BERLIN GOVERNMENT SAYS U. S. SHOT FIRST

NATIONAL DEFENSE OUR ONLY BUSINESS

American mass production of weapons already achieved marks the beginning of Germany's collapse. Donald M. Nelson, generalissimo of defense production, states in a signed article published today in The American Magazine under the title, "You Haven't Seen Anything Yet."

"When Hitler invaded Poland we knew within hours that our tanks weren't good enough," Nelson writes. "But Hitler brought out new developments—tanks faster than we could draw blue-prints for better ones. At that stage, Hitler was outsmarting us. That stage has passed. Before these words appear in print we shall be making mass-production quantities of bigger, better, faster, stronger tanks than any others under the sun. We have turned the corner.

"It will not be long now before the Nazis will be readjusting their mechanical plans in an attempt to equal or surpass our weapons; indeed, there is evidence that this is already taking place. It marks the beginning of the German collapse, since no nation or group of nations can equal us when once we bow our necks and put our backs and our hearts into our job."

The defense production chief warns, however, that before the job is finished it is apt to rearrange the entire pattern of American life, temporarily at least.

"None of us is going to enjoy it," he writes, "for nothing about war is pleasant, but we are not going to make it any easier by refusing to look the stark reality in the eye. Too many of us are doing just that. 'Business as usual' is out. Our only business today, as a nation and as individuals, is the business of national defense. We will stop at nothing, and I mean that literally.

"If we have to readjust our social structure to save our national entity, then we'll have to readjust it. I don't think we'll have to. I think we'll be all right when each of us comprehends that this must be a personal effort. But, until the job is done, our system of unrestricted profits, our political philosophies—everything that stands in the way of the final triumphant accomplishment—must go by the boards.

"We are going to do the job democratically if we can. But we are going to do it whether or no. There is no room in America today for chiselers or evaders or obstructionists, active or passive, large or small, rich or poor. I want to assure you those gentlemen will be taken care of."

Warning that "we have been too slow and we are still too slow," in spite of the fact that "a many vital items we are comfortably ahead of schedule," Nelson asserts that there is one thing to remember:

"All these defense pressures, these controls, these restraints, are emergency measures. I don't like them. You don't like them. Nobody likes them. They offend our democratic pride. But we've got to realize that we are going to accept a great many temporary controls now in a co-operative spirit, or live in a world where the controls are permanent, iron-hard and commonplace.

"Perhaps the future looks dark. But remember that it is not dark with doubt or confusion, but dark simply because we have a great many difficult things to do quickly. When you look beyond these clouds, the future is bright. The dark hour is but an incident in the history of a great people determined at all costs to be free."

PASTORS' ASSOCIATION.

The Pastors' association will meet in regular monthly session Monday morning at 9 o'clock in the pastor's study at First Baptist church. The devotional service will be led by Dr. Gary Smith, Presbyterian pastor, after which matters of routine business will be considered.

EFFORT BEING MADE TO GROOM J. V. ALLRED FOR RACE AGAINST O'DANIEL; JOHNSON IS POPULAR

FINE SUPPORT MADE CARNIVAL A BIG SUCCESS

The hallowe'en carnival sponsored by the West Ward Parent-Teachers' association was a fine community success and praise is due the sponsors as well as merchants and others who joined with the association in staging the annual event.

Winners in the parade were Harold Ray Wilbanks, first, and Billy Fay Robinson, second.

The program at city hall was enjoyed by all. After this program, the crowd gathered at the carnival building on D avenue, opposite the First National bank, where all had much fun going through the spook house, having their fortunes told, grabbing a bag at the grab box and looking in a huge book called "Who's Who," which contained baby pictures of all the west ward teachers.

Other booths which occasioned interest were those containing candy, cookies, pies, pop corn, hot dogs, pop and ice cream and the always thrilling Country Store. Receipts for the evening totaled $133.50. After deducting necessary expense, the remainder will be used for first aid, telephone, library books, playground equipment, educational fund and rhythm band instruments for the West Ward school.

Merchants Cooperated. Merchants who contributed to the success of the carnival were Van Gardenhire, Banner Ice Cream, Jack Leech service station, Tullis cleaners, First National bank, Joe Meador barber shop, Wilson barber shop, Reimer's cleaners, Osburn bakery, Skiles grocery, Jack Elkins, A. V. Clark, Sears-Roebuck, Powell tailor shop, De Luxe cleaners, X-Ray barber and beauty shop, Community Natural Gas company, City cleaners, Glenn Furniture store, A. G. Motor company, Modern Way grocery, Commercial Printing company, Phillips "66" station, Ez-zell Service station, Wiley Jackson, Boone grocery, Radford wholesale grocers, Bill Huestis service station, Rockwell Bros. Lumber company, Cisco Lumber & Supply company, Ed Huestis service station, Palace theater, Smith Huestis, Ed Stuard, Altman's Style shop, Elite Beauty shop, A & P market, Phil McCandless, A & P grocery, Red Lee, Drumwright's, Inc., J. C. Penney company, Red Front drug, West Texas Utilities, Cisco Gas corporation, Clover Farm stores, Ruppert's bakery, Elliott's news stand, Leach Stores, Maner pharmacy, The Man's Store, Osburn's Studio, Moore Drug store, Collin's hardware, Piggly Wiggly, Dean Drug store, Paul Culp, P. G. Berry, Cisco fire department and Cisco Daily Press.

O. B. JOHNSON OF 63RD SIGNAL BAT. IS CITED

At Camp Claiborne, La., O. B. Johnson, a member of Company A, 63rd signal battalion, whose home is on route one, Cisco, has been rated specialist of the fourth class.

Private Johnson with his organization will participate in current maneuvers in North and South Carolina during November. The 63d signal battalion will return to its home station, Camp Claiborne, at the end of maneuvers for additional training and exercises during the winter months.

AUSTIN, Nov. 1.—Until somebody denies it, Federal Judge James V. Allred is going to be considered along with Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson as a potential New Deal candidate for the U. S. senate next summer.

The race will be for the full six-year term beginning Jan. 3, 1943. Until that time, W. Lee O'Daniel will be filling the unexpired term of the late Morris Sheppard.

Senator O'Daniel is expected to run for the full term, for he has kept up his radio broadcasts by transcription and made several trips back to Texas. He barely defeated Johnson in last summer's special election, but some observers believe that the young Austin congressman is not the man to beat O'Daniel in 1942.

Others, however, are enthusiastically for Lyndon Johnson because of his ability, experience and general likeableness. In fact, they make it clear that between O'Daniel and Allred they see little difference.

On the other hand, a strong O'Daniel man—Life Insurance Commissioner O. P. Lockhart—may oppose Johnson for congress in this district. O'Daniel appointed Lockhart, a bakery owner, to the insurance commission and Lockhart has held a prominent place in the O'Daniel organization since the Ft. Worth flour man was first elected governor.

A group of Allred's friends, including several who were very active in Johnson's campaign for the senate, attended a banquet recently in the judge's honor. At least one, G. A. Bodenheim of Longview, openly advocated "Allred for senator."

Mayor Tom Miller of Austin, very much a New Dealer and a Johnson man, extolled Allred's qualifications as a campaigner and reminded the group that "Judge Allred is still young."

At 42, Allred remains black-haired and boyish-looking. One of the delights of his present infrequently-troubled existence at Houston is that he can take daily hikes in sweatshirt and old trousers. Physically, Allred appears in better condition than when he was governor.

Allred declined to discuss the senatorial race at the banquet here. He said he had come to town for the Texas-Rice football game and was surprised and "embarrassed" at the remarks his friends had made. He noticed reporters taking notes at the table, and expressed hope they wouldn't make anything out of the occasion.

REBEKAHS OF CISCO ATTEND RANGER MEET

The Goowill Rebekah lodge degree staff attended the Oil Belt Odd Fellows and Rebekah association meeting in Ranger, Thursday night.

There were over one hundred members and visitors in attendance, to whom members of the host lodge served a fine supper before the business meeting and previous to putting on the program prepared for the occasion.

The full degree staff of the Cisco Rebekah lodge was in attendance, accompanied by J. A. Jensen, the only member of the Cisco Oddfellows lodge in attendance.

Oddfellows and Rebekahs present were from Cisco, Gorman, Breckenridge and Ranger.

Those attending from Cisco were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jensen, Mrs. Ethel Moore, Mrs. Leah Bates, Mrs. Grace Farnsworth, Mrs. Effie Mayhew, Mrs. Dee Clements, Mrs. Troy Powell, Mrs. Price Rainbolt, Mrs. Ben Krauskopf and Miss Joyce Rainbolt.

EVANGELIST ALLISON TO CLOSE TEN-DAY REVIVAL AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH THIS EVENING

Today marks the close of the ten-day revival at the First Baptist church, during which about 20 or more conversions and additions to the church have been made. About 15 of these had united with the church up to Saturday noon. About five of these later united through experience and baptism. Tonight will be the closing service for the series.

The meeting, under the direction of the pastor, Rev. Judson Prince, has created much interest. The preaching has been done by Rev. Bradley Allison, pastor of Riverside church, Ft. Worth. He has put his whole soul into his sermons, according to the report of congregations who heard him each morning and evening.

At last Sunday's morning hour preceding the preaching hour, he spoke to junior, intermediate and young people's groups of the Sunday school. A number responded to the invitation to dedicate their lives to Jesus during that service.

W. Frank Walker has conducted the singing at the evening and Sunday services, while Rev. H. D. Blair has led the choir for morning services. Mrs. Roy Camfield, assisted by Misses Billye Cole and Willie Frank Walker, have served at the piano, while a number of violins and brass instruments have played in the orchestra.

"Full congregations have been faithfully attending almost every service, despite rain and cold," said Pastor Prince, "a fact that emphasizes the interest created for the revival series."

A revival in Sunday school interest has resulted, causing 100 per cent attendances in many classes and a further pledge from other classes for full attendances today.

Rev. Judson Prince stated the spiritual result is showing in all phases of the church work.

The subject for the morning sermon will be "Heaven"; evening subject will be "The Cross."

MRS. TUNE IMPROVING.

Jack Elkins, who accompanied Mrs. Elkins to Dallas Friday to attend her mother, Mrs. J. A. Tune, has returned and states that Mrs. Elkins remained at the bedside of Mrs. Tune, whose condition was much improved. The attending physician said she was expected to recover in a few weeks, unless pneumonia should develop.

POLICE REPORT LITTLE DAMAGE ON HALLOWE'EN

"The most malicious damage during the hallowe'en celebration in Cisco," O. Gustafson of the city police says, "was the shooting of street lights in the remote western part of town.

West Texas Utilities men have checked up and find 15 or 20 lights were shot out last night. The guilty ones are known and, unless the lights are paid for, charges will be filed in city court," Gustafson said.

"This damage to lights was on Front and intersecting streets. Otherwise the pranks of the youngsters consisted of deflating tires of automobiles parked near the "country store" and other amusement centers. Of course, many windows were soaped and firecrackers were fired, and the young folk were about as noisy as usual.

"Other than shooting the lights out in West Cisco, we had what would be considered a sane but noisy hallowe'en," the officer said.

BOY SCOUTS WILL MEND BROKEN TOYS

Boy Scouts under the leadership of Sim Ledford and John Smith are about ready to begin making and mending toys for the underprivileged children of the city, they announced Saturday. Models have been secured and the setup made.

However, their recent appeal for broken toys to be mended by scouts for Christmas giving, has brought no response from citizens of Cisco. Surely, they say, there must be many broken and discarded toys that could be donated and, with a little mending and a few daubs of paint, be made into Christmas joys for some little tots who might otherwise find nothing in their stockings on December 25.

The shop is located at the corner of Main at Fifth street. Mr. Ledford can be reached over the telephone at West Texas Utilities company, while Mr. Smith may be had at A. G. Motor company.

MRS. GOLDBERG ILL.

Mrs. M. E. Goldberg, who has been quite ill in her home on the Lake road for the past month, is reported better, though still confined to her room.

GERMAN UNIT BREAKS THRU SOVIET LINE

LONDON, Nov. 1.—The Moscow radio admitted tonight that a "small German unit" had broken through the Russian lines to Tula, 100 miles south of Moscow.

This admission from the Russians followed a statement from Soviet sources that the Red army troops on the Tula front are falling back steadily under terrific attacks by the Germans.

The Moscow announcement also said fierce fighting was in progress on the Tula salient all day.

LT. ST. JOHN AND HIS WIFE HERE SAT'DAY

Lieut. John St. John and Mrs. St. John stopped over and met old friends while passing through Cisco Saturday.

Lieut. St. John—a native of Cisco—is attached to the 142nd infantry regiment, stationed at Camp Bowie, Brownwood.

They were enroute to Texarkana where they will visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will St. John, while on leave until Thursday morning.

The lieutenant says he likes army life fine, but that there is plenty of hard work attached to it.

AUXILIARY TO SELL POPPIES NEXT SAT'DAY

The American Legion auxiliary will sell poppies on the streets next Saturday in conformance with their annual custom, according to Mrs. H. N. Lyle, publicity chairman.

Mrs. Dave Gorman is chairman of the sales committee which will include all members, assisted by a number of the junior members.

Mrs. J. J. Tableman is president of this very active body of ladies who are keeping alive the memory of those who gave lives and health to the cause of their country's call.

Proceeds from this sale will help carry on hospitalization and other expenses for unfortunate buddies.

CHANGES ARE IMMINENT IN BRIT. CABINET

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Edgar Granville, liberal member of the house of commons, made the statement at luncheon Saturday that "it is now generally accepted that cabinet changes are imminent."

DURWARD BOYD HERE.

Durward Boyd, stationed at Camp Bowie, who was rather seriously injured in an accident recently, has sufficiently recovered to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Boyd, while on his furlough. With his parents he is spending today with his brother, Rev. Marvin Boyd, at Merkel.

BACK AT STORE.

Miss M. Ledford, who was injured when struck by a motorcycle as army troops passed through Cisco about two weeks ago, is sufficiently recovered to again be at her place of business at the Fashion store.

CHARGE GREER AND KEARNEY GUILTY ONES

BERLIN, Nov. 1.—The Reich government today charged in a formal declaration that "America has attacked Germany."

Copies of the declaration were circulated by news agencies, dated-lined "the Fuehrer's Field Headquarters," and asserted that the United States fired first in launching a shooting war against Germany.

The declaration again contended that the statement by President Roosevelt that American destroyers were attacked by German submarines did not "correspond to German facts."

The USS Greer and Kearney, said the Reich declaration, attacked German submarines first and "thus America has attacked Germany."

The German statement recapitulated President Roosevelt's charges that Germany began the shooting war in the North Atlantic and asserted reports of both German submarine commanders and the U. S. Navy showed the Greer was attacked by a German submarine only after it had dropped depth charges for hours on the U boat.

The Kearney, said the statement, was attacked after it went to the assistance of a convoy and dropped depth charges on the submarine.

MRS. EDWARDS REFUSES TO GIVE UP HOPE

NEWPORT, R. I., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Heywood L. Edwards, 28-year-old wife of the commanding officer of the torpedoed U. S. destroyer Reuben James, refused today to give up hope for her husband and 76 other men still unaccounted for.

The navy announced that 44 men had been saved.

ATOMS AND PATTERNS.

One of the curious points in the discovery of the pictures made by atoms and molecules is that the patterns are not new to the human eye. Such patterns have been known to the artist from the time when he first began to draw on a rock with a charred stick, or in the seashore sand with a stone.

From the time when he first tied a willow with or strip of hide to the stick and discovered the drawing of circles and other curves, the artist has made patterns, simple at first and gradually more complex, but not very different from those depicted in a recent Life Magazine as the diagrams of invisible atoms and molecules.

The patterns are those of flowers, too. Parts of them are surprisingly like the networks made by light, shade and movement of air on water.

This interrelation of forms of life, with its fundamental unity in mathematical law, its infinite variety as it spreads out into fields of organic and inorganic substance, is one of the most mysterious and beautiful aspects of the universe. Galileo, who was one of the first to perceive and maintain that "the world do move," saw in the connection of heavenly movement with mathematical law the manifestation of some great universal, superhuman plan. "The undevout astronomer is mad," said Galileo.

FLYING LIMITATIONS.

Immense progress is being made in the art of flying, but it will not monopolize transportation, says W. A. Patterson, president of United Air Lines. He doesn't believe planes will become as plentiful as automobiles.

"For one thing," he explains, "they are not so flexible. You can't park them in front of the bank. For another, it requires more ability to operate a plane than an automobile. A lot of the Sunday drivers I have seen would be missing Monday morning if they were flying planes."

Still, he admits, we have a generation of young people now who have grown up with airplanes and have built model planes, and often know as much about them scientifically as the professionals do. They'll probably be flying all over in a few years. And, we hope, not falling all over.

PEACE MILE-STONE.

The newly-concluded trade pact between Argentina and the United States has been greeted with special acclaim in both countries. And no wonder. The last comprehensive commercial agreement between them was arranged only twelve years short of a century ago. The absence of such a treaty, and the length of time required to work out the one just signed in Buenos Aires, are evidence of the difficulties involved. Mutual jealousies and rivalries have existed. One nation has resented the attitude of the other. Selfish interests have weighed more heavily than the good of either nation or of the sisterhood of republics in this hemisphere.

Now, with the new peril threatening them as never before, public authorities have been willing at least to make mutual concessions in order to attain an end desirable for both countries.

Critics have become vocal at once in the United States

WILD GEESE.

I hold to my heart when the geese are flying—
A wavering wedge on the high, bright blue—
I lighten my lips to keep from crying:
"Beautiful birds, let me go with you!"

And at night when they honk—and their wings are weaving
A pattern across a full gold moon—
I hold to a heart that would be leaving
If it were freed to fly too soon.

I hold to my heart that would be going—
A comrade to wild birds of the air,
As wayward as they—and never knowing
Where it is going—and never care—

I hold to my heart—for here lies duty—
And here is the path where my feet must stay—
But O, that quivering line of beauty
Beating its beautiful, bright-winged way!

and perhaps in Argentine. As a rule they represent special groups and interests. If their protests can be successfully refuted, and if the public in each country supports the government, it may indeed prove to be what President Roosevelt said: "A monument to the ways of peace."

"A" OR "N" FOR AMERICANS.

The Redding, Calif., Daily Record suggests that Americans replace the "V-for-Victory" with an "A-for-Awaken" campaign. Americans have been asleep for about twenty years, the paper charges, and need awakening. Perhaps a "W-for-Wake Up" would be better. The letter W, though we call it double-u, is really a double-v. It will truly be a double victory for human freedom when America is fully awake not merely to its danger, but to its tremendous responsibility as a strong civilized nation.

PUTNAM

To honor Mrs. W. K. Boatwright on her eighty-third birthday last Friday, Oct. 24, her granddaughters, Mrs. T. C. Clay and Mrs. Roland Nichols assisted by Mrs. R. F. Jones and Mrs. H. N. Ebert, gave her a surprise birthday party. Mrs. Boatwright thought that she was just going to visit her sister, Mrs. Ella Jackson, and her niece, Mrs. Harry Ebert, in whose home the party was given. When Mrs. Jackson opened the door to admit her, she was really surprised to see a room full of people. She thought at first that she had walked in where she was not needed, and was real happy to find that all those present were her friends and relatives gathered to greet her. Lovely gifts were presented her. They included handkerchiefs, candy, toilet articles, house slippers, a dress, flowers, a gown and a bed jacket. Mrs. V. E. Hill, assisted by Mrs. Lee Ivey and Mrs. Hubert Ross, rendered a very appropriate and entertaining program. Refreshments of pumpkin pie and coffee were served to the following: Mesdames W. T. Tidwell, F. B. Dadds, W. A. Thomas, J. C. Hamer of Graham; Gilbert Hinds, W. G. Bowlin, Ella Jackson, Maud Hart, E. C. Fulton, Annie Asbury, J. Y. Gilliland, Elizabeth Renfro, V. E. Hill, Lee Ivey, W. T. Norwood, C. V. Jones, Martha Gilliland, W. H. Boatwright, Leona Boatwright, Mary Warren, Hubert Ross, Virgil Jones, Misses Lorena and Myrtle Gunn, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Ramsey, of Abilene, and the hostesses. Mrs. Boatwright also received 17 cards, 14 of which were from friends in the Rio Grande Valley.

OLD BIBLE.

FT. WORTH, Nov. 1.—A Bible printed in Scotland 97 years ago will be used Sunday at the morning service of South Side Church of Christ for the Scripture reading, it was announced Saturday by C. A. VON ROEDERS FORT WORTH DEVELOP NEW MAN JUMPS TYPE COTTON FOUR STORIES

LUBBOCK, Nov. 1.—After 17 years, the von Roeder brothers of Knapp have developed a new type of state registered and certified long staple cotton for the high plains.

They call it western prolific, and their records show yields per acre in 1938 of 438 pounds of lint; 577 pounds in 1939 and 410 in 1940, a dry year.

But the development of their cotton allows full soil conservation practice.

Two years ago, C. N. and Nolan von Roeder—whose forebears arrived in Galveston in 1830, before the Republic of Texas—found that by planting two rows of cotton and skipping three, they got better yields. Additionally, under the agricultural adjustment administration program each acre of cotton planted counts as two-fifths of an acre.

They plant cotton in hills, three and four seeds to each, 24 inches apart. The rows are 40 inches apart. Soil is turned up 12 to 16 inches when they break new ground, and the clay mixture plowed up helps hold the sand. Between the rows they plant beans, peas, pumpkins, watermelons.

From seed breeding they began studying in 1923, the brothers believe they can reduce the present four pounds per acre for planting to a seed that will require about two pounds per acre. They had 17,000 bushels of seed available for distribution last year, from a turnout that averages about 49 per cent.

As an experiment, the brothers took a 10-space section of two rows, cleaned all leaves from the plants, and counted 1639 bolls. If all had matured, they estimated the yield at the rate of three bales per acre.

The von Roeders' seed experiment farm occupies more than three sections in Southeastern Borden county.

TURNED A VERDICT OF DEATH BY SUICIDE.

FT. WORTH, Nov. 1.—E. A. Larkin, 70, secretary-treasurer of the Ladd Furniture and Carpet Company, was killed instantly at 9:45 a. m. Saturday when he jumped from the top of the four-story furniture company building at 407 Throckmorton street.

Larkin, an employee of the company since 1903, had been in ill health for about six weeks and had come back to work only Friday, H. W. Ladd, president, said.

He came to the store about 9:15 a. m. Saturday and talked with Ladd and other store officials before ascending to the top of the building.

Larkin walked up a stairway, pushed open a trap door to the roof and stepped over a two-foot ledge to get to the side of the building, Ladd said. The body plunged about 80 feet to the sidewalk.

"When they told me Mr. Larkin was outside on the sidewalk, my first thought was that he had suffered a heart attack," Ladd said.

Justice of the Peace Brown, who had known Larkin for years, returned a verdict of death by suicide.

A native of Ohio, Larkin came to Texas from that state and was engaged in business here for a few years by himself before entering the employ of the furniture store. He lived alone in a room at 301 Lamar street.

Ladd said that in recent months Larkin had feared he would lose the sight of his remaining good eye. He never complained of his ailments, however, Ladd stated.

Mrs. Howard, who has attained her ninety-fifth birthday, is able to be about her room and takes an interest in the affairs of the home and of her relatives and friends. She makes her home with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Jensen, 1410 N avenue.

EAST WARD CARNIVAL.
The East Ward hallowe'en carnival was well attended Friday night and all report a fine time. It was sponsored by the East Ward Parent-Teachers' association and officers of that organization say the event was financially profitable and a big success.

Reapers Class Entertained In McBeth Home

The Reapers class of the East Cisco Baptist Sunday school held a hallowe'en "tacky" party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Claud McBeth Thursday evening. The rooms were gaily decorated with witches, bats, cats and pumpkins.

Entertaining features were various games which were played throughout the evening. R. A. Turknett won first prize for being dressed the tackiest and Mrs. T. R. Prickett won second prize.

When the games were concluded, refreshments of hot dogs, with coffee and cocoa and candies were passed to Mr. and Mrs. Bill Sledge, Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Don Rupe, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Theford, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Turknett, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Whisenant, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Prickett, Mmes. Arlin Agnew, Lane Gilmore, Raymond Jones, A. W. Dawson, H. Barron, E. ## Elizabeth Cope Honored With Party, Shower

Yvonne Hazlewood entertained a group of high school girls Friday evening with a surprise party honoring their classmate, Elizabeth Cope, who is leaving Monday for her new home in McCamey.

The guests met at the home of Sylvia Hazel at 6:30 and from there went in a group to the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Cope. Soon after their arrival, Mrs. E. L. Hazlewood came with her daughter, Yvonne Hazlewood, and the honored guest, Elizabeth Cope. Complete was the surprise of the honoree when she found her home in hallowe'en decorations and the guests assembled for the occasion.

Many games and contests in keeping with hallowe'en were enjoyed by the group. To end the fun, refreshments of hot dogs, black and gold colored candies and hot chocolate were served by the hostess, Yvonne Hazlewood. At this time the honoree, Elizabeth Cope, was presented with gifts brought by the guests.

The young hostess was assisted in entertaining and serving by her mother, Mrs. E. L. Hazlewood and Mrs. R. S. Cope.

NEW RESIDENTS.
Rev. A. J. McCary, superannuated preacher, recently of Houston, and a brother of Mrs. F. E. Clark, has purchased a home in Cisco at 1300 N avenue and will move his family here next week.

Pantomime Marks Pageant at High School Friday Night

One of the most pleasing productions of its kind will be staged tomorrow night in Cisco high school auditorium at 8 o'clock, by a cast of fifty negro singers. The pageant is simple in theme and acting for the most part is pantomime.

Relatives Attend Party in Brownwood

Mrs. Herman Harrelson and two little daughters, Melba Ray and Lavonne Gayle, who reside south of Cisco, and Mrs. Floyd Harrelson and daughter, Bessie Sue of near Romney, accompanied by Mrs. N. J. Dillard and Mrs. Ruth Dillard of Rising Star, attended the birthday party of little Patricia Ann Pringle at Brownwood, Oct. 31. Patricia Ann is a niece of Mrs. Herman Harrelson and granddaughter of Mrs. N. J. Dillard.

After taking pictures of the group, the pretty birthday cake, topped with two pink candles, was cut and served with punch to a number of small guests and their mothers.

Luncheon And Program Given At D. A. R. Meet

Mrs. G. F. Castleberry of Eastland and Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Ranger were hostesses at the monthly meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution, which met in the home of Mrs. Castleberry, Oct. 28. A luncheon was enjoyed and a splendid program given.

The meeting was opened with prayer by Mrs. M. H. Hagaman, following which Mrs. Yancey McCrea led in the salute to the flag. Patriotism was the theme discussed. Mrs. Perkins told of the hallowe'en party which was given for the soldiers in Camp Bowie in which all women of the county assisted with donations of cookies. A paper prepared by Mrs. W. W. Wallace on the "Problem of Refugee Children," was read by Mrs. Philip Pettit.

actual experiences of life and therefore holds interest from the beginning to the end. Thirty-four spirituals and hymns will be sung, with all the plaintive melodies of the race.

WEEK OF PRAYER.

A week of prayer and self denial will be observed next week by the Presbyterian auxiliary. Meetings will be held in the church each day at 2 p. m., beginning on Monday and continuing through Friday, with the exception of Tuesday, when the auxiliary circles meet in the homes of members at 3 o'clock. All women of the church are urged to attend, said Mrs. Homer Slicker, auxiliary president.
