DAYTON SNEERS AT DARROW

N. M. Connally Believes in the Efficiency of Poison to Save the Crops of Eastland County

H. G. TWYMAN IS FREED OF DEATH OF DELL THAMES

BELTON, July 14.—The case of H. G. Twyman, charged with the death of Dell Thames of Beaumont at the boys' school at Gatesville, several years ago, was dismissed on motion of the district attorney today because witnesses were absent.

Twyman was military trainer at the state school in 1921. Dell Thames died and the state alleged his death was caused by injuries inflicted by Twyman. He denied he injured the boy or was responsible for his death.

The accused was tried at Gatesville and given a 10-year sentence but the case was reversed by the higher courts and sent to Bell county on a charge of venery.

Two previous continuances had been granted because witnesses were absent. When several of those whose testimony was regarded at the first trial were not present today, the case was dropped. One witness at the first trial is in the army, another in the navy, and two were reported absent because they were in prison.

The case attracted state-wide attention at the first trial.

OVERSEAS MAN A SUICIDE AT BRECKENRIDGE

BRECKENRIDGE, July 14.—A coroner's verdict of suicide was returned following the death of Charles E. Andrews, employe of the Summerall blacksmith shop, who, it is alleged, killed himself by cutting his throat with a razor on North Breckenridge avenue Sunday afternoon.

Andrews was found lying in a pool of blood with his head almost severed from his body and with a razor lying under his arm. Disappointment in a love affair was assigned as the motive for Andrews' action, according to a letter left for his sweetheart, in which he tells her goodbye and stated that he "was leaving on a long journey with the destination unknown."

Funeral arrangements are being held up pending advice from Bert Andrews, of Des Moines, Iowa, and L. S. Andrews of Webster City, Iowa, brothers of the dead man.

According to Andrews' friends, he has been acting queer for several days, and was drinking Sunday, the investigation revealed. Associates of Andrews also state their belief that he was formerly married, and has a wife and two daughters living somewhere in the north.

The deceased was a world war veteran, according to articles found among his possessions, including government aluminum identification tag with his name stamped on it.

CONTRACTS LET TO REBUILD BURNED DISTRICT OF OVALO

OVALO, July 14.—Contracts have been let here for the rebuilding of the major part of the portion of this city which was destroyed by fire. May 20 last nearly an entire block was destroyed by fire, and in less than 60 hours the sound of the hammer and the saw could be heard. Contracts have been let by the First State bank to build a new building; the Masonic lodge will have a hall over the bank building, which will be considerably larger than the old one. The contractor will build five business houses, all of which have been leased for five years; among these being W. J. Williams one for dry goods and groceries; Dr. A. P. Head for drugs, etc.; C. J. Cranford for gents' furnishings and A. D. Booser for a barber shop.

N. M. Connally, who conducts an irrigated farm just west of Leeroy, was in Cisco this morning and stated that a hard rain fell at his place Saturday, placing two feet of water in his reservoir. "While local rains rarely do much good at this time of the year, yet I believe this rain helped the corn and maize on my farm, which is now practically made. The moisture helped to fill out the corn, which is just now in good roasting ears. This corn and maize is being grown without irrigation, and so is my cotton. All are looking fine, and give promise of a good yield, as the cotton is fruiting nicely now, and the plants are holding most of the fruit that is being put on."

"Grasshoppers were all over the place, and would have destroyed my corn crop completely had I not used poison copiously. In fact I saved my entire crop by poisoning, and I am strong for poisoning the hoppers in the future. I sowed the poison around my entire field, and all through my corn. It did the work, as the hoppers died by thousands."

"One of my neighbors did not poison at all this year, but he sowed his fields last year with poison, which demonstrates that the effects of poison is lasting, and saves the crops the following year."

"Besides the numerous insects that I have combated all the spring and summer, and later on the wolves and rabbits, I have a new pest—the melon thieves. One or more of these parasites who prey upon the products of others, made my watermelon patch a call last Thursday night and carried off a load of my best melons. The suspected party is pretty well known, and his name has been given to the sheriff's department. Since this visit I have kept a pretty close watch on my melons, and last night, hearing a noise, I fired in that direction. I did not get the man, but from the howling that followed the shot, and the racket made in his running away, I am satisfied that I wounded a wolf that was feeding on my melons. The wolf, though, only steals to satisfy his hunger, while the human thief steals for profit. I hardly think I will miss any more of the melons, as I am keeping a pretty close watch, and may get a man in the dark, as I shoot in the direction of the noise."

MARRIAGE OF MISS BENHAM TO MR. RENAUD

The marriage of Miss Sarah Maud Benham, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benham, to Charles L. Renaud, came as quite a surprise to their many friends when the marriage was announced this morning.

The ceremony was performed at the rectory of the Episcopal church at 11 o'clock last night. Rev. Frank H. Stedman officiated and used the beautiful ring ceremony of the church in solemnizing this happy event. The bride's attendant was Miss Jean Medaris of Abilene, while D. O. Bayless was best man to the groom. Only the parents of the bride and the rector's family were present. Mr. and Mrs. Renaud will leave in a few days on a brief honeymoon trip of two weeks, which will include San Antonio, Mexico City and other points.

Having been reared here, her friends are numerous. Mr. Renaud has been a resident of Cisco for some time and is a well known consulting geologist.

ABILENE, July 14.—For the death of her husband, Tom W. Carlisle, a Haskell county farmer, who met death last September while witnessing the automobile races at the West Texas fair, his widow, Mrs. Mabel I. Carlisle, has filed suit against the West Texas fair association in district court here, through Brooks & Smith, Abilene attorneys, for damages totaling $60,550. The petition was filed by Mrs. Carlisle and by Irbly, Douglas, Benadine and Tom W. Carlisle Jr., minor children of the deceased, and also by Mrs. Alice Carlisle, who, according to the petition, is the only surviving parent of the deceased.

In the petition it is alleged that Mr. Carlisle was 30 years old, healthy and strong and could be reasonably expected to earn $2,500 yearly for twenty years and the plaintiffs ask $50,000 for loss of his earnings as their supporter. They alleged that he was killed while a guest of the West Texas fair association, having entered its gates and paid for admittance and that he was killed when struck by a wheel that flew off of a racing car, and that such accident happened because of the negligence and carelessness of the defendant and its agents, servants and management. It alleges that the race track was not sufficiently enclosed in order to prevent such accidents.

For loss of the support of the husband, father and son of the plaintiffs, they ask $50,000. For funeral expenses which it is claimed were paid $550 is asked. For the mental anguish and sorrow brought on by the death of Mr. Carlisle, an additional $10,000 is asked. The total amount is $60,550.

Court Room Was Scene of General Hubbub When Lawyer Objected To Court Being Opened With Prayer

DAYTON, Tenn., July 14.—A direct religious controversy was thrown into the Scopes evolution trial, today when Clarence Darrow formally objected to opening the proceedings with prayer. The objection was overruled by Judge Raulston and Mr. Darrow read his exception into the record.

The Chicago lawyer's objection led to taunts and sneers between counsel, which resulted in a general hubbub, during which Mr. Darrow was called "ungodly agnostic, to whom prayer is absolutely foreign."

The defense lawyers rallied to their chief, declaring him sincere in his belief.

All members of the legal staffs were on their feet at one and the same time, shouting for recognition.

Judge Raulston finally quieted the court room and said it was his custom to open court with prayer and he saw no reason for suspending the custom for this particular case.

YOUNG RAMSEY CHARGED WITH POSTAL THEFT

Edward Ramsey of Gunsight, is again in trouble. This time the matter has been placed in the hands of the postal authorities, as he is charged with theft of postal funds from the home of the Gunsight postmaster, Mrs. Campbell, while she was attending church Sunday. The amount of his loot on this occasion was about $61, according to reports reaching Cisco. When she missed the money on her return from church, Mrs. Campbell accused the boy of taking it, and it is said he confessed, and returned all of the money to her with the exception of $7, and this his father made good, it was reported. Ramsey was arrested by Stephens county officers and taken to Breckenridge. Just what action the postal authorities will take is not known, but the matter has been reported, as this money is said to have been postal funds that Mrs. Campbell took home to keep over Sunday, as there was no safe in the postoffice.

The property of the Gunsight postoffice seems to have a special lure for this young man, as there is now a case pending against him in the courts of Stephens county for taking Mrs. Campbell's purse from the postoffice about three months ago.

TWO ARRESTED BY WHITE FOR THEFT OF PIPE

Deputy Sheriff L. A. White is expected back tonight from Big Lake where he trailed two pipe thieves whom he overhauled at Big Lake and placed them under arrest. The men, Pete Walcott and J. W. Hillman, were charged with the theft of 11,000 feet of three and four-inch pipe from the Magnolia Petroleum company's lease in Shackelford county, near Moran, July 2. The pipe had just been pulled from a well on the lease. The Magnolia company offered $1,000 reward for the recovery of the pipe and the arrest of the thieves.

"A little investigation ascertained that a lot of pipe had been brought to Rising Star by trucks, from which pipe was shipped to Big Lake," Mr. White stated. "Accompanied by employes of the Magnolia company I went to Big Lake where the pipe was found concealed in separate places in the brush in a pasture, and which was identified by the oil company employes, and the theft was traced to Walcott and Hillman, who were arrested and taken to jail at Eastland."

EASTLAND CO. PIONEER WAS BURIED HERE

Mrs. Myra Turner, aged seventy-eight years, passed away at the home of Mrs. Richard Hunt, in Eastland yesterday morning at 7:30 o'clock. Mrs. Hunt was a niece of Mrs. Turner and had lived with her since a child. She had lived in Eastland county here for forty-five years, coming here from Mexia with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Reed, settling first on a farm on the Breckenridge road, near Hart's switch, living there until the death of her parents. She made her home in Cisco many years, after which she moved to Eastland, and had lived there until her demise.

Mrs. Turner was born in Arkansas in 1845, came to Texas when a child. In early youth she married Noah Turner of Mexia. Hardly had the honeymoon ceased to shine upon this young couple, until the silent boatman cast his oars upon the home and bore her loved one away. Since that time, she has devoted her life to her church, and loved ones. At the age of twelve years she united with the Methodist church and had been a faithful and consistent member ever since.

The funeral services were held in Eastland this morning, where friends came for many miles around, and covered her casket with beautiful flowers, as a token of esteem and love held for her in all the years past. Rev. J. H. Stewart, pastor of the First Methodist church of Eastland, conducted the beautiful services, and told the story of her life. Beautiful hymns, that she had loved from childhood, were sung by loving friends, and the last sad rites were ended when the casket was lowered into the silent tomb, beside the remains of her father and mother, in Oakwood cemetery here. Many beautiful stories could be gathered from telling what Mrs. Turner had meant to her home, and to her family and church. She is survived by a brother, James Reed at Spur, and a sister, Mrs. Smith of Dallas, and a host of friends to mourn her loss.

BEWARE OF BEING ONE OF THE MOB
Let us be thankful that the Tennessee court has not the power of sending Mr. Scopes to the stake, and that there is no danger of him being burned for his opinions, as he would have been in the Middle Ages.

And we should be mindful that once upon a time men were tortured for declaring that the earth was not flat; and that when the fork was introduced as an eating implement, it was denounced.

The history of persecution is a history of endeavors to cheat nature, to make water run up hill, to, as one put it, "to twist a rope of sand."

It makes no difference whether the persecutors be many or one, a tyrant or a mob.

"A mob," Emerson defined, "as a society of bodies voluntarily bereaving themselves of reason and traversing its work."

"A mob is man voluntarily descending to the nature of the beast."

"Its fit hour of activity is night."

"Its actions are insane like its whole constitution."

"It persecutes a principle; it would whip a right; it would tar and feather justice, by inflicting fire and outrage upon the houses and ranks of persons who have these."

The mob in its actions always resembles the rank of boys who run with fire engines to put out the ruddy aurora to the stars. Was a mob ever right?

The martyrs these mobs make cannot be dishonored.

"Every lash inflicted (on a martyr) is a tongue of flame; every prison is a more illustrious abode; every burned book or house enlightens the world; every expunged word reverbrates through the earth from side to side," Emerson said. And every Scopes trial fans the flames of thought.

Then the minds of men are at last aroused; reason looks out and justifies her own. It is the whipper who is whipped and the tyrant who is undone.

INEFFECTIVE SPANKING
Judge Gary, head of the big steel trust, testifying to the futility of corporal punishment for children, says: "When I was very young, I heard some workmen say 'dam.' Then I said 'dam,' and my father spanked me. Not knowing what was wrong in the word, I immediately went around to the back of the house, where I was alone, and said 'dam' until I was hoarse."

It is an illuminating story. It may go to show that spanking is bad. On the other hand, it may only show that spanking or other forcible punishment needs to be accompanied by proper explanations.

The parent who precedes a spanking by carefully explaining to the child just what is wrong in the thing he is being spanked for is more likely to get results. Violence to a child that doesn't understand is always an outrage. But children are about as logical as grown-ups, when they are given a fair chance to use their logic.

NEWSPAPER CODE
The Southern Newspaper Publishers' association agrees that a newspaper's first duty is to print the news honestly and fairly to all, unbiased even by its own editorial policy, and expands that principle in the following code:

"Recognizing honest differences of opinion exist, we may vigorously maintain our own position without denouncing others as dishonest and unfair.

"Decency should be the guiding star in the printing of news, editorials, advertising and all feature articles or illustrations.

"Is it fit to print and to be read by my mother? should be the test rather than will it sell more papers?"

"Consideration for the unfortunate and for guiltless victims of the faults of others.

"No story justifies needless damage to a good reputation nor wanton pain to an innocent.

"Respect and tolerance for those of different religions, races and circumstances of life.

"Honesty in all dealings, whether with readers, advertisers, employees or competitors.

"Truth first, last and always."

The best thing about this code is the large number of newspapers already living up to it.

To appreciate this modern journalism, critics should hark back to the "good old days" of personal journalism and bitter partisanship, and observe the amazing growth not only in completeness of news reporting but in the spirit of fairness and tolerance with which the news is handled.

GOOD CROPS
A huge corn crop is indicated—perhaps the third largest in history. It looks like 3,100,000 bushels, two-thirds of a billion more than last year. That more than makes up for the discouraging potato prospect.

The wheat outlook is good, too, although contrary to a general impression, the wheat crop is far less important than the corn crop in this country.

The fruit situation is unfavorable, except on the Pacific Coast. The gain there is so great as to offset the loss elsewhere.

Here is a good outlook for the American food supply as a whole this season. Also a good illustration of the natural blessings of this great, fruitful land. So vast, rich and varied is American agriculture that any loss in this or that line of production is nearly always compensated by a corresponding gain in other lines. Individuals gain or lose, but it's seldom the nation as a whole lacks reason to congratulate itself on the crops.

A JAPANESE DEMONSTRATION
Accounts of the way Japan celebrated the first anniversary of the American immigration act are illuminating. Also reassuring.

Japan, like America, has its super-patriots. They had promised a big demonstration on this occasion. Here is what actually happened in Tokio, the populous Japanese capital, center of all important popular movements:

A meeting held on the eve of the anniversary was attended by less than 1,000 persons and failed to stir up any excitement whatever.

Two meetings were scheduled for the anniversary day. One of these was called off on receipt of news from California, and instead of the expected demonstration against America a message of sympathy was drafted and cabled to Santa Barbara. There were less than 200 at the other meeting. Speakers insisted that it was necessary to remember the American exclusion act as an insult to Japan, but their oratory met with no response. The few hundred handbills circulated were very mild, insisting that the Japanese are not hostile to America but merely want Americans to realize that they still feel hurt about being singled out as they were for special exclusion.

So that's that. Our own jingoies are welcome to whatever agitation and alarm they can get out of it.

A NATIONAL BOYCOTT
British trade is hard hit by the "Chinese wars." The Chinese mode of warfare in this case as in others of recent occurrence, uses hardly any weapon but the passive and pacific boycott.

The British economic situation was already bad enough before this Chinese trouble started. Foreign trade was slow and British industries were idle. China is normally one of Britain's best customers. When the Chinese stopped buying British products, in retaliation for what they regarded as British exploitation of Chinese labor, unfair control of Chinese territory and other disregard of Chinese rights, that hit the British nation where it lives.

So the British government is likely to be in a more tractable mood from now on, as regards concessions to China.

That same procedure is thought to have been the leading factor in persuading the Japanese to give up Shantung and restore it to China, when they would gladly have kept it for themselves after taking it from Germany. They could afford a Chinese boycott for their goods even less than Great Britain can.

As the world grows more industrial and commercial, it may be that a popular boycott of an offending nation's products will be found almost invariably more effective than military force, and the gradual transition to a state of universal peace may come about in this way.

AMUSEMENTS

Broadway Today
Knowledge instead of ignorance! Frankness instead of cowardly secrecy!

At last a motion picture that comes forth without mincing matters and shows us in smashing dramatic terms how mothers of America can better safeguard their daughters—and their sons as well—by taking them into their confidence and revealing to them the fundamental truths of life! The picture is "The Dangerous Flirt," to be shown at the Broadway theatre today and in which beautiful Evelyn Brent steps forth as a full-blown star—a position won by brilliant work in some of the best photoplays of the last few years. "The Dangerous Flirt," from the pen of Julie Herne, sets forth the argument that disaster will dog the footsteps of a young woman who goes forth into life ignorant of life's fundamental truths. It contends in scathing dramatic sequences, that mothers and fathers as well should take their children into their confidence

In Love With Love, local picture goers will be given the opportunity to view a most diverting study in the modern tendencies of flappers to indulge too freely in love affairs and it is said a vitally important object lesson is presented although the one purpose of this comedy drama is to thoroughly amuse.

"In Love With Love" is an adaptation from the successful stage play by Vincent Lawrence. Also comedy, The Human Monkeys. Don't miss them.

METEOR WEIGHING TWO MILLION POUNDS FALLS

MOSCOW, July 13.—A white-hot meteor, the size of a small house, falling in a field near the village Lysva, in the province of Perm, has aroused alarm among the peasantry. The star fragment, estimated at 400 cubic yards, and weighing more than 1,000 tons, buried itself almost out of sight in the hard earth. The shock of its collision with the earth was felt a distance of fifty miles away.

Last year there were approximately 2,200 freshmen, but a considerable number were second year freshmen or students from other states. High school graduates are already sending in their credits entitling them to enter the university, and it is stated that registration will be greatly facilitated if credits are mailed in as soon as possible.

SNYDER GRVELING ROAD TO RECEIVE ASPHALT TOP

SNYDER, July 13.—The city of Snyder is resurfacing Highway No. 7 with gravel within the city limits. This work is being done in order to prepare the road for the coat of asphalt and gravel to be placed on this highway by the state highway department within the next few days. There is a fraction more than two miles of this highway within the city limits and the resurfacing will cost the city approximately $5,000, according to a statement made by City Alderman F. G. Sears. The city is making water extensions at each street intersection to the property line, in those sections of the city where the water is not now being used. Sewer extensions are being made only where the property owners of that immediate section desire it.

- "You ride on a cushion of air."
- "Ruts and bumps are smoothed out."
- "The car and its occupants are protected from jolts and jars."

- "On uneven roads where ordinary tires bounce, these flexible low-air pressure tires roll over the bumps, permitting better average speed."
- "Save repairs."

Low-Air Pressure is the Answer

These were the things that car owners wanted. The things that made them demand balloon tires. Read them and then ask yourself how you can get them except in a tire that can be run at low enough air pressure to provide a soft air cushion between the car and the road.

Some car owners have been sold the balloon principle and then handed the name only.

Just a big, round, fat tire with the name "Balloon" on it will not necessarily give low-air pressure riding comfort.

The original ideal of the industry was a flexible side wall, low-pressure tire.

Yet today some "balloon" tires must be run at too high pressure for ideal cushioning, as they wear out too fast when they are run soft.

It is important to you as a car owner to remember this fact.

The United States Royal Balloon is spoken of as the "Balloon Tire Principle at its Best", because it can be run at low-air pressure without injury.

It is built of Latex-treated Web Cord which provides the necessary strength and flexibility.

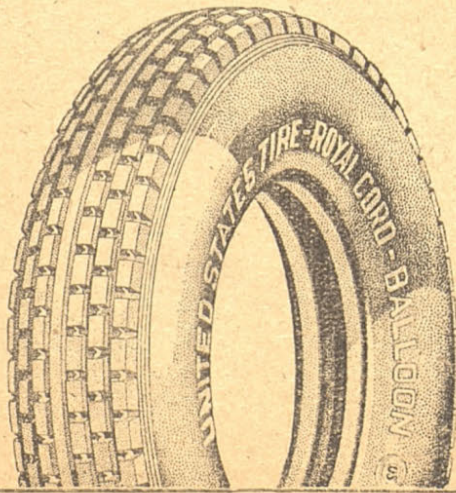

It has the U.S. Low-Pressure Tread which wears slowly and evenly and eliminates early, uneven and unsightly wear.

Specify U.S. Royal Balloon Cords and be sure of true low-pressure cushioning.

THE KATY'S YOUR RAILROAD

Rates on Agricultural Products Are Relatively Low

The Katy receives an average of less than seven mills for hauling a ton of wheat one mile. On agricultural and animal products, in 1924, the freight charges averaged 6.41 per cent of their value, on mineral products, 44.4 per cent, on forest products, 23.5 per cent.

Rate Reductions Save Shippers $1,500,000 a Day

Railroad rates reached their peak in 1920. They have since declined steadily. Rate reductions in the three-year period since 1921 are saving shippers $1,547,264 a day. Average railroad revenue for hauling a ton of freight one mile in 1924 was 12 1/2 per cent less than in 1921, and 6 1/2 per cent less than in 1922. As a result of rate reductions and increased wages, the railroads did not earn, in 1924, the "fair return" on their tentative valuation to which they are entitled under the law. Western railroads earned only 4.64 per cent on their valuation. Rate re-adjustments and wage increases in 1924 reduced the net income of Western railroads $102,000,000.

M-K-T revenues were reduced $1,543,473 in 1924 through lower rate levels. Despite decreased rates and higher wages, the management, through increased operating efficiency, has steadily raised the standard of Katy service. Over the last four-month period, 98.2 per cent of all Katy passenger trains have made scheduled time. In freight service, for the same period, 96.9 per cent of all scheduled merchandise package cars arrived at destination on time.

The Katy—the pioneer line in its distinctive territory, and the only line serving all the more important centers in Oklahoma and Texas from both Kansas City and St. Louis—solicits your support and earnest co-operation in its ever-vigilant efforts to afford the Great Southwest a measure of service commensurate with its industrial, civic and commercial growth.

But such heartaches don't have to be put up with. Any boy or girl who is troubled with these skin blemishes can get rid of them if they will just use Black and White Ointment and the Soap. The fact that they sell at the tremendous rate of more than two million packages a year shows how popular they are. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. Any dealer can supply you with both the Ointment and the Soap. The 50c size Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size.
