CISCO, TEXAS, FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1934

NUMBER 12

The Citizen's Demise Will Be its Resurrection as the Citizen-Free Press Nov. 28

As the Cisco Weekly Citizen this will be the last issue of this newspaper. The next issue will be issued as the Citizen-Free Press, and will be published by the Free Press Publishing Corporation which is now installing complete machinery equipment capable of publishing any size newspaper the publishers may desire, which will be that class of newspaper the people want and will support.

As most of the Citizen family have been informed through the columns of their home paper—the Citizen—the Free Press Publishing Corporation purchased an option on the Citizen, together with its subscription list, name, good will, etc., on the 12th day of October. This option was closed Nov. 12, and the paper became the property of that corporation, but by agreement possession was not to be given until the machinery was installed, and that the former owner and publisher should continue the Citizen, as such, until everything was in readiness for the publication of the Citizen-Free Press, the expenses to be borne by the present editor, who is to receive such income that may be derived from the publication of the Citizen until such possession is given.

The time has now arrived when the new owners are ready to take possession of the Citizen, which will be moved from its present location at 507 Avenue D to the Mancill building, on the corner of Avenue E and West Seventh street. All obligations incurred by the former management of the Citizen will be paid by R. W. H. Kennon, who will receipt for any monies that may be due the paper up to the time such possession passed to the new owners.

In a Larger Field

But the present editor is not disconnecting himself from the large family of readers that he has written for and been in intimate association for the past three years. He is going with the new publication, and will still be an advocate of the people, whose interests he will guard as zealously as in the past. In fact the new publication will occupy a larger field in preaching the doctrine of justice and the rights of the masses, for the reason he will have that editorial assistance not equaled by any other newspaper in Eastland county, and not excelled in the entire West Texas.

In addition to this splendid newspaper man, Mr. B. A. Butler, the working force will be augmented by two of the most capable mechanical newspaper workers in this section, Messrs. W. D. Brecheen and T. A. Leeman. Neither of these gentlemen are strangers to the people of Cisco. Mr. Brecheen since 1927. Mr. Brecheen came to Cisco in 1920, and has been the head linotype operator of the News until he severed his connection with that publication about one month ago, with the exception of about two years, when he was with the Cisco American and Mr. A. B. O'Flaherty until the American merged with the News. Mr. Leeman came to the Daily News about one year ago as mechanical foreman and job printer, and efficiently performed his duties until leaving that paper to go with the new corporation.

With this combination, backed by ample funds to publish such a paper as will supply the demands of Cisco our family of readers that the Citizen-Free Press will meet their every newspaper need, as we will give them a larger and better publication than was possible under the former management, as our financial resources were limited, and our equipment was inadequate to publish such a newspaper as the city and country required. So, with this combination of men of experience, financial backing and shop equipment, the Citizen-Free Press will start off right where the Citizen quit—unhindered by lack of financial support, untrammelled by any foreign control or dictation, free to publish news that is news, and without fear to express its opinion on any matters of interest to the general public.

Nuptials of Martin H. Weiser And Clara Wende Consummated

Uniting two of the prominent German-American families were the nuptials which were solemnized last Sunday evening at Christ Lutheran church, in the Lutheran community south of Cisco. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. Steyer, pastor of that congregation before one of the largest audiences of friends and relatives of the contracting pair that ever gathered in that edifice. The newly-weds are Martin H. Weiser and Miss Clara Wende, members of two of the oldest and most highly respected German-American families of the Cisco country. The church wedding was perfectly formal, with the beautiful Lutheran wedding ceremony being used by the minister.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wende, where a most elaborate wedding supper was served, and the newly-weds received the congratulations of their friends and relatives.

The Citizen desired a more detailed account of this wedding, which was the most important event of the season, but not having been present, and being unable to contact those participating and arranging the nuptials, can only give such facts that came to this paper through others. But the wedding of these two young people is of more than passing interest to their large circle of friends and relatives. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wende, well known people of the Lutheran community, where they are well and favorably known. Mr. Weiser, the groom, is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Weiser, than whom there are none better known or more highly esteemed. They will make their home in the Lutheran community and begin their newly married life under the most favorable auspices.

Besides the vast throng of local relatives and friends attending the nuptials, other places were visited. Paul Weiser, Mrs. Carl Del Rio, and child Mrs. C. Gladewat Bauer, of Shall Cisco Support Local Industries Or Outside Enterprises?

Cisco boasts of a chamber of commerce, booster club, Lions and Rotary civic organizations, but are all or either of these organizations on the job? So far as the Citizen has been able to ascertain neither are fostering any of the local industries we have within our corporate limits. That merchandise can be manufactured in Cisco of a superior quality to that which is made elsewhere and brought into Cisco and distributed by our merchants is not denied. For some reason our merchants prefer to handle the merchandise manufactured elsewhere, or the consumers think the foreign article better, and call for the merchandise not made in Cisco. Possibly there is a slightly better profit in the foreign made article over the home product, but even that should not induce the merchants to push the outside merchandise ahead of the home product.

Cisco as yet can hardly be classed as a manufacturing city, nor will it ever be unless our chamber of commerce, booster club and other civic organizations give the home industries their endorsement and support. But we do have a few small industries here, and the product of these local industries come in direct competition with products made in other towns, seemingly with preference for the outside products. True, these are small concerns, but if our civic organizations would wage a campaign for "buy it made in Cisco," there would be hopes for these industries to expand and become institutions worth while.

Sleep on St. Louis Bed

One of the best mattress factories is located in Cisco, but our people continue to sleep on St. Louis-made beds; we have two well equipped bakeries, yet Fort Worth and Abilene bread is consumed by Cisco people. We have a small but splendid coffee roasting and potato chip and peanut factory in Cisco, while coffee roasted in other places is sold on the shelves of Cisco stores; a planing mill is located in Cisco, but it is hardly patronized. These are a few of the small industries in Cisco, either or all of them made into larger enterprises. Civic bodies would get behind and start a campaign to encourage people to use their products. But not least, is the Cisco Flour Mill, located on East Sixth street, which needs the fostering care of spirited people. This flour could be made one of the best of Cisco. Its products are of

Reich HD Club Will Present Home Talent Program Saturday Eve

The Citizen is requested to announce that the Reich Demonstration club will present a home talent program at the Reich school house tomorrow evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Among the numbers to be presented will be a humorous playlet, "The Scandal of the Minister."

Plenty of fun. Come out and enjoy a good laugh. A small admission fee will be charged, or a free-will offering will be appreciated.

The proceeds of the entertainment will be used for painting the walls of the school building.

Other features will be added which you will enjoy.

the very best, and we are glad to see that a number of our grocery merchants are handling the products of the Cisco Flour Mill.

Owned and operated by Cisco people, P. K. LeFeuvre and J. H. Kendrick, who give this enterprise their personal attention. Their leading product is the O. K. Flour, every sack guaranteed. Try it once and you will always call for it. There is a difference, as it seems more nourishing, without losing any of its leavening properties. If it is not as good as you ever used just bring the unused portion back and your money will be cheerfully refunded, or you can get a new and full sack for that which has not been used.

A Real Breakfast Cereal

Another mill products that is becoming popular is their wheat grits. This makes a delicious breakfast cereal, and you will like it better than breakfast oats or any of the other popular breakfast foods.

Among other grocers who have stocked up on O. K. flour, and are offering this home product to Cisco people, are O. R. Turner, D and W. Fifth street; City Grocery, (McDonald Hardware old stand); H. W. Hamm Grocery, 1300 block on D avenue; Robinson Grocery, opposite Mize & Son, in 1200 block, D avenue; Texas Cities Produce Co., 1008 D avenue; Hyatt & Wood, and Piggly-Wiggly.

Besides manufacturing flour and all kinds of wheat products, the Cisco Flour Mill does custom grinding and will convert your wheat into flour or exchange flour for wheat. Also they will make mill feed of your grain and other produce for your stock. If you farmers have not met these mill people go around and get acquainted. It will pay you both to know each other.

Explanation Of Tax Penalty Remission By Oscar Chastain

Hon. Oscar Chastain, legislative representative from Eastland county, gives a rather clear explanation of the tax penalty remission law, passed during the closing hours of the fourth extra session of the legislature. However, he fails to explain how the failure of the act to pass with the necessary two-thirds vote can be cured by a resolution making the law "immediately effective." But Chastain's explanation as to the operation of the statute is quite clear. He says:

The Pope which was passed in the closing days of the fourth called session, will be effective immediately as a result of a resolution which was passed after the bill was passed. When the bill was passed it did not receive the necessary two-thirds vote in the senate to place it in immediate effect so the resolution was later passed in order to accomplish this purpose.

The law provides that all penalties and interest on ad valorem taxes which were due on or before August 1, 1934, are released if the taxes are paid on or before March 15, 1935. If the taxes are paid between March 15, 1935, and April 1, 1935, there will be added a penalty of two per cent. If the taxes are paid during the month of April there will be added a penalty of three per cent. If the taxes are paid during the month of May there will be added a penalty of four per cent. If the taxes are paid during the month of June there will be added a penalty of five per cent. If the taxes are paid after June 30, 1935, there will be added a penalty of eight per cent, together with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

The law is mandatory on all cities, school districts, water districts, etc., up until March 15, 1935. After that date the law is optional and the governing bodies of political subdivisions of the state may adopt the provisions of the law by passing an ordinance or resolution to that effect.

Supplies For Texas Relief Sewing Rooms Have Been Allotted

Austin, Nov. 21.—Sewing rooms operated by the Texas Relief Commission shortly will begin the manufacture of 168,000 comforters for the state's needy families, it has been announced by A. C. Allen, director of production, who said 1,225,000 yards of comforter covering already have been delivered to sewing rooms over the state.

Comforter bats are being belivered at the rate of three carloads daily, the first having been distributed in the vicinity of Lamar county, where manufacture of comforters has been started.

In addition to comforters, sewing

Hilton Asks $110,000 Death Of Wife Killed In Overpass Crash

The law firm of Scott & Gilbert, of Cisco, is representing the plaintiff, J. D. Hilton in his suit against the Greyhound bus line, which was called in the federal court at Abilene last Monday. Others associated with Scott & Gilbert as plaintiff's attorneys are R. M. Grisham and J. A. Luntz, of Eastland; R. C. Grisham, of Abilene, and Marcus Weatherred, of Coleman.

This litigation is the aftermath of the fatal wreck that occurred early this year when a bus of the Greyhound line crashed through the banisters of the overpass over the Texas & Pacific railroad, plunged to the creek bed about 80 feet below, in which four were killed. It is understood the bus company has settled out of court for the death of the others. Besides Mrs. Hilton, those killed were Mrs. Ethel Boney and babe, of Ranger, and Ernest Golden, sailor, of Mena, Ark.

Basing his action for damages the plaintiff alleges the steering mechanism of the bus was faulty, and introduced evidence of five witnesses Monday in support of that allegation, each testified they found the mechanism unattached.

In behalf of himself and children Hilton is asking damages in the sum of $60,000 actual and $50,000 exemplary rooms have received 143,500 yards of toweling and nearly 200,000 yards of sheeting for manufacture and later distribution to relief roll families. Also, 182,500 yards of 45-inch sheeting have been delivered for manufacture into pillow cases.

All of these commodities will be delivered to relief clients UNpriced and will not be charged against their budgets.

Allen reminded clients, however, that PRICED commodities, made up largely of meats, vegetables, fruits and miscellaneous foods canned at local canning plants and many items of wearing apparel made in sewing rooms from material purchased by the Texas Relief Commission WILL be charged against budgets as issued.

All items made from surplus commodities furnished by the Federal Surplus Relief Corporation are issued UNpriced, not chargeable against budgets of clients.

Father's Love Letter

Once upon a time Daughter found an old love letter that Father had written to Mother when they were courting. Daughter copied the letter, signed a man's name to it, and mailed it to herself. Then she showed the letter to Father, and Father nearly busted his breeches denouncing the fool who would write such a mess.—Ferguson Forum.

First Church Of Christ, Scientist

First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Eastland, authorized branch of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, of Boston, Mass., holds services every Sabbath morning at 11 and each Wednesday night at 8. Testimonies on Christian Science healing may be given at the Wednesday evening meetings. Sunday school convenes at 9:45 a. m. All of these services are held in the Church edifice at the corner of Lamar and Plumer street.

"Soul and Body" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, November 25.

The Golden Text is: "The word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." (Hebrews 4:12)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the e: "God is a Spirit: an they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in thruth." (John 4:24)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Soul and Spirit being one, God and Soul are one, and this one never included in a limited mind or a limited body. Spirit is eternal, divine. . . . Only by losing the false sense of Soul can we gain the eternal unfolding of Life as immortality brought to light. (yage 335)

Nineteen Commercial Failures For October

Austin, Nov. 21.—A total of nineteen commercial failures was recorded in Texas for October, against eight for September and 34 in October last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Liabilities totaled $164,000 in October, compared with $3,193,000 in October last year, a decline of 95 per cent. In September, 1934, total liabilities were $27,000. Average liabilities per failure totaled $8,632, 21 per cent greater than in September but 91 per cent below that of October last year.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Where there is no vision, the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he.—Prov. 29:18.

*Give me, O God, a clearer, fuller vision,
That I may see through mists of false belief,
And in thy light know Spirit's omnipresence, Wherein man dwells secure from fear and grief.*

Even at the time he (Jesus) set his face steadfastly toward Jerusalem he had a clear vision of all that destiny held for him. At the time of his triumphal entry into the Holy City, a seemingly victorious event, he saw at the end of the week the cross, and beyond that the crown of the resurrection.—Dr. Henry Kendall-Booth.

NOT TRANSFERRABLE.

"If Congress has the right under the Constitution to issue paper money, it was given them to be used by themselves, not to be delegated to individuals and corporations." — President Andrew Jackson.

The exclusive prerogative of the federal congress to issue money, as authorized by the federal constitution, was recognized during the administration of President Jackson, who held to this faith so firmly, that he vetoed an act passed by both houses of congress, later, to grant this power to banks.

"But what is the constitution among friends?" Especially if it interferences with the plans of the capitalist class.

As President Jackson said "if congress has the right to issue paper money, it was given to be used by congress alone, and not to be delegated to individuals and corporations." Before the war between the states there were only a few who contended that this privilege of congress was transferable, and none denied that to do so was in violation of the organic law of the land. Only for the purpose of supplying a vehicle with which to float the bonded indebtedness of the country were the national banks authorized, and then only as a temporary measure.

But one may ask "How will the money be distributed to the people?" One method is in the same manner as it is now being done—not through the dole system, as is done now—but by giving men employment on various public works. The government is now sponsoring many public improvements—as well as private enterprises. The distribution could be through a government agency, promulgated on safe and sound principles.

I can remember that time when the Democratic party denounced the national bank act as vehemently as the latter did the principle of the protective tariff.

But the bank of issue is not as great a curse as the continuance of issuing federal bonds and paying interest to the banks of the country for money that the government has the authority to issue. A national bank note cannot be any better than the bond on which it is issued, and the bond cannot be any better than a treasury note.

If the government would cease to pay interest on federal bonds men with money would not be so anxious to secure these securities, and would invest their money in useful industries that would give employment to the people, and until this is done there will be no general recovery.

Sentiment is fast crystalizing in this nation to compel a more equitable distribution of the country's wealth, and unless this is brought about in an orderly manner other means will be instituted to obtain this result. And it may not be done orderly, either. Those who can forecast the future observe a determination on the part of the people to bring about a more equitable distribution of the wealth of the country, and if the powers that be are wise, steps will be taken to remedy this evil.

Special privileges are responsible for the concentration of large fortunes through permitting monopolies, which if eliminated will be the end of the Huey Longs, Upton Sinclairs, and others who are already proposing drastic measures to bring about a more desirable condition.

PETER MOLYNEUX

Peter Molyneux, editor of The Texas Weekly and widely known economist, told the Academy of Political Science in New York Nov. 7th that international cooperation is the only safeguard of peace. Mr. Molyneux (above) shared the subject, "The Outlook for World Peace," with Newton D. Baker at a banquet presided over by Owen D. Young.

IT IS DIFFERENT NOW.

In an effort to increase interest in hog raising twenty years ago, H. C. Meyer and John Hicks started a plan to buy a carload of good brood sows for resale to local farmers on terms such as might be required.—20 Years Ago in Rockdale Reporter.

The New Deal has changed all this. Instead of the powers encouraging the raising of more and better hogs, the government now pays the farmers for the hogs they do not raise. But we noticed when farm boys' hog clubs were in flower there was always plenty of meat in the country, and several farm boys in Eastland county saved enough money from the proceeds of hogs they raised to complete their education in the higher schools of learning—principally the Texas A. & M.

The Citizen editor remembers the time later, less than 20 years ago, that Eastland county boasted of quite a number of hog clubs, and all were raising the better breeds of swine. One of these boys was so successful—young Cox, son of R. F. Cox, of Rising Star—that his father decided the son was a better farmer than his dad, so he formed a co-partnership with the youngster under the firm name of "Cox & Father." From this start some splendid hogs were raised by these people, and R. F. quit raising cotton and devoted his entire time to raising better hogs. Today Rufus Cox is one of the best authorities in this part of Texas on hogs and hog raising.

But the "brain trust," under which the country is bringing back prosperity, says "produce less agricultural products, and live on the government." Probably, when a few more millions of people are added to the relief rolls, and the revenue to feed these people will have been exhausted, the administration will conclude that you can't bring back prosperity by destroying the necessities of life. It just won't work.

The Citizen's Demise--

the new publication is adequately equipped, we desire to give a brief sketch of the machinery which has been installed. The press is a Babcock standard, large enough to print four pages of seven columns each, at one time, and probably the best machine for a newspaper of 5,000 circulation that is made. The type setting machine is a model 14 linotype, made by the Mergenthaler Linotype Co., and is one of the modern machines now in use. The folding machine is an Eclipse, which folds the paper after it comes off the press ready for the mailing machine which prints the subscribers' name and address, enabling the entire edition to be mailed or delivered to the readers in less time than the Citizen could be addressed. A full assortment of type, all new, of the latest faces, direct from the type foundry. Other necessary equipment is new and modern, and all machinery is electrically driven, insuring the best service possible, as the power is always available.

BEFORE COLD WEATHER

lished in the past, we feel that the mission of the Citizen has not been a fruitless one. We feel that the Citizen has not lived in vain, but has been of some material benefit to our home town and its people. We have given our best efforts in our work for the community and fought for those reforms, at all times, which we believed to the best interest of our entire people. We have championed the cause of the farmer, and the common man, "one of whom we are which." While it is possible we have made some enemies by the methods we have adopted, as we have, at times, used strong language against those things and individuals we believed to be inimical to the best interest of the people of the entire community. But we have never entertained any personal animosity against a single individual, as our fight has been on measures, not men, only insofar as they may have attempted to foist upon the community those things, some times clandestinely, that we believed not for the best interest of the whole.

We Prefer Bouquets

Probably not at all times have our efforts been appreciated by those in whose interest we have worked. But that is not our fault, nor particularly our concern. Ours has been a conscientious course, and we have no apologies or regrets, other than we always prefer to waft bouquets rather than brickbats, and never like to inflict personal hurts.

In some of the things we have worked for we have been rewarded by their consumation—most, in fact—while others we have attained partial success. In these we might mention we worked for a cheaper gas service. The Citizen advocated and worked for certain amendments to the city charter. The people, by their votes, favored all but the recall. The Citizen suggested a benefit football game for Or-

Dry Forces Charge Present Worse Than Old Liquor Saloons

The United Dry forces against the liquor traffic held its regular meeting Monday evening, November 19, at East Baptist church.

The meeting dates of the organization have been changed to the second and fourth Tuesday nights in each month.

Rev. Sparkman, pastor of East Cisco Baptist church, gave the address of the evening, entitled "Facts on Today's Question." It was shown by him that the wet forces have broken many promises.

1. Statistics show that drunkenness has increased 25 to 400 per cent. 2. Repeal has given the government one-third less revenue than the minimum estimate of its advocates.

3. The saloon has not returned; we have something worse. The old saloon was closed on Sunday; no minors or women were admitted; and only men were attendants. The saloon substitute operates seven days a week; the patronage of minors and women is solicited, and the most attractive girls serve.

The next meeting will be held November 27, at 7:30 p. m. at East Cisco Baptist church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Scranton P-T-A. Painting Fund Continues To Grow

The painting fund of the Scranton P-T-A., which will be used to paint the primary school building, was reported to be in a satisfactory condition, at the business session of the Parent Teachers association, held at the association's second meeting Tuesday evening, Nov. 13, following the enjoyable social period. This was especially pleasing to the members, when we consider this fund was only started two weeks ago.

The entertainment to be staged this evening is expected to augment this fund considerably, as the association has arranged an attractive program which it is believed, will prove highly appreciative to the audience. This entertainment will be staged by the pupils of the Douglas schools, under the auspices of the Scranton P-T-A, and the proceeds will be divided between the two schools. The program will be clean and amusing, as well as instructive. The sponsors are assured that it will prove very enjoyable to every one. Previous to the business session the association enjoyed a musical program at the Central building which included two numbers by a quartet composed of Mr. T. Blalock Mr. and Mrs. Moody Laminack and Mr. A. Gattis.

bie Jacobs, and was gratified to see the suggestion take root and put over without the necessity of a follow-up story. Other matters that the Citizen may have been instrumental in achieving might be mentioned, but the above are some of the more material achievements, which we believe are now admitted to be of benefit to the people among whom we live.

In publishing our valedictory as editor-publisher of the Citizen, and our salutatory as one of the workers of the Citizen-Free Press, we desire to express our love and appreciation to our friends and patrons who have been kind to us in the past, whose friendship we hope to take with us in our new field of labor, and we do so with the assurance that we entertain no bitterness against a single individual, and only have the kindest feeling for all.

Sincerely,
R. W. H. KENNON

Mrs. Eric Sholer Guest Of Twin Sister Of Her Mother; First Meeting

Mrs. Eric Sholer, of Easton, Pa., and little niece, Miss Marie Zilker, of Mahanoy, Pa., are the guests of Mrs. Emma Schaefer and Mr. and Mrs. Harry P. Schaefer. The Citizen editor enjoyed a pleasant visit Tuesday with Mrs. Sholer and her niece, who called at the office for a copy of the Citizen to send back home.

Mrs. Sholer stated that her mother and Mrs. Schaefer were twin sisters, born in Germany, and both left their native country 49 years ago. Her mother, who passed on recently, never met her sister after they left the old country, and this is the first time Mrs. Sholer ever met her aunt. Little Miss Marie is a grandniece of Mrs. Schaefer.

Coming to the United States nearly a half century ago, Mrs. Schaefer came to Texas, and her sister located in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Sholer said she found her relatives splendid people, was enjoying her visit immensely, and was delighted with Texas. Gazing at a rose which she carried Mrs. Sholer remarked: "Just think of it! roses blooming outside in the middle of November. This mild climate is wonderful. At home there is plenty of ice and snow, and here I see people still wearing summer clothing. But I want to see more of Texas before I return home, especially the Great Staked Plains, 'Llano Estacado,' I believe the Spaniards called it."

In His Office Again

Dr. Chas. C. Jones has returned home from Temple where he was under care of surgeons for the past two weeks. He is apparently fully restored and will doubtless be able to take care of his dental patients, many of whom have been waiting his return.
