Randolph to Begin 1931-32 Session Tuesday Morning

FIRST CLASS WORK BEGINS

Randolph college will open its doors to students for the 1931-32 term tomorrow morning at 9 o'clock, Dr. Lee Clark, president of the institution, announced. While prospects for attendance are slighter than in past years the college is hopeful for a successful session with a large number of students already on hand or en route.

Students for the Bible college, of which Dr. John W. Tyndall is dean, are coming from as far distant sections as North Carolina and intermediate states, Dr. Clark said. Tomorrow will be devoted to registration of students and their classification. Class work will begin

Mrs. Lee Clark, wife of the president, has been offered and has accepted the position of director of the department of fine arts of the college. Mrs. Clark brings to the department rare training and a successful experience that will prove a valuable addition to the faculty and prestige of the school.

Courses in voice, violin and piano will be offered and additional teachers and courses in speech arts will be added as soon as the demand arises, it was announced.

UNJUST TAXATION.

The highway department, this week, will be forced to send out thousands of dollars worth of supplies, paid for out of its own funds, with which people of Texas will be levied upon for a toll of over $325,000 in December and January under the headlight test law which is admittedly unenforce-

A few counties get some residuary part of the 10 cent division of the 25-cent license receipt fee, but most of them hand over the entire amount for a headlight law supervisor, whose duty is to grant permits to the few stations in each county conducting the headlight tests at 15 cents each.

No person will be able to register a new car or re-regis- press-agent their heroes or else ter his old car until he has paid out the 25 cents for the headlight certificate.

G. Phares, director of the highway patrol, pointed out the headlight law, cannot be enforced beyond the compulsory charge, because it provides that if an officer stops confront us today, the American be a self contained unit: He can fered to any one giving information people would clamor for his leader- grow his feed and food; making his leading to the arrest and conviction pulsory charge, because it provides that if an officer stops hours in which to appear before a court and show the light has been adjusted, upon which the law requires the case to

The highway department has to print huge stocks of over 500,000 blank certificate forms. It will send these out to county judges. Next spring it will have to send out more of the printed matter to the individuals named as headlight

Mrs. Lee J. Rountree, reprentative from Brayan, and Senator Clint C. Small of Wellington have conferred on the drafting of a bill to repeal the headlight law in time to save Texas motorists its $325,000 toll in December and January. They felt certain Governor Sterling would approve such a bill, since the highway department itself has declared the present law unsatisfactory and unworkable.

John T. Smith, tax expert and former house member, sure of revenue from the intangible wealth represented mortgages that now escapes taxation while the holders f property upon which mortgages lie have to pay taxes on the full amount of the property, though the mortgage is revenue-bearing and the property often is not.

He would require a registration fee equal to about one rear's advalorem levy on the value of the mortgage, then exempt the mortgage—unrendered now anyway—from future taxation. Holders who failed to register and pay the fee on the mortgage would subject it to the advalorem rendition law, and, if unrendered, the owner could make it valid on uits only by going into court and showing legal reason for having failed to register or render it.

Two measures attempting to relieve the deficits of the pension fund and the general revenue fund were being prepared for possible submission to the legislature.

Representative Preston L. Anderson has proposed a bill to borrow part of the surplus of the game fund from hunting licenses and fines, to supplement general revenues.

Representative Paul Finn has proposed to take onefourth of the gasoline tax and 10 per cent of the game fund and put the money from these sources in the general revenue, partially for the benefit of the badly-overdrawn Confederate pension fund.

Banks are now refusing to cash pension warrants for any except their regular customers, and are charging a five per cent discount on this, members of the legislature said.

Pensioners in many localities are having great difficulty in getting any money at all on their warrants, and are being forced to sell them on terms as much as 50 per cent discount, according to information gathered by Representative Finn. Mr. Finn's bill, already drawn, bases its effort to supplement the general fund from gasoline taxes on the basis of relief of farmers and others to avoid a compulsory increase

Dreiser Draws Soviet Praise

MOSCOW, Sept. 21. - The 60th birthday of Theodore Dreiser re cently was greeted in Soviet literary growing interest in communism and the working class. The impression has spread here that the American writer is coming closer every day to the Soviet political viewpoint and there ever have been rumors that he is joining the Communist Party in the United States.

A typical article, written by Serge Dinamov, editor of the Literary Ga-

STOCKS WORK LOWER DURING THE PAST WEEK

Stocks worked steadily lower during the past week, picking up momentum on the downside on fears regarding another financial crisis in Great Britain. Expressions of nervousness on part of English leaders regarding the stability of the pound sterling induced heavy foreign selling of American shares, and Friday's market witnessed the everest breaks since early June.

While signs of greater stability were in evidence in the grain markets, stocks continued under the de-pressing influence of the absence of any seasonal improvement in business, and further dividend reductions and omissions. Westinghouse electric made its second dividend cut of the year, reducing its quarterly payment to 62½ cents a share from $1 previously. Western Elec tric entirely suspended payments o its stock. THIS CURIOUS WORLD

TWO NATIONS FAIL IN PRICE

WASHINGTO.., D. C., Sept 21-A striking similarity between government efforts in the United States and Brazil to stabilize farm products through federal intervention in speculative markets was pointed out here recently.

FIXING PLANS

In Brazil, the government sought vainly to stabilize coffee prices —in the United States, the Federal Farm Board attempted to stabilize wheat and cotton prices.

Persons in close touch with the situation pointed out that Brazil's Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Mayer of coffee price control experiment prov-Lueders were visitors in the city ed unsucessful to the point of dis-

The Brazilian coffee "valorization" effort was described in a recent statementby the bank of Brazil as "ruinous venture." The bank attacked the venture and recalled that for the last 2 years the Brazilian government has attempted "by all conceivable means to valorize coffee" -that is to give it an artificial price in excess of the market quotations, which are subject to the oper-Miss Mayme Sue Walters of Abi- ation of the natural economic law

... no bamboozlin' about that!"

SURE! When a word fits, you know it! "Satisfy" just fits CHESTERFIELD. A smoker picks up a package, and he likes its neat appearance—no heavy inks or odors from ink. That satisfies him.

Then he examines a Chesterfield. It is wellfilled; it is neat in appearance; the paper is pure white. And that satisfies him.

He lights up. At the very first puff he likes the flavor and the rich aroma. He decides that it tastes better-neither raw nor over-sweet; just pleasing and satisfying.

Then he learns it is milder. That's another way of saying that there is nothing irritating about it. And again he's satisfied!

Satisfy—they've got to satisfy! The right tobaccos, the CHESTERFIELD kind, cured and aged, blended and cross-blended, to a taste that's right. Everything that goes into CHESTER-FIELD is the best that money can buy and that science knows about. CHESTERFIELDS do a complete job of it. They Satisfy!
