

OKLAHOMA ELIMINATES SENATOR GORE

LEAGUE OF NATIONS TO BE INDORSED BY AMERICAN BAR ASS'N.

Majority Committee Report Will So Recommend and That It Be Without Amendment—Two Members Will Submit a Minority Report, Taking the Negative.

Associated Press. ST. LOUIS, Aug. 4.—Ratification of the peace treaty, including the League of Nations covenant, without amendments, will be recommended at the convention of the American Bar Association here, August 25 to 27, inclusive. The recommendation will be in the majority report of a special committee appointed to consider the treaty.

The committee which signed the report was composed of Edgar A. Ransford of Chicago, William H. Wadhams of New York and the late Frederick N. Judson, of this city.

Charles Blood Smith of Topeka, Kan., and Henry St. George Tucker, of Lexington, Va., will present a minority report, in which they assert they are "unable to concur" with the majority committee.

Sections of reports to be presented at the convention have been received by members of the local arrangements committee. The reports treat of various subjects.

"Your committee is of the opinion that the treaty, including the proposals for a League of Nations, should be ratified without amendment," the majority report on the treaty declares. "The world is anxious to return to a more settled condition which awaits the termination of the great war. If amendments are proposed by the United States, other governments would undoubtedly propose amendments, and it is unlikely that a second conference would produce a more satisfactory treaty."

"It is particularly fitting that the United States should support the proposal for this league. The league is based upon our own experience in a federation of states enjoying liberty and peace. It has been our high destiny to join with our allies in preventing the destruction of liberty and establishing it as the governing principle in the life of the states."

"Upon entering the war we expressed it as our desire and purpose to secure not only for ourselves, but for all nations of the world, an enduring peace, based upon those principles of liberty and of justice which we enjoy. The league is organized for that purpose. Should the United States refuse to enter the league it would defeat its organization; should the United States join, it gives the best assurance of its success."

Dealing with the subject of amendments and reservations, the reports reiterate that amendments are destructive to the pact, and emphasizes that only "interpretative reservations should be admitted."

Another report suggests that the election of the president of the United States should be by popular vote.

It is particularly fitting that the United States should support the proposal for this league. The league is based upon our own experience in a federation of states enjoying liberty and peace. It has been our high destiny to join with our allies in preventing the destruction of liberty and establishing it as the governing principle in the life of the states.

Upon entering the war we expressed it as our desire and purpose to secure not only for ourselves, but for all nations of the world, an enduring peace, based upon those principles of liberty and of justice which we enjoy. The league is organized for that purpose. Should the United States refuse to enter the league it would defeat its organization; should the United States join, it gives the best assurance of its success."

WHEAT TAKES TURN UPWARD AND GAINS OVER FIFTEEN CENTS

Associated Press. CHICAGO, August 4.—Wheat made a steep advance in price as the result of increased speculative buying, stimulated by European war talk. A little over an hour saw an extreme upward swing of fifteen cents per bushel. March delivery touching $2.30, against $2.15 at yesterday's finish.

The market bounced up again toward the last, closing nervous and virtually at the topmost of the day. March at $2.30 1-2, a net advance of 17 1-2 cents for today. December climbed to $2.30, but finished at $2.29.

NOTIFY THE MANAGER AND 'PHONE WILL BE CONNECTED AT ONCE

Out of the more than 700 telephones in the city, every one of which was put out of commission a week ago last Sunday night, only about seventy remain unconnected. The work of making new connections and installing a switchboard in the company's new building has been carried out in record time.

Manager Pettit said today they are connecting the remaining 'phones just as rapidly as they can locate them and he would like persons whose 'phones are not connected to call No. 259 and the line will be connected up at once. It is hard to determine what numbers are still missing and if persons having 'phones not yet connected will call the number named, it will greatly facilitate winding up the work and in a very short time every 'phone in the city will be working.

JOHN T. ROBINSON, LAND COMMISSIONER, SPENDS DAY IN CITY

John T. Robinson, commissioner of the state land office, was here from Austin a short time today calling on friends. He made a short trip south, returning here this afternoon. Mr. Robinson has been commissioner of the land office so long that "the memory of a man runneth to the contrary," and he enjoys such a wide acquaintance over the state and has so many friends and so efficiently has he conducted the affairs of the office, that efforts to defeat him always fail.

States and his inauguration were brought nearer together, and that the short session of the old congress be abandoned. The interval between the election and inauguration of a president, this report declares, is a "serious evil, fraught with much danger, because, if an administration is discredited by a popular vote of want of confidence, the prestige of the government at home and abroad is weakened and there is danger of humiliation and disaster to the republic."

The report does not recommend any other date for the election or the inauguration. Recommendation that the making of rules for the conduct of aviation be held in abeyance until airplanes become more numerous is set forth in another report.

The committee on international law will present a report which states that, after outlining developments of the reconstruction period, it "finds little to record of wise and final adjustment or of complete accord." Commenting on the meeting of the organization committee of the permanent court of international justice under the League of Nations, the report says: "At last a body distinctly legal, a body of our cloth and profession, is seeking, and is given an opportunity to organize international justice and prepare for its enforcement in the world."

A large number of prominent speakers are expected to address the association, including Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador to the United States; Franklin K. Lane, former secretary of the interior; Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, former United States senator, and Judge Ben B. Lindsey, of Denver, Hampton L. Carson, of Philadelphia, is president of the association.

Sections of the association will meet simultaneously with the parent organization, as follows: Comparative law, judicial section, legal education, patent, trade-mark, and copyright law, and public utility law.

A number of important allied bodies also will meet here in conjunction with the convention. They include the National Conference of Commissioners on Uniform Laws, Conference of Delegates from State and Local Bar Associations, Association of American Law Schools, and the National Association of Attorneys-General.

HARDING'S SECOND FRONT PORCH TALK DEVOTED TO LEAGUE

Says Appeals to Classes Is Only to Surrender Nationality to Internationality—Discusses the Legal Phases of the League—Talked to Wayne County Republicans.

Associated Press. MARION, O., Aug. 4.—Appeals to classes as menace is only to surrender nationality to internationality, said Senator Harding in his second front porch speech today. He declared if he could close but the one, he would "rather have industrial and social peace at home than to command the international peace of the world."

He asserted it would be unwise for the United States to permit "our activities in seeking peace in the old world to blind us to the essentials of peace at home," and added "if Americans be made to forget the attempted barter of nationality, well and good," but that "when nationality is surrendered to internationality, little else matters, and all appeal is vain." He addressed Wayne county republicans today.

Discussing the legal phase, Senator Harding declared it to be the other extreme and should go to a referendum on the proposed declaration it would, he said, be emphatically agreed that "no other authority other than congress may call our boys to battle and accepting this truth, why make a covenant which violates the good faith of nations and suppose, under Article X, a program of armed force is agreed upon and congress declines to respond; the executive would be called upon to carry on war with the constitutional right, or we should approve our compact as no more than a scrap of paper. We are on both side, safely and honorably to hold for ourselves the decision our obligations to the world."

CHANGE FOR REFEREE TO MAKE SOME MONEY UNDER MICHIGAN LAW

Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Jack Dempsey will risk losing the heavyweight championship by a referee decision when he fights Billy Miske on Labor Day, unless the plans are changed, for under the Michigan law no decision is allowed, and the promoter has announced that the state boxing commission has assured him a decision will be allowed.

U. S. ALIVE TO TRADE "BOOM" IN CHINA, IS REPORT OF BRITISH

By William L. Mallabar International News Service Staff Cor. LONDON, Aug. 4.—That there are evidences of a great trade boom in China and that America is taking full advantage of it—the warning embodied in a report from Shanghai to a leading news association here.

According to the report China is beginning to awaken to a knowledge of her immense possibilities and there is an immediate demand for engines, rails, railway rolling stock, motor cars, agricultural machinery and hardware.

It is stated that a big American syndicate is engaged in an extensive publicity campaign. Their commercial propaganda is said to include moving picture shows demonstrating the uses of easily transportable goods and extends to the itinerant story teller—one of the features of Chinese life—who relates wonderful tales regarding the uses and advantages of American made goods.

Part of the report is a warning to British traders that native newspapers and propaganda printed in the vernacular are useless as a medium for reaching the vast masses of the people, as even the most prosperous cultivators are unable to read or do not read newspapers.

Commercial travelers speaking the language and penetrating to the villages and towns are stated to be the only means by which the suitability of Western goods to his needs can be brought home to the average citizen of China.

PITIABLE SIGHT, BUT IT WAS PART OF THE SHIFTING POLITICS

Associated Press. BERLIN, August 4.—A little gray-haired, sharp-featured woman stepped briskly up the steps towards the speaker's desk in the Reichstag. Tired after a long acrimonious debate on Germany's shattered resources between the former imperial finance minister, Helfferich, and the present holder of that office, Dr. Wirth, most deputies were smoking democratic pipes in the vast, red-carpeted lobby, whilst jaded reporters lunched on black bread sandwiches in the press gallery.

Attention, however, at once became riveted on the frail figure in drab, unfashionable clothes, which oddly contrasted with the gaudily curved and gilded figures of the autocratic womanhood that support the ceiling.

The speaker was Clara Zetkin, the first communist member of the German parliament. Members came trooping back to listen to the newcomer's maiden speech.

One could not escape from a sense of extreme contrast which she presented to the former speaker, Helfferich, a rigid Prussian type, with his haughty, staccato voice, quick as lightning at mordant repartee, a representative of a system that is dead and gone, and this earnest little woman, yet curiously awkward at meeting matter-of-fact speakers from a chance heckler.

Clara Zetkin opened a perspective of a future Germany which would be closely allied with soviet Russia, a Germany where a revolutionary dictatorship would hold sway; where the bourgeoisie would be forced to surrender arms to the proletariat, where everyone would be compelled to work where large states would be divided among the peasantry.

The house smiled tolerantly; the extreme radicals alone cheered.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE IS ONE OF THE WORRIES BESETTING GOV. COX

Associated Press. DAYTON, Aug. 4.—Following a restful night at his farm nearby, Governor Cox today faced another day's effort to clear his desk before the notification ceremonies Saturday.

He is expected to give further consideration to the woman suffrage fight in Tennessee and is considering how he may swing the tide from indicated defeat to victory there.

GOOD RAINS IN WEST TEXAS INSURE FINE CROPS OF ALL KINDS

Special to the News. STAMFORD, August 4.—A three-hour penetrating rain, gauging .70 inch, fell throughout the Stamford trade territory yesterday, insuring record maize, feterita, sudan and cotton crops.

Reports to the West Texas chamber of commerce indicate bountiful precipitation at Haskell, Hamlin, Spur and Anson. Rain was beginning to be needed at Spur. If worms remain away from Jones county cotton, and none are now expected this late in the season, the average production per acre may reach three-fourths of a bale, according to reliable figures here.

BUILDING ROAD TO HILBURN FIELD IS BEING DISCUSSED

At Meeting of Chamber of Commerce and Production It Was Stated the Route Had Not Been Decided Upon—This Will Probably Be Determined Today—Money Any Time.

There was a large attendance last night at the regular meeting of the chamber of commerce and production. The members of the board of directors were present as were many of the members and a number of men residing along the route of the road from Cisco to the Hilburn field who had come to find out why the work was not in progress and to learn what steps were being taken for the construction of the road.

This road was the principal theme for discussion at the meeting last night. It was disclosed that all the money needed had not been subscribed, but this was not considered a matter of delay, as it is understood this will be forthcoming when needed.

It appears the chamber of commerce and production had been waiting on the Humble company to determine what route it desired the road to follow, as it had its engineers go over two or three routes and inasmuch as this company has agreed to donate a sum equal to all that shall be subscribed by Cisco citizens, its wishes in the matter should be deferred to.

Stuart L. Williams was appointed at the meeting last night to confer with the Humble company and learn if a route had been decided upon. Mr. Williams conferred with the management of the company this forenoon and learned that this had not been determined, but he is to meet them again today and he said at noon he thought it would be definitely settled some time today.

So far as the discussion went at the meeting last night, there is no other cause of delay. More than two weeks ago County Judge Starnes and Commissioner Eppler signified a willingness to loan for use in the construction of this road, all necessary machinery, engines and tools.

Other matters of a minor nature, including one of issuing a booklet advertising Cisco, were discussed at the meeting last night.

MARKET IS EXCITED WHEN WHEAT PRICES FLUCTUATE WIDELY

Associated Press. CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—Excited general selling brought a sensational smash in the price of wheat today.

The market opened eight to thirteen cents lower, December selling at $2.16 to $2.21, and March $2.21.

Most of the selling is said to have resulted from country holders anxious to turn their wheat into cash.

In a few minutes, however, the market rebounded as much as eleven cents in some cases.

POLISH SITUATION IS BECOMING ACUTE; CALL AMBASSADORS

Expected Warsaw Will Be Evacuated by Poles in Two or Three Days—Bolsheviks Shooting All Military Subjects of the Allies—White Collar a Death Warrant.

BULLETIN Associated Press. PARIS, August 4.—In view of the Polish situation urgent telegrams were sent to allied ambassadors, including the American ambassador, asking them to return to Paris for their vacations for a meeting of the ambassadorial council tomorrow.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—England is irritated over believed soviet Russia's equivocation over the British suggestion that the Russians halt at the armistice line in Poland and begin peace negotiations. The note demands a yes or no answer, whether they intend to listen to the suggestions.

It is reported the note contains no threats and is not in the nature of an ultimatum, but simply requesting a quick answer of the soviet's intentions. The silence of officials at Warsaw has been broken but dispatches today contained little to indicate the situation. The dispatches indicate the British mission is still at Warsaw, but might leave. Unconfirmed reports are that the British and French missions have departed.

White Collar Death Warrant Associated Press. ALLENSTEIN, East Prussia, Aug. 4.—Threats by Russian soviet forces to execute instantly any military subjects of the allied powers crossing the front is reported by refugees from the east.

The interallied commission announced that no persons will be permitted to enter any Russian controlled zone. Refugees say the bolsheviks are shooting all land owners and others suspected of having money.

Wearing a white collar is said to be sufficient evidence for the death warrant.

KANSAS MINERS ARE ORDERED TO RETURN TO WORK, END STRIKE

Associated Press. INDIANAPOLIS, Aug. 4.—President Lewis, of the United Mine Workers of America, today sent a telegram to 33 locals in Kansas, instructing the miners to return to work and end the strike. There are said to be 3,800 miners on strike at 33 mines in that state.

SCOTT FERRIS WINS SENATE RACE FROM GORE IN OKLAHOMA

Latest Returns Show That Blind Senator Is Beaten by More Than Twenty-Three Thousand. Governor Allen of Kansas Renominated by Vote of Over Six to One.

Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 4.—With a few additional returns from yesterday's primary, there is no change at noon on the early tabulation by the Daily Oklahoman.

Unofficial, incomplete returns, show that Representative Scott Ferris is leading Senator T. P. Gore by approximately twenty thousand votes for the democratic senatorial nomination.

Scattered returns continue to show Representative Harrold in the lead for the republican senatorial nomination. The outcome of both the republican and democratic contests in the various congressional districts is still indefinite.

Associated Press. TOPEKA, Kan., Aug. 4.—Governor Allen is leading his opponent, George Snow, six to one, for re-nomination, on the face of the noon returns at the republican state headquarters.

MEMPHIS IS BUILDING MANY HOUSES, DEMAND FOR GOOD HOTEL THERE

Special to the News. MEMPHIS, August 4.—Memphis is rapidly growing in commercial enterprises and enjoying a prosperous time. Thirty new residences are being erected, a number which, it has been estimated by the Hall county chamber of commerce, will not be sufficient for the constantly increasing demands. GOVERNOR CANTU IS TRYING TO BORROW MONEY OF 'CHINKS'

Associated Press. MEXICO CITY, Aug. 4.—Mobilization of only three thousand men to use against Governor Cantu, of Lower California, was ordered by the government, according to a statement by Secretary of War Calles. It was declared more troops would be dispatched, if necessary. This indicated that the rebellion is not considered of great importance.

General Lucio Blanco, General Candido Aguilar, former governor of Veracruz and son-in-law of Carranza, and Gustavo Espinosa Mireles, former governor of Coahuila, are believed to have joined Governor Cantu, says the newspaper El Universal, quoting official advices.

THE WORLD'S LOSS

The candidate for president on the Farmer-Labor ticket no doubt believed he was going to get the administration at Washington "in bad" when he sent a communication to Senator Harding, the republican candidate, informing him that a secret agreement existed between Poland and the United States, whereby the latter was sending to the Poles large quantities of guns, munitions and supplies from France, where those had been left at the close of the world war and was receiving but little, if any, pay for them.

of the bolshevik army in Poland would mean not only the salvation of that people, but it would be a long step forward in the war of annihilation the allies will have to wage on the bolshevik before the world will be made "safe for democracy" and liberty given all peoples.

The greatest slavery ever known is that being exercised by the bolshevik. Even those composing it are in slavery of the worst sort. It is the greatest regime of oppression and suffering ever recorded in history.

Had all this been true, had the United States and others of the allies, furnished the Poles with unlimited guns and all else needed for the prosecution of a successful war, and even loaned them armies, in their heroic struggle against the Russians, would that not have paid the world returns one thousand fold?

While Great Britain and France, the two active allies in Europe, are talking and planning the bolshevik are devastating Poland. Word comes now that Warsaw will be evacuated, the Poles having fought to the last ounce of their resistance and with the promised aid still far away.

Neglect in coming to the aid of the Poles means not only that Poland will be the sufferer, but the whole world. This was a time to strike a blow at bolshevism which would lessen the effort necessary to destroy it, an effort that must be put forth later.

The overthrow of Poland by the Russian hordes but means a great advance for bolshevism, the greatest menace of the world today.

The defeat and the destruction

FIRE PREVENTION

The forestry department of the federal government has worked incessantly for many years to prevent forest fires. Results of that effort have been observed in the decreased losses of timber.

vention" day, particularly in the cities where areas are limited and there is constant temptation to throw aside trash, rather than destroy or remove it.

But the department has not ceased its efforts. It has rather widened the scope of its campaign of education in this direction. It has found that results may be obtained and maintained by following the successful advertiser's motto, "keeping everlastingly at it."

There has been a wonderful improvement in the city of Cisco in this direction and to such an extent has it gone that the percentage of fire hazard has been wonderfully reduced, but there is yet room for improvement.

As this rule is applicable on the part of the government, in preventing forest fires, how much more closely should it be observed in towns and cities in the protection of individual property. Texas has a "fire prevention" day and on that date there is a general cleaning up of premises and trash and everything tending to increase the fire hazard is gathered up and carted away.

It may be noted in this connection that, in Cisco, buildings are now being erected under better regulations to prevent fires and there is a disposition on the part of many citizens to not only keep their premises clean, but to take all precautions possible against fire, one lumber company noted, going to the expense of surrounding its yards with a wall built of fire-proof tile, a provision which will not only prove a protection to its own property, as well as that of its neighbors, but will be a paying investment in the way of lowering the insurance rate on its property.

REAL EFFICIENCY

Years ago the system upon which the government did business was always being pointed out as an example for the business man. Perhaps in that day the government had a system better than others, because others had none at all.

An evidence of this has been witnessed in Cisco. Following a destructive fire ten days ago, when the serving telephone company was left without a "phone connection in the city, today the exchange is in working order with but a very few 'phones unconnected.

But as the commercial and manufacturing interests grow and developed, after many losing experiments, they evolved system in the full meaning of the word. Then followed efficiency and the securing of the experts to correctly carry out that system.

That was both system and efficiency. For each detail of the work there was a fully trained man. He was placed at that part of the work which he knew how to perform. It was not only the application of the old adage of "many hands make light work," but it was the system, the trained men, the efficiency acquired through system and proper direction, that made possible the rapid completion of this great task.

Today the great commercial and manufacturing industries of the country, the railway, banking and other business concerns, and the public service corporations, in their systems and the carrying out of these, spell efficiency all the time.

If you would pay your bills promptly, possibly the other fellow would take the hint and do likewise.

WHAT KEEPS BOLSHIEVISM GOING IN RUSSIA.

The puzzle of what keeps bolshevism going in Russia is not answered by anything the outside world is able to learn about it. John Alleyne Gade, who was United States commissioner to the Baltic provinces, has written of "Bolshevism from the Inside" in the Atlantic and given, from personal observation, full confirmation of the many accounts the world has had of how bolshevism fails to work on its own soil. It is more autocratic than the government of the czars and apparently as inefficient. It counts in its following a mere fraction of the immense population, and a good part of that population is ruined. Yet bolshevism keeps the unreal phantasmagoria going. That is the puzzle.

Mr. Gade can add little to what has been known. He does show, however, that even the old labor leaders of Russia are convinced of the failure and the crimes of bolshevism and are now arrayed against it. That makes the picture complete, but only adds to the puzzle. Bolshevism seems to have arrayed all classes against it save one. It still has the army, and perhaps that is the answer to the riddle of its continued existence. As long as it can feed and clothe armies by robbing and oppressing the rest of the population it can go on.

That this is its policy and system there seems no doubt. It has ruined industry to recruit labor for military purposes. It has broken down transportation, disorganized agriculture and starved civil populations—reducing them to a soup kitchen condition—to give the red forces full stomachs. Nothing else has counted. Bolshevism is of, by and for the army, and the millions of peasants and workers, being unorganized, ignorant and helpless, stand by and dully stare.

The peasant who was perfectly willing to be a bolshevik as long as he understood that to mean he was to own the land, is beginning to realize he doesn't own it. He took it and has it, but the soviet has refused him title to it—has indeed backed wholly away from its program of land nationalization—and the peasant possessor does not know what day he may be dispossessed as the proprietor was before him. The artisan in the city has had the same disillusionment. The industrial soviet which was to make every workman a partner has broken down. The bourgeoisie has even been called back in some instances to run industry, where it was necessary industry should continue, which is about as full a confession of failure as bolshevism could make.

The only place, in fact, where the soviet has hung on and functioned at all is in the political department. Government is its citadel, and Lenin and Trotsky will keep it entrenched there as long as the firing squad has a round of cartridges left.

The process, as Mr. Gade shows, is one of constantly widening and deepening oppression. The central authority has taken over everything, and gives back free soup where necessary. Russia, an agricultural empire, would starve under the paralysis of bolshevism except for government soup. Graft, bribery, profiteering and all degrees of robbery, from violence to pilfering, are rampant. And strangely, incredibly it goes—"ca ira," as the French bolshevik sang more than a century ago. It goes, apparently because the red armies like their new form of industry better than the old. They would rather fight and loot and live in camp than to be artisans and peasants.

The soviet government is shrewd enough to pay out the rein to this frisking horse. As long as the government can keep the army going it can keep itself going. Peace has no attraction for professional sovietism, which neither wants to face a disbanded red army nor a population of disillusioned workers and peasants presenting the promissory notes of bolshevism passed out so liberally by Lenin and Trotsky in the last three years.—Kansas City Star.

"SOFT" LIVING
The physical culture director of a big athletic club believes that financial prosperity is producing physical bankruptcy. Both men and women, he says, are living "too soft," eating too much, sleeping too much and exercising too little. Even when the business and professional people do design to exercise, he says, they merely play at it.

He does not share the ordinary golf devotee's belief that that sport is all-sufficient. It is all right in its way, he admits. But "it is only one of the many good things to keep a man fit. It will not make him fit or keep him there if everything else is disregarded." The main thing, he urges, is regular and sufficient physical exertion. "Keeping fit and getting fit means daily vigilance. It should be as much a part of the day's regime as meals, business and sleep. Spasmodic fits of it will only tire one out, and do nothing for the health." Many a man learns by hard exercise the truth of the last statement, but fails to make the proper application to his future conduct. "A week's hard work on a farm or in a garden, or a similar spasm of tramping or boating, or any other kind of strenuous effort, may nearly kill a man who is not accustomed to such exertion."

There is no use in the ordinary person in business or professional life keeping himself as "hard as nail." There is, however, a great deal of use in taking enough regular exercise, for better still doing enough useful physical work to keep the bodily organs functioning properly, and insure well-digested meals and sound sleep. For without good digestion and refreshing sleep mental work cannot be efficient and one's life is pleasant.—Santa Rosa (Chilif) Press-Democrat.

PEOPLE'S FORUM

CONCERNING THE ELECTION.

To the Editor of The News:
To the voters of commissioner's precinct No. 4, and especially to my friends who were so faithful during the campaign, I thank you for your support. I also thank Mr. Fisk for the nice things he said about me in his "An Explanation."

After waiting, watching and listening to see what I could see and hear what I could hear and the smoke of the battle have lifted a little, it is simply remarkable at the nice things said about me. I will not take space to enumerate these things. But after all this, I feel like I am the victim of a crook, though I believe it was an honest mistake in the printers. Yet, in either case, it all fell on me. I greatly desire to treat it as a mistake.

My friends, some of them, are red with color over the matter. Here are some of the things my friends have urged he do: Throw it out; contest it; file suit for damages. But I have begged them to allow me to let it go and thereby create no disturbance. My main object is to keep from doing something wrong. I had rather be right than to have the office the rest of my days, but I would like to have a square deal, but don't see how to get it without hurting someone else. So I beg my friends to accept the situation, pass it up, and let it go.

I would like to have my $15 back I paid to have my name printed on the official ballot, but it was not on only a part of them.

Now, in conclusion, will say: If any have said or done me a wrong, I freely forgive all. The future holds too much in stake for me not to do so; not only the near, but the distant future. Let's all be friends.

Yours truly,
J. D. MANN,
Cisco, Texas, Aug. 3, 1920.

And It's Coming
An increase of 1,000,000 bales in the prospective production of cotton over the indicated yield a month ago was forecast Monday by the department of agriculture. A total of 12,519,000 bales was estimated from the condition of the crop July 25, while 11,519,000 bales was forecast from the condition June 25. A 12,000,000-bale crop at 40 cents should place plenty of money in the pockets of the southern cotton growers.—Fort Worth Record.

Making Future Leaders
Commenting on the departure of the seven Tarrant county farm boys, who are to make the trip on the Texas Farm Boys' special, a Tarrant county farmer remarked that there was nothing of that kind when he was a boy. "Why," he said, "a trip like that would have been impossible ten years ago." That's the plain truth. And nothing could emphasize the importance of the whole movement of which this trip is a part more than that. The full results of the work among farm boys and girls will not be seen until the next generation, but there cannot be the least doubt that those results will be enormous. For it is not only making these boys into efficient farmers of the very highest type, but it is developing future rural leaders.

BITS OF HUMOR

He Wanted to Know
A man got into a cab at the Richmond railway station and said: "Drive me to a haberdasher's."

"Yaas, sub," said the driver, whipped up his horse and drove a block; then leaning over to address his passenger, said: "Excuse me, boss, but whar d'yu say you want'er go?"

"To a haberdasher's."

"Yaas, sub, yaas sub." After another block there was the same performance. "Excuse me boss, but whar d'yu say you want'er go?"

"A haberdasher's," was the some what impatient reply.

Then came the final appeal. "Now look-a-here, boss, I be'n drivin' in dis town twenty years, and I ain't never giv' nobody away yit. Now you jes' tell dis nigger whar 't is you want'er go?"—Minnesota Foolscap.

The railroad official invited the stern citizen to communicate his troubles.

"I want you to give orders," demanded the visitor, "that the engineer of the express which passed through Elm Grove at 11:35 be restrained from blowing his whistle on Sunday mornings."

"Impossible!" exploded the official. "What prompts you to make such a ridiculous request?"

"Well, you see," explained the citizen, in an undertone, "our pastor preaches until he hears the whistle blow and that confounded express was twenty minutes late last Sunday."—New York Central Magazine.

HOW SOME CANDIDATES SPENT CAMPAIGN MONEY
Another incident that will show one of the reasons for the high cost of running for public office, happened to a candidate for one of the offices in Eastland county. This particular candidate was making the rounds in what he thought to be the northern part of Eastland county. He stopped by the side of the road where a cold drink shack was in the process of construction. He observed a little girl playing near the shack and thought that he would make a hit with her by being nice to his little daughter. He went up to the baby and with this most ingratiating and vote-winning smile gave her a quarter, telling her to buy a drink as soon as the place was completed. Being thusly prepared he approached papa

TAD'S TID BITS

FULTON CAN'T STAND THE ROUGH BOYS

Written for International News Service. NEW YORK, August 4.—After his showing with Willis the other night we're convinced that Fulton doesn't like them rough. Willis tore in from the tap of the gong, tossed the tall plaster around a few times and traded lefts and rights.

Fulton backed away from the onslaughts, but smiled, as though he had his man measured. In the next two rounds Willis did the same thing, but instead of getting better Fulton glowed up.

The right hand uppercut he got wouldn't have killed a welter, yet Fulton took the count as though he were dead.

The same thing happened when he fought Dempsey. A great many of the spectators that day failed to see the right hand punch that dropped Frederick, yet both he and Dempsey declare that it landed.

Before the fight the other night the writer saw Dempsey and asked him about Fulton.

"He's a good fighter," said Jack with a grin, "but he's scared of me. I think I'm poison to him. I'd like to take him on again just to prove it to the boys. He thinks he was double-crossed that day. Well, any old time that people want to see us together again I'm willing to start."

Stamford 12, Munday 5

Special to The News.

STAMFORD, August 4.—Stamford easily defeated the crack baseball team of Munday here yesterday in the first day of the fourteen-day baseball carnival by a score of 12 to 5, in which both teams hit unusually lively. Norman for Munday fanned eight, and Hollis for Stamford fanned ten men. Many long hits were recorded, one of which, by Stamford, landed the ball on top of the high school building. Stamford and Munday play two more games, then follow three games each with Rule, LLueders and Hamlin.

The score: R H E Munday 100 210 001—5 9 5 Stamford 200 114 31X—12 15 4 Batteries: Norman and West; Hollis and Rosamond.

WEAR A LOIN CLOTH; CHOKE PROFITEERS

CARDIFF, Wales, August 4.—The mayor of Newport, Peter Wright, has issued a dire threat if the price of clothing does not come down.

Speaking at Abercorn he declared: "I have not purchased a suit of clothes for years, and rather than pay the present prices I will do as the coolies do and simply wear a loin cloth."

"If everybody did this," he added, they would soon settle the profiteers." Mr. Wright recently refused a $30,000 offer for a lecturing tour in America rather than lose the honor of becoming Newport's mayor.

HEARING THE GOSPEL AT AN ALTITUDE OF SIX THOUSAND FEET

Special to The News.

FORT DAVIS, August 4.—Sinners can get "close" to God though they never have a change of heart when the Bleydis camp meeting is held on the Skillman camp grounds 6,000 feet above sea level near here, beginning August 18, and continuing through six days according to the West Texas chamber of commerce. This is the thirty-first annual cattlemen's camp meeting, famed the state over. The galaxy of heavenly ecclesiastical stars who will exhort to sinning men is composed of President J. H. Burma of Waxahachie; Rev. Milo Atkinson and Rev. P. R. Knickerbocker, El Paso; Rev. S. J. Porter, Oklahoma City; Rev. R. L. Irving, Fort Davis.

For all campers free beef will be provided. The camp is located in a cool, invigorating atmosphere, where man can realize again his relation to his Maker. Those who come from a distance are requested to bring plenty of bedding, for it is unusually cool at nights at 6,000 feet in the heavens.

Hundreds of persons annually make pilgrimages to the Skillman camp grounds. Here the tired business man, "the wandering soul" and the faithful Christian spend six days of soul contentment amid the splendors of nature, drinking in nature's flood of curative ozone and basking in the eternal sunlight of God. The meeting is interdenominational.

Registered Pigs Received. Special to The News.

PPADUCAH, August 4.—Nineteen registered pigs have been received here recently for distribution among club boys. Sixteen are gilts of spring farrow and three boars of spring farrow. They came from Liberty, Mo., and represent what leading hog men of Missouri, Nebraska and Iowa are breeding, according to the West Texas chamber of commerce. The total brought in this year now reaches forty registered gilts and six registered boars.

DAKOTA FARMERS TO AUCTION A RECORD CROP OF WOOL SOON

International News Service.

FARGO, N. D., August 4.—Co-operative farmers' auctions will be a unique feature of the marketing of North Dakota's wool crop this year. Sheep shearing is over. Though the exact figures are available, it is estimated the clip will total 3,000,000 pounds. It is expected to be the largest wool crop in the history of the state.

Under the direction of county agents farmers will assemble their wool in central warehouses in districts throughout the state. There it will be cleaned, sorted and graded under the supervision of experts. Buyers will then inspect it and it will be sold to the highest bidder.

This method of marketing has been tried out in Iowa and Ohio. It is said to have saved the farmers as much as ten cents a pound. If it saves the farmers of North Dakota only five cents a pound it will mean $150,000 in increased profits.

Two reasons are given for the increase in the wool crop. Importations have added one-third to the sheep population of the state in the last year and the standard of flocks has been improved by state distribution among farmers for the last three years of pure bred rams. Large herds of merino grades are run on the ranges in the western part of the state. But the bulk of the wool clip will come from the flocks of small farmers.

BIG TIRE COMPANY SELECTS STAMFORD FOR ITS COTTON MILL

Special to The News.

STAMFORD, Aug. 4.—Stamford has been selected as the location of a $500,000 cotton textile mill by the Continental Tire and Rubber company, according to F. W. Strang, president of the company, in a statement today. The proposed mills would consume 12,000 bales of long staple cotton annually, he said. The company has leased a suite of five rooms in the White Building, installed two stenographers and reported the arrival of several office functionaries.

"Stamford was selected as the location for the first of a chain of cotton mills," Mr. Strang explained, "because the water project at Stamford, which will supply water in quantities for commercial purposes, is nearer completion than any other water project in this section."

"The company will need a certain amount of the product of a cotton textile mill in order to be assured that it will get the best fabric and cord for use in making automobile tires at the Dallas plant of the company. There are only two things needed by this section of the state, and the need of these two things should outweigh every other proposal until Central West Texas has come into its own. Water, first; industries, second. Not many counties can boast a $15,000,000 crop of any kind, as I am told Jones county did last year."

According to a statement of an official of the company today, the site for the proposed mills will be selected to day, when officials and directors of the company from Dallas arrive. The company will build its plant in units, it was stated, and the initial monthly payroll will be around $40,000. The pipe line from town to the lake, seventeen miles distant, has already been laid. The lake would have been completed August 1, but for a sudden, destructive freshet.

IN ITALY THE STATE CARRIES INSURANCE ON FARMERS' STOCK

Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, August 4.—Life insurance for cows, sheep, pigs, horses and other live stock on the farm has been provided for in Italy by government decree. In the past, the Italian farmer carried all his livestock insurance with local mutual benefit insurance companies, which were unable financially to protect him against abnormal death rates due to plague or other calamity. Under the new decree branches of the National Institute for Local Insurance of Livestock will be opened in all important centers, and its large funds will be available for insurance against normal as well as abnormal losses.

To Handle Exhibits. Special to The News.

HASKELL, Aug. 4.—B. M. Whittaker, secretary of the Haskell Chamber of Commerce, has been selected by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce to take one of the two large agricultural displays of West Texas to a series of state and inter-state fairs, according to announcement made today by the organization. The appointment was made by J. C. Wells, exhibit manager, following the inability of Dr. O. H. Lloyd to go because of illness in his family.

To Select Factory Site. Special to The News.

STAMFORD, August 4.—Officials and directors of the Continental Tire and Rubber company are expected here tomorrow for the purpose of making a location for the site of the proposed $500,000 cotton textile mills which the company will build here as soon as material can be assembled, according to an announcement of its president.

HOGGED THE ROAD; GIVEN WIDE BERTH
RUTLAND Vt., August 4.—While touring Northern New England in an auto, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Oberg of Clayton, Mass., came upon a large black animal which completely blocked the roadway through Cavendish Gorge. Said animal took no notice of insistent tootings of the horn and the autoists passed closer, whereupon the animal, a big ugly she-bear, reared on her haunches and offered battle. Brakes and reverse power sent the little auto back to a safe distance. The animal glowered at the couple and when no fight was forthcoming moved into the bushes with her cub.

PERSONAL MENTION

The Woman's Missionary society of the Christian church held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. H. Darnell. "New Emphasis on Trained Leadership" was the topic for study. The meeting was well attended and the discussion most interesting.

Mrs. J. W. Hartman and Mrs. John H. Erwin are visiting at Hot Springs, Ark.

Miss Lucile McCall is spending the week at Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Brecheen departed Sunday for their old home in Bryan, where Mrs. Brecheen will undergo an operation at Bryan hospital. Mr. Brecheen is an employe of the Daily News.

John H. Kelly is home from a business trip to Houston.

Miss Sarah Lee is visiting relatives in Roby.

Dr. C. S. Vance has gone to Bristol, Tenn., after a week's visit in the W. C. Lovelady home at Texarkana.

Dr. H. K. Taylor of Fort Worth, was a Cisco visitor Tuesday in the interest of Texas Woman's college. He expressed pleasure and surprise at the rapid development of Cisco.

Mrs. Charlie Fleming entertained a few friends Tuesday afternoon, with bridge at her home on Avenue H and Fourth street. It was a most delightful afternoon for all present. During the games chocolate was served to the guests and later in the afternoon a delicious salad course was served to the following: Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Alex Spears, Mrs. N. F. Payne, Mrs. H. E. Benham, Mrs. F. E. Wright, Mrs. G. C. Lingle, Misses Bettie Newcomb, Sara Maud Benham, Frances Dorsey, Mary Jane Butts, Mamie Sackett of Abilene, and Miss Richards of Corsicana. Miss Mary Jane Butts won high score. She was presented with a bottle of perfume.

Frank C. Adams, formerly of Belgrade, Mo., has located in Cisco and is now connected with the N. F. Payne insurance agency, having charge of the life department. Mr. Adams, by the way, is a graduate of Harvard and has traveled extensively in this country and Europe. He is much impressed with the business future of Cisco.

Frank Holmes of the Southwestern Adjustment company, and one of the best known insurance adjusters in Texas, is in Cisco to adjust all losses connected with the fire which recently destroyed the telephone building, the Nunn Electric company and the Home Sweet Home restaurant.

The big revival at the Methodist church is growing in interest daily and the seating capacity of the big auditor-

PRINTED MATTER TO ANSWER QUESTIONS ABOUT WEST TEXAS

Special to the News.

STAMFORD, Aug. 4.—The grapes of Eschol brought back from Canada by the Israeliish spies caused no greater sensation than will the agricultural products which the West Texas chamber of commerce will exhibit at sixteen state and interstate fairs of the north, east and south, according to the publicity department of the organization.

J. C. Wells, exhibit and agricultural manager, opens the agricultural "fireworks" next Saturday at the Missouri state fair at Sedalia. Expressed to him from nearly two scores of counties of West Texas products of soil, mines, trees and oil wells are now enroute. Mr. Wells has had extensive experience in arraying products so that they will attract attention. Thousands upon thousands of farmers and others attending these fairs will for the first time in the history of West Texas see products from a virgin country which has almost universally been represented as a Norman's land and desert. The refutation visibly exemplified in the products of this early season will be complete.

To every man seemingly interested in the "newfoundland", Mr. Wells will hand a small pamphlet which in detail tells of the products, resources and opportunities of the west, and gives a list of all the secretaries of West Texas towns from whom more specific information may be obtained by the interested. The seed of truth sown at these fairs is expected to spring up as great immigration plants over the north until the southwest, particularly West Texas, will this fall usher in a wave of new people that will invest in new property, build new homes and erect mighty industrial plants.

As the crop season advances the display larder of the exhibits will be replenished with new and better specimens of the agricultural art, showing versatility of products and land.

LEPER CURE REPORTED FOUND BY HAWAIIAN

International News Service.
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 4.—From the leper colony at Hawaii comes a story direct from Honolulu of a new discovery for the dreaded malady of leprosy.

The new method of healing the disease which has baffled science down through the ages is known as the "Dean" process.

At the Kalih leper receiving station are thirty patients who, it is said, will within a short time walk out of the hospital and return to their homes—cleansed.

The patients have undergone the treatment through the chaulmoogra oil process, which is the result of successful experiments by Dr. Arthur L. Dean, president of the University of Hawaii, and Dr. J. T. McDonald. Through this process the essential remedial elements of the oil have been separated and are used for injection purposes.

It is stated that the Hawaiian board of health, as well as the two physicians, have received letters from all parts of the world asking for information regarding the new method.

ALABAMIAN INVENTS NOVEL WATER WHEEL

International News Service.
MOBILE, Ala., Aug. 4.—A water wheel which is claimed to have cut down the cost of production on farms is an invention of George T. Payne, of Mobile, Ala. Mr. Payne states that the wheel can be operated at a low cost and that it can be used to operate feed cutter, washing machine, churn, lighting or other necessary work on the farm.

The other conveniences afforded by the invention are that it is unaffected by high water and also that the same water may be used more than one time whenever there is a large fall in a very short distance, the inventor states.

"WHAT'S YOUR HUSBAND DOING?"

A Paramount-Artcraft Picture

? He had been "called away on business." But when wife floated into "Honey-suckle Inn" on a little business of her own—Ye gods, what a night! Another side-splitting laugh hit by the stars of "Twenty-three and a Half Hours' Leave."

By George V. Hobart.
