

Hall Of
by Harrel Hallmark

CONRAD HILTON's first hotel, the Mobley in Cisco, is being read about in papers throughout Texas as evidenced by an article in the San Antonio Light (newspaper) on November 30, 1980. The article was clipped and mailed to me by Dr. B.F. Tatum of Ballinger who stated, "Enclosed and attached please find the above mentioned article. Hopefully, some of your readers will enjoy it and know that others are also interested in the preservation of the Mobley."

The article was in a column by Jack Maguire entitled The Talk of Texas and is reprinted here as follows:

NO QUESTIONS ASKED—Sticky-fingered guests who may have walked away with souvenirs from the world's first Hilton Hotel are being urged to return same. They'll be thanked, not prosecuted.

The 64-year-old Mobley Hotel in Cisco, where the late Conrad Hilton learned to be "innkeeper to the world," is being restored. By 1982, it will become both a museum and a college to teach the art of running a hotel.

Rooms in the "new" Mobley will trace the history of the American hotel industry. One will be a replica of accommodations in an inn in the days of stagecoaches, another will be a typical Mobley room of the 1920s and so on. There will also be a sample room from the newest Hilton Hotels.

Needed are any item that relates to Conrad Hilton and any of his hotels, but especially the Mobley. Menus, towels, silverware, ashtrays and similar mementoes are wanted. Any and all such "souvenirs" are wanted.

The Mobley was built in 1916. Hilton bought it three years later and personally managed it. Later he moved on to build one of the world's largest hotel chains. Now the old inn will reopen as The University of Houston Conrad Hilton Hotel and Restaurant Management College.

HATS OFF to all those who entered in the annual Christmas parade held last Friday afternoon. I have heard people state it was the best parade held in several years. Photos of the parade in this edition of The Cisco Press.

SPEAKING OF Christmas, the Cisco Junior College Wrangler Band, Belles and choir presented a combined Christmas concert Tuesday night which was very much enjoyed.

DON'T FORGET the coronation of King and Queen Lobo XLIX set for Thursday night at 7:30 in the Harrell Fine Arts Building Auditorium on Cisco Junior College campus. Admission is $2.50 for adults and $2.00 for students. This year's theme of the program will be "Christmas."

CONGRATULATIONS to those Cisco High School Lobo football players who were named to the All-District offensive and defensive teams of District 10-AA this year.

THERE ARE only 14 days left until Christmas and late shoppers are becoming rather frenzied in their haste to get shopping done.

LOBO LIBRARY FRONTLINERS

MARY LOU SRADER
Mary Lou Srader is a seventh grade Lobo Library Frontliner during the sixth period. Mary Lou assists with general library administration, helps with overdue book notices. She also helps with library poster displays. Mary Lou was a member of the Junior High pep squad, alternate cheerleader and is a member of the Library Club. Mary Lou enjoys horseback riding. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hamner.

1st Evangelical
Methodist Church
Sets Yule Service

The children and youth of First Evangelical Methodist Church will present a Christmas service on Sunday, December 14, at 6:00 p.m. at the church, Highway 80 West.

The program is being directed by Danelda Gevara and recording artist Gary Fink.

The public is invited to attend the service and the fellowship afterwards. John Clinton is pastor of the church.

Fellowship Of Christian Women
To Meet Saturday

The Fellowship of Christian Women of Cisco will meet Saturday, Dec. 13, at 12:00 noon at the Fellowship Hall at the First United Methodist Church for their regular salad luncheon.

All local and area women are welcome and invited to attend. The FCWC is a group of Christian women who meet to fellowship and share. It is non-denominational, and each and every woman is welcome.

Mrs. Bob (Jane) Huestis Womack of Snyder will present a concert of secular gospel and Christmas music. Jane is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Smitty Huestis of Cisco. She is a native Ciscoan and the mother of three girls. She instructs vocal, piano, and organ at the Junior College in Snyder.

Gary Huddleston of San Angelo will be her accompanist. Mr. Huddleston is minister of music at First Methodist Church in San Angelo. He is married and the father of one daughter.

Darrell Collins, a freshman music student, will also be featured on the concert. Darrell has local kinfolk in Cisco and Eastland County.

For mothers in need of a nursery one will be available at the Cisco Child Care Center from 11:45 a.m. until 2 p.m. For further information and to make reservations, please call Ilene Cotton at 442-2565 no later than Friday noon, Dec. 12. For those who cannot make the salad luncheon they are welcome to come to the concert in the sanctuary at First United Methodist Church at 1 p.m.

Make plans to attend and to be blessed and share the joy of the Christmas season.

Rev. Seay Begins Revival Meet
At Local Church; To Show Slides

A week's revival meeting began Sunday at the First United Pentecostal Church, 307 West 17th Street, with the Rev. Roscoe L. Seay as the evangelist. The public has been invited to attend the services each night at 7:30 o'clock.

A selection of picture slides made by Rev. Seay during some six years he spent in Australia will be shown during the Wednesday night services. He spent the six years in work that took him to various sections of Australia.

Horticulture Short Course
For Adults To Be Jan. 5-8

JOHN WILLIAMSON
A Horticulture short course for adults will be held January 5-8 under the sponsorship of the Cisco High School Vocational Agriculture Department, according to James Couch, superintendent, and Tommy Toland, teacher of Vocational Agriculture.

The short course is being sponsored by the Vocational Agriculture Department of Cisco High School. John Williamson, Horticulture Specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Horticulture at Texas A&M University, will do the instructing in the course. He is headquartered at Texas A&M University.

Mr. Williamson holds B.S. and M.S. degrees in Agricultural Education. He is qualified as a certified teacher of horticulture in the Vocational Agriculture Program in Texas. The short course at Cisco is scheduled to begin January 5 at 7:00 p.m. in the Vocational Agriculture Building. Other meetings in the series of four will be held January 5, 6, 7 and 8. During the dates the short course is in progress, Mr. Williamson will be available to assist enrollees with individual problems and to provide on-the-farm and in-the-home instruction, according to Tommy Toland.

Persons interested in attending the short course should write or call the superintendent of schools,

Cisco Service Club Holds Meeting

The Cisco Service Club met Thursday, November 13, at the Statesman Club of the United Savings Building. Debbie Whitley, president, presided. Hostesses were Jessie Pippen and Joyce Schaefer.

Other members attending were Carla Arnold, Jan Cooper, Carlene Conner, Linda Cozart, Pennie Fields, Sherry Kimbrough, Christine Langford, Ruby Streiff, Barbara Tollett, Hattie Weathers, Francille Winnett, Gina Winnett, Velda Witzsche, Sandra Woolley, Barbara Wylie, Diane Yowell and Butch Zellman.

Guests attending were Terri Childress, Nanette Maxwell, Sandy Langford, Janice Hobbs and Jan Turner.

The club welcomes Terri Childress, Janice Hobbs, Sandy Langford, Nanette Maxwell and Jan Turner as new members.

Ruby Streiff gave a report on the Blood Drive. Sherry Kimbrough gave a report from the Survey committee. Sandra Woolley gave a report on the Centennial project.

Christine Langford was appointed chairman of the crafts committee. Other members of this committee are Nanette Maxwell, Hattie Weathers, Barbara Wylie and Jessie Pippen.

Mr. Couch, or the teacher of vocational agriculture, Mr. Toland. An entry fee of $5.00 will be charged. Horticulture Short Course certificates will be presented to enrollees who attend all of the training sessions.

Mr. Williamson states that the short course can be adjusted to wishes and interests of the people enrolled, but that he expects to cover such subjects as plant growth and development, propagation, vegetable gardening, developing and maintaining the landscape, establishing and caring for lawns, house plants, and green house production, operation and management.

Demonstrations will be given and class enrollees will have the opportunity to perform the skills demonstrated.

Short courses in Horticulture, as well as in other subject matter, are now available to adults throughout the state under a cooperative program between the Texas Education Agency and Texas A&M University.

This cooperative program is designed to make the services of specialists available to conduct short courses under the supervision of public schools. Such a program will enable teachers of vocational agriculture to provide improved educational services to farm people.

Specialists are now available in the fields of beef cattle, farm electric wiring, horticulture, farm arc welding, swine production, tractor maintenance, oxy-acetylene welding, and pasture management.

Breck Boys Choir
To Perform At Ranger College

The '47 Club will proudly present the Breckenridge Boys Choir, Tuesday, December 16, 1980, at 7:30 p.m. in the Ranger College Auditorium. This talented group of young men will spread the holiday spirit with a marvelous program. It is open to the public and free of charge, so don't miss this opportunity to see and hear a splendid choral group.

Putnam Musical
To Be Friday

The Putnam musical will be held Friday night, December 12, at 7:30 at the Putnam School Auditorium. There will be no admission charge. Refreshments will be available. Everyone is invited.

King & Queen Lobo Coronation Thursday

King and Queen Lobo XLIX of Cisco High School will be crowned Thursday, December 11, at 7:30 p.m. at the Harrell Fine Arts Building Auditorium on Cisco Junior College campus. Tickets for the coronation will be $2.50 for adults and $2.00 for students. The Junior Class of 1980-81 will present a program for the King and Queen and audience. The theme of the program will be "Christmas."

Nominees for King Lobo are Kory Wallace, son of Dr. and Mrs. Norman Wallace, Mike Sherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Sherman, Tracy Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Owens, Forrest Starr, son of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Starr, Leslie Agnew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Agnew. Nominees for Queen Lobo are Patti Gorr, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gorr, Gretchen Cermin, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ayres Cermin, Debbie Hitt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burdett Hitt, Charla Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bradford, Pam Evatt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Evatt.

Seven Elected
CofC Directors

The election of seven new members of the board of directors was certified at the monthly luncheon meeting of the Chamber of Commerce board last Tuesday noon. The new board members were selected by CofC members to take office January 1.

Named to serve two-year terms on the board were Elaine Dixon, Barbara Pope, Brad Kimbrough, Frank Barrett, Gene Gwinn, Dr. Norman Wallace and Eris Ritchie.

Hold-over directors who will serve during 1981 are Dick Woolley, Billy Wright, Joe Wheatley, Bob Ford, Robert Dudley, Ronnie Ledbetter, Steve Cozart and Gerald Winnett.

Officers to serve during 1981 will be elected at the January 6 meeting of the board.

Mrs. Dixon reported that plans were progressing for the annual CofC banquet on January 22 at the Cisco Junior College agriculture building. The program will be on the theme of "Education in Cisco." Dr. Norman Wallace, president of CJC, and James Couch, superintendent of the Cisco Public Schools, are in charge of program details.

Mrs. Dixon said tickets would go on sale in early January, and committees to handle various details will be announced soon.

Chairman Robert Dudley of the retail trade committee gave a report on his group's work. He said that everything was in readiness for the Santa Claus parade and that 2,600 pieces of wrapped candy had been donated by the First National Bank for Santa Claus to distribute during the parade.

Other routine reports were made by Manager Gene Abbott and others of the board. President Roy Dennis presided.

Use Zip Code

Officer in Charge of the Cisco Post Office, Wiley Cox, reminds customers that for the best service this Christmas season they should use zip codes, place their return address in the upper left corner of the envelope and use proper postage.

By following these suggestions, they will be assured good mail service this holiday season.

It is important that families double check envelopes and cards to be certain that proper postage is affixed. Envelopes without postage will be returned to senders, if possible or delayed by postage due procedures.

When the return address is placed on envelopes bearing holiday greetings, it also helps to remind friends of one's current address.

If the family to whom a holiday message is sent moved more than a year ago, it cannot be forwarded. With a return address, such letters are returned to the sender with a notation that

C&W Musical
Not Set For Dec.

The country and western musical will not be held at the Corral Room in December due to a conflict.

Lake Cisco Gains
As Rain Falls Here

Lake Cisco gained some eight inches of new water as the result of rainfall that measured between two and three inches in this region Sunday night and Monday, City Manager R.J. Turpin reported Tuesday.

The Battle Creek pumping station did not operate due to a power problem between Putnam and Moran, Mr. Turpin said. Technicians were working on the problem, he added.

The rain accompanied a cold front that moved through this region. Thunderstorms and high winds caused damages in places, including Brownwood.

Dear Editor:

Recently my parents and I visited Oakwood Cemetery in Cisco for the first time in quite a long while and were impressed to find the entire premises in such fine condition. Obviously a great amount of caretaking work has been done there over a period of months to improve the overall appearance and make it easier to move through the grounds both on foot and in vehicles.

Also we noticed that visibility has been greatly enhanced by removal of many excess trees, with the result that the area appears larger.

We feel that such development reflects considerable credit upon the Cisco Cemetery Association, which we understand has been largely responsible and continues to serve admirably. The least we can do is to let you know of our appreciation, as well as our pride, in Cisco, the town where I grew up.

Sincerely,

Favorite Marinade Recipes

Turn less tender, less expensive cut of meat or game into flavorful, more tender meat with marinades, says a food and nutrition specialist, Mary K. Sweeten. Marinades are usually a combination of an acid - vinegar, lemon or lime juice, tomato juice, sauce or catsup, liquor, wine or fruit juice - and cooking oil with herbs and spices. Favorite herbs and spices include oregano, dill, fresh garlic pod, pepper, cilantro, caraway seeds, sesame seeds or other herbs, she explains. Mrs. Sweeten is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System. To use marinades, cover the meat with the marinade and leave covered in the refrigerator at least 24 hours prior to cooking the meat. Then broil, roast or braise the meat, the specialist instructs. Here are some suggested marinades for favorite beef cuts or deer meat. BASIC MARINADE FOR BEEF OR DEER

Garlic powder
Pepper
Meat tenderizer
2 cups dry red wine
(Wine vinegar or regular vinegar also results in a very satisfactory product.)
1/4 cup soy sauce
1/4 cup salad oil
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 bay leaf
Sprinkle meat with garlic powder, pepper and meat tenderizer. Prick meat with sharp-tined fork to help tenderizer work. Mix all other ingredients. Place meat in non-metal container and cover with marinade. Let stand in refrigerator overnight. This should make a thick-sliced chuck roast perfectly acceptable for grilling. STEAK MARINADE

1 Cup Burgundy
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 bay leaf
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 medium onion, chopped
1/2 clove garlic, crushed
1/4 teaspoon thyme
2 pounds sirloin, T-bone, club or tenderloin, or deer steak, 1 1/2 inches thick
Mix wine, onion, parsley, garlic, bay leaf, thyme and salt in a shallow glass dish. Place steak in marinade and refrigerate overnight.

Remove steak from dish and broil four inches from heat about nine minutes per side for medium doneness. Or charcoal-broil steaks. Heat and strain marinade for a meat sauce. Serves four. MARINATED ROUND STEAK
1 cup salad oil
1 cup wine vinegar
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Score steak. Place steak in shallow glass baking dish. Mix remaining ingredients to make marinade. Pour over steak. Refrigerate overnight. Grill and broil on each side to desired doneness. For medium rare, broil 10 minutes on the first side and five minutes on the second side. SAUERBRATEN
4 pounds chuck roast, top round or rump roast
OR
3 pounds deer meat
Salt and Pepper
2 cups cider vinegar
1 medium onion, chopped
Yields about two and three-fourths cups. FLANK STEAK
2 pounds flank steak or deer meat

1/4 cup salad oil
1/4 cup wine vinegar
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/4 cup lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon sugar
Score steak. Place steak in shallow glass baking dish. Mix remaining ingredients to make marinade. Pour over steak. Refrigerate overnight. Grill and broil on each side to desired doneness. For medium rare, broil 10 minutes on the first side and five minutes on the second side. SAUERBRATEN
4 pounds chuck roast, top round or rump roast
OR
3 pounds deer meat
Salt and Pepper
2 cups cider vinegar
1 medium onion, chopped

2 cups red wine
1 large carrot, thinly sliced
1 green pepper
1 bunch celery leaves, top only
3 bay leaves
3 teaspoons marjoram
3 cloves garlic, crushed
2 teaspoons rosemary
2 teaspoons thyme
1 teaspoon sweet basil
1/4 teaspoon ginger
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup sour cream
1/2 cup crushed ginger snaps
Salt and pepper meat and place in marinade of vinegar, wine, spices and vegetables. Cover and refrigerate 4-5 days, turning twice daily. Remove meat from marinade, drain and pat dry. Brown in butter. Add marinade and simmer 3-4 hours until tender. Remove meat to platter. Stir crushed ginger snaps and sour cream into gravy and stir until thick and smooth. Do not boil. Serve with sliced meat. Serves 10-12.

Thursday,

BBC's 29th Annual Christmas Festival

The Breckenridge Boys Choir's 29th annual Christmas Festival, Dec. 14 at 3 p.m. in the new John F. Bailey Auditorium, will feature traditional Christmas carols and a living, singing Christmas tree.

All divisions of the choir, including boys from all religious and racial backgrounds in the area, will be heard in the festival of Christmas music.

The two preparatory choirs, Starters from first and second grade, and third grade Middlers will combine to sing carols from the United States and four foreign countries. The First Choir, composed of experienced trebles from fourth grade up and the Male Chorus, boys with changed and changing voices, will perform the more difficult and ambitious Christmas music.

"We often perform special productions in the form of musical plays for the Christmas Festival, such as 'Amahl and the Night Visitors,' said Mrs. Ben J. Dean Jr., founder-director of the choir. 'This year we are doing a program of traditional Christmas music, and we always do a bit of 'play acting' along with some of the music we sing," she added.

"Christmas is a time for sampling as many bright bits of the great galaxy of Christmas carols as we can touch," she said. "And we hope to sparkle. We are truly looking forward to our singing Christmas tree, thanks to the engineering and construction capabilities of Jim Robbins, a choir dad. We had a model of the tree before we had the fine auditorium in which to work," she said. "Hopefully it will become another part of the choir's Christmas tradition."

The Boys Choir's spring production of Gilbert and Sullivan's (ital H.M.S. Pinafore) was the first performance in the new auditorium on West Lindsey, adjacent to Breckenridge High School.

The Preparatory Choir will sing carols from the United States, England, Spain, France and Russia and a song for Hanukkah, the Jewish festival that coincides with the Christmas season.

First Choir trebles will perform 'To Us a Child Is Given,' and the Male Chorus, 'Now Again Upon Thy Birthday,' both from Bach's Christmas Cantata. The Male Chorus also will sing Schubert's 'Ave Maria.'

Among songs performed by the entire First Choir will be a variety of carols, a group of nursery rhymes in canon form, 'Twelve Days of Christmas,' 'White Christmas,' and other old and new familiar music.

Solo boys will include Tim Ragland, tenor, in 'Cantique de Noel,' Jarrod Jeffcoat of Cisco and Paul Elich. A treble ensemble, Elich, Rob Durham, Eric McIntush and Jay Socol, will perform the English carol, 'Rise up Shepherd and Foller.'

Eight Boys Choir members from Cisco, who make the trip to Breckenridge twice a week for rehearsals, will be heard in Mary E. Caldwell's narrative work, 'Carol of the Lonely Shepherd.'

The Becky Payne School of Ballet will assist in the production of 'Twelve Days of Christmas.'

DRIVELINE

Now that winter weather is coming, think about these foul weather driving tips:

1. Use low beams when driving in fog.
2. Slow down in the rain. The road surface is slippery. At certain speeds your car's tires actually ride on a film of water and lose contact with the surface of the road. This is called hydroplaning and can produce an uncontrollable skid.
3. Avoid sudden moves, swerves or turns on wet roads. Ditto for sudden stops. Slow and steady is the way to do it.

Maintenance Tip. During cold weather, many cars have starting problems. Often it's not the battery that's at fault. The problem may be somewhere in the ignition system or carburetor. A simple tune-up can help considerably.

How many passengers does the average auto carry? The answer — 1.3 people. According to one estimate, if the average rich hour commuter could car pool with just one other person, America would save 250,000 barrels of oil a day.

NIGHT VISION . . . It takes your eyes about twenty minutes to readjust to night driving conditions after you've left a brightly lit house or restaurant.

Poultry Protection Intensified

AUSTIN — Measures to protect the health of Texas and poultry are being intensified, Dr. John Holcombe, executive director, Texas Animal Health Commission, announced recently.

Because of its importance, the state is highly vulnerable to introduction of diseases from other states as well as foreign countries. Texas is first in the nation in several categories of numbers of livestock. Value of the livestock and poultry in the state is now estimated to be more than $6 billion.

Of primary concern to the Texas cattle industry is the introduction and spread of brucellosis into this state from other areas. "As Texas cattlemen increase their efforts to control brucellosis in this state, they can be assured efforts are being increased to prevent this disease from entering Texas," Dr. Holcombe said.

During fiscal year 1980, a total of 5,784 vehicles were stopped for inspection of livestock. During September and October, 1980, a total of 918 vehicles were stopped.

During fiscal year 1980, a total of 18,013 test eligible cows were checked for health papers to determine if they met requirements relating to the Texas Brucellosis Program. "At least 90 percent of the animals entering the state which were checked met the State's regulations," Dr. Holcombe said.

In fiscal year 1980, a total of 530 complaints were filed for illegal movement, breaking quarantine, or movement without proper health papers. This was an increase of 116 over fiscal year 1979. "And that was due to the intensified efforts in enforcing our regulations," Dr. Holcombe explained.

In conjunction with the Texas plan for brucellosis control, these figures were presented:

From September 20 through November 15 this year, a total of 9,832 head of livestock had been checked between the Class "A" and Class "B" line of division. Of that number only three violations were discovered.

"This to us shows that the vast majority of livestock producers in this state are cooperating with the Texas brucellosis plan," Dr. Holcombe said.

One of the major functions of the TAHC is to control and eradicate animal and poultry disease which are dangerous and communicable to other animals and in some cases to humans.

Thursday, December 11, 1980

"This involves regular inspection of livestock and poultry moving into Texas from other states," Dr. Holcombe explained. And though the federal government has the responsibility relating to foreign countries, TAHC cooperates with it whenever possible.

TAHC inspectors man roadblocks on highways coming into the state. Livestock are stopped and checked for proper health papers and permits.

Every head of livestock that comes into Texas from outside sources must have proper health papers and a permit where necessary to enter this state. A permit is used to assist in keeping track of the imported animal. The permit shows where the animal has come from, and where its destination is to be. These can then be checked to determine if the owner has met the requirements.

If You Live Here, There Or Elsewhere

.... and own real estate in this county, we have a complete record of your title from the deed from the State down to the present time whether it be a vacant lot, the big house in town or a dude ranch in the hills. Exactly how much land do I own? Any surplus or minerals? Mortgaged? Any adverse claimants? Is my record title chain unbroken? All these questions and many more are answered when we build your abstract in our modern plant.

Counterfeit Christianity

In order to detect a counterfeit, you must have a thorough knowledge of the thing being copied -- and that truth is vital in the battle between Christianity and cults.

Chris Elkins, a former leader within the Unification Church described a cult as "counterfeit Christianity" in a recent visit to Hardin-Simmons University in Abilene, Texas. As a bank teller he was trained to spot a counterfeit bill by knowing the real thing so well he's never be deceived by anything else. "The same principle applies in protecting ourselves against cults, we need to know the real thing so well that we'll never be fooled by anything less," explains Elkins.

Presently an author and lecturer his ministry is primarily a positive one, dealing with preventive measures rather than hate and condemnation. "I'm not here to teach you how to hate," said Elkins. "I don't want you to step out of here and 'tar and feather' the next Moonie you meet."

During his half hour lecture Elkins took the HSU students step by step through the experiences which led him to join the Unification Church, allowing them to see, hear and feel with him what he went through. Fearing the general stereotype people tend to have of a cult member, Elkins describes himself as a normal, average college student. "I was raised in a Christian home, regularly attended church, and had a genuine conversion at the age of 10. In college I was a member of the honor society, a fraternity president and active in school life," added Elkins. "So why me?"

"Never let us forget we're talking about a 'counterfeit' Christianity," Elkins continued. "In order to be a successful counterfeit, it has got to closely resemble the real thing."

At his initial contact with the movement he was approached by a clean cut man dressed in a suit, carrying a Bible, quoting Scripture, and calling himself a missionary -- "obviously the signs of a Christian, right?"

During the first week of lectures with familiarized him with the movement, Elkins was impressed with the friendliness and high morals of the members he came in contact with. The lectures presented him a doctrine so well organized that Elkins feels the decision he made to join the movement was probably the most "logical" decision he has ever made.

"It's not good enough to have all the pieces (referring to Christian doctrine)," Elkins explained. "If you don't have the whole picture someone else can come along and put the pieces together in a whole different way."

So how can you distinguish a cult member from a Christian? Elkins quoted from John 13:35 "...by this shall all men know ye are my disciples, if you have love one to another."

"Unconditional love is the one distinguishing factor of Christianity, yet we find some of the biggest facades in relationships in church on Sunday mornings. We're no different from the rest of society," added Elkins.

Elkins pointed out that during the Watergate trials Richard Nixon and Rev. Moon met together regularly to pray. "We may condemn him (Nixon)," he continued, "but when was the time of greatest need for Nixon and where were the Christians? True he was guilty, but if I understand the Scriptures correctly we are all guilty," he added. "God so freely loved us and yet we are so rough on each other."

"The presence of cults in our society today is an indictment on one group of people -- the American church," Elkins said. "Cults are not the problem, they're the result of a problem." Elkins added that nearly 70% of cult members come from mainline church denominations.

Besides failing to demonstrate consistent unconditional love, Elkins also pointed to a flow often found in church youth programs.

"Too often young people in our churches are merely entertained. If that's the sole attraction of a church," he added, "we simply cannot compete with secular entertainment." Elkins pointed to his own life. "I was raised in church and was saved when I was 10 years old, but at the age of 21 I still had the spiritual mentality of a 10 year old."

In the final analysis Elkins pointed out that we can never outpace, and we can never outdebate when dealing with cults, "there is only way to change the world, and that's when they see Jesus Christ in us."

IWU Reflections In Perspective

By I. Will Ussery

Having spent a couple of days in Kuwait, on business, I proceeded to the airport to claim my reservations for the return passage to Teheran. It was not to be. Unaccountably, Iran and Kuwait had got into another of their minor diplomatic spat and airline travel between the two countries, maintained by daily flights by the national airlines of the two countries had been suspended. It happened periodically, it seemed, but the suspensions were usually of short duration.

On this occasion, it meant return via Beirut. Quite simple, actually. Beirut was an hour's flight to the west, and from there another flight on yet another airline would take the passenger to Teheran...in a matter of a couple of hours. But connections were such, at that time of the day, that an overnight stay in Beirut was mandatory. Not to worry. Iran and Kuwait must get on with their little spat. And I'd learned of the cancellation of the flight only when I reached the airport.

A flight to Beirut would be departing shortly, so I walked across the lobby to the ticket counter of the carrier which would make that flight. Happened to be Kuwait Airways, a most reliable airline. There was quite a line of passengers and would be passengers with their bags, bundles and nondescript luggage waiting.

Now one normally carries one's air travel card in one's wallet. I had while waiting in the ill-defined line removed my card from the wallet and had placed it in my money clip. There were a few bills, none of large denomination, in the clip.

When I reached the desk, I explained my situation, was assured that seat was available on the flight to Beirut, presented my card, and laid the money clip with the few bills on the edge of the desk. Ticket all arranged, voucher signed, and lo! the money clip had disappeared. I asked the agent, of course, if he had seen anyone take it. He hadn't. I turned and was met by the inscrutable stares of what appeared to be countless Kuwaitis.

Oh, well. Not to bother. No great loss. And there was a branch bank in the terminal at Beirut where I could obtain cash for such expenditures as would be required in the course of an overnight stay. And as I left the desk, to the accompaniment of the profuse apologies of the airline agent, a well-dressed young man approached me. "Sir, you have been in Kuwait on business, is it not so?" I confessed that I had. "And, Sir, it would appear that someone in the line at the ticket counter stole your clip, and your money". I had to admit that it appeared that that had taken place. "Then, Sir, I am Kuwaiti. You have been a guest of my country. One of my countrymen has violated our sacred obligation to protect our guests. I am obligated to make restitution. Do you know how much money you lost?"

Somewhat embarrassed, I explained that no great sum was involved, and that the thief had merely exercised the philosophy that the only thing wrong with stealing is getting caught, and that he, the young man, was most certainly under no obligation to make up the loss.

"Sir, you do not appear to understand. You were harmed by one of my countrymen. Having learned of the incident, it is my sacred obligation to make the matter right. You shall take this. I trust that it will cover your losses. And please, do not think unkindly of my country because of this incident".

With which he thrust a couple of banknotes into my hand and went away. I placed them in my pocket, and didn't take them out until I had boarded the flight. They were two fifty-dinar notes. Total value just under three hundred dollars, many times more than I could have had in the clip. And, know something? Kuwait has been one of my favorite little Arab city-states ever since. Have you seen a U.S. citizen doing anything like that lately? Neither have I.

LVN'S To Be Capped Sat.

The Cisco Junior College Vocational Nursing students of Cisco campus will hold their capping exercise on Dec. 13th at 7:30 p.m. in the Corral Room of the Laguna Hotel in Cisco.

Dr. Bill E. Vermillion of Eastland will be the guest speaker for the evening. Mr. Gerald Blint, Dean of Vocational-Technical training at the college will give the welcoming address.

Musical entertainment will be furnished by the Range-Grass Band. Steven Jackson of Cisco will furnish music for the processional, the lamp-lighting and capping ceremony, and for the recessional.

Mrs. Veneta Mitchell, the nursing program director/instructor will be assisted in capping the students by two of the student's designated supervisors, Mrs. Sheridan Scott, LVN of Eastland Memorial and Mrs. Harriet Collins, LVN of E.L. Graham Memorial Hospital.

Students to be capped are: Jimmie Campbell and Freddie Hinkle of Cross Plains; Sybil Canner and Donna Standish of Cisco; Vickie Gore and Doris Young of Albany; Mollie Hight of Ranger; Barbara Murdock, Jackie Maynard, Suzanne Richerson, Nancy Webb and Terri Moore of Eastland; Janie Sparks of Clyde; and Belinda Switzer of Rising Star.

The students and Mrs. Mitchell extend an invitation to the public to attend the program.

Select Christmas Tree Wisely

Selecting your Christmas tree wisely and giving it proper care will help it last throughout the holiday season.

First, consider the tree species, says Dr. Michael Walterscheid, forestry specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Common species grown in Michigan, Minnesota and Oregon and sold in Texas include Scotch pine and Douglas fir. There are also some spruce, noble fir and concolor fir. All make acceptable Christmas trees. They are cut in October, then stored and shipped south as Christmas approaches. Generally, these trees are in good condition when they arrive in Texas.

Recently, producers in southern states have started growing Virginia pines in plantations for Christmas trees. According to Walterscheid, Virginia pines make desirable Christmas trees because they have a pleasing fragrance, relatively short needles and can be pruned readily to a desirable shape.

Texas growers, too, have established plantations of Virginia pines, but only limited supplies are available in certain areas. More Virginia pines will be available within two to three years and will have an advantage of freshness over trees shipped in from other states.

Buy your Christmas tree early so you can select the type of tree you want, advises the specialist. Check for signs of needle shedding and brittleness which indicate that the tree has become too dry. If a tree is too dry when purchased it will continue to dry out even though it is set in water. Generally, trees available on retail lots in Texas are fresh and can be expected to remain usable in the home throughout the Christmas season.

When you get the tree home, cut one to three inches off its base on a slant. Stand the tree in water and store in a shaded area until you're ready to bring it inside. Keep water in the stand at all times and your tree will remain fresh.

In the home, place the tree away from all heat sources, such as a fireplace or heating unit, cautions Walterscheid. Check the water level often; a tree may use as much as a pint of water a day. Keep your lighting system in good order by inspecting and discarding wires with frayed insulation, broken sockets and loose connections. Use only lights and cords that carry the safety seal of Underwriters Laboratory.

As a final reminder, Walterscheid advises removing gift wrapping and package materials from around the tree once you have opened Christmas packages.

By selecting a fresh tree and following a few safety rules, everyone can have a safe and happy holiday season.

GUEST SLOT

BY HVO...

THERE'S BOUND TO be some revisions in the 1979 law which was designed to "bring equity in property taxation," according to recent statements by State Rep. Wayne Peveto, father of the new Texas Property Tax Code.

First stop appears to be the equalization of values across the state, and Peveto commented on his own property.

Peveto said he also expects the tax authorities to reduce the tax rate proportionately so his tax bill stays the same.

If they want to raise his taxes, under the new law, the hike must be advertised, and Peveto can join other property owners at a public hearing to fuss at the local officials for raising taxes.

What's more, the same taxable value on his property will be used by each of the taxing jurisdictions that want revenue from Peveto. That is, the appraisal of his home and land will be done just once - by a county-wide tax appraisal district created under his law - not by each of the taxing entities.

If Peveto doesn't think he's being treated fairly, he can pay the disputed property tax with a protest and carry his unhappiness before a single countywide equalization board, and even to court, without disrupting the collection of taxes on all the property around him.

This is the way the tax law is supposed to work, not the way it has happened in Dallas, Peveto says.

Were it not for the experiences like that in Dallas, Peveto wouldn't have to be explaining anything. But the situation there, along with experience in other areas, indicates some need, Peveto said, for refining the 1979 law designed to bring equity in property taxation.

Those refinements will be coming up in the 1981 legislature, where a big fight may develop about granting widespread residential tax exemptions to reverse the shift of the property tax burden from business to homes.

Peveto thinks an exemption should be granted on home taxes, but he says business interests will resist such a move, not to mention the local taxing units who don't want to lose revenue or put the burden for lost tax revenues on other property.

Such residential exemptions, as suggested by some local Dallas officials, also require a constitutional amendment, which takes a two-thirds endorsement by each house of the legislature, plus ratification by the voters.

Nevertheless, Peveto said he thinks some consideration must be given to homeowner tax relief to avoid a "tax revolt." Such a revolt already has reared its head, he said, in the form of local tax initiatives in Dallas, Corpus Christi and elsewhere.

"Preliminary figures show a 26.5 percent average shift of total taxes from other types of property to homes," Peveto said. "I think we'll have a real tax revolt if we don't do something to keep that shift from occurring."

Peveto said he thinks a homestead exemption of up to 27.5 percent on a state-wide average might keep the existing balance between taxes paid by homeowners and those paid by other property owners.

The deadline is 1981 for county-wide tax districts to use 100 percent assessment ratios. That means Orange County no longer can appraise the value of Peveto's property, divide that value by four to get the 25 percent assessment ratio used for many years and say his taxable value is only a fraction of what it really is.

It means taxes will be assessed to what the tax appraisers believe the property is worth for tax purposes. With a statewide training program for property appraisers, the taxable value is only a fraction of what it really is.

It means taxes will be assessed at what the tax appraisers believe the property is worth for tax purposes. With a statewide training program for property appraisers, the taxable value, although inflation alone will mean tax values will nearly always lag behind the real value.

"Full market value for tax purposes is merely a goal," Peveto said. "We all know that with double digit inflation, it cannot be achieved."

Peveto said he doesn't think lawmakers will postpone the effective date for going to the 100 percent assessment ratio, because most counties, with the possible exception of Harris County (Houston), seem able or willing to try to turn out a tax roll containing the new values.

Peveto said he doesn't think the new code will be sabotaged by any group of property owners, now that the concept of county single appraisal districts has been endorsed by the voters in the Nov. 4 election.

Peveto said there are two major reasons the property tax burden has shifted to homeowners under the new code:

"Inflation has driven up the value of homes faster than other property. Merely adjusting the inflation is raising home tax values phenomenally.

At the same time, tax collectors have kept pace with inflation's effect on other property. The result is a disproportionate rise in residential tax values.

"Poor appraisal practices have allowed homes to be undervalued in comparison to other property. More accurate appraisals on homes has resulted in heavy increases in taxable values.

Peveto didn't mention the point, but homeowners and businesses, too, have had to bear the burden of a shift in property taxes from agricultural land and elderly homeowners, both of which received tax breaks from the "tax relief" program fostered by Gov. Dolph Briscoe in 1977 and approved by voters in 1978.

Homeowners were granted a partial exemption from school taxes. The total loss from these taxes exemptions last year was about $124 million, an amount that had to be shifted to other taxpayers in those local governments that didn't want to sacrifice the income.

Peveto and Sen. Grant Jones of Abilene, who sponsored the property tax law in the senate, take the same go-slow attitude toward changing the law in 1981 as the House Ways and Means Committee, headed by Rep. Bob Davis of Irving.

The committee held hearings and concluded it would be practical to make "only limited" legislative recommendations.

The committee suggestions parallel those mentioned by Peveto:

"Provide better guidelines for the organization of county tax appraisal districts. Vague wording in the original law created a number of lawsuits and confusion over the correct method of forming countywide tax appraisal boards.

"Establish staggered terms for members of the county tax boards so these agencies have continuity of administration. Also, create a way for employees of the tax appraisal boards to participate in a government pension plan, so employees of other governmental units can take jobs there without sacrificing retirement benefits.

"Clarify the 'truth in taxation' provision so a change in the assessment ratio won't have to be advertised as if it were going to result in a tax increase.

"Make the homestead tax exemption and tax 'freeze' automatic for those over the age of 65 so elderly people won't have to re-apply for the exemption every year. The committee found evidence that some otherwise eligible elderly people were losing the tax benefit because they failed to apply by the deadline in the law.

Gasoline Needs A Safety Can

Just because a can has GASOLINE imprinted on it doesn't mean that it's a safety can.

Shopping for an approved safety can for gasoline can be an involved process, says Dr. Gary S. Nelson, safety engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

To earn the title "safety can," a container must pass certain tests conducted by Underwriters Laboratories (UL) or the Factory Mutual System (FM). To get a UL label a can must pass nine different performance tests. FM approval requires 11 tests. Each organization makes some tests that the other does not.

"Safety can" tests are conducted in the following areas, notes Nelson.

First, stability tests tell how easily a can will tip over. Then, leakage tests check out spout valves, seams and joints. No more than four drops can leak out per minute when full cans are tipped upside-down. Both FM and UL requires these tests. UL tests cans for body strength while FM tests pouring spouts and carrying handles for strength. FM also tests cans under fire conditions. Tested cans must vent internal pressure throughout fire exposure and there can be no spillage.

Another FM test concerns the flame arrester, notes Nelson. A flame arrester is a screen placed within the spout which prevents flame on one side of the screen from reaching the other side by absorbing heat.

FM also tests cans for reaction to abuse. It requires that a full gasoline can withstand a three-foot drop to a concrete floor without sufficient damage to leak.

Both FM and UL test non-metallic containers for resistance to chemicals, punctures and permeability (fluid passage), adds the safety engineer.

Thursday, December 11, 1980

So look for FM and UL labels when shopping for gasoline safety cans, suggests Nelson. While approved cans do cost a little more, they are built to last longer and to reduce serious fire hazards associated with gasoline and other flammable liquids.

But even with an approved safety can, do not store gasoline and other flammable liquids in car trunks or indoors where pilot lights and other ignition sources may exist, cautions the engineer.

TWO OF THE busiest men when they're not on duty at their regular jobs are Steve Thomas, school tax assessor-collector, and Bennie Nichols, warehouse foreman at S&M Supply Co. They're basketball referees and work usually as a team.

In a normal year, a busy basketball referee will call 65 games. Last year, the Thomas-Nichols team called 99 games. They work out of the Stephenville chapter of the referee's organization. Steve has been a basketball referee nine years, and Bennie has been at it seven years.

IT FINALLY happened. The George Gaffords had a flat tire on their car while driving. And it couldn't have occurred at a worse place or time. They were en route to Lubbock for the recent Thanksgiving vacation and it was snowing in that region. Near Post, where you go up on the cap rock, and in snow ten inches or so deep, the Gafford's car developed a flat. A cold wind was blowing.

The Gaffords maneuvered their car out of ruts on the pavement so as not to tie up traffic and changed the tire.

IF YOU THOUGHT there was a pretty fair crowd out at the Colony Restaurant last Friday night, you were right. Besides the regular run of hungry folks, they fed 150 people from the Central Texas Production Credit Association.

The Colony has a good many Christmas parties booked, including:

- Dec. 11--EnRe Corporation, 70.
- Dec. 11--Eastland Memorial Hospital group.
- Dec. 12--Calvary Baptist Church, 35 folks.
- Dec. 13--Cisco Motel, 40.
- Dec. 13--West Texas Produce, 30.
- Dec. 14--Oil States Rubber Co., 70.
- Dec. 15--Leon Valley

- Angus Association, 30.
- Dec. 15--Quality Water Association.
- Dec. 16--Shaklee Products, 25.
- Dec. 19--Thornton Feed Mill, 30.
- Dec. 19--Mountain Top Pentecostal Church, 110.
- Dec. 20--Eastland Pentecostal group, 120.
- Dec. 21--Bible Baptist Church group, 50.
- Dec. 23--Russell Newman Co., 150.
- Dec. 23--NARSE, 30.

OUR TOWN HAS two brand new Star Scouts -- Dusty Deitiker and Todd Hopsop. Star rank is the first step above first class Scout and two steps away from the top Eagle Scout. Dusty is the son of the Kenneth Deitikers, and Todd's parents are the Bill Hopsops.

Lloyd McGrew is the scoutmaster for the two new Stars plus a goodly number of others.

THE DOUG Frys were in Kansas City last week to represent the Callahan County COOP at a national conference. You'll be pleased when you see the attractive Nativity Scene at Redeemer Lutheran Church. Also there's a nice Christmas scene in the president's yard as you go up CJC hill. Glad to hear that Mr. J.L. Stafford of S&M Supply Co. is out of the Ranger hospital and back at his desk. He suffered a back injury while playing golf.

Mr. Bob Greer, retired oil man, shot a 20-pound turkey gobbler while hunting north of town the other day. Same was picked and assigned to the freezer to await the Greer Christmas dinner table.

MRS. MANNING Davis of the CHS faculty breezed into a local business firm one day last week and made a small purchase, and the store proprietor watched in awe as she counted out 80 pennies to pay him. The Doug Whites, Jr., were overnight guests a few nights before at the MGM Hotel that burned recently in Las Vegas, Nevada. She's the local travel service operator and her husband is a Cisco contractor. The Jammie Frys of Cisco, the David Cunninghams of Gordon and the Dick Collinses of Midland are planning a snow skiing trip to northern Colorado soon, according to scout reports. Mrs. Steve Clary recently visited daughter Carol Kay and family at Vernon where they moved recently from Abilene. And Mr. Steve Clary is planning to attend a 100th birthday celebration at the city of his birth, Rogers, Texas -- soon. Rogers is near Heidenheimer which is near Waco, you know.

MET UP WITH a new area business man in town the other day. He is Mr. Robert Green of Moran and he has taken over the Green Grocery there and plans to restore the Green Furniture Store. He is associated with his mother in the business. His late father was Ford Green, who was well known throughout this region.

Young Mr. Green moved to Moran from Houston and has purchased a home there. He is a graduate of Moran High School and the University of Texas. His grandmother is Mrs. Jay Warren of Fort Worth, formerly a long-time Ciscoan.

JUDGE EARL Conner, retired Eastland jurist, and Ben Hamner, former Eastland funeral home owner, were a twosome on a recent tour of England. One noon when their tour hadn't made luncheon plans, they dropped into a small restaurant and ordered coffee and hamburgers.

After eating, the luncheon check arrived -- $6.50 for each hamburger and $1.50 for each cup of coffee.

RUMORS REACH us that two petitions are making their way around town. One would ask the city council to restore the mayor's office, and the other would request the council to call an election on the question of Shall Cisco keep the City Manager form of government? Prof. Gerald Bint of CJC, who plants a few acres of peanuts each year at his farm south of town, plowed up the peanuts last Saturday -- in time for the peanuts to get soaked in neat rows on top of the ground. And wasn't the rain nice? Reports from around town indicate that the rain measured between two and three inches Sunday night and Monday.

Notes From A Librarian's Desk
by Josephine Cleveland

The Lobo Library Club met during the afternoon break November 4 in the high school library. Tommy Richardson, club president, called the meeting to order. Pam Agnew, club secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting. Roll was called with 13 members present. Tommy Richardson announced that two of the members of the staff would be honored on Tuesday, November 12, with a birthday cake at the afternoon break. A discussion was held regarding sending library fine and overdue notices to the students second room periods rather than to home rooms. Staff members were asked to assist in converting all the present borrowers cards to the students new numbers. Staff members volunteered to do this. This was completed during the week. We wish to thank Carol Ann Slagle, school secretary, in assisting us in this transition. The group moved to convey our thanks to Tracy Reeves and his sister, Mrs. Ann Boyett for the cake she made in honor of eighth grade staff member, Annette Clark. It was attractively frosted with orange and white frosting and decorated with tiny pumpkins and cats. Tommy Richardson announced that Tuesday, November 11, the group would observe the birthdays of Renee Latham and Melissa Sitton. The Senior English IV classes have gathered their source materials and written their outlines for their research papers. They are now diligently involved in writing their papers. Wouldn't it be interesting to read some of the papers they will submit? Some of the topics are "Cults in the U.S.A.," "The Pianoforte," "The Rolling Stones," "Child Abuse, Divorce and Its Impact," and "The Second Coming of the Lord." An old maxim from the Reader's Digest Dictionary of Quotations states: "For every evil under the sun there is a remedy or there is none. If there is one, try to find it; if there is none, never mind it."

Brad Kimbrough Wins Lake Cisco Club's Afghan

Lake Cisco Home Extension Club met November 19 at 2 p.m. at the Federated Women's Club for their monthly meeting with Betty Harrell presiding.

On the agenda for the day was the drawing for the afghan. Mayor Cartee drew the winning ticket. The winner of the afghan was Brad Kimbrough.

The Lake Cisco Home Extension Club wishes to express their thanks to Mayor Cartee and Mrs. Roy Cartee for their $25 donation toward the expense of erecting the street signs. With all donations and tickets sold on the afghan the club is happy to report that they now have over $200.00 for the street signs.

A program on holiday food was given by Etta Judia, Lucy DeVault and Edna Bint.

The Lake Cisco Home Extension Club will work the Pecan Show December 12 at the courthouse lobby at Eastland. The next meeting for the Lake Cisco Home Extension Club will be held at Sue Davis' home December 17. A covered dish luncheon will be enjoyed by the members. They will have their Christmas program at that time and exchange gifts. Refreshments were served at the end of the meeting which was a holiday salad with crackers. A good time had by all. Members attending were Edna Bint, Ruth Brown, Sue Davis, Lucy DeVault, Betty Harrell, Etta Judia and Charolette Kaltenbaugh.

Mayor Roy Cartee drew the winning ticket for the afghan during the Lake Cisco Home Extension Club's monthly meeting November 19.

Patrons for Stacy Blair Concert
The Eastland Music Study Club sponsors a committee entitled 'Patrons' Concert.' The last such concert featured Roberto Davidovici, violin and O Luiz de Monra - Castro, piano who performed October 15, 1978 in The Women's Club. Next Sunday December 14 at 3:00 p.m., The Patrons of Music will present Stacy Blair, Trumpet and John Campbell, organ in the 1st United Methodist Church, Eastland. Admission tickets to the Concert may be purchased from The Eastland Drug Store. Adult tickets are $2.50; students $1.50.

Merry Christmas
May the holidays bring to all our friends and customers the best of everything.
