Measure to Abolish 'Market Demand' Law Introduced

MOORE SEEKS TO RESTORE WASTE BASIS

AUSTIN, Jan. 19.—A measure to abolish the market demand oil proration law, passed in a special legislative session in November, 1932, was introduced in the Texas senate today by Senator Joe Moore, of Greenville. Moore's bill seeks to restore the proration status to the physical waste basis as provided in a measure passed in 1931 which prohibited market demand as a factor. Market demand, Moore said, is turning over control of the oil industry to major oil companies. Under it they are going to get absolute control of the east Texas field as is indicated in the recent drop in oil prices, he said.

THOMPSON EXCLAIMS AGAINST RUMORS.

TYLER, Jan. 19.—The state railroad commission resumed its hearing in east Texas pipe line practices here today with a plea from Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson for stilling of rumor that commission employees were derelict in their duties. The plea was a public announcement in which Thompson told of previous investigations to discover cases of negligence. "This is a put up or shut up announcement," supplemented Attorney James V. Allred. Injunctions against overproduction of oil from more than 106 wells were announced here today by the commission.

Dry Leader Says Women 'In Revolt'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Mrs. Henry W. Peabody, militant chairman of the Woman's National Committee for Law Enforcement, today warned members of congress that women are organizing in "revolt" to turn wet legislators out of office. Declaring the beer bill to be unconstitutional and a menace to the welfare of 40,000,000 children, Mrs. Peabody said "Women throughout the states are in revolt as normal women always are when children are in danger." Mrs. Peabody said women drys would demonstrate in 30 state capitols and file protests with state legislatures.

DEMO LEADERS ADMIT SHORT TERM FAILURE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Democratic leaders today conceded the complete collapse of their once ambitious program for the short session of congress. Prohibition repeal, beer, farm relief, and budget-balancing legislation have one by one fallen prey to divided party opinion and determined republican opposition. "The program will not be put over until the special sessions, which congressional leaders today told President-elect Roosevelt is unavoidable. One piece of legislation leaders of both parties are convinced must pass immediately—the drastic bankruptcy bill designed to scale down debts and permit extensive industrial reorganization upon a sounder financial basis.

Blames Citizens For Corruption

HOUSTON, Jan. 19.—The corruption of political parties is entirely the fault of citizens, believes Dr. E. G. Caldwell, dean of Rice Institute and professor of American history. In the first of a series of lectures, Dr. Caldwell said "if citizens shut their eyes to the significance of parties they have no one but themselves to blame if the parties, cut off from their customary sources of revenue, turn for financial assistance to interested and sinister groups."

Mrs. Ferguson Takes Oath as Governor

LOBOES WILL BE GUESTS OF CLUBS TONIGHT

Members of the Cisco Lobo squad of 1932 and their coaches will be the guests of the Lions and Rotary clubs at a banquet on the Laguna roof garden this evening beginning at 7 o'clock. Speaker for this program will be "Prof" R. E. Jackson, of the College of Industrial Arts, Denton. He is widely known as a wit and philosopher who combines common sense with a rare humor, and the program committee was elated over being able to secure him. G. W. Collum and his Lobo orchestra and the high school quartet will also appear on the program. While the banquet is being given by the two luncheon clubs and will count as a regular meeting for each, it is open to the business men and Lobo fans generally. Jack Anderson is in charge of ticket sales. The program committee is headed by A. D. Anderson.

Improvements Made In Nance Mtr. Co.

A complete reorganization of the parts department of the Nance Motor company to bring that department up to the latest standard is being done under direction of representatives of the Ford Motor company. The new arrangement will make the department equally accessible to the show rooms and business offices and to the shop. Instead of fronting the show rooms as now, the service counter will parallel D avenue with entrance from both the shop and the business offices. A new arrangement of shelving is being installed. Similar improvements are being made throughout the entire plant, including the service station.

Funeral services for Mrs. C. M. Townsley, Wink, will be conducted from the First Presbyterian church here tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock with Rev. J. Stuart Pearce officiating. The Green funeral home will have charge of the body. Mrs. Townsley was the wife of C. M. Townsley, an employee of the Humble Pipe Line company and formerly a resident of Cisco. Mr. Townsley was transferred to Wink 18 months ago. Mrs. Townsley died Wednesday, January 18, of pneumonia. A. C. Green of the Green Funeral home went to Wink yesterday and brought the body here for burial. Pallbearers will be employees of the Humble company, it was announced. Besides her husband, Mrs. Townsley is survived by two small children, Marcell and Marilyn and Jack Collier, a son by a former marriage.

Ferguson, husband of the governor. Mrs. Ferguson is shown in the center. Behind the microphone is Lieut. Gov. Edgar Witt and at right, "Coke" Stevenson, speaker of the Texas house of representatives.

GUARD'S DEATH IS EXPLAINED AS 'COVER UP'

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 19.—Authorities said today they believed B. O. Simpson, slain chief guard at the San Antonio state hospital for the insane, was murdered in an attempt to hide another killing at the institution last March. Simpson's body, full of stab wounds and with his belt tight around his neck, was found on the roof of the hospital dining room January 5. Another murder was uncovered as officers investigated the Simpson killing. Two men were held as slayers of J. Oneal, a patient, who was found beaten to death in his ward last year. Simpson was killed, it was said, because the Oneal killers feared he would tell what he knew.

STAB WOUNDS PROVE FATAL TO STUDENT, 18

FORT WORTH, Jan. 19.—William Turpin, 18, died in a hospital here today from stab wounds received last Monday in a student affray at North Texas Agricultural college Arlington.

A quarrel over a notebook resulted in the fatal wounds, according to Dean E. E. Davis. Oneal, of Cisco, Waco, has been charged with assault to murder in connection with the attack. Cisco, also 18, was expelled last Saturday for misbehavior, according to the dean. Monday he returned to a rooming house near the college, found Turpin there and the two youths withdrew to a room. Sounds of scuffling attracted other occupants. Turpin was found with severe stab wounds in his throat.

Statistician Visits Randolph College

David T. Blose of the United States Department of Education called on President Lee Clark of Randolph college this morning. He is gathering statistics for the office of education at Washington. In the past blanks have been mailed to the schools, but the government, seeing a need of more specific information, is sending men out to collect the necessary material.

Solons to Get Sales Tax Measure Friday

AUSTIN, Jan. 19.—Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson's proposed 3 per cent sales tax will be placed before the legislature tomorrow in bill form. Rep. J. C. Duvall, of Fort Worth, announced today. The announcement was made by Dept. Commander King included the fact that the latest internationally known business man to be against the National Economy League was Roger W. Babson, recognized world authority on financial matters who has withdrawn from the League and denounced the present campaign of the organization. Mr. Babson said: "I believe it is a mistake to send any money or memberships to the National Economy League until they cut the word 'Economy' out of their name."

RATIO OF BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN CISCO IN 1932 IS 3 TO 2

There were three births for every two deaths in Cisco last year, according to a compilation of vital statistics by Dr. W. P. Lee, city health officer. Dr. Lee's records include only those which occurred within the immediate limits of the city of Cisco. There were others occurring just outside the city limits in homes which to all practical facts are Cisco homes but records in these cases are filed with the county at Eastland and are not kept by the city officials. There were 100 births here during the year and 68 deaths, Dr. Lee announced.

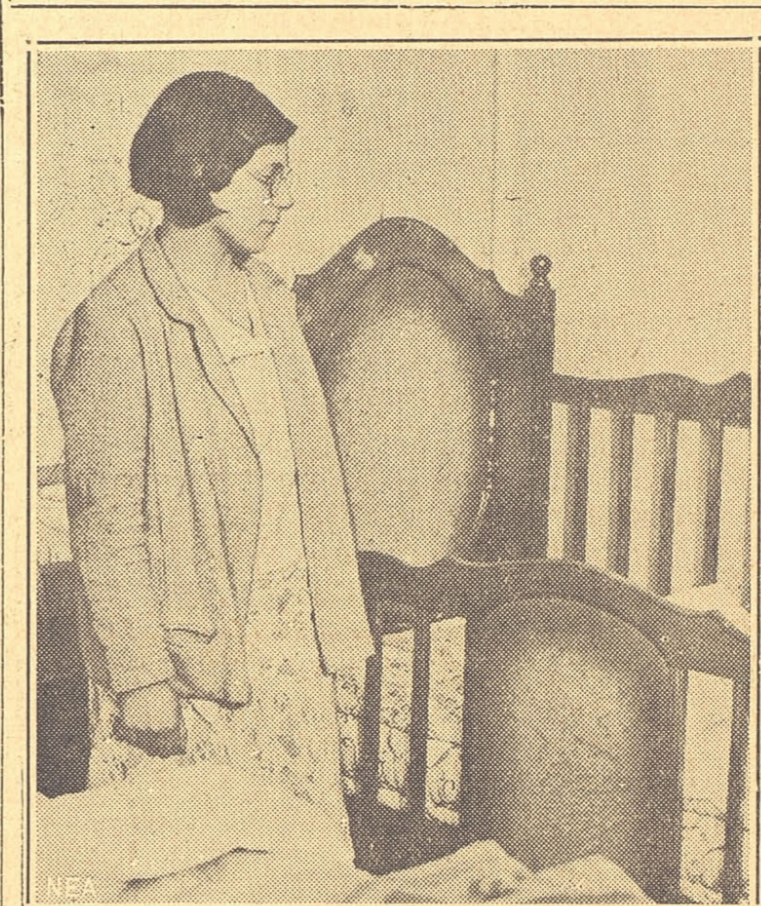

EXCAVATION FOR FEDERAL BLDG STARTS

Excavation for the new post office building began this morning, with men and four teams at work. The excavation contract has been let to J. H. Latson, according to E. Albert Jensen, superintendent of construction for the H. W. Underhill Construction company which has the building contract. "I think Mr. Latson intends to feel his way along," Jensen said, explaining that the work will not be pushed at first, but that more men, teams and trucks will be added as the work progresses. "Of course the labor is all local boys," Jensen added. The top soil is being placed on the back lot, Jensen said. The government requires that it be left for later use on the building lot. Other earth is to be used at various places over the town, the excavation contractor being required to furnish his own dump. One of these places will be the lot adjoining the new post office site, which is to be made into a city park, Jensen said. Jensen said that Latson expects to complete the excavation in two weeks, at which time the work of putting the foundation will start. The hole is to be 117 feet long by 78 feet wide, varying in depth from 12 feet at the west end to 8 feet at the other. Approximately 2,800 cubic yards of earth are to be removed, Jensen said.

PART OF LOOT STOLEN HERE IS RECOVERED

It was either the work of a madman, or a fiendish act of vengeance, police are agreed, that brought death to 4-month-old Frank Michael Cammarano as he lay in the crib pictured here. The baby was asleep on the second floor of his parents' home in New York when it was stabbed repeatedly with a hunting knife. An aunt, Theresa Cammarano, is shown where the slayer is believed to have stood. Police were without a single significant clue.

TEACHING COSTS IN CISCO SCHOOLS CUT 50 PER CENT

By FRANK LANGSTON Teaching cost in the Cisco public schools has been reduced almost 50 per cent in the last four years, according to Supt. R. N. Cluck. The per capita teaching cost in 1928-29 was $43. Mr. Cluck said, as against a cost of $22.25. This represents a cut of $20.75, or an average cut of $5.19 per capita for each year. Money paid out for teachers' salaries, he said, has shown the same general trend, the 1928-29 year salaries being $66,067.50 as against the 1932-33 salaries of $33,135.50. This represents a reduction of $32,932, or average annual cut of $8,133. At the same time there has not been so great a decrease in enrollment as in teaching expense, which accounts for the drop in the per capita teaching cost. In 1928-29 the enrollment was 1636. This year it is 1,249, Cluck said. Not Total Expense "Of course these figures do not represent the total running expense for the school," Supt. Cluck said, speaking of the on teachers' salaries. "There are some expenses that remain about the same every year, such as insurance, fuel, and supplies, including crayon, erasers, floor oil, and the like." The sinking fund on the school buildings also remains the same, he said, and such static expenses bring the total percentage of saving down. Even though this is true, though, there has been some saving in the general running expenses. In 1928-29 the total expense was $97,450.64; this year he said it will be approximately $51,000, exclusive of the sinking fund, Cluck said. These comparative figures show a reduction of $116,112.66, or an average annual cut of $11,612.66 on the yearly total school expenses. "The percentage of this cut is not as great as the cut in teaching expense alone, but it is a saving," Cluck said.

8,265 PRODUCING OIL WELLS IN THIS DISTRICT

There are 8,265 producing oil wells in the west central Texas district with a total potential production of 46,046 barrels per day and a total allowable under the marginal well law of 31,329 barrels per day, according to a summary just issued by Omar Burket, deputy oil and gas supervisor in charge of the district. The allowable for the district under the present proration law is 27,500 barrels daily. The difference between potential production and the allowable is 18,546 barrels. Wells are divided into classes as follows: No. 1, 6,390 wells potential production, 17,420 barrels; average per well, 2.72 barrels. No. 2, 1,507; potential production, 28,367 barrels; average per well, 15.50 barrels. No. 3, 367; potential production, 5,259 barrels; average per well, 13.33 barrels. Flowing Wells There are 70 flowing wells in the district, the report shows with a potential of 3,091 barrels per day and an average of $115.57 barrels. These wells have a gas volume of

"BACK TO THE OX CART PERIOD OF HISTORY"

It is possible that the new slogan is "back to the ox cart period of history?" Leading economists and relief workers of the United States have called on state and federal governments "to investigate and encourage barter or emergency exchange systems for the interchange of goods and service among the jobless as a means of alleviating existing employment." All these economists belong to the American Statistical association. Mostly they are outstanding educators, university presidents, college presidents, practical dreamers as well as others who are practically minded, and their advice to all governments is to establish emergency exchange systems already in successful operation in various parts of the country. They have asked Pres. Hoover to appoint a special committee to investigate the feasibility of barter exchange and to act as a clearing house of information on the best practice in their establishment and operation.

Man must have shelter for his dependents; man must have garments for his dependents; man must have food for his dependents; man must have medicine for his dependents. There is an army of idle numbering 12,000,000. Really, the plan is to ask the idle workers to perform labor in exchange for the staples and the goods and the wares which have been deprived of a market by the wreckage of the purchasing power of the millions. But why ask Pres. Hoover? In a speech in the not far past to a great audience of his countrymen, he declared that poverty was disappearing from the land and that the poor house as an institution in a very short time would be as dead as the wild horse or the wild buffalo or the wild deer or the ancient dodo.

Away down here in Texas the people are demanding, and this too with their backs to the wall, relief from the high cost of government, a market for their staples and products and work for the idle who must be fed and sheltered and clad until happy days return again to this commonwealth and nation. Why should people fight over ghosts in the face of a crisis like this? Why should they attempt to grind personal axes. Why should they carry their hates or their prejudices or their racial or religious animosities out on the firing line with the workers of Texas, the thinkers of Texas, the employers of labor, as well as the wage winners, making daily sacrifices to carry on and do something toward restoring a fair share of prosperity and happiness to a harassed people and a greater state.

NEW REFINERIES ON THE WAY.

New refineries are on the way in Texas. Wirt Franklin of Oklahoma, president of the Independent Association of America, is the bearer of glad tidings. He says millions of dollars will be spent in the next few months for construction of new oil refineries at Baltimore and Houston; that the new construction is the result of the effect of the oil excise tax in the present revenue bill; that American labor will receive employment in building the refineries, whose total cost is estimated at $13,000,000. Moreover, and to the point, the fighting oil producer of Oklahoma says, "the exportation of American factories of production plants to foreign countries to the detriment of American workers is now reversed." Isn't this a Wirt Franklin hint to "buy American" in order to keep American money at home?

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON

WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON.—Various forms of inflation—or "reflation"—are being proposed by those who want to relieve the farmer of his burden of debt.

Inflation would be a form of emergency relief—relief for the farmer whose taxes and mortgage charges threaten to deprive him of his farm home. The most popular proposal for permanent relief is the voluntary domestic allotment plan, which is likely to be passed by this Congress or the next in an attempt to subsidize the farmer onto a price level which will give him some pretense of economic equality with the rest of the population.

But the form of emergency relief which the farmer is most likely to receive from Congress is something akin to the proposal of Senator Cordell Hull of Tennessee, who would use the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to save the farmer from mortgage sales and foreclosure sales.

Hull would have the R. F. C. advance stricken farmers sufficient funds to protect them from mortgage sales and tax sales.

HULL has introduced a bill which would lend up to $1,000,000,000 to hard-pressed farmers. The bill proposes to lend money at 3 per cent to farmers who need that money to pay mortgage interest and taxes.

It is a conservative measure introduced by a conservative statesman. Hull is the father of the income tax and is the foremost authority in Congress on tariffs.

And so, while Senator George of Georgia offers a bill which would lend three R. F. C. billions to farmers who could wangle a 50 per cent reduction in their mortgage indebtedness, Hull offers this measure, which he explains as follows: "Everybody is now trying to achieve a temporary or permanent relief for the farmer. But conditions are so badly dislocated and price levels are so low that the present is not an apt time for the application of any scheme for permanent relief."

"THIS bill of mine segregates two years as a period during which agriculture may be at ease. The psychology of the plan should help restore confidence and lead to a gradual readjustment of prices and values. At the end of that period, I think, the farmers should be several billion dollars better off."

"It would lower the interest level on all farm mortgages for at least two years and perhaps lower it permanently, for the R. F. C. would lend at 3 per cent to carry whatever existing obligations might be necessary. It would contact and lend so as to secure for two years such farmers as might be up against mortgages but who were unable to pay interest despite use of ordinary diligence. And by advances to taxpayers who are temporarily delinquent we can reopen schools now closed because counties and communities are unable to support them."

"This method of emergency relief is direct, simple and practical. It is infinitely more reasonable than the R. F. C. loans to railroads and banks because it involves 30,000,000 people who are the backbone of our entire business condition."

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

"We failed to receive our copy of the Daily News of Friday, January 13th," writes Mrs. Don Sivalis, of Cisco, now temporarily living at Midland, Texas, where Mr. Sivalis has charge of a large territory for an oil tank company. "Will you please slip a copy in with one of our papers this week. We enjoy the paper so much and are so interested in everything about Cisco that we hate to miss a copy of the paper."

The home paper is about the best means of keeping Cisco people together. "Punch" that famous English magazine of humor, is not only a great magazine, but an institution that circulates all over the world binding Englishmen to their homeland and preserving ties that might otherwise be dissipated in strange customs and alien lands.

The home paper serves the same end. It preserves the sentiment of associations that have been broken, keeps alive traditions, and refreshes a sense of kinship among those who have been separated in the changing picture of life.

C. C. Lamax has discovered a new name for these "hard times" which, I believe, more appropriately expresses one phase of the reaction to the present economic conditions than any other. Psychologists have gone to great lengths to explain the theory that the depression exists in the minds of the public, but Lamax dispenses of the entire case in one word.

"I believe the 'impression' is over", he said.

Now whether or not "O. C." was merely being facetious or whether or not he was serious—it is always difficult to diagnose Lamax—I do not know. Dealing with a commodity as capricious as electricity, which his stock in trade, has perhaps affected him, for we are known to borrow of the character of what we handle.

At any rate I hope the "Impression" is over.

In the Political Arena

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD
William Gibbs McAdoo is one of the most remarkable men in public life. He has his political friends and his political enemies. He is as direct in action and speech as James A. Reed of Missouri and never hesitates to "go down the line." He will never be president. Alfred E. Smith will never be president. Regardless of this the two rated among the few best equipped men on the stage of action. They are direct action men in business or politics, and never fence riders. McAdoo will take his seat as a democratic senator from California March 4. He is for quick travel as well as quick action. He traveled in the air from Los Angeles to Washington. He does not belong to the oxcart period, the covered wagon period, or the iron horse period of civilization. He is an airman. He was in conference for three days with congressional leaders. He advocated immediate farm relief before congress considers other measures. He is 70 and as virile as the average man of 50. This was the message he sent to the American people: "The dawn of prosperity rests with the restoration of the farmers purchasing power. This can be brought about through wise legislation because the farmers' prosperity has been largely destroyed through unwise legislation."

Sen.-Elect McAdoo would amend the farm mortgage act to provide farm credit at low interest rates and amortization period, possibly reaching to 100 years. He suggested two per cent as a possible interest rate and a fraction of one per cent as the amortization charge. He declared one of the most heartless things things happening today is the foreclosure of farm and home mortgages on an unprecedented scale. He was very emphatic, describing the home loan bill under which the home loan bank system was established as a "hoax". He said legislation for relief for home owners as well as farmers should be enacted. This California senator is going to be one of the outstanding leaders at the capital of the country. He sounded this warning: "The West expects action by a new administration and has every confidence it will get it. It will not stand a period of political doldrums. Roosevelt and Garner were elected because the people believed they mean business and that the democratic party will back them in doing business promptly for relief of the country."

McAdoo is a former secretary of the treasury. Carter Glass is a former secretary of the treasury. They are said to be close friends. McAdoo placed this in the record: "There is immediate need for a measure to make banks safe for depositors and more responsive to the credit needs of the country. My own judgment is that prosperity depends more on wise economic legislation than on anything else. The moment people are convinced this kind of legislation is on the way and will be promptly enacted confidence will revive and improved conditions will follow." In the memorable campaign years of 1920 and 1924 McAdoo was the overwhelming choice of Texas democrats for the presidential nomination. He lost. Now he will take his seat in the senate, and unless the prophets of the hour are false prophets he will become one of the most powerful leaders of the majority and the Roosevelt administration. Sen. Glass is a last ditch fighter. They are last ditch fighters of his own party who are determined to strike the branch banking provision out of the storm-tossed bill of the Virginia senator. Many republican and democratic senators are battling against the branch bill proposal. Glass accepted a substitute for his pet. He introduced a compromise amendment to allow "branch banking only in states permitting it now among state institutions."

News Item Reunites Two Army Friends

BELOIT, Wis., Jan. 19. — Two friends who parted in the wild excitement on board the troopship Tuscania immediately after it was torpedoed 15 years ago have been reunited by a newspaper article. Each believing the other had perished in the disaster, they were amazed to learn they were living only 35 miles apart.

The men, John C. Hopper, Beloit, a corporal with C company, 107th Supply Train of the 32nd Division, and Asbury Vale, Lake Geneva, Captain of B Company, were united after the Tuscania was torpedoed.

Describing the night of Feb. 5, 1918, Hopper said, "Several of us were playing pinocle that night under the hatch. We had removed our shoes, leggings and bibs, and were spreading a blanket on the floor for the cards, when the crash came."

"I was a member of Company C, stationed just behind Company B, commanded by Captain Vale. His experience was our experience when we found the davits broken and the life boats smashed. We were among the last to leave the Tuscania.

"Captain Vale was picked up by the same destroyer, the Pigeon that took a group of us to Ireland. But I didn't know that. I thought he was drowned. We had known each other at Camp McArthur, in Texas, and aboard the Tuscania."

Vale and Hopper plan to meet often to talk over their war experiences.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 19. — Los Angeles county is the "white spot" in national health, Dr. J. L. Pomerooy reported in reviewing 1932 averages. During the year, a declining death rate here ranged from 20 to 35 per cent below figures for the nation. Births during the year numbered 10,054, against 7,443 deaths, a decline from 9.9 per 1,000 to 9.3 during the year, or 20 per cent below the national average. Infant mortality was 35 per cent under the country's average, being 38.22 per 1,000 births.

Keeping Up With The Boy Scouts

Parent's Night. Troop No. 42 held a very successful parent's night last Friday night with some 33 visitors in attendance.

Flying Eagle patrols both put on entertainment pertaining to scouting. A number of the fathers and mothers gave little inspirational talks, commending Scoutmaster Gill on his work and expressing their appreciation for same.

One Meal Hike.

Last Friday afternoon, Scoutmaster O. E. Winebrinner was seen going through the streets of Brownwood with his troop and on inquiry, the scribe found out that they were taking a "one meal hike."

Troop 115 of Rising Star. A scout orchestra has recently been formed by members of troop 115 of Rising Star under the direction of assistant scoutmaster, Benny Busbee, and rehearsals are being held weekly with the view of a public performance soon.

The mountain directly south of Rising Star has taken on a new complexion since blasters, working on the Rising Star-Brownwood road have left it and consequently members of troop 115 have found a new interest in it.

Under the direction of Scoutmaster Venable, the play published in the January "scouting" is being whipped into shape and probably will be given at the father-son banquet and other public appearances of the scout troop.

Surprise Banquet—Lampasas. Lloyd Smith, a member of troop 15 of Lampasas who is at present attending Howard Payne college reported that troop 33 of Lampasas gave a surprise banquet to troop 15 and to their own scoutmaster.

Neither scoutmaster knew anything of the banquet until they almost had the "turkey by the leg." The banquet was held at the Country club. Dr. N. B. Taylor, district chairman, Roy L. Walker, court of honor chairman, and others were on the program. Lloyd reports everyone had a most enjoyable time.

New Troop. A new troop was started at Early high school last Friday with Messrs. Edwards, Hooker, and Gorman as troop committee, L. E. Boyd, scoutmaster and Leroy Preston as assistant scoutmaster. Some 19 boys are in line for the troop.

Scoutmaster's Pow Wow. One of the best pow wows since the Brownwood district scoutmasters have organized, was held Monday night of this week at the scout office. J. K. Wilkes, scoutmaster of Troop 7, presided at the meeting in the absence of Chairman O. E. Winebrinner. The theme of the program was "running a troop."

Training Course. A scout leader's elementary training course will be started in Lampasas next Monday evening. The course includes six sessions. One will be held each week.

New Assistant Scoutmaster. Troop 1 of Brownwood is fortunate in having Mr. Hervey Mays to register as assistant scoutmaster. Mr. Mays is a former scout in Club Ragsdale's troop of several years ago. Mr. Mays is carrying out the scout slogan, "once a scout, always a scout." We extend to Mr. Mays our greetings and wish for him a most happy experience in scouting.

DOG SAVED CHILD CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Jan. 16. — Bingo, a Boston bull terrier, saved a one-year-old child and its maid from possible death by poisonous gas here recently when it rushed into the maid's room while she was sleeping and tore the covers from her bed. She awoke, followed the dog downstairs, and found the en-

French Aviators Are Seeking Fields

PARIS, Jan. 18.—Paris is surrounded by flying fields, but all of them, including the famous Le Bourget, are used for military as well as civil aviation. A campaign will be made by civil air groups this year before the air ministry for better non-military flying facilities.

The most important project is creation of an airport at Marly, 16 kilometers from the Place de la Concorde, from which automobiles start every 15 minutes for points in the countryside.

The Marly airport, according to the as yet undrafted plan would be the most luxurious and practical field in Europe. In addition to being far closer to the civic center than Bourget, it would be supplied with a restaurant, swimming pool, tennis courts, pelota courts and golf links.

At the same time the Aero Club, it is expected, will ask the air ministry to transfer the military machines and equipment at Le Bourget, leaving the field free for civil aviation. This port, it is pointed out, already is overcrowded with plane traffic from every flying terminal in Europe.

Two other projects being studied are the formation of a flying field for exclusive use of the air mail, on the edge of the city, and the establishment of dozens of emergency landing places in the outlying countryside.

West — Operations on Holt No. 1 test well three miles southwest of city, resumed.

A MINUTE BEFORE

She Would Have Said "Impossible"

BUT! . . . Auto accidents are caused by queer things. They happen when and where you least expect them.

Life at the best is uncertain. Nothing will prevent them, but at least one may offset their seriousness somewhat by being protected in a financial way by insurance.
