeon; followed by Rotan here September 13; Mart here September 20; Coleman here September 27; Ranger here October 4; Albany here October 11; Winters here October 18; Eastland here October 25; Jim Ned here November 1; and Baird here November 8.

CISD Board Of Trustees Vote To Increase Taxes

The board of trustees of the Cisco Independent School District voted Monday night to raise local school taxes up 8 cents. The hiring of a new computer teacher and two new elementary teachers, the career ladder going up, enrollment going down, state regulations going up and state endowment going down are the reasons for the increase.

The official tax rate will now be 76.8 cents. Howard Worley voted strongly against the motion. Ralph Berry voted for the 4.2 INS increase but voted against the 3.8 M&O increase. He voted this way because he knows the Cisco schools need the increase but he is against the raising of taxes.

The board stressed that the average state taxes are 76.9 cents, but in some of the

There is still doubt in some areas.

Was FDR playing with a joker in the deck of his New Deal when he signed into law the Social Security Act?

Headlines of articles and editorials devoted to the fiftieth birthday (8/14/85) of the SSA give conflicting ideas of "one of the most sweeping packages of social welfare legislation" in our country's history.

"50 Years Later, Social Security Spawns Doubt" one headline informs us. "Roosevelt System Was Ray of Hope" reads another. Those articles are side by side, and on an editorial page, we are told, "Once Controversial Program Still Going Strong."

So, what else is new? Opposition, doubt, disagreement and controversy about Social Security do not rate "news" as all that is inherent in the topic.

You might say I cut my teeth on "rugged individualism", and I definitely was of an age to absorb a great many of the pros and cons that bounced around the controversial circuits in 1935.

The bank "holiday" of 1933 rubbed pretty raw for those same rugged individualists who had had anything to put in the bank in the first place. So, for the "gov'tment" to up and take a part of a fellow's none-too-big paycheck—oh, wow!

One way and another, people adjusted. It didn't make any particular difference what the individual thought, the percentage was deducted. Unfortunately, a great many people considered that SS provided for their old age and/or retirement. It was, and it still is, meant only to supplement your own, other retirement plan.

As the poet said—and maybe it was Shakespeare; he said everything else—"...a little knowledge is a dangerous thing."

Imperfect understanding of the original SSA and implementation of payments of additional benefits by legislators who were more eager to please voters than to do their math homework seem to me to have caused most of the trouble with the Social Security system.

This gist of the SSA of 1935 was to authorize old-age insurance benefits financed by a payroll tax on workers in commerce and industry.

Social Security probably could have survived the '39 amendment to provide benefits for dependents of retired workers and survivors of deceased workers. After all, the first SS check was not paid until 1940. By that time there should have been quite an income generated from taxes collected and invested.

The SS tax was not designed to provide for 752 erosion of purchasing power in the '50's. I have a sneaking suspicion that a careful study of the results of extending the coverage to include members of the armed forces, farm workers and the self-employed would show debits beginning to outstrip credits.

It was also in the fifties that the good ol' boys in Congress okayed disability insurance for disabled workers and their dependents. This was financed by a separate payroll tax.

In the '60's came approval of Medicare and Medicaid—to come out of the Social Security fund.

Then, cost-of-living adjustments and the benefits formula linked to rate of inflation were added in the '70's.

Quarreling with these benefits is not the question. I much prefer for people who need care to have it and who have paid insurance to collect it.

My quarrel, if that's what is should be called, is with lumping all this into Social Security. It's rather like expecting a nice little boat designed for a row in a pond to do the duties of a ship in the sea—a sea that is not always calm.

We can hope the measures pushed through Congress in 1983 work. Tax (and benefit) increases should put SS on a pay-as-you-go basis.

Many young people doubt they will ever benefit from Social Security. Financial planners report that younger workers are taking advantage of IRAs and otherwise making personal plans for their retirement.

Well, hooray! Somewhere out there it is sinking in that "supplemental" never did, does not and never will equal "maintenance."

We don't need "New Dealing" as much as we need "Plain Dealing."

Fish Can Be Fat Or Lean

COLLEGE STATION—We tend to think of meat as fat or lean and fish as just plain fish. Yet fish do vary in fat content, and the degree of fat can be important, especially when it comes to freezing them.

"Fatty fish are more susceptible to rancidity due to exposure to oxygen," says Annette R. Hegen, seafood consumer specialist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

"With fish such as tuna, the high fat content of the raw fish will oxidize when exposed to even a small amount of air and gradually cause the frozen fish flesh to become strong, taste 'fishy' or even taste rancid," she adds.

According to Hegen, analysis of fish fat content is also complicated because the quantity of fat varies from fish to fish, even in the same species, and may differ with the seasons of the year or temperatures of the waters where the fish is found.

As a result, most statistics now available are based on relatively small samples of fish.

However, Texas A&M University Sea Grant researchers have assigned some categories that can be used to classify fish as fat or lean, until more information is available.

A fish is categorized as lean when the fat content is less than 2.5 percent. It's classified as moderate if the fat content falls between 2.5 and 6.5 percent, and fat is the fat content is over 6.5 percent.

Using these guidelines, Hegen says tuna, mackerel and salmon herring are classified as fat fish, while cod, flounder, croaker drum and trout are lean.

Some fish, like halibut or mullet, which seem to be oily and might be thought of as high in fat content, are actually classified as lean. But Hegen says that larger samples of these fish will need to be tested to more accurately establish their level of fat content.

Agricultural Items

WINTER PASTURE OPTIONS—For winter pasture, South Central Texas cattlemen can choose from oats, wheat, rye and annual ryegrass. Each offers advantages, and such things as fall production, total production and cold tolerance must be considered, says a forage specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Result demonstrations by the Extension Service have shown that oats generally have more fall production but have lower cold tolerance. Oats also make less growth in January and February. Wheat is a better forage producer in January and February and can be grown for both grazing and grain. Rye is quite cold tolerant but matures early in the spring, which hinders grazing. Ryegrass does best on a prepared seedbed and is late-maturing, which allows for extended grazing in the spring.

GRASS MANAGEMENT VITAL TO BEEF PRODUCTION—Grass management is perhaps the most critical part of the cattle business, says specialists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. Result demonstrations by the Extension Service have shown the importance of grass management to beef herd performance. These studies showed that beef production was lower in herds on overgrazed pastures—pregnancy rates ranged from 50 to 70 percent compared to 85 to 98 percent for cows on properly stocked pastures. Top ranches in the studies used improved pastures overseeded with small grains for concentrated stocking and based their supplementation program on cow production status and body condition. They also made good use of winter pastures and high quality hay.

COTTON SITUATION GOING FROM BAD TO WORSE—The cotton situation seems to be going from bad to worse, says a cotton specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. With reduced consumption and a good crop in prospect for 1985, supplies will continue to increase, causing further downward pressure on market prices. Since there appears to be little chance for this year's crop to move on the spot market at much above the loan rate, a maximum deficiency payment of 23.7 cents a pound is a real possibility. Recent discussions on export incentives to lower the U.S. price of cotton on the world market also have had a weakening impact on future markets.

New Version Of G.I. Bill Pending

The Veterans Administration is preparing to implement a new version of the GI Bill which became effective July 1, 1985.

The bill — the Veterans' Educational Assistance Act of 1984 — was enacted last year and establishes a program of education benefits for individuals initially entering military service from July 1, 1985, through June 30, 1988.

Recruits entering the military during that period will participate in the program unless they decline in writing. To participate, the recruit's basic pay will be reduced by $100 a month for the first 12 months of service. In return for a two-year enlistment, the government will pay a basic benefit of $250 a month in educational assistance for up to 36 months following the active duty commitment.

For a three-year enlistment, the government will pay $300 a month for up to 36 months. In addition, the Secretary of defense may provide up to a $400 a month "kicker" on top of the basic benefit for those in critical skill areas. The Secretary also has the authority to provide another $300 a month to those members who serve an additional five years following their original three-year enlistment. Members of the Armed Forces who have no break in active duty service since Dec. 31, 1976, and served on active duty for at least three years after June 30, 1985, may take part in the new program with no reduction in their basic pay.

Assistance Program (VEAP), a contributory plan that allows the recruit to voluntarily participate in a plan for future education or training. Those enrolled in this program are not affected by the new GI Bill.

By Goode Ole Daze
We've all done it - approached someone who was busy at a specific task, an obvious endeavor like waxing a car or painting a fence. And what do we say? "Whatchadoin'?"

Having once worked in a florist, I was always amused by a certain response of some customers when they would see us working feverishly arranging funeral sprays, many of which were already stacked about the floor ready to be delivered. With an expression of genuine concern, they'd ask, "Did somebody die?"

And the weather. How we talk that topic to death, and I'm one of the worst offenders. Walking into a cool store, I complain of the heat outside: "Wow, it's good to get in out of that heat. It's HOT out there!"

I know the store personnel knows it's hot outside, but somehow I feel that I'm obliged to remind them about the heat. It's as though I'm informing the stores that I had to endure some discomfort in order to grace their premises with my presence. After offering my usual hot-weather remark, I never exit without wondering how many times a day owners and employees hear the same comments.

Did you ever go to a movie and sit near someone who was so thoroughly caught up in the action that he made commentaries for the benefit of all those seated around him? "Uh-oh, boy, is he gonna get it now."

Excitedly, he munches his popcorn and siphons up his coke without ever diverting his eyes from the screen. As the next tense episode flashes before the viewers, he's moved to another announcement, "Oh no, just wait till he sees who's behind that door."

And so it goes, the outbursts of this self-appointed narrator who feels he must alert his fellow movie-goers to the unfolding action. I don't find him irritating though, because anyone who can enjoy himself so much is just plain enjoyable.

And speaking of enjoyment, what's more exciting than a good fireworks display? And how do we respond to those explosions of color in the air? With "oohs" and "ahs" and "ohs," drawn out as loudly and slowly as we are proportionately pleased.

This last July 4th I was the guest of some people whose yard provided an excellent view of a fireworks display. Although we were some blocks away, our view was an excellent one, and we were close enough to hear the crowd's gasps of approval after each blast of color.

I noticed, too, that in our own choice spot that the Mrs. of the house and her daughter were particularly vocal in their oohing and ahing, especially following the larger and more brilliant bursts of color.

I was amused by their excited responses, which I thought to be so characteristically feminine that I thought to kid them a little about their carrying on so. I stopped short, however, when I began listening to myself and discovered that I was at least equalling, if not exceeding, the women in oohing and ahing.

People are different, however. There was a couple parked across from the house who were also watching the fireworks. In contrast to our excited exchanges with one another, we observed that they never communicated with each other, not one audible ooh or ah for the dazzling showers of exploded brightness. To each his own.

Quite often, people in the act of being people make all kinds of blunders. If no one's watching, however, a falst step doesn't matter. It's the fear that our mistake may be under the scrutiny of some unseen observer that really bothers us.

For example, I'll never forget one occasion when a co-worker and I were having lunch at a Mexican food restaurant in Dallas. As we were eating, suddenly - to my utter amazement - I saw Bob carefully wiping the corners of his mouth with his bright red tie!

I stared speechless as he continued to dab his mouth with his tie. Finally, I was able to utter, "Bob, what are you doing?" He stared down in horror, threw his tie back down and retrieved his cloth napkin.

We both chuckled a little, but as moments passed, I noted that he kept looking over my shoulder toward another group of diners. His face a little reddened, he questioned aloud, "I wonder if those people sitting over there saw me?"

To heck with his soiled tie! Did anyone see him? I would have felt the same way.

The principle is obvious. Fortune 500 companies should be made to pay for their own start-up costs, just like everybody else.

Food For Thought

(ED. NOTE: The following is from the UofT Daily Texan and it's food for thought.)

States pay for GM start-up To paraphrase William Carlos Williams, so much depends upon a General Motors plant beside the white chickens.

Last week, the tiny farming village of Spring Hill, Tenn., became the envy of the leaders of 37 states, after GM announced its decision to locate its new Saturn Corp. manufacturing subsidiary there.

For the state of Tennessee, now comes the hard part. In addition to providing the conventional infrastructure requirements (the plant will need access roads and an adequate water supply), the state must make good on several direct financial commitments to GM.

Confidential discussions on those commitments are under way, but reasonable estimates can be made. In all likelihood, GM will be paying lower or "in lieu" property taxes, and its worker training program will be subsidized by more than $20 million. That's commensurate with the deal struck in 1983 between the state and Nissan Corp. before the opening of a 2,900-employee plant in Smyrna, Tenn.

Since GM's announcement, several governors who failed to win the plant have said some interesting things to save face. For example, Iowa Gov. Terry Branstad, whose state made major changes in its tax laws to sweeten its offer to GM, claimed a victory in being "able to call attention to the advantages of our state for business before a national audience." And, Illinois Gov. James Thompson has committed his office to seeking the immediate creation of 6,000 jobs in his state, matching the expected impact of the Saturn plant.

In short, state and local overtures to big business have grown so cumbersome that when they don't succeed, there are major political as well as economic losses to settle. That phenomenon might be expected in our new global economy, in which the line between public and private investment is blurring.

The great majority of start-up companies, however, are granted no such partnership with local and state governments. This is economically important, because large public-sector incentives and tax breaks can shift a corporation's ordinal ranking of ventures, despite adverse market conditions. The resulting deck-stacking only worsens the current plight of small high-tech businesses.

There is great irony in having the effect of federal support for small business circumvented by massive big-business incentives at the state level. But without federal action, the offers will definitely continue.

Ohio Gov. Richard Celeste has said, "We're ready to go after the next project like we went after this one." Many states, including Indiana and Michigan, have designs on attracting the planned Chrysler-Mitsubishi plant. States apparently would rather stay in the race than stop to lick their wounds.

Now that, in the words of Saturn President William Hoglund, "Saturn indeed has captured the imagination of America" (while on the way snatching the best of some 26 multimillion-dollar incentive packages), it's time for Washington to intervene. Federal regulation of incentives to interstate and multinational corporations is a logical and natural evolution of antitrust laws.

Yogurt Is Not Necessarily Low Calorie

Yogurt can be a dieter's delight - or downfall. According to a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service nutritionist, it all depends on the type of yogurt you eat. "Yogurt's calorie count depends on the butterfat content of the milk from which it is made," says Dr. Alice Hunt. "The more butterfat, the higher the calories." One cup of nonfat plain yogurt contains about 90 calories, while the low-fat type has about 150 calories and the whole milk product can have 180 to 210 calories. Many of the new custard-style or creamy style yogurts use whole milk, Hunt observes. The fat from the whole milk adds flavor and creaminess, but also makes some of these products almost equal to ice cream in calories. "Dieters should also consider the serving size on yogurt products," says the nutritionist, "since more manufacturers are using six-ounce containers instead of eight-ounce containers for the higher calorie yogurt." She cautions consumers to note the serving size when comparing calories among yogurt products. "A six-ounce container of a higher-fat yogurt may have the same number of calories as an eight-ounce cup of low-fat yogurt because the serving size is reduced." Flavoring in yogurts is another source of calories a dieter may want to avoid, says the nutritionist. Flavored yogurts contain two to three times more calories than plain yogurt, with the extra calories coming from fruit and sugars such as sucrose, fructose, corn sweetener or honey. Whether you eat high-calorie or low-calorie yogurt, both have one big plus, says Hunt. Most yogurts contain about 350 milligrams of calcium per serving which is about 35 percent of the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowance.

Needs Of Elderly Studied

More than 10 percent of Big Country citizens 65 and older live in nursing homes, twice as many as the national average, according to a survey conducted by Dr. Rae Adams, professor of sociology at Abilene Christian University. Dr. Adams will present her study at a gerontology seminar sponsored by England's Cambridge University on August 13. Nineteen counties in West Central Texas were included in her study of the state's two generation households. The results of the survey indicated that, increasingly, two generations of those classified as "old" are occupying the same living quarters with the younger old as primary caregiver to a frail elderly parent. In addition, six percent of the total 65-plus population surveyed live below the poverty level. From the results of the study, Dr. Adams found that because of the increasing number of individuals living to an advanced old age and the tendency by society to keep people in their own homes as long as possible, it is expected that more functional support systems will have to be initiated by government and private agencies in order to assist this segment of the population. Dr. Adams' paper, titled "The Old as Primary Caregivers to Frail Elderly Parents," will be presented at the Focus on Function: Geriatrics Seminar, a three-week study sponsored by the university. She began teaching at ACU in 1984 and became the director of the graduate gerontology program. She received a bachelor's degree in education from North Texas State University, and a master's and doctorate in sociology from Texas Women's University.

Big Brother Government Gives Cause for Concern

George Orwell, in his 1940's novel titled 1984 made dire predictions of the power and authority the government would have by the year 1984 and suggested that "big brother" government would know all and see all and no citizen would have any private life.

These predictions are proving to be frighteningly correct in many areas. The latest and most pointed example is the commercial use of the information you and I provide to the Department of Public Safety in registering to get our driver's license.

For those of you who have not read or heard, the "Open Records Act" forces the DPS to make this computerized information available upon request. Insurance companies are using this information to target persons over 65 for purposes of selling medicare supplement insurance. They obtain name, age and address from the computer and immediately know who would be prime customers for their insurance offering.

Another example is the targeting of young ladies 16-18 years of age for purposes of mass mailings soliciting entries into "beauty pageants." The uses to which this information is being put is almost endless.

I feel reasonably sure that when you last filled out the information to renew your driver's license, you did not intend for that information to be used as a sales tool to single you out because of age, height, race, weight or some other characteristic, as a potential customer for some commodity that would apply to your particular condition. Unfortunately, the DPS has no choice and when requests are made, accompanied by payment to cover costs, they have to furnish the material. The ultimate possible use of this information is really frightening.

The computer can categorize all females in the state below 5 feet 9 inches tall, can then correlate the weight of those females to their individual height, and can immediately determine those who are "overweight."

The computer can even determine, within fairly exact bounds, the degree of obesity. You can readily see that such a group, bombarded with mass mailings, would be a prime candidate group of customers for a weight reduction scheme. Not to single out women, the same process can be used to categorize potential male consumer groups for an almost endless number of products.

This provides a shocking example of how our continuing demands for the public's "right to know" has affected an extremely important personal right we have in this country and this state, that being, quite simply, the blessed right to be left alone. We, as a people, are very much like a child with a handful of candy. Each time we attempt to grasp another piece of candy, a piece we have must necessarily slip through our fingers.

I would pose the question to you as to whether or not our recent headlong rush to secure civil rights has not, in reality, cost us a great number of very precious civil and personal rights.

OSCAR LOPEZ

Local Man Works At Lions Camp

KERRVILLE, TX.—Oscar Lopez, 24, from Cisco, Texas, worked as the assistant program director at the Texas Lions Camp for Handicapped Children this summer.

Lopez scheduled camp activities such as bands, picnics and other special events. He also supervised approximately 85 counselors and made sure activities were carried out properly.

The counselors at the Texas Lions Camp for Handicapped Children are special people with big hearts who spend eleven weeks helping children, many of whom would not be eligible for other camps. As a counselor, hours are long, work is plentiful, pay is little, but the rewards are unforgettable.

The summer begins with a one week training program to teach the counselors sign language, techniques in lifting children from wheelchairs, dealing with braces and how to adapt activities to include all the children. The counselors then become parent/teacher/friend for 1300 children throughout the five two-week camping sessions.

On the 500 acre camp located near Kerrville, the counselors plan and assist the children in all activities. Some of the activities include swimming, horseback riding, fishing, studying nature, participating in

Prices Set For 1985-86 School Meals In County

Preparations for the opening of schools in the County means lots of details for administrators and School Boards. The Boards, working within certain regulations, set prices for meals at the schools. Both lunch and breakfast is available at the area school cafeterias.

In the Eastland Independent School District, High School and Jr. High lunches will cost 85 cents, and the Elementary Lunches 80 cents. Breakfast will cost everyone 45 cents. Reduced prices, for those who qualify, will be Lunch at 40 cents and breakfast at 25 cents for all ages.

In the Carbon School lunch will cost K through 6th sports and going on an overnight campout.

The "can do" philosophy is emphasized and the campers are encouraged to try things they have never done. The counselors provide safe ways for every child to do things he or she may have only dreamed of doing before.

One camper's parent wrote to the camp: "I cannot speak highly enough for the camp counselors. I have never seen such a true outpouring of love and care. They are a group who give their love to so many. The experience my son had at camp will keep him happy all year."

Grade $1.00 per student, and 7th Grade through High School $1.25. Breakfast will be 75 cents for all students. On Reduced meals, lunches will be 40 cents for all and breakfast 30 cents for all.

The Gorman School will be charging 85 cents for Elementary lunches this year, and 90 cents for Jr. High and High School. Adults (such as teachers) who eat in the cafeteria will be charged $1.25 for lunches. Breakfast will be 55 cents for Elementary students and 60 cents for Jr. High and High School. Reduced prices will be 40 cents for all lunches and breakfast.

Cisco Independent School District has set a price of $1.00 for all lunches, Elementary through High School, and 35 cents for all breakfasts. Reduced prices are 40 cents for all lunches and 30 cents for all breakfasts.

Ranger School will charge 95 cents for Elementary Lunches, and $1.00 for Jr. High and High School. Breakfast prices for all will be 40 cents. Reduced prices will be 40 cents for all lunches and 25 cents for all breakfasts.

Rising Star School District has set prices for lunches of $1.15 for K through 5th Grade, and 6th through 12th at $1.25. Reduced lunches will be 40 cents for all. Prices for breakfasts are not available at this time.

In determining what a family will pay for children's meals, certain income eligibility guidelines are followed. These place a family into one of three categories—those eligible for free lunches, those eligible for reduced charges, and those who will be charged the full amount.

The income eligibility guidelines begin with eligibility for free meals for families with one child and an annual income up to

Sample Copy Of Four ACT Tests Available

It takes about three hours to complete the four ACT examinations in English, math, social studies, and natural sciences. A sample copy of a full-length test is available in every high school. Students who would like to have copies of additional tests may obtain them at cost from ACT.

The ACT Assessment also includes a two-part questionnaire that students complete at home when they register. The questionnaire focuses on the student's interests, academic and nonacademic accomplishments, and vocational and educational plans and needs.

Colleges use information from the ACT Assessment Program for academic advising, admissions counseling, course sectioning and placement, student services, and institutional research. ACT Assessment reports are sent to students, their high school counselors, and only those institutions and agencies specifically designated by the student.

The ACT Assessment Program is a major service of The American College Testing Program, which has national headquarters in Iowa City, Iowa.

$6,825. This income allowance is increased $2,340 for each additional child in a family, making a family with 8 children eligible for free lunches even if the parents have an income of $23,305 annually.

The Reduced Price meals are within the reach of a number of students, for they begin with an annual income of $9,713 for a family of one. Each additional child adds an income allowance of $3,330. A family of 8 can make $33,023 and still be eligible for a reduced cost for lunches under this plan.

Income can also be figured on a monthly and weekly basis, which ever is most convenient for the parents. A typical family with three children can make a weekly salary of $222 and still be eligible for free meals, or make a salary of $315 weekly and be eligible for reduced prices.

Please check with local schools if more information is needed.

Large Crowd Hears Paramedic At AARP

By LELA LATCH LLOYD
Sixty-five members and visitors listened at the meeting of Cisco AARP on August 16 as Judy Womack, Brownwood paramedic, brought the program on "Safety in the Home."

Mrs. Womack highly recommended that all members take a course in CPR to learn the basics of resuscitation. "You may save a life or have your own saved from this knowledge," she explained.

The speaker stressed these usable suggestions for persons living alone: (1) Never take medicine in the dark. It is easy to kill yourself. (2) Carry an I.D. card if diabetic or allergic to penicillin. (3) Team up with a "Buddy" for a daily check.

Mrs. Womack gave other helpful hints but stressed the above three as "musts" for elderly people who live alone.

Former president, Gid Bowers, gave the invocation preceding the meal. Immediate past president, Tony White, led the pledge to the flag, and president, Gilbert Copeland, thanked the decorating committee for the use of three Eastland County products as their decor: popcorn, peanuts, and johnson grass. "I had not thought of johnson grass as decorative," he said. "But you folks have made it beautiful."

Membership Chairman, Jack Roberson, announced 234 paid up members with four additions since last meeting.

Eleven visitors from Eastland were welcomed and they invited the Cisco members to visit their chapter for the showing of a film of the work of the Red Cross during the recent Eastland explosion.

Meeting closed after the reading of the minutes by secretary Beryle Estes, and the hearing of the treasurer's report by Rose Knowlden.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BIBELIAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

Faith is one of the greatest treasures man can possess. It opens the door to heaven. It puts the tempter to flight. It relieves burdens and calms fears. It resolves doubts and turns sorrow into joy.

But what is faith? Unbelievers talk about faith, but they speak of it as though it were some mysterious power which itself could help us. They speak of faith, but what do they mean? Faith in what? Or in whom? Surely it is not possible just to have faith, without something or someone to have faith in.

Faith is not wishing hard, or feeling confident. It is not what we think or imagine. Faith must have a basis. It must have a foundation.

The Bible says, "Faith cometh by hearing." Isn't that simple? Isn't it true? Some say, "Seeing is believing," but a moment's thought will reveal that this is not so. When you see a thing you need no longer believe it. It has been demonstrated to you. It is when something is told you that you may believe it. "Faith comes by hearing." When someone tells you something and you answer, "Seeing is believing," you really mean: "I don't believe you!" It is only when you believe what you hear that you exercise faith.

But this verse gives us more light on faith. "Faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word..." It is as though he said: "You can believe only what you hear, and you can hear only what has been said."

How then, can men talk about faith, apart from the Word of God? Faith is simply taking God at His Word. There is nothing vague or mystical about it. It is simply founding our hopes on what God has said. He said it, we believe it, act upon it, rest in it, rejoice in it! That is faith.

Unsaved friend, God says He loves you in spite of your sins. He says that Christ died for you and that through His merits you may have eternal life. Will you believe Him? Will you take him at His word?

"To him that worketh not, but believeth on Him that justifieth the ungodly, his faith is counted for righteousness" (Rom. 4:5).

"For BY GRACE ARE YE SAVED through faith, and that not of yourselves; it is the gift of God" (Eph. 2:8).

"For the Word of God is quick and powerful..
 "Hebrews 4:12.

Anyone visiting a huge steel refinery would see large stacks of metal plates. Men use the latest calibrated tools for exact measurement. You would possibly be amazed to witness a four-foot wheel with sharp teeth as it sliced a one-inch steel beam.

An even more captivating sight is to watch an operator rest two magnetic bars attached to strong cables upon long steel plates. Then the operator can hoist the plates upon trucks or trains, or move them across the room. Some of these steel plates are 2" thick, 5' wide and 25' long.

When all signs are clear, the power is turned on. The molecules and atoms in the metal monsters come into energized 'life'. The magnet possesses certain unseen powers that literally pulls and draws the steel into response.

Friend, sin, left unchecked lulls one into oblivion. It has its drama, its sparkling flashes, its unique sights and even appears to have its reward. The problem is: when sin is finished with a person, it has lulled him into such a state that one is pitifully useless. Man originally came with great elements in his nature. He was created in the image of God. Sin took away the elements. It is then that the magnetic, powerful God through His Son, Jesus Christ, brings us into a natural state of usefulness.

If sin has its way with you, and you allow it, you will be finally dulled into nothingness. If God has His way, you will be pulled into worthiness. You may now feel pulled in two directions. Let Him exert the magnetic pull of righteousness in your life so you can walk worthy of your calling.

Petition Urging Support Of Bill 1570 In Circulation

A petition of support for U.S. Senate Resolution 1570 and similar legislation in the U.S. House of Representatives was passed around for consideration during the County Commissioners Meeting Aug. 15.

Among those signing the Petition was County Judge Scott Bailey, all the Commissioners present, and most interested citizens in the Courthouse.

The Petition is addressed to Lloyd Bentsen, United States Senator, Phil Gramm, United States Senator, and Charles Stenholm, Congressman of the 17th District. It is listed as from Eastland County Texas and interested citizens of Eastland County.

It says: "We, the undersigned, respectfully urge your support for S. 1570 in the U.S. Senate and similar legislation in the U.S. House of Representatives. It is our feeling that this type of legislation will restore State and Local flexibility under the use of Compensatory Time and Volunteers. Also, it will exempt State and Local Governments from the burdensome compliance provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act, imposed by the Supreme Court's decision in Garcia vs. San Antonio Metropolitan Transit Authority. Any consideration given will be greatly appreciated."

Duplicates of these petitions are expected to circulate in various areas of the County. Persons interested in signing or in carrying around others for signatures may contact Eastland County Judge Scott Bailey at the Courthouse.

Solar Greenhouse A Popular Addition

A solar greenhouse is becoming a popular home addition in Texas, says a Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service housing specialist.

Most homeowners install solar greenhouses off the living room, but more are used adjacent to kitchens, bathrooms and bedrooms, says Dr. Peggy Owens.

An increasing number of greenhouses are being used as spa enclosures for hot tubs or whirlpools, she adds.

Kits of pre-fab greenhouses are available in a variety of sizes and shapes, but may be too complicated for the average do-it-yourselfer, cautions the specialist. For that reason, many homeowners prefer to deal with an experienced greenhouse contractor.

If you're thinking of installing a solar greenhouse, Owens offer the following tips:

- Check on summer shading or screening for greenhouses that use sloped glass.

- Double-pane glass is recommended in most cases, and if the greenhouse is part of the living space find out how to insulate the glass on winter nights.

- If the greenhouse is a separate structure, add a door to close off the unit from the main living space.

With an average cost of $10,000 for an 8 by 13 prefab solar greenhouse, homeowners should carefully plan for this addition, she says.

Dangerous But Prevalent Myths About Seatbelts

It is indeed strange thinking about seat belts that permits to much death and suffering in the name of personal convenience and unwrinkled clothing, says a safety official.

Most of this "strange thinking" is based on a number of common myths about seat belts, says Dr. Gary Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

-Myth: Seat belts are unnecessary for short trips.

Fact: More than 70 percent of injury-causing traffic accidents occur within 25 miles of home, according to the National Safety Council. More than 80 percent of all collisions happen at speeds of under 40 mph. People who were not wearing seat belts have been killed in accidents that occurred at speeds as low as 12 mph—about the speed you would be driving in a parking lot.

-Myth: Seat belt trap people inside cars, and I'd rather be thrown clear.

Fact: "Thrown clear" is a misnomer. Being thrown from a vehicle usually means flying through the windshield or catapulting out a door. The force of a collision can fling you as much as 150 feet onto a roadside object, into the path of oncoming traffic or scraping along the pavement. For these reasons, if you are thrown from a vehicle in an accident, your chances of being killed are 25 percent greater. What's more, instead of being trapped, belted occupants are likely to be conscious and unharmed, and therefore better able to escape in the rare situation where fire or submersions are added dangers.

-Myth: Seat belts cause injuries.

Fact: Study after study in the United States and abroad show a substantial decrease in the number of serious injuries in actual auto accidents among those who are belted versus those who aren't. In the rare instances where injuries due to belts have been reported, either the belt was inappropriately worn or the crash was so severe that the occupants would have been killed or seriously injured if they had been unbelted.

-Myth: I don't need belts since I'm a careful driver.

Fact: No matter how good a driver you are, you can't control the other car. There's no way to protect yourself against someone else's bad driving, poor judgements or mechanical failures. Even good drivers can be killed or injured in a crash.

-Myth: I don't need seat belts; I can brace myself.

Fact: The force of an impact at just 10 mph is equivalent to catching a 200-pound bag of cement thrown from a first-story window, according to the National Safety Council. At 35 mph, the force of an impact is even more brutal. There's no way your arms and legs can brace you against that kind of force—even if you could react in time.

Putnam News

By Mrs. R.B. Taylor

You have heard the old saying, "If you do not like Texas weather, just stick around a few minutes and it will change." What a wonderful change we had Wednesday and Thursday.

Putnam gauges measured around an inch of rain which is very welcome and the temperature Thursday was from 69 to the upper 80s. What a relief!!

We are also thankful that we missed the storms that struck around Abilene. We have been so lucky!!

Our sick folks are better too. Bud Fleming is home from the hospital at Abilene, and Mr. Bilbrey who went to Dallas Veterans Hospital Monday came home Wednesday but will go back Friday to get report on tests.

A part of the Taylor clan met at the old home last Sunday. A nephew, William, Newt Taylor and wife Bobbie of Laurel, Mississippi, and their son, Barry and two friends from Austin were visiting. Others were Bill and Dorothy Taylor of Weatherford; Garry and family of Shreveport; Bobbie and Brent Taylor of Snyder; Cheryl and Tom Lemmons and Heather of Abilene; Homer of Sweetwater; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bentley of Eula; and Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Gatewood of Sylvester.

Don Weathermon of San Antonio visited his parents the Sid Weathermons last weekend.

A group of concerned citizens met with the city council Monday evening. Several topics were brought up. The main one being a clean-up campaign of the vacant lots in the city. No action was taken.

Nevin Brown of Fort Worth, Christi, Dale and John David Isenhower of Coleman have been with their grandmother, Ollie Burnam, this week.

Bill and Marie Lewis are at Mesquite this weekend with friends L.A. and Omega Fernando.

George and Nettie Lou Ramsey are visiting their parents, the Melton Donaway and Jack Ramsey this weekend.

George and Margie Weeks attended a dinner party last Friday evening at the Brazos Landing in Waco, honoring their son John, who graduated from Baylor University on Saturday morning. The party was hosted by Danny and Becky Weeks and children, Brian and Jennifer.

Attending were Roger, Vicki, and Tracie Weeks of Tuscola; Dean, Cheryl, Kathleen and Christopher Billik of San Antonio, Bill and Janice Henneger of Abilene; Kevin Wilson of Abilene; Rusty Lee of Midland; Joe Maxwell of Temple; and Bill Cleveland of Hamilton. They also attended the graduation ceremonies Saturday morning.

John will remain at Baylor as a teaching assistant, while working toward his Masters Degree.

Visiting with George and Margie Weeks at Putnam, have been Mr. and Mrs.

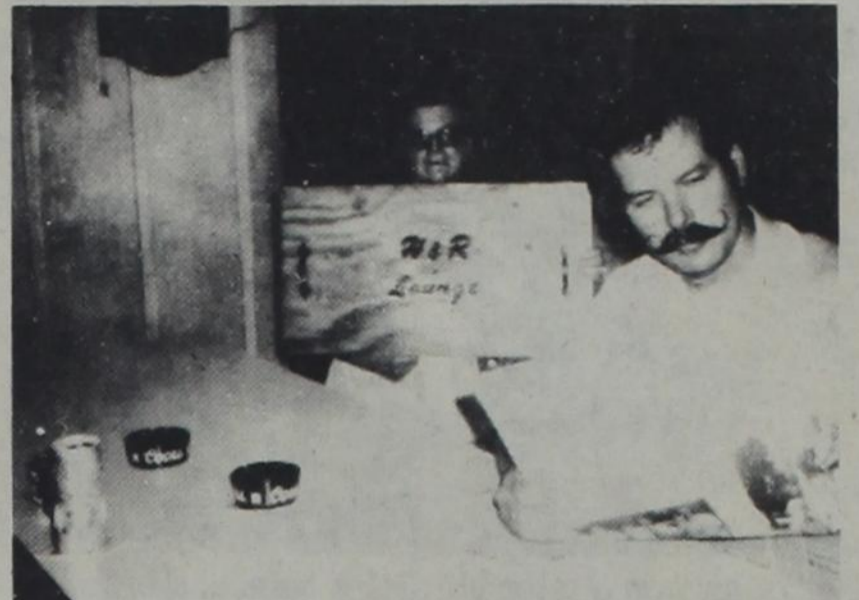

Frank Armour of Novice. Also, Brian and Tracie Weeks.

WEDDING
Debbie Townsend and Steve Treys were married under the Gazebo on the courthouse lawn at Albany, on Thursday evening.

Debbie is the daughter of Mary Monicas of Putnam and has attended school here. She graduated with the Baird class this spring.

Jeff Donaway and two friends of Canyon visited his grandparents, the Milton Donaways Friday.
