Mr. James Bird, who comes to Cisco from Dublin, having been previous ly elected by the school board to succeed Mr. Varnell, was introduced by President Poe, and the chamber ratified the action of the school board by participating in paying the same portion of his salary as that paid Mr. Varnell by the body.

Mr. Bird thanked the directors in a few appropriate remarks, in which he stated he realized he had a big job to fill the shoes vacated by his predecessor, but promised to do so, in part, at

Stating that Mr. Varnell had been with us for the past seven years President Poe called upon the directors and others present to give an expression of what they thought of Varnell's services while acting as vocational agriculturist of the Cisco public schools and the chamber of commerce.

Here is where the love feast started. F. E. Harrell started the felicitious oratory when he stated that he was glad to express his appreciation of the services of Mr. Varnell, as he knew that he had been of much material individually, had been worth much to him, personally. He eulogized Mr. Varnell as a man of quality and a christian gentleman. Others who paid tribute to his worth included J. J. Collins, J. C. Patterson, county agent: Dr. C. C. Jones, W. H. LaRoque, R. N. Cluck, B. A. Butler, Charles Sandler, Mayor J. T. Berry, H. A. Bible, Secretary Spencer, President Poe, R. W H. Kennon, and others.

> The new round trip rate of 1 1-2 cents per mile for distance traveled in coaches and chair cars is considerably less than half of the old rate, Mr. Jensen said. This permits passengers to travel to their destination and return for less than it formerly cost them to go one way. The new oneway rate is 1 3-4 cents per mile. The new reduced rates are good in coaches and chair cars on all Texas & Pacific trains, including the famous "Sunshine Special."

In addition to the reduced mileage Mr. Collins was not a member of the rates, the Texas & Pacific has made from Los Angeles, San Diego, San Francisco and other California points, Mr. Jensen said. The new one-way California rates probably are the lowest in the history of modern railway transportation.

How long the new rates will be continued in effect will depend largely upon public response to the reduction, Mr. Jensen said. It is expected that they will stimulate sufficient additional business to justify a continuance of the new low rates.

DON'T MOLEST TEXAS ANTI-TRUST LAW

The anti-trust law of Texas is threatened. This safegard to the people of the state is in danger of repeal, modification, suspension, or in some measure of being destroyed. Legislators have in their pockets copies of a law, sent out by the administration, prescribing what Texas legislators should do to "conform" Texas laws with the administration of the National Recovery Act. Texans are supporting the president in his noble effort to restore prosperty, and following most of the suggestions and rules promulgrated to bring the country back to normalcy. But in doing so no informed individual believes the measures now advocated by the national administration is either constitutional or Democratic. But we are willing to try anything once. We believe and know the nation's business is sick, and needs a drastic Meyer, of Rockdale, as a member to the 90th court on change of venue. chin" and not whimpering-that ernor Ferguson has made a wise is, those who are loyal; but there selection. Meyer has held several are evaders, slackers, profiteers and the "general" who have "found a way to get around it."

While we are largely loyal to President Roosevelt and his recovery scheme, we are not willing, yet. to surrender our anti-trust law for the sake of "conforming" to the National Recovery Act, The following paragraph is the "fly in the ointment" which the legislature is called upon to enact, and which every citizen of the state should see is not enacted into a law:

"While the act was in effect and for six months thereafter, one complying with the terms and conditions of any code or agreeing on any code of fair competition, would be exempt from the anti-trust laws of the state, as well as from any court order or decree issued there-

Our anti-trust law is the one deterrent that conscienceless capital fears. Let us ever retain this weapon as a defense of the common man against the exploitation of big business.

The enforcement of the antitrust law has been entirely too lax in the past, but it is evident, by the persistence of big business to repeal or modify the law, that they are not so cock sure that Jimmie ming, if he can get his anti-trust

And there is another piece of proposed legislation that will place additional burdens on the consumer -the sale tax law. That will be intrduced at the called session, likely, and will became a law unless there is a strong opposition registered against it.

Meyer is capable and clean, and none cantrathfully charge, anything against him, as there is no man in Central Texas with a cleaner record, and none better qualified to handle the job.

The Citizen congratulates the administration and the state on this wise appointment.

ONE EDITORIAL POLICY

Some weeks ago the Citizen charged that string newspapers were conducive of more peril to the public than any other chain business, as the newspapers under each chain head were controlled by one central figure, whose editorial policies were shaped by this executive, who gave instructions on what lines all editorials should be written, and that man, who is only an employe must write as he is instructed.

This statement can be verified if one will take the trouble to read the editorials in the Cisco Daily, owned by the Marsh-Fentris string, and those published in the dailies of Eastland, Ranger, or other papers in the string owned by the Austin syndicate. The Citizen gets only the Eastland and Cisco units, but notices that both papers carry the same editorials, except when each has a local editorial. This was apparent in the editorials of the Cisco unit recently, and those of the Eastland Telegram next day. There was not a line changed. The heading and matter of both identical with that of the other paper-all the same. Of course all were written at Austin and mailed out to the units controlled by the Austin syndicate. When this kind of propaganda is read by the combined clientelle of all the members of the string—probably 15 or 20— it is bound to influence some people, therefore, unless written in the interest of the people, ers detrimental to their own interests.

Former Pupil Here To Attend Funeral of Dr. J. W. Tyndall

Among the many mourners who attended the last rites of the late Dr. John W. Tyndall there were none, other than those endeared to him by consanguinity, more bereaved than a former pupil, who came to Cisco Wednesday of last week. This was a Mr. H. O. Langston, who was a pupil of the deceased educator in the first school he ever taught.

Mr. Langston, who now lives in California, was returning with his family from a visit to the World's Fair at Chicago, and had planned to stop in Cisco en route home and visit his former school master, anticipating a joyous visit when the two would reminisce on events of other days, and live over those times when the master was a budding pedagogue, and he a potential aspirant for the presidency.

But it was a sad termination of what he anticipated to be a joyous occasion when it turned to an event of mourning. Stopping at Weatherford before reaching Cisco Mr. Langston read of the tragedy that ended the life of his friend and former teacher, so instead of experiencing the pleasure of a visit, he came as one of the mourners, whom the highway tragedy had bereaved. And he was included among those who wept over the bier of the distinguished dead.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

CHURCH SERVICES

"Matter" will be the sudject of the Lesson Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, Sunday, September 17, including first Church of Eastland.

The Golden Text is: "In God I will praise his word, in God I have put my trust; I will not fear what flesh can do unto me" (Psalms 56).

Included with other passages from the Bible is the following from Galatians 5: "Stand fast therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ hath made us free, and be not entangled again with the yoke of bondage,"

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward. their affections and aims grow spiritual-they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,-Displace Blanton in order that sin and mortallty may be put off.

"This scientific sense of being, his intention of making the race means suggests man's absorption into Deity and the loss of his idenaccording to a press dispatch sent tity, but confers upon man enlarged out from Eastland Saturday. This individuality, a wider sphere of dispatch confirms a declaration Mr. thought and action, a more expanmanent peace" (p. 265).

Former Cisco Lady Visited Relatives In Cisco Country

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. White, former residents of Eastland county, were recent visitors to the Cisco country where they have relatives and many friends. They are residents of Imperial, Calif., to which Mr. White returned two weeks ago, but Mrs. White remained to spend another week with relatives inthis section. Both were present at the gathering two weeks ago when friends arranged a picnic dinner in honor of Mr. John Freeland, "A native of Erath county, which one of the pioneer citizens of this county. Mrs. White, too, has terminated her visit and joined her husband in their California home.

Mrs. White is a daughter of the late B. L. Pate, an early resident of Cisco, where she spent her girlhood, and attended the Cisco schools, and all her life, with the exception of the past nine years, was spent in Eastland county. She will be remembered as Olivia Pate by her contemporaries of the early days of Cisco. While paying the Citizen a pleasant call Mrs. White stated that of those who were school mates while she was in the fourth grade only she and Mrs. Ellen Turner now remain, so far as she could Nerves Do they torture you by day?

Keep you awake at night?

What is it that keeps hospitals open and doctors busy? NERVES. What is it that makes your face wrinkled and makes you feel old? NERVES

Nine times out of ten it's NERVES that make you restless, worried, haggard.

Do they make you Cranky, Blue--give you Nervous Indigestion, Nervous Headache?

When nerves are over-taxed, you worry over trifles, find it hard to concentrate, can't sit still. Nerve Strain brings on Headache. Nervous people often suffer from Indigestion.

There may be absolutely nothing wrong with the organs of digestion, but the Nerves are not on the job to make the organs do their work properly.

Nerves

Do they interefere with your work; ruin your pleasure; drive away your friends?

You're cheating yourself and the man who pays you if you work when your NERVES are snot normal.

You can't have a good time when you are nervous. You can't make or keep friends when you are keyed up and irritable. You may excuse yourself, but to others you are just a plain crank.

Cisco Schools All Opened Monday For 1933-1934 Session

The public schools, and Randolph college were formally opened for the 1933-34 school year Monday morning, and practically all the week has been consumed in organization work. The first days were consumed in enrolling the students and assigning to their proper class rooms. The enrollment building recently, and had it cut into up to Thursday indicated very little difference, but slightly better than as possible. Bob Gilman and the J. J that of the same date last year, the Butts estate were the owners of the total enrollment Thursday being approximately 1,130.

Permanent assignment of teachers was completed Thursday, Supt. Cluck stated, which was one week earlier than previous years.

The return of Miss Nellie Yunk. teacher of science in the high school, after an absence of two years is gratifying to the pupils and patrons as well as to the superintendent and school board. Other new teachers taking their places in the faculty this year include Dexter Shelley, J. M. Bird, Miss Elizatbeth Daniels, Frank Langston and Mrs. Juan Mason. The new teachers do not represent an increase in the faculty, but are added to fill vacancis caused by resignations and leave of absences, it is stated.

As announced by R. N. Cluck, superintendent, the faculty is composed of the following, with their assignments in the high and elementary schools of the city.

R. N. Cluck, Superintendent. High School

H. Brandon, Principal and mathematics; Miss Ella Andres, Spanish; J. M. Bird, agriculture; Miss Juanita Bounds, home economics: Miss Marian Chambliss, English and mathematics; Miss Elizabeth Daniels, English; Miss Elizabeth Dial, commercial; W. C. Old W. A. Gude Home Razed and Removed To Make Farm Home

The old W. A. Gude home, at West Sixth street and avenue H, one of the landmarks of Cisco, has been razed from the location and removed to the Omar Burkett farm, east of Cisco, where it has been converted into a farm home. Mr. Burkett bought the sections and removed as near intact property at the time of its sale to Burkett. W. R. Wroten had the contract of wrecking the building and constructing the new structure.

At the time of its purchase about three weeks ago by Burkett the building had been tenantless for several years, but still was in a splendid state of preservation with the exception of the openings, (doors and windows) the latter had long since been wrecked by the deadly "nigger shooter" in the hands of ubiquitous youth.

The building was erected in 1893, replacing the original Gude homestead on the same location, erected ten years earlier. The original house was one of the buildings of Cisco which were unseated by the cyclone of 1893, but it was not wrecked by the twister, only moved off its foundation and seated on the northwest corner of the lot. Mr. Gude, who was the father of E. B. and the late John Gude owned the property, and it never passed out of the family till its sale a few years ago to J. J. Butts and Bob Gilman for the purpose of division among the heirs.

After the cyclone Mr. Gude built this residence of new material, and from the lumber salvaged from the original building two other houses on the same lot, but east of the site of this homestead. It was in this homestead that Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Gude celebrated their golden wedding in 1910. The lot on which this house stood was purchased from Jake Alex

RANDOLPH OPENS SCHOOL

WITH INCREASED PUPILS

Randolph opened the ensuing school year Monday under more favorable auspices than in its history. The enrollment, for the first week, shows a substantial increase over last year, and more states are represented in the student body, as there are students enrolled from many, states besides Texas, and some distantly removed While this is gratifying, Dean E. B. Isaacks told the Citizen, yet we are very glad to say that Cisco is manifesting an increased lovalty by additional students remaining at home and taking advantage of the superior educational facilities offered by this junior college.

And the term has just begun. As is the custom with this school the enrollment does not stop the first week, but they continue to drop in for the first months of the term. Therefore, we are expecting additional stu dents all thru this month, and probably others will come during October

This is being done despite the serious condition brought about by the death of President Tyndall.

School Head Sees New Type Of Farm

D. H. Kiber, head of the department of agriculture at the North Texas Agricultural college, Arlington, forsees within the next twenty years the emergence in Texas of a new type of agriculture, in which the farm will be smaller, the farm community will be more compact and the farm contacts will be expanded through good roads, radio and other conveniences.

his assumption that the economic structure of the United States does not go utterly to pot. The country as a whole is going still on that assumption. zation, the results for farming will be incalculably improved.

With even a little co-operation under such conditions, a small parkway could be jointly maintained with advantage Homes For Texans to the villagers, to say nothing of the pleasure it would give to passers-by. Such a park, with a communial stand for the sale at the roadside of products of the eight farms, could easily have its material as well as its esthetic values.

Eventually Texas farms should be equipped with substantial houses, with walls thick enough to afford comfort in summer as well as in winter. The impermanence of the frontier conquest clings too much to Texas farms still. Mr. Kiber is surely correct, granting But nowadays it is the makeshift of poverty rather than of haste which makes the countryside not infrequently oppressive for its sheer ugliness.
