EXPLAINING THE EARTHQUAKE.

Arthur Brisbane uses his journalistic talents to explain away the California earthquake. He blames the startling character of publicity given the catastrophe upon exaggeration prompted by the jealousy of other sections.

California will recover from the earthquake—will build back even greater. Disaster has its bright side. It produces more vigorous men and women. Human character, like steel, is forged stronger out of hardships.

EASTLAND COUNTY WINS.

As usual Eastland county came away from the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show with a goodly share of the prizes. The county's exhibit took fourth place among fifteen while the Cisco Future Farmers chapter captured fourth place on its carlot showing of lambs.

In the past five or six years Eastland county has always ranked among the top counties in exhibits at the Texas State fair at Dallas and the Fat Stock show at Fort Worth.

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER, NEA Service Writer. WASHINGTON, (NEA Service, Inc.) (Copyright, 1933, NEA Service, Inc.) WASHINGTON.—A happy warrior is in the White House at last, able to grin as he grapples with the greatest of national emergencies.

"I WANT to make this an enlarged family gathering," he told 150 correspondents, explaining how he wanted his press conference to operate.

One Dictatorship That Can't Be Tolerated and County Home Demonstration Agent Miss Ruth Ramey, however, for it should be pointed out that the county's success in these showings has been achieved during their tenures in their present positions.

But if the real worth of these workers to the county is to be properly evaluated one must pass up what they have accomplished in the way of advertising, as these exhibits are to be classed, and look to the improvement in rural standards which has been brought about through their efforts and inspiration.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

The most inspiring place in Cisco today was the First National bank as that institution reopened to business after a two-week holiday that extended throughout the nation under presidential proclamation.

One cannot help but feel that the crisis has passed, that the nadir of the depression has been reached and that henceforth the progress will be upward.

BEGIN HERE TODAY JANET HILL and ROSE CARLYLE have been engaged almost a year. They have put off their marriage because Janet insists they must have $500 in an account first.

HOW tall he was! Walking beside him, Janet felt much less than her five feet five, which was certainly a good average height for a girl.

THE young man across the aisle flushed slightly and shifted his gaze to the bright border of cards over Janet's head.

Suddenly their eyes met again and this time Janet smiled. The young man smiled, too. Uncomfortably Janet remembered that she had not been very gracious the other night.

What's the matter with me lately? Janet asked herself. "Do I have to quarrel with everyone? Can't I even speak civilly to a stranger?"

They were still several blocks from the rooming house, Janet did not look toward the young man again but when they both rose to leave the car he waited to let her go ahead.

Well, she had tried to make up for the cross way she had spoken that other night. She hoped she had made a better impression this time.

He mentioned the name of the city where the steel mill was located, and added that he had worked there since leaving college two years before.

What a time to be lonely and unhappy! What a time to nurse heartache, to paint a brave smile on lips that did not dare to stop smiling!

Janet tried to find solace in work. It was a busy time in the Every Home office and she was grateful for it.

She came slowly up the stairs of the rooming house one evening, pausing on the next to the top step to find the key in her purse.
