THE CISCO DAILY PRESS

Combined With Cisco Daily News and Cisco American and Round-Up November 1, 1937

In an area of beautiful, benevolent climate, at ideal altitude, blessed with an abundance of the purest, soft lake water, possessing the best in recreational facilities, situated on the Bankhead, all-weather transcontinental route, with two railroads and many highways, Cisco is the best place in Texas to live and to work.

VOLUME XVIII.

CISCO, TEXAS, SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 27, 1938

NUMBER 174

Through the Editor's
Spectacles
By GEORGE

Digging on a vacant lot in the business area Saturday afternoon a quartet of small boys unearthed a molded tombstone bearing the inscription: "Parker Preslar, Died June 20, 1893, Aged 75 Years." Highly excited, they reported their discovery to local officers and to the Cisco Daily Press, describing how they had located a cavity under the stone framed in plank.

Possibility that they might have stumbled upon the site of an ancient cemetery was expressed by some. The date on the tombstone was the same year in which the great Cisco cyclone occurred.

Longtime Cisco residents contacted Saturday could not remember that any cemetery was located on the site, however.

Boys who found the old tombstone were Billy, Tommy and John Barnard, sons of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Barnard, and Burkett Benskin, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Benskin.

Good quality stock always pays, says Leon Maner, who has just recently sold a registered bird-dog pup to a Massachusetts buyer for $20. And our parents used to make us drown puppies!

"That is better than raising sheep," Maner said. The mother of the puppies is owned by J. A. Jensen, and the sire by Mr. Maner.

Thus a moral may be pointed in behalf of raising the best of stock of any character. Highly bred cattle, sheep, goats and other animals as well as dogs, always find a market, whereas scrub stuff must be got rid of as best the owner can. Good stock grows from the same kind of grass and feed that sorry stock eats. The difference is in the breeding.

It may be worth noting that during the last few years the quality of beef cattle in the Cisco section has improved to a great extent. Probably the clean-out of scrub stuff which took place in the early years of the depression when the government purchased and killed such stock, was the beginning of improvement. At any rate ranches hereabout are populated with vastly better quality, while the value of high grade individuals has been emphasized in the production of some of the finest foundation stock in the country on several ranches.

Postmaster Luther McCrea was in receipt of a puzzling request Saturday. I do not mean that the answer to the request would be puzzling at all. On the contrary that is quite simple. But the motive is what stumped the postmaster.

The request was mailed from Giddings, Texas, and a stamped and addressed envelope for reply was enclosed. According to the letter a couple of Giddings swains fell into an argument over whether or not Cisco is a region without girls. One maintained that there are no girls here and declared that whenever a Cisco area man wants a wife he has to go to another country to get her.

"Now I am enclosing a stamped addressed envelope for reply," writes the puzzling correspondent, "telling me which is correct: "No girls" or "plenty of girls!"

McCrea announced that anyone wishing to answer may have the reply envelope.

Eastland County Livestock Show Is Pronounced Success

Interest Greater in Event Than in Many Years

The annual Eastland County Livestock show came to a conclusion Saturday afternoon as a success. More interest was attracted by this year's show than has been the case in many years. The grounds were crowded Saturday for the judging and during the concert which the Lobo band gave at 1:30 o'clock, while Friday afternoon and Friday evening drew large numbers of visitors.

All of the pens set up on the lot across Seventh street from the city hall were full of entries, and the roster included many outstanding individuals.

T. G. Caudle, superintendent of the show, and members of the show committee expressed themselves as well pleased with the outcome.

Judging was done by R. M. Millhollin of San Angelo and Leon Ranson of Taylor county. Prizes were offered by the Cisco Chamber of Commerce.

Following is the list of winners in the various divisions:

Beef Cattle
Hereford — Heifer under one year, Dr. F. E. Clark; cow two years and over, F. D. Wright; champion female, F. D. Wright; bull under one year, Weldon Isenhower, first, Dr. F. E. Clark, sec-

Lobos Play in Consolation Finals

The Cisco Lobos, eliminated from the championship play of the state AAU basketball tournament at Munday in their first game playing Ringgold, Saturday night, had won their way to the finals of the consolations, meeting Sunset for the consolations title.

Game Matched With Weatherford for Lobo Eleven

With the spring training season for the Lobos set to start Monday or Tuesday, Coach J. T. Petty Saturday announced he has matched a non-conference game with the Weatherford high school team here for September 23rd. This is the first of the non-conference series of games which he has arranged, he said. Efforts to secure an opening contest on September 16 will be made.

Meanwhile, completion of the conference schedule for the east half of the now divided Oil Belt district, awaits decision on the request of Mineral Wells high school to be admitted to the area. Hearing was being held on this request at Austin Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Monk left Saturday for a visit in Quanah.

R. F. Blackburn Buried Friday at Gunsight

Funeral services for R. F. Blackburn, 81, pioneer resident of Stephens and Eastland counties, were held Friday afternoon at 3 at Gunsight, the community in which he first settled in west Texas. Death occurred at his home on East Eighth street at 1 a. m. Thursday after an illness of three years. Immediate cause of death was pneumonia.

Services were conducted by the pastor of the Twelfth street Methodist church, of which Mr. Blackburn was a member, and Neil Lane Funeral home was in charge of arrangements for burial in Gunsight cemetery.

Pall bearers were six of Mr. Blackburn's grandsons, Lawson and Buster Hutton, Rankin, Rex and Claude Blackburn and Roy Lee Ayer. Six granddaughters bore the flowers for the services. They were Aileen Hutton, Tessie and Dora Lillian Blackburn, Maudine, and Maxine Marshall and Pearl Ayer.

Survivors include the widow, Mrs. Fannie Blackburn; five sons, Ralston, John, Joe, Frank and Roy

Oplin Strike Improves Deep Oil Outlook Here

FRANCE WILL NOT DESERT SMALL ALLIES

But Will Follow Lead of England in Bids to Dictators

PARIS, Feb. 26 (AP) — Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos, in the first public pronouncement of the French intentions since the rise of the Nazi influence in Austria and Britain's turn toward deals with the dictators, told the chamber of deputies that France would follow England's lead, but would not desert her small friends. Declaring that Austria must be kept independent and warning against any "political hegemony" in central Europe, Delbos made friendly bids to Italy.

Informed political quarters said Delbos undoubtedly was warning Germany that France remained faithful to Austria as well as her little entente allies—Czechoslovakia, Yugoslavia, Rumania.

Bound by Treaties
Under existing treaties France is bound to send military aid to Czechoslovakia in case that neighbor of Germany is attacked. It was that treaty to which Delbos referred when he flatly declared France's obligations to Czechoslovakia "will be faithfully fulfilled." Delbos Saturday told the chamber of deputies the French government was willing to negotiate with Italy for recognition of the Italian conquest of Ethiopia if "present difficulties can be ironed out."

Delbos spoke in the chamber's foreign affairs debate to declare France was in accord with British Prime Minister Chamberlain's policy for reaching peace agreements with Italy and Germany.

Funeral for J. E. Linton at 4 p. m.

Funeral services for J. E. Linton whose death occurred about noon Saturday, will be held at 4 p. m. today at the Church of the Nazarene, with the pastor of the Methodist church of Moran officiating. Burial will be in Oakwood, with Neil Lane Funeral home in charge. One daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Doyle, survives.

Mr. Linton was born August 11, 1871.

Wesley Class In Charge of Program

The Adult department of the Methodist church will meet in the auditorium of the church at 9:40 a. m. today with the Wesley Fellowship class in charge of the program. Miss Dorothy Hampton will read the scripture and C. A. Shockey will give several special musical numbers. Rev. Joe Patterson is the teacher. Following the evening service, the young people will meet with the pastor for an informal discussion and refreshments will be served. The Methodist orchestra directed by Miss Elizabeth Deaton will play.

New Minister for Christian Church Arrives

The Rev. C. W. Lambert of Houston, new minister for the First Christian church, arrived with Mrs. Lambert Friday evening and will preach his first sermon as pastor of the Cisco church this morning. He came to Cisco from the pastorate of the Houston Heights church in Houston.

The Rev. and Mrs. Lambert will make their home in the parsonage of the church, which is a part of the church building.

Edison Says Force Needed for Peace

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — Charles Edison, assistant secretary of the navy told congress today that future peace in the United States depended directly on the maintenance of a defensive force "sufficiently strong, and so expertly trained, that other nations will not risk war with us."

He said that in the face of current international political conditions, "it is certain our naval needs are for parity in strength with other naval powers." He denied the proposed naval expansion was based solely on reports in Italian newspapers that Japan is building 43,000 ton battleships.

SCHOOL COUNT NEXT TUESDAY

Parents Asked to Cooperate Taking of the school census in Cisco will begin Tuesday morning with a corps of picked teachers set to make a sweeping canvass of the district to list all scholastics between the ages of six and 18 years, it was announced Saturday. Every scholastic is worth $22 in state apportionment funds to the district, it was explained, and parents were asked to cooperate to the fullest extent in having their children listed in the census.

Services for Mrs. Mayhew at 2:30 p. m. Today

Mrs. Cordelia Mayhew, 68, widow of A. L. Mayhew, who died at her home here at 2:05 Saturday morning after an illness of seven months, will be buried in Oakwood cemetery beside the body of her husband this afternoon following services at the home, 808 F avenue at 2:30. The Rev. Thomas Lennox, pastor of the First Christian church of Sweetwater and a former pastor of the Cisco church, will officiate. Neil Lane Funeral home is in charge of arrangements for burial.

Mrs. Mayhew's death terminated an illness which began when she fell while working in the yard of her home and fractured her right leg. She remained bedfast the entire time. Her husband, prominent Cisco business man since 1900 and a member of several city commissions, died May 1, 1936.

Pall-bearers for the services this afternoon will be Nick Miller, L. J. Eppler, J. T. Elliott, Floyd Shepard, C. B. Powell and John Hart.

WELL IS RATED AT MORE THAN 1,000 BARRELS

Link Between Farmer Area and New Find Is Seen

Prospects for prolific Ellenberger play in this area were greatly enhanced Friday with the response of the Hal Hughes No. 1 Poindexter, three miles north of Oplin in Callahan county, to an acid treatment of 5,000 gallons. The well, a commercial producer before treatment, was estimated at more than 1,000 barrels per day when it was opened several times to flow through two-inch tubing. It was shut in Saturday, awaiting arrival of storage for a potential test. Pressure when shut in after the well was closed in Thursday was believed to be about 2,000 pounds. Thirty minutes after it was opened Friday afternoon it gauged a pressure of 675 on tubing with an estimated 1,000 pound bottom hole pressure.

The well, located about 35 miles southwest of Cisco, is southwest of the first important Ellenberger discovery in central west Texas made by the Hooke producing and developing company on the Van Farmer tract northwest of Cisco eight miles, and most operators are of the opinion that the two discoveries are on the same trend. The van Farmer well gauged a potential of about 1,200 barrels daily without any treatment. Since then the Lone Star has deepened its Cozart well, 4,000 feet north of the van Farmer for an announced potential of 288 barrels daily. This well was treated with acid.

Second Well
Owners of the Poindexter well announced that they drill a second test to the northeast of the new well to be located on the Tom Windham and Charlie Straley land, operations to begin within two weeks. It will be near the center of the north line of the southwest quarter of Section 369, George Hancock survey.

Production of the Poindexter is from a sandy lime topped at 4,368 feet and drilled to a total depth of 4,389. Location is 350 feet from the northeast corner of Section 350, George Hancock survey. It is in the center of an 8,000-acre block.

Carrier Boys Are Guests of Manager
Carrier boys of the Cisco Daily Press Saturday were guests of their manager, Bobby Grantham, at a supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Grantham, parents of Bobby, and afterwards at the Palace theater for a picture show.

Carriers who attended were Jack Garrett, Roy Lee Taylor, J. B. Duff, McGee Duff, Howard Mayhew, Billy Huffman, Lavon Huddleston, Billy Joe Condon, A. B. Cannon and L. J. Donohoe.

Dry Forces to Meet Thursday at Church of God

The Cisco Dry Forces met at the Church of God Thursday evening to discuss the recent commissioners' court order for an election March 12 on the issue of whether Eastland county shall legalize the sale of 4 per cent beer. The plan outlined at the meeting includes presentation of the question from the dry side through literature, discussion from pulpits of the city and community, and public meetings in various places in the rural districts. This plan covers the northwest district of the county which has been assigned to the Cisco organization. A number of the ministers and other speakers will participate in the meetings during the next two weeks.

MIGHT BE NOMINATED
BOSTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — A declaration that President Roosevelt might be nominated for the third time, but if so, would be defeated, came today from Senator Wheeler, Montana, at a press conference. He said, "If the president is a candidate he undoubtedly would be nominated, but I don't think anyone could be elected for a third term."

AGREEMENT ON TAXES
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 (AP) — The house ways and means committee reached a complete agreement today on the proposed tax revision program after defeating the republican attempt to obtain the repeal of the undistributed profits tax. The bill will probably be brought up on the floor Thursday, Chairman Daughton said.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

Pray now unto the Lord . . . God answered him in the joy of his heart.—Jer. xlii, 3; Ecc. v, 20.

Who sees God near Loseth the speech to speak, in living fear; So joyous is he, so astonished.
 —EDWIN ARNOLD.

If every morning we opened our hearts to God, as we open our windows to the sun and air, God would fill it with that calm, sweet joy which elevates the soul, prevents its feeling the weight of trouble, and makes it overflow with benevolence.
 But joy does not mean levity, witty sayings, or repartee,—it is habitual serenity.

Potential Oil Activity

SUCCESS of the Hal Hughes ordivician well three miles north of Oplin, which Friday was credited with a flow of at least 1,000 barrels daily after a treatment with acid, gives new importance to the potentialities of this section as an Ellenberger producing area.
 For a long while majors and independents alike have looked to deep strata in this and adjoining counties as the source of prolific new production and have spent large sums in exploration. With the finding of more than 1,000 barrels natural flow from untreated Ellenberger lime in the Hickok Producing and Development company's No. 1 Van Parmer, northwest of Cisco eight miles speculation on the trend from that point has favored a northeast by southwest line. The Hughes well on the Ellenberger ranch tends to confirm that opinion, as does the lack of Ellenberger success in the Phillips Petroleum company's Cozart near Scranton and the small showing found in the Hickok Donovan a mile and a half southeast of the company's Van Parmer. These latter wells, geologi-

Weather Delays Operations in Shackelford

ALBANY, Feb. 26 (Sp.)— Shackelford county's oil development received a setback with muddy roads and field operations in most regions are at a standstill with snow the first part of the week and rain Thursday afternoon. Iron Mountain Oil Co. No.
 1, O. E. Beck, with King Sand at 1921 to 1931, turned to lime, is estimated by offset operators at 100 barrels natural daily, flowing by heads, with acid treatment contemplated the well would be good for 500 to 1,000 barrels daily from its present showing. Located in northwest corner B.B.B.&C. Section 162 the new well shows the multiple sand productivity of the country, as the well was destined for Palo Pinto lime at 3200 feet, being east offset to Owens-Sne-bold Oil Corp., No. 1, Hugo B.
 Haterius, pool opener for the Palo Pinto in Shackelford.

cally speaking, are said to be off structure and of value only in helping to define the area of productive drilling.

WHAT the Hughes Poindexter strongly indicates is that ordivician production in this section is not a "freak" but a fact of great potential consequence to the area.
 With its success and the success of wells northwest of Cisco it is entirely probable that there will be a general movement of oil activity back to this part of the state with the prospect of development of substantial character and greatly enhanced business activity. The Wittmer deep well to be drilled north of Putnam will be of much importance in determining the trend and its producing uniformity. Location is on a direct line between the Van Parmer pool and the new Oplin producer.

OTHER OPINIONS

Enviied of the Nation

NEBRASKA is being nationally applauded for its brilliant achievements in the difficult art of self-government. This should and doubtless does make Nebraska proud.
 Californians, to cite a conspicuous example, are proud of their state for its incomparable climate, its matchless scenery and its fertile soil. But those are gifts of Providence for which no credit accrues to California's native sons.

But the citizens of Nebraska have every right to claim credit for that which currently distinguishes their state among its sister commonwealths. Not its natural endowments but the simple possession of good government makes the Cornhusker state the object of envious admiration. Whence does a state derive good government except from the intelligence of its people. We are speaking, of course, of democratic government—not the kind of government in which one super-intelligence does all the thinking.

Although the salient facts have been well publicized, they are worth repeating briefly: Nebraska has no state debt; it has no state income tax and no sales tax, not even a "get tax"; it pays as it goes and a year or so ago built a $10,000,000 capitol without borrowing a dollar. The recipe according to Gov. Cochran is simply this:

Resistance to pressure groups seeking greater expenditures; constitutional and legislative limitations on spending by local subdivisions of government; efficient administration; avoidance of new forms of taxes; the pay-as-you-go plan for all state expenditures.
 These rules are simple when they are put into practice, but the experience of 47 other states shows that it is next to impossible to find means of putting them into practice. Possibly this is because a straight line seldom is the shortest distance between two points in politics. The whole country wonders how Nebraska politicians were brought to the conclusion that it is.—Galveston News.

AUSTIN, Feb. 26 (Sp.)—Con-narrow margin of gain over last

"Le voilé!" said the innkeeper, and he pointed out Jerry just coming in at the door with his wife.
 Cabell wrung Jerry's hand and kissed Polly on both cheeks to the intense pleasure of some native onlookers who had supposed all Americans to be cold and restrained. Jerry asked Cabell to come with them to their room, and presently the two men were deep in conversation at a window looking toward the harbor, while Polly sat across the room with her knitting.

Cabell said, "I've found the ship for us, Jerry! She's tied up at Carteret. We'd be able to get out of Carteret."

Jerry mentally located the little port 20 miles to the south. "We might get out of there all right.
 Yes, I think we could. What's the ship like?"

"A clipper. Built in Baltimore.
 Jerry's face fell. "New Englanders don't hold with those ships, Cabell. They're too flimsy." "They're the fastest things on water."

"I doubt if I could handle one.
 No, I don't believe I could bring one home right side up," Jerry declared.

Cabell hooted in disagreement.
 "My friend, I've been hearing things about you. There are a number of stranded American sailors in this port and some of them are from down Connecticut way. They tell me you saved Captain Cobb's barkentine Eliza from the rocks in a hurricane on a trip around the Horn. You were just 20 at the time."

POLLY looked up quickly. There was so much Jerry had never told her. "How did you do it, Jerry?"

"It was just chance, you might say. It was the trip we lost our first mate in a blow and our second mate from a fever. Cap'n Cobb was down in his bunk with a broken leg and I had to take charge. The bosun or the galley cook could have done just as well, if they'd been put to it. Cap'n Cobb made me first mate afterward. But there are better and older sailors than me that've never had the chance."

"Maybe," Cabell agreed dryly.
 "Look out, or you'll get conceited over your modesty. . . . This clipper now . . ."

"What's wrong with her? What's she doing in a little port like Carteret? How long has she been rotting there?"

"She's been there only a couple of months and she's sound. Her captain died of a fever the day they put in there. Her owner's a Baltimore merchant who's financially pressed. He wants to sell her."

"That means he wants ready money. You could hardly get her on credit, I reckon?"

"I reckon not. But wait till you hear this! His agent's the same French banker here in Cherbourg my father transacts business with.
 I've convinced this banker that Mr. Cabell Banks, senior, of Boston would want me to have the ship to get home in, and that he'd like me to have enough money advanced to outfit the clipper and pay the crew for five weeks. The chief expense will be a pair of long guns, properly mounted, but he'll stand for it. It's a perfect situation, friend Whitefield. Who're we to snipe at fate?"

"A Baltimore clipper's not safe, Banks. Those Marylanders are mad to build them. 'Too flimsy, too fast . . .'"

"Too flimsy, I grant you. But not too fast. Nothing could be too fast for us now. Do you realize, Jerry, we've got no right to fight the British till we get our commissions? If we tried it we'd be pirates instead of privateers.
 We've got to get home, and quick.
 We'll be a hare pursued by a hundred hounds, this crossing."

"You've convinced me," Jerry said. It had occurred to him that no ship could be too fast to get Polly home in. After they'd made America they could trade the thing for a stout New England craft that wouldn't topple in a gale or crush like an eggshell when fired on."

TEN days later in the small harbor of Carteret Polly Whitefield went aboard the clipper Gray Gull owned and captained by Mr.
 Cabell Banks, junior, of Boston, and whose first mate was Jeremiah Whitefield of Newburyport, Massachusetts.

"We've kept her old name," Cabell explained to Polly as he escorted her aboard. "We heard the name Revenge, that we had such a hanker for, is already at use."

Human and Other Nature
 by W. F. BRUCE

Here was a man who became so completely separated from men that he had taken up residence in the place the most completely isolated for man's daily affairs, the cemetery; so fierce, as Matthew says, that no one dared pass that way; so dangerous that man had not thought to relieve his malady or to do anything toward winning him back to society. He was "demonized," as the Greek word has it, as if Satan had already marked him for one of his own. His was evidently rated with some value for the powers of evil in working their schemes among men. But the man had discarded clothing and other conventional and convenient ways of society. We may be safe in saying that men countered such an afflicted individual as Polly thought: "Even before they've put to sea they're crazy about their Gray Gull! How much more Jerry's going to love her after he's sailed her a while!" She knew the way of men with ships, for her father had been a typical seafaring man. After he lost his Proud Lyme off Nantucket five years ago he grieved for her as he grieved for his wife, who died the same year.

Not the least of Jerry's pride in the Gray Gull was the beautiful quarters for Polly. He took her there now and watched her anxiously as she looked around her.
 When she exclaimed with deligat over the white painted walls and the warm carpets on the floor he was touched and pleased. "It's none too good for you," he said.
 He told her that there had been one long cabin, but Cabell had had a partition built, generously giving them the larger quarters and reserving the smaller for himself.

Jerry left her, and a sailor brought her little trunk into the cabin and stowed it beneath the bunk. "That's shipshape!" he told the shy lad. He seemed very young, not over 17, and Polly opened a box of French pastry she was carrying and gave him some. When she was alone she took off her bonnet and sea coat, feeling that she was one with all the women on earth who had followed their men to sea. Though she was the least of them, she would not shame them.

For those on board the Gray Gull the hard part must come now. The waiting. The watchful waiting. The run to sea when the time came. Though no English vessels patrolled the insignificant harbor, one knew that they lurked to the north, watching Cherbourg, and to the southwest, blockading Brest. The Gray Gull must take her chance. Her 50-odd sailors were impatient to be off—Americans, most, weary of an enforced sojourn on the wrong side of the Atlantic.

Polly sensed the tenseness that first night aboard. The second night was worse, for a sharp breeze was blowing like a clarion call. Jerry and Cabell stood at the wheel, staring toward the west and talking earnestly. No one seemed to remember her existence. That, too, was part of being a seaman's wife. . . .

Then came Cabell's low called commands, relayed by Jerry.
 Sailors began running, ropes were hauled. . . . Polly looking up into the starlight saw the masts bloom with canvas, saw sails fill and spread. The Gray Gull, like an eager bird, was running out to sea.

Foreclosures Prevented by Use of FSA Funds

EASTLAND, Feb. 26 — Three pending foreclosures in Eastland county on livestock worth more than the amount against them were prevented by the use of Farm Security Administration funds last week, County Supervisor George I. Lane reported. In each case, the security was good and the borrower responsible, but the bank itself found it necessary to make a collection. With the funds advanced by FSA and the plan for farm and home management worked out by that agency, these men expect to prevent any such crisis arising a second time, Mr. Lane said.

Another instance of FSA services in time of unexpected trouble is that of a substantial tenant who suffered an injury to his eyes in 1936. At that time he was established on a farm of about 175 acres with more than $1,100 worth of livestock to work the land and make use of a 120-acre pasture. He had been keeping records of all his operations on Extension Service forms for some time and had worked out for himself a plan that made the best use of his land and provided a year-round income. Following the accident, he was unable to look after his farm. By this year, he had recovered his eyesight but was unable to get the money to finance the profitable operation of the place. A small loan through FSA will carry him over this difficult period.

"This man," Mr. Lane said, "not only has good judgment. He has records to back up that judgment. All he needed was a little help because of circumstances that he could not prevent."

The keeping of accurate records on all farming operations is one of the essentials of the FSA program.

For Legislature

Wayne Sellers, young Rising Star newspaperman, who has announced for the Texas legislature from the 107th, florial, district comprised of Eastland and Callahan counties.

Young Journalist Enters Race for Representative

Wayne Sellers, one of this section's ablest young newspapermen, today had tossed his hat into the political arena with announcement that he would be a candidate for the legislature from the 107th florial district, comprizing Eastland and Callahan counties.

Graduating this year from Texas Technological college where he majored in journalism and in government, young Sellers has distinguished himself as a promising young journalist in association with his father, M. S. Sellers, publisher of the Rising Star record. He worked his way through the Lubbock, Texas, institution in newspaper work.

A constant and close student of governmental problems and conditions around him, Mr. Sellers promised honest and efficient representation based on accurate knowledge of the problems confronting the two counties. He plans a thorough-going campaign when he completes his work at Texas Tech in June.

Announcing his candidacy, he made the following statement to the voters:

Public Service Ideal
Various desires prompt men to enter races for elective offices. Some seek election for political reasons, others enter for personal gain. Still others are motivated by the unselfish desire to serve the people when seeking election to public offices.

Such a desire to be of service prompts me to announce for the office of representative to the legislature from the 107th florial district of Eastland and Callahan counties. My life has been spent in preparing myself to be a public servant. In asking for this office, the first elective post I have ever sought, I am beginning a career dedicated to public service.

Realizing that no public officer is worth the pay he draws nor the confidence of his constituents unless he is qualified for the office he holds, I have been preparing myself until the time should come when I would announce for representative to the legislature from Eastland and Callahan counties. Living in Rising Star for the past 14 years where I was associated with my father, M. S. Sellers, in publication of the Rising Star Record, I have studied the problems peculiar to Eastland and Callahan counties until I believe I am as familiar with conditions here as any man in the district.

Worked Way Through College
"In Texas Technological college the last four years where I have worked to earn all of my expenses I have been a careful student of the theoretical and practical workings of our complex state government. Working my way through college has acquainted me with the necessity of hard work to get along in this world and if I go to Austin I will serve the people of the district with the same painstaking effort that has enabled me to get an education.

"In this day of social and economic change I believe it is desirable to have a young man in office. I am young enough to have progressive ideas which have characterized recent leaders in our government yet old enough to pass mature judgment on the vital issues which come before members of the legislature.

"If the voters of the 107th district see fit to send me to the legislature and launch me upon a career of public service, fulfilling one of my lifelong ambition, I am confident that I will not disappoint my constituents and will strive to give the people of the district one of the best, most honest, and sincere representations they have ever had in Austin."

Donovan Being Deepened After Treatment Fails

Dissatisfied after two acidization treatments which brought no results, Hickok Producing and Development company is deepening its No. 1 Donovan, about six miles north of Cisco in Eastland county, in an attempt to tap the Ellenberger lime pay as found in the same firm's pool opener, No. 1 Van Parmer, mile and a half northwest.

Drilling had progressed to 4,310 feet without further show of oil or water. The well entered the Ellenberger at 4,247 feet. Two treatments—one a 1,000-gallon job and the other 10,000 gallons—had been given previously, 4,247-4,280 feet. Only a slight show had been reported in the formation treated. Under present plans it is planned to drill until oil or water is encountered.

In the same area, Lone Star Gas company's No. 2 Van Parmer, 1,321 feet north of the pool opener, was drilling around 500 feet. The same company was preparing to deepen its No. 1 Van Parmer, not on the pool opener discovery lease, which is 800 feet east of the No. 1 Cozart kicked off for 288 barrels recently from the lime pay.

Lone Star's No. 1 M. Thomas, 1,341 feet west of the Hickok discovery, was drilling below 3,300 feet, it was reported.

In Comanche county, near Desdemona, Gallagher-Lawson's No. 1 Terry, projected as a 5,500-foot test, was attempting to dry up the hole at 4,725 feet.

T. W. Johnson No. 1 Jackson, mile south from Carbon, was drilling at 540 feet after cleaning out. In Coleman county, Anzac Oil corporation marked its No. 1 J. P. Morris, in section 71, T. & N. O. survey, as a failure at total depth after deepening from its former completion depth of 2,246 feet. When completed several years ago the well was good for 8,000,000 cubic feet of gas.

The same company was plugging its No. 1 Reliance-Overall. G. H.

Heads Maritime Commission

from the north line of the lease and survey and 1,500 feet from the west lines of the lease and survey, planned as a 2,300-foot test, Coleman county.

Sipe Springs Oil company No. 35 J. M. Houser, section 56, D. & D. A. lands, 1,250 feet north of the south line and 480 feet east of the west line, Comanche county.

Hackney and Spinney No. 1 Lee Potet, section 45, D. & D. A. survey, 330 feet from the north, south, east and west lines, Comanche county.

B. S. Boyesen No. 1 B. S. Boyesen, two miles west from Brownwood, section 604, Prosper Mangle survey, abstract 671, planned as 450-foot test, Brown county.

Oil Test Turns Out Good Water Well

EASTLAND, Feb. 26 (Sp.)—While his well he drilled four miles southwest from Sipe Springs in Comanche county wasn't an oil producer, E. A. North has the satisfaction it will serve one purpose—a producer of water for domestic use on the W. A. Roush land.

It was drilled to a total depth of 457 feet and water production was at 377 feet. The well is in section 2, BS&F survey.

Abilene Rodeo Promoters Have Gone Hollywood

ABILENE, Feb. 26 (Sp.)—Rodeo promoters of the West Texas World championship event here March 1-3, have gone Hollywood.

They have combined the feature events of rodeo, wild west shows, and frontier fiestas with the music of the renewed Hardin-Simmons Cowboy band to bring West Texas something new for the spring classic.

To add more color to the performance here, the West Texas Fair association sponsors have gone for specialty numbers, contracting six new events for this section. Performers in that division are Dick Griffith, Pauline Nesbitt, John Lindsey, California Frank, Mamie Frances, and the Ramsey Flying Clouds.

Approximately $3,000 in prize money will be awarded. There will be afternoon and night performances each of the three days. Hugh Bennett, former Abilene Christian college football player and leading rodeo contender, will serve as arena director of the rodeo that is expected to draw 150 top hands. Among the leading cowboys who will appear here are: Everett Bowman, 1937 world champion cowboy; Burel Mulkey, runner-up and 1937 champion bronc rider; Paul Carney, winner of the Madison Square Garden show; Hoyt Hefner and Vic Schwartz, Wichita Falls; Hub Whiteman, Gainesville; Eddie Woods, Jake McClure, Loving, N. M.; Herb Heyers, Okmulgee, Okla.; Bob Crosby, Roswell, N. M.; Jackie Cooper and many others.

A boys livestock show will be held in connection with the rodeo. The first watches with coiled springs came into use in the 17th century.

There are about 18,000 British ex-service men between 40 and 70 who are chronically ill and compelled to apply for public assistance; and 25,000 under treatment in municipal hospitals.
