IT MAY REQUIRE MONTHS TO OUST THE NAZIS

CAMERONS GET NICE LETTER RELATIVE SON

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Cameron have received a letter from E. R. Carey, Santa Barbara, Calif., which they appreciate very much. It concerns their son, Corp. Troy Cameron, 27, and is as follows:

"Dear Mr. Cameron: I had the pleasure of meeting your son recently and had a long talk with him, and I want you, his dad, to know that he is well, happy, healthy and has, like most of our young Americans, got what it takes to win this war. I hope my son, who is overseas, will leave as good an impression with some old guy somewhere as your son did with me. Troy is certainly a fine young man. Respectfully, E. R. Carey, 1126 Santa Barbara street."

The Cisco young man has been a member of the U. S. Marines nine years, much of that time having been spent abroad. He is now stationed at Santa Barbara as an instructor.

WILSON NOW ACTUAL HEAD OF THE WPB

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—For all practical purposes, Charles E. Wilson now heads War Production Board. Nelson won't quit. But he will sit back and let Wilson try his hand at running the show. If Wilson flops Nelson will be there to take over. In general, production and material companies like the Wilson rise to power.

Unhappiest about it are army and navy. They may take their troubles to Roosevelt, ask for assurances that WPB will not exercise the power it has to take back materials already allocated for war production, divert them to civilians. They knew Eberstadt shared their views on this point; aren't so sure about Wilson-Nelson.

WPB shake-up putting Jeffers under Wilson may mean a new flare-up in rubber-for-civilians fight. Jeffers pretty much had his way the first time; may find Wilson a tougher nut to crack. Despite army-navy doubts, Wilson's said to lean in their direction in the rubber row.

To combat Black Market in meat, agriculture department soon will license all slaughterers, farmers and companies. Farmers who do not normally slaughter on commercial scale will be asked to restrict their kill to personal needs. OPA has already recommended the step. Also coming in meat: A quota system to assure that all commercial slaughterers get pro-rata share of meat killed for civilian market (50 per cent of the animals slaughtered).

War department's decision to bar its student cadets from participation in college sports reversed an earlier scheme. The plan, which the army had been keeping under wraps, was to put football and other coaches on army pay, make athletics a part of physical training, have teams play under the names of their service outfits. Under Secretary Patterson vetoed it at last minute.

WOULD HURT NATION.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—The house military affairs committee today went on record—apparently for the benefit of local draft boards—as opposed to general drafting of family men, and termed such a policy injurious to the nation's welfare.

CANNED GOODS RUSH.

Sale of canned goods were halted in Cisco Saturday at midnight for a ten-day freeze period. Grocery stores reported unusually large quantities of canned goods found their way into shopping baskets Saturday.

REGISTER THURSDAY HI SCHOOL

Registration for ration book No. 2 will begin at the high school building Thursday morning at 8 o'clock in the evening. The same hours will obtain on through Saturday, according to Supt. R. N. Cluck of the Cisco schools. The schools will be closed Thursday and Friday.

All persons (any member of the family) living north of highway 80 are asked to register Thursday, and those to the south on Friday and Saturday.

Families of the rural school districts are asked to register Saturday. However, if it is more convenient for them to register on Thursday or Friday, they will be cared for, Mr. Cluck said.

Cluck emphasized that all should have their declaration slips filled out before coming to the place of registration. Those may be obtained at local grocery stores or clipped from the Cisco Daily Press of February 14.

As stated above, any member of the family may register for the family, but that person must have all the sugar ration books for all family members, in order to register for book No. 2. "If you come without them there will be nothing you can do other than go back home and get them," Mr. Cluck said.

In your declaration, it will be necessary for you to tell the number of cans of fruit or vegetables you have at home, above the five allowed for each member of the family. This does not include your home-canned items.

MINISTER AND WIFE MARRIED 65 YEARS AGO

Rev. and Mrs. W. M. Hagar, of Eastland will celebrate their 65th wedding anniversary today. Mr. Hagar, a Methodist minister for 40 years, is 84 years of age and Mrs. Hagar is 82. They were married at Dripping Springs, Tex., February 21, 1878.

To this union eight children were born and all are living except one. They also have 35 grandchildren.

Surviving children include Mrs. L. A. Horn, S. M. Hagar, V. D. Hagar, Eastland; Mrs. Tom Dickens, Graham; Mrs. C. S. Cook, Gorman; Mrs. J. C. Tucker, DeLeon; J. C. Hagar, Ranger.

CHICKS MUST NOT DESTROY WAR GARDENS

M. L. Perdue, chief of police, calls attention to a city ordinance, which is also a state law, prohibiting chickens from running at large, and he states that as this is gardening time and flower-planting time, it is necessary that the ordinance be strictly enforced.

Numerous complaints have already been made to the police department regarding chickens that are ruining front yards and gardens.

It is hoped this warning will be sufficient, Chief Perdue said, and that extreme measures to enforce the law will not be necessary. However, he added, "this law will be enforced."

LEGION MEETING.

Regular meeting of the American Legion will be held Monday night at 8 o'clock, at Legion Hut.

TRAINING—Some day soon these cadets hope to be officers in Fighting French Army. They're shown in training somewhere in England, after arriving from U. S., Syria and France, to receive five-months course.

DEFENDS RUSSIA.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Senator Connally of Texas, chairman of the powerful senate foreign relations committee, Saturday expressed complete confidence that Russia will continue battling Germany until, with the aid of the United Nations, the Nazi cause has been crushed in Europe. Connally defended Russia's strategy in keeping her future war plans secret, after Senator Wheeler disclosed that official Washington is uncertain over what Stalin will do next.

LOS ANGELES POLICE.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 20.—A legislative committee investigating reports of police brutality to prisoners here has declared that "this gestapo (police department) would be a delight to Hitler."

"The police seem to have a government all their own, with no checkmates, whereby they accuse themselves, try themselves and discipline themselves by self-legislation," said a committee statement, issued through Assemblyman Chester Gannon of Los Angeles.

DESPERATE NAZIS RUSH NEW UNITS RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Feb. 20.—Red armies smashed through desperate Axis counter-attacks in their three-pronged advance on Orel today while comrades to the south wiped out 3000 more Axis troops and drove closer to the Dnieper on a 45-mile front west of Kharkov.

SHIRLEY OF CISCO DECORATED

U. S. army headquarters in London Wednesday made public a list of American airmen who had received decorations. The list included 17 Texans one of these being a Cisco boy, W. B. Shirley, 25-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shirley of 507 E. Fourteenth street.

Shirley, a gunner on the celebrated Flying Fortress that has been dubbed "Carter's Little Pills," and which is commanded by Capt. J. W. Carter of Lawton, Okla., has now participated in 13 major air raids over Germany and German-held bases in France. So far, "Carter's Little Pills" and the men who man it, have escaped unscathed.

The latest outstanding raid by Captain Carter's fighting men was made on St. Nazaire, France, February 16, when six large Nazi planes were brought down and a large number of bombs dropped on the U-boat base there. Texans mentioned in dispatches as having been on this raid were Sgt. W. B. Shirley, Cisco; Sgt. George Byler, Ballinger; Sgt. Martin Litteken, Wichita Falls.

LT. EDWARDS IS NOW AT HUNTER FIELD

Lt. Cecil Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Edwards, is now stationed at Hunter Field, Georgia army air base, as assistant public relations officer and assistant intelligence officer.

Lieutenant Edwards, formerly an employe of the Cisco Daily Press, graduated from Cisco high school in 1937. He attended Southern Methodist university, graduating in August, 1941.

Twenty-two years old, Lieutenant Edwards was commissioned at the army air forces candidate school, Miami Beach, Fla., December 9, 1942.

His wife, the former Ann Burrus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Burrus, of Dallas, is with her husband in Savannah.

RECAPPING TIRES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—A rationing certificate no longer is required to have passenger car and light truck tires recapped with reclaimed rubber.

BAD WEATHER AND GROUPING OF ALLIED FORCES TO DELAY DRIVE ON MARETH LINE

LONDON, Feb. 20.—The British Eighth Army softened up the outer defenses of the Mareth Line today with its big guns and artillery thrusts, and was reported to have captured Djerba Island, on the Northern flank of the line, five minutes flying time from the Axis-held port of Gabes.

The Middle Eastern command reported today that Eighth Army forces were in contact with the Afrika Korps around Medenine, halfway outpost of the line, and its artillery was dueling with the Germans in that area.

Below Medenine, British patrols contacted the enemy North of Fom Tatahouine, southern outpost of the Mareth Line, which the Eighth Army occupied two days ago.

Dust storms prevented Allied planes from blasting the enemy over the Mareth front yesterday, and bad weather generally restricted operations from the Middle East over other African air theaters.

The London Daily Herald reported the capture of Djerba Island in a dispatch from Middle Eastern command headquarters. There was no reason to doubt the report here, because Rommel was believed to have left it undefended when he withdrew his Afrika Korps behind the Mareth Line.

The occupation of Djerba Island and Fom Tatahouine put the Eighth Army in position to flank the Mareth Line at both ends.

Djerba Island is 18 miles long and 17 miles wide. It is 36 miles East of Gabes, and 27 miles Northeast of Mareth, Northern Bastion of the Mareth Line. On the Southwestern end, barely two miles of water separate it from the Tunisian mainland.

It has a good air field, and there was no doubt that the British and Americans would soon be using it to hammer the pillboxes of the Mareth Line and Gabes without surcease.

American forces in Central Tunisia stand firm on a mountain line running southwest from Robba, 25 miles northwest of the village of Ousseltia, to the Algerian border below Tebessa.

It is certain to take weeks to gather new striking force and unless the British 8th Army can smash Rommel in the south with one swift decisive blow, it is going to take many weeks—and possibly months—to oust the Germans from Africa.

The United States 5th Army of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark training west of Algiers has been unaffected by the Tunisian setback and will be ready to go on schedule, but the British 1st and 8th Armies can not be re-equipped and expanded when both armies are engaged in battle.

It was announced that Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, former commander of the British 8th Army in the Near East, had assumed personal command of all Allied ground forces in Tunisia under the supreme leadership of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and had begun shaping his plans for the expected Allied offensive.

Bad weather, meanwhile, curtailed all air operations as snow, rain and high winds swept most of Tunisia.

LEAVE NELSON ALONE.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 20.—Removal of Donald M. Nelson as chairman of the war production board was reported to have the favor of three major white house advisors—James F. Byrnes, Harry Hopkins and Judge Samuel Rosenman. This was without confirmation from any of the three, however, and even anti-Nelson quarters said there were indications that President Roosevelt would stand by the WPB chief regardless of the opposition.

HONORED.

Few leaders of a victorious army have had statues erected to them by the country they defeated. One is George Washington. Visitors to London will recall his statue near the national gallery and his bust in St. Paul's cathedral. Then there is Suigrave Manor in Northamptonshire, the ancestral home of the Washington family, which has now become a shrine.

This remarkable homage, from the people who might have been expected to avoid even the mention of his name, is largely due to the British feeling, both at the time of the revolution and now, that Washington was more nearly in the right than George II. A good deal, however, is in the nature of a generous response to a generous foe.

This feeling is a true estimate of Washington. He fought hard, but took no unfair advantages, and he bore no grudges. Probably no one else could have united the disorganized 13 colonies and led them to a victorious finish. The British have fought enough wars to know a first-class fighter when they see one, and they frankly admit seeing one in Washington.

One point about his career remains in doubt. Which feat of his deserves greater credit, his winning of the revolution, or the presidency which started the new country successfully on its long history? Either achievement would have given a man lasting fame. To have accomplished both is Washington's unique record.

GERMAN MYSTERY.

Stories and inquiries about Hitler grow more insistent. There has been no dependable, authentic news in recent weeks. It seems to be assumed that he is alive; but if so, it is not known whether he is still in command of the Nazi army. It seems more likely to many observers that his powers have been assumed by the generals who used to control the German fighting forces before their authority was given to Hitler.

In such a situation almost anything is believable. Reports are circulated that he has suffered a mental decline, that he had "a serious brain disturbance," that he has killed himself. It would be easy to believe any of these things. If Hitler were dead concealing the fact as long as they could, because of the alarming effect it would have on the German people and the rejoicing it would bring to the Allies.

At any rate, it is obvious that something terrific has happened to Germany. Those retreats are not merely "strategic" but forced. The pressure of the Russian armies on the Germans grows steadily greater. The retreats grow in speed and scope. Doubtless German defense lines will stop Stalin's progress before the Germans are driven into the sea—but when? It is a momentous point of history and a fascinating picture to watch.

SPECULATION.

On the whole, things have been going pretty well lately for this country. We know that we can win the war. But whether we can win the peace is another question. And to previous doubts on that point is now added real danger of inflation, which would destroy dollar values and rob people of their savings.

The most obvious peril along this line is the outbreak of stock speculation. Two things have spurred this movement. One is that the generally favorable war situation itself tends to raise investment values and invite stock-buying. The other is that people generally have more money in their pockets than ever before, and are strongly inclined to spend it. And whether they spend it for "war babies" in the stock market or for "consumer goods" that they don't need, the effect is the same. They push prices up and draw people's attention and money away from the main issue.

The most obvious and desirable use for easy money is to buy war bonds, thus upholding the government credit—which is the basis of all credit—and establishing future security for the buyers themselves.

RUSSIA'S RIVERS.

The Russian campaign runs in terms of rivers. At Stalingrad it was the Volga, Russia's Mississippi, which, emptying into the Caspian Sea, is the gateway to Central Asia. Rostov is at the mouth of the Don river, near its outlet—the Sea of Azov, which is a small body of water connecting with the Black Sea. Moscow and Leningrad are both on rivers.

Her rivers have been the making of Russia. So many are they, and so near together, that it is possible by short portages to go from almost any ocean to almost any other, from the Arctic to the Black Sea, and from the Baltic to the Caspian. Canals are replacing these portages. From Moscow boats can already go to the Caspian and Black Seas, the Arctic ocean and the Baltic.

Volga-borne traffic saved Stalingrad. As the Russians drive the Germans westward, their network of rivers and canals will be increasingly freed and the burden on their railroads lifted.

Americans have made comparatively little use of their waterways. While the Great Lakes have carried their share of freight, the rivers and canals have been neglected. With the railroads burdened to their limit, and trucking handicapped by shortage of tires and gasoline, water transport here ought to see better days.

year of P. O. receipts for the corresponding month. The receipts for May, 1936, $1954.90, while those for May 1935 were $1,876.62. This increase is supposed to be an index to the general increase of business activity locally, it is said. Postoffice receipts usually reflect the financial health of the community.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "O house of Jacob, come ye, and let us walk in the light of the Lord." (Isaiah 2:5) The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage how to get along kindly, honestly, generously as good neighbors with one's fellowman. Others deny the second as a function of the church and say the church is concerned only with getting man right with God, having no part in the common, day to day relationships of human beings with each other. But both tasks are essential and each helps the other. The church must lead people today into a genuine fellowship with God. The church likewise must, under divine guidance, lead all people into a brotherly relationship with the appeal, "O brother man, fold to thy heart thy brother." poses before us. You are invited to share with us in the effort. Morning worship at 10:50, Sunday school at 9:45, evening worship at 5:30 and young people's meeting 6:30 to 9:30 p. m. LESLIE SEYMOUR, Minister.

SHOWER FOR MRS. S. H. NANCE.

Mrs. R. W. Merket and Mrs. John Shertzer, sponsored a shower for Mrs. S. H. Nance given by the Women's Society of Christian Service in First Methodist church basement Tuesday night. A patriotic theme was used in the decorations and appointments. The dining table, covered with lace cloth, held a lovely floral centerpiece of various flowers with crystal holders and lighted white candles gracing the sides. Mrs. John Shertzer and Mrs. T. J. Dean presided at a silver tea service at each table end. Refreshment plates of cookies and mints were passed. Favors were miniature hatchets.

A program was presented which began with group singing of a patriotic song, followed with prayer by Mrs. Leslie W. Seymour. Mrs. Wm. H. Cole was presented in a clever reading after which a medley of patriotic piano numbers, played by little Jane Huestis, was enjoyed. ### TODAY'S LEADERS OF TOMORROW

Yes, Sire, you fellows are the ones who will run this country in the years to come!

The training and experience you get as a Boy Scout helps to determine the future of not only America but all the world. Right now you're learning how to build fires, cook your own meals, pitch a tent, and a lot of other things. Maybe you've made a "granny" instead of a "square knot," but you're plugging right along and the "bow line" and the "sheep shank" and all the rest sorta come easy as pie.

We've all watched many of you come in as Tenderfoots, then work up to Second Class Scouts, then First Class Scouts. You're getting ahead on your own merits.

That's the spirit of Americans... individual effort and free enterprise plus teamwork. That's the American way. It's the same way that the electrical industry grew! When it first started there was only electric light. Now there are all the other labor-saving devices you have in your home. There is also plenty of electric power to build the ships, planes, tanks, and guns needed to win the war.

It's all been a job of training and experience and far-sighted planning.

You too can grow and progress the same way! You are on the way now... for you are tomorrow's leaders! More POWER to you!

MORE Rationing

Means More Food for Soldiers and Starving Nations.

We have rationing of sugar, coffee, tires, gasoline and priorities in many household items and building materials, and we have found that they were not so bad... even with these rations we have fared much better than have those across the seas.

Now comes Book No. 2 and we know not what else. But we should have learned from the past that we will still fare much better than many of those countries even before they were overrun by the despots.

We have the best fed army in the world. We are the best fed nation in the world. With very severe rationing, we will still be the most fortunate country on earth. We will still have plenty and we have LIBERTY

... We have OUR FLAG and what it has always stood for. We are at home... in good homes, and no one to be spying on us at night... We are in AMERICA.

Let's not complain about rationing; let's aid in every way possible to put it in force... uncomplainingly... gladly... enthusiastically.

Continue to buy bonds and stamps... pay necessary taxes to keep the Flag of America a symbol of liberty to all those who gaze on its stars and stripes and the Freedom for which it stands... LET'S NOT COMPLAIN.
