Rival Candidates for Governor Winding up Campaigns

"MA" AT HOME, N.O.P. NOMINEE IN PANHANDLE

FORT WORTH, Nov. 5. — Two rival candidates for governor of Texas drew the state's political knot tighter today as their campaigns neared an end. Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, democratic nominee, returned to her Austin home to await the command of the voting electorate November 8. Her husband, "Farmer Jim," carried his plea for party loyalty to Tyler. He will join his wife at Austin Sunday. Ferguson bitterly attacked the claim of Orville Bullington, republican candidate, that the independent oil men would be "ruined" if Mrs. Ferguson is elected. "All the troubles of the independent oil man have been inflicted during the reign of his good man Friday, Ross Sterling," Ferguson charged. Ferguson is acting "absurd as usual" Webb Walker, chairman of the Roosevelt-Garner - Bullington club, asserted here today. "Frantic efforts being made by Jim Ferguson to coerce democrats into voting for him" testify to the effectiveness of Bullington's campaigning, Walker said. Sunday Bullington will plead for a "new deal in state government" in panhandle, culminating his tour at Amarillo. Moudy he will return to Wichita Falls where a home-coming rally is planned in his honor.

HOOPER ATTACKS DEMO PROHIBITION PROPOSAL ABOARD PRESIDENT HOOPER'S TRAIN, Nov. 5. — President Hoover invading the northwest on his final campaign tour, spoke briefly at Beloit, Wis., today shortly after it had been learned two negroes were under arrest on suspicion of tampering with rails on the track over which his special would pass. Secret service men minimized the seriousness of the incident. President Hoover will deliver a major address at Salt Lake City Monday, it was announced today. "Democratic sponsors of outright prohibition repeal," said Mr. Hoover at St. Louis, "know that their strongholds in the south will not accept the proposals which means return of the saloon and lack of protection to dry states." It was Mr. Hoover's first mention of the prohibition issue since his acceptance speech.

ROOSEVELT MAKES FINAL APPEAL NEW YORK, Nov. 5. — Franklin D. Roosevelt made his final appeal to the American electorate and the supreme effort of his national campaign for the presidency at a mass meeting in Madison Square garden Sunday night. The democratic nominee went into the home stretch of the race with the apparently complete support of the man who was his chief rival for the nomination, Alfred E. Smith. Smith Friday night reemphasized party harmony and gave his principles full support. In his speech Gov. Roosevelt attacked President Hoover for what he termed "misrepresentation and misquotation" of his declarations on the abolition of poverty. Smith characterized Mr. Hoover as "the real leader of the dry party" and declared "the farmer was forgotten but the tariff was not."

Will Present Piano Pupils in Recital Mrs. J. B. Hunter will present her piano pupils in recital next Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian church. The following children will take part in the program: Bessie Rae Coats, Juanita Strother, Dorothy Jean Walker, Bobbie Grace McWhorter, Naomi Lee Myrick, James Meglasson, Anna Mae Meglasson, Vada Bell Tomlinson, Margie Linder, and Jack Hunter. The public is invited.

DISEASE KILLS FOWL PORTLAND, Ore., Nov. 5. — A ptomaine-like disease caused when the sun rotted vegetation bared by low water in Oregon lakes, killed more ducks and geese in Oregon this year than the hunters will kill in the two-month open season, the State Game Commission learned.

BELTON DETECTIVE, WHO CAUGHT MOHLER, HERE SEEKING SECURITIES ALLEGED LOST IN SWINDLE

A story with a faint bouquet of melodrama, involving the glib middle-aged woman and the suave confidence man, was told Saturday here by J. F. Vannoy, of Belton, Bell county detective on the trail of securities which a Belton woman claimed to have sacrificed to her trust in a stranger's promise of more profitable investment. Vannoy, a quiet, stouthead man of less than average stature, came back to familiar grounds in his search for clues that he hopes will lead to recovery of the lost wealth. A peace officer of 20 years standing, with some notable achievements to his credit, Vannoy will be remembered in Cisco as the man who ran down the slayer of Hugh Maples, one-armed Cisco taxi-driver whose wired body was unearthed from a shallow grave in 1922. Patiently tracing threads of evidence which he disentangled from the confusing complexity of this case, the detective travelled 10,000 miles before Bob Mohler was finally brought to justice as the guilty man. Mohler, appealing from a death verdict given him by an Eastland county jury, won a new trial and a 99-year sentence from a second jury. Sent to the penitentiary to begin his expiation of the crime, he escaped and is now a fugitive from justice.

$8,000 in Securities. When a pair of patient thoroughness, so evident in his description of the case, Vannoy is seeking securities of a total worth exceeding $8,000. The securities, for the most part building and loan certificates, were parcelled into the hands of a man representing himself as an agent of Corporate Trust Shares, by a 40-year-old Belton woman who accepted the agent's claims of strong-er and more profitable investment in the securities he professed to represent, Vannoy said. The woman told Belton officers that she had first met this man on October 8, 1931. On October 9, 1931, she gave him a note on the Planters-Merchants mill at New Braunfels with a face value of $1,000 and $117 in cash. She said he had told her he could get $383 for the note and she had added the cash to make the amount $500 for investment in Corporate Trust shares. Since that time, Vannoy said the woman had visited her at intervals until about June 10, 1932. She last heard from him by letter on October 18, 1932, she said. The man always gave his address as a post office box number in Fort Worth. According to Vannoy's list of the woman's losses, she turned over to the man on October 26, 1931, one Gibraltar Building and Loan association certificate worth $571.45, one fully-paid North Texas Building and Loan certificate for $1,000, and one prepaid North Texas Building and Loan certificate with a face value of $1,149.92 all of which were to be converted into $2,000 of Corporate Trust shares. Finally, he said, on February 13, 1932, she gave the man five fully-paid and prepaid certificates of the North Texas Building and Loan association and one thrift book. Her total loss was $8,944.19, of which about $750 was in cash. All was to be converted into Corporate Trust shares at $5 per share. The name of the woman was withheld by Vannoy. A grand jury at Georgetown October 21, 1932, returned three felony indictments for swindling naming F. R. Sherman, then making his home at Cisco. He was arrested, taken to Georgetown where the sheriff set bond at $4,000. A writ of habeas corpus was sued out and the bond reduced to $2,000. Since then District Attorney Woods of that district has filed in justice court at Georgetown an additional felony swindling complaint in which bond has been set at $1,000, making a total of $3,000 which Sherman must provide before obtaining liberty.

Sterling Confident He Acted Rightly

AUSTIN, Nov. 5.—Gov. R. S. Sterling today said he believed he acted rightly in refusing to issue a state proclamation for observance of "medallion day" set aside for subscriptions to the national democratic campaign fund. Gov. Sterling pointed out that as governor he represents all the people of the state. "If I issued one for the democrats, I should also issue one for other parties," he said.

Minister and Woman Are Shot

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 5. — Rev. F. D. Greathouse, said to be an Apostolic minister, was shot in the head and Mrs. Sophia Wilkins was shot in the abdomen here today as they emerged from an automobile truck with a trailer house. Both were critically wounded. Police held a man in connection with the shooting.

History, Geography, Politics Acquired In Collection of Stamps, Youth Finds

By FRANK LANGSTON. Pasting stamps in a book is just one of the features of philately, or as it is generally called, stamp collecting. The youthful enthusiast collects, besides his stamps, a vast amount of knowledge of history, geography, and foreign politics. And, judging from the success of Carlisle Reimers, Cisco collector, he makes friends with many other collectors throughout the United States and over the rest of the world. Although he has been working on his collection in a serious way for only a little more than a year, Carlisle now has more than a thousand different stamps from all over the world. They are classified as to countries and are arranged, for the most part, in sets, put into a loose leaf book on hinges, or gummed oil paper. In his United States collection Carlisle has what might be termed a blunder on the part of some designer. Two stamps were issued portraying the discovery of America. The first shows Columbus smooth shaven; the second, three hours later, portrays him with a full beard. Carlisle also pointed out an air-mail stamp issued in commemoration of the flight of Charles A. Lindbergh to Paris and a set issued this year in honor of the Olympic games held in the United States.

German History. German stamps, plentiful in almost every collection, take up a large space in that of young Reimers. They show a great deal of the history of the German nation, from the old empire to the present day. When the German mark lost its value of course postage, like everything else, rose in price. Among the stamps of high face value, Carlisle has one labeled five million marks and another for 500 million marks. Although Von Hindenburg's face is familiar on a great many of the modern German stamps, that of Ludwig von Beethoven, the composer, also found a place on one. Several very old stamps from France and Austria are in Carlisle's collection, some long out of print. He pointed with pride to a set from Newfoundland and said they are scarce now. He said that he had found it hard to obtain Persian and Czechoslovakian stamps, also. Carlisle's brother, Malcolm, also collects stamps, and has more than seven hundred. In his collection the stamps of Spain stand out in number. He also has a couple of Imperial Russian stamps.

Yarbrough to Be Tried at Austin

AUSTIN, Nov. 5. — Cal Yarbrough, former Belton city councilman under indictment for murder in connection with the torch death of his foster daughter, will be tried here on a charge of venue. Yarbrough is accused of killing the girl September 8 by setting fire to her while they worked together on an automobile. The district attorney said the girl's life was insured heavily against accidental death. Yarbrough has been denied bond.

NEW BRIDGE

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5. — Within a few weeks, a new bridge will span the Schuylkill river at Market Street. Although 127 years have passed since the first bridge was built at the same location, only three different structures have carried Market Street over the river.

DOTHAN MAN, AUTO VICTIM, BURIED HERE

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist church here Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock for Arvel Moudy, 32, of Dothan, a victim of an automobile accident on the Bankhead highway about 4:45 Friday afternoon. The car in which Moudy was riding was overturned when another machine, said to contain four negroes, passed it en route to Cisco and cut too suddenly in front. J. W. Adams, also of Dothan who was driving the car in which Moudy was riding, was brought to the Graham sanitarium where Saturday he was reported resting easily with minor cuts and bruises but under observation for possible internal injuries. A severed artery in Moudy's leg caused him to bleed to death, physicians said. The body was prepared for burial at Green Funeral home. Services were conducted by the Rev. O. O. Odum, pastor of the First Methodist church and the Rev. H. D. Blair, Baptist county missionary. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery. The Adams' car was overturned in the accident and practically demolished. The other car did not stop and the occupants are being sought by officers who said that they had no clue Saturday to aid them in their search beyond a description of the machine given by Adams. Moudy was unmarried. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. B. F. Moudy; a brother, Jack Moudy, both of Dothan; a sister, Mrs. Metta White, of Long Beach California; and a half-brother, Arch Bint, of Dothan, democratic nominee for Eastland county commissioner from the fourth precinct. There are numerous other relatives of varying connection. Both Moudy and Adams were farmers. Moudy was formerly in business at Dothan.

F. R. Returns Boston's Greeting

His hand upraised in acknowledgment and a broad smile wreathing his face, Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt is shown responding to the cheers of 10,000 who jammed the Boston (Mass.) arena to hear his principal New England campaign address. Equally jubilant in the center, is Governor Joseph B. Ely of Massachusetts. James Roosevelt, son of the Democratic presidential candidate, is seen at the right.

Primaries Were Croppers for Many Candidates for Offices This Year

By THOMAS L. STOKES United Press Staff Correspondent WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—Candidates, running in the Nov. 8 election for the 43 House seats and 35 Senate seats to be filled, look back across a battlefield of primaries strewn with victims of the voters' resentment in this depression year. This bad year for the "ins" already has seen in the primaries one of the greatest upheavals in the country's history. Many veterans have been rejected by the voters in the party elimination contests, and thus denied a chance in the general election. They are out. Every house seat is at stake for the 73rd congress, which goes into office March 4, but does not assemble until a year from December, unless there is a special session. Three of the 43 House seats have been filled by the September Maine election, leaving 43rd contests to be settled Nov. 8. Ordinarily, a third of the senate, or 32, are selected every two years. But there are three extra contests this year. One is in Colorado, to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Waterman, Repn., which ends next March 4. One is for the unexpired term of the late Senator Harris, Dem., Georgia, which ends March 4, 1937. The third is in New Jersey, to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Dwight Morrow.

CHARITY ASS'N BOARD MEETS MONDAY AT 9

The executive board of the Cisco Charity and Welfare association will meet Monday morning at 9 o'clock at the chamber of commerce, members were informed Saturday. Every member of the board is urged to be present. The meeting assumes importance because of the fact that plans for the annual appeal will be made and a date for starting the campaign determined upon. Extraordinary effort to raise a fund consistent with the need confronting the organization will be put forth, J. T. Elliott, general chairman, said. J. A. Bearman will direct the campaign as chairman of the finance committee.

STORES HERE TO CLOSE ON NOVEMBER 11

Practically every place of business in Cisco with exception of cafes, drug stores and filling stations will be closed for Armistice day, Friday, November 11, Miss Lucille Self, Retail Merchants' association secretary announced Saturday. She praised the cooperation of the merchants and declared it was the most unanimous she has experienced. All dry goods stores, tailor shops, lumber yards, grocery stores, motor companies, battery stations, laundries, barber shops and utilities will be closed, she said.

Senatorial Elections

Elections for the regular six-year Senatorial term are to be held this year in Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Missouri, Nevada, New Hampshire, New York, North Carolina, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, Oregon, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, South Dakota, Utah, Vermont, Washington, Wisconsin. One senator is to be chosen from each of these states. All sorts of issues, with a depression restlessness predominant, were responsible for the elimination of 50 present congressmen in the primary elections—five senators and 45 house members. Two of the latter, Representative Crisp, Dem., Georgia, and Representative Crall, Rep., California were defeated in aspirations for the senatorial nomination from their states. Twenty-eight withdrew. In addition, 28 members, including one senator—Hawes, Dem., Missouri—decided not to test the issue and withdrew. Five house members were successful in securing nominations for the senate, and face the final test in November. They

STERLING IS NOT NAMED IN RESOLUTION

AUSTIN, Nov. 5. — With eleven dissenting votes the Texas house of representatives today adopted a scathing resolution condemning the office-holding bolter "who dissects his party in the midst of a fight, or bites the hand that feeds him." The vote was 83 for the resolution. Six present did not vote. A motion to reconsider the resolution automatically held up further discussion until the next legislative day. President Hoover's Springfield address referring to the times as presenting a crisis like that of the Civil war period, was the basis of the resolution. It condemned a "veiled threat to arouse sectional strife and to return to our state carpetbag governors." In such a crisis it was declared the duty of every official "who sought, accepted and holds office as a democrat to continue the fight under the banner of his enlistment." President Hoover was referred to as the "acting president." No direct reference was made to Gov. R. S. Sterling who has announced support of Orville Bullington, republican candidate for governor.

HOUSE DEBATES "LAME DUCK" LEGALITY

AUSTIN, Nov. 5. — The right of present legislators to sit in session if members elected Tuesday appear to demand their places was put squarely up to the legislature today by Rep. W. E. Pope, of Corpus Christi. The house was still in turbulent debate over the proposal when adjournment was taken until Monday morning. The house did not reach the oil bill at all. The senate sat as a committee of the whole on the proposed oil bill and heard Railroad Comm'r E. O. Thompson discuss its effects.

MILLIONS REFUNDED.

Texas refunded $3,275,141 to purchasers of gasoline during the fiscal year ending Aug. 31. Tax refunds are allowed on all gasoline purchases where the gasoline is not used to propel vehicles over the highway. More than 85 per cent of the refunds were allowed to farmers—approximately 78,000 claims for refunds were filed of which 228 were rejected. Total of the gasoline tax collected during the year was listed as $31,488,053, and the amount prorated to the highway fund and the available school fund was $28,212,919. Millions are taken out of the pockets of the motor vehicle owners of the state. They are required to pay until it hurts. There are lawmakers who would kill the goose that lays the golden egg—the golden egg to be used for the construction and maintenance of a state system of public roads that in time would be second to none in America if huge sums of gasoline tax money were not diverted to other purposes.

WHEAT MAKES NEW LOW MARK.

Place it in the record that in the city of Chicago Nov. 1 wheat prices plunged to new low records for the fourth time within a week. Indeed for the first 15 minutes of trading the lowest price in the history of organized marketing was recorded and one not equaled since 1570 to 1590. It appears that John Bull landed another body blow on Uncle Sam; as the chief unsettling factor was the decision reached by the British house of commons, that Canadian wheat shipped to England through United States ports should not enjoy the benefits of the British preferential tariff. A reminder that during the winter months much Canadian wheat moves to Great Britain through United States seaports when many Canadian ports are ice-bound. Another reminder that Uncle Sam entered the World war on the side of the allies. His plunge cost him $40,000,000,000. There is a war debt of billions that Uncle Sam is carrying. Now he is asked by his very friendly allies to cancel all his war loans, permit American taxpayers out of their own pockets to liquidate liberty bonds in coming years and the Ottawa pact on account of terrific import duties imposed bars from the ports of England and all its colonies or dominions the products of American farms and ranches and the manufactures of its mills and its mines and its factories. John Bull and his children have retaliated. Pres. Hoover and his republican lawmakers handed the foreign world the Hawley-Smoot tariff act. Now the foreigners are plucking the tail feathers from the American eagle.

SWINGING BLUDGEON IN ALABAMA.

Alabama is an Old South state. Jerome T. Fuller is the democratic campaign manager. He issued a statement saying that an important manufacturing concern "had given its employees notice to support the republican ticket under threat of indefinitely closing its plant." Mgr. Fuller placed this in the record: "It is the first time in the South an employer has so openly attempted by threats and intimidation to coerce his employees to support any particular party." If true, it is a very ugly threat. It is remarkable that in the colleges and universities of America, hundreds of young Americans, men and women, in polls taken, have declared Norman Thomas their choice for president. Now comes Rabbi Wise, one of the most powerful and eloquent and widely known rabbis, a preacher and a teacher with an international reputation, who has deserted the major parties and declared that he will vote for Norman Thomas for president of the United States.

This is a republic. This most advanced of all nations has a constitution with its bill or rights. It has a declaration of independence that carries the message that all men are born free and equal. Argument is a legitimate weapon. Argument backed up by dissemination of correct information is legitimate, but the threat of loss of jobs is out of place in America. Stalin is the iron handed dictator of Soviet Russia. Mussolini is the absolute dictator of Italy. Their tactics are out of place under the skies of this republic founded by men who not only declared but placed in the constitution they made that all men are born free and equal, all men are entitled to freedom of expression, freedom of speech freedom of choice in election, freedom of religious worship, a free press and ever a government of and by and for all the people.

There is a way to make anarchists or ultra-socialists in this land of ours. Coerce them. Throw them out of their jobs should they decline to obey political orders. Americans cannot be coerced. They cannot be driven to the polls like hogs or sheep are driven to the shambles. It is dangerous to play with dynamite.

In the Political Arena

By HUGH NUGENT FITZGERALD

Coming down the home stretch it is most appropriate that the Hoover-Smith totals in Texas in the election of 1928 should be given to the reader. For the first time since Reconstruction days Texas landed in the Republican column of states. Texas had 20 electoral votes in this year. In 1928 the Hoover electors received 367,036, while the Smith electors received 341,032, or a republican majority of 26,004—in a total vote of 708,068. There are thousands of democrats in Texas who still insist that the election was permitted to go by default. As for newspaper correspondents, they agreed that it was the most colorless of all campaigns ever waged on the part of the regular followers of Jefferson under the skies of Texas. Four years later or in the July primary of 1932 the total primary vote cast for all candidates approximated 972,000 votes. All of which is a reminder that if the democrats, or the so-called democrats or all types and brands who participated in the July primaries go to the polls in November, the total vote should go beyond 900,000 this year.

In 1916, before women had the ballot Texas cast 286,514 ballots for the Wilson electors and 64,919 for the Hughes electors in the general elections California has a lesser population than Texas and yet California has a registration of votes this year going beyond the 2,400,000 mark. What about Texas? There are thousands of democrats who participate in the nominating primaries and never go near the polling places in November.

This year the standard-bearers of the democratic party in the nation are two of the most outstanding statesmen the party has named since the war between the states. Franklin D. Roosevelt is one of the really great men of the age. John Nance Garner is a native Texan. He won his way from the lowest rung of the political ladder to the speakership of the house of representatives and his name is a household word, has personal integrity never been questioned, his qualifications which include sanity of purpose as well as loyalty to the fundamentals of democratic government never successfully assailed or attacked by his political foe.

All men and women who call themselves democrats should go to the polls in November and cast their ballots for Roosevelt and Garner in order to make a clean sweep of those who have led this nation to financial destruction since the passing of Woodrow Wilson. This presidential election should not be permitted to go by default. It is the most important of its kind, and the issues are most vital that have been uppermost in many decades. New York, the empire state of the east, will be the battleground this week on the return of Roosevelt from his New England speaking engagement. New York may be the pivotal state leadership and legislation which has wrecked their homes as well as their pocketbooks? Grain growers are up against it as they have never been before throughout the years.

Well, election day is coming and the farmers are the political masters if they assert themselves and declare for a change in government at the polls on Nov. 8. It will be their victory or their continuous funeral. Sen. Sam G. Bratton of New Mexico has closed his speaking campaign on the Pacific coast. His forecast is in deciding the election. A reminder that the greatest number of voters in the history of the empire state of the east, 5,349,213, have qualified to vote in the general election Nov. 8, as the previous high mark in registration was 4,885,276 in 1928. In the four boroughs of Greater New York the democratic registration this year is 300,000 greater than ever before. Citizens of New York cast their ballots for the candidates of their party on November election day. Why not the qualified voters of Texas, in a state which for years and years made the proud boast that it was the democratic Gibraltar of the spheroid.

Texas is the leading agricultural state and the farmers and ranchmen have been wrecked by the legislation of three republican administrations since the exit of Woodrow Wilson from the seat of federal government. All their staples have been shut out of European nations. They are being shut out of Canada. They cannot invade Canadian provinces and establish branch farms and ranches and orchards and gardens. Take the corn belt and wheat belt states of the Middle West and the Northwest. Corn in three great corn belt states is quoted as 7 to 10 cents a bushel. It costs 15 cents a bushel to get that corn to the Chicago market for distribution. Old corn is selling as low as 4 cents a bushel in Iowa, or about $2 a ton. Now the farmers are going to use corn for fuel in the winter months that face them. Lowest price levels of wheat exist in the wheat belt. Indeed, in many sections farmers cannot obtain a bid price for their staples. It is said to be below 25 cents a bushel. In these corn belt states hogs have reached a very low level. Why shouldn't they vote out of power the

Dedicates Poem To Roosevelt

EDWIN MARKHAM

Edwin Markham, author of "The Man With the Hoe," "Lincoln, the Man of the People," and other famous poems, has written a poem to "The Forgotten Man," dedicated to Franklin D. Roosevelt. "I have written this poem," writes Mr. Markham, "after hearing Franklin D. Roosevelt, candidate for the Presidency, make a lofty and noble appeal for the Forgotten Man."

that Hoover would carry eight states in the coming election, that California would give Roosevelt and Garner a majority of not less than 200,000, and McAdoo would be elected United States senator.

Franklin D. Roosevelt is a 2 to 1 favorite over Herbert Hoover in American colleges if the straw vote taken by a powerful fraternity at Southern Methodist university is to be believed. Ballots from heads of 24 colleges received to Oct. 29 revealed 14 for Roosevelt, seven for Hoover, and three for Thomas. Ballots were sent to the heads of all the leading colleges of the United States. Roosevelt is the favorite in the nation-wide college poll in the universities of California, Colorado, Alabama, Missouri, Tennessee, Wisconsin, Florida, North Dakota, Nevada, Mississippi, Montana, South Carolina and Wyoming. Hoover won out in Vermont, South Dakota, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Kansas, Connecticut and Oregon, while the socialist nominee led at Chicago, Ohio State, and Maine.

"What's wrong with Maine? Its voters scored a democratic victory in September by electing a governor and two congressmen, and now its important institutions of learning, or rather the students at these institutions, return a plurality for the socialist candidate for president of the republic.

Nature's Gift to Suffering Humanity

I have suffered with nervous indigestion and constipation for several years and have used almost every known remedy for same, and spent several hundred dollars to no avail.

After using three boxes of CRAZY CRYSTALS I can truthfully say I believe they are a Gift from God to suffering humanity, and they are not a patent medicine.

The Forgotten Man

By EDWIN MARKHAM

Dedicated to Franklin D. Roosevelt, after hearing his lofty and noble appeal for the Forgotten Man.

NOT on our golden fortunes builded high—
Not on our boasts that soar into the sky—
Not upon these is resting in this hour
The fate of the future; but upon the power
Of him who is forgotten—yes, on him
Rest all our hopes reaching from rim to rim.
In him we see all of earth's toiling bands,
With crooked backs, scarred faces, shattered hands.
HE seeks no office and he asks no praise
For all the patient labor of his days.
He is the one supporting the huge weight;
He is the one guarding the country's gate.
He bears the burdens on these earthly ways:
We pile the debts, he is the one who pays.
He is the one who holds the solid power
To steady nations in their trembling hour.
Behold him as he silently goes by,
For it is at his word that nations die.

SHATTERED with loss and lack,
He is the man who holds upon his back
The continent and all its mighty loads—
This toiler who makes possible the roads
On which the gilded thousands travel free—
Makes possible our feasts, our roaring boards,
Our pomps, our easy days, our golden hoards.
He gives stability to nations: he Makes possible our nation, sea to sea.
His strength makes possible our college walls—
Makes possible our legislative halls—
Makes possible our churches soaring high
With spires, the fingers pointing to the sky.

SHALL then this man go hungry, here in lands
Blest by his honor, builded by his hands?
Do something for him: let him never be Forgotten: let him have his daily bread:
He who has fed us, let him now be fed.
Let us remember all his tragic lot—
Remember, or else be ourselves forgot!

ALL honor to the one that in this hour
Cries to the world as from a lighted tower—
Cries for the Man Forgotten, Honor the one
Who asks for him a glad place in the sun.
He is a voice for the voiceless. Now, indeed,
We have a tongue that cries the mortal need.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYS

GEORGIA TECH has a unique formation with an unbalanced line that has worked well for teams from that southern school. The diagram at left shows how the team lines up with the strong side to the right of the center, and a wingback flanking the right end or, as in this case, the left end who has moved over to the right side of the line. The quarterback stands with his back to the center. At the signal, the center snaps the ball to the quarter who received it between his legs. From this position he can either make a lateral pass behind the lines, or give the ball to a back for a smash into the line. Reverses and spinner plays are often worked from this formation.

Winning Essays in West Ward Contest

(Editor's Note. The winning essay of the Book Review Essay contest conducted in each room of the West Ward school under auspices of the West Ward Parent-Teacher Association. Final judgment was passed upon the contributions by Mrs. Alfred Irby, librarian of the Cisco high school.)

My Favorite Book (By Harold Sledge, High Fifth grade, Mrs. Robert's Room.) My favorite book is Tom Swift and His Great Search Light, written by Victor Appleton. It is the story of a boy about eighteen years of age who is an inventor.

The main characters in this book are: Tom Swift, Ned Newton, Kohn the giant, Mr. Whitford the detective, and Mr. Damon.

The most interesting part of the book is where the detective accuses Tom of smuggling goods by airship across the border. Tom and his chum Ned and a few other men get in his ship and head for the border to capture the smugglers.

The best book I ever read is "Little Women" by Louisa May Alcott.

This book is about four little girls their happy childhood and their sorrows. The main characters are Meg, sixteen, the housewife only one, Joe, fourteen, the tomboy (Louisa May Alcott); Beth, twelve, the sunny little homemaker; Amy, ten, the artistic one whose big nose was such a trial to her beauty loving soul that she wore a clothes pin on it to shape it into proper lines.

I like this book better than any other book because it is so true to life. Although in the story these sisters' parents were not wealthy the girls had far more fun playing behind their home in an old barn.

The best book I ever read is "Little Orphan Annie" by Harold Gray.

Little Orphan Annie was a girl of goodness, and so was Mr. Warbucks, but Mrs. Warbucks was as mean as she looks. When she went to Europe she brought back a boy named Selby Adlebert Priffleberry. He was as mean as he looks also. They were to have a party and Selby did not want Annie to come. At the table Selby was talking about such country names in the United States such as Annie, he said. Annie spoke up and said: "Four old name Selby Adlebert Priffleberry stands for plain S. A. P. which mean "Sap". Selby got as mad as fire. The next day he took Sandy and tied a tin can with barb wire to his tail. Sandy ran to Annie. Annie took the tin can, and barb wire off of Sandy, the put some medicine on him. Annie and Sandy went in to the bath room and put some ink in the tank so who he took a shower he would get all black. When he took his shower he got all black just as she expected. He came out screaming. He never found out who did it.

I like this story because it shows goodness and badness.

A Book That I Have Read (By Alice Slicker, High Fourth grade, Miss Spruill's Room.) "Ruby's Up and Downs."

Ruby was a little girl who didn't obey her mother very well. Ruby would not go to the store for her mother so her friend, Ruthy, went and got the nice pictures.

Another time she was naughty and had to sew carpet rags for a week. She turned the clock back and missed the party.

She had lots of troubles. One time she had the measles on her birthday. She did not want to put off her party so she invited a lot of other children who had the measles and they had a nice time together.

One day her mother invited the minister for dinner. Ruby was eager to be nice and polite but as she cut a tomato the juice splattered all over the minister. This of course made her very miserable.

Ruby was not always mischievous for she was kind to a little orphan girl at school and one time gave the whole family's dinner to a gypsy. This same gypsy stole Ruby's little gold thimble. This made Ruby feel bad to think that one would steal from her when she was trying to be kind.

One time she had a naughty plan to spoil her playmate's doll by scratching its face but the doll she scratched proved to be her own. Ruby was glad that her bad plan failed for she was ashamed of herself.

She had troubles enough for a dozen grown-ups but she got ahead of them all, and, in spite of them, became a favorite in the lively times at school.

CALL of the WEST

BY R. G. MONTGOMERY

STAN BALL accuses ASPER DELO, timber king, of having men shoot who try to check up on his activities. Ball says he is making a check. Delo says he will see personally that he does not. Upon leaving the office Ball rescues DONA, Delo's daughter, from kidnapers. He tells her his name is STANLEY BLACK and slips away.

DUDLEY WINTERS, Joe, love with Dona, goes with her to Three Rivers to get her father to give up the fight with Ball. Dudley gets a marriage certificate filled out, which he hopes to use. Ball is accused of killing a ranger and later of wounding Delo from ambush. In order to get Delo to leave, Dona shows him the certificate and he thinks them married.

Dona is captured by Ball while attempting to shoot him. She is taken to his cave hideout. SWERGIN, Delo's timber boss, rescues her and captures Ball by surprising him. Swergin takes Ball in and on the way sends Dona ahead. A mob attempts to lynch Ball, but Dona returns and frees him. She rides his horse into camp and he comes for it, promising to leave the country.

Dona rides to investigate queer workings across the ridge. Her discovery implicates Swergin. On her way back her horse is shot from under her. Swergin comes upon her and takes her in. Ball is blamed. MALLOY, Ball's friend, hears this and rides to bring him back. Ball returns and faces Delo alone. He says he came to kill Swergin and advises Delo to go and check up on the boss. Delo does this and finds Swergin stealing timber. He has dressed as a cowboy, like Ball. Asper is captured by Swergin and imprisoned in a cabin. Delo then mysteriously tells Delo how he has worked his scheme and that he is setting fire to the cabin.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XLV STAN BALL sat on his horse and looked down over the slopes of Folly Mountain. It was good to be back after fighting the desert. The air was clear and free from dust and the crystal water that tumbled freely in every little canyon was sweet and cold. He sighed and lighted another cigaret.

The sun had just shoved clear of a fringe of high timber and hung like a radiant shield above the forest. Stan patted the neck of his black mare. "Looks too peaceful, too big, to be bothered about a few men shooting one another," he mused. "The mare shook her head impatiently and her nostrils moved with a sensitive response.

has six parts to it. First, "Old Tales From Many Lands." Second "Stories of Girls and Boys." Third, "Just Fun." The fourth is, "Stories and Poems of the Out of Doors." Fifth, "In Fairyland" and, last "Stories and Poems for Special Days."

I like this book because it has stories of so many different things. I can read of Fairies, boys and girls of many far lands, and of the great out of doors. If I do not care to read a story, there are several lovely poems of Fairyland, birds, animals and flowing brooks and our Patriotic Poem, "The Star Spangled Banner."

The two stories I like best are, "The Sun's Sisters" and "The Moon's Tears."

The Book I Like Best (By Lee Smith, High Third grade, Mrs. McAfee's Room.)

The best book I have ever read is the Army Boys Marching into Germany, by Homer Randall. It is one of a series of books. It tells about the adventures of four boys in the World War. These boys are in the 37th regiment. It is a very interesting book to read. These four boys get into trouble and hardships. They win all kinds of victories. The boys are hot blooded fighters. They have nerves like steel. They stay cool when they are fighting and are very good shots.

My Favorite Story (By Zona Dabbs, Low Third grade, Mrs. Allen's Room.)

The story that I like best is Jack and the Beanstalk. I think it is interesting because of the giant, the hen that laid the golden eggs, and the beanstalk that grew so high. I liked the way that Jack kept the giant from getting him by cutting down the beanstalk. The golden harp that played itself was very unusual. It has so many interesting things to happen that is the reason I like the story.

My Favorite Story (By Naomi Lee Myrick, Low Third grade, Mrs. Hallmark's Room.)

I think the most interesting story I have ever read is Peter Painter and the Wedding of the Kewpie Dolls. In this story Peter Painter from toylans visited a hospital for poor children. All of the children were enjoying some candy dolls except one little girl. She was very sad because she could not attend her sister's wedding. Peter Painter made a wedding with the candy dolls and all the children were very happy.

My Favorite Story (By Jack Chambliss, High Second grade, Mrs. Grantham's Room.)

I like the story of the Three Bears because it is about animals. I like to go to the zoo and watch the bears and wonder if these bears would like to eat porridge and sleep in beds.

My Favorite Story (By Billy Butts Wright, Low Second grade, Miss Swift's Room.)

My favorite story is King Arthur of the Round Table. It is a good story. Lancelot was a brave boy. The reason I like this story is that it teaches me something.

My Favorite Story (By Guy Austin, Low Second grade, Mrs. Grantham's Room.)

I like the story of The Wolf Dog Best because it is a true story about a great dog Strongheart. He was bred and trained by a poor man in Germany.

Greek Court Upholds Arrest of Insull

ATHENS, Greece, Nov. 5. — The appeal court today ratified the provisional arrest of Samuel Insull, former Chicago utilities executive, sought by Illinois officials on charges of embezzlement. Insull had sought permission to remain in Greece for two months longer and had asked a continuous police escort to "prevent kidnaping attempts."

Few Wagers Placed On Political Races

DALLAS Nov. 5. — Despite the intense interest in this year's political races, football games are government office races off the betting map, at least so far as Dallas betting commissioners are involved. Betting commissioners here reports that wagers on the presidential and governor's race are few. Placers on the governors race between Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson and Orville Bullington ask from 150,000 to 200,000 votes to take Bullington with no takers either way. The race between President Herbert Hoover and Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, in the state of Texas has no betters at all through commissioners, with the state apparently conceded to Roosevelt. Bookmakers at Galveston, usually willing to place a bet on anything have refused to lay odds against Roosevelt, according to reports received here, with no prices being quoted at all on the governor race.

PERCENTAGE OF STUDENTS WHO WORK IS HIGH

Editors Note: This is the second of a series of articles dealing with the way Texas youth and its parents have offset pinched pocketbooks in obtaining college education during the depression. It expands the rather obvious reason for previously outlined increased enrollment at smaller institutions.)

By SAM D. HALES
United Press Staff Correspondent.

DALLAS, Nov. 5.—Lower attendance charges or lower local living costs prevail at all of a dozen Texas colleges, both state and denominational, where enrollment is greater than last year.

Some of the institutions reported both items of expense lower than last year and all had a remarkably high percentage of working students. A survey of the United Press revealed. This high percentage would indicate, if nothing else did, that student bodies are made up mostly of home-town boys and girls.

Parents and students are taking advantage of the lower costs home colleges and the opportunity for part-time work to help pay the bills. Rural youths have found methods—some new and novel—to make their way. Cost of transportation to and from school and for holiday excursions is less at nearby schools.

As for other costs, here are some examples:

At San Angelo, room and board at the Junior College costs one-fourth less than last year; boys' clothing costs 35 per cent less and that of co-eds 40 per cent less. Board at Lamar College, Beaumont, costs 20 per cent less than in 1931, clothing ten per cent and books, five per cent less.

16 Per Cent.
At Wichita Falls Junior College, tuition is 16 per cent less than last year. Half the student body has part time work.

Howard Payne College students at Brownwood are paying this year 30 per cent less for room and board, 25 per cent less for football tickets and 35 per cent less for books and clothing. One hundred of the 435 enrolled found part time work.

Texas Technological College, state school at Lubbock, has 750 working students in an enrollment approximating 1,900. Fees and board are about the same as at the University of Texas or A. & M. college, but transportation costs to and from the Panhandle South Plains area considerable items.

At Abilene Christian College, tuition, board and room cost only $334.50 this year—a 10 per cent reduction from last year; the enrollment increased 100. Texas Christian University, Fort Worth, where costs were unchanged from last year's $506, lost 125 students.

Two state Junior Agricultural Colleges made gains this fall while the four-year A. & M. College lost 145 students.

John Tarleton Agricultural College, Stephenville, had 96 students, or about twelve per cent. Board, room and books cost an average ten per cent less than last year. Three hundred of the 869 students have part time work.

North Texas Agriculture College, Arlington, has a 20 per cent greater student body than last year, with a 25 per cent larger freshman class. Other schools reporting larger enrollment including Texas College of Arts & Industries, Texarkana Junior College, Baylor at Belton and McMurray College, Abilene. They reported lower costs of tuition or other items averaging ten per cent.

Convict Builds Big Business in Prison

CANON CITY, Colo., Nov. 5.—When Lemmie Gross, the merchant prince of prisoners, went "over the hill" from the Colorado State Penitentiary, he took big business with him.

In 1929 Gross set up a radio business within the prison. He bought, sold and repaired radios—for a sum. The radio business was the forerunner of a chain of "stores" within the prison walls.

Gross was the owner and proprietor of the inmate canteen and the prison curio shop. He also had the concessions at the Soda Springs, a tourist stopping place.

In all his ventures Gross took in an average of $2,000 a month. He had credit of $10,000 and at one time used it to the extent of $6,000. He had but little overhead, sold on a volume basis, and when he escaped from a guard, who had taken him to Pueblo on a "business trip," it is believed Gross had at least $4,000 in cash on his person.

During the three years Gross conducted his ventures at the prison he made thousands of dollars for himself and thousands for the prisoners' fund. During the last two years he put more than $3,000 in the prisoners' fund.

The shops all will be opened later but will be conducted under the supervision of guards.

CHICAGO FAIR TO BE LAND OF ENCHANTMENT

Editor's Note: Following is the first of a series of articles describing the fantastic city now rising on Chicago's lake shore for the Century of Progress Exposition next summer. So far has the construction of weird buildings progressed and so rapidly has the work of the laboratory technicians advanced that the United Press now is enabled to describe how this amazing dream-come-to-life will look.

By FREDERICK C. OTHMAN
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Nov. 5. — Towers of scarlet flame shoot 500 feet into the air. Rockets carrying passengers hiss green vapor from their wakes as they dart 200 feet above the earth. Phosphorescent water cascades down silver terraces. Vast walls glow under a bath of invisible ultraviolet light. Smoke rises blue turns yellow, green, red, and vanishes in a glow of pale lavender. Foliage shimmers yellow under a coating of radium. Whole buildings are sheathed in dancing color. It is an enchanted city — the Chicago World's Fair as it will look next summer and as it is beginning to look now.

Imagine that you are in another world, or think of yourself as waking from the wildest dream you ever had — and follow us on a summery night through the main entrance.

You step into a white and blue bus such as you never have seen. It looks like a bullet on wheels.

On the left is the amazing administration building, made principally of corncobs, colored a brilliant blue, and faced with towers of fire, which are cold to the touch.

Across a lagoon, dotted with pink and yellow geysers, is a man-made island upon which rises the great semi-circular electric building. Shrieking up from earth every split second go flashes of lightning—the flaming ladder arcs which turn 33,000 volts of electricity into blinding light as they climb twin electrodes 300 feet high.

The bus purrs to a halt under the mainland tower of the million dollar sky ride. Another tower is on the island. The towers are 600 feet high and half a mile apart. High speed elevators carry passengers to the top platform, moving in transparent, golden-lighted shafts. At the 200-foot level, four cable tracks connect the towers. On these, eight rocket cars are running. The cars are 33 feet long, of glass and aluminum. Colored steam sprays from their wake.

To the right is the hall of science mysterious windowless building, long low and pigmented with lights which scintillate and change color like a dozen rainbows reflected on the ripples of an inky lake.

Inside are things to make your hair stand on end, to make you gape in astonishment, but our bus rolls on.

On both sides of the roadway are monumental structures, all in this same weird architectural style and all illuminated as no building has been lighted before. Ahead stands the unique travel and transport building like a red and gold octagon 15 stories high. It is capped with a famous breathing dome—like no other roof in the world.

The dome is 319 feet across, without a single support below it. Steel cables from above hold up this mighty roof, so that it may "breathe" a foot or two as the heat of the day turns to the cool of the night.

A replica of an ancient Mayan temple is bathed in the moonlight, just as its original was in the jungles of Yucatan 1,000 years ago. A model Hollywood, with real movie stars, is turning out celluloid epics nearby.

The bus finally ends its journey through the crowded two-mile strip on the shore of Lake Michigan.

IS THAT THE DOOR BELL, OR PHONE? GOOD NIGHT! JUST AS I GET INTO THE TUB.

IT'S THE DOOR BELL

PROBABLY A SALESMAN, OR PEDDLER — BUT STILL, IT MIGHT BE A TELEGRAM, OR SOMETHING IMPORTANT.

WHO EVER IT IS, THEY SURE ARE LEANING ON THAT DOOR BELL.

WELL, THEY'LL JUST HAVE TO RING. I'M NOT GOING DOWN.

THAT MUST BE SOMETHING IMPORTANT. THE GALLIEST PEDDLER WOULDN'T STICK TO IT THAT LONG.

JUST A MOMENT, DOWN THERE, PLEASE.

I FEEL LIKE A MERMAID LOOKS, WITH ONLY A HALF A BATH.

IF IT DOES HAPPEN TO BE SOME OF THE CLUB WOMEN, THEY'RE NOT CATCHING ME LOOKING LIKE THE DICKENS

OH!

SAY, WHAT'S THE IDEA OF LEANING AGAINST THE DOOR BELL?

LOOKOUT, NOW! DON'T MAKE ME NERVOUS — I MADE A BET WITH MYSELF THAT I COULD GIT THESE FROM THE STORE TO TH' TABLE LIKE THIS, WITHOUT DRIPPING A THING!

YOU DON'T HAVE TO BET WITH YOURSELF — I'LL TAKE THAT BET!

Primaries Were---

publicans, and one "independent republican."

One republican woman, Clara Harrigan, has been so bold as to seek election to the senate from the rock-ribbed democratic state of South Carolina.

Women candidates for congress other than present members are divided as follows: New York, 4; Pennsylvania, 4; Ohio, 2; Indiana, 1; Kansas, 1; Connecticut, 1; South Carolina, 1.

Many Candidates.

The depression has brought out an unusually large number of minor party candidates, including 76 candidates on the socialist ticket, three communists, nine farmer-labor, all from Minnesota; a dozen prohibitionists, and 13 who are running on a combination ticket which includes the prohibitionist.

Primary results as affects the prohibition issue were inconclusive, with very little definite change. "Wets" made a few gains through reapportionment which gave large cities additional representation.

Five Defeated.

Five senators were thus defeated, Shorridge, Rep., California; Morrison, Dem., North Carolina; Blaine, Rep., Wisconsin; Broussard, Dem., Louisiana and Brookhart. The senate "insurgent" bloc lost two of its five, Brookhart and Blaine. In the defeat of Blaine and of Philip LaFollette, Governor of Wisconsin, LaFollette "progressivism" suffered a severe reverse.

Victims of the depression included many who have guided the course of legislation and policy in the house—Representatives Hawley, Oregon, former chairman of the ways and means committee and co-sponsor of the Hawley-Smoot tariff bill; Crops, Georgia, acting chairman of the ways and means committee, who pushed the billion dollar tax bill through the house; John M. Nelson, Wisconsin, leader of the Wisconsin "insurgent" bloc in the house, who was one of the leaders in the 1910 revolt which overthrew the late Speaker "Uncle Joe" Cannon and participated in the liberalization of house rules in 1924; Ramseyer, Rep., Iowa, one of the farm bloc leaders; Davis, Dem., Tennessee, chairman of the house merchant marine committee.

"Swan Song" Ceremony

Among those who retired voluntarily and will join in the "swan-song" ceremony at the end of the Seventy-Second Congress next March 4 are Representatives John Q. Tilson, Conn., former republican floor leader and power in house affairs for years; Royal Johnson, South Dakota, former chairman of the World War veterans committee; Phil Swing, California, co-author of the Swing-Johnson bill authorizing construction of the giant Boulder Dam project in the southwest; Underhill and Dallinger, Mass.; Sanders, New York.

An interesting phase of the primary campaigns was the revelation of the power of the dynamic Senator Huey Long, Louisiana. He not only defeated his Senatorial colleague, Broussard, and nominated instead one of his own political followers, Representative Overton in Louisiana, but headed a caravan into Arkansas and with his flamboyant oratory and a steam calliope convinced the voters of that state that it was best to return Mrs. Caraway to the Senate instead of selecting one of her six male opponents.

Stamp Collector---

obtained a number of Danzig stamps from a German boy.

Some time ago Carlisle ran in a magazine a request for correspondence from other collectors over the world, and has had a number of interesting letters. He has exchanged stamps with some of these collectors and to others has simply exchanged greetings. He has traded a number of other things he collects, too, and intends to exchange native wild flower seed with a boy in Massachusetts.

Carlisle's request for letters has caused some interest developments and some odd inquiries. There was one boy in a northern state who, knowing little of Texas, wrote and asked if Carlisle had ever seen any wheat, with the suggestion that if he had not, he would be glad to send him some.

Tramp Writes.

Another letter was from a man who reported himself to be a tramp and asked about the Texas climate. He said that if the weather here is warm enough he would like to make this his wintering place. At his mother's request Carlisle did not answer the letter.

Carlisle collects other things besides stamps. He brought out a handful of arrowheads of different sizes and workmanship. He had also a collection of coins which contained, among others, a penny from the Irish Free State and a 20 kopek piece from Imperial Russia. The most interesting coin, though, was a five-franc piece from France which was issued in 1843. It had on one side a picture of King Louis Philippe.

Carlisle and Malcolm are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Reimers, 507 West Ninth street. Mrs. Reimers is interested in the boys' collections and their foreign correspondence and encourages them in it.

PROTECT YOUNG EYES With Adequate Lighting

THE eyes of young children are susceptible to strains not noticed by adults. For this reason, you should watch your children when they're studying or playing. Do they squint? Do their eyes get red and inflamed? Do they complain of headaches? If so, it is possible that their little eyes are straining to offset poor light—and entirely probable that the defect can be remedied through more adequate lighting.

A Trained Representative will be happy to examine your present lighting equipment, and to recommend the correct sized lamps for all purposes. There is no charge or obligation for this service, of course. Telephone or call in at the Merchandise Show-room... today.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule... and adds only a small amount to your total bill?
