YEAR'S WORST DUST STORM BREAKING

About Our Friends

By STEPH A. LONG

Oran Shackelford, West Texas Utilities merchandise department manager says he can't catch up with his work today... Warehouse Manager Midgely is also complaining about too much business... mighty nice to have an over abundance of business... really Cisco has much to be thankful for when compared to other communities... business is pretty fair over town according to reports of merchants... Judge Eugene Lanford walking hard against the wind, not making much headway... Lee Owen also having a hard time remaining on the sidewalk... L. A. Harrison doing quite a bit of circulating about town... K. N. Greer doing some repainting and dust cleaning at the Palace theatre... R. E. Grantham wondering where the Lion ball players are... E. L. Smith asking if any of the Lions attend Sunday school... Horace Conley teaching the Lions some new songs... George Fee coming to town... and now Jewel Poe's pretty white house is all dust covered... Jewel is not sure what color it will finally be... H. S. Drumwright wondering if he can make it to Dallas through the dust... Lonnie Tullos thinking he had better go to work... Jesse McCannies in the barber shop and recalling days of 1919... C. G. Whitaker selling bananas... J. F. Alsop says he wants to play soft ball if he can find the time... by the time he gets through delivering milk in the evening it's almost time to get up and start milking again... D. A. Williams says he may join him if he will play late at night... he's another fellow who works long hours... J. B. Pratt, Steve Nance and W. B. Statham are others who have to borrow part of the night in order to get their work done... Pete Nance would also like to get in if he could get in a few hours before his alarm goes off... Pete still remembers that alarm going off just as he was getting home from Dallas... Vance Littleton and Dick Lauderdale are glad they are fast and can get their work done by working a little while during the heat of the day.

PRESIDENT TO DROP PART OF HIS PROGRAM

WASHINGTON, April 11 — President Roosevelt, after a thorough study of the legislative situation, was understood today to have decided to press for immediate action on his most important measure and leave the remainder of his program for congress and the country at large to decide.
The president has been informed that congress is in an unruly frame of mind and that his measures face opposition which makes enactment impossible if a long, turbulent session is held.
He counts upon public opinion to strengthen some of his reform measures, it was said.
Senate Majority Joseph Robinson conferred on the soldiers' bonus with the president for several hours.
"It may be that the president will desire to send to the senate a message on the bonus before long," Robinson said after the conference.

New Trustees For Scranton Elected

Pleas Ray and J. G. Stuteville are the newly elected school trustees for the Scranton public school, it was announced by W. N. Black. They were chosen in the election last Saturday.

Presbyterians Accept Offer Of Camp Site

TO USE PARK AT LAKE FOR RESORT HERE

The Presbyterian churches of this Presbytery today were understood to have agreed to take a lease offered by the city, to establish a permanent encampment near Lake Cisco.
The encampment, an annual affair which has grown by leaps and bounds within recent years, will be in the park east of the road leading from the Moran highway to the zoo and fish hatchery, it was said.
Plans will be worked out by the religious educational committee of the Presbytery, which was named as an encampment committee, for building up the encampment.
What buildings will be constructed will be determined later, it was said.
The project approved
The city yesterday received an approval by the state relief commission upon a project for improving the park, which consists of 28 acres.
The project calls for 11,120 man hours of common labor and 216 man hours for a time keeper. This amounts to work for 53 laborers and a timekeeper for 26 days.
The Presbyterians hold an annual encampment. Last year it was held at Cisco, but, due to the limited facilities, the city was unable to take care of a great number. The camp planned would take care for any number who wish to attend, it was pointed out.
It was believed today that the park site could be used this summer for an encampment. It is planned to hold an Intermediate group camp here June 24 to 28.
It was pointed out that this will be one step in Cisco's program of developing its natural resources by making this a resort city.

Insull Charges To Be Dropped by U. S.

(Copyright 1935 by United Press)
CHICAGO, April 11 — The government abandoned its long battle to send Samuel Insull to prison for the collapse of his $3,000,000,000 utility empire, the United Press learned today.
Attorney General Homer Cummings — following the cue of the state of Illinois — has instructed District Attorney Dwight Green to "forget" the remaining federal charges against Insull, Green, who waged a futile campaign to convict Insull and sixteen others on mail fraud charges before a jury in federal court four months ago, was expected to make formal statement soon.
Insull did not seem elated over the announcement.

Move To Harmonize Repeal Plans Begun

AUSTIN, April 11 — Negotiations to harmonize senate and house views on the manner in which repeal of constitutional prohibition will be presented began today as Speaker Coke Stevenson named as house conferees: Reps. Emmet Moore, Houston; J. D. Young, Cuero; Alfred Patsch, Fredericksburg; George Moffett, Chillicothe; and E. H. Thornton, Jr., Galveston.
Senate conferees are Senators Weaver Moore, Houston; Albert Stone, Brenham; Roy Sandford, Belton; Joe Hill, Henderson, and Tom DeBerry, Gogata. The senate conferees are instructed to vote for submission with the open saloon "forever barred." House conferees are instructed to vote for a "double-barreled" measure.

Cake Baked In 1879 Under Glass Cover

LAGRANGE, Ind., April 11. — A cake baked in 1879 and presented to Cyrus F. Fillmore, brother of former President Millard Fillmore, is owned by Silas Riley, Lagrange. It was baked in honor of Cyrus Fillmore's 77th birthday by a Mrs. Thompson of Orland, Ind.
The cake is a model of the old Fillmore home which still is standing in Greenfield township, Lagrange county. It is a fruit cake seven inches in diameter and two and one-half inches high.
Riley keeps it on a board under a large glass cover. The icing has turned to cream color. Originally it was white.

Pretty Babes Flunk Quins Test

It's all right for the Dionne quintuplets to wear baby clothes, but five grown-up girls are something else again. The principal of Concord, Mass., high school sent home the quins, whose baby costumes

City Hall Auditorium To Be Cooking School Location 3 Days Next Week

The West Texas Utilities and Daily News all-electric cooking school will be held in the city hall auditorium the first three days of next week, it was announced here today.
Reason for the change in location, it was said, is the fact that the seating and wiring arrangements at the city hall will fit the needs of the school better than will those of the Laguna roof garden, first announced as the school location.

EX-CONVICT IS CHARGED WHEN WOMAN SLAIN

GLADEWATER, April 11. — Mrs. Emma Sage, 27, cafe waitress was shot to death today by Donald Covin, paroled convict.
Covin and the waitress were sitting at a table at the cafe when the convict suddenly drew a .38 calibre pistol police said.
The shooting occurred about 7 p. m. today.
About 30 minutes later Covin was arrested by police on the Tyler highway. He at first declared that they had "got the wrong man" but later refused to say anything concerning the crime.
Police said he had been sentenced to the state penitentiary in 1931 for killing a woman in Houston and only recently had been paroled. They were unable to learn any cause for the shooting.
Covin was charged with murder. Mrs. Sage leaves two children, ages 11 and 8.

Keel Transferred To Eastland Jail

EASTLAND, April 11 — L. C. Keel, under indictment on several counts in the county, was brought from Breckenridge Wednesday morning and transferred to the county jail.
It is understood Keel will plead, not guilty to the Eastland county charges.

Sweetwater To Get Repairs On Airport

AUSTIN, April 11. — A work relief project in Nolan county, city airport improvement at Sweetwater, costing $3,792 and employing 31 men, was announced today by Texas relief commission engineers.

Increase Is Seen In School Population

A large increase in the scholastic census for this year was seen today by Supt. R. N. Cluck, who said that there were almost 1,600 scholastics listed on the census rolls.
He urged that anyone who knows of children of school age who have recently moved to Cisco please call the school board office, telephone 152, and report it so that their parents can be contacted and their names placed on the census rolls properly.

FRANCE CALLS FOR LEAGUE TO PREVENT WAR

PARIS, April 11. — Troop movement toward the German frontier continued today with transfer of the 80th infantry regiment from the south of France to Metz near the Saar border.
The passive defense commission of the Seine department issued a bulletin urging the populace to purchase gas masks without delay, thus avoiding a rush when it probably would be impossible to fill all orders quickly.
STRESA, April 11 — France submitted to Great Britain and Italy the text of a French memorandum to be addressed to the League of Nations, calling on the council to act on the threat of war provoked by Germany's rearmament.
The French action today was the first definite move in the three-part conference of the European situation which opened this morning.

PEACE STRIKE FOR STUDENTS TO BE FRIDAY

NEW YORK, April 11 — The national student strike committee today completed plans for an anti-war strike in which perhaps 150,000 college and high school students are expected to leave classes tomorrow.
The committee decided to warn demonstrating schools of the danger of "vigilant attacks" by "militaristic groups."
"Chicago high school principals have instructed R. O. T. C. students to beat up strike leaders," said James Lerner, a member of the committee.
"All over the country, we expect the R. O. T. C. to take a militant stand. Undoubtedly there will be trouble."

House Defeats Old Age Pension Bill

WASHINGTON, April 11. — The house defeated the Townsend old age pension and Lundeen unemployment insurance blocs today.
The left wing faction sprang a surprise move in an effort to defeat the rule governing the administration's social security program. Defeat of the rule would have meant a renewed fight over procedure and would have set back the bill several days.

Hamilton Charged In Armory Robbery

BEAUMONT, April 11. — The federal government today charged Raymond Hamilton, Estelle Davis, Houston, and Gilbert Sanderson, Dallas, with burglary of the Texas National Guard armory here February 16.

Actress Dares Gang to Strike

A gleaming revolver, hoisted for a quick draw, rests on the hip of Barbara Leonard, film actress, as she goes about Hollywood, a challenge to gangsters who bound her in her bathtub and scrawled a "last warning" on her back, after once before robbing and beating her. Police and U. S. agents are on the trail of the thugs.

PETITION FOR ROAD ROUTING IS PRESENTED

Representatives of Cisco today presented a petition to the state highway department, seeking relocation of Federal Highway number 80 through Cisco along an Eighth street route.
J. E. Spencer, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and R. E. Grantham, city attorney, who presented the petition, said that it was well received and that action upon the matter probably would come much sooner than was at first thought probable.
The petition carried the signatures of representative business men of the city and asked that, in rerouting the highway through Cisco, the Eighth street location be used.
This route would call for a new viaduct to replace the old wooden structure across the Katy Railroad tracks in East Cisco. It would also mean the paving of Eighth street, it was pointed out.
Secretary Spencer, in reporting upon the petition, said that it was favorably received by Leo Ehlinger, engineer of the state highway department, who is in charge of this district, and who recently discussed location of the new route with Cisco business men.
"There are a number of other worthwhile projects upon which we are working now," Secretary Spencer said.
He indicated that there might possibly be some report upon these projects, which he said were still in a more or less tentative stage, within a few days.

CISCOAN TO GRADUATE

STEPHENVILLE, April 11 — Warren Genrv. Cisco, is on the list of 78 prospective graduates at John Hartson Agricultural college for 1935. He is taking a Liberal Arts course.

SNOWED IN 4 MONTHS

BOISE, Idaho. — People who live in Stanley Basin have been snowed in for four months. Now they are eagerly waiting for the highways to be opened so they can drive their automobiles again.

CARVES OWN TOMBSTONE

COLUMBUS, O. — Frank Sauter, 70-year-old stone cutter, who carved his own tombstone, cut his throat and shot himself through the head the little stone yard he had operated for 40 years.

COLD STRIKES MIDWEST, RAIN IS PREDICTED

KANSAS CITY, April 11. — The dust pall which shrouded eight states yesterday and last night, began to break today with colder weather moving in, accompanied by possibilities of snow or rain.
In Kansas where the storm was the worst in many localities in the long series that have harassed the state the dust still hung heavy and choking. In others the wind had swept it along and dark rain clouds had moved in. Temperatures were lower.
At Garden City, where all traffic, including railroad movements had been halted since yesterday morning the storm was abating but still was blowing.
Selma and Abilene however, felt some relief when rain fell and high winds swept away the dust.
Dodge City reported visibility still was limited to 100 feet with dust rolling like clouds through the air.
Bolsa City, Oklahoma, still was marooned without even a mail train able to break through the huge dust drifts that blocked the right of way.
At Guymon, Oklahoma, a strong wind carried away dust clouds but rural schools still were closed.
The dust from the Texas Panhandle all the way to the gulf and as far east as Dallas. In Kansas and Oklahoma the worst scene had passed, but left behind the blasted hopes of farmers and ruined crops.

DUST ROBS FARMERS OF WINTER WHEAT

WASHINGTON, April 11. — Drouth and dust storms have robbed farmers of $145,000,000 potential income for the 1935 winter wheat crop, unofficial estimates based on department of agriculture crop reports indicated today.
Last fall farmers seeded 44,306,000 acres in winter wheat. Continued drouth and gales which stripped fields of top soil and smothered young shoots made further cultivation of much of this area useless. So 12,565,608 acres were abandoned. All the wheat harvested in the United States this year will barely reach the domestic consumption requirement, present figures indicate.
The drouth loss is worse in western Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma, the Texas Panhandle and eastern Colorado and New Mexico.

Relief Clients To Get Full Budgets

EASTLAND, April 11 — Returning from Austin Tuesday with heartening news for relief clients, H. E. Driscoll, county administrator, announced Wednesday approval of the Cisco park enlarging of recreational facilities project and a further increase of money for clients of their budget during April.
Work relief clients during April will be allowed 100 per cent of their budget and direct relief clients will be allowed 95 per cent, Driscoll stated.
"This is the first time in months we've been able to do this," he commented.
The Cisco park project, to employ 54 men, meaning expenditure of $2,977.60, calls for grubbing of 23 acres and other extensive work.

Civil War Release From Army Found

COALVILLE, Utah, April 11 — An old Civil War army release, made out to Adam Fletcher, was found in a log barn here.
The document shows service in the Union army from June 5, 1861, to February 26, 1864, in the battles of Charleston, Vicksburg, Jackson, Chattanooga, in the 4th Regt. Volunteers.

Fastidious America

It has been said, and truthfully, that Paris designs the clothing and America wears it. None will deny that the American is the best dressed individual in the world. This does not mean that Americans overdress, but that the average man, woman and child in this country have better and more clothing than do those of other countries.

Only a few years ago the well dressed man and woman on the street was the exception. There were many of these exceptions, but there were more people down-at-the-heel, unpressed and threadbare. Old clothes are worn only in the factories now. Even the conservative and thrifty rural folk don city clothes on their now frequent excursions into town.

During the last decade communities of all sizes have witnessed a phenomenal increase in the number of retail dealers in wearing apparel for men, women and children. There are dozens of each kind in even the moderately sized cities and in no other business has the tendency to specialize been so marked. The modern city, in addition to its department and clothing stores, now has its shirt shops, waist shops, hosiery shops, hat store, boys' clothing stores and children's shops. There must have been a many-fold increase in the demand for clothing to bring so many business establishments into thriving existence.

And it isn't that they are more vain that more people are wearing better clothing. It is because modern standards of living demand and warrant it.

Mother Goose Invincible

The book censors have reached Mother Goose. Now that her faults are explained, it seems strange that she has been allowed at large in children's nurseries for so many generations.

Among the many evils which Dr. Winifred Sackville Stoner finds between the cover of the old Mother Goose book are murder, immorality, cruelty, rudeness, selfishness, bad grammar, falsehood and anti-prohibition propaganda.

Somehow Mother Goose as a moral menace fails to excite us. What judge in the juvenile court has ever found a child committing crimes because of early readings in Mother Goose? Who of all the grownups today has become a pig thief through the baleful influence of Tom, Tom the piper's son? Who can blame his bad table manners on Little Jack Horner, who dipped such a mean thumb? Probably everybody can say with Henry Hull, the actor, "I fail to remember a single crime that I committed under the good old lady's influence."

We doubt whether any real progress can be made against the glorious nonsense and whimsicality and imagination and rhythm of Mother Goose. The world of imagination may not be as much appreciated today as it should be, but it is beloved in some quarters, and mostly among unspoiled children.

New Achievements in Medical Science

The American college of Surgeons hears from outstanding members that capital ailments once called incurable are yielding. Dr. John O. McReynolds of Dallas, Texas, announces cancer of the eye now "virtually 100 per cent" curable. Dr. Frederick A. Besley of Northwestern University reports bone tumors no longer necessarily fatal. Cornell University proclaims isolation of one of the so-called "immune bodies," study of which, it is predicted, may lead to making the human body immune to much disease. These discoveries by doctors are important—Men will the sooner see that disease is not a natural or necessary blight on human life.

This same Cleveland session of surgeons hears Dr. Winchell M. Craig declare brains are being sliced down without stopping the patients' thinking. This operating member of the Mayo Clinic tells of one half of a brain being removed and the other half carrying on; of the frontal portion, where highest mentality was supposed to reside, being removed and the recovered patient seeming unchanged. Thought was once a bullbrain function; now it is isolated to this little point and that. The points are disappearing. In the next burst of light, what?—Maybe we'll see that thinking is outside a skull bone altogether.

Service Maneuvers Show Vulnerable Places In America's Panama Canal

By SYL MacDOWELL
United Press Staff Correspondent
ABOARD S. S. SANTA ELENA, Balboa, C. Z., April 11—Years of combined army and navy maneuvers have demonstrated the vulnerability of this "Achilles heel of America" to an enemy attack. But the pen of a Panama editor recently has aroused a demand for defense wherein studied military critiques failed.

Through the columns of his Panama-American, Editor Nelson Rounselle assailed the Canal administration for failure to heed the sinister lessons proved in many theoretical war attacks.

The result, today, is that civilians are joining uniformed experts in propounding defense schemes that range the gamut of human imagination. Creating weird fantasies for guarding this vital artery has become the popular Panama pastime.

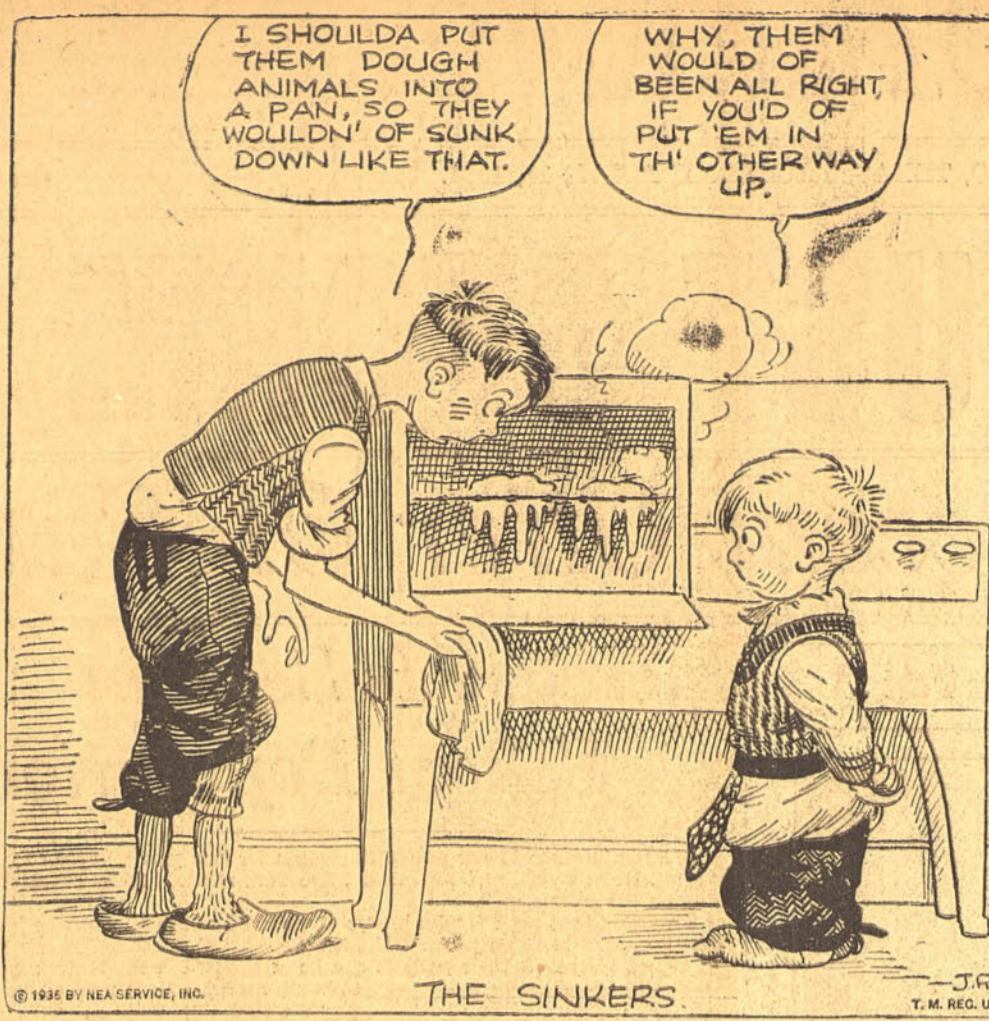

Fantastic Proposals

Bomb nets of steel mesh, arched over the locks, is one of the fantastic proposals which military authorities are seriously considering. To fend off a 1,000-pound aerial bomb, such a net would have to be as strong as a bridge. And to clear the mast tips of ships such as this crack, new Grace liner, the net would have to be as high as the floor of Brooklyn Bridge.

Another proposal is a 50-mile line of "barrage balloons," suspending a web of wires similar to the submarine nets used in the Great War. The balloons, sent up at nightfall to a height of 15,000 to 20,000 feet, would spell disaster to any enemy aircraft contacting their dangling web.

This latter scheme is similar to a plan offered by an Oxford professor to the British Air Ministry for defense of the Channel coast of Britain.

Bomb Net Plan
To top the masts of ships the bomb nets would have to stand about 150 feet above the water level of the locks. It is estimated. Added to the original cost of the nets would be the constant upkeep necessary to protect cables and steel frame-work from the rigors of tropical dampness.

The "spider balloon" idea would involve a greater outlay, but according to its proponents it offers the unique advantage of being both offensive and defensive.

Other plans are being proposed for guarding the canal and locks against sabotage. But as yet no effective one has been conceived.

Blocking Locks
Sinking an explosive laden freighter in one of the locks is the menace most often mentioned. But according to Rounselle, destruction, partial or complete, of Gatun dam which impounds waters for nearly 40 miles of the famous waterway, would be far more disastrous. The locks are in pairs, and an exploded ship would block only one set of locks. But to drain Gatun Lake would put the canal out of use for several seasons.

"A Panama golf club uses the top of Gatun Dam for a fairway. While all other strategic points are now closely guarded, the top of the dam is as public as a street to members," Rounselle pointed out. "In golf bags enemy plotters could carry enough high explosive to cripple or possibly destroy Gatun Dam."

Theoretical Damage
Rounselle declared that aliens are allowed membership privileges in this golf club.

In war games of past years, naval air forces inflicted heavy theoretical damage on the canal, despite the elaborate defense of army and navy base forces. But in the critiques that followed, high naval officers asserted that in actual warfare ship-borne planes would face forbidding hazards, including probable loss of their surface craft.

But Panama strategists are convinced that any enemy would willingly face such an expenditure if the canal could be closed.

Bottled in Pacific
In a war, more than the nation's inter-oceanic commerce would be at stake. With the United States Fleet bottled in the Pacific, the Atlantic seaboard would be unprotected.

Moreover, all except two of the navy's bases for capital ships are on the Atlantic coast, which in event of the canal's destruction battle-damaged warships could not reach.

Such a contingency was foreseen in last year's naval maneuvers. An overland caravan—a "land navy"—shifted the base force of North Island naval air station from California to Norfolk. The tactics demonstrated the need for mobile air bases, capable of being quickly shifted to any point of attack.

On one point all war theorists agree. That if, United States should be drawn into war, the enemy's first thrust would be at the Panama Canal. This thin, greenish ribbon walled by tropical jungle is the world's most fateful waterway.

Desdemona School Must Pay Lodge

ABILENE, April 11—Application by Woodmen of the World, Monday in United States District court for a mandamus against O. A. Kountze and other trustees of the Desdemona school district, Eastland county, directing payment of a judgment for $3,987, was granted.

The judgment, obtained July 1, 1933, in court here was for interest assertedly delinquent on $75,000 bonds of the school district held by the Woodmen organization.

MAHONEY shifted his gaze to Millicent. "What have you to say to this?" he asked.
"Nothing."
Sergeant Mahoney gravely took Millicent by the arm. "May I ask where you were going?" he inquired.
"I was just going out."
Sergeant Mahoney turned her back toward her own room. "I think," he told her, "you and I will have a little chat."
Millicent did not turn her head, but walked steadily down the corridor to her room. Sergeant Mahoney followed her, stood at one side to let her enter, smiled a polite one somewhat "rusty" dismissal to Mrs. Happ, then closed the door

The DARK BLOND

By CARLETON KENDRAKE ©1935 NEA SERVICE, INC.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
MILlicent GRAVES, secretary to GEORGE DRINGOLD, made her employer in his office dead. Millicent has a notebook in which Dringold had begun to dictate a confession, in panic she rushes away, registers at a hotel under an assumed name.
JARVIS HAPP, a stranger, offers to help her. He sends her to a beauty shop where she is transformed into a brunette, then takes her home, introducing her as his secretary. She meets HAPP's son, NORMAN; his stepson, ROBERT CAISE; and MRS. HAPP.
That night a note under her door informs Millicent, "The woman in black ermine is here." Millicent sees the woman in black drive away and follows in Robert Caise's coupe, but runs out of gas. She walks home, enters the chauffeur's quarters and finds him dead.
Next morning S E R G E A N T MAHONEY questions Millicent. Later Millicent becomes pale-stricken and decides to run away. She is stopped by Mrs. Happ who shouts, "Arrest that woman!"
NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXV
S E R G E A N T MAHONEY stepped forward and said, "Just a minute, Mrs. Happ. What is it you were trying to say?"
"This girl," she said, pointing to Millicent, "is the one who threw the keys into the pond at the base of the fountain."
"How do you know?"
"I saw her."
"Are you willing to swear that you saw her throw the keys?"
"Well, I saw her leaning out of the window, and there was a splash in the fish pond."
"Did you see her leaning out of the window before or after the splash in the fish pond?"
"Look here," she said in her most imperious manner, "you can't cross-examine me in this way. I'm telling you what I saw, and I don't want my word questioned."
"I'm not questioning your word," Sergeant Mahoney told her. "I'm only trying to get at the facts of the case. Now, where were you when this happened?"
"I was in the yard."
"Did you see her lean out of the window before or after the splash?"
"It was afterwards."
"You heard the splash?"
"And then what did you do?"
"Then I looked up and saw this young woman leaning out of the window."
"How did you know she had thrown the keys into the pond?"
"I felt certain of it."
"Why?"
"Because of the expression on her face and because I had reason to believe she was the one driving Bob's coupe last night."
"What were your reasons for thinking that?"
"Because her clothes were muddy."
"Who told you that?"
"Mrs. Duchene, my maid."
MAHONEY shifted his gaze to Millicent. "What have you to say to this?" he asked.
"Nothing."
Sergeant Mahoney gravely took Millicent by the arm. "May I ask where you were going?" he inquired.
"I was just going out."
Sergeant Mahoney turned her back toward her own room. "I think," he told her, "you and I will have a little chat."
Millicent did not turn her head, but walked steadily down the corridor to her room. Sergeant Mahoney followed her, stood at one side to let her enter, smiled a polite one somewhat "rusty" dismissal to Mrs. Happ, then closed the door

Comedy-Romance

The last play, "The Robbery," is a modern comedy-romance which introduces the younger members of two families in rather an informal fashion after the disappearance of a case of cherished family silver.

The characters are: Edith Upton — Catherine Russell, Robert Hamilton — J. W. Thomas.

"Lima Beans"

"Lima Beans" is a delicate bit of absurdity-whimsical and fantastic—that will appeal to everyone who is, or ever has been, or wants to be a "brand new" husband or wife.

The characters are: Wendell Russell — The husband, Louise Statham — The wife, J. P. Armstrong — The huckster.

"In The Zone"

"In The Zone" presents a sharp contrast in atmosphere, setting, plot and characterization. The scene is on an ammunition ship sailing "in the zone" during the World War.

BLUEBONNETS USED FOR DECORATION.

Bluebonnets were used in attractively decorating the Humboldt home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. McClelland, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Blair Clark, Mrs. W. C. Clough and L. C. Shattuck.

T. E. L. CLASS ENJOY LUNCHEON.

Members and guests of the T. E. L. class of the First Baptist church enjoyed a covered dish luncheon in the home of Mrs. J. J. Butts yesterday with Mrs. J. L. Shepherd, honored guest. Spring flowers made a lovely setting for rooms in which games were played and contests were held under the direction of Mrs. J. T. Berry.

HAPPY KITCHEN CHATS

By MRS. MARTHA McDONALD

A great celebration will take place on the day when dishes are invited that are inexpensive enough to be thrown away after one using, but still retain the virtues of china.

Until that time comes, however, our pride of ownership in good dishes will keep us at the daily cycle of clearing up the dinner table, washing the dishes and storing them away.

First, all dishwashing should not be left until after the meal. Begin to reduce the after-dinner part of the work the first moment of meal preparation.

Clearing away as you go along will simplify dishwashing unbelievably. Replace materials or containers as soon as they are used—the baking powder, the spice can, the sifter.

As you replace them determine whether or not they are in their most convenient location. Replacing is simple if it means merely reaching out to a shelf an arm's length away and not walking across the kitchen.

One meal process likely to create a confused and untidy kitchen is vegetable preparation. To avoid this all fresh vegetables such as lettuce, radishes and tomatoes should be washed as soon as they arrive from the green grocer and placed in the refrigerator, ready for use.

This keeps the untidiness of wilted leaves and sandy sediment out of the kitchen during its busiest time. Other vegetables refuse, such as potato parings, carrots scrapings and bean strings, can easily be kept out of the sink by paring or cleaning them directly into waste cans.

The large accumulation of cooking dishes during food preparation—measuring cups and spoons, mixing bowls, pans—all but the last minute cooking dishes, can be washed and rinsed with hot water.

Some housekeepers advise washing each dish as it is used, but there may be waste more in that. A little easier system may be to clear away as one goes along but to have one washing during the last period of cooking.

When baking, a utility tray saves labor. Each tray as it is used is placed on this tray and taken with the soiled dishes on it in one trip to the sink to be washed.

The next step in cutting down waste effort in the handling of dishes after they come to the table is to have a systematic routine for them in the kitchen.

Extra space near the sink and a table placed conveniently near the sink where the dishes can be cleared and stacked as they arrive from the table are helpful.

It is at this point that a movable table of generous proportions makes its usefulness felt.

Dishes may be placed directly on the table in the dining room, moved to the kitchen cleared, washed, put back on the table and taken to the point of storage if the cupboards cannot be reached from the sink.

When he arrived he refused to take a hotel room, but bedded himself in the straw beside his calf in the show building.
