MAN ARRESTED IN CISCO KIDNAPING

About Our Friends

By STEPHEN A. LONG

Cisco Round-Up 1919.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Horton and daughter, Madie, have returned from a six weeks visit in Foster-Tenn. Mrs. J. W. Hartman has as her guests her mother, Mrs. Gardenhire, and sister, Mrs. J. E. Pridge of Fort Worth. Mrs. Gardenhire is now 92 years of age, and is still hale and hearty, for one so far advanced along life's highway. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Oran Hagar last Saturday, a nine pound boy. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Ward are visiting in Albany this week. Miss Gladys Walker, of Breckenridge, who is the guest of Miss Julia Lee, was the honoree at the picnic lunch on the lawn of the Lee home Wednesday, given by her hostess. Miss Mary Jane Butts of Cisco was the weekend guest of Mrs. C. U. Connelley last week. — Eastland Chronicle. Harry Schaefer left Sunday for Washington, D. C., where he went to secure a patent on an electrical heating device. He stated that he had already been made some attractive offers for his rights when a patent is secured. Mr. Ohio Kean is spending a few days in Mineral Wells enjoying his vacation. Miss Orena Barker has for her guests this week, Misses Byrd Rosewell, of Denton, Pearl Wright, of Gorman and Mae McWhirter, of Roby. Mrs. W. E. Shelton, of Abilene, is in the city visiting in the homes of Mesdames W. C. Shelton and R. W. Mancill. — Mrs. James Watson of Bristow, Oklahoma, were here looking over the Cisco country the first of the week, and were guests at the Daniels. Mrs. H. W. Leper of Big Spring, is the guest of Mrs. T. J. Dean. Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Harrison and children are enjoying a week's visit at the beach in Galveston. Miss Emma Joe Smith of Wichita Falls, is the guest of Miss Mabel McDaniel. Miss Zella Carnes, a pretty little miss from De Leon, is the guest of her friend, Miss Lillie Wisdom this week. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Laney were the guests of their sister, Mrs. W. W. Moore, last Sunday.

School Election Scheduled For Saturday

OLD MEMBERS OF BOARD ARE FACING WOMEN

Cisco voters will go to the polls tomorrow to cast their ballots in the annual school board election. The polls will be open at the city hall at 8 a. m. and will close at 7 p. m., it has been announced. Three members of the board are to be elected, each to serve for three years. Seeking reelection are Dr. F. E. Clark, president; J. E. Spencer, secretary; and F. D. Wright. All three have served for a number of years. Opposing them are three women, Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mrs. P. R. Warwick and Mrs. Sam Kimmell. Both tickets are urging a large representative vote from Cisco citizens and patrons of the schools. Election judges are Mrs. P. Petit, Mrs. A. J. Olson, and Mrs. Charles Brown. Clerks are Mrs. George P. Fee, Mrs. C. C. Jones, and Mrs. G. B. Kelly. The present board members are asking reelection on the grounds that they have an important school finance program begun and believe it would be unwise to change the personnel of the board at present. The women say they have more time to consider the affairs of the school and that women are needed on any board. The Daily News will publish the complete returns from the election in Sunday morning's issue.

Books Contributed To Colored School

In response to a request for books for the colored school a number of Cisconians have contributed, it was announced today by Mrs. Abigail Love-Haley. Three names were not available for publication today, it was announced. Others contributing books were listed as follows: Mrs. L. F. Mendenhall, Mrs. Louise Fleisher, Mrs. Guy Dabney, Mrs. S. H. Nance, Mrs. R. C. McCarter, Mrs. Fred Erwin, Mrs. J. B. Curry, Mrs. C. W. Hanson, Mrs. Homer McDonnell, Mrs. C. A. Shockey, Mrs. W. L. Harrell, Mrs. J. R. D. Eddy, and Mrs. Hamilton, and Mrs. Bertha Lashley, colored.

Presbytery To Meet Here Next Tuesday

The presbytery of the Fort Worth district of the Presbyterian church will meet at the First Presbyterian church here Tuesday, it was announced by Rev. J. Stuart Pearce, Cisco pastor. The three-day meeting will have its first session at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, he said. Representatives from church over the entire district will be present. One minister and one elder from each church will be delegates to the meeting.

Okra School Seeks Wall For Grounds

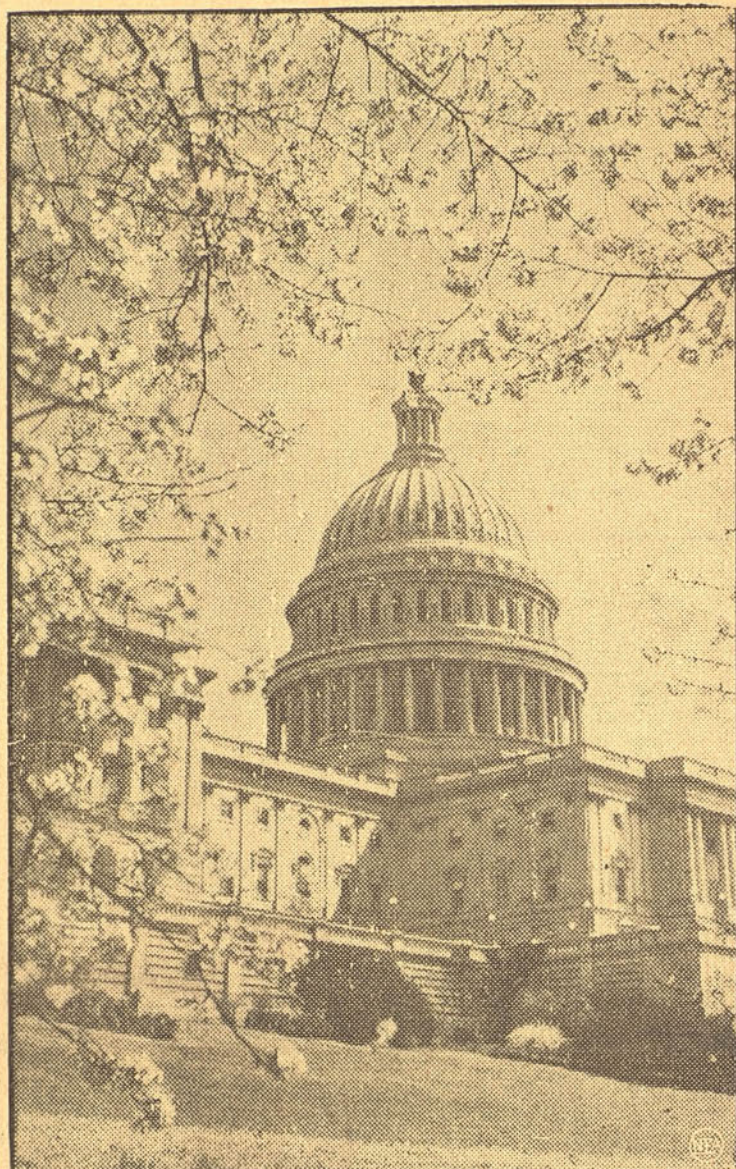

EASTLAND, April 5 — Okra school officials are preparing to submit a project to Texas Relief commission authorities calling for erection of a $2,000 rock wall around school grounds, Claiborne Eldridge, county school superintendent, stated Thursday. Project plans call for the wall to be eight feet high, he said.

Communist Is Freed After Questioning

PORT WORTH, April 5. — George Johnson, 43, communist arrested at Mineral Wells Tuesday night, was released from city jail here today after federal district attorney's office considered the case. Johnson was brought here by Ranger Stewart Stanley after being charged with agitating among relief workers.

TRUCK PARKED 2 YEARS KANSAS CITY, Mo. — An abandoned truck parked across from police headquarters more than two years, finally has been towed away to a junk yard. In the two years no parking violation tickets were hung upon the truck by police and the original owner was not found.

Cherry Blossom Time in Capital

Scenes beneath the dome of the national capitol in Washington change from day to day and from year to year with kaleidoscopic swiftness, but outside the stately edifice unvarying beauty comes each spring, when the famous Japanese cherry trees burst into blossom. Here is the striking picture that greets the eyes of the thousands of tourists who flock every year to Washington to view the lovely spectacle.

150 Are Injured When Tornado Hits Rio Grande Valley Farm Community

DEL RIO, April 5. — A tornado struck the Quemado farming community in Maverick county today, demolishing houses, ruining crops, flooding roads, and breaking communication lines. Reports received here were that 150 persons were injured, three of them probably fatally. The windstorm brought devastation to an area four miles long and one mile wide. Half and a four inch downpour of rain ruined the valuable crops of spinach, strawberry, and feed, the principal financial assets of the irrigated valley.

GUARD STRUCK IN ATTEMPT AT JAIL BREAK

DALLAS, April 5. — Six prisoners in the "death row" of Dallas county's six-story jail, slugged Dick Warren, guard, with a section of pipe today in an unsuccessful attempt to escape. Warren fought off his assailants and locked them in their cell when he was taken to a hospital where physicians said his condition was serious. Sheriff R. A. Schmid said the plot originated with Gilbert Sanderson, held on a theft charge. As Warren stepped into the cell, Sanderson extended his left hand to offer him some money and asked him to buy him some cigarettes. Then Sanderson swung at him with a club. The club, a section of pipe torn from a showerbath in the cell, struck him a glancing blow. He received several more blows on the head before he wrested the pipe away from Sanderson.

Ickes May Call For National Oil Meet

EXCELSIOR, SPRINGS, Mo., April 5. — Harold Ickes, the oil coordinator, may call oil men to Washington next month and tell them that either wholesale gasoline prices must be raised or crude oil prices slashed, it was indicated today at the Western Refiners' meeting here. E. B. Swanson, economist for the United States Bureau of mines, said it was the general opinion of oil code heads that such a meeting would be called.

BULLETIN

EAGLE PASS, April 5 — One person was killed and at least 125 injured by a tornado, hail, and rainstorm which struck early today in the Quemado valley, 12 miles north of the Texas-Mexico border city. Six of those injured, including a mother and her baby were in critical condition. The man killed was unidentified. Rescue workers who hurried into the valley at daylight estimated that 81 houses were demolished. Hundreds of others were damaged. Business men estimated losses at $200,000.

Appeals for aid met with a quick response from the Chamber of Commerce and Red Cross as well as volunteer relief workers and physicians from Eagle Pass. The highway from Del Rio to the stricken area was blocked by high water, but relief workers were trying to reach it by Eagle Pass.

PRISON BOARD IS AT ODDS OVER CONDITIONS ON STATE PENAL FARM

HOUSTON, April 5 — Members of the Texas state prison board apparently were at odds today over alleged "disgraceful conditions" at Retrieve prison farm where reports of brutality arose. Col. W. A. Paddock, chairman, returned to Houston after spending yesterday at Austin trying unsuccessfully to organize a senate prison committee trip through the penitentiary system. Col Paddock said the trip had been planned for some time to familiarize senators with improvements undertaken. "So many were busy, however, that we could not organize a large enough party. I don't think they will make such a trip this session," he said.

French To Retain Old Conscript Army

PARIS, April 5. — France, in the midst of heavy troop movements to the great chain of forts guarding the German frontier voted to increase her army by retaining under the colors the trained conscripts who are about due to be released. The supreme council of national defense heard reports from foreign Minister Pierre Laval and ministers of the air, war, and navy. The council decided to ask the cabinet to issue a decree today "temporarily" retaining under the colors the last half of the conscripts totalling 110,000 men instead of liberating them late this month.

OPENING FOR HIGHWAY SET FOR THURSDAY

Cisco today was planning to take part in a big celebration of the opening of highway 89, the Weatherford cut-off, along with other West Texas cities, late in May. Between 5,000 and 10,000 people are expected to attend the mammoth picnic at Thurber, it was estimated by the general celebration committee in a meeting at Eastland Thursday afternoon. The figures were based upon the number attending the opening of the Weatherford viaduct recently, and others, it was said. Secretary J. E. Spencer of the Cisco Chamber of Commerce, who attended the meeting as Cisco's representative, late Thursday announced that May 30 had been chosen as the date for the big celebration. The meeting was attended by representatives from Weatherford, Thurber, Ranger, Eastland, Cisco, and Baird. These cities, as well as a number of others, are expected to take part in the picnic.

HITLER'S PROPOSALS FOR PEACE AHEAD

LONDON, April 5. — Adolf Hitler gave Sir John Simon a written memorandum making two specific proposals for pacification of Europe in their talks at Berlin, it was revealed authoritatively today. The proposals were: 1 — A 10 year non-aggression treaty with Germany's neighbors. 2 — A pledge to withhold economic and financial from any aggressor nation.

Pipeline Measure Gets Big Setback

AUSTIN, April 5. — The proposed $60,000,000 natural gas pipeline from the Texas Panhandle to St. Louis and Detroit received a setback in the Texas house today when it was re-referred to a new committee. Sponsors had planned immediate action on the bill. The vote to hold another committee hearing was so large that some considered it indicative of much opposition. Favorable reports had been given the bill yesterday by the house committee on conservation and reclamation. It now goes to the committee on oil, gas, and mining.

Work Relief Bill Report Approved

WASHINGTON, April 5. — The house today approved the conference report on the $4,860,000,000 work relief bill, that speeding the long delayed measure. Similar approval by the senate will send the bill to the White House. House acceptance of the final draft came 10 weeks after it first passed the original measure. The bill was redrafted in the senate. An unexpected conference stalemate over the proportion of public works fund to be spent for labor was ironed out in the conference.

Sale of Red Front Drug Is Announced

Sale of the Red Front Drug Store to Carl F. Alverson of Lubbock was announced in connection with it. The new owner intends to continue operation of the company here, he said. When asked if it will be run under the present management, he said, "Yes, for the present time." Joe Lea Moore is manager of the store.

Communion Service To Be Held Sunday

Sunday morning is the time for the regular quarterly communion service of the First Presbyterian church, it was announced today by Rev. J. Stuart Pearce, pastor. There will be a special service at 7:30 p. m., he said.

Claims Statler Estate Share

A school chum of Elva Statler Davidson, victim in a recent carbon monoxide poisoning mystery, is reported planning to fight for a share of the hotel heiress' $550,000 estate. Isabelle Baer of Minneapolis, shown here in Buffalo, N. Y., as she prepared to file a claim, as said to have been a beneficiary in an earlier will, the bequest being omitted in a later will.

SCHOOL BOARD TELLS WHY IT SEEKS OFFICE

The Cisco school board today asked that the following statement be published in regard to its activities. The board asked support for the three candidates seeking reelection tomorrow. Following are some of the reasons for its seeking the votes of the people: The law provides that every school board have a budget for the year. The board has always had such a budget, and to the best of its ability has followed it. There has been no annual audit published in the newspapers because of the prohibitive cost. The public, however, has been given financial statements from time to time.

WILD WEST IS BACK AS FOUR HOLD UP TRAIN

KANKAKEE, Ill., April 5 — The wild west of roaring guns and Jesse James returned to Kankakee today, with posses spreading over country highways in quest of train robbers and 50 frightened passengers on a south bound train bearing witness to return of frontier crime tactics to the twentieth century. Less than an hour out of Chicago last night, the still trembling passenger saw four masked men spring from inconspicuous seats to poets commanding five cars, heard the boom of a gun and saw a wounded man fall, and yielded the money to the raiders and watched the escape in the style of the old west. "The robbers, all young, took approximately $840 from the passengers. They refused jewelry and did not molest two mail cars or the occupants of the day coaches. They were believed to have escaped in an automobile driven by a confederate.

REV. COLLEN T O'PREACH

Elder E. L. Colleen will preach at the Primitive Baptist church at 7:30 this evening, it was announced today. The public is invited.

TAKEN AS HE BRINGS BACK STOLEN TAXI

MINERAL WELLS, April 5 — Arlin Elkins, 45, today was in the Palo Pinto county jail, facing charges of robbery with firearms and car theft, following the kidnaping Wednesday night of H. A. Penrod of Mineral Wells. Officers arrested Elkins, alias Robert Scott, near Metcalf Gap, last night as he was returning the car which he stole after kidnaping Penrod and releasing him at Cisco. Elkins admitted a long criminal record, which included four penitentiary terms in Texas and one in Oklahoma. All were for burglary and robbery. He was released from the Oklahoma state prison in 1934. Charges were filed in Palo Pinto following the capture of Elkins last night.

Drone To Cisco

Penrod told officers that a well dressed man carrying a small satchel asked him to take him a short distance into the country near Mineral Wells Wednesday night in his taxi. When they were out of town, he said, the man produced a gun and forced him to drive to Cisco.

Dies Seeks Silver Inflation At Once

WASHINGTON, April 5. — Immediate monetization of silver in order to raise domestic prices and stabilize world currency was demanded by Cong. Martin Dies, Texas, before a conference of silver advocates today. Dies said the young, look apparently uncoupled sedan sped by him on the Newburyport turnpike. He gave chase, overhauled the car, and discovered to his amazement that there were four persons in it. Their ages ranged from 10 to 13.

No Wheat Shortage Yet

The whole question of whether the United States can "starve itself into prosperity" is revived by news of the last few days. Dry weather over part of the Middle West and reports that grain is being imported "to make up for shortages" caused by drought and crop curtailment last year are coupled with a sharp alteration in Agricultural Adjustment Administration plans.

The natural repugnance one feels to the artificial restriction of food when people are hungry makes it easy to jump to overhasty conclusions on this question. We might start by getting the facts straight. There is no absolute grain shortage. Carryovers, particularly of wheat, more than filled the gap made by abnormally small crops last year.

Corn has come from Argentina and Roumania and small quantities of oats and rye from Poland. These imports have been used chiefly for poultry feed in areas like New England and California where they can be trucked cheaply from nearby ports.

Canada has a huge surplus of wheat, her total visible stocks a few weeks ago amounting to 250,000,000 bushels. Slow movement of this supply has kept Canadian prices low while the prospect of a short crop in the United States has raised American prices almost to a point where Canadian wheat would flow over the tariff of 42 cents a bushel.

Scientific Research Proves Bible

The old idea that once prevailed in the minds of people in general that science and the Bible conflicted is fast disappearing. During the past few years latest scientific discoveries have proven the Bible in every case.

The correspondence between two kings dating back to the time of Jeremiah, in the mid-seventh century B. C., has been discovered by the archaeological expedition led by Prof. J. L. Starkey of Great Britain.

The discovery was made at Tel ad-Duwei, the ancient city of Lachish. It consists of 12 ostraca fragments which are taken to be an exchange of secret letters between the Kingdom of Judaea and the Kingdom of Babylon or Egypt.

Details of the findings were not given out to the press. Professor Starkey expects to find more fragments. Only then will he be in a position to issue a statement on the exact significance of his findings, it was explained.

Shifting Soil Lays Bare Indian Relics

Sudden sandstorms that have swept the highlands of northeastern Colorado within recent weeks and which have been the despair of tidy housewives whose homes were filled with dust particles filtering in through the tiniest cracks about windows, have been a boon to students of archaeology.

After each of these storms which scooped off several inches of dirt from various stone-age and ancient Indian work-grounds, searchers have been able to pick up hundreds of artifacts, including spearheads, stone knives, scrapers, hand grinding stones and bowls as well as many fragments of Indian pottery.

The good luck of the hunters, both amateur and professional, following the windstorms has given impetus to the holding of the second stone age fair at Cornish, a village 20 miles northeast of here, in the heart of the searching field.

The stone-age fair was held last year for the first time at Cornish schoolhouse and attracted several scores of exhibitors. Since last year's fair there have been discoveries of Folsom and Yuma arrow points, in fragments, in plowed fields and blowouts in the vicinity of Cornish.

Turning Rich Wheat Land to Desert

Nature is repeating herself. Last year she brought the greatest drought in history to the great American mid-west, turned millions of acres of rich wheat land to desert, and had the laugh on the puny efforts of mere man to control production.

As if that lesson weren't severe enough, nature is again menacing crops—dust clouds recently swept day after day across the vast mid-west wheat country. The area affected includes over 50,000,000 acres of wheat land.

The secretary of agriculture has removed certain restriction on the planting of spring wheat. This is expected to cause a rise of from 10 to 30 million bushels in the normal spring crop.

Look Out For That Right!

The DARK BLOND

By CARLETON KENDRAKE

BEGIN HERE TODAY MILLENT GRAYES, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, finds her employer in his office dead. Millicent has a notebook in which Dringold had begun to dictate a confession.

HAPP turned to face Millicent. His eyes hard, steady and penetrating. "Have those books been stolen?" he asked.

"Have you seen Gentry since he left your room last night?" "No."

Millicent noticed the lines of his face, the grim, uncompromising stamp of a fighter.

"What responsibility?" "The responsibility of keeping those books. I should either have kept them myself or warned you what you might expect."

"I think," he said, "that Harry Felding went out on a certain particular and dangerous mission. I think he was discovered, and I think that he was killed because of that discovery. I don't think that he was killed by stick-up men."

"I'm afraid I can't help you," she remarked, trying to keep her voice from trembling.

"Do you think Bob would tell me?" "Yes," she said. "I think he's infatuated with you."

SHE followed him to his study. He seated himself in a big swivel chair, indicated that she was to sit at his desk.

"They're very beautiful eyes." "Did you think they were hard?" "Well, I wouldn't go so far as to say that."

"I'm sure I don't know," Jarvis Happ said moodily. "That's one of the things I want to find out. I was going to ask you to try and cultivate her and see if you could find out whether she actually was with Bob last night, and if so, whether they were alone or whether there were others with them."

"I could, of course," he said, "ask Bob. Bob would probably lie to me. But if he knew the police were going to check up on him he'd probably do something to cover up."

"I think," he said, "that Harry Felding went out on a certain particular and dangerous mission. I think he was discovered, and I think that he was killed because of that discovery. I don't think that he was killed by stick-up men."

Texas Topics

AUSTIN, April 5. — Sen. Clint C. Small of Amarillo interposed a phrase in senate debate that already has set in motion a train of developments reaching on out years into the future.

Sen. Small, who is rounding out eight years of notable service in the upper house of the legislature, said "and I don't expect to vote on many more confirmations..."

Already, Rep. H. K. Stanfield of Amarillo, who has established an outstanding record in two terms of house membership, has put himself definitely into the running for senator from the Panhandle district.

He shaped this course in view of the apparent purpose of Sen. Small to retire from the upper chamber. He would not run against Small.

Stanfield just recently scored a victory of statewide importance, when he shook off amendments from his bill to stop gas wastage that would have nullified the policy, and secured final house action on the bill as he wanted it.

Admission in the legislature that a special session will be required to act on the tax program, and possibly some of the appropriations, has fixed for the moment a clear picture of the prospects of the 120-day regular session on chief measures.

THE door opened, and the officer who had interrogated Millicent earlier in the morning entered the room.

"I have a typewriter in here?" he asked.

"I have two of them. There's a machine there on Millicent's desk and there's a portable here in my own desk. Why?"

"I want to take samples of their work." "May I ask why?" "Certainly. A typewritten document has entered the case. We want to find out where it was typed."

"I think," he said, "that Harry Felding went out on a certain particular and dangerous mission. I think he was discovered, and I think that he was killed because of that discovery. I don't think that he was killed by stick-up men."

"I'm afraid I can't help you," she remarked, trying to keep her voice from trembling.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Roosevelt's official family as well as his congressional majority has been split by the issue of work-relief wages.

The president, before he made up his mind for a low "subsistence" wage scale on federal projects under his $4,880,000,000 program, had to choose between a formidable group of liberal officials backed by labor organizations and a strong conservative group backed by business and financial interests which in general opposed the program itself.

Since the Senate tied the work-relief bill in a snarl by voting for the McCarran "prevailing wage" amendment, some members of the former group have been urging Roosevelt to make concessions.

One strong nucleus of advisers has urged that this is the time to demand a reduction in building materials prices along with a cut of high wage rates in the building trades, and put work-relief wages high enough to leave no substantial difference between those paid to public works labor and those to private works labor.

THE idea is to stimulate production, construction, and employment by breaking the rigidity of monopolistic prices of building materials along with rigid wage rates. Which was one of the original but long since abandoned theories of the Federal Housing Administration program.

Roosevelt has been told that a "half slave and half free" labor situation will be psychologically dangerous in any program insofar as it's designed to build up a recovery psychology. And that there's no real hope of stimulation for capital goods and construction until prices can be brought nearer to bargain levels which will make the public want to buy.

The administration group involved insists it's neither fair nor practical to expect labor to make the sacrifice without assurance first that material supplies men will help break the jam.

It says a few key men in the materials industries could be persuaded to take a first step that would bring prices down generally, on the theory that lower unit costs might mean prosperity for all.

No one knows whether Roosevelt can be persuaded to take this relatively bold step. But pressure for it has been growing steadily.

One of the administration's foremost economists has kept insisting that if you could get all agencies and labor groups contributing to all stages of building houses each to make a certain reduction, a huge boost in activity would result.

He doesn't see why makers of steel, glass, tires, and so on can't get together with automobile manufacturers, and sales agencies can't get together on a lower price program to increase production volume.

Industrial history shows that bigger volume and lower prices have often increased profits as well as employment.

LETTERS FROM READERS

To the Readers: This column is maintained as an open forum for the public that reads the Daily News.

The News welcomes comment by readers on whatever subject is of interest or importance to them and invites them to exchange views through it.

The exchanging of views, which presupposes that great American doctrine of freedom of speech and freedom of the press has been largely responsible for the rise of civilization from the dark state of ignorance and fear in which the world once was, to the present condition of enlightenment and liberty.

Thoroughly American, this doctrine assumes that progress will ultimately result to the greatest degree in which everyone is granted freedom of the speech and press not only in theory but in fact as well.

It takes the position that every individual, to achieve this goal, will come forward with his own comments, standing upon his own feet and uttering them like a man. It assumes that he will not present his views under cover of some disguise or camouflage, through this column or any other means.

The Daily News welcomes any sort of constructive criticism for itself, the city, or any public affairs. It invites contributions of such a nature but deprecates the receipt of destructive criticism and anonymous letters and reserves the right to refuse publication of such articles.

The Daily News realizes that the city, the nation, and civilization are benefited by comment of a constructive sort and offers the use of this column for that purpose.

Lighthouse Wins Honor Third Year

LOS ANGELES, April 5 — For the third straight year, the Point Vicente lighthouse, which flashes warnings to mariners from the tip of the knob of land swerving into the ocean between San Pedro and Redondo Beach south of here, today held the honor flag as the most efficient light on the California coast.

REPORTS recently made by the Acoustical Society of America say that the human ear does not hear the loudness of noises in proportion to the sound energy. Two squealing pigs are supposed to make twice as much noise as one pig, but sound recording instruments record only 20 per cent more noise.

BIG HITTERS FACE BAYLOR NINE FRIDAY

FORT WORTH, April 5. — The Texas Christian University baseball team will open its conference campaign Friday and Saturday against Baylor in Waco.

Coach Raymond B. "Bear" Wolf has announced that he will pitch either Dan Harston or Darrell Lester in the opener and Capt. Jimmy Jacks on Saturday. Harston and Jack are both left-handers.

The Frogs in their pre-conference games, have proved themselves a strong hitting aggregation, but the pitching staff has had difficulty in controlling their offerings. The Chistians held the Fort Worth Cats to a 4-to-3 decision, outpitching the professionals but walking in the winning run. Against the University of Oklahoma team T. C. U. dropped three out of four.

TORCH FOR VANITIES
LEIPZIG—A tiny, but efficient, electric torch has been devised to fit conveniently into a small vanity bag. It is self contained, with a diminutive electrical plant which assures many hours of illumination. Since the complete torch is about the size and weight of a small compact, it may be a constant companion, proving indispensable for traveling, as a bedside light, in searching dark closets or drawers and for countless other purposes. The torch, which was exhibited at the Leipzig Fair, also fits into an ordinary vest pocket.

WHO BUYS YOUR shirts and socks

More than 8 per cent of all men's shirts, stockings, underwear, neckties and handkerchiefs are purchased by women. Why? Men prefer to have their wives and mothers do the shopping because they realize that women are better shoppers—that they have a sixth sense for qualities and values.

How do women keep themselves informed? They have formed the habit of reading the advertisements in the newspapers. And they read them regularly, whether they want to buy anything or not. Then they know exactly where to go to purchase what they need, and they know to a penny just what they will have to pay.

From the advertisements any one can learn where to buy clothes, better foods, better household goods, better EVERYTHING. Read them carefully. They have news and suggestions for you!

What to Serve?

HAPPY KITCHEN CHATS

By MRS. MARTHA McDONALD

Everyone knows that the person with lots of vitality gets ahead faster—has more fun out of life. What we eat has a great deal to do with the vitality we enjoy! Here's an interesting fact, the largest need of our diet is for endurance, energy and science now reveals that bread is our outstanding energy food!

Bread is economical. It furnished necessary energy at low cost. It is such an important food that it can well supply from 25 per cent to 40 per cent of the total energy needs of the body, and still permit a well balanced diet for good nutrition.

Beauty and the capacity to enjoy life, are not possible without abundant energy. Bread is an important food for meeting this essential body need, efficiently. Instead of being avoided, bread should be the prominent energy food of the diet for that endurance energy so essential to vitality.

Bread contains from fifty to fifty-five per cent of carbohydrates, which supply energy mainly. Bread also includes proteins, used for building muscle and the daily repair of body tissue. Everyone needs energy food. Women especially should remember that; for no one can enjoy the full glow of health and beauty without proper energy nourishment. The strictest program of weight control requires energy food, as does the hardest kind of physical effort—the only difference is in the quantity of energy food needed. So bread, being our outstanding energy food, should not be avoided—but should serve as the prominent energy food of the diet.

These are facts verified by noted scientists and every statement made in the foregoing remarks has been accepted by the Committee on Foods of the American Medical Association.

White Bird Of Autumn Is Losing Battle With Age-Old Enemy Of Manchu Emperors

HSINKING, April 5—Hung Chiu White Bird of the Autumn, frail treasure of the Manchus, wonders whether it was worth while for her spearman ancestors to leave their tents on the plains and enter misty palaces for the questionable pleasure of ruling other people.

The palaces the Manchus entered in Peiping in 1644 were rich in history, but poor in comfort, cold in winter, dank in summer. In them lurked the enemy that strikes those who, for one reason or another, do not have enough sunshine, fresh air and play.

Hung Chiu is a Manchu daughter of Jung Yuan a Taotai in the days of the Tsing dynasty of China. She is Empress of Manchukuo—and she is very ill.

She rises each morning before the family shrine in the palace and awaits the day that her Emperor will leave to visit the Emperor of Japan. He will walk among cherry trees, be in sunshine and breathe fresh air that is free from dust.

But the Empress, of the same rugged stock as the Emperor son of the Prince of Chun, commander of the Plain White Banner, will remain here. She cannot take the deep breath of her girlhood days in Grandfather Chang Hsun's old garden in Peking. Deep breathing would bring her much pain.

It is late for sunshine, fresh air or the sight of cherry blossoms, to make much difference, according to those very close to the throne. None of these would give her enough strength to stand the rigors of a

Man o' War Overnight

It is difficult to conceive this gracious liner, with her large ports and many ventilators which fit her for tropical service, as becoming a second-line man-o-war overnight. But it is only her peacetime self that plies the intercoastal trade lanes. Her panoplies of war are stored in naval depots, like a uniform in mothballs.

The fact that American shipping men deplore is that our merchant marine, fifth second in size to Britain's, is fifth in speed and eighth in age among those of other maritime powers.

The stamp is jet black, bearing the reproduction of the famous MacWhirter etching, "Western Cable in a Storm." The stamp was made in the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, where the government now makes United States paper currency and stamps.

Vote on Rubber Strike Checked

To strike or not to strike? This question which threatens to involve not only the entire rubber industry but the automobile industry with it was on these ballots being poured out of the box by J. B. Carman of the Goodyear Industrial Assembly, first of a vote taken by employees of the big Akron, O. rubber shop. The assembly, or "company union" vote was 90 per cent against a strike. The "outside unions" were to vote later.

In American Navy yards on both coasts are the six-inch guns, ready to install on the fore and aft platforms. Stored ashore, too, are the anti-aircraft guns for the mounts on the bridge deck. That is the state of readiness of the lady-liners. Nearly all deck officers of this ship are naval reservists.

The speedy merchantmen are unarmored. But ships of this class, constructed under the latest Navy supervision, are divided into a series of watertight compartments, giving the hulls high torpedo resistance.

BAKED HAM AN IDEAL DISH FOR ENTERTAINING AT EASTER TIME

Easter week is a time when considerable attention is given to entertaining. There is the usual number of Easter brides to be feted; the young people are home from school and college. An invitation to a buffet supper will be greeted with delight. The bride and groom will know that all their good friends will be present and the young people will welcome the ray of informality which goes with this type of party.

And baked ham is a half ham or a whole one lends itself to "dressing up" and goes with all the lovely linens, silver, and china which you will use to make the buffet table attractive — for a baked ham is a thing of beauty. It is probably less trouble to prepare, too, than any main dish you could select, according to Inez S. Willson, prominent home economist. Practically all you need do is to put it in the oven at 300 degrees F. (a moderate oven) and let it cook until it is nearly done; then it is decorated according to taste and put back in the oven to brown.

Buffet Supper Menu
Assorted Hors d'Oeuvres
Stuffed Olives Wrapped with Bacon and Broiled
Caviar on Rye Crisp
Deviled Eggs
Anchovy Croquettes on Toast
Pickles
Jelly
Baked Ham
Au Gratin Potatoes
Hot Buttered Rolls
Jellied Fruit Salad
Ice Cream in Molds
Little Cakes
Coffee

The hors d'oeuvres offer all kinds of possibilities to conceal a lovely platter at the other end where an expert carver presides to serve the delicate pink slices to each guest.

One hot dish is always acceptable and au gratin potatoes offer a good choice, because they will stay good and hot in a casserole. Perhaps you will need two casseroles. Spaghetti may be used instead of potatoes for the hot dish, and, if you like, you may serve a hot vegetable also. New peas are a nice accompaniment for ham and the first ones are always a real treat.

Standard Methods for Baking Ham
Place a well-scrubbed ham in an uncovered pan with the fat side up. Cook until done or until the meat thermometer registers 160 degrees F. Allow 25 minutes per pound for 19-12 pound hams, 30 minutes per pound per pound for half hams, 20 minutes per pound for large hams. About 45 minutes before the ham is done, remove it from the oven and carefully take off the rind, leaving a "collar" around the shank end. Mark fat into squares with a sharp knife. This ham is now ready for the final decorative touch which is here that the hostess may rise to heights of culinary glory.

Suggestions for Decorating Ham
1. After the ham fat has been scored carefully into squares or diamonds, outline the squares with finely chopped maraschino cherries. Place a slice of pineapple in the center with four or the cherries put equidistant at the outer edges of the pineapple slice. Put back into oven for few minutes.
2. Rub ham with very fine bread crumbs. Pour over entire ham a mixture of 1 cup warm honey mixed with one cup chopped maraschino cherries. Return to a moderate oven and bake until ham is done and the crust is lightly browned.
3. Stick cloves into the center of each square, put on a paste of moistened brown sugar and dry mustard. Lay the collar a little under the edge or they may be held in place with toothpicks. Place a slice of stuffed olive in the center of each piece of lemon.
4. Sections of orange may be arranged in a flower form in the center of the ham. This is very appropriate decoration for the spring season, because it will tie in with the centerpiece which will probably be of spring flowers.

Dessert Part of Decoration
The ice cream may be had in individual molds selected to suit the occasion. These are easy to serve and may be brought to the table on one large platter after the main part of the meal is cleared away. With the coffee urns bubbling and plates of little cakes to accompany the ice cream, the buffet supper becomes a happy memory of a happy occasion.

DESDEMONA

Monday morning at 11 o'clock at the Desdemona Baptist church, funeral services were held over the remains of Mrs. Josephine Herrington, who passed away Saturday, at the age of 85 years, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. O. E. Fowler of Hillsboro, conducted the funeral, being assisted by the local pastor, Rev. Z. C. Chambliss, and Rev. O. E. Fowler of Fort Worth. The deceased was a pioneer settler of Desdemona, her husband, Joe Herrington, who passed away about 43 years ago, having purchased a large farm a few miles north of town when they were both young. She is survived by 10 children, seven sons and three daughters, as follows: Van Herrington of Bowie, Mrs. O. E. Fowler of Fort Worth, Mrs. J. H. Little of Abilene, Mrs. Gus Horton of Rising Star, Luther Herrington of Clovis, New Mexico, J. D. Herrington and J. L. Herrington both of Lorena, Tex., Ernest E. Herrington of Fort Worth, Carl Herrington of Aransas Pass, and Tom Herrington of San Antonio. Besides these children she is survived by thirty-six grand-children and two great-grandchildren. Rev. Cox who was formerly pastor here at Desdemona and who had been her pastor as well as a neighbor many years ago paid high tribute to this splendid christian woman who had lived true to her faith and her church since childhood and whose life will be an influence for good for years to come. Rev. Fowler, her son-in-law, at whose home she had lived the past few years, told of her patience during months of suffering. The floral offerings were very beautiful and numerous. After the services at the church, interment was made at the local cemetery where a grave was made beside that of her husband, Desdemona relatives who survive are a nephew, Roy Rushing and wife; a great nephew, Weldon Rushing and his mother, Mrs. J. H. Rushing, Sr.; another great nephew, J. H. Rushing, Jr., and wife and three little daughters, and his mother, Mrs. Grace Bray. To all of the sorrowing relatives, sincere sympathy of the community is extended.

Keep Chickens Out Of Garden To Avoid Soup Say City Cops

How'd you like to come to the city hall to bail out a couple of your Plymouth Rocks?

That's what may happen if something isn't done about your neighbor's garden. City police indicated Thursday that what with spring coming on fast as it is, chickens being what they are, and neighbors who plant garden feeling the way they do about those gardens, poultry raisers ought to keep a closer watch upon their chickens.

Chief M. L. Perdue asked that Cisco people keep their chickens out of neighbors' gardens, and consequently the city hosegaw or the neighbor's soup.

Federal Agent Gets Man After 9 Years

SALEM, Ore., April 5 — It took Roy R. Norene, head of the federal immigration and naturalization service in Portland, nine years but he got his man. Since 1926 Norene has been looking for Lew Sen, Chinese who was smuggled into the United States. On a visit here, Norene went into a Chinese restaurant and as mere routine asked the Orientals there to show their papers. The certificate presented by one man bore the name Lew Sen, and the federal agent's search was ended. Sen said he obtained the certificate in Seattle, Wash., where he attended school and declared he had been in Salem most of the time since coming to this country.

need a brilliant knife or an accomplished pevert.

Aims of Education It is well to keep in mind the aims of education as enumerated by the National Teachers association and Parent-Teachers association; they are first: sound health; second: mastery of the tools of thought which are reading, writing, language and numbers; third: worthy home membership; fourth: vocational efficiency; fifth: good citizenship; sixth: wise use of leisure; seventh: ethical character.

That these aims may be accomplished it is important that those employed in our schools are fitted by nature and training for this momentous task. We all know that GOOD teachers make good schools, therefore it behooves a school board to exercise the very best judgment in the selection of those who are to administer its policies. Too often the school board pays practically no attention to policies of the school other than insofar as they affect the finances of the district. They should we think, take a far greater interest in seeing that the objects of education are obtained.

Qualifications Having known for many years these women candidates for trustees, we believe that they possess the necessary qualifications for serving efficiently on our school board. They are splendid home-makers and managers, they are mothers and patrons of the school, all deeply interested in child welfare. They are women of unquestioned integrity, good common sense, intelligent, industrious and courageous. They realize that the responsibility would be great, and that they would have much to learn, but they are teachable women.

They have learned through their parent-teacher and club activities something of parliamentary procedure and co-operation. They also know that their only compensation would be the consciousness of having served the taxpayers of the district to the best of their ability, and of having helped our boys and girls to achieve the above mentioned aims. Chief among which are good citizenship, ethical character and an appreciation for the finer things of life. They believe in a clean, wholesome school environment where our boys and girls may be led by example as well as precept to develop high ideals, useful habits, and to learn to think for themselves.

Too often women are not given the credit due them as business administrators, and too often men are given too much credit. As an example of business acumen any citizen interested should visit our newest school building and inspect it carefully, and read those names on the corner-stone, then find out just the amount that building cost. These three women have proven business ability and know how to get a dollar's worth of value for each dollar expended.

Other Duties We think, in addition to the three duties of trustees mentioned in a recent issue of this paper, the women would recognize that there are other duties also, one of which would be to see that a school budget is made showing how much money is available for what purposes, etc. A budget serves as a guide in spending, and management of finance. Another, and a very important one would be the auditing of the books regularly that the public may know exactly how and for what purpose their money is spent. Let it be kept in mind that an audit is an impersonal fact-finding inquiry, and merely shows who spent a given sum at a given time, and for what purpose. An honest official is not only willing, but anxious that his accounts be audited.

In conclusion may we say that many women are serving as trustees on bonds of education in our state institutions, and in many cities, towns and villages, and they are proving efficient, and of much value in raising the moral standards of our schools. They believe, as never before, that the greatest need of the day is integrity of character.

Let's vote for the women — Mrs. N. A. Brown, Mrs. Pannie Pulley Kimmell, Mrs. P. R. Warwick — "A change won't hurt."

Spark May Replace Old Crack Of Whip

LEIPZIG, April 5 — Old-fashioned whips for driving horses and cattle may be replaced by an ingenious electric goad which is at once humane and efficient.

Instead of belaboring the animals brutally, the driver equipped, merely touches the beast with the end of his cane. The cane is supplied with an electric battery, and a light touch is sufficient to guide the animals in the desired direction. The efficiency of the electro whip is astonishing. The shock, though convincing is absolutely painless and does not injure the skin or flesh in any way. The current is automatically switched on when the animals are touched, and turned off when the cane is raised, so that the use of current is very economical.

The electric goad which was exhibited at the Leipzig fair complies with the laws for the prevention of cruelty to animals.

Agriculture Boys Practice Judging

Vocational agriculture students of Cisco high school Wednesday practiced livestock judging in preparation for the Tarleton college contests, at DeLeon and Comyn, J. M. Bird, teacher, announced.

They visited the C. M. Caraway ranch at Comyn, where they judged shorthorn cattle and Hampshire hogs, and the Hughes Dairy at DeLeon where they judged Jersey cattle. They were accompanied by W. W. Wallace, Charles Flaherty, and Bird.

Apple Blossoms Are Pushed By Cherries

WASHINGTON, April 5 — Oriental cherries are nudging apple blossoms for recognition as the country's favorite bloom of spring, according to Paul Russell of the Agriculture Department.

Russell said Oriental flowering cherries blossom well in about the same climatic limitations as do peaches. He said they are becoming increasingly popular as "one of the glorious heralds of spring."

"There was a time," he said, "when the return of spring brought to mind apple blossoms more than anything else, and while their claims upon our affections are still secure, they have a fast-growing rival in the Oriental cherries, which each year make a more glorious display in the land of their adoption."

Basketball Rules Change Expected

MADISON, Wis., April 5 — Coach Harold E. (Bud) Foster of the University of Wisconsin basketball team, co-holders of the 1935 Big Ten title, expects a change in the tip-off rules and the eventual abolition of the center jump in Western conference play.

"I believe there is likely to be a restraining circle drawn around the center circle with players forced to stay out of that zone until after the tip-off," Foster said, speaking of the immediate future. "That will open up the game and allow some scoring plays off the tip-off. This is virtually impossible at the present time because of the jamming around the center circle."

Foster does not believe that the Big Ten will make any rule on holding the ball on the center-pivot position, because there are already too many fouls.

"However, I believe that the entire center-pivot game will be legislated out of basketball within the next half dozen years," he said. "Something should be done about uniformity of officiating but nobody seems to know exactly what it should be."

Bilious Attacks, Dizziness

"Bilious attacks," dizziness, spots before the eyes, a feeling of fullness after ordinary meals, belching up of gas, a dull, sluggish feeling — due to constipation — are usually driven away by a dose or two of old, reliable THEFDOR'S BLACK-DRAUGHT.

"I take Black - Draught for biliousness, dizziness, and when I feel dull, tired and stupid," writes Mr. M. L. Simmons, of Pickens, S. C. "It seems to cleanse the system and make one feel a hundred per cent better."

Electric Refrigeration

Ask anyone who owns one! The answer will be that an electric refrigerator is a decidedly thrifty investment—something you can't afford to be without.

Electric refrigeration cuts your food budget to a remarkable extent. It reduces food spoilage to a minimum; makes it possible to preserve leftovers; enables you to buy in larger quantities, thus taking advantage of lower prices.

And as to the cost of an electric refrigerator... both initial and operating costs are exceedingly low. Only a few cents a day will pay for all the comforts, luxuries and dependability of electric refrigeration. Invest in low-cost refrigeration NOW!
