Political Carnival Planned for July 4 Celebration

CANDIDATES OF ALL RANKS ARE INVITED

A political carnival, reminiscent of the county fair atmosphere of cherished memory, is in the minds of the chamber of commerce committee on arrangements for the July 4 celebration that will be held at Cisco, according to plans announced this morning after a meeting last night.

Gov. Sterling, James E. Ferguson, Tom Hunter and other candidates, if there be, for governor will be invited as speakers. Congressman Thomas H. Blanton, Joe H. Jones, a candidate for his seat; Atty.-Gen. James V. Allred; C. V. Terrell, chairman of the railroad commission; Clem Calhoun, Lee Satterwhite, and others will receive invitations to be present with an opportunity to address the gathering.

A platform will be built for the speakers—probably in the Lions-Rotary park. P. L. Ullom, manager of the Burton-Lingo Lumber company and a member of the committee, has volunteered to donate the necessary lumber.

Another feature planned by the committee is a basket picnic at noon spread under the groves of the city and club parks. Visitors will be asked to bring baskets of food and to spread these in common in real picnic style. Ice water will be furnished.

A baseball game in the afternoon is also planned. The Cisco Amusement company will cooperate in the program. Swimming, fishing, boating will be available, while a water carnival, including a variety of aquatic contests and races will be offered.

The committee, Chairman R. L. Poe, said, plans to make this much more than a county-wide affair, and if the plans initiated by the group go through as proposed, its attraction will broaden into a sectional event. A program calculated to run far into the night is being arranged.

July 4 falls on Monday this year. The arrangements committee consists of R. L. Poe, chairman, W. K. Johnston, W. H. LaRoque and P. L. Ullom.

Murder Trial Foes in New Feud

By a strange coincidence, three figures prominent in the "political murder trial" of David Clark, former district attorney at Los Angeles, are involved in a new court tangle. Clark was acquitted of slaying Herbert Spencer and Charlie Crawford. Ed Dudley, an investigator for the prosecutor, gathered evidence against Clark on the murder charge. Now Clark (left in the inset below) is defense attorney for Frank Clasby (right inset) who is charged with a monkey wrench attack on Dudley. Dudley is seen in the top picture with his pretty wife, who was Billie Rohrbach, also one of the state's witnesses against Clark.

THIEVES HAUL OFF SAFE; GET $1.90 IN LOOT

Irony had a grin for thieves who last night broke into the Shepherd grocery at Humboldt and tolled to remove a 500-pound safe. The burglars obtained $1.90 for their pains, overlocking 35 cents which had lodged in a crevice. They had removed the strong box from the store, on Beech street, carried it south on the street to its intersection with the road to the Lee Diversified farm and battered it open with sledge hammers. Accounts, stock certificates, insurance contracts and other valuable papers stored in the box were scattered about the battered box, but otherwise unharmed. All of the papers were recovered by O. W. Shepherd, proprietor of the store this morning.

After removing and opening the safe the thieves returned to the store, and carried off about $10 worth of assorted fancy groceries. Shepherd said no staples were taken, and judged that the intruders were youths looking for cash and taking the goods as a substitute for more satisfactory loot.

Entrance was gained by jimmying a window. The front door was easily opened from within and the safe pushed through it and lifted into the car. Mr. Shepherd said that two Humboldt women, awakened at the hour saw the men at the store, but took them for thieves stealing produce left there earlier by a produce company truck. They said that there were three of the men, driving a Chevrolet touring car. It was about 4 a. m.

Guy Strickland, starting his early morning milk route, saw the safe in the road and notified police who went to the spot and made an investigation.

Goods taken included cigars, bottled milk, pickles, preserves, meat, and similar items. The safe is a total wreck.

City Business Is 122 Million

DETROIT, May 27.—The City of Detroit does a gross annual business of $122,638,000, including a payroll of more than $21,000,000 for its 20,000 salaried employees, according to the 1932-33 budget.

For its income, the city collects 60 per cent, amounting to $72,632,000 in direct taxes and $11,156,000 in raised taxes by the county, or state, and returned to the city. The Detroit Street Railway produces $20,212,000, or 17 per cent; the sale of water, $7,622,000 and fees, fines, licenses and miscellaneous revenue account for $7,982,000.

Sinking fund and interest on the debt takes 33 per cent of the income or $41,205,000. The city owes about $400,000,000.

Cost of the police and fire departments, Bureau of Correction, Department of Building and Safety Engineering, Recorder's Court and the jury commission amounts to $17,000,000, or 14 per cent of the expenditures. The lighting plant, water system, D. S. R., garbage collection, street, and alleys, sewer system, airport, etc., cost $27,000,000 or 23 per cent.

The third great group, costing $33,845,000, or 28 per cent, includes city welfare, library, education and art museum. The latter three cost $23,370,000.

Administration costs, including the Mayor's salary, upkeep of city offices, etc., amount to $2,535,000, or 2 per cent of the whole.

10-Inch Rain Floods New Orleans

Many sections of New Orleans became lakes under a 10-inch deluge of rain in 48 hours. Giant pumps were unable to cope with the flood. Top picture shows how downpour ripped out wood-block paving of streets. The blocks are shown afloat. Below, an enterprising flat-boat owner ferrying passengers through St. Charles avenue, one of the city's principal thoroughfares, at a nickel a ride. Hundreds of autos were stalled.

SWIMMING POOL OPENS SAT., FORMAL OPENING THURSDAY

Lake Cisco swimming pool will open tomorrow. For this first time this season Ciscoans, sweltering in heat such as prevailed here yesterday, will be permitted the luxury of a cool plunge into the waters of the big concrete pool.

Although the pool will be open Saturday the formal opening has been reserved for Thursday, June 2. At that time Manager Edgar E. Butts has announced an all-day program featuring candidates' speaking, bathing and beach revues, "Hard-Times" Tacky suite parade, swimming and diving contests and a great variety of other events.

An invitation to James E. Ferguson, whose wife, Miriam, is a candidate for governor has not yet brought a response but authorities were hopeful that the former governor, a platform attraction second to none in the state, will accept.

The Lobo band, under direction of G. W. Collum, will play at the Lake Saturday evening at 7:30. Mayors of the various cities about Cisco will be invited to be the guests of the management Thursday and to serve as judges for the revues and parades in which prizes are to be offered.

Post Office to Be Closed 2 Days

The Cisco postoffice will be closed from Saturday noon to Tuesday morning, Postmaster W. H. Craddock has announced. The office is normally closed each Saturday afternoon and on Monday is Decoration Day—a legal holiday—the closed period will occupy two days. Patrons are urged to take notice of this fact.

FAREWELL SAID BY RANDOLPH SENIOR CLASS

Wednesday morning found an interested crowd of students and townspeople gathered in the Randolph chapel for one of the most loved occasions of the school year, the senior farewell chapel. The seniors with their sponsor, Miss Nina Watts, and President Lee Clark sat in caps and gowns on a stage decorated with green boughs and the college colors, maroon and white.

The program opened with the singing of the doxology followed by a prayer by President Clark. Miss Watts introduced the speakers and paid honor to the students with the highest averages. As salutatorian Statham Ricks gave a word of greeting to those assembled. Miss Jennie Fae O'Neal then presented each member of the class to the audience with a couplet telling of an outstanding characteristic of each. Miss Louise Simon, third honor student of the class, gave the class history and recalled many gay incidents of the past two years. At this point Mrs. Lee Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Hittson gave two musical numbers which were greatly enjoyed.

Laura Jo Asbury and Joe Clark then pulled their chairs up to the table and took the audience some years into the future by an amusing conversation dealing with a Randolph homecoming at that date. They told about the activities of each graduate during the years since he had left the college. Hunter Miller read the class will, giving the juniors the treasured chapel seats of the seniors as well as many less concrete possessions. Many individuals were remembered by appropriate bequests.

The president of the senior class, Joe Clark, asked to make an announcement before the final farewell and took that time to present to Miss Watts, the class sponsor for two years, a pair of bonnet lamps in appreciation of her work.

The valedictory was given by Mary Beth Langston who maintained a consistent superior record during her two years in the college and well deserved the high honor bestowed upon her. Immediately following her farewell, the entire assembly arose to sing Alma Mater.

Sales Tax Fight Comes Into Open

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The fight to substitute the general manufacturers sales tax for the revenue bill now pending in the senate came out in the open today when Sen. Walsh, Dem., Mass., offered an amendment to impose a one and three-quarter per cent levy on sales of practically all merchandise.

Amendment to Exempt Publications

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Sen. Bankhead, Dem., Ala., today offered an amendment to exempt newspapers and religious, scientific, fraternal and agriculture publications from the increases in second-class postal rates, recommended by the senate finance committee.

Ponder Makes Bond In Smuggling Case

SAN ANGELO, May 27.—William T. Ponder, colorful war-time ace, charged here with smuggling an airplane load of beer today was at liberty under bond of $1,500. Dr. Webb Walker and A. P. Barrett, the latter a famous aviator figure, flew here to sign the bond and Ponder returned to Fort Worth.

KIDNAPED AND THROWN FROM BANDITS' CAR

MORRIS, Okla., May 27.—A middle-aged woman, Miss Clara Aggus, 44, was shot and wounded seriously today, when three bandits robbed the Bank of Morris.

Miss Aggus, the bank's assistant cashier, was found lying on the roadside, 12 miles from here, after the robbers had kidnaped her when they looted the institution of approximately $850.

A revolver bullet had crashed through her face. Her condition was described as "critical" by physicians who treated her at the Okmulgee hospital.

Miss Aggus was wounded, it was believed, when City Marshall I. Z. Compton engaged the bandits in a gun battle as they escaped from the bank's door.

Compton, himself, was wounded in the arm. After Compton had been knocked down by the force of the bullet the robbers forced the woman into their automobile and drove to the east. A hastily organized posse followed.

Thrown Out. Miss Aggus was thrown from the car at Grayson, south and east of Morris. She was picked up by two men who were pursuing the bandit car in another automobile only 200 feet behind the bandits' car.

She was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition. Every peace officer in this section was called out and asked to stand guard on highways in Okmulgee county. One of the bank bandits was known to have been wounded seriously.

"When I emptied my gun at the three of them as they grabbed Miss Aggus, one of the robbers went down," said Marshal Compton. "He lay in the street a minute. He was screaming and holding his hands up to his face. One of the others held the woman while the other dragged the third man into the car."

"Then they took out." The marshal's belief that he wounded one of the robbers was borne out by the discovery of blood spots on the street and sidewalks.

The Morris bank has been robbed three times since last September, officials said.

GIRL FREED BY KIDNAPER WHO "LOST NERVE"

RIVERSIDE, Calif., May 27.—Frightened but unharmed, attractive 20 year old Mildred Cutler, daughter of the chief of police and constable of Ferris, returned to her home today after a few wild hours in the company of an armed man who abducted her from her escort.

The kidnaper, she told her father, apparently lost his nerve and finally got out of the automobile in which he had taken her and told her to "go on home."

Garrett, Jack and Mary Olive Garrett, Mrs. Mary Jones and Dorothy Earl Jones, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bruce, Francis and Darcy Bruce, Mrs. Ina C. DAILY BIBLE THOUGHT

VALUE OF A GOOD NAME:—A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving favour rather than silver and gold.—Proverbs 22: 1.

MILLIONS INVESTED BY ADVERTISERS.

Consistent and continuous and intelligent advertising is the creator of fortunes. Indeed, the system moves the goods. Newspaper space costing $250,000,000 was purchased by national advertisers last year. This is shown by the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers' association, as shown in a survey made by the bureau. This total compared with $230,000,000 in 1930. Decrease, it was announced, was due largely to a decline in space used by advertisers of automobiles and radio sets and appliances. This is significant: "Citing from the Advertising Federation of America studies the bureau found that in 31 cities where newspaper lineage during the first six months of 1931 was greater than in the corresponding period of 1930, or where the decrease was relatively slight business was carried on at a rate of 8.3 per cent above the average for the nation as a whole. Contrarily, in 34 cities where newspaper lineage was reduced by more than 11.95 per cent in first six months business was barely even with the national average." These figures tell the story of the results of consistent and continuous and intelligent advertising in the newspapers of America.

CALIFORNIA CITRUS INVADES FLORIDA.

California citrus fruit will be offered for sale in Florida within the week. It will be the first time in 15 years that California fruit has been allowed within the borders of Florida. A ruling of the state plant board had provided an effective barrier, but the ruling was modified recently. It now permits importation of the far Western citrus after the Florida crop has been marketed. A reminder that the Texas grapefruit is the king of all grapefruits the wide world over, and that the Texas orange is more than a keen competitor of the California and Florida brands in quality and price and everything else. There is only one Magic Valley. It is under Texas skies.

WHY NOT NAME THE MUSSOLINI?

"Congress hears its master's voice," editorially thunders the Boston Evening Transcript. Is it possible? Well, who is the master, the Moses, the Mussolini, the MacDonald, or the Von Hindenburg of America? Is the voice of the elephant snarling or the donkey braying? This old Bay State moulder of public thought should be more definite. Indeed, he should be specific. Sen. George H. Moses of New Hampshire has defined the noise as the braying of the "sons of wild jackasses." Another senatorial authority has a different definition. He insists that it is the dismal moanings of the starving crying for food. Well, leaders of the senate predict an all summer session without a recess during Chicago convention time.

Now the immaculate Ritchie, the pride of Maryland, has a cure for unemployment. He is for a 30 hour week. Gosh; why work at all?

RAIL RATES ON COTTON REDUCED.

Railroads throughout most of the South have been authorized by the interstate commerce commission to reduce rates on cotton approximately 20 per cent until Aug. 1. Also rates are expected to go into effect about June 1. They will apply to cotton in bales, either compressed or uncompressed in any quantity. Will this reduction lead to an improved foreign market for cotton? Cotton growers are seeking newer and better markets and higher prices for the staple. Some day the growers will agree to a sweeping acreage reduction and the result will be light crops and prices above the cost of production.

TENNESSEE FOR ROOSEVELT.

Tennessee democrats held their state convention and practically by unanimous vote instructed the state delegates to the national convention to cast 24 votes as a unit for the presidential nomination of Franklin D. Roosevelt. One of the high points of the proceedings came with the adoption of a resolution containing the instruction. Delegates cheered the reading and then adopted it by unanimous vote. A telegram of greeting from Roosevelt sent from Warm Springs, Ga., was also applauded. Georgia is the native state of William Gibbs McAdoo. Tennessee is the burial place of the warrior-statesman, Andrew Jackson. Really, the nation-wide job of lining up delegates is nearing a finish. Now what will happen when the big parade takes place in the Chicago wigwam?

HOOVER CALLS FOR USE OF BIG PUMP.

President Hoover has called on the governors of federal reserve districts to form a committee "to pump credit into trade." It is to be hoped that the committeemen to be selected will know how to handle the big pump in order that all the people the nation over may receive a sprinkling.

STATE BOND PROPOSAL DEAD ISSUE.

A proposal to amend the state constitution to permit issuance of state highway bonds will not be a burning issue in the campaign this year. Gov. Ross Sterling is responsible for the removal of the issue. This is his attitude: "The taxpayers are being called on to pay more taxes than they can afford and we must cooperate to make this burden lighter. This is not a time for the issuance of new obligations by any branch of the government, state or national or local." Gov. Sterling is not in favor of an increase in the gasoline tax. Moreover, the governor is going to advocate the diversion of a portion of the four-cent gasoline tax to a fund to be used to pay interest and retire the principal on debts incurred by counties to build state highways. This should clarify the political atmosphere, as well as afford relief in counties where property owners have been burdened with heavy bond issues for the construction of highways in bygone days.

But the relief should come earlier than a campaign pledge promises. A special session of the legislature, as Rep. Tom Cunningham suggests, would enable the counties to get the benefit of the relief on this year's taxes.

If the legislators will serve without pay, why not a special session of five days to deal with this one issue, alone.

Through the Editor's Spectacles

By GEORGE

Cut your weeds, pleads J. T. Elliott, city commissioner. Elliott is the busy man whom we see in brown canvas hat and khaki shirt and trousers, driving a nervous wreck that reminds me of an anti-dive, one-cylinder Brush back in the days of the World War. That Brush was a relic then. It would compare with Elliott's car now. Every time I see the Commissioner rushing down the road as if he wanted to get somewhere before the miserable vehicle falls to pieces, I am reminded of the Brush. Poor thing, it ended in the creek bed but it had a lot of fun first. Its driver was always troubled with chickens. The sound of its one cylinder, chugging down the road of a late afternoon or early morning—it couldn't stand the heat of mid-day—was identical with the busy housewife's chinking of her flock—"chick—chick—chick—"

One day Elliott, in a terrible hurry, forgot a stop sign and W. M. Miller, then chief of police, took him to a skinning. Elliott blamed me for turning him in. He threatened to charge me the dollar that he had to pay as a fine. I don't know where he would have gotten the dollar. I couldn't charge myself a dollar and get it.

Anyway, Elliott wants you to be nice citizens and cut your weeds. It's for your own good. You can't blame the city for flies and mosquitoes, for germs and smells, scents and incense unless you lend a hand and cooperate. Two men doing for 6,000 people face an impossible job but 6,000 people doing for themselves can accomplish a lot with a little effort.

So gather your hoed and weed slashers this week and next and get some of the exercise you have been needing. It will do you good, give you a better appetite and allow you to eat heartily without getting fat. Incidentally this reducing craze can take a lesson from weed cutting. Working people rarely have to worry about getting fat. They eat for energy, whereas the indolent "embonpoint" has to mince toast and forego candy because she or he is too lazy to work off the surplus.

Lake Cisco swimming pool will be open Saturday. These hot days put us in just the right trim and mood for a swim. F. D. Wright is the chief prophet of the virtues of swimming in these parts. Wright eschews golf and goes swimming in icy water to cure colds. Probably a lawyer can do that. But a newspaperman doesn't have the blood temperature to make such a sport unnerveing. But in warm weather—what a delight. There is nothing like a good swim in the cool of the evening to make one feel like a million dollars safely cached in Alex Spears' First National bank.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar B. Butts have charge of the Lake Cisco Amusement company now. I don't know what Mr. Butts is doing but Mrs. Butts is doing a lot. She has invaded every nook and cranny in Cisco to secure cooperation for the big formal opening Thursday. Don't forget, however, that the pool will be opened next Saturday. The Thursday event is one of the special affairs.

Jim Ferguson is being invited. It isn't known whether he is coming or not but if he does the tongue-lashing he always gives the opposition will draw more thousands than you can count on the fingers of a hand. His answer is expected shortly, probably today.

Bathing suit and pajama revues

In the Political Arena

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

President Hoover is brandishing the big stick again. Indeed, he appears to be ready to use the big stick on any proposal advanced by the democratic senate house leaders. Speaker John N. Garner proposed a billion dollar bond issue for a governmental building program and then the special democratic relief committee of the senate called for a $500,000,000 bond issue for public construction. All this must have been meant for the chief magistrate. He issued what the Washington correspondents are pleased to call a slashing attack on the democratic proposals for huge public works financed by bond issues as a means of restoring normal employment in the country.

Uncle Sam borrowed and then spent or loaned $37,000,000,000 to "make the world safe for democracy." Philanthropic Americans who are players of the game called finance after the world had been made safe for democracy invested $10,000,000,000 in European or South American countries to make those sections safer for democracy and all concerned. Now the aristocratic and age-old sport of buck passing is in flower and it will continue in flower until the work of the national conventions has been nailed down and the big parade moves across the nation and the evers of the Republic continue their extraor-will be other features. There will be a "hard-times" tacky bathing suit parade. Let's hope the times don't get too hard. There will be music, swimming contests, diving exhibitions, free swimming lessons and a whole variety of attractions which would require most of this page to enumerate.

My opinion is that there is going to be a lot doing at Lake Cisco this year. Maybe we needed a real depression to make us realize what an asset Cisco has there.

Down below the lake the city parks have been kept up to standard. The weeds have been cut, more wood piled for the barbecues and a legion of little things done to add to the convenience of the picnickers who are more than welcome to use the facilities there. Running water, lights, and all that sort of thing are available.

A Mineral Wells man and his wife viewed the site yesterday. "Over in Mineral Wells we try to do things up big," he said, "but you've got us skinned a dozen ways."

BEHIND THE SCENES IN WASHINGTON WITH RODNEY DUTCHER

By RODNEY DUTCHER

WASHINGTON—Certain things about Senator Huey Long, the burly Louisiana "kingfish," are bound to remind you of Tom Heflin, the hoisterous ex-senator from Alabama.

But there is only one Huey Long and this town has not seen a senator who could compare with him for a very long time. He is, for instance, a much more intelligent person than Heflin and a more dangerous man with whom to swap blows.

He seems to have a rather clear idea what he is trying to do. He flails away at specific, existing targets adopting causes that have plenty of support, rather than concentrating ridiculously on such subjects as the pope.

He's Through Agreeing

LIKE Tom, however, Huey sprinkles his long tirades with humor, which seems more apt in debate and also funnier than old Tom's. Here are samples taken from his filibuster on the tax bill: "I hope that senators will understand that I am undertaking to save them for themselves and from themselves in this matter. I am through agreeing to anything now. I am going to express my views. I am feeling the urge to talk as I progress. I am being convinced by my own logic that it is necessary to talk a long time on this matter. I have concluded, since I have been talking here that we ought to send senators home too late to see the secretary tonight and that we should come back here two or three hours before they have a chance to see him in the morning so that senators can follow their own dictates."

Senator Jim Watson of Indiana: "The secretary is a pretty vigorous man and he might stay up late, too."

Huey: "That is what I am afraid of."

Where Mose Ain't Now

"BACK up in my country one of our fellow citizens had left, one of our colored brethren, leaving vengeance against another one. He came home one Saturday night, after he had gone off and earned enough money to buy a Harrison & Richardson pistol to get vengeance on the man who was his superior in physical virtues and power.

"He knocked on the door. 'Who's in there?' The answer came, 'Mose Jackson. Then, 'Mose, let me in. I has come here to settle matters."

"The voice came back, 'This ain't Mose Jackson that is here now. This is where Mose lives, but Mose is out."

"Then the nigger said, 'All right, if Mose lives there, open the door. I'm going to wait for him. He said 'I think you misunderstand me. This ain't where Mose Jackson lives this is where Mose Jackson used to live."

"Then let me in there, if Mose Jackson ever did live there."

"You must have misunderstood me, brother. Mose Jackson never did live here."

"So the committee took up their bill. 'This is us. This is me.' Then they went two or three more days and said 'No, this ain't us, but this is where we was.' Then they went a bit longer and the senators from Utah and Mississippi (Smoot and Harrison) come in here and say, 'No, we never was over there. We has been here all the time.'"

Tombstone Verse

"WHEN the senator from Mississippi says 'Stand by the committee' I am reminded of the old man who died in East Carroll Parish. He put a little poem on the tombstone:

"Remember, man, as you pass by. So as you are so once was I. So as I am, so you must be. Prepare to die and follow me."

"But the wife who put up the tombstone did not want to be bound by what was on it, and so as a saving grace to herself she wrote two more lines.

"To follow you I'm not content. Until I know the way you went."

(Gallery occupants laughed so hard at that one that their ejection was threatened.)

inary performances until the coming of that fated day in November when "the ballot is the thing."

Another Congressional landmark has been sent to the political cemetery away out in Oregon. Congressman Willis C. Hawley was defeated for re-nomination in a total primary vote of more than 60,000 his political life was snuffed out by a majority of 700 for his republican rival for the seat, James W. Mott, a comparative unknown, turned the toes of Hawley up to the daisies of springtime. He was one of the authors of the Hawley-Smoot tariff act which has aroused the opposition of the European, the South American, and the Oriental world and has led to retaliatory tariffs in all lands under the sun where trade and finance have pots on the world map.

Hawley was one of the big four of the house. Now he is a lame duck. His future is behind him.

Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and Gov. William H. Murray of Oklahoma were the contenders for the national delegates in Oregon. Roosevelt received 44,000 votes; Murray, 10,000. Thus the 10 delegates from Oregon are found in the Roosevelt column. Nevada democrats plumped their six national delegates in the Roosevelt column. Indeed, no other candidate on the democratic side for the presidential nomination had a look in.

Tuesday the democrats of Texas are in convention assembled in Houston. They will select delegates to hold down 46 seats in the Chicago convention. It is understood that 184 will be named to attend the big convention to cast 46 votes of Texas for a distinguished native son, John Nance Garner. Of course those who read the newspapers are aware that the young democrats of Texas will be in evidence in great numbers for the first time in recent years. Perhaps they will be history makers and perhaps not.

They have a big job cut out for them. They should send a harmonious delegation to the national convention. They should watch their step in the resolutions which are to be drafted and adopted and it would be well for them to avoid severing the tendons in the legs of the donkey before he has been pushed into the race.

Homer Cummings of Connecticut, a national leader of the democracy for many years and ever the close loyal friend of Woodrow Wilson, has made a slashing attack on the forces which are seemingly determined to deadlock the national convention. This is an excerpt from the Cummings statement:

"These forces are neither republican nor democratic. They operate upon no party principle. They are merely concerned with preparing a control government. If with the aid of democrats who ought to be in better business they are able to throw our party into confusion and maneuver us into another Madison Square Garden convention, they will be well content. That such an unworthy conspiracy will be permitted to prevail I do not for a moment believe."

He concluded by saying, "There are two political battles going on at present. One is a sham encounter for the bewilderment of the simple and calculated to withdraw attention from the ineptitudes of the present regime—the other as a real struggle to preserve all that is best and fairest in America."

Homer Cummings is a straight shooter all his life, and ever a champion of early American ideals and the traditions of the Republic so dear to those who believe in a government for all the people and not a government for a few of the people.

Another Good Thing About Black-Draught

When you take Theodor's Black-Draught, normal bowel activity is restored without sickening effects. This is only one of many agreeable qualities of this medicine.

Mr. George W. Cassidy, of Waco, Texas, whose experience in the use of Black-Draught has extended over forty-five years, says: "When I take a laxative or purgative, I want something that I can take just a dose or two of, and then quit taking and feel as good as ever. Black-Draught is like that. You don't have to take it every night. "I just bought a box yesterday, and after forty-five years I find it does me as much good as when I started taking it."

the MAN HUNTERS

BY MABEL McELLIOTT

CHAPTER XLVIII
The church was dark and old. There was about it none of the feverish activity usually associated with a wedding. There was no canopy nor was there a strip of crimson carpet. There were no flowers massed in nave or chancel. Nevertheless, the little group awaiting with hushed expectancy the arrival of the bridal pair had about them an air of tender excitement often absent from ceremonies boasting greater pomp.

Outside were the high winds and blue sky of one of spring's more benignant days. A group of chattering girls broke away from the door as the unseen organist began to finger the strains of the memorable music. It was the Lohengrin march he was playing now, that tone which has always power to evoke memory and tears. The chattering girls sobered and began to straggle down the aisle. The clergyman, solemn in his vestments, came to the door of the anteroom to gaze anxiously toward the back of the church. The organist played softly. Not yet was he willing to break into the crashing chords which announce the arrival of the bride.

A tall, pleasant-faced girl prettily dressed in dove gray was whispering to some friends in the third pew. They were listening to her words with interest.

"You could have knocked me over with a feather last night when she called!" It was about nine o'clock. I knew they were thinking about it but I didn't know it was to be so soon."

"But Rose," protested a small chubby damsel sentimentally. "I think this is the nicest way to be married — without any fuss and sort of like a surprise party."

"I thought it was off," put in another girl, nodding her head. "Her aunt told my mother yesterday afternoon that she was going down to the country to live and Susan would probably go with her. When she called to say she was going to be married this afternoon I nearly passed out. What do you suppose happened to make them rush it so?"

Rose smiled cryptically. She thought how eagerly they all would pounce on the details she knew if she were indiscreet enough to reveal them. How Susan had decided the day before to give up Bob for his own good. How she had changed her mind. How Bob, goaded by his father's interference and pursuit, had deliberately seemed to fall in with the latter's plans for him even to the extent of making an engagement for one o'clock today — the hour of his wedding. All this Rose kept locked in her heart.

The chubby little girl began to whisper excitedly again but she was interrupted by the resounding chords of the wedding march, played now with dramatic meaning.

"Here they come," Rose murmured. Every head was turned toward the door and back again toward the chancel from which the bridegroom, tall and fair-haired, now emerged. Another young man was at his elbow. Of the 20 or 30 guests gathered in the church, nearly all were women. The whispers were hushed as Susan, unwontedly pale, approached on the arm of a smiling sandy-haired gentleman in immaculate morning attire.

She was all in white, ivory white crepe dress with long sleeves, small white hat made entirely of flower petals. Her eyes were lowered. There was something unreal, something unworldly about her. A yellow-haired girl who sat quite alone in one of the pews gulped twice and dabbed at her mascaraed eyelashes with a wisp of a handkerchief.

Carry herself straight as a ram.

PARIS STYLES
By MARY KNIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent PARIS, May 27. — The time has come to formulate an opinion or two about the results of the Little Season collection, which have just been shown here. It is a rather general consensus of opinion that this summer will be a colorful one sartorially speaking at least, and that the golf courses, beaches and tennis courts will sparkle with brilliant tones set off by white gowns.
Blue in varying shade, will predominate on the beach and for early daytime wear, while white pastel shades and bright printed chiffons will be seen in the evening.
"Blue," say the Worth brothers, "will continue into the early fall when it will deepen slightly but still show a favoritism for touches of white and beige."

Did You Ever Stop to Think?

By EDSON R. WAITE
Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Women are the best judges of food. They know that only the finest of food products are advertised.

Economy has been preached morning, noon and night until everybody is practicing it. The result is that there is very little cheerful talk. If a little of the time used in getting some of the people to spend instead of economize, it would help the country quite a bit on its way to normal times.

You should pin your faith in your city, just as your city pins its faith in you.

A man who doesn't know where he is going seldom gets anywhere.

When a city makes the mistake of going into the electric power or gas business, it is engaging in a business that should be a privately owned business. Usually the result is, when publicly owned, it is left in the hands of the politicians who generally see that it is nobody's business but theirs.

The longer goods remain on the shelves the higher does their cost become and the harder it is to move them. Newspaper advertising keeps stocks moving.

Mere money or wealth is of no use to an individual, no matter how powerful he may be in his wealth, unless he has social and business contact with his fellow-man.

A whole lot of cities stand still or go back at the expense of the public, just to please a few narrow-minded citizens.

Worrying seems to be a necessity to some people, and an element upon which they thrive. When they are deprived of a cause to worry, they promptly invent new causes.

A reader writes me a very pleasant letter. Among the things said are that I display an ignorance that is appalling, that I often wander off at a tangent at events about which I know less than nothing. These encouraging words, it is needless to say, are entirely unsolicited by me.

Newspaper advertising stimulates sales.

Poppy Day, May 28

Tomorrow is Poppy Day. The American Legion Auxiliary, of Cisco, will conduct its annual poppy sale to raise money for disabled World War veterans who are confined in government hospitals and denied many of those little conveniences which the ordinary person takes for granted in his home.

These conveniences are sorely missed and the ex-service men, making the poppies in their wheel chairs, their beds and in the solitude of their rooms at the hospitals, depend upon the little revenue they obtain thereby to secure the comforts.

The members of the Epworth League will assist the auxiliary. Headquarters of the sale will be in the Winston building next door to the Altman Style shop.

Mrs. M. H. French and Miss Mammie Estes are team captains.

MISS CHAMBLISS, MRS. McLEROY IN RECITAL
Mrs. Ben McClinton, one of Cisco's most outstanding voice instructors, brought to a happy close her years work when she presented Miss Marion Chambliss and Mrs. C. McLeRoy in voice recital before a large and appreciative audience Thursday evening at the First Presbyterian church. Soft lights and a color scheme of red and green, which was especially brought out in floral decorations, were used in making a delightful setting for the occasion.

The vocalists were accompanied at the piano by Mrs. S. E. Hittson. High spots of the program were "Annie Laurie" by Lehman and "Lilac Cotton Gown" by Hill, rendered by Miss Chambliss in character costume, and "Fiddle and I" by Goodere, sung by Mrs. McLeRoy, assisted by S. E. Hittson on the violin. Others taking part on the program were Miss Lurine Poe, pupil of Mrs. James Moore, reading "Sign of the Cleft Heart," and Clyde and Guy Bonnette, nephews of Mrs. McLeRoy who were heard in a violin duet. As a climax to the evening's program a dramatization in costumes and song was given by Mrs. McLeRoy and Miss Chambliss. The songs rendered were "In the Meadow" by Carrie Jacob Bond, and "Love's Old Sweet Song" by Mallory.

Turkish Mill Grinding Divorces

ISTANBUL, May 27. — The demand for divorces under the monogamic system in Turkey, after getting off to a slow start, now has caused an increase in the number of divorce courts and magistrates, and is steadily growing.

This is disclosed by the first annual statistics to be issued since the new judicial procedure went into effect.

The Turks did not take kindly to the new system at first, what with all its delays, complications, and expenses. Both men and women complained because it became impossible to get rid of unsuitable mates without recourse to the intricacies of law. Turkish husbands, particularly, found it much less easy to dissolve a marriage at will.

While it is shown by the statistics that at first many divorces took over three years to secure, more recent cases show that the machinery has been speeded up enormously.

One cause of this acceleration has been the demand of the authorities for greater dispatch, and another is that the magistrates have adopted an easier and more "modern" attitude toward divorce applications.

VITAMIN B IN BRAN, RESEARCH REVEALS

Also Has "Bulk" to Further Assist Elimination, and Iron for Blood

One of the functions of Vitamin B is to help tone the intestinal tract, and promote elimination. Now, laboratory experiments show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN contains this valuable vitamin.

In addition, ALL-BRAN brings a plentiful supply of "bulk"—which provides the "ballast" needed to exercise the intestines.

This "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that of lettuce. Inside the body, it is different from the way you see it in the package. It absorbs moisture, and forms a soft mass which gently clears the intestines of wastes. Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, milder, more palatable.

Another healthful element brought by ALL-BRAN is iron. Tests show this cereal has twice as much usable iron as the same weight of beef liver.

Check common constipation — with its frequent headaches, loss of appetite and energy — by eating this delicious cereal. How much pleasanter than taking pills and drugs — so often habit-forming.

Just eat two tablespoons daily — sufficient to overcome most types of constipation. If your intestinal trouble is not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Modern Electric Cookery Will Make Your Kitchen Cooler . . . Cleaner . . . More Economical

Electric Cookery means a cool, happy kitchen, because electric heat is "controlled." It is applied only to the bottom of the utensils, exactly as required. None is wasted to make your kitchen unbearably hot and disagreeable.

Your kitchen will be cleaner, too, for electricity is clean as sunshine. There's no soot, smoke or grease to soil walls and curtains or begrime pots and pans. Think of all the work you can eliminate by this one feature alone!

And the economy of Electric Cookery will gladden your heart and lower your budget! Electrically-cooked foods retain full bulk weight . . . meats do not shrink . . . vegetables do not boil away . . . and, due to a superior cooking principle, more inexpensive cuts of meat can be used with gratifying success. The Electric Range cooks foods with all the precious vitamins, essential minerals and delicious food-flavors sealed-in, too!

We will be delighted to demonstrate this modern automatic cook, and explain why it has been approved and endorsed throughout West Texas. Profit by Electric Cookery superlatively NOW!

Call us for an individual investigation of your use of electric energy, to determine the cost of cooking by electricity in your home. You may be surprised to know that there are many cases where electric cookery actually decreases the total of electric and gas bills.
