

Drug Law Violation Case Ends For Trio

A federal court jury found Bobby Maynard guilty as charged, couldn't reach a verdict on the guilt or innocence of Johnnie Hargrave, and returned a not guilty verdict in the case against Bryan Cotten as the three Ciscoans' four-day trial ended at Abilene Thursday.

Judge Halbert O. Woodward, who presided at the U.S. District Court, was expected to await further actions in the Maynard case pending an expected appeal motion by the Ciscoans' attorney, Ben Sudderth of Comanche.

Attorney Sudderth told interviewers that he will file a written motion for a verdict of acquittal for Hargrave and there was indication that it would be granted.

The jury deliberated some four hours before returning the verdict. Maynard was charged with possession of methamphetamines with intent to distribute, two counts of possession, and one count of manufacturing the drug.

Cotten had been indicted on a single count of possession of the "speed" drug and he was found not guilty. Hargrave, tried on a single charge of conspiracy, had pleaded not guilty.

The trio, along with several others, were arrested in Cisco last October as the climax of a West

Mrs. Gladys Ellis To Exhibit Her Paintings At CJC

Mrs. Gladys Ellis of Brownwood will be exhibiting her paintings during the month of December at the Maner Memorial Library on the Cisco Junior College campus.

Mrs. Ellis is a native of Brownwood, and is currently active in the Brownwood Art Association, holding the office of reporter. She is the mother of Mrs. Sue Mullinax, the art instructor at CJC.

Mrs. Ellis is largely self-taught, except for the years of her youth when she learned from her grandmother, Martha W. Morris, long-time teacher of art at Daniel Baker College. Later she studied under Ruby Wiley at Daniel Baker. In recent years she has studied under Clarence Kincaid of Texas Tech in Lubbock and Charles and Maurine Stewart of Howard Payne University of Brownwood. She presently exhibits her paintings with Winn's Frame and Art Center at Brownwood. In conjunction with the Brownwood Art Association, she has exhibited at Heartland Mall, Adams Street Community Center, and Citizen's National Bank.

Mrs. Ellis has numerous awards from area shows. She has won several blue ribbons from the Brown County Fair, and one of her paintings was given third place by popular vote of the people during the Brownwood Art Association Show last spring. She has received an award of merit from the Los Aficionados sponsored by the Abilene Fine Arts Museum.

Cisco Junior College welcomes and invites the public to visit the library during December and see the exhibit.

Firemen Called Out Twice For RR Grass Fires

The Cisco Fire Volunteer Fire Department answered two alarms to put out railroad right-of-way grass fires during the past week.

A "hot box" on a freight car seat set several fires in dry grass along the railroad between Otis Engineering Corp. and a mile east of Cisco on Dec. 1. The alarm was turned in by a man who saw the damaged car wheel leaving a trail of fire. The blazes were extinguished with little or no damage.

Fire trucks had two flat tires when they answered a grass fire alarm on the railroad right-of-way near Oakwood Cemetery Dec. 3. There was no fire damage but the city had to buy one new fire truck tire.

Firemen cautioned Ciscoans to obey safety rules as they put up Christmas trees this year. Attention should be paid to tree lights and the trees should not be permitted to get too dry, they said.

Homemaking Hints

By Janet Thomas

It's fun to try new recipes for cooking venison—and to make up some of your own. Expect some failures, along with successes, when you're "experimenting" with big game cookery.

Be sure to write down the recipe for any dish everyone enjoyed.

Four ways to cook venison are roasting for tender cuts and braising, stewing or pan frying for less-tender cuts.

Other secrets include some general rules for successful big-game cooking:
 *Cook big game the same as lean beef. Most game has little and corresponds in quality to beef carcasses with little or no external fat. It should be cooked in the same way. The tender cuts such as the loin and rib can be pan fried or roasted with basting. Round steak, meat from the leg and the less tender cuts are best when cooked by moist heat—braising, stewing or pot roasting.

*Do not overcook big game meat. It has short fibers that toughen quickly if overcooked or cooked at too high a temperature. Plan to serve it medium to well-done, never rare or overcooked.
 *Use acid to tenderize.

Vinegar, tomato sauce and French dressing sauces for at least 24 hours. Pan fry to medium-done.

*Reduce the sugar in sauce recipes. The natural flavor is sweeter than other meat. Sauces made for domestic meats may be too sweet. Use 1/4 less sugar.

*Remove all visible fat before cooking. The gamey flavor is exaggerated in the fat. If fat is desired, ground pork or beef fat may be substituted.

*Big game is a dry meat, so moisten it to prevent dryness. Add chunks of beef fat to self-baste it, or cover the surface with bacon strips anchored with toothpicks.

ROASTING: Trim off game fat; rub with bacon drippings or similar fat. Season with salt, pepper and desired herbs. Place on roasting rack in uncovered pan, bone down. Place bacon strips on top of roast for added flavor. Baste with added fat as needed, but do not add water. Roast uncovered at 300 degree F. to 350 degree F. Allow 20 to 25 minutes per pound. Use a meat thermometer if possible because lean meat usually cooks faster than beef.

BRAISING: Season with salt and pepper; rub with flour. Brown on all sides in moderately hot fat. Add small quantity of water (about 2/3 to 1 cup). Cover tightly. Cook very slowly (simmer) until tender (2-3 hours). Turn the meat occasionally, adding water if necessary.

STEWING: Cut meat into cubes about 1 inch in size. Season with salt and pepper; sprinkle with flour. Brown on all sides in moderately hot fat. Cover with boiling water.

Cover kettle tightly and cook very slowly until tender. Do not boil. Add vegetables just long enough before serving time so they will be tender.

PAN FRYING: Heat a heavy frying pan until it is sizzling hot. Add a tablespoon butter to pan and allow to melt; or rub the pan with a little suet or a small amount of fat. Place the meat in the hot pan. Brown both sides, turning only once. Reduce heat after browning to finish cooking thick cuts.

The recipe I am featuring this week is with venison steak. You might like to serve this tasty recipe over egg noodles or rice.

jointly owned by her friend and fellow artist, Mary R. Gandy.

Olivia's work has been exhibited and won awards in many juried shows including the Eastland County Art Association Show, the Artists and Craftsmen Associated of Dallas Juried Show, the Arlington Art Association Regional Show, the North Texas Regional Art Show, and the State Fair of Texas.

She received her art degree from East Texas State University, but credits the development of her painting style to her admiration of the Renaissance masters and the strong influence and encouragement she has received from well-known artists Joseph Dawley and the late Ramon Froman.

Olivia has her studio in Arlington where she lives with her husband, Doug, son of Mr. and Mrs. B.R. Powell of Eastland.

"Eastland is like a second home to us," she says. "We spend a good deal of time in this area, not only because we have family here, but because we really like it here. In fact, the people and the land have been the inspirations for several of my paintings."

C.H.S. Library

The Cisco Junior Senior High School Library Club members met in the library, December 2. The meeting was called to order by the president, Tommy Richardson. He discussed the Library Christmas party which will be from 7 until 9 p.m.

After the meeting we had a birthday party for our secretary, Pamela Agnew. We would like to thank Mrs. Cleveland, the librarian for baking the chocolate cake.

This week the library received over 150 new Public Affairs Pamphlets. Pam Agnew, staff member, compiled and typed an index for these pamphlets.

The C.H.S. Student Council sponsored a Mr. Legs contest last week. We had a display of each contestant's legs and students donated money to whichever contestant they considered to have the best legs. The winner of the contest was Forrest Starr. First runner-up was Kory Wallace, and second runner-up was Mike Keating. (By: Kory Wallace)

Bee College Dorm Named For Former Mayor Here

The Board of Trustees of Bee County College in Beeville have named the school's modern 70-room dormitory in honor of former Cisco Mayor Roy M. Benton. Benton, who for 12 years has been dean of fiscal affairs at the 2,000-student South Texas College, served in Cisco's top elective post in 1966, and from 1954 to 1963 was owner and operator of Henson Construction Company. From 1963 to 1966 Benton taught at Cisco Junior College.

BCC President Dr. Grady C. Hogue, former president of CJC, said, "The Board of Trustees of Bee County College announced with pleasure the naming of our ultra-modern dormitory in recognition of the outstanding service provided BCC by Roy Benton."

"Mr. Benton's dedication to duty, complete understanding and mastery of fiscal management, and his unswerving loyalty to the college have been directly attributable to the continuing financial soundness and success of Bee County College," Hogue added.

"Safe Drinking Water Act," Public Law 93-523. The Texas Department of Health requires all systems to sample the water in the distribution system monthly to insure that the water is of acceptable bacteriological quality.

We have now made arrangements to insure that enough bacteriological samples will be collected. Samples collected in August and October were satisfactory. We do not believe September would have been any different.

This notification of the public is in compliance with the Texas "Drinking Water Standards" and the "Safe Drinking Water Act" as a means of keeping the public informed.

August and October has been compiled with State regulations.

Sincerely,
R.J. Turpin
City Manager

Dear Customer:

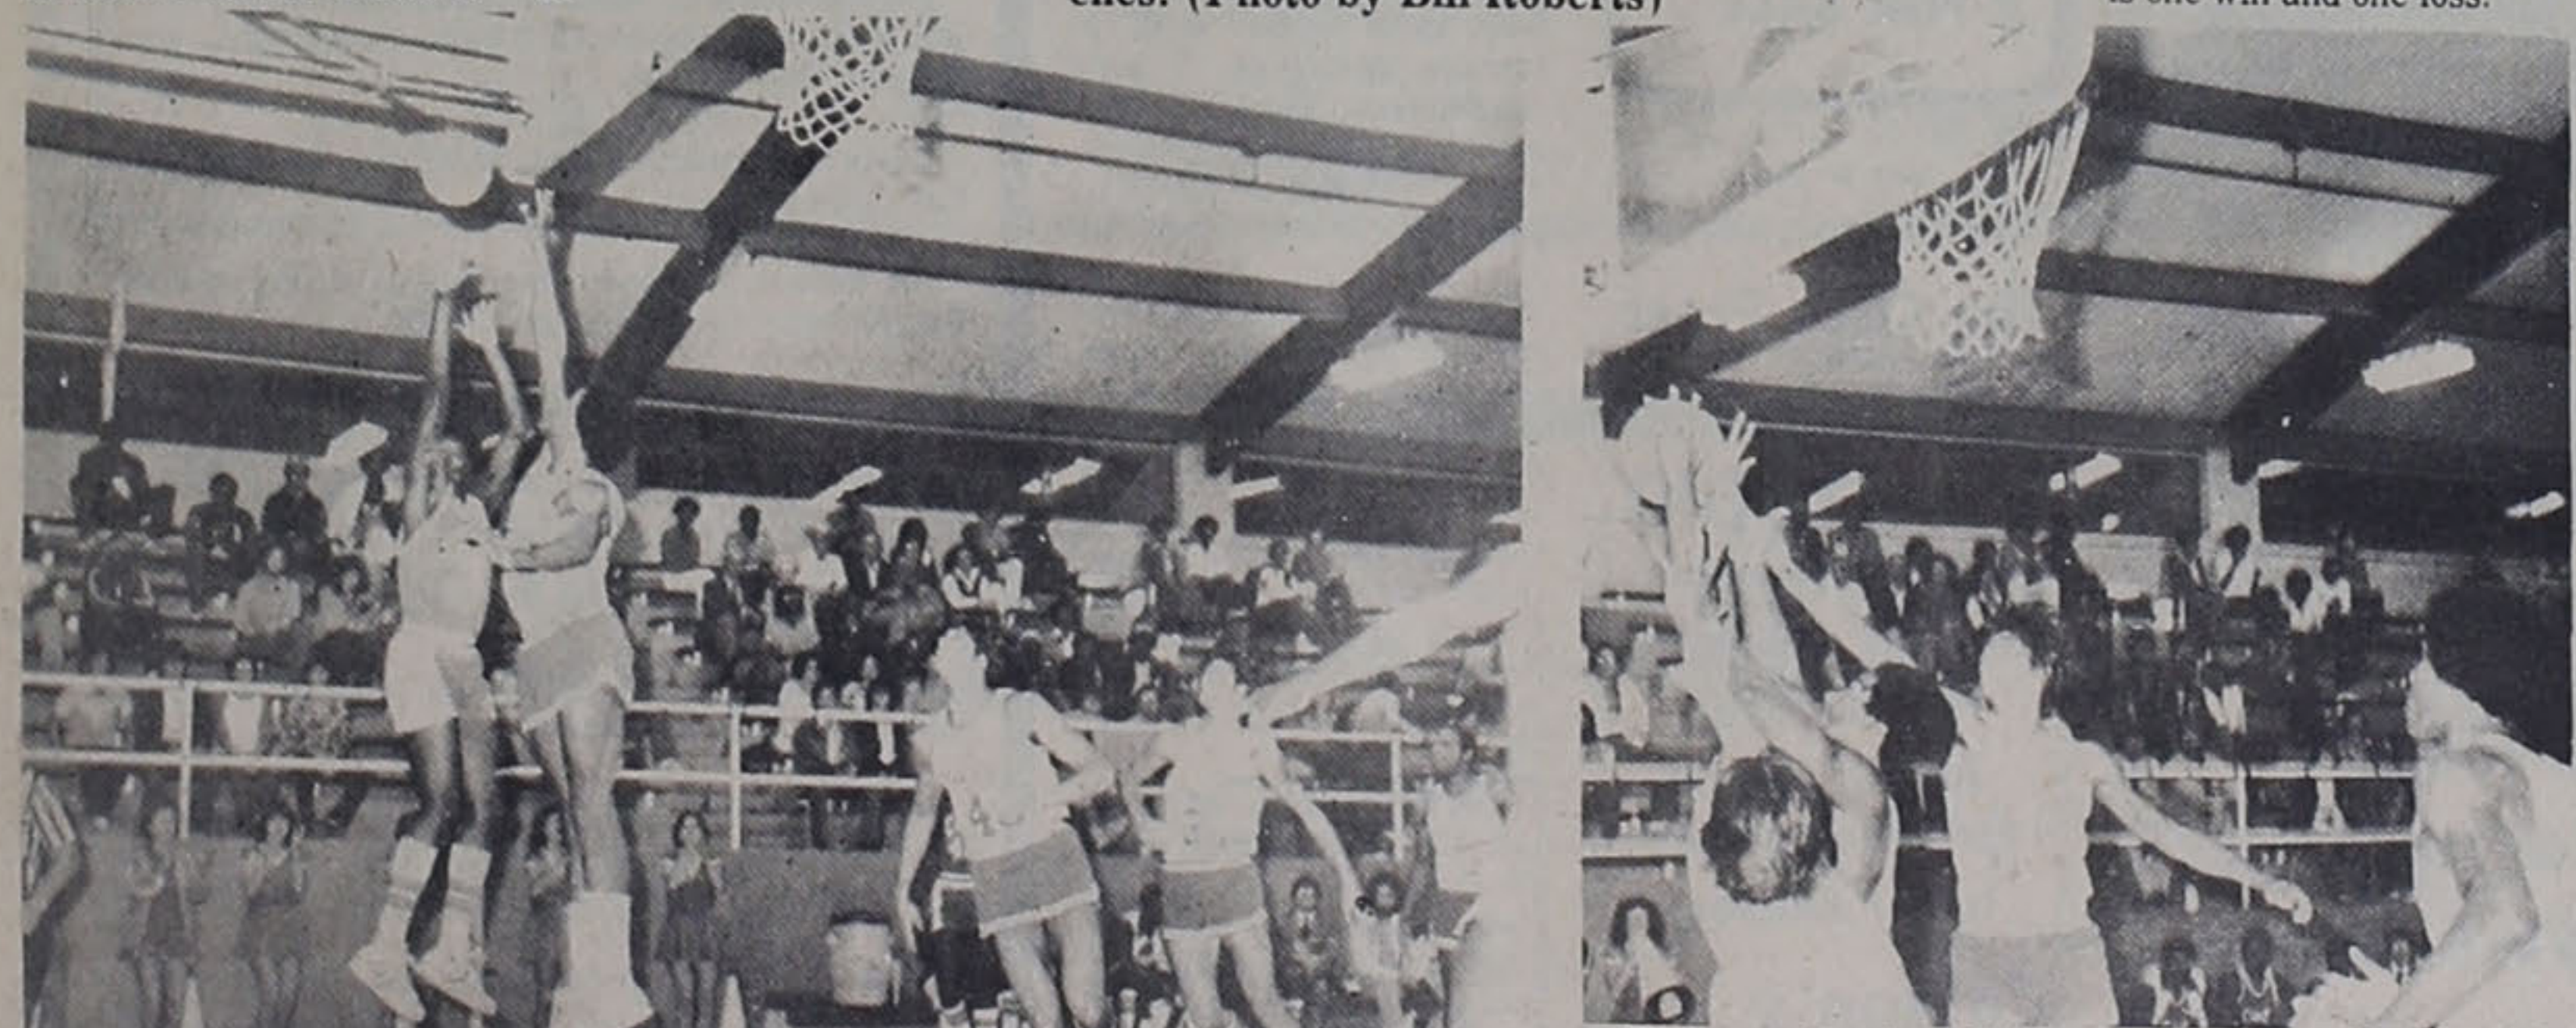

The City of Cisco failed to sample the water leaving the treatment plant daily during the month of September for turbidity as required by the Texas Department of Health's "Drinking Water Standards," which were promulgated as required by the "Safe Drinking Water Act," Public Law 93-523. Turbidity is a measure of the cloudiness of the drinking water and high turbidity may interfere with adequate disinfection.

We have made arrangements for insuring that the measurements will be made daily as required. Measurements made since the first of this month have shown turbidity values within the limit of one turbidity unit.

We do not believe that any hazard to the public health exists.

This notification of the public is in compliance with the Texas "Drinking Water Standards" and the "Safe Drinking Water Act" as a means of keeping the public informed.

Sincerely,
R.J. Turpin
City Manager

Postal Service Exams To Be Given Soon

June Williamson, Officer In Charge, has announced that Clerk and Carrier Exams to establish an updated job register will be given in the near future and urged that all those interested apply to take the job-related tests that can lead to Postal Service employment.

We have not opened our register recently and an updated register is required. "I do not want to give the impression we will be hiring great numbers of people in the coming months," Officer In Charge Williamson said. "I cannot anticipate when vacancies will occur that will be filled by hiring people from our updated job register. We need qualified people who will be willing to accept employment, and we want to offer people in the local community the chance to compete for these openings by signing up for taking the exams." Mrs. Williamson, Officer In Charge explained those wishing to take the exams could apply by requesting an application at the window of the Carbon Post Office during the dates of December 8 through December 19, 1980. Those who apply will be notified at a later time of the date and place the exam will be given.

Senior 4-Hers were Patri Spurlen - Main Dish (blue ribbon); Rhonda Little, Main Dish (red ribbon); and Side Dish - Leanne Brown (blue ribbon).

A new addition to the Eastland County Food Show this year was a Christmas Craft Show held in conjunction with the 4-H judging. Hints For The Aged & Handicapped

By PATRICIA GALBREATH

DEAR PAT—My father is 58, overweight, and smokes. I know the dangers of heart attacks and cancer, but I worry more of a stroke than anything else. He seems to think he will have one as his father did and lie helpless for years, unable to even talk. What are the main causes of a stroke and what can I tell him to do that might help prevent this from happening to him?—K.S., Ohio

DEAR K.—Many strokes are preceded by warning symptoms such as brief periods of loss of speech, weakness of limbs or loss of consciousness. High blood pressure, smoking, diabetes, older age and blood cholesterol levels are directly related to the higher incidences of cerebral infarctions.

I would suggest a complete physical check-up, tell the doctor of your fears and take his advice.—PAT

DEAR PAT—Can you tell me approximately how many people are afflicted with multiple sclerosis and a little something about it.—M.C.C., Georgia

DEAR MRS. C.—There are approximately 500,000 Americans suffering from multiple sclerosis and diseases that are closely related. It is a disease of the central nervous system and afflicts those primarily between the ages of 20 and 40. The cause is unknown and despite the increase in research, a cure has not been found.—PAT

DEAR PAT—As everyone knows, there are a lot of lonely people. This includes able-bodied as well as those who are handicapped for one reason or another. I believe a handicapped person is the loneliest though, because usually he can't do anything about it like going outside to play or working in the yard or getting in a car and going somewhere. Also, some times the family is even too busy to talk and do things with them.

Anyway, I am 13 and the best thing I ever got to make me not so lonesome was my little dog. I think other kids who have to stay home most of the time would like someone to play with anytime they wanted to—even if it was only a dog. He's always got time for you.—Jimmy N., Kansas

DEAR JIMMY—I think so too. Even older people derive comfort and companionship from pets. For those unable to have cats and dogs in the house, there are always parakeets, canaries, fish aquariums and even ant farms. These latter two can be educational for children as well as interesting.—PAT

DEAR PAT—I had polio many years ago but married and I have a good job. I drive a car and my husband and I are buying a home. We would like to adopt a child. Is this possible if it's the mother who is handicapped? I know I could take care of a child.—Ms. U.N.C., Louisiana

DEAR MRS. C.—Yes, it is possible for a child to be adopted by couples where either one or both future parents are handicapped. Your physician could probably recommend a reliable agency. State your case honestly and I'm sure you will be judged the same as other childless couples.—PAT

PAT'S NOTE: Address any questions you may have or hints you want to share to: HANDICAPPED, P.O. Box 368, Weatherford, Texas 76086

The Most Painted Spot Around

The most-painted spot in Eastland County?

Guesses are that it may have been the "old red barn" which burned recently between Eastland and Cisco along Int. 20.

It was the subject of any number of beginner sketchers, classes and finished artists — and perhaps there are also a number of photographs existing. An exhibit has been suggested and Mr. Dick Wooley, president First National Bank, has offered the location.

Vacation Offers May Be Phony

Las Vegas vacation offers that promise much more than they deliver are now being sold by mail across the nation, Postal Inspector in Charge W.R. Newsome warned today.

Newsome said at least 12 separate companies now contacting prospective buyers by mail and telephone are under investigation by the Postal Inspection Service. Complaints have been received from Texas consumers in Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston.

In response to inquiries about vacation "certificates," the companies ask for a "service charge" of from $25 to $50, sometimes requesting personal credit card numbers, supposedly to confirm identity but actually to bill prospective buyers through credit card companies. The firms claim the "certificates" are good for three days and two nights lodging for two in Las Vegas, and include meals and a gambling package valued at $250.

Typically, those who take the bait have to pay additional fees and reservation deposits, and the so-called "service charge" is not refunded as represented in an initial offer. Newsome said when certificate holders send hotel reservation requests they are met with "regret" letters advising that no rooms are available on the days requested, and when refunds are requested they get letters asking them to be patient.

Anyone victimized through the mails should report it to Postal Inspector D.C. Swindle, Consumer Protection Specialist for the Fort Worth Division of the Postal Inspection Service, P.O. Box 1230, Fort Worth, Texas 76101, or telephone (817) 334-2001.

IWU Reflections In Perspective

By I. Will Ussery

The industrial city of Liege, Belgium is one of the most pleasant places it has been my privilege to visit. In the course of my second visit to Liege I met a pensioner who introduced himself as a 'retired Captain of Mortars—the first world war'. He went on with: 'You are an American, no? We love the Americans. We love America. America has helped us win our wars, but they never ask anything in return. Not so; with so many of our allies.'

Anyway; about Liege. Situated astride the River Loire; it is a bustling city of various industries, not the least is that of arms manufacture. The principal center of that particular industry is in Herstal, just outside Liege, where the Belgian government turns out superb small arms in the factory of 'Fabrique Nationale d'Armes d'Guerre'. This is the site of origin of sporting firearms known in the U.S. as 'Brownings'. And in the course of turning out Browning sporting firearms, 'F.N.' is engaged, as the name implies, in the manufacture of military hardware for customers all over the globe. Interesting place, Herstal.

But, back to Liege. In addition to its being a busy industrial center; it also is quite an agrarian marketplace. The agricultural production in the area surrounding Liege is divided about equally between sugar beets, small grains (oats, wheat and barley) and vegetables. And the most of the farmers arewould you believe, Spanish?

Interesting city, Liege. About the friendliest people you can imagine. And one of the cleanest cities you'll come across. The walks along the fronts of practically every business house in the city are scrubbed every morning. In the course of an early morning stroll, one proceeds with caution. Scrub-women are sloshing and swishing with total abandon from dawn 'til sunrise.

On my first visit to Liege, the airline had arranged accommodations at the Hotel Clu d'Or. Translated, it seems that this is simply the 'Eagle Hotel'. And well-named, it is. The hotel is perched on the promontory of a hill which rises steeply from the Loire River, and on a very narrow cobblestone paved street through which a full-sized American auto would proceed but with extreme caution. Across the street from the hotel there is a Franciscan monastery. And from the dining room, which proudly displays its certificate has having been classified as a 'four star' eating place of international renown, one can compare each of the twenty nine church steeples with the other twenty eight. The twenty nine which can be seen from the dining room, that is. Probably covers a little more than two-thirds of a total view of the city.

As for the accommodations of the Clu D'Or, they may be described as being quite quaint. The twelve bedrooms are located on the second floor of the building, which is a coerted mansion which was originally built in the fourteenth century as the residence of the lord who owned the farms along the river below. Guests are requested to inform the concierge if they plan to be out past the sunset so that they may be provided with keys in order that they may re-enter the hotel. The heavy oaken front door is locked, y'know. Having made the ascent up the steep hill, and been deposited at the hotel; the hustle and bustle of the city below somehow suddenly becomes another world.....and another time.

The bar...no self-respecting dining room in Belgium would be without facilities for the thirsty...is just to the right of the dining room. So situated as to avoid obstructing the view of the city. And, sitting in a strategic position somewhat between the bar and the dining room, relaxing and perhaps comparing the church steeples, I became aware that a customer had entered the bar and was faced with something of a difficulty.

He was the only customer in the bar, and was obviously of American extraction. And his problem was the one which makes one wonder why Americans have for so long been so loved by so many people in so many countries...the language barrier. Although he was by no means being obstreperous, he just couldn't get across to the bartender that he wanted a touch of bourbon whiskey of a particular brand, with water on the side. The bartender was being very patient, as was the customer. But one spoke only French, and the other...in this particular instance...had managed to reach Liege and the Clu d'Or via the railway from Brussels with no means of communication other than the English language.

In the interest of international relations (and the man did appear to be suffering from a consuming thirst) I offered my assistance. The customer was most grateful, as was the barman. Quite simple, actually. Only took a few words of each of the two divergent languages. As an expression of his gratitude, the American asked if I would join him. I did. And we began a conversation. Hesitantly, on his part, I could add. It went something like...

"You speak very good English". The customer, addressing me.

"Thank You, Sir". Me to him.

"Where did you learn English?" Customer to me.

"In Texas, where I was born and raised". Was my reply. I thought the man would swallow his glass.

Turned out that he was from Wisconsin. Was in Liege for the purpose of closing a deal with the people in Herstal for a distributorship of ammunition in the U.S. I can't help but wonder how he made out. A very pleasant sort of chap, he was. And do not for a moment feel that he was in his cups. He was simply thirsty, and for a bourbon and water. Apparently the first for the day. And it was late afternoon.

WORD of GOD

Psalm 23
A Psalm of David.

The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want.

He maketh me to lie down in green pastures; he leadeth me beside the still waters.

He restoreth my soul; he leadeth me in the paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff they comfort me.

Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies; thou anointest my head with oil; my cup runneth over.

Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I will dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

At Courthouse

The 1980 Eastland County Pecan Show will be Friday and Saturday of this week, December 12 and 13. Exhibits will be displayed in the lobby of the County Courthouse Friday and until noon on Saturday.

WHY FUNERALS ARE NEWSWORTHY

The death of anyone is news. Funerals for people in all walks of life are news, too — often feature stories. Why? Because the funeral declares that a death has occurred and gives tribute and testimony to the life which has been lived. There have been funerals since the very beginning of recorded history. In the last century great changes in living habits necessitated the role of the American funeral director. Our staff, our facilities and our availability of funeral merchandise allow you to arrange beforehand or at time of need the kind of funeral or alternative to it that you desire.

Legion Honors 60-yr Members

Other 60-year certificates have been presented to Jack Anderson, Cisco; W.P. Guinn, Houston; Nick Miller, Dallas; and Frank Leach, Stillwater, Okla.

Lions Approve Drinking Fountain For City Park

Members of the Cisco Lions Club voted approval of a board of directors suggestion that a public water drinking fountain be provided for the new City Park at their weekly luncheon meeting Wednesday noon at the White Elephant Restaurant.

Boss Lion Eddie McMillan said plans call for the fountain to be similar to those in Texas Highway roadside parks. Lion C.B. Dill was asked to check on details of obtaining equipment for the fountain. The park has no drinking fountain at this time. Mr. McMillan said the club's board was seeking ideas for other community projects and he invited Lions and others to make suggestions.

The club appointed Lion J.C. Fletcher chairman of a group to deliver a holiday basket of fruit to residents of the local nursing home. A $25 gift to the West Texas Rehabilitation Center was approved as a tribute to A.G. Sander, long-time member of the club.

Guests included Jack Anderson of Cisco and Vic Verett of Breckenridge.

Citizens For Better Gov't Hold Meeting

Citizens for better government met at the new dining room of the White Elephant Restaurant, December 1, 1980, at 7 o'clock p.m.

The by-laws were presented, read and adopted by some forty interested citizens. Officers that were not elected at the former meeting were voted in.

Some committees were appointed to carry on in the interest of the organization.

One of the discussions was to get our mayor reinstated to his office at city hall. Several expressed the fact that the mayor should have his office back.

We now have a place to meet on a permanent basis. It will be the Corral Room at the Laguna Hotel. The next meeting will be December 15, 1980, at 7 p.m.

All interested citizens are urged to come and join in to help promote a better governing body for our city, school, hospital and county. This is the goal of citizens for better government. It was also pointed out that all citizens who could attend the next revenue sharing hearing to be held by the city council to be there with their written statements and to stand up and express their oral statements and questions. This hearing will be at the next regular council meeting December 9, 1980, at 7 p.m.

Senior Citizen's Nutrition Menu

The other day one of the members of the Senior Center made a statement which is a general theme among the older Cisco residents. He said, "I really feel my week has not been complete if I did not have the opportunity to go to the Senior Center and meet all my friends."

The attendance is proving this to be true. The daily average of attendance for the month of November was 166. The opening day of the Eastland Center 138 people attended the Center at Eastland while 183 attended the Cisco Center.

During the past week the programs, which have proven popular among the members, consisted of a trio by the (Parmer Sisters) Leona Callaway, Ila Wilson and Anna Dystel. These members are always popular in their singing presentations. Majorie West, leader of the Rising Star Senior Center, presented special music with Annaya Dystel accompanying her on the piano. Genevieve and Wilburn Jones, from Eastland Baptist Church, presented a duet and other musical numbers. All of these people are 60 years or older. They provide their own entertainment.

Everyone is encouraged to make reservations for the luncheons. Be sure and call 441-1557 for the reservations.

The menus for the week:
Monday--chicken fried steak, cream gravy, corn o'brien, chopped spinach, pears, bread, butter and drink.

Wednesday--baked ham, glazed yams, seven-minute cabbage, gingerbread, bread, butter and drink.

Friday--beef stew with vegetables, tossed green salad, cheese sticks, sliced peaches, bread, butter and drink.

Pippen on move

Greg Pippen (pictured above), son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pippen and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Pippen of Cisco, was named number one offense team return specialist in the TIAA Conference for his work with the Lubbock Christian College football team during the 1980 season.

Greg gained 700 yards in 30 returns to capture the number one spot and was the only LCC conference team member to place on the all-conference first team offense. He is a 1978 graduate of Cisco High School and played football at CJC for two years before transferring to LCC. At CJC, Greg was a member of the junior college number one team in the nation, secondary pass defense.

Greg is looking forward to another good year at LCC during his coming senior year.

Cisco Rotary Club Elects New Officers

The Cisco Rotary Club meeting Thursday noon at Colony Restaurant, nominated and virtually elected a new slate of officers who will have six months in which to contemplate their responsibilities before taking office next June.

Armo Chambers, who under Rotary rules automatically moves from vice president to the top spot, will succeed current President Norman Wallace. He will head a slate composed of Dell Crockett, vice president; Billy Reynolds, secretary; Clois Purvis, treasurer and Al Anderson, Jerry Morgan and Steve Wheeler. The last three will be added to the board of directors along with Wallace who, as retiring president, automatically serves.

Reynolds will succeed Tony White who declined reelection as secretary after serving for twenty-eight years. Purvis was returned to a post he already holds.

Grand Jury Meets Wednesday in 91st

Twenty Counties are being summoned to appear as prospective grand jurors Wednesday, Dec. 10, in 91st

District Court. The venire is evenly distributed between Eastland, Cisco, Ranger and Rising Star: five persons from each town.

Among the cases to be considered will be the matter of the "Dublin incident" -- the Oct. 11th event in downtown Eastland following an Eastland-Dublin football game, which resulted in the injury of two Eastland policemen (the hospitalization of one) and the arrest of five Dublin residents.

The five were taken to Eastland County Jail and released on their own recognizance.

Indications are that felony assault (felony) charges will be sought against three of the men, and Class A Misdemeanor charges of disorderly conduct and resisting arrest charges against the other two.

Those who have been called as prospective grand jurors are in this order:

Service Club Christmas Party To Be Saturday

The club Christmas party will be held on December 6 at 6:00 p.m. at the First Christian Church. The party will be for members and their families and will be a Mexican supper. Members on the Christmas party committee are Barbara Tollett, Linda Cozart, Gina Winnett and Francille Winnett.

Historically, the first 12 persons who do not have a bonified excuse are chosen to serve on the grand juror.

THIS ONCE WAS HIS CLINIC—Guerrillas tried to tear down all empty buildings in rural areas of Zimbabwe during the war and clinics were no exception. This one at Sessami was built by Dr. Rob Garrett (center background), shown looking through the rubble. A former Southern Baptist medical missionary, the Mena, Ark., doctor returned to Zimbabwe as a volunteer to survey damage to Baptist clinics. Eleven of the 13 buildings at the Sessami mission station were destroyed during the war. (FMB) photo by Irma Duke

Former Missionary Physician Sees Hope For Starting Over

By Irma Duke
SESSAMI, Zimbabwe—The clinic had been his. Dr. Rob Garrett had built it and used it for years. Now it lay in rubble—a victim of the seven-year war in Zimbabwe. The former medical missionary was in Zimbabwe in October to survey damage done to the Baptist clinic at Sessami and other clinics throughout the Gokwe area and to make recommendations about their future. Despite the widespread destruction, he urged missionaries to move quickly to restore medical work in these rural sectors.

The Sessami compound was hit the hardest—only two of the 13 buildings there are repairable. Dr. Garrett's clinic and 10 other buildings were leveled by the guerrillas. The Garretts were Southern Baptist missionaries in Zimbabwe (then Rhodesia) for almost 12 years, and most of that time he was the doctor for nine clinics covering 15,000 rural square miles. In addition, he helped out at the Sanyati Baptist Hospital and served as an evangelist for the area.

On his survey trip, he found that facilities on the eastern side of Gokwe were usable, although in need of repairs. But many of the clinics, churches, schools and stores on the western side were razed. In his recommendations to the mission, Garrett said the first priority should be to get all of these Baptist facilities back into operation, although he also saw potential for starting other work.

FOR RENT: Furnished or unfurnished apartments at Royal Oak Apartments, 1304 Royal Lane, Cisco. Ph. 442-3232 or 442-2709. T-105

In the meantime, he told the missionaries they should do what they can with temporary facilities. Because many of the air strips to the clinics and churches are usable, medical personnel could start the clinic circuit immediately if enough medicine can be provided. Since the war, medical supplies have been scarce.

Garrett made special mention of the Mtangi clinic, which a Zimbabwean woman heroically kept open during the war, and said the mission should try to strengthen her work.

Even though Garrett's primary responsibility was to survey the damage, he also held clinics while there. In five different areas, he and a nurse volunteer treated the more serious illnesses and gave measles vaccinations to the children because a measles epidemic was threatening. Time and medical supplies kept them from doing any more.

For many of these people, it was the first medical treatment they had had in two years. Garrett said telling the crowd to stand back and form a line was like pushing away water. They just kept coming back. He said one of the hardest things he has ever had to do is to get back on a plane to go home when people were still waiting to be treated.

But he had no choice; the plane had to land before dark at the Sanyati hospital compound where he was staying. The reason Garrett had practiced medicine in this African country rather than in the States was the need for the gospel and he found some real satisfaction and encouragement in evangelistic areas when he returned.

He also found some disappointments.

The Sessami church had gathered up blocks from the rubble and were meeting outdoors while their building was being repaired. "God did a marvelous job in delivering his people," exclaimed Garrett. During a Sunday morning service Garrett attended, more than 60 persons were present. "The church was far from being destroyed," he added.

But at Goredema, where a clinic had been built on the back of a church building, there was no sign of worship services. The school had been rebuilt but people in the area said the church was dead.

The Garretts resigned as missionaries in 1976 to take care of her ailing mother, who has since died. Although it has been good to be home with loved ones, it has been miserable for them to be away from Sessami. Mrs. Garrett said they lost contact with other missionaries from the area because hearing from them just made it more difficult to be away.

The Garretts lived in Eastland a number of years, when he was in medical practice.

And now this survey trip has really whetted their appetite. But since they resigned Garrett himself has had a heart attack and some other medical problems. They would go back tomorrow if they could. In the meantime, he is part of a group practice in Mena, Ark.

Limits On Cotton Acreage

Washington, D.C.—Senator Lloyd Bentsen on Wednesday warned that any decision by the U.S. Department of Agriculture to tightly restrict cotton acreage in 1981 would deal a severe blow to drought-stricken Texas farmers.

"A strict requirement that farmers plant within their historical Normal Crop Acreage (NCA) which is based on 1977, would cause severe damage," said Bentsen in a letter to Agriculture Secretary Bob Bergland.

The USDA shortly will announce its 1981 cotton program containing the limit which farmers must plant within to qualify for government agriculture benefits.

"Texas cotton acreage has expanded dramatically since 1977, particularly in West Texas. This cotton has been produced in response to market demand, and it has made large contributions to our balance of payments while expanding our export markets as well as supplying domestic markets," Senator Bentsen said.

"These Texas farmers are in a free market which is now telling them, through high prices, that there is a demand for their cotton."

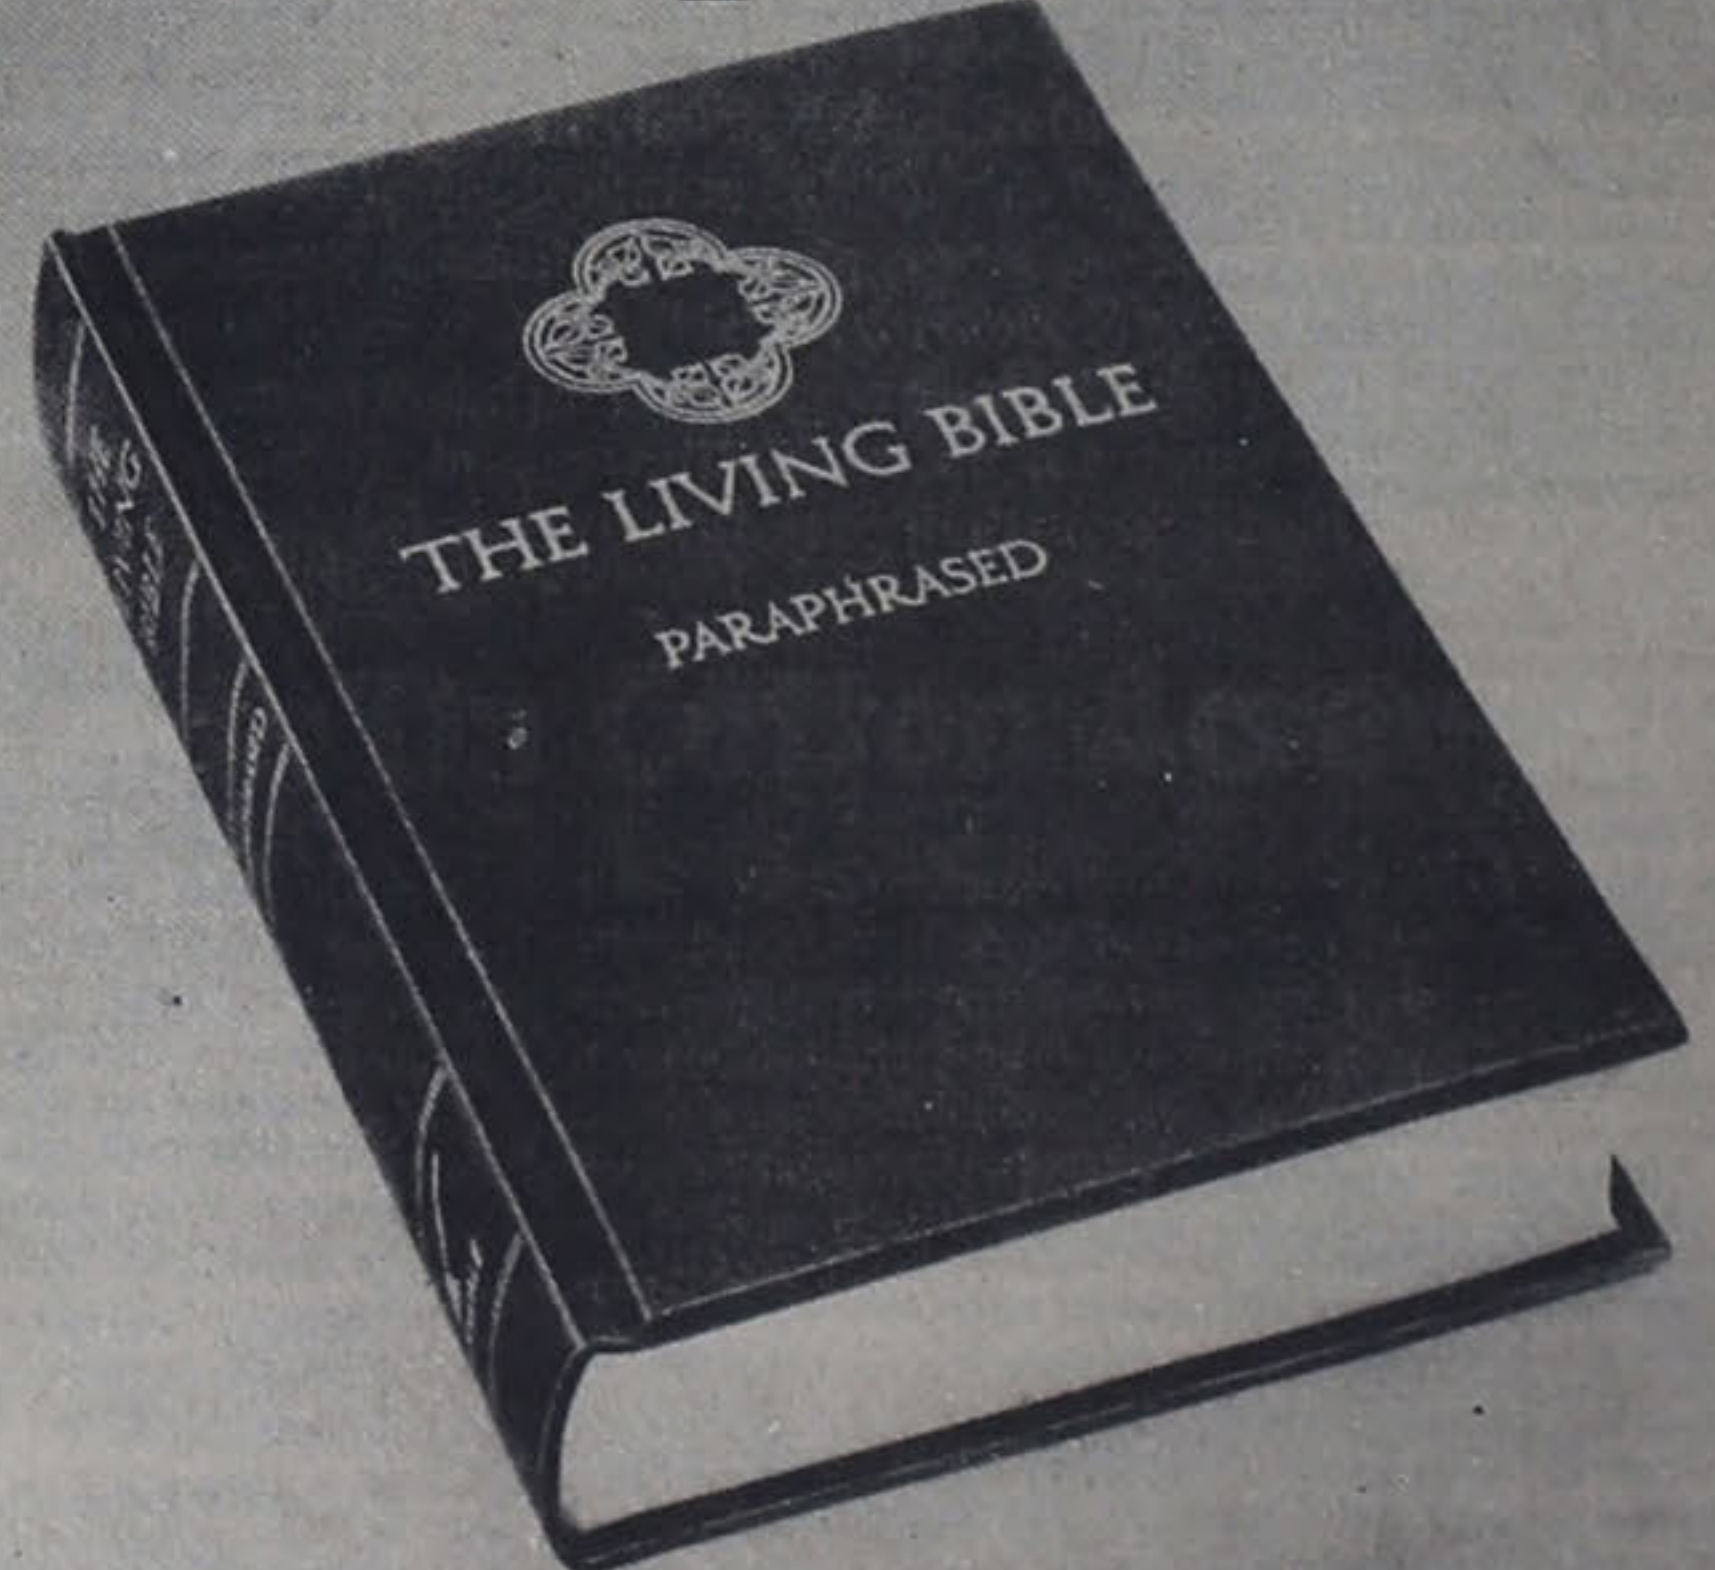

"I am opposed to the imposition of a historical NCA requirement which would impose tight acreage restrictions. I believe that either there should be no NCA requirement for cotton, or that the individual farm NCA's should be updated to reflect current planted acreage,"

Bentsen said. "The market is now saying that we need more cotton, and I believe that our farmers should not be barred from meeting this market demand," Senator Bentsen said.

55 MPH - When Will Texas Comply?

By Viola M. Payne
Sergeant Jerry Mathews, in charge of the Department of Public Safety for the Eastland-Callahan County district, was disappointed but not particularly surprised at the recent news that Texas drivers had not complied with the 40 per cent rate set on the 55 M.P.H. Federal Speed Law. The latest information from the Office of James B. Adams, Texas State Director for the Department of Public Safety, stated that surveys throughout the year by the Highway Department indicated that the compliance rate was about 36 per cent for the Federal Fiscal year, which ended Sept. 30, 1980.

result in loss to the Texas Highway fund of up to $8 million in fiscal year 1982. This withholding of the Highway Funds has never been done yet - but it can be done. Especially if the State shows the disposition to fall behind next year, when the mandated compliance rate will be up to 50 per cent.

"My own observations around Eastland County had indicated that only about 37 per cent of drivers in this area were in compliance - slightly above the State-wide report.

"This figured with the increased amount of speed violation tickets the Troopers from this area were writing, and other signs of the disregard of the 55 M.P.H. Law by the public."

Sergeant Mathews adds that many of the violators apprehended in Eastland County are not local people at all.

"Traffic about equal to the population of Eastland County passes up the Free-way every day, so a lot of our patrol work has to be done there. We have only six Troopers for Eastland County and six for Callahan County, so each man has quite a bit of territory to cover."

On the State Compliance rate, State Director Adams had some interesting statements. "The non-compliance rate was 64 per cent despite a tremendous enforcement and educational effort by our Troopers and other Law Enforcement Officers... However, Texas motorists have made significant progress..."

"I think it highly significant that only 28 per cent of the drivers exceeded 60 M.P.H., and only 10 percent exceeded 65 M.P.H. Top speeds, which are most dangerous, are coming down."

"We will continue an intensive enforcement policy and an aggressive safety education program so that the citizens of Texas will be more aware of the consequences in lives lost as the result of their failure to recognize the need for compliance with the 55 M.P.H. speed limit."

During the first eight full months of this year, state speeding arrests have increased 22 per cent over a comparable period of 1979. State Troopers issued 578,908 speeding citations through the end of August, 1980, compared to 474,819 speeding arrests during the Jan.-Aug. 1979 period.

The 55 M.P.H. national speed limit is probably the most widely publicized law in existence today.

Sergeant Mathews explains that the rate of compliance on this law is arrived at not by the amount of arrests made, but by surveys by the State Highway Department. Unmarked cars park beside roadways and clock traffic, with no attempt made to stop the offenders at that time.

In Eastland County, as a number of citizens have noticed, the Troopers are vigorously working at speed enforcement. In the period from Jan. to Oct. in 1979 there were 2,855 arrests for violations, and from Jan. to Oct. 1980 there were 3,766 arrests. That was an increase in speed arrests of 30 per cent.

"Non-compliance of the speed law by the motoring public," says Mathews, "has caused us to spend so much time and effort on speed enforcement that we have not had the time necessary to effectively handle our D.W.I. problem. When you combine these two factors you will find that, although there is a total reduction in the number of accidents, our serious accidents and deaths are doubled for the year to date."

He went on to cite other data:
D.W.I. Enforcement, Eastland County:
Jan.-Oct.-1979, 260 arrests.
Jan.-Oct. 1980, 184 arrests.

Increase of 133 per cent in deaths over a three year average.

"I'm afraid we have just as many D.W.I.'s on the road around here this year," states Mathews, "But we're just not catching them. It is known that alcohol-related accidents cause 50 per cent of the fatalities nationally as well as state-wide and locally. When you mix speed with a drinking driver, you almost always have a lethal combination."

"Last year, in Texas alone, around 4,229 people died in traffic accidents. That figure would compare with the population of a town about the size of Cisco. You can imagine what our reaction would be if a group of murderers surrounded Cisco and killed everyone in the town. The whole nation would be aroused!"

And, just as if Cisco was wiped out at random, traffic accidents kill the young and innocent as well as that older fellow who just decided to have a few beers. Yet the public will accept these terrible deaths, as if nothing can be done about it.

"I believe our Courts in Eastland County are backing the D.P.S. up on our law enforcement. But I call upon the citizens to take a new look at the 55 M.P.H. speed law, as unpopular as it may be with some. Remember that it was designed to save lives as well as gasoline. 'Don't let a fatality mar Christmas in Eastland County. That is the hope of myself and all the Troopers.'"

IF YOU GET passed the dump ground-CJC rodeo arena area, you'll stop and take your hat off to the Cisco Gun Club. They've done a lot of improving and have a dandy rifle and pistol range, a good road, good fences, and are making plans to build a softball field.

The gun club has 60 members who pay $10 per year to belong. Use of the rifle range is limited (and rightly so) to members. The club is doing a good job in teaching and encouraging safety.

A GROUP OF Ciscoans and friends are back home after a successful mule deer and blue quail hunting trip to Sierra Blanca in the Big Bend Country. They left a week or so ago and got home Wednesday night. Their bag included a number of large bucks plus a good many quails.

Enjoying the trip were Dr. Allen McGinness, Jim Choate, Billy Wright, Truly Clark and Ronnie Ledbetter, all of Cisco; Tommy Choate, Abilene; Bill Hoffmann and Jim Moylan, Eastland; Tommy Beardon, Baird; Ross Montgomery, Moran; plus two friends from Carthage and four men from Austin.

DROPPED IN at the First National Bank the other morning to find the office occupied by Senior Veep Jerry Pruitt dark. He has left the bank staff, we learned, and will be completing plans for his future in the near future.

Mr. Pruitt spent 15 years with the FNB. During the years, he has been a good citizen of our community. He is a past president of the Cisco Lions Club, a past master of the Cisco Masonic Lodge, member of the official board of the First United Methodist Church, a former city commissioner, and active in numerous other community organizations and functions.

You'll want to join us in wishing Mr. JP well in whatever new direction his career takes.

THORNTON FEED MILL will be hosts to 40 folks when the company has a Christmas party Dec. 19th at the Colony Restaurant for their employees and members of their families.

The First National Bank's annual family Christmas party will be held Dec. 16th at the Laguna Corral Room.

Mesdames Polly Wright, Helen Wallace, Fern Cooper and Sherry Wright attended a luncheon in Abilene last Thursday noon. The Wes Lathams entertained their daughters and families during the Thanksgiving weekend. Overheard somebody calling CofC Manager Gene Abbott "Col. Sanders." They were looking at his new goatee.

CJC PROF George Brazell and a half dozen friends, who have been deer hunting together for many years, enjoyed an outing but had poor luck, he reports. The Dr. Clark Odums, Dallas surgeon, formerly of here, have moved into a new home in Richardson. His mother, Mrs. Betty Odum, went up recently to spend a week helping them move. Mr. Jack Anderson, long-time good citizen, credits exercise and not eating too much for his good health. He says they eat twice daily - mid-morning and early evening. And he hasn't had a pill in his mouth for ten years, the WWI veteran reported.

FIFTY-SIX ladies and two men enjoyed the monthly luncheon at the Cisco Country Club last Wednesday noon. The men were Morris White and B.J. Perry, and Col. White stayed to play bridge when they needed one more player to round out a table. High score winner was Mrs. E.L. Jackson, and Mrs. Bill Austin won low.

Hostesses for the Christmas luncheon were Helen Heyser, Rachael Smith, Letha Schaal, Mary Ann Perry, Pat Owens, Evelyn Graham, Sharon Thiberville and Joyce Schaefer. Guests included Nancy Frost of Eastland and Maxine Robinson of Rising Star.

IF YOU GET out Country Club way, notice the nice Christmas lights at the Tim Jones home. Fred Wheeler and son Freddy and Brad Kimbrough shot Thanksgiving turkeys during a recent outing. Didn't see any deer. Pauline Merriweather of Anchorage, Alaska, brought her mother, Sally Jo Shelton, a silver dinner service when she came recently for a two weeks visit. She works in a hospital there. The Laddie Pierces of the Ford store spent Thanksgiving weekend in Houston.

MR. RONNIE White, quality control at Burgess Industries' Cisco plant, tells us that he is looking forward to teaching the law enforcement course at CJC next year. He takes over from Ken McCulloch. Mr. White should be well qualified, having spent some 10 years in law enforcement including work as a highway patrolman and as sheriff of Eastland County. He reports that they sold their farm recently. The Christmas lights are real nice at the Joe Wheatley home, 1414 Liggett.

And the C.C. Pippens, who live across the street, have pretty candles in the yuletide flavor in three windows.

THE HERMAN Dunlaps and relatives didn't bag any turkey or bucks last weekend, but they sacked up the fish - brought home two freezer lockers full. The Dunlaps, along with her parents, the Claude Frosts of Bangs and his mother, Mrs. Ree Hunt of Cisco and the three Dunlap boys, went to Rockport. They caught four red snappers that weighed 96 pounds plus a lot of trout and other fish.

Mr. Dunlap is the computer department head out at CJC and his wife is the CofC's office secretary.

DR. NANCY Cluck of Big D got home for Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. Bob Cluck, but her brother, Dr. Bobby Cluck, had to stay home in Arlington and deliver six babies during the weekend. The Sutton Crofts had both of their daughters and families for Thanksgiving weekend and both of their sons phoned. Dash Crofts told them that he and his family will be coming home to Cisco for Christmas. The Seals and Crofts duo, by the way, was at College Station for a one-night stand last week to entertain the Aggies. Mrs. Crofts reports that an unexpected visitor during the holidays was an old neighbor, Mrs. Christopher, and her daughter, Mary Jane Geoffrey. Mary Jane had a coincidence to relate. She shared a hospital room with Dash Croft's wife, Billie Lee, a stranger to her, before both of their babies were born recently. On hearing that her husband's name was Dash, Mary Jane told Billie "I used to live across the street from a boy called Dash and he had a twin sister called Dot." "What town was it," Billie asked breathlessly. "Cisco, Texas," MJ told her. And they both smiled and smiled.

WHEN THE city water bills came out the other day, Brad Kimbrough of the funeral home looked again and again at his. It had the service listed and under "sewer charges" was the figure $999.99. Last we heard he planned to go see the computer. Bennie Nichols, the golfer, has been promoted to warehouse foreman over at S&M Supply Company. And everybody's invited by the CJC Department of Art to view the paintings of Gladys M. Ellis of Brownwood on exhibit at Maner Memorial Library through Dec. 19th.

In Brief

Mrs. Jewel Forman had as guests Mrs. Bernice Weaver of Abilene last Friday and her son and grandson, Hugh and Billy Forman of Groesbeck last Saturday and Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. James Wuensche, Kent, Lisa and Dana of Temple spent the Thanksgiving holidays with their mother, Mrs. Louise Stroebel.
