

EASTLAND CO.—Area 925 square miles; population 33,981; cotton, fruit, poultry, dairying, natural gas and oil; Cisco is headquarters for operators of the great shallow oil field; churches of all denominations.

CISCO DAILY NEWS

CISCO, TEXAS—1,614 feet above the sea; 5 lakes of water; 5 rail exits; 6 paved highway exits; 127 blocks of brick streets; good hotels; A-1 public schools and Randolph College; no mosquitoes; no malaria or typhoid.

VOLUME XIII.

CISCO, TEXAS, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 1932.

SIX PAGES TODAY

NUMBER 227.

FOOTBALL SUPERSEDEAS BOND FILED

R. F. C. Will Finance Exports of Surplus Farm Crops

COTTON, GRAIN GROWERS WILL BE BENEFITTED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—The Reconstruction Finance corporation today announced it will advance funds to aid agriculture by financing exports of surplus farm crops.

The corporation said it would finance sale of 15,000,000 bushels of wheat to China as soon as it is ascertained that the loan would meet legal requirements.

Sales of agricultural surpluses abroad would be especially beneficial to cotton and grain farmers and producers of lard, corporation officials said.

It is understood the funds to assist sale of wheat to China will be advanced through the farmers national grain corporation, a cooperative marketing organization sponsored by the federal farm board.

Other loans to finance disposal of surplus domestic crops probably will be made to the exporting companies. It is possible that some loans may also be made to foreign countries, since the law permits the corporation to accept foreign collateral as security for such loans.

A number of exporting firms have informed the corporation that sales can be made in Europe, South America and the Orient if financial assistance is extended.

15 ARE HURT IN 300-FT. DROP INTO AQUEDUCT

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—Fifteen men were injured, two seriously when they fell into a huge siphon of the Los Angeles aqueduct in the Mojave desert and dropped 300 feet down the shaft.

Crews working near by tore away a section of the aqueduct and removed the injured, who were taken to Los Angeles for treatment.

The men were painting the inside of the nine-foot pipe where it drops 300 feet straight down into a canyon, when one of the laborers fell from the scaffolding and carried his fellow workers with him down the pitch dark shaft.

A foreman in charge of the crew telephoned the sheriff's office here for ambulances, but he was too excited to give a coherent account of what happened.

INSANITY PLEA DEFENSE HOPE FOR ARNOLD

BRECKENRIDGE, Oct. 13.—Driving hard toward an acquittal upon a plea of insanity, the defense in the Dove Arnold trial on charges of murdering his wife, had placed 10 witnesses on the stand this morning in an effort to prove that the defendant was not in his right mind when he killed his estranged wife at a busy street corner here on the afternoon of September 10.

Witnesses testified to abnormal acts of Arnold while he lived as a boy with his grandparents at Mineral Wells. They said he pulled up vegetables in his grandmother's garden, broke down fences and wilfully threw rocks at passersby.

Other witnesses testified to similar peculiarities of the defendant while he made his home in Breckenridge. The defense is expected to close its testimony this afternoon and the state to put on rebuttal witnesses.

Hoover Appealing Against Radicalism

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—President Hoover's arraignment of "false prophets" in his bar association address last night as well as his warning that "our very form of government is on trial" today indicated he will carry on his campaign for reconciliation with appeals against "radicalism."

Bonus Camp Gets Ear of President

WASHINGTON, Oct. 13.—A delegation of men and women from the Bonus Expeditionary forces first national convention today succeeded in obtaining an audience with President Hoover for the purpose of demanding immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus.

First Pictures of Insull in "Exile"

Here is the first picture of Samuel Insull and his wife in their voluntary "exile" in Paris. The fallen Chicago utilities czar and his wife are shown as they strolled in Avenue Montaigne near the hotel where they have been living. Insull, after his indictment in Chicago, fled Paris to Greece where he now awaits arrival of his wife and son, Samuel, Jr.

PERSHING AND MRS. WILSON ARE INVITED

DALLAS, Oct. 13.—Gen. John J. Pershing and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson have been invited to attend the second annual reunion of the Thirty-sixth division, to be held in Dallas Oct. 22.

Between 5,000 and 10,000 of the division members, who were recruited from the Southwest, chiefly Texas and Oklahoma, will gather again in reminiscence of the stirring 22 days they spent together in the front line of the Champagne sector, and of their training camp experiences on Texas and foreign soils.

Gen. John A. Hulien, who commanded the division in France will attend the reunion. He will be honored at a reception to be tendered him on the eve of the reunion day.

Capt. Maury Hughes, Dallas, president of the reunion, is in charge of arrangements.

In addition to the general festivities and the business session, the program Hughes has outlined includes a barbecue at the Texas State Fair grounds, and the witnessing of the S. M. U.-Centenary football game.

During the first reunion, which was attended by approximately 2,500 veterans many of the buddies renewed acquaintances for the first time since the division's demobilization upon their return from France.

Success of the event last year has led reunion officers to forecast the substantially increased attendance this year.

Rotary Governor Visits Cisco Club

Andy Anderson, Ranger, governor of the 41st district of Rotary International, paid his first official visit to the Cisco club today noon.

He occupied the entire program period with an interesting and instructive address upon the Rotary program for the new year, setting forth the aims and objects which it should be the purpose of the club to achieve.

Taking up in order the main objectives of a Rotary club, he discussed club service, vocational service, community service and so forth, defining each and giving helpful suggestions in putting them into effect.

He prefaced his talk with an account of the Rotary International convention at Seattle.

Judge Butts Out After Long Illness

Judge J. J. Butts, who has been confined to his home for several weeks was back on the streets yesterday and today. Although he is still weak from his illness, his health is improving satisfactorily.

DAIRY EXHIBITS TELL STORY OF MILK BOTTLE

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 13.—Thousands of dairy plant executives, scientists, engineers, students, educators and state and federal government authorities, from all parts of the United States and a score of foreign countries will assemble here Oct. 17 for the opening of the Dairy Industries exposition.

The exposition symbolizes the enormous and intricate mechanical structure that is mobilized every day in order to set a bottle of milk on the doorstep of the city dweller, or to bring to his table the various dairy foods. The exhibition will occupy five acres of floor space and presents some 500 distinct items of machinery, equipment, supplies and services vital to the dairy food industries.

Exhibits in the exposition will range from tiny milk bottle caps to huge can washing machines and other equipment weighing many tons. Other exhibits will include giant tank cars for transporting milk, bottle washers, ice cream freezers and extracts, refrigeration apparatus, numerous kinds of containers, pasteurizing equipment, delicate control instruments and hundreds of other items of equipment and supplies.

Concurrent with the exposition there will be conventions of the International Association of Milk Dealers and other groups in the dairy food industries. Educational exhibits in the exposition are sponsored by the two international associations and by the national dairy council and the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the department of commerce.

Pioneer Abilene Druggist Dies

ABILENE, Oct. 13.—R. B. Compton, pioneer druggist here, and widely known resident of the state, died suddenly today. Physicians who fought desperately to save his life said heart failure caused his death.

BURKETT POOL IS INCLUDED IN PRORATION

Restriction of the Burkett pool, heretofore exempt, is included in the new proration order of the Texas Railroad commission, placing the west central Texas allowable at 21,500 barrels daily. The Burkett area, with a potential of about 800 barrels is reduced to total allowable of about 375, it was estimated.

The new order goes into effect in the district Saturday, October 15, at 7 a. m.

The former allowable for the west central Texas field was 30,000 barrels. Reduction of this figure was in accord with reductions in field allowables all over the state, including the east Texas and gulf coast fields, which lopped about 117,000 barrels off of the total production permitted.

"The amended order seems on first thought as being very drastic," said Omar Burkett, deputy supervisor in charge of proration enforcement in the district. "However, with the full cooperation of the purchasers of crude oil in the district the present takings as based on the former order will not be changed. And, taking into consideration the price increase in the east Texas and gulf coast areas, operators are optimistic that proration for all stripper wells will soon be lifted."

It was reported this week from well informed quarters that there is an immediate possibility of purchasers taking all available oil in this territory.

Play to Be Given To Aid Milk Fund

"Ghost House", a thrilling mystery drama, using local talent as members of the cast, is to be presented at the high school auditorium October 21 and 22 by the West Ward Parent-Teacher association.

Lois R. Boll, of Kansas City, Mo., is directing the production. She comes highly recommended, holding a B. A. and a master's degree in dramatic art and having spent a year of study at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts in New York City.

The committee and Miss Boll have already begun plans for the presentation of the play. Proceeds will be placed in the milk fund for undernourished children.

Country Club to Sponsor Dance

The Cisco Country club will sponsor a dance tomorrow night from 9 till 12 at the clubhouse, the proceeds to be used for the benefit of the club. Ray Judia's orchestra will furnish the music for the evening. Mrs. W. J. Armstrong and Mrs. W. W. Wallace, hostesses have announced that the public is invited and that all club members are expected to attend.

RODEO STARTS SATURDAY AT ONE O'CLOCK

Goat roping will be the first event Saturday afternoon at the business men's good will rodeo, held at Chesley field, according to Joe C. Burnam. The rodeo will start at 1 o'clock, Burnam said.

Following the goat roping will come calf roping, steer riding, mule riding, and bronc riding. A small fee will be charged for entries in each event, and cash prizes will be awarded. Each event is open to anyone who wishes to enter. Burnam said he expected the program to go forward smoothly, due to the fact that skilled rodeo men will be in charge.

The horse races will be held at 3 p. m., with Walter Ray in charge. The first running event will be a kid pony race, which will be followed by a cow horse race and a freer-for-all.

The terrapin race will be held at D avenue and East Seventh street Saturday morning at 10:30. Burnam has requested that every boy—or girl—who can get a terrapin enter him in the race. Ten cents will be paid for each entry, and one dollar each for the winner of the race and for the largest terrapin.

The merchants hope, by sponsoring rodeos such as this one, to create a better feeling among the people living in the Cisco trading district. Tickets may be secured from the local merchants at any time.

SCHOOLS ARE AIDING FIRE PREVENTION

In keeping with the nationwide observance of Fire Prevention week, the public schools of Cisco are sponsoring programs dealing with fire hazards and their removal and the fighting of fire, according to Fire Marshal O. Gustafson.

The grammar school sent a group of students to the fire station this morning, where they were instructed in matters of safety by the Cisco fire department. The pupils learned what equipment the department has and how it is used. They were told, how burning buildings should be ventilated so as to insure a minimum of damage.

The pupils from the civics classes taught by Miss Fannie Stevens and the leaders in the fire drills of each room were at the station receiving instruction from Fire Marshal Gustafson and C. O. Pass. They were accompanied by Miss Stevens and Principal O. L. Stamey.

Later the drill leaders will visit other schools to observe the systems used there and may modify their own if conditions justify it, Stamey said. The pupils are also working on a play, "The Trial of Fire," to be presented at a charge against useless destruction of property.

Lure of Moonlight Draws Cisco Riders

Moonlight on the canyon trails has been causing city dwellers to forget sleep and ride horseback until early in the mornings, according to word received from Clarence Keen, manager of the S-Bar Dude ranch, five miles north of Cisco. Many Ciscoans and others have been taking advantage of the moonlight rides featured by the ranch and have combined the better features of exercise, recreation, and the beauty of the Texas night.

The ranch now has a string of 19 horses, Keen said. New saddles have been added, and the ranch is better equipped to take care of picnic parties, horseback riders, and vacationists than ever before.

Texas Ranges in Best Condition

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—Texas cattle ranges are in the best condition in ten years, the state and federal agricultural departments reported here today. The range condition was put at 91 per cent, compared with 71 per cent a year ago.

Cattle improved two points in condition during September and on October 1 were rated at 88 per cent as compared with 80 per cent a year ago.

Roosevelt to Be Heard at 9 Tonight

Franklin D. Roosevelt, democratic presidential candidate, will speak primarily to women voters over a radio network this evening at 9 o'clock, it was announced here. He may be heard in Cisco over station KRLD.

Martin Insull Had Cell Here

Here is the jail at Barrie, Ontario, where Martin Insull, fallen Chicago utilities millionaire, was a prisoner. He gained his freedom on bond. After having disappeared from Paris, Samuel Insull was first reported to have fled to Portugal. Later he was reported in Turin, Italy, with Florence as his reported destination, and was arrested in Greece Monday.

BOND SOUGHT FOR INGRAHAM AT FT. WORTH

FORT WORTH, Oct. 13.—Sleepless and noncommittal Roy Ingraham sat in a jail cell here today reading a Bible while attorneys sought his release under $5,000 bond on charges of assault to murder.

Ingraham, 33 Santa Fe railway employee, was charged in connection with the shooting of J. B. Lightfoot, 28, Cleburne railroad dispatcher. A woman said to have been with Lightfoot when he was shot, sat at his bedside in a hospital as the wounded man fought for life today.

A bullet ripped Lightfoot's body as he walked down a street here yesterday. The single shot was fired from a passing automobile in which rode two men and two women.

Ingraham was arrested by John-son county Sheriff Joe Crawford at Cleburne several hours after the shooting.

Lightfoot expected a "layoff" soon and came here looking for work, he told officers. The woman with whom he was walking had arrived on the same train and he had met her in the station, he said.

INSULL WILL NOT GIVE UP HIS PASSPORT

ATHENS, Greece, Oct. 13.—Samuel Insull refused today to surrender his passport when the American consul called on Insull personally and asked for the document.

Insull's passport is for a 30-day stay in Greece. Until that period expires Greek officials are expected to regard his papers as being in order.

Loss of the passport would leave the indicted utilities magnate subject to arrest or deportation that would lead to his return to the United States to answer the Chicago indictment.

The minister of the interior said Insull will be requested to leave although he cannot be rearrested.

Insull is awaiting the arrival here of his wife and son from Paris. There was no immediate indication where he would go. The American legation will insist that he sent to Italy or France where extradition papers can be served.

Bandit Gang Gets $25,000 From Bank

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Oct. 3.—A band of daring bandits raided the Nebraska National bank here today, took $25,000 in cash and currency, and fled, forcing girl stenographers to stand on the running board of their car to shield them from possible gun fire.

Frightened stenographers were ordered off the car at the edge of town.

WEATHER

West Texas—Partly cloudy. Probably showers south portion tonight and Friday.
East Texas—Generally fair to night. Friday increasing cloudiness.

IS ACCEPTED BY DISTRICT CLERK TODAY

Appeal of the executive committee of the oil belt district of the Inter-scholastic league from the decision of the 91st district court restoring the Cisco Lobos to the 1932 football schedule of the league was perfected today.

The committee filed its super-sedeas bond with District Clerk W. H. McDonald this morning. It was accepted.

"The bond is worth a million dollars," said the district clerk.

It bore the signatures of all members of the district committee and those of about 20 sureties.

Principals who signed are: L. E. Dudley, N. S. Holland, R. F. How-way, E. J. Woodward and P. B. Bittle.

OCT. 28 TO BE INSTITUTE DAY FOR TEACHERS

The Eastland county teachers institute will be held at the high school auditorium in Eastland at 9 o'clock Friday morning, Oct. 28, according to an announcement received from County Supt. B. E. McGlamery.

The general session will consist of a song service led by H. A. Reynolds of Alameda, devotional by Rev. O. B. Darby of Eastland, a reading by Miss Oneta Russell of Eastland high school, and a business session with Supt. McGlamery presiding.

The section meetings will be divided into two parts: the first from 11 a. m. till 12:15 p. m., and the second from 1:15 till 2:30. Each teacher is expected to attend the meeting of the section of which his work is a part.

The high school division will meet in Room 20 of the high school, with Supt. M. L. Cobb of Desdemona presiding. In the morning session discussions will be centered about tests and measurements, led by Supt. E. T. Dawson of Rising Star, and a physical education program led by Prin. W. P. Palm of Eastland.

In the afternoon Supt. P. B. Bittle will speak on failures in mathematics and Supt. R. N. Cluck of Cisco on school psychology.

Meeting in room 25 of the high school with W. W. Jarvis of Ranger as chairman, the intermediate section meeting in the morning will discuss, by means of six 10-minute addresses, supervision in the intermediate grades. The following will take part on the program: A. W. Warford of Gorman, H. L. Baskin of Ranger, Mrs. D. V. Rogers of Alameda, D. E. Hoover of Desdemona, Mrs. H. B. Brandon of Cisco, and Mrs. Fred Roberts of Rising Star.

In the afternoon Mrs. G. H. Kinard of Eastland, P. O. Hatley of Ranger and County Superintendent B. E. McGlamery will discuss the teaching of citizenship.

Moving over to the study hall of the junior high school, with Miss June Pearson of Ranger acting as chairman, the primary division will have as its theme for the morning program reading and phonics, led by Miss Dora Rollins of Ranger. In the afternoon number work will be taken up by Miss Willie Graham of Lone Cedar, Mrs. J. C. Carter of Yellow Mound, Mrs. J. C. McAfee of Cisco, Miss Lillian Smith of Eastland, and Mrs. Ruth Higginbotham of Alameda. Miss Jo Foote of Gorman and Miss Estelle Webb of Flatwoods will discuss writing in the primary grades.

All rural teachers will meet with County Supt. B. E. McGlamery in the high school auditorium at 11:00 a. m. for a short session and go from there to the section meetings.

'FREE FROM DEAD TREE' REPORT, Me., Oct. 13.—A tree is growing from the limb of a dead tree 10 feet from the ground near here.

THE CISCO DAILY NEWS

Phone 80.

Published By
THE CISCO PRINTING & PUBLISHING COMPANY.
304-306 D Avenue, Cisco, Texas.

MEMBER UNITED PRESS.
MEMBER ADVERTISING BUREAU.
TEXAS DAILY PRESS LEAGUE.

W. H. La ROQUE.....Manager.
H. A. BUTLER.....Editor.

Entered at the Postoffice in Cisco, Texas, as Second Class Mail matter.

Publication Days: Afternoons (except Saturday) and Sunday morning.

Subscription Rates: Per Month (delivered in Cisco), 50c, if paid in advance, Twelve months, $5.00 in Texas; $6.50 out of state.

Obituaries, Cards of Thanks and Classified, 2c per word.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of this paper will be gladly corrected upon being brought to the attention of the editor.

Any error made in advertisements will be gladly corrected upon being brought to attention of the publishers and the liability of this paper is limited to the amount of the space consumed by the error in the advertisement.

SPEAKING OF GERMAN SETTLEMENTS.

A very enterprising and interesting contemporary, the Port Arthur News, reminded its readers that Oct. 6 does not ordinarily impress Americans as an important anniversary and that a group of Texans of German descent had a huge celebration on this date this year—a celebration to commemorate the founding of the first permanent German settlement in the United States. Again it reminds its readers that event took place on Oct. 6, 1683, when a group of religious refugees from the German Palatinate landed at Philadelphia "and when you stop to think about it the date is one which was pretty important in the life of the republic. "For some reason," the editorial writer of the News says, "we often have a singular blindness when we look back to our national origins."

Yes, we talk about the English settlers who landed at Plymouth Rock Massachusetts Bay; we know all the details about the other English settlements in Virginia, the Carolinas, and Maryland; we are familiar with the Dutch settlements at New Amsterdam and in the Hudson river valley; but we never pay much attention to the incident that began the vastly and profoundly important stream of German immigration to North America.

These early German settlers, we are told, came over on the ship Concord, a ship which ranks in importance not far below the Mayflower itself. Reaching Philadelphia, they soon established the town of Germantown and paved the way for the tremendous influx of German people which was to continue for two full centuries and which was to provide the nation with one of its most industrious and useful groups of citizens. Furthermore, that the United States, indeed, owes a great deal to the unsatisfactory conditions in the German states which caused so many Germans to look overseas; that few nationalities contributed more to the upbuilding of the nation as such cities as St. Louis, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, and many others testify abundantly.

A reminder that before the United States entered the World war on the side of the Allies it was fairly common for groups of Americans of German descent to commemorate the Oct. 6 anniversary. "The war naturally interrupted the custom," reads the News editorial, "but its revival by the Texans is good news and it is to be hoped that the date hereafter will have to all of us the significance that it should have."

In the lower country, speaking of Texas, there are 22 counties with prosperous minor cities and towns, largely populated by Americans of German ancestry. There are important communities in Cooke and other North Texas counties where their influence is felt: There are West Texas counties where colonies have been founded and have prospered since the close of the war between the states. San Antonio contains a very large contingent of Americans of German origin and the two very populous and prosperous counties of Guadalupe and Comal speak for themselves, while Fredericksburg, the seat of Gillespie county, is a town of romance, history, thrift, and progressiveness which is entitled to a large spot on the map of Texas.

Cong. Richard Kleberg, a lineal descendant of German pioneers who came to Texas in the long ago and who fought under the flag of Sam Houston at San Jacinto, is a scion of this old pioneer stock and his people on both sides of the line have ever been builders of Texas. Many Texans of German origin have made the laws of the state. Many Texans of German origin are among the lawmakers of today. In the long ago these newcomers from beyond the Rhine fought Indians and wild men who were not Indians under the skies of the Southwest. They aided with plow and hoe and rifle in transforming a wilderness into an empire.

POPULARITY OF SALES TAX IN MISSISSIPPI.

After a bitter battle in which the state lambasted the administration for its decision "to harass the people of Mississippi with a sales tax" the fight was won and a general sales tax of two per cent went into effect on May 1 — editorializes the Orlando (Fla.) Evening Reporter-Star. According to our Florida contemporary, to date, or Oct. 1, the results indicate that the tax will bring in a revenue of more than $2,500,000 during the present year. Incidentally, the estimated yield was $2,000,000. None of the dire forebodings which were anticipated have come to pass. Mississippi still has its volume of home trade, the opposition to the method has vanished, collection expense has been small, and everybody seems to be happy. This is the conclusion of the News Reporter editorial: "In a score of other states where the taxpayers are harassed by nuisance taxes, where the gasoline goose is being strangled to death, the Mississippi experiment is being watched with intense interest. In the nation where our patchwork of excise taxes installed in lieu of the sales tax is producing a steadily increasing deficit, the success of Mississippi means much. It simply means that the new congress probably will substitute a general sales tax for the unsuccessful elements of our present taxation program before winter is over." It is said that Governor Mike Sennett Connor and his administration leaders in Mississippi have given the sales tax proposal the acid test. It not only survived the test but has popularized the system in this old South state east of the Mississippi river.

TO TRADE

A dandy good black and mixed land farm, clear, near Cisco, to trade for land near San Antonio, or City Property in San Antonio.

E. P. CRAWFORD

Phone 453.

The Tie That Binds

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Efforts to have Curly Armstrong declared ineligible for further competition in the political tempest in a teacup that is developing in Cisco, have so far been unsatisfactory to Specs. I am caught again today in the cross-fire between himself and W. J. Leach, whose name is John and who doesn't like Jake.

The present controversy has developed over Leach's fervent attachment to the doctrines, principles and personnel of the republican party. For some reason, Curly doesn't like this attachment and has been seeking to blast Leach and his compatriots from their Gibraltar.

Curly intimated yesterday that he has not been able to create the uproar that he intended to bring about. He secretly wants Wally Wallace to come out of retirement and make himself vulnerable for attack, but Wally being wily, prefers to find plenty to do — apparently — in the oil business and is letting Curly storm himself out.

To dare a little further in this secret, Curly is apprehensive of Wally's reticence, having had intimation that the latter is cooking up something potent on the sly. Midnight oil burning in the Wallace home and the shadow of a staid head bent over sundry sheets and papers serves to confirm the suspicion that the oil business isn't getting all the attention it is purported to receive. Curly would hate like the mischief to become a spectacle in the name of Hoover, and hence, he is worried. It is the same old story of an unseen antagonist being the most feared.

"I see," says Curly, "my republican friend, Jake Leach, decries the democratic plan to raise campaign funds by selling medallions for $1 each which he says can be purchased for 10 cents each.

"I am sorry myself that the democrats are reduced to such poverty by four years of Hoover prosperity. However, having no public oil reserves or post offices to sell we are trying to do the best we can by honest methods. In my interview last week about the blind devotion of the republicans to party I had no idea it even demanded the neglect of their religious duties as Jake says."

Appreciation so rarely blesses the efforts of the police in their dealings with the rag-tag and bob-tail army that filters through their hands during these periods of economic travail that the Cisco police are pardonably enthusiastic over the following epistle which arrived today from far-off Hawaii. Between the lines the officers read the story of a salvation, and fairly enough they give credit to their methods of handling the nomadic elements.

"Fort Kamehameke, Honolulu, T. H. October 1, 1932.

"Chief of Police:

"Dear Sir:

"You no doubt have forgotten two young fellows who came to the police station one evening last May looking for the fire department. One a blonde about five foot, four inches. The other a dark-haired boy, five foot seven. I am the latter.

"I told you I would write a line or two and let you know how I am getting along. There you have the reason for this.

"As you see, I am now in coast artillery of the U. S. army. As I had two excellent discharges I re-enlisted the first of July for Hawaii and intend to put the rest of my life in the service.

"But the real reason for this letter is not to take up your time dealing with my future. But to thank you and all the members of your force for the kind and human way you treated us while just tramps in your little city. It was wonderful. Words cannot express my gratitude to you for the six hours we spent there. I can still taste those doughnuts and I know I'm not speaking only for myself, but other boys who have gone through your city broke due to causes that seem to exist all over at present. You, beyond all doubt, have kept many a boy out of trouble by your system of handling them.

"Again I thank you. And I am sure this letter is only one out of many." Etc.

The letter is indeed one out of many. One letter out of many people. It will probably be framed and hung in the police station.

Attention W. H. Craddock, W. W. Wallace, W. J. Leach, et al:

Archie the Shine Boy is wearing a Bullington button with all but the first four letters scratched off.

TEXAS TOPICS

By RAYMOND DEBROOKS

AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—The state buys huge quantities of groceries, tires, dry goods and supplies for its institutions and departments, getting extremely low prices as compared with retail levels.

Its bids are a sensitive index to price fluctuations. Prices are going up substantially in many lines, particularly cloth, clothing and dry goods, according to bids submitted the board of control. Food prices also are beginning to react upward.

Another 30,000 state officials apparently are being created by inference in court rulings based on the mandate of indefinite language of a 5-to-4 U. S. supreme court decision.

Every person touching any phase of the holding of a party primary — any party — becomes a state officer under the decision that the primaries are a part of the state election. It being well established that the legislature cannot delegate such important powers or any powers to unofficial persons. Of course none of these 30,000 take the oath of office, or are selected by the state; but by court decree they have been established as officials administering the power and government of Texas. Even though the state does not pay them and the private agency of a political party does.

Having exhausted all the stock ideas of newspapermaking in its lowest forms all the ideas that persist in this day of college-trained newspaper writers and copydesk men, that the typical newspaperman is a degenerate, drunken bum, it appears now the motion picture-making industry will have to turn to some novel, fresh field of material. Such for instance as the trials of the stenographer in a business office. Or maybe they will have to work through this pre-natal cycle. In a column pretending to comment on governmental affairs, this has little place, except for the comment that if people collectively have to prune uncleanness, degeneracy and filth from their amusement fare it becomes so because those who provide the fare have furnished the filth.

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma.

W. D. Little, publisher of the Ada (Okla.) News, says:

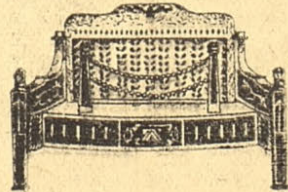

"Who really pays the cost of advertising? The merchant who advertises and sells for the same price as his competitor, or, as is true in most cases, sells for less, does not pay it, for he increases his volume to such an extent that he makes more money at the same price.

"It is not the customer who pays for the advertising, for he pays no more, and usually less, to a merchant who advertises than he would pay to one who does not.

"Then if neither the advertiser nor the purchaser pays the newspaper, who does? The merchant who does not advertise pays it. Strange? Nothing strange about it. By sitting idly by and letting his more aggressive competitor go out and get his business, he loses more than the advertising competitor pays. So the cost of operating our great and small daily and weekly newspapers comes not from the person who buys the space or the consumer who uses the advertised goods, but from the person who does neither.

"This is but one phase of our complex commercial and industrial life. To the man who understands it and is willing to back his judgment, fortune comes easily. From the man who ignores it, fortune flees."

Daily News and American and Roundup want ads are a good investment — Phone 80

TIME FOR HEATERS

We have a nice line of Stoves that are priced very reasonable.

WOOD AND GAS HEATERS

Also Stove Pipe for the Wood Heaters

Mc DONALD HARDWARE

THE BAKER HOTELS

"Where Most Texas People Stop"

More Value... More Comfort... More Satisfaction

Each hotel maintains the high Baker standard of service at reasonable rates. Those who demand the best receive it at these hotels.

When in these Texas cities, stay at the Baker hotel... you'll find a hospitable welcome and real value, plus every modern comfort.

The BAKER HOTELS

One Person in Room, $2 to $4 with Private Bath
Two Persons in Room, $3 to $7 with Private Bath

USE DAILY NEWS WANT ADS FOR RESULTS

SPECIAL REDUCTION

CISCO DAILY NEWS

NOW ONLY

50 CENTS PER MONTH

$5.00 per year when paid in advance

The above prices delivered by carrier in Cisco or by mail anywhere in the state. Out of state subscriptions $6.50 per year in advance.

AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION NEWS

From the Office of the County Agent and The Home Demonstration Agent.

4-H Club Girls Awarded Trip
Winners of the free trips to the State Fair educational encampment for 4-H club girls are: Mary Alice Webb, Romney—Willa Deen Maxwell, Okra — Jessie Lee Bennett, Flatwood—Lorene Hays, Fairwood. These trips were awarded for the best club exhibit at the county fair, including the history and record book of the years work. Trips were awarded of bedroom demonstrator, yard demonstrator, year round garden demonstrator and to one co-operator.

The four girls will leave Eastland Monday October 17, will be chaperoned by Miss Fontilla Johnson, home demonstration agent of Nolan county. The girls will be guests of the State Fair for the three days. Through Mr. Ollie E. Webb, assistant to the president of the T. & P. railroad, the transportation is provided.

Mr. Webb made the following statement when sending the tickets to the club members: "The T. & P. is trying in every way it can, even in these stressful times, to aid in developing the territory it serves. The agricultural education of these winning youngsters the enlargement of their vision, the challenging of their initiative and creative ability, which is being and handling of fine things other youngsters have done over the state encourages, is of vital importance to the future of Texas. In this development we of the Texas and Pacific are happy to have a part."

Home Demonstration Council

The county home demonstration council met in regular session Saturday October 8th, with representatives from nine of the clubs of the county. The meeting called to order by th chairman, Mrs. Lee Burkhead, oil called, minutes read and approved, old and new business disposed of. The new business, motion made, seconded and carried that the home demonstration clubs have an achievement day, the time of this to be in November. This program is open to the public and will be in the form of a tour of the county, visiting the homes of the club members, to see what has been done in club work this year. Some of the demonstrations to be visited are, the 4-H Fautries, yard, bedroom and gardens. These club members have told what has been done and now they want to show all who can make the tour just how they have worked during the year. This tour will start in Eastland in the morning and end back here in the afternoon. A basket lunch will be carried by all and a picnic lunch served at some ideal place. The date will be announced soon.

Following the business meeting, Mrs. V. Shuman, field representative gave a brief report of the work to be done by the Red Cross with the materials made and given by the government to be distributed in the United States. Eastland county will receive an allotted amount of the materials. Mr. J. E. Spencer, secretary of the chamber of commerce, Cisco and County Chairman of Red Cross, gave a report of what has been done in the county this year.

Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins, president of the County Federation of Women's clubs made an announcement of the next Federation meeting, which will be held in Cisco. At this meeting Mrs. Perkins wants the rural women to display products and articles they have for sale.

The club women are planning the display or exhibit.
Meeting adjourned to meet in Eastland November 12th the regular meeting date.
Eastland county won eighth place in the county exhibits at the state fair. More information will be given later.

SENATOR WHO OPPOSED JIM GETS PARDON

(Editor's Note: Following is the last of a series of articles on Fergusonism in Texas written for the United Press).

By GORDON K. SHEARER
United Press Staff Correspondent
AUSTIN, Oct. 13.—One of the early acts of the new legislature was to propose repeal of the amnesty act which had attempted to wipe out the impeachment verdict against former Governor James E. Ferguson.

In Mrs. Ferguson's administration a pardon from a forgery sentence was issued to one of the senator's who had voted to convict Ferguson.

It is "for the sake of his wife and boys", Mrs. Ferguson said in the proclamation. She noted also that the pardon was "endorsed by my husband." The son of another senator who had voted to sustain the impeachment charges against Ferguson and a relative by marriage of a third, received executive clemency during her term.

His opponents, however, were not willing to let by-gones be by-gones amnesty was repealed. He bided his time. He moved the Forum to Austin. Butler from his Bell-Bosque ranch was sold to and used in state institutions. He waited for Governor Moody to complete two terms.

Took Field Again

Ferguson then took the field. By virtue of Mrs. Ferguson's pardon and the amnesty act, he claimed any bar that might have existed against his candidacy was removed. He demanded a right to a place on the democratic primary ballot as a candidate for governor. Democratic Chairman D. W. Wilcox refused to let him file. A mandamus was filed in the supreme court. Ferguson's lawyers argued that since both the executive and the legislative had rescinded the impeachment, one by proclamation and the other by the amnesty act, was void as a sentence once unconditionally set aside could not be revived. The supreme court held the amnesty act itself was of no effect and that a governor's pardon power did not extend to impeachment verdicts. In short, James E. Ferguson was still barred from office.

Mrs. Ferguson again took the field.

"Confronted with another crisis, it again became necessary for me to announce myself a candidate for governor," she said. She adopted the platform her husband already had already had announced with the exception. She declared for strengthening the liquor laws. Her method was unique. She proposed the state oath of office have added a clause requiring the official to swear he had not violated the prohibition laws in the six months preceding his election. She proposed no judge might try a liquor case nor a jurymen sit in one, who could not make such an affidavit.

"Me For Ma"

If people won't or can't elect officer who don't drink bootleg liquor, then prohibition hopes are gain. In my opinion this is the fundamental cause of our trouble," she said.

"Me for Ma" was the campaign slogan. Gov. Dan Moody hesitated about attempting to buck the prejudice against a third term.

Ross S. Sterling, Houston millionaire oil man whom Governor Moody had appointed head of the state highway commission, announced his candidacy.

Ferguson dared Moody to run, too, which, of course, would have meant an easy Ferguson victory against divided forces. Moody said he would support Sterling and took the stump for him.

Mrs. Ferguson's pardon record became the big campaign issue on one side. Expenditures in Sterling's interest were attacked by Ferguson.

Avoid Pardons
Later Sterling was to issue many clemencies, himself. He avoided out right pardons. In place of them he made frequent use of "general paroles."

campaign led some to say Sterling issued only 16 pardons as compared to 1,318 issued by Mrs. Ferguson. Others said Sterling's paroles were equivalent to Mrs. Ferguson's pardons.

Pitted against ten men in the first primary, Mrs. Ferguson led with 243,000 of the total 834,000 cast. Sterling was second with 171,000. Clint Small and Thomas B. Love, third and fourth respectively in the opening primary swung their strength to Sterling and in the runoff he had 473,371 to her 384,402.

Bidding time until 1932, Mrs. Ferguson again offered "two governors for the price of one" declaring she would avail herself of "my husband's advice."

She announced a ten plank platform. This time Governor Sterling confronted a different opponent.
He found Mrs. Ferguson prepared to meet him on the stump. Her voice had been trained. She spoke from prepared manuscript confidently, enthusiastically.
She rolled up 402,000 votes. Governor Sterling seeking re-election had 296,000 of the total 963,000 scattered among eight candidates.
In the run-off she gained more. The total stood Mrs. Ferguson 476,074; Governor Sterling, 472,741. She was again the democratic nominee for governor and first woman ever to face the chance of two terms as chief executive of a state.

PLANS NEW TRIP.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 13.—Plans for another dash under the arctic ice in 1934 in a tiny 120-foot submarine were revealed here by Sir George Hubert Wilkins. He said the new undersea craft is being built at a shipyard on the Great Lakes.

Daily News and American and Roundup want ads are a good investment.—Phone 80.

Scientific Russia Looks Up at Stars

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 13.—A worldwide campaign, by which Russia hopes to attain leadership in the field of scientific research, has been launched, according to Prof. Dneprovsky, recent visitor at Dudley Observatory in Albany.

Thousands of physicists, biologists and astronomers are being delegated to various foreign countries to observe and learn new methods as part of a program to advance scientific investigation.

According to Dneprovsky, an astronomer from the Poulkova Observatory, Russia's oldest and most renowned institution, the Soviet country is entering upon a new era in science and everything is being done to further interests along that line. The professor, on a tour of United States observatories, stated that Russia not only is encouraging her own scientists to further achievements, but offers inducements to visiting scientists.

In explanation, he said that, should an American scientist wish to visit Russia to study their methods, all expenses would be paid by the Soviet government upon his arrival.

Dneprovsky stated that astronomy in Russia is becoming "nationalized." The Russian's next trip in quest of astronomical knowledge will carry him to New Zealand to study the charting of star positions.

CIRCUS TO BE IN CISCO ON NEXT TUESDAY, Oct. 18

A real circus with side show, menagerie, bands, clowns, calliope, 80

performers, elephants, camels, an emu, scores of other wild and unusual animals, 30 horses, aerial artists, wire walkers, trained dogs, ponies, and monkeys.

And it's a crackerjack of a circus. The Harrington Nickle Plate Circus carries a brand new 300 foot circus tent which will seat 3000 persons at each performance. It has been packed in crowds all over Kansas. At Chanute, Lawrence and Fort Scott extra performances had to be given to take care of people turned away at regular performance.

DEER BREAKS WINDSHIELD
BEND, Ore., Oct. 13.—The deer season opened several days ahead of schedule for E. V. Black of Portland when a large doe leaped from a bank and crashed through the windshield of his car. Black and his companion were cut severely by flying glass.

THE STATE OF TEXAS COUNTY OF EASTLAND.

To those indebted to, or Holding Claims Against, the Estate of John C. Talley, Deceased.

The undersigned having been duly appointed Executor of the estate of John C. Talley, deceased, late of Eastland County, Texas, by Hon. C. L. Garrett, Judge of the County Court of said County, on the 26th day of September, 1932, hereby notifies all persons indebted to said estate to come forward and make settlement, and those having claims against said estate to present them to him within the time prescribed by law at his office in the First National Bank of Cisco, Texas, where he receives his mail.

This the 6th day of October A. D., 1932.
ALEX SPEARS,
Executor of the Estate of John C. Talley, Deceased.

Cisco's Big RODEO!

at Chesley Ball Park

Beginning at 1 o'clock and ending at 3:30 p. m.

FREE TICKETS!

Cisco Merchants invite all Out-of-Town visitors to be their guests for this Rodeo. Free Tickets may be secured at any store.

No obligation is attached. Simply go to the store and ask the Merchant for Tickets for your family and he will supply you gladly.

Both out-of-town and Cisco people are admitted FREE of charge but each one must have a ticket.

Cisco Merchants have secured the services of an experienced Rodeo man who promises plenty of thrilling entertainment.

There will be Bronc Riding, Steer Riding, Calf Roping, Goat Roping, and other exciting events that will bring plenty of thrills and, perhaps, some spills.

YOU DON'T WANT TO MISS THIS RODEO.

Cisco, Saturday, October 15th

During the day merchants will have lots and lots of bargains to offer those who wish to shop before and after the Rodeo. Visit these stores, ask for your tickets and look for needed bargains.

Remember This Rodeo is FREE to Everyone You Have to Buy Nothing.

The following business firms are sponsoring this advertising and extending a hearty welcome to all people attending the Rodeo to visit them personally:

Laguna Hotel

Wende Dry Goods Co.

Perry Bros.
(5c-10c-25c Store)

Southwestern Motor Co.

Grist Hardware Co.

Gulf Refining Co.
Service Stations
(J. B. PRATT, Distributor)

Mobley Hotel

Cisco Steam Laundry

Carroll Auto Supply Co.

Community Natural Gas Co.

Vaughn & Elkins

J. A. Jensen, Jewellery

Exide Battery & Electric Co.

Nu-Shu-Shoppe

Miller-Lauderdale
"The Man's Store"

West Texas Utilities Co.

Texaco Service Station
(A. V. CLARK, Proprietor)

Moore Drug Co.
Nyal Service Drug Store
Service—Quality

X-Ray Barber Shop

Jno. H. Garner
(Cisco's Big Dept. Store.)

Sweaters For Children

Nice, warm Sweaters for children can now be bought at such low prices that there is really no excuse for the little fellows ever getting cold—

We have them for only 49c and up

Complete line of Sweaters for men, women and children. Call in after the Rodeo and see our big line of goods.

THE BOSTON STORE

Cisco, Texas.

666

LIQUID - TABLETS - SALVE
Checks Malaria in 3 days. Colds first day. Headaches or Neuralgia in 30 minutes. 666 SALVE for HEAD COLDS. Most Speedy Remedies Known.

(CISCO DAILY NEWS CISCO AMERICAN and ROUNDUP)

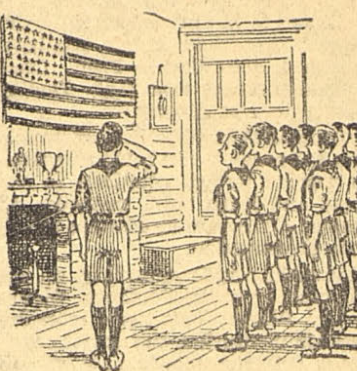

DESDEMONA

Mrs. Chas. Richardson and Mrs. Plummer Ashburn visited in Eastland Tuesday.
W. C. Stark, G. S. Bruce, I. N. Williams and Roy Ashburn spent the weekend fishing on Cherry creek.

daughter Jackie Lee Koch drove up to Breckenridge Sunday and brought Mr. and Mrs. Williams parents of Mrs. Koch home with them.
Cris Moss, of Lingville attended the singing convention and visited old friends here Sunday.

Mrs. Joe Clark were the Sunday guests of W. P. Armstrong.
Miss Pauline Wood spent Saturday night with Miss Alma Goleonor.
Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Webb and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Webb were the Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. King.

Keeping Up With The Boy Scouts

Court of Honor
Joe Woodward, John Wood, and W. M. Brewer, Jr. received their Eagle badges last Friday night at a court of honor conducted by Judge E. J. Miller chairman.

Ranger Scouts
Ranger Scouts were participating last week in the Ranger jubilee, assisting and putting up stands, and helping with traffic, etc.

PUEBLO

A large crowd attended the ordination service Sunday afternoon.
Miss Jessie King spent the weekend in the Nimrod community visiting home folks.

There will be prayer meeting at the church Wednesday night. After prayer meeting a Y. W. A. will be organized. Everybody come.

COOK

The song service at the Baptist church Sunday night was enjoyed by a large crowd.
Several attended church services at the Christian tabernacle Sunday afternoon.

Reich

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burnett and son Ray S. of Houston and Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Gorman and children of Cisco visited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Kimbrough Sunday.

BEDFORD

We are having fine cotton picking weather now and hope it will continue for several weeks longer so that we can finish gathering the cotton.

UNION HILL

Everyone is very busy in the crops trying to get the fields open for grazing.

The price of a single Cigarette
... will provide enough natural gas to cook a dinner for three people...

Community

Natural Gas Co.

Who Wants a Beautiful Piano at a Bargain?

We have in this vicinity a splendid upright piano with duet bench to match, also a lovely Baby Grand in two tone mahogany.

News Want Ads Bring Results

Circus Coming CISCO

One Day Only
Tuesday, Oct. 18
Afternoon and Night
Harrington Nickel Plate 3-Ring Circus and Wild Animal Show

CONVENIENT LOW COST TRAVEL

to all America

No other travel way can offer such complete and convenient service to any point of America.
Fares are kept consistently low, schedules frequent and convenient, and stop-over privileges liberal.

TERMINAL LAGUNA HOTEL
Phone 82
SOUTHLAND GREYHOUND Lines

WHITE STAR REFINING CO.

E. M. CORAH, Prop.
Box 416—Telephone 29.

INDEPENDENT GAS AND OILS

A Home Institution --- Helping to Build Cisco

When you use these high quality products you are helping to develop the resources from your own land.

Ask any user about White Star Products

WE SPECIALIZE IN

Sales Circular Work

And are equipped to take care of your order for any quantity with quick deliveries.

SEVERAL LINES OF

ILLUSTRATION MATS

to select from---and all assistance given you in the preparation of your layouts by ad men with years of experience.

Our Circulars Get Results

If you are contemplating putting on a sale, it will pay you to get our prices

CISCO DAILY NEWS

JOB PRINTING DEPARTMENT

Telephone 80.

Expert Copy Layout

CALL of the WEST

By R. G. MONTGOMERY

BEGIN HERE TODAY

STAN BALL accuses ASPER DELO, timber king, of crooked practice and of having men shoot who try to check up on his activities. Ball says he is making a check and DeLo tells him he will personally prevent it. Upon leaving DeLo's office Ball saves DONA, DeLo's daughter, from kidnapers. He slips away when he finds who she is, telling her his name is STANLEY BLACK.

DUDLEY WINTERS, in love with Dona, goes with her to Three Rivers to persuade DeLo to abandon the high life. He tries to get her to marry him on the way as a means of getting DeLo to give up his plans. Dona narrowly escapes doing this by meeting Ball on his way to the timber camp. They had Ball accused of killing a ranger. Asper is wounded from ambush but refuses to stay in bed. Dona tells him she has just married Dudley to keep him out of the hunt.

Ball comes in for supplies and is captured by SWERGIN, DeLo's big timber boss. He escapes after hearing Dona tell her father she is Dudley's wife. Dudley insists on real marriage but Dona holds back. She goes on to see if she can find Stanley Black, who she thinks is at Blind River. She meets him on the trail, not knowing he is Ball. He promises to rid the range of Stan Ball. On the way to camp Dona stops at a cabin and sees a glove she thinks is Stanley Black's in a Spanish girl's room.

VALUABLE RECORDS ARE STOLEN FROM OFFICE AND THE CLERK SAYS BALL STOLE THEM

ASPER DELO is furious and refuses to leave with Dona and Dudley. A posse gets on Ball's trail and it is reported he cornered. Dona rides out with rifle.

HOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XXV

ASPER DELO was bending forward eagerly as Dona came to a breathless halt beside his chair on the porch.

"Did they get him?" he demanded.

"They have him surrounded and expect to capture him at any minute. The man who brought in the word says they expect a finish fight up at the branch of the Blind River trail."

Dona patted his hand reassuringly. "They'll capture him."

Asper chewed viciously on his cigar. He had not been allowed to smoke for days and now was making the best of the black stogie the doctor had given him. "I hope they bring him in," he grunted.

"I'm going to ride up a little way and see if I can learn anything more." Dona tried to speak unconcernedly.

"Be careful, D. There is danger with men using high-powered rifles." Asper was eager to have her bring news yet he was cautious.

Dona arranged his chair and blankets and gave him a hurried kiss on the cheek. Then she ran toward the corral.

The roan seemed to know where she wanted to go. He struck out toward the saddle that overlooked Blind River at a swinging gallop. His slender rider let him have his head until they reached the Blind River trail, then she headed him south, straight up the mountain. She remembered a high point overlooking the slope from which she could check the movements of the posse.

Why she rode out to watch the hunt was not clear in her mind. She could not get back to camp with news as soon as the men would get in. Something led her to take her stand and watch. It might have been morbid curiosity or feminine instinct. Whatever it was Dona obeyed it and pulled her mount to a halt on a jutting ledge that overlooked the slopes below.

A little meadow hedged in by heavy scrub growth lay at her feet. Farther down the slope she could see men riding around a heavy patch of timber. The ground was rocky and tangled with thick growth and connected with the timber directly below her. Men with rifles crawled from bush to bush while the mounted men rode in an ever closing circle around the rocky ambush.

Dona loosened her rifle so that she could get at it handily. She was not sure what she would do with it if Ball broke out of the connecting timber and tried to cross the meadow but she intended to be ready. Several rifle shots rang out from below as excited men caught glimpses of what they thought was the bandit.

Dona settled back to wait. Suddenly a black horse burst from the timber just below her. Its rider was bending low over the saddle and the horse was taking the rough ground at a graceful lunge. Dona reached down and jerked her rifle loose. The rider was too far away to be halted but he was within easy rifle range. Suddenly she remembered the roan's fear of a gun. She slid from her horse and dropped to one knee.

The front head of her rifle steadied and she pressed the trigger. She was not uncertain for a second of the identity of the man escaping from the circling posse. He had slipped through their lines and was well on his way to freedom. Her rifle cracked viciously. The rider straightened, then pitched over the side of his horse. He rolled over twice, lay still. The black horse ran on and halted under cover of the timber.

Slowly Dona got to her feet. She felt dizzy and sick. She had shot a man! The report of her gun would not attract attention because of the occasional firing from below. With heavy feet she began to descend to the meadow. She had to go to the man she had just killed.

The 75 yards down to where he lay seemed miles and she moved uncertainly. Dona clung to her rifle and plodded on. Now she could see his jacket through the tall grass. One leg was pulled up in a twisted manner and his arms were flung wide. She almost ran the remaining few steps to where he lay.

Dona bent over the prostrate form and her eyes were wide. She was gazing on the face of Stanley Black! Suddenly the dead man came to life. With a lightning sweep he had her rifle, then faced her. A grim smile drew his lips tight.

"I have done only what I was forced to do. Now I'm going to do something because I want to." Stan produced a sack of tobacco and a packet of crumpled papers. Carefully he made and lighted a cigar.

"You are a poor shot," he murmured.

"You—you are Ball?" Dona's face revealed more than she knew of horror and disillusionment.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

felt dizzy and sick. She had shot a man! The report of her gun would not attract attention because of the occasional firing from below. With heavy feet she began to descend to the meadow. She had to go to the man she had just killed.

The 75 yards down to where he lay seemed miles and she moved uncertainly. Dona clung to her rifle and plodded on. Now she could see his jacket through the tall grass. One leg was pulled up in a twisted manner and his arms were flung wide. She almost ran the remaining few steps to where he lay.

Dona bent over the prostrate form and her eyes were wide. She was gazing on the face of Stanley Black! Suddenly the dead man came to life. With a lightning sweep he had her rifle, then faced her. A grim smile drew his lips tight.

"I have done only what I was forced to do. Now I'm going to do something because I want to." Stan produced a sack of tobacco and a packet of crumpled papers. Carefully he made and lighted a cigar.

"You are a poor shot," he murmured.

"You—you are Ball?" Dona's face revealed more than she knew of horror and disillusionment.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

Dona went, with his rifle at her back. She knew he was in desperate straits and that he had nothing to win by sparing her should she shout or try to run.

Under cover Stan faced her grimly. "The hounds are so close that I'll have to take you with me. You have discovered my secret trail. With little effort she swung her up in front on his saddle, then leaped up behind her. He tossed aside her rifle as a useless hindrance.

Dona shrank from his lean arms but he held her close and the black mare headed through the timber at a speed showing she was familiar with the trail. Dona bit her lower lip to keep from crying. She would be as strong as he was and as hard! She would watch her chance and outwit him! They rode on through the timber until they were high under the rim of Folly Mountain. Then Stan let her get down beside a spring to rest.

STAN BALL'S eyes hardened and his mouth became a tight line. "And you are my prisoner. I'll have to get you out of here right now!"

"I won't go!" Dona flashed angrily.

"Oh yes you will! My worthless hide depends on it." His eyes were hard and he was not smiling.

"You're wanted for killing," Dona had not fully recovered from her first shock.

"Just which killing do you refer to? I'm wanted for several." His tone was mocking. "Move toward my horse!" he ordered sharply.

About Cisco Today

Society Editor, Miss Marjorie Noell—Phone 80.

CALENDAR

Friday
The Community Chorus club will meet Friday evening at 7:15 at the Laguna hotel.

The Cisco Country club will have a benefit dance Friday evening from 9 until 12 o'clock at the clubhouse. Mrs. W. J. Armstrong and Mrs. W. W. Wallace will be hostesses for the evening. Everyone is invited.

Mrs. Charles Trammell is visiting relatives in San Angelo.

W. J. Armstrong, W. W. Wallace, Ted Waters and David Waters are spending a few days in Brown county.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Duncan, Mrs. B. Montgomery, Mrs. James Huddleston, and Mrs. S. B. Parks were visitors in Ranger Monday.

Misses Maria Chambliss, Eileen Wilson, Travis Watson, and El Dora Oconer are leaving tomorrow for a weekend visit in Dallas.

Mrs. P. B. Glenn and daughter, Joan, of Breckenridge spent yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Mayhew.

Mrs. H. G. Eppler has returned from a three weeks visit with her daughter in Pecos.

Mrs. Neal Turner is leaving tomorrow for a weekend visit in Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Parks, and Mr. and Mrs. James Huddleston visited Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Parks in Scranton Sunday.

Miss Wanda Kennedy left today for her home in Arlington after a visit with relatives and friends here.

Miss Nell Waters, who underwent an operation for the removal of her tonsils Saturday, is reported to be getting along nicely.

J. L. Thornton is spending today in Coleman on business.

Mrs. E. L. Hartsfield of Albany was a visitor in Cisco yesterday.

F. B. Altman has returned from a marketing trip to Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Davis of Cross Plains were visitors here Tuesday.

Mrs. R. F. Davis of Dallas is expected in tomorrow for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. C. C. Jones.

James K. Ross of Fort Worth transacted business here yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Origler Paschall and son, J. C., left yesterday for a several days stay in Dallas.

Mrs. C. C. Newton and Miss Laura Rube are spending today in DeLeon.

Mrs. C. G. Whitaker is spending today with Mrs. R. F. Blackburn in Eastland.

Mrs. O. K. Linder visited relatives in Moran yesterday.

Mrs. J. B. Matlock of Olden was a visitor in the city today.

Miss Frances Thomas has returned from a visit in Houston.

Mrs. E. M. Howard of Rising Star was a Cisco visitor yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Thornton and Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Mayer were visitors in Cross Plains last evening.

Miss Olga Leab of Lueders is the guest of Miss Edith Altman.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Linder and daughter, Margie, were visitors in Eastland last evening.

Mrs. C. B. Harris and Miss Annie Harris of Rising Star were visitors here yesterday.

Mrs. J. W. Thomas and son are leaving tomorrow for a weekend visit in Dallas.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Jones of Ranger were visitors in Cisco Tuesday.

OFFICERS ELECTED AT MEETING OF CIRCLE 3.

An election of officers of Circle 3 of the Baptist W. M. S. at a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. H. D. Blair on West Sixth street, resulted in the selection of Mrs. E. C. Duncan as chairman, Mrs. Mac Stevens, vice-chairman, Mrs. E. D. Anderson, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. J. E. Spencer, education chairman, Mrs. L. A. Harrison, benevolent chairman, Mrs. J. L. Shepherd, mission study chairman, Mrs. Mac Stevens assistant mission study chairman, Mrs. B. F. Jones, stewardship Mrs. Floyd Shepard, librarian, Mrs. L. G. McPherson, personal service chairman, and Mrs. H. D. Blair mission chairman. It has been announced that the circle will study the 18th chapter of Matthew at the next meeting.

The hostess served refreshments during the social hour to Mesdames E. D. Anderson, B. F. Jones, E. C. Duncan, L. G. McPherson, J. B. Pratt, L. A. Harrison and A. A. Williams.

U. D. C. HAS ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

Mrs. O. W. Shepherd was elected president of the United Daughters of the Confederacy at a meeting yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. J. Olson on West Ninth street. Other officers chosen were Mrs. J. L. Shepherd, vice-president, Mrs. A. J. Olson, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. D. E. Waters, historian and parliamentarian, Mrs. R. T. Porter, custodian, and Mrs. P. P. Shepard, reporter. Refreshments of sandwiches, hot tea, and cookies were served during the afternoon.

CIRCLE 6 MEETS WITH MRS. HAZEL.

Circle 6 of the Baptist W. M. S. met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. D. Hazel on West Sixth street. Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Hazel, chairman, Mrs. O. G. Lawson, vice-chairman, Mrs. A. N. Crowover, teacher, Mrs. Cecil Adams, assistant teacher, Mrs. Robins, secretary-treasurer, Mrs. P. P. Shepard, mission study chairman, Mrs. Skiles, personal service chairman, and Mrs. Leon Maner, benevolent chairman. Mrs. Bob Key conducted the devotional, taken from the 8th chapter of Matthew and also read a poem, "Here We Lifted Up Christ In Our Life Today." The hostess served refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, olives, hot tea, and cookies at the close of a word contest.

Present were Mesdames J. Warren, Bob Key, Frank Walker, Skiles, P. P. Shepard, Cecil Adams, A. N. Crowover, McLeRoy, O. G. Lawson, Robins, Leon Maner, and the hostesses.

J. O. Y. CLASS HAS BUSINESS SESSION.

The J. O. Y. class of the First Baptist Sunday school met in its regular monthly business session Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. V. Cunningham in Humbletown. Mrs. Burnett opened the meeting with a prayer. Mrs. H. B. Hensley, president, presided during the business period, at which time reports were given by officers, and led the closing prayer.

Refreshments of potato salad, toasted crackers, mints, cake, and coffee, were served to Mesdames J. R. Burnett, Lee Smith, Ben Krauskopf, Tabor, Murray, Lloyd Surles, McPherson, Coyer, Warren, and H. B. Hensley.

BANQUET GIVEN FOR RANDOLPH COLLEGE.

The annual banquet which members of the First Christian church give for Randolph college students and faculty, was held last evening in the banquet room at the church with over one hundred seventy five people in attendance. Rev. E. L. Miley, pastor of the church, was toastmaster for the evening. L. A. Warren made the welcoming address, which was responded to by Dr. Lee Clark, president of the college.

A musical number, a vocal duet, was rendered by Misses Mignon Clark and Marguerite Barker, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Lee Clark. The toastmaster called upon several out of state students to answer the question "Why Have You come to Randolph?" Among these were Cuthrell Lipsey, who comes from Georgia, Grover Hardison of North Carolina, and Wilbur Martin of Mississippi. Miss Bessie Pearce in behalf of the Junior class, and Miss Adele Anderson, in behalf of the Senior class, spoke on the same question. A quartet, composed of Dr. Lee Clark, Cuthrell Lipsey, Misses Dorothy and Mignon Clark, also gave one number. The banquet closed with the college song, sung by the guests, and the benediction by Rev. Miley.

The delectable repast, which consisted of chicken sandwiches, cream potatoes, pickles, combination salad, ice cream, cake, and coffee, was served in two courses by the women of the church.

LADIES AID GIVES SHOWER FOR RANDOLPH.

On Tuesday afternoon, the three circles of the Ladies Aid of the First Christian church gave a miscellaneous shower for the girls' dormitory of Randolph college. Each circle was well represented, and gifts from paper napkins to silver tea spoons were presented. Included in the gifts was a complete line of medicines for first aid treatment. The circle members met at the dormitory and the afternoon was enjoyably spent in sewing and visiting. Mrs. Rex Moore, president of the Ladies Aid made the presentation of gifts, and Miss Nanely, Dean of Women of the college responded with expressions of appreciation. Refreshments of hot chocolate and cookies were served by Miss Nanely during the afternoon.

Closing Selected New York Stocks

- American Can 47 3-4
  - Am. P. & L. 3 1-4
  - Am. Smelt 13 5-8
  - Am. T. & T. 99 3-8
  - Anaconda 9 3-8
  - Auburn Auto 39 1-2
  - Aviation Corp. Del. 6 1-2
  - Barnsdall Oil Co. 4 3-8
  - Beth Steel 16 3-4
  - Byers A. M. 13
  - Canada Dry 9 1-4
  - Case J. I. 36 5-8
  - Chrysler 12 3-8
  - Curtiss Wright 2
  - Elect. Au. L. 16
  - Elect. St. Bat. 21
  - Foster Wheel 7 1-2
  - Fox Films 2 3-4
  - Gen. Elec. 15 1-8
  - Gen. Foods 29 1-2
  - Gen. Mot. 12 1-2
  - Gillette S. R. 15 1-2
  - Goodyear 13 1-4
  - Houston Oil 13
  - Int. Cement 3 3-4
  - Int. Harvester 19 3-4
  - Johns Manville 20
  - Kroger G. & B. 14 1-2
  - Liq. Carb. 12 1-8
  - Montg. Ward 11 1-4
  - Nat. Dairy 17 3-8
  - Ohio Oil 8
  - Fara Publix 3 7-8
  - Fenway, J. C. 20 7-8
  - Phelps Dodge 6 1-8
  - Phillips 5 5-8
  - Pure Oil 4 1-4
  - Purity Bak. 8 1-8
  - Radio 6 7-8
  - Sears Roebuck 17 1-2
  - Shell Union Oil 5 7-8
  - Socony-Vacuum 9 1-8
  - Southern Pacific 16 7-8
  - Stan. Oil N. J. 29 1-8
  - Studebaker 6 1-8
  - Texas Corp. 12 1-2
  - Union Carb. 24
  - United Corp. 8 1-4
  - U. S. Gypsum 22 1-2
  - U. S. Ind. Alc. 22
  - U. S. Steel 34
  - Vanadium 11 3-8
  - Westing. Elec. 25 3-8
  - Worthington 13
- Curb Stocks
- Ford M. Ltd. 3 3-4
  - Gulf Oil Pa. 29 7-8
  - Nlag. Hud. Pwr. 14 3-4
  - Stan. Oil Ind. 20 5-8
  - Lone Star Gas 6 1-2

CONFIDENCE

This is the BANK that SERVICE is Building

---is the life of trade.

Only by a strict adherence to an enduring policy of fair dealing, giving unstinted service and guaranteeing stability may a bank attain to the confidence of the public which the First National enjoys.

Modern Safety Deposit Service

First National Bank

IN CISCO, TEXAS

Member Federal Reserve System

Rev. Cole Ordained At Pueblo Sunday

Rev. L. R. Cole was ordained as a minister at the Pueblo Baptist church Sunday, with Rev. E. S. James, pastor of the First Baptist church in Cisco, organizing the presbytery. Rev. James L. Smart, pastor of the East Side Baptist church, acted as moderator. Rev. Mart Agnew led the dedicatory prayer.

Rev. E. S. James delivered the charge to the new minister, and following the ordination Asa Skiles of Cisco presented Rev. Cole with a Bible and spoke from a layman's point of view.

Other members of the presbytery were J. M. Pence, Pueblo; J. W. Booth, Pueblo; Chester Allen, Pueblo; C. Schaefer, Cisco; J. R. Green, Cisco; O. L. Mason, Cisco; and W. L. Fincher, Moran.

COUNTRY CLUB DANCE

Friday Evening, Oct. 14, 9 o'clock.

Prices:
Stags . . . . .75c
Couples . . . . .50c

Hostesses:
Mrs. W. J. Armstrong
Mrs. W. W. Wallace

Music by
RAY JUDIA'S ORCHESTRA

Benefit of Country Club

Moonlight Rides

Featured at

S-Bar Dude Ranch

This Week.

Enjoy these radiant nights on horseback.

You will be thrilled. Parties Every Night. Phones—Cisco, 161, 765; Eastland 566.

Perry Bros.

5-10-25 Cent Store

SPECIAL FOR RODEO DAY

220-Page Note Book Paper . . . . .8c

Men's Socks

Special Value

10c Pair

Rayon and Celanese Mercerized ribbed tops, double sole, heel and toe

Full Fashioned Chiffon Hose

Pair 59c

Women's 4-thread, 45-gauge pure silk Hosiery, Picot Tops, high spliced French heel, new Fall shades.

Children's Underwear

35c

Short sleeves and legs. Fleece lined; drop seat.

Boys School Shirts

49c

Guaranteed fast color. Sizes 6 to 14.

Men's Fleece Lined Underwear

59c

This is a real bargain for winter.

Ladies House Shoes

98c Pair

Women's folded pumps, satin lined, quilted soles, assorted colors.

Rayon Lingerie

Bloomers, Panties or Step-ins

25c Pair

RIDE 'EM, COWBOY
"Nature in the Raw"—as expressed in the famous rodeo cry; inspired by the picture in the July issue of the National Geographic Magazine taken at the Ski Hi Stampede, Monte Vista, Colorado. "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes.

No raw tobaccos in Luckies —that's why they're so mild

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

"It's toasted"
That package of mild Luckies

GRAND HOTEL
CONNELLEE THEATRE
NOW SHOWING
The First Showing in the Oil Belt
ADULTS . . . . .40c
CHILDREN . . . . .50c
This Admission on This Picture Only